10. For thou hast drawn me out of my mother's womb: thou wast my confidence, when I was yet in my mother's breasts.

11. Unto thee am I cast from my mother's womb: thou art my God from my mother's womb.

12. Be not far from me, for fear is near: for there is no helper here.

13. Great bullocks have compassed me about, fat oxen have compassed me about; 14. They have opened their mouth against me like a roaring and ravening lion.

15. I am poured out like water; all my bones are broken in pieces; my heart is melted in my flesh like wax.

16. My strength is dried up like a potsherd, and my tongue cleaveth to the roof of my mouth; and thou layest me in the dust of death.

17. For dogs have compassed me about, and the wicked have made themselves round about me; they have pierced my hands and my feet.

18. I want to count all my legs. But you look and see their lust for me.

19. They divide my garments among them, and cast lots for my vesture.

20. But thou, O Lord, be not far off; my strength, make haste to help me.
21. Deliver my soul from the sword, my lonely from the dogs!
22. Help me out of the lion's mouth, and deliver me from the unicorns.
23. I will preach thy name unto my brethren, I will praise thee in the congregation.
24. Glorify the LORD, ye that fear him: let all the seed of Jacob glory in him, and let all the seed of Israel be afraid of him.
25. For he despised not the affliction of the poor, neither spurned it, nor hid his face from him: and when he cried unto him, he heard it.
26. Thee will I praise in the great congregation; I will pay my vows before them that fear him.
27. The miserable shall eat, and be filled: and they that inquire of the LORD shall praise him: your heart shall live for ever.
28. Let the end of the world be remembered, that they should turn unto the LORD, and worship before him all kindreds of the Gentiles.
29. For the LORD hath a kingdom, and he reigneth among the heathen.
30. All the fat of the earth shall eat and worship: before him shall all that lie in the dust bow the knee, and they that live in want.
31. He shall have a seed to minister unto him: they shall proclaim of the LORD unto the children of children.
32. And they shall come and preach his righteousness unto the people that are born, that he may do it.

The 23rd Psalm (^)

Christ our good shepherd.

1. A psalm of David. The LORD is my shepherd; I shall not want.
2. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures, and leadeth me beside the still waters.
3. He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
4. Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.
5. Thou preparest a table before me against mine enemies. Thou anointest my head with oil, and pourest me out to the full.
6. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

The 24th Psalm (^)

From Christo, the King of Honour

1. A psalm of David. The earth is the LORD'S, and the things that are therein; the ground, and the things that dwell therein.
2. For he hath founded it upon the seas, and prepared it by the waters.
3. Who shall go up into the mount of the LORD? and who shall stand in his holy place?
4. He that hath innocent hands, and is pure in heart; who hath no pleasure in loose doctrine, and sweareth not falsely.
5. He shall receive blessing from the LORD, and righteousness from the GOD of his salvation.
6. This is the generation that seeketh after him, which seeketh thy face, O Jacob. Sela.
7. Open wide the gates, and lift up the doors of the world, that the King of glory may come in.
8. Who is the same king of glory? It is the LORD strong and mighty, the LORD mighty in battle.
9. Open wide the gates, and lift up the doors of the world, that the King of glory may come in.
10. Who is this same king of glory? It is the LORD of hosts; he is the king of honours. Sela.

The 25th Psalm (^)

Prayer for God's government, grace and protection.

1. A psalm of David. I long for thee, O Lord.
2. My God, I hope in thee. Let me not be put to shame, lest mine enemies rejoice over me.
3. For no man shall be put to shame that waiteth for thee: but they shall be put to shame that are scornful.
4. O Lord, shew me thy ways, and teach me thy paths.
5. Guide me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God that helpeth me: daily I wait for thee.
6. Remember, O LORD, thy mercy, and thy lovingkindness, which was from the world.
7. Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgression: but remember me according to thy mercy, for thy lovingkindness' sake.
8. The LORD is good and upright; therefore he teacheth sinners in the way.

9. He leadeth the wretched aright, and teacheth the miserable his way.
10. The ways of the LORD are goodness and truth to them that keep his covenant and his testimony.
11. For thy name's sake, O LORD, be merciful to my iniquity, which is great.
12. Who is he that feareth the LORD? He shall instruct him in the best way.
13. His soul shall dwell in goodness, and his seed shall possess the land.
14. The secret of the LORD is among them that fear him, and his covenant he maketh them to know.
15. Mine eyes look always unto the LORD: for he shall draw my foot out of the net.
16. Turn thee unto me, and be gracious unto me: for I am lonely and wretched.
17. the anguish of my heart is great; lead me out of my troubles!
18. Behold my affliction and misery, and forgive me all my sin.
19. Behold, mine enemies are many, and they hate me for iniquity.
20. Preserve my soul, and deliver me: let me not be put to shame: for I trust in thee.
21. Wicked and right, that keep me: for I wait for thee.
22. God, deliver Israel from all, its distress!

The 26th Psalm (^)

Prayer for the salvation of innocence

1. a psalm of David. O Lord, do me justice, for I am innocent. I hope in the LORD, therefore I shall not fall.
2. Try me, O LORD, and try me; purify my kidneys and my heart.
3. For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes, and I walk in thy truth.
4. I sit not with vain men, neither have I fellowship with the wrong.
5. I hate the assembly of the wicked, and sit not with the wicked.
6. I wash my hands in innocency, and hold myself, O LORD, to thine altar,
7. When the voice of thanksgiving is heard, and when all thy wonders are preached.
8. O LORD, I love the place of thy house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9. Lay not down my soul with sinners, nor my life with the bloodthirsty,
10. Which deal with evil wiles and gladly take gifts.

11. But I walk innocently. Deliver me and have mercy on me!

12. My foot goeth right. I will praise thee, O Lord, in the assemblies.

The 27th Psalm (^)

Comfort and delight in God and His Word.

1. A psalm of David. The LORD is my light and my salvation: of whom shall I fear? The LORD is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid?

2. Therefore if the wicked, mine adversaries and mine enemies, desire to devour my flesh, they shall run and fall.

3. Though an army be arrayed against me, yet my heart feareth not: though war arise against me, yet will I rely upon him.

4. One thing I desire of the Lord, that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the good works of the Lord, and to visit his temple.

5. For he covereth me in his tabernacle in the evil time; he hideth me secretly in his tent, and exalteth me upon a rock;

6. And now shall I lift up my head above mine enemies that are round about me: and I will offer praise in his tabernacle, I will sing and sing praise unto the LORD.

7. O LORD, hear my voice when I call: be gracious unto me, and hear me.

8. My heart setteth before thee thy word, Ye shall seek my face.

Therefore I also, O Lord, seek thy face.

9. Hide not thy face from me, and cast not thy servant out in anger: for thou art my help. Leave me not, and turn not thine hand from me, O GOD, my salvation!

10. For my father and my mother forsake me: but the LORD receiveth me.

11. O LORD, shew me thy way, and lead me in the paths of righteousness for mine enemies' sakes.

12. Give me not into the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses stand against me, and do me wrong without fear.

13. But I believe that I shall see the good of the LORD in the land of the living.

14. wait upon the LORD. Be of good courage, and of good courage, and wait upon the LORD.

The 28th Psalm

Prayer against the wrong people

1. A psalm of David. When I cry unto thee, O LORD my refuge, be not silent unto me; lest, when thou art silent, I be like them that go down to hell.
2. Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee, when I lift up my hands unto thy holy choir.
3. Show me not among the wicked, and among the workers of iniquity, which speak kindly to their neighbour, and have evil in their heart.
4. Give unto them according to their deeds, and according to their wickedness; give unto them according to the works of their hands; recompense them according to their deserts.
5. For they will not hearken unto the works of the LORD, nor unto the works of his hands: therefore will he break them down, and not build them.
6. Blessed be the LORD: for he hath heard the voice of my supplications.
7. The LORD is my strength and my shield: in him my heart hopeth, and I am saved; and my heart is glad, and I will give thanks unto him with my song.
8. The LORD is their strength; he is the strength that helpeth his anointed.
9. Help thy people, and bless thine inheritance; and feed them, and exalt them for ever.

The 29th Psalm (^)

From the thunder of divine word.

1. A psalm of David. Bring unto the LORD, ye mighty ones, bring unto the LORD glory and strength.
2. Bring glory to the LORD for his name; worship the LORD in holy habiliments.
3. The voice of the LORD goeth upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth, the LORD upon great waters.
4. The voice of the LORD goeth with power: the voice of the LORD goeth gloriously.
5. The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars: the LORD breaketh the cedars in Lebanon.

6. And make them lick like a calf, Lebanon and Sirion like a young unicorn.
7. The voice of the LORD is as flames of fire.
8. The voice of the LORD stirreth up the wilderness: the voice of the LORD stirreth up the wilderness of Kadesh.
9. The voice of the LORD stirreth up the hinds, and uncovereth the forests. And in his temple shall all men give him glory.
10. The LORD sitteth to bring a flood. And the LORD remaineth a king for ever.
11. The LORD shall give strength unto his people: the LORD shall bless his people with peace.

The 30th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's goodness in cross and tribulation.

1. A psalm to sing of the dedication of the house of David.
2. I praise thee, O LORD; for thou hast exalted me, and hast not caused mine enemies to rejoice over me.
3. O LORD my God, when I cried unto thee, thou restoredst me.
4. O LORD, thou hast brought my soul out of hell: thou hast kept me alive while they went into hell.
5. All ye saints, sing praises unto the LORD; give thanks, and praise his holiness.
6. For his anger endureth for a moment, and he delighteth to live: weeping endureth for the evening, but joy in the morning.
7. And I said, when I was well: I shall never more lie down.
8. For, O LORD, by thy good pleasure thou hast made my mountain strong. But when thou hidest thy face, I was afraid.
9. I will cry unto thee, O LORD: unto the LORD will I pray.
10. What profit is there in my blood, if I be dead? Will the dust also thank thee, and proclaim thy faithfulness?
11. Hear, O Lord, and be gracious unto me: O Lord, be my helper.
12. Thou hast turned my lamentation into a dance: thou hast taken off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness,
13. That my glory may sing unto thee, and not be still. O LORD my God, I will give thee thanks for ever.

The 31st Psalm (^)

Hope makes no one lose heart in adversity.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung.

2. In thee, O Lord, do I put my trust. Let me never be put to shame; save me through your righteousness.
3. Incline thine ears unto me; hasten thou to help me. Be thou a strong rock and a fortress unto me, that thou mayest help me.
4. For thou art my rock and my fortress, and for thy name's sake thou wilt guide and lead me.
5. Thou wilt pull me out of the net which they have set for me: for thou art my strength.
6. Into thy hands I commend my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O LORD, thou faithful God.
7. I hate them that hold fast loose doctrine: but I hope in the LORD.
8. I am glad and rejoice in thy lovingkindness, because thou lookest upon my affliction, and knowest my soul in trouble.
9. and deliverest me not into the hands of the enemy: thou settest my feet upon a broad place.
10. O Lord, have mercy upon me: for I am afraid: my frame is gone down with grief, and my soul, and my belly.
11. For my life is consumed with sorrow, and my days with sighing; my strength is consumed with mine iniquity, and my bones are fainted.
12. I am so wicked, that I am a great reproach to my neighbours, and an abhorrence to my kinsmen: they that see me in the street flee from me.
13. Mine is forgotten in the heart as of a dead man; I am become as a broken vessel.
14. For many reproach me, that all men are afraid of me: they counsel together against me, and think to take away my life.
15. But I, O LORD, hope in thee, and say, Thou art my God.
16. My time is in thy hands. Deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.
17. Let thy face shine upon thy servant: help me by thy lovingkindness.
18. O LORD, let me not be put to shame: for I call upon thee. The wicked shall be ashamed, and shall be ashamed in hell.
19. Let false mouths be put to silence, which speak against the righteous, stiffly, proudly, and scornfully.
20. How great is thy lovingkindness, which thou hast hid from them that fear thee, and hast shewed to them that trust in thee before men.

21. Thou hidest them secretly in thine own house from every man's defiance: thou hidest them in the tabernacle from the brawling tongues.

22. Praise be unto the LORD, that he hath shewed me a marvellous kindness in a strong city.

23. For I said in my anguish, I am cast out of thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications, when I cried unto thee.

24. Love the LORD, all ye his saints. The LORD keepeth the faithful, and rewardeth him that is proud.

25. Be of good cheer and of good courage, all ye that wait upon the LORD.

The 32nd Psalm (^)

Of Justification.

1. An instruction of David. Blessed is he whose transgressions are forgiven, whose sin is covered.

2. Blessed is the man to whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, in whose spirit there is no deceit.

3. For when I would have concealed it, my bones waxed feeble with my daily weeping.

4. For thy hand was heavy upon me day and night, that my sap was dried up, as it is withered in summer. Sela.

5. Therefore I confess my sin unto thee, and hide not my iniquity. I said: I will confess my transgression unto the LORD. Then forgavest thou me the iniquity of my sin. Sela.

6. For this shall all the saints pray thee in due time: therefore when great floods of waters come, they shall not reach the same.

7. Thou art my shield: thou wilt keep me from fear, that I may be saved, and may boast most gladly. Sela.

8. I will instruct thee, and show thee the way which thou shalt walk in: I will guide thee with mine eyes.

9. Be not as horses, and as mouths that have no understanding, which must be bridled and bitted in their mouths, if they will not come unto thee.

10. The wicked hath much trouble: but he that hopeth in the LORD, goodness shall compass him about.

11. Rejoice in the LORD, and be glad, ye righteous: and boast, all ye godly.

The 33rd Psalm (^)

Our heart's delight is in praising the benefits of God.

1. Rejoice in the LORD, ye righteous. Let the righteous praise him beautifully.
2. Give thanks unto the LORD with harps, and sing praises unto him upon the psaltery of ten strings.
3. Sing unto him a new song; make it good on strings with sound.
4. For the word of the LORD is true, and what he saith he keepeth.
5. He loveth righteousness and judgment. The earth is full of the goodness of the LORD.
6. The heavens were made by the word of the LORD, and all his host by the spirit of his mouth.
7. he holds the waters of the sea together as in a hose, and puts the depths in hiding.
8. Let all the earth fear the LORD, and let all that dwell upon the face of the earth be afraid of him.
9. For he speaketh, and it is done; and he giveth, and it is written.
10. The LORD destroyeth the counsel of the heathen, and turneth back the thoughts of the nations.
11. But the counsel of the LORD endureth for ever, the thoughts of his heart for ever.
12. Blessed are the people, whom the LORD is a God, the people whom he hath chosen for an inheritance.
13. The LORD looketh down from heaven, and seeth the children of all men.
14. From his high throne he looketh upon all them that dwell on the earth.
15. He directeth the heart of them all; he marketh all their works.
16. A king is not saved by his great power; a giant is not saved by his great strength; 17. Neither do horses help, neither doth their great strength deliver.
18. Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him, that hope in his mercy, 19. That he might save their souls from death, and feed them in affliction.
20. Our soul waiteth for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.
21. For our heart rejoiceth in him, and we trust in his holy name.

22. Thy lovingkindness, O LORD, be upon us, as we hope in thee.

The 34th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's kindness.

1. A psalm of David, when he hid his countenance from Abimelech, who drove him from himself, and he departed.

2. I will praise the LORD alway: his praise shall be in my mouth for ever.

3. Let my soul glory in the LORD, that the wretched may hear and rejoice.

4. Praise the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.

5. When I sought the LORD, he answered me, and delivered me out of all my fear.

6. Whosoever looketh on him, and runneth upon him, his face shall not be ashamed.

7. When this wretch cried out, the LORD hearkened, and saved him out of all his troubles.

8. The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

9. Taste and see how good the LORD is. Blessed is he that trusteth in him!

10. Fear the LORD, ye his saints: for they that fear him have no lack.

11. The rich have need and hunger: but they that seek the LORD have no lack of any thing.

12. Come hither, children, and hear me. I will teach you the fear of the Lord.

13. Who is he that desireth good living, and would fain have good days?

14. Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking falsely.

15. Forsake evil, and do good; seek peace, and pursue it.

16. The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears upon their cry.

17. But the face of the LORD is upon them that do evil, to cut off their remembrance from the earth.

18. When the righteous cry, the LORD heareth, and delivereth them out of all their affliction.

19. The LORD is near unto them that are of a broken heart, and helpeth them that are of a contrite spirit.

20. The righteous suffereth much: but the LORD helpeth him out of all these things.

21. He keepeth all his bones, that not one of them be broken.
22. Adversity shall slay the wicked, and they that hate the righteous shall be iniquitous.
23. The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants: and all they that trust in him shall have no blame.

The 35th Psalm (^)

Prayer for deliverance from the cruelty of the enemy.

1. a psalm of David. O Lord, contend with my disputers; fight against my champions.
2. seize the shield and weapons and set out to help me!
3. Draw the spear, and defend me against my persecutors. Say unto my soul, I am thy help.
4. They that seek my soul shall be ashamed and confounded; and they that seek me shall return and be confounded.
5. They shall be as chaff before the wind, and the angel of the LORD shall cast them out.
6. Let their way be dark and slippery, and let the angel of the LORD pursue them.
7. For without cause they have set their nets to destroy me, and without cause they have made pits for my soul.
8. He shall be taken unawares, and his net that he hath set shall take him, and be taken within.
9. But let my soul rejoice in the LORD, and be glad in his help.
10. All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like unto thee? Thou that savest the wretch from him that is too strong for him, and the poor and needy from his robbers.
11. Freve witnesses arise, which accuse me that I am not guilty.
12. They do me evil for good, to bring me to grief of heart.
13. And I, when they were sick, put on sackcloth, and hurt myself with fasting, and prayed always with my heart.
14. I held myself as if it were my friend and my brother; I walked sadly as one that mourneth for his mother.
15. But they rejoice in mine iniquity, and are cut off: the limpers are cut off against me without my fault: they tear, and cease not.
16. With them that feign and mock for the belly's sake, they gnash their teeth at me.

17. O Lord, how long wilt thou watch? deliver my soul from their tumult, and my lonely from the young lions.

18. I will give thee thanks in the great congregation; and among many people will I praise thee.

19. Let not them rejoice over me that are unreasonably hostile unto me, neither let them scoff with their eyes that hate me without a cause.

20. For they seek to do harm, and seek false things against the quiet ones of the land; 21. And they open their mouths wide against me, and say: There, there, we are glad to see it.

22. O LORD, thou seest, be not silent: O LORD, be not far from me.

23. Awake, and awake to my right and to my cause, my God and my Lord!

24. O LORD my God, judge me according to thy righteousness, that they rejoice not over me.

25. Let them not say in their heart, There, there, we would. Let them not say: We have devoured him.

26. They shall be ashamed and put to shame, all they that rejoice in mine iniquity: they shall be clothed with shame and dishonour that boast against me.

27. Let them boast and rejoice that grant me to be right, saying always, Let the Lord be highly praised. Praise be to the LORD, who wills his servant well!

28. And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness, and praise thee daily.

The 36th Psalm (^)

Prayer and complaint against the godless hypocrites.

1. To sing a psalm of David the servant of the LORD.

2. It is spoken of the wicked from the bottom of my heart, that there is no fear of God in them.

3. they adorn themselves among themselves, that they may promote their evil cause, and revile others.

4. All their doctrine is pernicious and false: neither can they be taught that they do good, 5. But they seek to do harm in their camp, and stand fast in the evil way, and spare no evil.

6. O LORD, thy lovingkindness reacheth unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.

7. Thy righteousness standeth as the mountains of God, and thy judgment as the great deep. O LORD, thou helpest both man and beast.
8. How precious is thy lovingkindness, O God, that the children of men should trust under the shadow of thy wings!
9. They shall be of the riches of thy house, and thou shalt water them with lust as with a river.
10. For with thee is the living fountain, and in thy light we see the light.
11. Spread thy lovingkindness over them that know thee, and thy righteousness over the upright.
12. Let not the proud tread me down, neither let the hand of the wicked overthrow me, 13. But let them that do evil fall there, that they may be cast out, and not remain.

The 37th Psalm (^)

To shun the vexation of the wicked fortune.

1. a psalm of David. Be not angry with the wicked; be not envious of the transgressors.
2. For as the grass they shall soon be cut down, and as the green herb they shall wither.
3. Hope in the LORD, and do good; dwell in the land, and feed thyself honestly.
4. Delight thyself in the LORD: he shall give thee that which thy heart desireth.
5. Commend thy ways unto the LORD, and hope in him: he will do it well.
6. And shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.
7. Be still unto the LORD, and wait for him. Be not angry with him to whom his will is happily gone.
8. Depart from wrath, and leave off anger: be not wroth, that thou do evil.
9. For the wicked shall be cut off: but they that wait upon the LORD shall inherit the earth.
10. It is yet for a little, that the wicked is no more: and when thou shalt look for his place, he shall be gone.
11. But the wretched shall inherit the land, and have pleasure in great peace.

12. The wicked dreadeth the righteous, and gnasheth his teeth at him.
13. But the LORD laugheth at him: for he seeth that his day cometh.
14. The wicked draw out their sword, and draw their bow, to cut down the wretched and the poor, and to slay the upright.
15. But her sword shall enter into her heart, and her bow shall break.
16. The little that a righteous man hath is better than the great possessions of many wicked men.
17. For the arm of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.
18. The LORD knoweth the days of the upright: and their substance shall be for ever.
19. They shall not be put to shame in the evil time, and in the tribulation they shall have enough.
20. For the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD, though they be as the pleasant pastures, yet shall they perish as the smoke.
21. The wicked borroweth, and payeth not: but the righteous is merciful and mild.
22. For his blessed shall inherit the land; but his cursed shall be cut off.
23. By the LORD is such a man's walk advanced, and he delighteth in his way.
24. If it fall, it is not cast away: for the LORD keepeth it in his hand.
25. I have been young, and have waxed old, and have never seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed go after bread.
26. He is ever merciful, and lendeth willingly: and his seed shall be blessed.
27. Forsake evil, and do good, and abide for ever.
28. For the LORD loveth righteousness, and forsaketh not his saints: they shall be preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.
29. The righteous inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.
30. The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue teacheth judgment.
31. the law of his God is in his heart, his footsteps do not slide.
32. The wicked lieth in wait for the righteous, and intendeth to slay him.
33. But the LORD will not leave him in his hands, nor condemn him when he is condemned.

34. Wait upon the LORD, and keep his way; and he shall exalt thee, and thou shalt inherit the land: thou shalt see the wicked cut off.

35. I have seen an ungodly man defiant, and spreading himself abroad, and green as a laurel tree.

36. And as one passed by, behold, he was gone; and I inquired for him, and he was nowhere to be found.

37. Remain pious, and keep thyself right: for such a one shall prosper in the end.

38. But the transgressors shall be destroyed together, and the wicked shall be cut off at the last.

39. But the LORD helpeth the righteous: he is their strength in trouble.

40. And the LORD shall stand by them, and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them: for they trust in him.

The 38th Psalm (^)

Prayer of repentance for release from the heavy burden of sin 1. a psalm of David in remembrance.

2. O LORD, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy wrath.

3. For thine arrows are in me, and thy hand is upon me.

4. There is no soundness in my flesh from thy wrath, neither is there peace in my bones from mine iniquity.

5. For my sins are upon my head, as a heavy burden they have become too heavy for me.

6. My wounds stink and fester from my folly.

7. I walk crookedly, and very stooping: all the day long I walk sadly.

8. For all my loins are withered: there is no soundness in my body.

9. It is very different with me, and I am very sore troubled. I howl with the unrest of my heart.

10. O LORD, all my desire is before thee, and my groaning is not hid from thee.

11. My heart is troubled, my strength is gone out of me, and the light of my eyes is not with me.

12. My beloved and my friends stand against me, and shun my plague; and my neighbours stand afar off.

13. And they that are after my soul oppose me: and they that mean me harm speak as they mean to do harm, and deal in vanity.

14. But I am as a deaf man, and hear not; and as a dumb man, which openeth not his mouth.
15. And he shall be as one that heareth not, and hath no gainsaying in his mouth.
16. But I wait, O LORD, upon thee: thou, O LORD my God, wilt hear.
17. For I think that they will not rejoice over me. If my foot were shaken, they would glory in me.
18. For I am made to suffer, and my pain is always before me.
19. For I acknowledge my iniquity, and make provision for my sin.
20. But mine enemies live, and are mighty: they that hate me unreasonably are great.
21. And they that do me evil for good set themselves against me, because I hold fast that which is good.
22. Forsake me not, O LORD my God: be not thou far from me.
Make haste to help me, O Lord, my help!

The 39th Psalm (^)

Prayer for the right art of dying as a certain remedy against vexation.

1. A psalm of David, to be sung for Jeduthun.
2. I have purposed myself, I will take heed lest I sin with my tongue. I will bridle my mouth, because I see the wicked before me.
3. I am dumb and silent, and keep silence of joys, and eat my sorrows within me.
4. My heart is kindled in my flesh, and when I remember it, I am kindled; I speak with my tongue.
5. But teach me, O Lord, that there must be an end to me, and that my life must have an end, and that I must depart from it.
6. Behold, my days are a handbreadth unto thee, and my life is as nothing before thee. How nothing are all men, who yet live so securely! Sela.
7. They go therefore as a shadow, and make them much vain trouble; they gather, and know not who shall get it.
8. Now, O Lord, what shall I comfort myself with? I hope in thee.
9. Cleanse me from all my sin, and let me not be a mockery to fools.
10. I will hold my peace, and will not open my mouth: thou shalt do it well.
11. Turn away thy plague from me: for I am faint at the punishment of thine hand.

12. If thou chasten a man for sin, his beauty shall be devoured as by moths. Alas, how nothing are all men! Sela.

13. Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear to my cry, and be not silent over my tears: for I am both thy pilgrim and thy citizen, as are all my fathers.

14. Depart from me, that I may rest before I go, and be no more here.

The 40th Psalm (^)

Prophecy of Christ, his suffering and his prophetic office:

1. a psalm of David, to be sung.

2. I waited upon the LORD; and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.

3. And he drew me out of the dreadful pit, and out of the mire, and set my feet upon a rock, that I might surely tread;

4. And hath put a new song in my mouth, to praise our God. Many shall see it, and fear the LORD, and hope in him.

5. Blessed is he that putteth his hope in the LORD, and turneth not to the proud, and to them that deal in lies.

6. O LORD my God, great are thy wonders, and thy thoughts, which thou hast done for us.

Nothing is like unto thee. I will declare them, and tell of them, though they be not to be numbered.

7. Sacrifices and meat offerings are not acceptable unto thee: but thou hast opened mine ears.

Thou wilt not have burnt offerings, nor sin offerings.

8. And I said, Behold, I come; in the book it is written of me.

9. Thy will, O my God, will I gladly do; and thy law have I in mine heart.

10. I will preach righteousness in the great congregation: behold, I will not let my mouth be stopped, O Lord, thou knowest.

11. Thy righteousness will I not hide in mine heart: of thy truth and of thy salvation will I speak; I will not hide thy lovingkindness and thy faithfulness from the great congregation.

12. But thou, O LORD, wilt not turn away thy mercy from me: let thy lovingkindness and thy faithfulness keep me always.

13. For sorrows have compassed me about without number; my sins have taken hold of me, that I cannot see; theirs is more than the hair of my head, and my heart hath failed me.

14. Be pleased, O LORD, to save me: make haste, O LORD, to help me.

15. They shall be ashamed and confounded that seek my soul, that they may destroy them: they shall fall back, and be confounded that do me wrong.

16. They shall be afraid in their shame, which cry over me: There, there!

17. Let all them that seek thee rejoice and be glad; and let them that love thy salvation say alway, Blessed be the LORD.

18. For I am poor and wretched: but the LORD taketh care of me. Thou art my helper and my deliverer: my God, consume not.

The 41st Psalm (^)

Of charity and infidelity.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung.

2. Blessed is he that taketh care of the needy. The LORD will save him in the evil time.

3. The LORD shall preserve him, and keep him alive, and make him prosperous in the earth, and shall not give him into the will of his enemies.

4. The LORD shall refresh him in his bed of death: thou shalt save him from all his sickness.

5. And I said, Lord, be merciful unto me, and heal my soul: for I have sinned against thee.

6. Mine enemies speak evil against me, saying, When shall he die, and his name perish?

7. They come to look, and yet mean not in their heart, but seek something that they may blaspheme, and go and bear it.

8. All they that hate me murmur together against me, and think evil of me.

9. you have decided a knavery on me: If he lies, he shall not rise again!

10. My friend also, in whom I trusted, which did eat my bread, treadeth me under foot.

11. But thou, O LORD, be gracious unto me, and help me up, and I will pay them.

12. By this I know that thou delightest in me, that mine enemy shall not exult over me.

13. But thou hast preserved me for my righteousness' sake, and hast set me before thy face for ever.

14. Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from henceforth even for ever.
Amen, amen.

The 42nd Psalm (^)

Misery and comfort of the persecuted.

1. an instruction of the children of Korah to sing aloud.
2. As the hart crieth for fresh water, so crieth my soul, O GOD, unto thee.
3. My soul thirsts for God, for the living God. When will I come to see the face of God?
4. My tears are my meat day and night, because they say unto me daily, Where is now thy God?
5. And when I consider it, I pour out my heart unto myself: for I would go with the multitude, and walk with them in the house of God, rejoicing and giving thanks among the multitude that feast.
6. Why art thou grieved, O my soul, and art troubled within me? Wait upon God; for I will yet thank him, that he will help me with his countenance.
7. O my God, my soul is grieved within me: therefore I remember thee in the land of Jordan and Hermonim, in the little mountain.
8. Thy floods roar, and thy depths roar: all thy waves and thy billows pass over me.
9. The LORD hath promised his goodness by day, and by night I sing unto him, and pray unto the LORD of my life.
10. I say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? Why must I walk so sadly when my enemy presses me?
11. It is as murder in mine legs, that mine enemies reproach me, when they say unto me daily, Where is now thy God?
12. Why art thou troubled, O my soul, and art troubled within me? Wait upon God; for I will yet thank him, that he is the help of my countenance, and my God.

The 43rd Psalm (^)

Recourse to God, the Supreme Judge

1. Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against the unholy people, and deliver me from the false and wicked people.
2. For thou art the God of my strength: why hast thou cast me off? Why hast thou let me go so sadly, when mine enemy presseth me?
3. Send thy light and thy truth, that they may guide me, and bring me unto thy holy mountain, and unto thy dwelling place,

4. that I may go in to the altar of GOD, to the GOD who is my joy and delight, and to you, GOD; on the harp give thanks, my GOD!

5. Why art thou grieved, O my soul, and art troubled within me? Wait upon God; for I will yet thank him, that he is the help of my countenance, and my God.

The 44th Psalm (^)

General condition and prayer of the saints.

1. an instruction of the children of Korah to sing aloud,

2. O God, we have heard with our ears; our fathers have told us what thou didst in their days of old.

3. Thou hast driven out the heathen with thine hand, but thou hast established them: thou hast destroyed the nations, but thou hast spread them abroad.

4. For they took not the land by the sword, neither did their arm help them; but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance: for thou wast well pleased with them.

5. O God, thou art the same my King, who promised help to Jacob.

6. By thee will we smite our enemies: in thy name will we subdue them that set themselves against us.

7. For I rely not on my bow, neither can my sword help me,

8. But thou savest us from our enemies, and destroyest them that hate us.

9. We will praise God daily, and give thanks unto thy name for ever.
Sela.

10. Wherefore then hast thou cast us off, and left us to be consumed, and hast thou not gone out from among our host?

11. Thou hast caused us to flee from our enemy, that they which hate us should rob us.

12. Thou hast devoured us like sheep, and scattered us among the heathen.

13. Thou sellest thy people for nought, and takest nothing for it.

14. Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.

15. Thou makest us an ensample among the heathen, and the nations shake their heads at us.

16. My reproach is daily before me, and my face is full of shame, 17. That I should hear the reproachful and the blasphemous, and see the enemies and the revengeful.
18. All these things are come upon us; yet have we not forgotten thee, nor dealt unfaithfully in thy covenant;
19. Our heart is not turned aside, neither is our way gone out of thy way, 20. That thou shouldest smite us under the dragon, and cover us with darkness.
21. If we had forgotten the name of our God, and lifted up our hands unto a strange God, 22. That God would find: for now he knoweth the reason of our hearts.
23. For we are slain daily for thy sake, and are esteemed as sheep for the slaughter.
24. Awaken, O Lord, why are you asleep? Awake, and do not cast us off so completely!
25. Why hidest thou thy face, forgetting our affliction and our distress?
26. For our soul is bowed down to the earth; our belly cleaveth to the ground.
27. Arise, help us, and deliver us for thy goodness' sake.

The 45th Psalm (^)

Prophecy of the bridegroom, Christ, and the church, his bride.

1. a bridal song and teaching the children Korah of the roses to sing.
2. My heart is a poet of a song, I will sing of a king: my tongue is a pen of a good writer.
3. Thou art the fairest of the children of men: thy lips are lovely: therefore God bless thee for ever.
4. Gird up thy sword at thy side, thou hero, and adorn thyself fair!
5. Let it prosper thee in thy ornaments. Prove thou well the truth, and keep the wretched in the right, and thy right hand shall shew wonders.
6. Sharp are thine arrows, that the nations fall down before thee in the midst of the king's enemies.
7. Thy throne abideth for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a straight sceptre.
8. Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore hath thy God anointed thee with the oil of gladness, more than thy fellows.

9. Thy garments are all myrrh, and aloes, and kezia, when thou comest forth out of the ivory palaces in thy fair splendor.

10. In thy ornaments go the daughters of kings: the bride is at thy right hand in the most precious gold.

11. Hear, daughter, look upon it, and incline thine ears; forget thy people, and thy father's house, 12. Then shall the king delight in thy beauty: for he is thy Lord, and thou shalt worship him.

13. The daughter of Zor shall be there with a gift; the rich among the people shall plead before thee.

14. The king's daughter is all glorious within: she is clothed with jewels of gold.

15. They bring her to the king in her embroidered garments; and they bring her maidens that go after her unto thee.

16. They are led with joy and gladness, and go into the king's palace.

17. Instead of thy fathers thou shalt have children; and thou shalt make them rulers in all the earth.

18. I will remember thy name from child to child: therefore shall the nations give thee thanks for ever and ever.

The 46th Psalm (^)

The church comfort and security.

1. a song of the children Korah of the youth, to sing.

2. God is our confidence and strength, a help in the great hardships that have befallen us.

3. Therefore we fear not, though the world were to end, and though the mountains were to sink into the midst of the sea,

4. Though the sea raged and tossed, and the mountains fell from the violence thereof. Sela.

5. Nevertheless the city of God shall be pleasant with her fountains, where are the holy habitation of the Most High.

6. God is with her within, therefore she will abide well; God will help her early.

7. The heathen shall despair, and the kingdoms shall fall: the earth shall perish, if he be heard.

8. The LORD of hosts is with us: the God of Jacob is our refuge. Sela.

9. Come and see the works of the LORD, which destroyeth the earth,

10. Who controls wars in all the earth, who breaks bows, shatters spears, and burns chariots with fire.

11. Be still, and know that I am God. I will bring glory among the nations, I will bring glory on earth.

12. The LORD of hosts is with us: the God of Jacob is our refuge. Sela.

The 47th Psalm (^)

From Ascension.

1. A psalm to sing unto the children of Korah.

2. Rejoice with your hands, all nations, and shout with joy to God.

3. For the LORD most high is terrible, a great king over all the face of the earth.

4. He shall compel the nations under us, and the people under our feet.

5. He hath chosen us for an inheritance the glory of Jacob, whom he loveth. Sela.

6. God taketh away with shouting, and the LORD with a loud trumpet.

7. Sing ye praises, sing ye praises unto God: sing ye praises, sing ye praises unto our King.

8. For God is King over all the face of the earth; praise Him wisely.

9. GOD is King over the Gentiles; GOD sits on His holy throne.

10. The princes of the nations are gathered together unto one people unto the God of Abraham: for God is greatly exalted among the shields of the earth.

The 48th Psalm (^)

Model of the Christian Church.

1. a psalm song of the children of Korah.

2. Great is the LORD, and highly renowned in the city of our God, in his holy mountain.

3. Mount Zion is as a goodly branch, which all the earth comforteth: on the north side is the city of the great king.

4. God is known in their palaces to be the protector.

5. For, behold, kings are gathered together, and passed by one another.

6. They marvelled when they saw these things; they were amazed, and fell.

7. trembling she arrived there, afraid like a woman in childbirth.

8. thou breakest ships in the sea by the east wind.

9. As we have heard, so we see it in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God: God upholdeth it for ever. Sela

10. God, we wait for your goodness in your temple.

11. God, as thy name, so is thy glory, even unto the end of the world: thy statutes are full of righteousness.

12. Let mount Zion rejoice, and let the daughters of Judah be glad because of thy statutes.

13. Make yourselves round about Zion, and compass her: number her towers.

14. Put diligence upon their walls, and exalt their palaces, that they may declare it unto their seed,

15. That this God may be our God for ever and ever. He leadeth us as the youth.

The 49th Psalm (^)

Teaching and comfort against the happiness of the wicked.

1. a psalm of the children of Korah, to be sung.

2. Hearken, all ye nations; take heed, all ye that dwell in this time, 3. Both common man and lords, both rich and poor together.

4. My mouth shall speak of wisdom, and my heart shall speak of understanding.

5. let us hear a good saying and play a fine poem on the harp.

6. Why should I fear in evil days, when the iniquity of my transgressors compasseth me about?

7. Who trust in their goods, and brave in their great riches.

8. For a brother cannot redeem anyone, nor can God reconcile anyone;

9. For it cost too much to redeem her soul, that he should suffer it to stand for ever, 10. Though he live as long as he liveth, and see not the pit.

11. For it shall be seen that such wise men die, as well as fools and fools perish, and leave their goods to others.

12. This is their heart, that their houses may endure for ever, and their dwellings be established for ever, and have great honour upon the earth.

13. Nevertheless they cannot abide in such dignity, but must go away like cattle.

14. This their doings are foolishness: neither do their seed praise it with their mouth.

15. They are in hell as sheep, death gnaweth them: but the righteous shall soon have dominion over them, and their defiance shall pass away, and they shall abide in hell.

16. But God shall deliver my soul out of the power of hell: for he hath accepted me. Sela.
17. Let it not deceive thee, whether a man be rich, whether the glory of his house be great.
18. For he shall take nothing with him in his death, and his glory shall not follow him.
19. But he comforteth himself of this good life, and glorifieth it, when any man seeketh good days.
20. So they go after their fathers, and never see the light.
21. In short, if a man be in dignity, and have not understanding, he fleeth away as cattle.

The 50th Psalm (^)

Of true worship.

1. A psalm of Assaph. God the Lord, the Mighty, speaks and calls to the world from the rising of the sun to its setting.
2. out of Zion cometh the brightness of God.
3. Our God cometh, and is not silent. Fire devoureth before him, and great weather round about him.
4. He calleth heaven and earth to judge his people.
5. Gather unto me my saints, which esteem the covenant more than sacrifice.
6. And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for GOD is judge. Sela.
7. Hear, my people, let me speak, O Israel; let me testify among thee, I, GOD, am thy GOD.
8. Because of thy sacrifice I will not punish thee: for thy burnt offerings are always before me.
9. I will not take bullocks out of thy house, nor goats out of thy stalls;
10. For all the beasts of the forest are mine, and the cattle upon the mountains, as they go by thousands.
11. I know all the fowls of the mountains, and every beast of the field is before me.
12. Where I hungered, I would not tell thee: for the ground is mine, and all that is therein.
13. Wilt thou have me to eat the flesh of an ox, or to drink the blood of a goat?
14. Offer thanks to God and pay your vows to the Most High.

15. And call upon me in trouble, and I will deliver thee, and thou shalt praise me.
16. But unto the wicked God saith, Why declareest thou my statutes, and takest my covenant in thy mouth?
17. If thou hate discipline, and cast my words behind thee?
18. When thou seest a thief, thou shalt run with him, and have fellowship with adulterers.
19. Thou hast made thy mouth to speak evil, and thy tongue to speak deceit.
20. Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother; thou slanderest thy mother's son.
21. Thou doest so, and I hold my peace. Thou thinkest I shall be as thou art. But I will punish thee, and will make thee see it.
22. Mark this, ye that forget God, that I will not even depart, and there shall be no more saviour.
23. He that offereth thanksgiving glorifieth me: and there is the way that I may shew him the salvation of God.

The 51st Psalm (^)

David's sermon on repentance.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung,
2. When Nathan the prophet came to him, when he was come to Bathsheba.
3. God, be merciful to me according to your goodness, and blot out my sins according to your great mercy!
4. Wash me well from my iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.
5. For I know my iniquity, and my sin is always before me.
6. In thee only have I sinned, and done evil in thy sight, that thou mightest be justified in thy words, and be pure when thou art judged.
7. Behold, I am begotten of sinful seed, and my mother conceived me in sins.
8. Behold, thou delightest in the truth that is in secret: thou hast made me to know the secret wisdom.
9. Defile me with hyssop, that I may be clean: wash me, that I may be white as snow.
10. Let me hear joy and gladness, that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

11. Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all my iniquities.
12. Create in me, O God, a pure heart, and give me a new, conscientious spirit.
13. Cast me not away from thy presence, neither take thy Holy Spirit from me.
14. Comfort me again with thy help, and the joyful spirit contain me.
15. For I will teach the transgressors thy ways, that sinners may turn unto thee.
16. Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, who art my God and Saviour, that my tongue may praise thy righteousness.
17. Open my lips, O LORD, that my mouth may declare thy glory.
18. For thou hast no pleasure in sacrifice; otherwise I would give it thee: and burnt offerings are not pleasing unto thee.
19. the sacrifices that please GOD are a troubled spirit; a troubled and bruised heart you, GOD, will not despise.
20. Do well unto Zion according to thy mercy: build the walls of Jerusalem.
21. Then shall the sacrifices of righteousness, the burnt offerings, and the whole sacrifices, be acceptable unto thee: then shall bullocks be offered upon thine altar.

The 52nd Psalm (^)

David's complaint about Doeg.

1. an instruction of David to sing before,
2. And Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, saying, David is come into Ahimelech's house.
3. Why then, thou tyrant, art thou able to do harm, when the goodness of God is yet daily?
4. your tongue seeks harm and cuts with lies like a sharp shearing knife.
5. you speak evil rather than good and wrong rather than right. Sela.
6. Thou speakest with a false tongue all things that are for destruction.
7. Therefore God also shall utterly destroy thee, and break thee in pieces, and pluck thee out of the tabernacle, and cut thee off from the land of the living. Sela.
8. And the righteous shall see it, and be afraid, and shall laugh: 9. Behold, this is the man that thought not God his comfort, but trusted in his great riches, and was mighty to do harm.

10. But I will abide as a green olive tree in the house of GOD, relying on GOD's goodness forever and ever.

11. I thank thee for ever: for thou canst do it well: and I will wait upon thy name: for thy saints delight therein.

The 53rd Psalm (^)

Of man's ruin and salvation.

1. an instruction of David to sing in chorus around one another.

2. The foolish say in their heart, There is no God. They are good for nothing and have become an abomination in their evil nature. There is none that doeth good.

3. God looketh from heaven upon the children of men, to see if any man be wise that seeketh after God.

4. But they are all fallen away, and are all unfit. There is none that doeth good, neither one.

5. Will not the evildoers tell them, that devour my people, that they feed? God do they not call upon.

6. But they are afraid, because there is no fear: for God scattereth the bones of the beaters. Thou hast put them to shame; for God spurneth them.

7. Oh that help would come upon Israel out of Zion, and that God would deliver his captive people! Then Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

The 54th Psalm (^)

Prayer for help and salvation.

1. an instruction of David to sing on strings,

2. And they of Ziph came and said unto Saul, David hath hid himself with us.

3. Help me, O God, by your name, and establish justice for me by your power.

4. O God, hear my prayer; listen to the words of my mouth.

5. For the proud set themselves against me, and the proud after my soul, and have not God before their eyes. Sela.

6. Behold, God helpeth me: the LORD upholdeth my soul.

7. He shall pay the wickedness of mine enemies. Destroy them by your faithfulness!

8. Then will I offer unto thee a sacrifice of joy, and give thanks unto thy name, O LORD, because it is so comforting.

9. For thou hast delivered me out of all mine affliction, that mine eye may delight in mine enemies.

The 55th Psalm (^)

Prayer against the false brethren.

1. an instruction of David to sing on strings.

2. God, hear my prayer and do not hide from my supplication.

3. Take heed unto me, and hear me, how I mourn and howl,

4. That the enemy crieth, and the wicked presseth: for they will prove me a fool, and are sore grieved against me.

5. My heart is troubled in my flesh, and the fear of death is fallen upon me.

6. Fear and trembling is come upon me, and horror hath overtaken me.

7. And I said, O that I had wings like doves, that I might fly and stay!

8. Behold, I will depart afar off, and dwell in the wilderness. Sela.

9. I would hasten that I might be deadened from the tempest and from the weather.

10. Make their tongues divided, O LORD, and let them perish: for I see iniquity and strife in the city.

11. These things go round about within their walls day and night: there is toil and labour within them.

12. Wickedness reigneth within: lying and deceitfulness depart not from her lane.

13. But if mine enemy ravished me, I would suffer it: and if my hater pierced me, I would hide myself from him;

14. But thou art my journeyman, and my keeper, and my kinsman,

15. Who were friendly with one another among ourselves; we walked in the house of God in multitudes.

16. death overtakes them, and must go alive into hell: for there is wickedness among their multitude.

17. But I will cry unto God, and the LORD shall help me.

18. In the evening, and in the morning, and at noon, will I mourn and howl; and he shall hear my voice.

19. He redeemeth my soul from them that seek me, and restoreth it: for they are many against me.

20. God will hear and humble them, who abides all the way. Sela. For they will not be different and will not fear God.

21. For they lay their hands on his seed of peace, and profane his covenant.

22. Their mouth is smoother than butter, and yet they have war in mind; their words are softer than oil, and yet they are mere swords.

23. Cast thine affliction upon the LORD. He will provide for thee, and will not leave the righteous in trouble for ever.

24. But, O GOD, you will push them down into the deep pit. The bloodthirsty and the false will not bring their lives to the half. But I hope in you.

The 56th Psalm (^)

Prayer against the persecutors.

1. A golden jewel of David, from the dumb dove among the strangers, when the Philistines took him at Gath.

2. God, have mercy on me, for men want to sink me; daily they quarrel and fear me.

3. Mine enemies daily sink me: for many contend against me proudly.

4. when I am afraid, I hope in you.

5. I will glory in the word of God; in God will I hope, and not fear: what shall flesh do unto me?

6. They daily dispute my words: all their thoughts are to do me evil.

7. They keep in multitude, and lie in wait, and take heed how they catch my soul.

8. What evil they do is already forgiven. God, cast down such people without all mercy!

9. count my flight, grasp my tears in your sack! Without a doubt, you count them.

10. Then shall mine enemies return when I call: so shall I know that thou art my God.

11. I will praise the word of God; I will praise the word of the LORD.

12. In God I hope, and fear not: what can men do unto me?

13. I have vowed unto thee, O God, that I will give thanks unto thee.

14. For thou hast delivered my soul from death, and my feet from slipping, that I may walk before God in the light of the living.

The 57th Psalm (^)

Prayer against the cruelty of the enemy.

1. A precious jewel of David, to sing before him, that he perish not, when he fled from Saul into the cave.

2. Have mercy upon me, O God, have mercy upon me. For my soul trusteth in thee, and under the shadow of thy wings I have refuge, until the calamity pass.
3. I cry to GOD, the Most High, to GOD who makes an end of my miseries.
4. He sendeth from heaven, and saveth me from the reproach of my sinking. Sela. God sends His goodness and faithfulness.
5. I lie with my soul among the lions. The children of men are flames; their teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongues sharp swords.
6. Exalt yourself, O God, above the heavens, and your glory above all the earth!
7. They set nets for my way, and press down my soul: they dig a pit before me, and fall therein themselves. Sela.
8. My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready, that I may sing and praise.
9. Awake, my glory, awake, psaltery and harp! Early I will awake.
10. O LORD, I will give thee thanks among the nations, I will sing praise unto thee among the people.
11. For thy lovingkindness is as far as the heavens, and thy truth as far as the clouds go.
12. Exalt yourself, O God, above the heavens, and your glory above all the earth!

The 58th Psalm (^)

Complain about the detractors.

1. A golden jewel of David, to sing before him, that he perish not.
2. Are ye then dumb, that ye will not speak that which is right, and judge that which is equal, ye children of men?
3. Ye have wrought iniquity in the land, and have gone straight through with your hands to do iniquity.
4. The wicked are perverse from their mother's womb: the liars err from their mother's womb.
5. Their raging is like the raging of a serpent, like a deaf adder that stoppeth his ear, 6. That she hear not the voice of the sorcerer, the conjurer, who is able to conjure.
7. O God, break their teeth in their mouths; bruise, O LORD, the molars of the young lions.

8. they shall melt away as the waters that flow. They aim their arrows, but they break them.
9. They perish as a snail languisheth: as a woman's untimely birth they see not the sun.
10. Before your thorns be ripe in the briers, a wrath shall pluck them away so fresh.
11. The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth such vengeance, and shall bathe his feet in the blood of the wicked,
12. And men shall say, The righteous shall enjoy his reward: for God is yet judge on the earth.

The 59th Psalm (^)

Prayer against the persecutors.

1. A precious jewel of David, that he should not perish, when Saul sent and kept his house, to slay him.
2. Deliver me, O my God, from mine enemies, and save me from them that set themselves against me.
3. Deliver me from the transgressors, and save me from the bloodthirsty.
4. For, lo, LORD, they lie in wait for my soul: the mighty are gathered together against me without my fault and iniquity.
5. They run without my fault, and prepare themselves. Awake and meet me, and behold!
6. Thou, O LORD God of hosts, O LORD God of Israel, awake, and visit all the nations: have mercy on them that are not bold iniquitous. Sela.
7. And in the evening let them also howl like dogs, and run about the city.
8. Behold, they chatter together; swords are in their lips: Who shall hear?
9. But thou, O LORD, wilt laugh at them, and mock all the heathen.
10. From their power will I cleave unto thee: for God is my refuge.
11. God showeth me his lovingkindness abundantly: God maketh me to see my delight in mine enemies.
12. Slay them not, that they forget not my people: but scatter them with thy might, O LORD our shield, and cast them down.
13. Their doctrine is vain sin, and they persist in their pride, and preach vain cursing and contradicting.

14. Destroy them without all mercy. Destroy them, that they may be nothing, and know that God is ruler in Jacob, in all the earth. Sela.
15. And in the evening let them also howl like dogs, and run about the city.
16. Let them run to and fro for meat, and murmur, if they be not filled.
17. But I will sing of thy power, and praise thy lovingkindness in the morning: for thou art my defence and my refuge in my trouble.
18. I will sing praises unto thee, my stronghold: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my gracious God.

The 60th Psalm (^)

Prayer for the welfare of the people of Israel

1. a golden jewel of David, to sing before, to teach of a golden rosebush, 2. When he had fought with the Syrians of Mesopotamia, and with the Syrians of Zobah, Joab returned, and smote twelve thousand of the Edomites in the valley of salt.
3. O God, who hast cast us off and scattered us, and hast been angry with us, comfort us again.
4. Thou that hast moved the earth, and rent it asunder, heal the breaches thereof, which is so bruised.
5. For thou hast shown hardness unto thy people; thou hast given us a drink of wine, that we staggered.
6. But thou gavest a sign unto them that fear thee, which they lifted up, and made them safe.
- Sela.
7. That thy loved ones may be done, help now with thy right hand, and hear us.
8. God speaketh in his sanctuary, I am glad; and I will divide Shechem, and measure the valley of Shushoth.
9. Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine; Ephraim is the power of my head; Judah is my prince, 10. Moab is my washing-pot; I stretch out my shoe over Edom; Philistia exults in me.
11. Who will lead me into a strong city? Who will lead me as far as Edom?
12. Wilt thou not do it, O GOD, which hast cast us off, and wilt thou not go forth, O GOD, upon our host?
13. Give us help in trouble: for help of man is no good.
14. With God we will do deeds. He will trample under our enemies.

The 61st Psalm (^)

Prayer for the authorities, that God may be their strong tower.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung on a stringed instrument.
 2. Hear, O God, my cry, and hearken unto my prayer.
 3. While I am yet on earth, when my heart is in anguish, I cry unto thee, Thou wilt lead me up to a high rock.
 4. For thou art my confidence, one before mine enemies.
 5. I will dwell in thy tabernacle for ever; I will trust under thy wings.
- Sela.
6. For thou, O God, hearest my vows: thou rewardest them that fear thy name.
 7. Thou givest a king long life, that his years may endure for ever and ever, 8. That he may always sit down before God, shewing him kindness and faithfulness that keep him.
 9. Then will I sing praise unto thy name for ever, and pay my vows daily.

The 62nd Psalm (^)

Constant comfort against the enemy.

1. a psalm of David for Jeduthun, to be sung.
 2. my soul is silent to God, who helps me.
 3. For he is my stronghold, my help, my refuge, that no fall shall overthrow me, how great he is.
 4. How long do ye all pursue after one, to slay him, as a hanging wall, and as a broken wall?
 5. They only think how to muffle him, they diligently lie, they give good words, but in their hearts they curse. Sela.
 6. But my soul waiteth only for God: for he is my hope.
 7. He is my refuge, my help, and my protection, that I shall not fall.
 8. with GOD is my salvation, my glory, the rock of my strength; my confidence is in GOD.
 9. Hope in Him always, dear people; pour out your hearts before Him. God is our confidence.
- Sela.
10. But men are nothing, great men also lack; they weigh less than nothing, as much as they are.
 11. Rely not on iniquity and righteousness; hold not yourselves to that which is nothing. If riches come to you, do not set your heart on them.

12. God hath spoken a word, which I have heard many times, that God alone is mighty.

13. And thou, O LORD, art gracious, and payest every man according to his due.

The 63rd Psalm (^)

Prayer for true worship.

1. A psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness.

2. O God, thou art my God: early I awake unto thee. My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh desireth thee, in a dry and parched land, where there is no water.

3. There I look for thee in thy sanctuary; I would behold thy power and thy glory.

4. For thy lovingkindness is better than life. My lips praise thee.

5. There would I gladly praise thee all the days of my life, and lift up my hands in thy name.

6. This is the joy and gladness of my heart, if I should praise thee with a glad mouth.

7. When I lay me down to sleep, I remember thee: when I awake, I speak of thee.

8. For thou art my helper, and under the shadow of thy wings I glory.

9. My soul cleaveth unto thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.

10. But they stand after my soul to assail me: they shall go down under the earth.

11. They shall fall on the sword, and be given to the foxes.

12. But the king rejoiceth in GOD. He that sweareth by him shall be glorified: for the lying lips shall be stopped.

The 64th Psalm (^)

Prayer for protection of life and good name.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung.

2. Hear, O God, my voice in my lamentation; keep my life from the cruel enemy!

3. hide me from the gathering of the wicked, from the heap of evildoers, 4. Who sharpen their tongue like a sword, who aim their poisonous words like arrows, 5. That they shoot secretly at the pious: suddenly they shoot at him without all timidity.

6. They are bold with their wicked devices, and say how they will lay cords, and speak: Who can see them?

7. They invent mischief, and keep it secret; they are crafty, and have crafty plots.
8. But God shall shoot them suddenly, and they shall be in pain.
9. Their own tongues shall cut them off, and he that beholdeth them shall mock them.
10. And all men that see it shall say, This hath God done, and shall know that it is His work.
11. The righteous shall rejoice in the LORD, and trust in him: and all the upright in heart shall glory in him.

The 65th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's benefits.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung to song.
 2. God, you are praised in the silence of Zion, and vows are paid to you.
 3. thou hearest prayer; therefore all flesh cometh unto thee.
 4. Our iniquity is heavy upon us: thou wilt forgive our sin.
 5. Blessed is he whom thou choosest, whom thou dost admit to dwell in thy courts. He hath rich consolation from thy house, thy holy temple.
- Hear us according to the marvellous righteousness, O God, our salvation, who art the confidence of all on earth and far off by the sea;
7. Who setteth the mountains in his strength, and is armed with might;
 8. Who stillest the roaring of the sea, the roaring of its waves, and the raging of the nations,
 9. And they that dwell in the same parts shall be astonished at thy signs. Thou makest glad all that weave, Both the morning and the evening.
 10. Thou hast visited the land, and watered it, and made it very rich. The fountain of God hath abundance of water. Thou makest her corn to grow, For thus thou makest the land.
 11. Thou waterest his furrows, and wettest his plow: with rain thou makest it soft, and blessest his growth.
 12. Thou crownest the year with thy goods, and thy footsteps drip with fatness.
 13. The dwellings also of the wilderness are fat, that they drip; and the hills are merry round about.
 14. The fields are full of sheep, and the meadows are thick with corn: they sing and rejoice.

The 66th Psalm (^)

Praise and glory to the wonderful works of God.

1. a psalm song to be sung. Rejoice to God, all the earth!
2. Sing ye praises unto his name: praise him gloriously.
3. Say unto God, How marvellous are thy works! Thine enemies shall fail before thy great power.
4. All the earth shall worship thee, and sing praise unto thee, and sing praise unto thy name. Sela.
5. Look, and behold the works of God, who is so wonderful in his works among the children of men.
6. He turneth the sea into dry land, that men may walk upon the face of the waters: we rejoice in him.
7. He reigneth with his power for ever: his eyes are upon the nations. The apostates shall not be able to exalt themselves. Sela.
8. Praise, ye nations, our God: let his praise be heard afar off, 9. Who keeps our souls in life, and does not let our feet slip.
10. For, O God, thou hast tried and refined us, as silver is refined.
11. Thou hast cast us into the tower; thou hast laid a burden upon our loins; 12. Thou hast caused men to pass over our heads: we are come in fire and in water: but thou hast brought us out, and hast refreshed us.
13. Therefore will I enter into thine house with burnt offerings, and pay thee my vows, 14. As I have opened my lips, and my mouth hath spoken in my trouble.
15. I will offer thee fat burnt offerings of burnt rams; I will offer oxen with rams. Selah.
16. Come, hear, all ye that fear God; and I will tell you what he hath done for my soul.
17. To him I cried with my mouth, and praised him with my tongue.
18. If I have wrought iniquity in my heart, the LORD will not hear.
19. Therefore God heareth me, and hearkeneth unto my supplications.
20. Praise be to God, who does not reject my prayer nor turn away his kindness from me.

The 67th Psalm

Prayer and thanksgiving for God's gracious blessings.

1. a psalm song, to be sung on strings.
2. May God have mercy on us and bless us; may He make His face shine upon us, Sela, 3. That we may know his way upon earth, and his salvation among all nations.

4. The nations give thanks unto thee, O God: all nations give thanks unto thee.

5. The nations rejoice and exult, because thou judgest the people aright, and governest the people of the earth. Sela.

6. The nations give thanks unto thee, O God: all nations give thanks unto thee.

7. the land gives its crops. May God bless us, our God!

8. May God bless us, and may all the earth fear Him!

The 68th Psalm (^)

Prophecy of Christ's exaltation and its glorious power.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung.

2. Let God arise, and let his enemies be scattered, and let them that hate him flee from him.

3. Drive them out as the smoke is driven out; as the wax melts from the fire, so must the wicked perish before God.

4. But the righteous must rejoice and be glad before God, and be glad from the heart.

5. Sing unto God, sing praises unto his name. Make ye way for him that cometh gently. His name is the LORD; and rejoice before him,

6. Who is a father of the fatherless and a judge of widows. He is GOD in His holy dwelling, 7. a God who gives the house full of children to the lonely, who brings out the captives in due time, and leaves the apostates in the drought.

8. God, when thou wentest before thy people, when thou walkedest in the wilderness, Selah, 9. Then the earth prayed, and the heavens trembled before this God in Sinai, before the God who is Israel's God.

10. But now, O God, thou givest a gracious rain, and thou restorest thine inheritance, which is dry,

11. That thy beasts may dwell therein. God, you feed the wretched with your goods.

12. The LORD giveth the word with great multitudes of evangelists.

13. The kings of hosts are friends one to another, and the honour of the house divideth the spoil.

14. When ye lie in the field, they shine as the wings of doves, gleaming as silver and gold.

15. If the Almighty now and then set kings among them, then there is light where there is darkness.

16. The mountain of God is a fruitful mountain, a great and fruitful mountain.
17. Why do ye leap great mountains? God delighteth to dwell in this mountain, and the LORD also dwelleth there for ever.
18. The chariot of God is many thousands of thousands: the LORD is among them in holy Sinai.
19. Thou hast gone up on high, and hast caught the prison; thou hast received gifts for men, even for the apostates, that God the LORD may abide there nevertheless.
20. Praise be to the LORD daily! GOD lays a burden on us, but He also helps us. Sela.
21. We have one God that helpeth, and the Lord GOD that saveth from death.
22. But God shall bruise the head of his enemies with the skull of their hair, who continue in their sin.
23. But thus saith the LORD, I will take some from among the fat men; out of the depth of the sea will I take some.
24. Therefore shall thy foot be dyed in the blood of the enemy, and thy dogs shall lick it.
25. Behold, O God, how thou walkest, how thou, my God and my King, walkest in the sanctuary.
26. The singers go before, and after them the minstrels among the maidservants that play.
27. Praise GOD the LORD in the assemblies for the fountain of Israel.
28. And there reigned among them little Benjamin, the princes of Judah with their companies, the princes of Zebulun, the princes of Naphtali.
29. Your God has established your kingdom. You, O God, will strengthen it for us, for it is your work.
30. For thy temple's sake in Jerusalem shall the kings bring thee gifts.
31. He shall rebuke the beast that is in the reed, the herd of oxen among their calves, which tread under foot for money's sake. He scattereth the nations, which love to get.
32. the princes of Egypt will come, Mohrenland will stretch out its hands to GOD.

33. Ye kingdoms of the earth, sing unto God, sing unto the LORD, selah,
34. To him that moveth in heaven from the beginning of the world.
Behold, he shall give power unto his thunder.

35. Give God the power! His glory is in Israel, and His power in the clouds.

36. GOD is wondrous in His sanctuary. He is GOD of Israel; He will give power and strength to the people. Praise be to GOD!

The 69th Psalm (^)

The Messiah's prayer in his suffering.

1. a psalm of David from the roses, to be sung.

2. God, help me; for the water is come up to my soul.

3. I sink in deep mire, because there is no bottom: I am in deep water, and the flood will drown me.

4. I have cried with a sore voice, my throat is sore: my face is sore, because I have waited so long for my God.

5. They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of my head. They that are unreasonably hostile unto me, And destroy me, are mighty. I must pay for that which I have not stolen.

6. O God, thou knowest my folly, and my debts are not hid from thee.

7. Let not them that wait for thee, O LORD of hosts, be ashamed of me. Let not them that seek thee, O God of Israel, be ashamed in me.

8. For thy sake I bear reproach, my face is full of shame.

9. I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and unknown unto my mother's children.

10. For I am almost jealous for thine house: and the reproach of them that reproach thee is upon me.

11. And I weep, and fast bitterly; and they mock me for it.

12. I have put on sackcloth; but they make a mockery of it.

13. They that sit in the gate wash of me; and in the taverns they sing of me.

14. But I pray thee, O LORD, in due season. God, through your great goodness, hear me with your faithful help!

15. Deliver me out of the dung, that I sink not; that I may be delivered from mine haters, and from the deep waters,

16. Lest the flood of waters drown me, and the deep swallow me up, and the hole of the pit close upon me.

17. Hear me, O LORD; for thy lovingkindness is acceptable: turn thee unto me according to thy great mercy.

18. And hide not thy face from thy servant: for I am afraid: hear me speedily.

19. Make thee my soul, and deliver it: deliver me for mine enemies' sake.

20. Thou knowest my reproach, my shame, and my disgrace: mine adversaries are all before thee.

21. The reproach breaketh my heart, and grieveth me. I wait to see if any will mourn, but there is none; and for comforters, but I find none.

22. And they give me gall to eat, and vinegar to drink in my great thirst.

23. Let their table become a snare before them, a retribution and a trap!

24. Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not; and let their loins always be troubled.

25. Pour out thy displeasure upon them, and let thy fierce anger seize them.

26. Let their habitation be desolate, and let none dwell in their tents.

27. For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and boast that thou hast smitten thine own with evil.

28. Let them fall into one sin upon another, that they come not unto thy righteousness.

29. Blot them out of the book of the living, that they be not written with the righteous.

30. But I am wretched, and I am in woe. God, your help protect me!

31. I will praise the name of God with a song, and will highly honor him with thanksgiving.

32. This shall please the LORD better than a bullock that hath horns and hoofs.

33. The wretched see and rejoice; and those who seek God, their hearts will live.

34. For the LORD heareth the poor, and despiseth not his prisoners.

35. Let heaven, earth, and sea, and all that moveth therein, praise him.

36. For God shall help Zion, and build the cities of Judah, that they may dwell there, and possess them.

37. And the seed of his servants shall inherit them, and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

The 70th Psalm (^)

David's plea for help against the enemies.

1. A psalm of David, to be sung in remembrance.
2. make haste, O GOD, to save me, O LORD, to help me!
3. They that desire my soul shall be ashamed and confounded: they that wish me ill shall return and be heard,
4. And they shall be ashamed again, that cry against me: There, there!
5. Let them that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let them that love thy salvation say always, Blessed be God.
6. But I am wretched and poor. God, make haste to me, for you are my helper and savior; my God, do not consume me!

The 71st Psalm (^)

Prayer for salvation.

1. O LORD, I trust in thee: let me never be put to shame.
 2. Save me by thy righteousness, and deliver me: incline thine ear unto me, and help me.
 3. Be thou a stronghold unto me, whither I may always flee, who hast promised to help me: for thou art my rock and my fortress.
 4. My God, save me from the hand of the wicked, from the hand of the unrighteous and the tyrant.
 5. For thou art my confidence, O Lord, my hope from my youth.
 6. In thee have I trusted from my mother's womb: thou hast drawn me out of my mother's womb.
- My glory is always from thee.
7. I am as a wonder before many: but thou art my strong assurance.
 8. Let my mouth be full of thy glory and thy praise daily.
 9. Cast me not away in my old age: forsake me not when I am faint.
 10. For mine enemies speak against me, and they that hold upon my soul take counsel with one another.
 11. And say: God has forsaken him; pursue and seize him, for there is no savior!
 12. God, be not far from me; my God, make haste to help me.
 13. They that are against my soul shall be ashamed, and perish: they that seek my evil shall be covered with shame and scorn.
 14. But I will always wait, and will always make thy glory more.
 15. My mouth shall declare thy righteousness, thy salvation daily, which I cannot number.

16. I walk in the strength of the LORD GOD: I praise thy righteousness alone.

17. God, thou hast taught me from my youth: therefore declare I thy wonders.

18. Neither forsake me, O God, in my old age, when I am gray, until I declare thy arm to my children's children, and thy strength to all that are to come.

19. O God, your righteousness is great, you who do great things. God, who is like you?

20. For thou hast made me to know much and great fear, and hast restored me to life, and brought me up out of the depth of the earth.

21. thou makest me very great, and comforteth me again.

22. So I also thank thee with psaltery for thy faithfulness, O my God: I sing praises unto thee upon the harp, O holy one in Israel.

23. My lips and my soul, which thou hast redeemed, are glad and sing unto thee.

24. My tongue also doth daily commune with thy righteousness. For they that seek my evil shall be ashamed and confounded.

The 72nd Psalm (^)

Prophecy of Christ and his kingdom.

1. To the God of Solomon, give thy judgment unto the king, and thy righteousness unto the king's son,

2. That he may bring thy people to righteousness, and save thy afflicted ones.

3. Let the mountains bring peace among the people, and the hills righteousness.

4. He shall uphold the wretched people in judgment, and shall help the poor, and shall smite the blasphemers.

5. They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, from child to child.

6. He shall descend as the rain upon the hide, as the drops that wet the land.

7. In his days shall the righteous flourish, and great peace, till the moon be no more.

8. He shall reign from sea to sea, and from the waters even unto the end of the world.

9. Before him shall they bow that are in the wilderness; and his enemies shall lick the dust.
10. The kings of the sea and of the isles shall bring gifts: the kings of Arabia and Seba shall bring gifts.
11. All kings shall worship him, all nations shall serve him.
12. For he shall deliver the poor that crieth, and the needy that hath no helper.
13. He will be gracious to the lowly and to the poor, and will help the souls of the poor.
14. He shall redeem her soul from deceit and from iniquity, and her blood shall be esteemed in his sight.
15. He shall live, and they shall give him of the gold of Arabia. And they shall pray before him continually; daily shall they praise him.
16. In the earth, upon the top of the mountains, shall the corn stand thick; the fruit thereof shall quake as Lebanon, and shall green in the cities as grass upon the earth.
17. His name shall be for ever: as long as the sun endureth, his name shall reach unto his seed, and they that are blessed by him shall be blessed: all the heathen shall praise him.
18. Blessed be the LORD God, the LORD God of Israel, which alone doeth wonders; 19. And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let all the earth be filled with his glory.

Amen, amen.

20. There is an end of the prayers of David the son of Jesse.

The 73rd Psalm (^)

Comfort and warning against vexation, concerning the happiness of the wicked.

1. a psalm of Assaph. Israel nevertheless has GOD for comfort, who only is pure in heart.
2. And I stumbled with my feet, and my footsteps almost slipped.
3. For I was grieved with the glorifiers, when I saw that the wicked prospered.
4. For they are in no ride of death, but stand fast as a palace.
5. they are not in misfortune like other people and are not afflicted like other people.
6. Therefore their defiance shall be a good thing, and their iniquity shall be called good.

7. Their person boasteth like a fat belly; they do whatsoever they think fit.

8. They destroy all things, and speak evil of them, and talk and blaspheme greatly.

9. What they speak must be spoken from heaven: what they say must be done on earth.

10. Therefore their rabble falleth unto them, and runneth unto them with heaps like waters.

11. And say: What should GOD ask of those? What should the Most High regard of them?

12. Behold, these are the wicked: they are blessed in the world, and wax rich.

13. Is it then in vain that my heart lives blamelessly, and that I wash my hands in innocency?

14. And I am afflicted daily, and my punishment is every morning?

15. I would almost have said as they did: but, behold, I would have damned all thy children that ever were.

16. I thought after him, that I might understand; but it was too hard for me.

17. Till I entered into the sanctuary of God, and saw the end thereof.

18. But thou settest them on the slippery ground, and castest them down to the ground.

19. How are they brought to nought so suddenly! They perish and come to an end with terror.

20. As a dream when one waketh, so thou, O LORD, makest their image despised in the city.

21. But it grieveth me in my heart, and stingeth me in my kidneys, 22. That I should be a fool, and know nothing, and be as a beast before thee.

23. Nevertheless I cleave unto thee always: for thou holdest me by my right hand, 24. Thou ledest me according to thy counsel, and receivest me at last with honour.

25. If I have thee only, I ask nothing of heaven and earth.

26. Though my body and soul languish, yet thou, O God, art ever the consolation of my heart, and my portion.

27. For, lo, they that depart from thee shall perish: thou destroyest all them that fornicate against thee.

28. But this is my joy, to cleave unto God, and to put my trust in the Lord GOD, to declare all thy doings.

The 74th Psalm (^)

Prayer for the preservation of the church.

1. a teaching of Assaph. God, why do you even reject us and are so fiercely angry with the sheep of your pasture?

2. Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old, and redeemed unto thine inheritance, even mount Zion, where thou dwellest.

3. Tread them under foot, and cast them down to the ground. The enemy has spoiled everything in the sanctuary.

4. Thine abominable ones roar in thy houses, and set their idols therein.

5. The axes are seen looking up, as one heweth in a forest,

6. And hew up all his tables with axe and baleen.

7. They burn up thy sanctuary; they profane the habitation of thy name to the ground.

8. They say in their heart, Let us plunder them. They burn all the houses of GOD in the land.

9. We see not our signs, neither doth a prophet preach, nor a teacher teach us any more.

10. O God, how long shall the wicked revile, and the enemy blaspheme thy name?

11. Why turnest thou away thy hand, and thy right hand from thy bosom so completely?

12. But God is my King from of old, which doeth all help that is done in the earth.

13. Thou shalt divide the sea by thy strength, and shatter the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14. Thou shalt break the heads of the whales, and give them for meat unto the people of the wilderness.

15. Thou hast caused fountains and rivers to flow; thou hast dried up mighty streams.

16. The day and the night are thine; thou makest both the sun and the stars to have their course.

17. Thou settest the border of every land; thou makest summer and winter.

18. Remember therefore, that the enemy reproacheth the LORD, and a foolish people blasphemeth thy name.

19. Thou wilt not give the soul of thy turtledove unto the beast, nor forget thy wretched beasts.

20. Remember the covenant: for the land is miserably desolate in every place, and the houses are broken down.

21. Let not the lowly go away with shame: for the poor and the miserable glorify thy name.

22. Arise, O God, and plead thy cause: remember the reproach that is daily returned unto thee of the fools.

23. Forget not the clamour of thine enemies: the clamour of thine adversaries increaseth the longer.

The 75th Psalm (^)

Praise of the wonders of God. Warning ,of security

1. A psalm and song of Assaph, that he perish not, to sing.

2. We thank thee, O GOD, we give thanks unto thee, and declare thy wonders, that thy name is so near.

3. For in his time I will judge aright.

4. The land trembleth, and all that dwell therein: but I hold her pillars fast. Sela.

5. And I said unto the glorifiers: Do not boast so; and to the wicked, Do not press for violence.

6. do not exalt your power, do not be stiff-necked,

7. Let there be no distress, neither from going up, nor from coming down, nor from the mountains of the wilderness.

8. For God is judge, who bringeth down this man, and exalteth that man.

9. For the LORD hath a cup in his hand full of strong wine, and poureth out of the same: but the wicked drink all, and drink out the lees.

10. But I will proclaim for ever, and sing praise unto the God of Jacob.

11. And I will break all the power of the wicked, that the power of the righteous may be exalted.

The 76th Psalm (^)

God is his church's defense.

1. a psalm song of Assaph, to be sung on strings.

2. GOD is known in Judah, in Israel His name is glorious.

3. In Salem is his tent, and his tabernacle in Zion.

4. there he breaketh the arrows of the bow, and the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Sela.
5. Thou art more glorious and mightier than the mountains of prey.
6. The proud shall be deprived, and shall fall asleep; and all the warriors shall let down their hands.
7. From thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both horse and chariot shall fall asleep.
8. You're terrifying. Who can stand before you when you are angry?
9. When thou shalt hear judgment from heaven, the earth shall be afraid, and shall be still, 10. When God arises to judge, to help all the wretched of the earth. Sela.
11. When men rage against thee, thou puttest in honour: and when they rage more, thou art armed also.
12. Praise and keep the LORD your God, all ye that are about him; bring gifts unto the terrible one,
13. Who taketh away the courage of princes, and is terrible among the kings of the earth.

The 77th Psalm (^)

The pious are tempted and comforted.

1. a psalm of Assaph for Jeduthun, to be sung.
2. I cry with my voice unto GOD; unto GOD I cry, and he heareth me.
3. In the time of my trouble I seek the LORD: my hand is stretched out by night, and will not depart: for my soul will not be comforted.
4. When I am afflicted, I remember God; when my heart is in anguish, I speak. Sela.
5. Thou keepest mine eyes to watch: I am so faint that I cannot speak.
6. I think of the old time, of the former years.
7. I think on my strings at night, and speak with my heart; my mind must search.
8. Will the LORD then cast out for ever, and show no more mercy?
9. Is then his goodness utterly ended? and is there an end of the promise?
10. Hath God then forgotten to be gracious, and shut up his mercy from wrath? Sela.
11. But yet I said, I must suffer this: the right hand of the Most High is able to change all things.

12. Therefore I remember the deeds of the LORD: yea, I remember thy former wonders.
13. And speak of all thy works, and say of thy doings.
14. God, your way is holy. Where is such a mighty God as you, God, are?
15. Thou art the God that doeth wonders: thou hast shewed thy power among the nations.
16. Thou hast redeemed thy people mightily, the children of Jacob and Joseph. Sela.
17. The waters saw thee, O God; the waters saw thee, and were afraid, and the deeps raged.
18. The thick clouds poured water; the clouds thundered, and the beams lead therefore.
19. There was thunder in heaven; thy lightnings shone upon the face of the earth; the earth stirred and trembled.
20. Thy way was in the sea, and thy path in great waters; yet thy foot was not felt.
21. Thou ledest thy people as a flock of sheep by Moses and Aaron.

The 78th Psalm (^)

Narrative of the benefits and punishments of God, shown to his people.

1. An instruction of Assaph. Hear, my people, my law; incline your ears to the speech of my mouth.
2. I will open my mouth for proverbs, and speak out ancient history, 3. Which we have heard, and know, and which our fathers have told us, 4. That we should not refrain from their children that come after, and declare the glory of the LORD, and his power, and the wonders which he hath done.
5. He established a testimony in Jacob, and gave a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers to teach their children,
6. That their seed might learn, and the children that should be born after them, when they were grown up, might tell it also unto their children,
7. That they might put their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, and keep his commandments,
8. And became not as their fathers, an apostate and disobedient sort, whose heart was not steadfast, neither did their spirit hold fast to God;

9. As the children of Ephraim, which had the bow in their hand, fell away in the day of battle.

10. They kept not the covenant of God, neither would they walk in his law, 11. And they forgot his deeds, and his wonders which he had shewed them.

12. In the sight of their fathers he did wonders in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.

13. And he divided the sea, and let them go through it: and he set up the waters as a wall.

14. He led them by day with a cloud, and by night with a bright fire.

15. He plucked up the rocks of the wilderness, and watered them with water abundantly; 16. And he made rivers to flow out of the rock, and they went down like rivers of water.

17. Yet they continued in sin against him, and provoked the most high to anger in the wilderness; 18. And tempted God in their heart, that they might require meat for their souls; 19. And they spake against God, saying: Yes, God should be able to prepare a table in the wilderness!

20. Behold, he hath smitten the rock, and the waters have flowed, and the rivers have flowed: but how can he give bread, and provide meat for his people?

21. And it came to pass, when the LORD heard it, that he was kindled, and fire was kindled in Jacob, and wrath came upon Israel,

22. That they believed not in God, and hoped not for his help.

23. And he commanded the clouds above, and opened the doors of heaven; 24. And he caused the man to rain upon them to eat, and gave them bread from heaven.

25. They did eat angel's bread: he sent them meat abundantly.

26. He made the east wind to blow under heaven, and by his strength he stirred up the south wind.

27. And rained flesh upon them as dust, and birds as the sand of the sea; 28. And he cast them down under their beds in every place where they dwelt.

29. And they did eat, and were filled: and he made them atone for their lust.

30. When therefore they had repented of their lust, and were yet eating thereof, 31. And the wrath of God came upon them, and slew the chief of them, and smote the best of Israel.

32. But over all this they sinned still more, and believed not his miracles.

33. Therefore he sent them away to die, and they obtained nothing; and they were afflicted all their days.

34. And when he slew them, they sought him, and turned early unto God.

35. And they remembered that GOD is their refuge, and GOD the Most High is their Redeemer, 36. And pretended unto him with their mouth, and lied unto him with their tongue.

37. But their heart was not set on him, neither did they keep his covenant faithfully.

38. But he was merciful, and forgave iniquity, and destroyed it not; and turned away his wrath often, and let not all his anger go.

39. For he remembered that they are flesh, a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

40. They provoked him often to anger in the wilderness, and provoked him to indignation in the desert.

41. They tempted GOD again and again and mastered the Holy One in Israel.

42. They remembered not his hand the day that he delivered them from their enemies, 43. As he did his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the land of Zoan, 44. For he turned their waters into blood, that they could not drink their brooks;

45. For he sent vermin among them, which devoured them, and toads, which corrupted them, 46. And gave her increase to the caterpillars, and her seed to the locusts; 47. When he smote their vines with hail, and their mulberry trees with locks; 48. When he smote their cattle with hail, and their flocks with beams; 49. When he sent evil angels among them in his fierce anger, and made them rage and rage, and did them wrong;

50. For he sent away his wrath, and spared not their souls from death, and caused their cattle to die of the pestilence;

51. When he smote all the firstborn in Egypt, the firstborn in the tabernacles of Harn.

52. And he sent forth his people as sheep, and led them as a flock in the wilderness.

53. And he led them safely, that they feared not: but their enemies covered the sea.

54. And brought them into his holy border, unto this mountain which his right hand hath purchased:

55. And before them the nations, and divided unto them the inheritance, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in those tents.

56. But they tempted and provoked God Most High to anger, and did not keep His testimonies; 57. And they fell back, and despised all things, as their fathers did, and kept not, as a loose bow; 58. And they provoked him to anger with their high places, and provoked him with their idols.

59. And when God heard it, he was inflamed, and rejected Israel greatly, 60. That he made his tabernacle to go to Shiloh, the tabernacle where he dwelt among men; 61. And gave their power into prison, and their glory into the hand of the enemy; 62. And delivered up his people to the sword, and burned upon his inheritance.

63. their young men were eaten up by the fire, and their virgins were left unfreed.

64. Her priests fell by the sword, and were no widows to weep.

65. And he, O LORD, awoke as one that sleepeth, as one that is strong rejoiceth from wine, 66. And smote his enemies from behind, and put them to an everlasting shame.

67. And rejected the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim, 68. But mentioned the tribe of Judah, mount Zion, which he loved.

69. And built up his sanctuary on high, as a land that shall stand firm for ever.

70. And he chose David his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds;

71. He took him from the lambs that were suckling, that he should feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

72. And he also fed them with all faithfulness, and ruled them with all diligence.

The 79th Psalm (^)

Prayer against the enemies of truth and their tyranny.

1. A psalm of Assaph. O LORD, the heathen have fallen into thine inheritance, and have polluted thy holy temple, and made Jerusalem a heap of stones.
2. They have given the carcases of thy servants for meat unto the fowls of the air, and the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.
3. They shed blood round about Jerusalem like water; and there was none to bury it.
4. We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a mockery and a scorn to them that are round about us.
5. O Lord, how long wilt thou be angry, and let thy zeal burn like fire?
6. Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the kingdoms that call not upon thy name.
7. For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his houses.
8. Remember not our former iniquity: have mercy upon us quickly; for we are become almost thin.
9. help us, O GOD, our helper, for the glory of your name; save us and forgive us our sin for the sake of your name!
10. Why hast thou made the heathen say, Where is their God? Let the vengeance of the blood of thy servants, which is shed, be made known among the heathen before our eyes.
11. Let the groaning of the captives come before thee: according to thy great arm keep the children of death.
12. And sevenfold recompense our neighbours in their bosoms for their reproach, because they have reproached thee, O LORD.
13. And we thy people, and the sheep of thy pasture, give thee thanks for ever, and proclaim thy praise for ever and ever.

The 80th Psalm (^)

Prayer for the preservation of the spiritual vineyard.

1. a psalm of Assaph from the span roses, to be sung.
2. Thou shepherd of Israel, hear, thou that tendest Joseph as the sheep; appear, thou that sittest over cherubims.
3. Awaken thy power, which is before Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh, and come to our help.
4. God, comfort us, and make thy face to shine, and we shall be healed.
5. O LORD God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry with the prayer of thy people?

6. Thou feedest them with the bread of tears, and waterest them with a great measure of tears.
7. Thou hast set us at variance with our neighbours, and our enemies have mocked us.
8. O God of hosts, comfort us. Let your face shine, and we shall be healed.
9. Thou hast brought up a vine out of Egypt, and hast cast out the heathen, and planted the same.
10. Thou hast made the way before him, and hast rooted him, and he hath filled the land.
11. mountains are covered with his shadow, and with his branches the cedars of GOD.
12. Thou hast spread forth his plant unto the sea, and his branches unto the waters.
13. Wherefore then hast thou broken down his fence, that all that pass by may break it down?
14. The wild swine have rooted him up, and the wild beasts have destroyed him.
15. O God of hosts, turn thou, look down from heaven, and behold, and seek out this vine.
16. And keep him in the building which thy right hand hath planted, and which thou hast firmly chosen for thyself.
17. Look ye in, and rebuke, that there be an end of burning and tearing.
18. Let thine hand guard the people of thy right hand, and the people whom thou hast chosen for thyself,
19. Then we will not depart from thee. Let us live, and we will call upon thy name.
20. O LORD of hosts, comfort us. Let your face shine, and we shall be healed.

The 81st Psalm (^)

Admonition how to celebrate the holidays rightly.

1. to sing on the githith: Assaph.
2. Sing joyfully to God, who is our strength; rejoice to the God of Jacob.
3. Take the psalms, and give the timbrels, and the harps, and the psalteries.
4. Blow ye the trumpets in the new moon, in our feast of the leafy bosom.

5. For this is the way of Israel, and the right of the God of Jacob.
6. These things he set forth for a testimony unto Joseph, when they came out of the land of Egypt, and heard a strange language,
7. When I had unburdened her shoulder, and her hands were loosed from the pots.
8. When thou calledst upon me in trouble, I helped thee: and when the weather overtook thee, I hearkened unto thee, and tried thee by the water of the Hader. Sela.
9. Hear, my people, I will testify among you; Israel, you shall hear me,
10. That there be no other god among thee, neither that thou worship any strange god.
11. I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt. Open thy mouth wide, and let me fill it.
12. But my people will not hearken unto my voice, neither will Israel hearken unto mine.
13. So have I left them in the folly of their hearts, to walk after their counsel.
14. If my people would be obedient unto me, and if Israel would walk in my way, 15. I will soon subdue their enemies, and turn mine hand upon their adversaries; 16. And they that hate the LORD shall lack him: but their days shall be for ever.
17. And I would feed them with the best wheat, and satisfy them with honey out of the rock.

The 82nd Psalm

Of the state and office of the secular authorities.

1. a psalm of Assaph. God stands in the company of God and is judge among the gods.
2. How long will ye judge iniquity, and prefer the person of the wicked? Sela.
3. Render justice to the poor and to the fatherless, and help the needy and the poor to righteousness.
4. the lowly and the poor, and deliver him out of the hand of the wicked.
5. But they suffer them not, nor hearken unto them; they go always in darkness: therefore must all the foundations of the land fall.
6. I have said, Ye are gods, and the children of the Most High;
7. But ye shall die as men, and perish as a tyrant.

8. God, arise and judge the land: for thou art an inheritor over all the nations.

The 83rd Psalm (^)

Prayer for help against the enemies of the church.

1. a psalm song of Assaph.

2. God, do not be so silent, and do not be so still; God, do not pause so!

3. For, behold, thine enemies rage, and they that hate thee lift up their heads.

4. They make crafty plots against thy people, and counsel against thy hidden ones.

5. Behold, they say, let us cut them off, that they be no nation, that the name of Israel be no more remembered.

6. For they have joined themselves together, and made a covenant against thee: 7. The tents of the Edomites, and of the Ishmaelites, and of the Moabites, and of the Hagarites, 8. The Gebalites, and the Ammonites, and the Amalekites, and the Philistines, with them of Tyre;

9. Asshur also joined them, and help the children of Lot. Sela.

10. Do unto them as unto the Midianites, as unto Sisserah, as unto Jabin by the brook Kishon, 11. Which were consumed at Endor, and became dung upon the earth.

12. Make their princes like Oreb and Zeeb, all their princes like Zebah and Zalmunah, 13. Who say, We will take the houses of GOD.

14. God, make them like a whirlpool, like stubble before the wind!

15. As a fire burneth up the forest, and as a flame kindleth the mountains, 16. So pursue them with thy weather, and terrify them with thy tempest.

17. Make their faces full of shame, that they may ask thy name.

18. They shall be ashamed, and shall be afraid more and more, and shall be ashamed, and shall perish.

19. And they shall know that by thy name thou art called Lord alone, and the most high in all the earth.

The 84th Psalm (^)

Of the church and the preaching ministry.

1. a psalm of the children of Korah, to be sung on the githith.

2. How goodly are thy dwelling places, O LORD of hosts!

3. My soul desireth and longeth for the courts of the LORD: my body and soul rejoice in the living God.

4. For the bird hath found a house, and the swallow her nest, where they lay young, even thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King and my God.
5. Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they praise thee for ever. Sela.
6. Blessed are the men that count thee their strength, and walk after thee with their hearts, 7. Who pass through the vale of tears, and make wells there. And the teachers are adorned with many blessings.
8. They get one victory after another, that it must be seen that the right God is in Zion.
9. O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer; give ear, O God of Jacob. Sela.
10. O God, our shield, look; behold the kingdom of thine anointed!
11. For one day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I will rather keep the door of my God's house, than dwell long in the tabernacles of the wicked.
12. For the LORD God is a sun and a shield; the LORD giveth grace and honour: he will not fail the good of the upright.
13. O LORD of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

The 85th Psalm (^)

Prayer for God's help and welfare of all estates.

1. a psalm of the children of Korah, to be sung.
2. O LORD, which hast been merciful unto thy land in time past, and hast redeemed the captives of Jacob;
3. Who hast formerly forgiven the iniquity of thy people, and covered all their sin, Sela; 4. Thou that didst lift up all thy wrath before, and didst turn away from the fierceness of thine anger;
5. Comfort us, O GOD our Saviour, and remove your displeasure from us.
6. Wilt thou then be angry with us for ever, and let thy wrath go for ever and ever?
7. Wilt thou not then restore us, that thy people may rejoice over thee?
8. O Lord, show us your mercy and help us!
9. Oh that I should hear that God the LORD speaketh, that he should promise peace unto his people and to his saints, that they should not enter into folly!
10. But his help is near unto them that fear him, that glory may dwell in our land; 11. That goodness and faithfulness meet together, righteousness and peace kiss each other; 12. That faithfulness may grow upon the earth, and righteousness look down from heaven; 13. That the LORD also may do us good, that our land may yield her increase; 14. That righteousness nevertheless may abide before him, and walk in the sword.

The 86th Psalm (^)

David's different pleas.

1. A prayer of David. O Lord, incline thine ears, and hear me; for I am wretched and poor.
2. Keep my soul: for I am holy. Help, O my God, thy servant, who trusteth in thee.
3. Lord, have mercy upon me: for I cry unto thee daily.
4. Make glad the soul of thy servant: for after thee, O LORD, do I desire.
5. For thou, O LORD, art good and gracious, of great kindness unto all them that call upon thee.
6. Hear, O LORD, my prayer, and hearken unto the voice of my supplications.
7. In trouble I call upon thee; thou wilt hear me.
8. O LORD, there is none like thee among the gods, neither is there any that can do like thee.
9. All the nations which thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O LORD, and shall honour thy name,
10. That thou art so great, and doest wonders, and art alone GOD.
11. Thy way, O LORD, that I may walk in thy truth: keep my heart in that which is one, that I may fear thy name.
12. I thank thee, O LORD my God, with all my heart; and I honor thy name for ever.
13. For great is thy lovingkindness toward me, and thou hast delivered my soul from the depths of hell.
14. O God, the proud are set against me, and the company of the oppressors are after my soul, and have not thee before their eyes.
15. But thou, O LORD God, art merciful and gracious, patient, and of great kindness and faithfulness.
16. Turn thee unto me, be gracious unto me: strengthen thy servant with thy might, and help the son of thy handmaid.

17. Do a sign unto me, that it may be well with me, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed, that thou standest by me, O LORD, and comfortest me.

The 87th Psalm (^)

Of the Christian Church, under the model of the earthly Jerusalem.

1. a psalm song of the children of Korah. It is firmly established on the holy mountains.

2. The LORD loveth the gates of Zion above all the dwellings of Jacob.

3. Glorious things are preached in thee, O city of God. Sela.

4. I will preach unto Rahab and Babylon, that they may know me.

Behold, the Philistines and the Tyrians and the Moors are born there.

5. And it shall be said in Zion, that all manner of men shall be born therein, and that he that is most high shall build them.

6. The LORD shall preach in divers tongues, that some of them also shall be born there. Sela.

7. And the singers, as at the round dance, shall all sing in thee one by one.

The 88th Psalm (^)

Prayer in severe temptation.

1. A psalm-song of the children of Korah, to be sung, of the infirmities of the wretched. An instruction of Heman the Ezrahite.

2. O LORD God, my Saviour, I cry before thee day and night.

3. Let my prayer come before thee; incline thine ear unto my cry.

4. For my soul is full of sorrow, and my life is nigh unto hell.

5. I am esteemed like unto them that go down to hell: I am like a man that hath no help.

6. I lie forsaken among the dead, as the slain that lie in the grave, of whom thou rememberest no more, and they are separated from thy hand.

7. Thou hast laid me down in the pit, in darkness, and in the deep.

8. thy wrath oppresseth me, and presseth me with all thy floods. Sela.

9. Thou hast put my friends far from me: thou hast made me an abomination unto them. I lie captive, and cannot get along.

10. My form is pitiful with misery. O Lord, I call upon thee daily; I stretch forth my hands unto thee.

11. Wilt thou then do wonders among the dead, or shall the dead arise and thank thee? Sela.

12. Shall thy goodness be told in graves, and thy faithfulness in destruction?

13. May thy wonders be known in darkness, or thy righteousness in the land that is not remembered?

14. But I cry unto thee, O LORD; and my prayer cometh early before thee, 15. Why hast thou, O LORD, cast off my soul, and hid thy face from me?

16. I am wretched and faint, that I am so cast down; and I suffer thy terror, that I am almost consumed.

17. Thy wrath is upon me; Thy terror oppresseth me. They compass me about daily as waters, And compass me about together.

19. Thou makest my friends, and my neighbours, and my kinsmen, to depart from me, because of this affliction.

The 89th Psalm (^)

Of the Messiah and his kingdom.

1. a teaching of Ethan the Esrahite.

2. I will sing of the grace of the LORD for ever, and declare his truth with my mouth for ever, 3. Saying thus, That an everlasting mercy shall spring up, and thou shalt keep thy truth faithfully in heaven.

4. I have made a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn to David my servant: 5. I will provide seed for thee for ever, and will build thy throne for ever. Sela.

6. And the heavens, O Lord, shall praise thy wonders, and thy truth in the congregation of the saints.

7. For who in the clouds is like unto the LORD, and is like unto the LORD among the children of the gods?

8. God is almost mighty in the gathering of the saints and wonderful over all who are around Him.

9. O LORD God of hosts, who is like thee, a mighty God? And thy truth is round about thee.

10. Thou hast dominion over the boisterous sea; thou stillest the waves thereof when they rise.

11. Thou smitest Rahab to death; thou scatterest thine enemies with thy strong arm.

12. Heaven and earth are thine; thou hast founded the ground, and all that is therein.

13. The midnight and the noonday hast thou made; Tabor and Hermon exult in thy name.

14. Thou hast a mighty arm; strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

15. Righteousness and judgment are the stronghold of thy throne: mercy and truth are before thy face.

16. Blessed are the people that rejoice. O LORD, they shall walk in the light of thy countenance.

17. They shall rejoice daily over thy name, and be glorious in thy righteousness.

18. For thou art the glory of their strength, and by thy grace thou shalt exalt our horn.

19. For the LORD is our shield, and the Holy One of Israel is our King.

20. At that time thou spakest in vision unto thy holy one, saying: I have raised up a hero to help; I have raised up a chosen one from among the people;

21. I have found my servant David, I have anointed him with my holy oil.

22. My hand shall sustain him, and my arm shall strengthen him.

23. Enemies shall not overcome him, and the unrighteous shall not subdue him, 24. But I will smite his adversaries before him, and them that hate him will I afflict.

25. But my truth and my mercy shall be with him, and his horn shall be exalted in my name.

26. I will put his hand into the sea, and his right hand into the waters.

27. And he shall call me thus, Thou art my Father, my God, and my stronghold, which helpeth me.

28. And I will make him the first son, the chiefest among the kings of the earth.

29. I will keep my mercy for him for ever, and my covenant shall be steadfast unto him.

30. I will give him seed for ever, and will keep his throne all the days of heaven.

31. But where his children forsake my law, and walk not in my statutes,

32. If they profane my statutes, and keep not my commandments,

33. I will punish their sin with the rod, and their iniquity with plagues.

34. But I will not turn away my mercy from him, neither will I fail in my truth.

35. I will not profane my covenant, nor change that which hath gone out of my mouth.

36. I have sworn once by my holiness, I will not lie unto David.

37. His seed shall be for ever, and his throne before me as the sun; 38. As the moon he shall be preserved for ever, and as the witness in the clouds he shall be sure.

Sela.

39. But now thou hast transgressed, and forsaken, and been wroth with thine anointed.

40. Thou destroyest thy servant's covenant, and trodest his crown to the ground.

41. Thou shalt break down all his walls, and shalt cause his strongholds to be broken down.

42. All that pass by rob him: he is become a mockery to his neighbours.

43. Thou exaltest the right hand of his adversaries, and rejoicest all his enemies.

44. Thou hast also taken away the power of his sword, and hast not let him prevail in the battle.

45. you destroy his purity and weaken his chair to the ground.

46. thou shortenest the time of his youth, and coverest him with scorn. Sela.

47. O LORD, how long wilt thou hide thyself, and let thy wrath burn like fire?

48. Remember how short my life is! Why would you have created all men in vain?

49. Where is there any that liveth, and seeth not death, to deliver his soul out of the hand of hell?

Sela.

50. O LORD, where is thy former mercy, which thou swarest unto David in thy truth?

51. Remember, O LORD, the reproach of thy servants, which I bear in my bosom of so many nations of all,

52. That thine enemies, O LORD, may revile thee, that they may revile the footsteps of thine anointed.

53. Be the LORD forever! Amen, amen.

The 90th Psalm (^)

Of the frailty of human life.

1. a prayer of Moses, the man of God.
2. O LORD God, you are our refuge for ever and ever. Before the mountains were created, and the earth and the world, you are, O God, from everlasting to everlasting,
3. who let men die, and said, Come again, children of men.
4. For a thousand years are before thee as the day that was yesterday, and as a night watch.
5. Thou hast caused them to pass away like a river, and they are as a sleep, as grass that fadeth quickly,
6. Which flourisheth early, and withereth soon, and is cut down in the evening, and withereth.
7. This is thy wrath, that we are consumed: and thy fury, that we are consumed suddenly.
8. For thou hast set our iniquity before thee, our unconcealed sin in the light of thy countenance.
9. Therefore all our days are consumed in thine anger: we have spent our years as a tale.
10. Our life shall be seventy years; and if it come to pass, it shall be fourscore years: and if it have been good, it shall have been toil and trouble: for it shall pass quickly, as if we flew away.
11. And who shall believe that thou art angry? and who shall be afraid of thy wrath?
12. Teach us to remember that we must die, that we may be wise.
13. O Lord, turn again to us, and be gracious unto thy servants.
14. Fill us early with thy grace, and we will glory and be glad all our days.
15. Now make us glad again, after that thou hast afflicted us so long, after that we have suffered misfortunes so long.
16. Show thy servants thy works, and thy glory to their children.
17. And the LORD our God be kind unto us, and promote the work of our hands among us; yea, promote the work of our hands.

The 91st Psalm, (^)

Comfort in Dying.

1. He who sits under the umbrella of the Most High and abides under the shadow of the Almighty,

2. Who saith unto the LORD, My confidence and my fortress, my God, in whom I trust.
3. For he delivereth me from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.
4. He shall cover thee with his wings, and thy confidence shall be under his wings. His truth is shield and screen,
5. That thou shouldest not be afraid of the terror of the night, of the arrows that fly by day, 6. From the pestilence that creepeth in darkness, from the pestilence that wasteth in the south.
7. Though a thousand fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, it shall not come upon thee.
8. Yea, thou shalt see thy lust with thine eyes, and shalt see it rewarded unto the wicked.
9. For the LORD is thy confidence, the most High is thy refuge.
10. No evil shall befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy tabernacle.
11. For he hath commanded his angels concerning thee, to keep thee in all thy ways, 12. That they bear thee up in their hands, and that thou dash not thy foot against a stone.
13. Thou shalt walk upon the lions and the vipers, and tread upon the young lions and dragons.
14. He desireth me, and I will help him: he knoweth my name, and I will defend him; 15. If he call upon me, I will hear him. I am with him in trouble; I will pluck him out, and make him honourable.
16. I will satisfy him with long life, and show him my salvation.

The 92nd Psalm (^)

God is to be praised, and why?

1. a psalm song on the Sabbath day.
2. This is a good thing, to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O thou most High.
3. proclaim thy grace in the morning, and thy truth at night,
4. on the ten strings and psaltery, with playing on the harp.
5. For, O LORD, thou hast made me to sing joyfully of thy works, and I have glorified the works of thy hands.
6. O Lord, how great are thy works! Thy thoughts are so very deep.
7. A foolish man believeth not, and a fool regardeth not these things.

8. The wicked flourish as the grass, and the transgressors all flourish, until they be destroyed for ever and ever.
9. But thou, O LORD, art the most high, and abidest for ever.
10. For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD, behold, thine enemies shall perish; and all evildoers must be scattered.
11. But my horn shall be exalted as the horn of a unicorn, and shall be anointed with fresh oil.
12. And mine eye shall see his delight in mine enemies, and mine ear shall hear his delight in the wicked that set themselves against me.
13. The righteous shall be green as a palm tree; he shall grow as a cedar in Lebanon.
14. They that are planted in the house of the LORD shall flourish in the courts of our God.
15. And though they grow old alike, yet they shall flourish, and be fruitful and fresh, 16. That they may proclaim that the LORD is my stronghold, and that there is no wrong in him.

The 93rd Psalm (^)

Prophecy of Christ and his kingdom.

1. The LORD is king, and gloriously adorned: the LORD is adorned, and hath begun a kingdom as far as the earth is, and hath prepared it to abide.
2. From this time thy throne is established: thou art for ever.
3. O Lord, the rivers of waters arise, the rivers of waters lift up their roar, the rivers of waters lift up the waves.
4. The waves of the sea are great, and roar exceedingly: but the LORD is greater in the height.
5. Thy word is a right doctrine. Holiness is the ornament of thy house for ever.

The 94th Psalm (^)

Prayer against the enemies of the church.

1. O Lord God, who is vengeance, God, who is vengeance, appear!
2. Arise, thou judge of the world: recompense to the proud their due.
3. O LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the ungodly boast?
4. And speak so defiantly, and all evildoers boast so?
5. O LORD, they smite thy people, and afflict thine inheritance.

6. widows and strangers strangle them, and kill the fatherless (
7. Saying, The LORD seeth it not, and the God of Jacob regardeth it not.
8. Mark you, ye fools of the people, and ye fools, when will ye be wise?
9. He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? He that made the eye, shall he not see?
10. He that chasteneth the heathen, shall he not chasten? he that teacheth men what they know.
11. But the LORD knoweth the thoughts of men, that they are vain.
12. Blessed is he whom thou, O LORD, chastenest, and teacheest by thy law,
13. That he may have patience in the day of evil, until the pit be prepared for the wicked.
14. For the LORD will not cast off his people, nor forsake his inheritance.
15. For the law must be the law, and all godly hearts will fall unto it.
16. Who shall stand with me against the wicked? Who shall stand with me against the workers of iniquity?
17. If the LORD help me not, my soul shall lie in silence.
18. And I said, My foot stumbled; but thy mercy, O LORD, kept me.
19. I had many sorrows in my heart: but thy consolations made my soul glad.
20. Thou shalt never be one with the pernicious chair, which interpreteth the law falsely.
21. They prepare themselves against the soul of the righteous, and condemn innocent blood.
22. But the LORD is my refuge; my God is the stronghold of my confidence.
23. And he shall recompense their iniquity, and shall destroy them for their wickedness: the LORD our God shall destroy them.

The 95th Psalm (^)

The Messiah is to be thanked and obeyed.

1. Come ye near, and let us rejoice in the LORD, and shout for joy to the stronghold of our salvation.
2. Let us come before his face with thanksgiving, and with psalms let us shout for him.
3. For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods.
4. For in his hand is that which the earth bringeth forth; and the high places of the mountains are his also.

5. For his is the sea, and he hath made it; and his hands have prepared the dry land.
6. Come, let us worship, and kneel, and fall down before the LORD that made us.
7. For he is our God, and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. This day, if ye hear his voice,
8. Then harden not your heart, as it was in Meribah, as it was in Massa in the wilderness,
9. When your fathers tempted me, they felt and saw my work, 10. That I had forty years' trouble with this people, saying, They are men whose hearts always desire the wrong way, and will not learn my ways;
11. That I swear in mine anger, They shall not come into my rest.

The 96th Psalm (^)

Of the new song of the holy gospel.

1. Sing to the Lord a new song; sing to the Lord, all the earth!
2. Sing unto the LORD, and praise his name; preach one day upon another his salvation.
3. Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all nations.
4. For the LORD is great and greatly to be praised, marvellous above all gods.
5. For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the LORD hath made heaven.
6. It is glorious and marvellous before him; it is mighty and glorious in his sanctuary.
7. O ye nations, bring unto the LORD, bring unto the LORD glory and power.
8. Bring ye hither unto the LORD the glory of his name; bring ye gifts, and come into his courts.
9. To the LORD in holy ornaments; let all the earth fear him.
10. Say among the heathen that the LORD is king, and hath prepared his kingdom, as far as the earth is, to abide in it, and judgeth the nations aright.
11. Be glad, and let the earth rejoice; let the sea roar, and all that is therein; 12. Let the field be glad, and all that is therein: and let all the trees of the forest praise.

13. Before the LORD: for he cometh, because he cometh to judge the earth. He shall judge the earth with righteousness, and the nations with his truth.

The 97th Psalm (^)

Of Christo and his kingdom.

1. The LORD is king: let the earth rejoice, and let the isles be glad, as many as are therein.
2. Clouds and darkness are round about him. Righteousness and judgment is the stronghold of his throne:
3. Fire goeth before him, and kindleth his enemies round about.
4. His lightnings shall shine upon the ground: the earth shall see, and be afraid.
5. Mountains melt like wax before the LORD, before the ruler of all the earth.
6. the heavens declare his righteousness, and all nations behold his glory.
7. Let all them be ashamed that serve images, and that boast of idols. Worship him, all gods!
8. Zion heareth, and is glad; and the daughters of Judah rejoice, O LORD, in thy government.
9. For thou, O LORD, art the most high in all the earth: thou art greatly exalted above all gods.
10. Ye that love the LORD, hate evil. The LORD preserveth the souls of his saints: from the hand of the wicked shall he deliver them.
11. The light must always dawn upon the righteous, and joy upon the devout heart.
12. Ye righteous, rejoice in the LORD; and give thanks unto him, and glorify his holiness.

The 98th Psalm (^)

Exhortation to the praise of Christ.

1. A psalm. Sing unto the LORD a new song: for he doeth wonders. He triumpheth with his right hand, and with his holy arm.
2. The LORD hath declared his salvation, and hath shewed his righteousness before the nations.
3. He remembereth his mercy and truth unto the house of Israel. The ends of the earth behold the salvation of our God.
4. Rejoice unto the LORD, all the earth: sing, praise, and extol.

5. Praise the LORD with harps, with harps, and with psalms;
6. With trumpets and trumpets shout for joy before the Lord the King.
7. The sea roareth, and that which is therein, the ground, and they that dwell therein.
8. Let the rivers rejoice, and let all the mountains be glad.
9. Before the LORD: for he cometh to judge the earth. He shall judge the earth with righteousness, and the nations with judgment.

The 99th Psalm (^)

Of the nature of Christ's kingdom.

1. The LORD is king, therefore the nations rage: he sitteth upon cherubims, therefore the world stirs.
2. The LORD is great in Zion, and high above all nations.
3. thanks be unto thy great and marvellous name, which is holy.
4. In the kingdom of this king is justice loved. Thou givest godliness; thou establishest judgment and righteousness in Jacob.
5. Exalt the LORD our God, worship at his footstool: for he is holy.
6. Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name: they cried unto the LORD, and he hearkened unto them.
7. He spake unto them by a pillar of cloud. They kept his testimonies and commandments which he gave them.
8. O LORD, thou art our God, thou hast heard them; thou, O God, hast forgiven them, and hast punished their doings:
9. Exalt the LORD our God, and worship in his holy mountain: for the LORD our God is holy: The 100th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's benefits.

1. a psalm of thanksgiving. Rejoice in the Lord, all the earth!
2. Serve the LORD with gladness; come before his face with joy.
3. Know ye that the LORD is GOD: he hath made us, and not we ourselves, his people, and sheep of his pasture.
4. Enter ye into his gates with thanksgiving, into his courts with praise: give thanks unto him, praise his name.
5. For the LORD is good, and his mercy endureth for ever, and his truth for ever.

The 101st Psalm (^)

David's Regency Mirror.

1. A psalm of David. Of grace and judgment will I sing, and praise thee, O LORD.
2. I will deal carefully and truly with them that are mine, and walk faithfully in my house.
3. I take no evil thing for myself. I hate the transgressor and will not let him stay with me.
4. A wicked heart must depart from me: I will not suffer the wicked.
5. He that slandereth his neighbour in secret, him will I destroy. I do not like him who is proud and bold.
6. Mine eyes are upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: and I delight to have godly servants.
7. I will not keep men in my house: liars do not prosper with me.
8. Early will I destroy all the wicked of the land, and cut off all the transgressors from the city of the LORD.

The 102nd Psalm (^)

Prayer of repentance for souls who are challenged and hungry for mercy.

1. A prayer of the wretched, when he is distressed, and poureth out his complaint before the Lord.
2. O Lord, hear my prayer, and let my cry come unto thee.
3. Hide not thy face from me in trouble: incline thine ear unto me: when I call upon thee, hear me quickly.
4. For my days are passed away like smoke, and my bones are burned up like a fire.
5. My heart is smitten, and withered like grass, that I also forget to eat my bread.
6. my bones cling to my flesh with weeping and groaning.
7. I am like a bittern in the wilderness; I am like an owl in the disturbed places.
8. I wake up and I am like a lonely bird on the roof.
9. Mine enemies reproach me daily; and they that mock me swear by me.
10. For I eat ashes as bread, and mix my drink with wines.
11. From thy wrath and from thy anger, because thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down to the ground.
12. My days are gone as a shadow; and I wither as grass.
13. But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever, and thy memorial for ever.

14. Arise, and have mercy on Zion: for the time is come for thee to have mercy upon her, and the hour is come.

15. For thy servants would gladly build her, and would gladly see her stones and her lime dressed;

16. That the heathen may fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth thy glory; 17. That the LORD should build Zion, and appear in his glory.

18. He turneth to the prayer of the forsaken, and spurneth not their prayer.

19. Let this be written in the generations to come: and the people that shall be created shall praise the LORD.

20. For he looketh from his holy height, and the LORD looketh from heaven to earth, 21. That he may hear the groaning of the prisoner, and loose the children of death, 22. That they might preach the name of the LORD in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem, 23. When the nations shall come together, and the kingdoms to serve the LORD.

24. He hath humbled my strength in the way; he hath shortened my days.

25. I say: My God, do not take me away in the half of my days! Your years shall last for and for.

26. Thou hast founded the earth before, and the heavens are the work of thy hands.

27. They will pass away, but you will remain. They shall all perish like a garment; they shall be changed like a garment, when thou shalt change them.

28. But thou remainest as thou art, and thy years have no end.

29. The children of thy servants shall abide, and their seed shall flourish before thee.

The 103rd Psalm (^)

Let God's goodness be praised.

1. a psalm of David. Praise the LORD, O my soul, and that which is within me, his holy name.

2. Praise the LORD, O my soul, and forget not the good things which he hath done thee, 3. Who forgiveth all thy sins, and healeth all thine infirmities, 4. Who redeemeth thy life from destruction, who crowneth

- thee with grace and mercy, 5. Who maketh thy mouth to rejoice, and thou shalt be young again as the eagle.
6. The LORD executeth righteousness and judgment unto all that are wronged.
7. He hath made known his ways unto Moses, and his doings unto the children of Israel.
8. Merciful and gracious is the LORD, patient, and of great kindness.
9. He shall not always be angry, nor hold wrath for ever.
10. He dealeth not with us according to our sins, neither recompenseth us according to our iniquities.
11. For as high as the heavens are above the earth, so he hath mercy on them that fear him.
12. As far as the morning is from the evening, let our transgression be from us.
13. As a father hath mercy on his children, so hath the LORD mercy on them that fear him.
14. For he knoweth what manner of things we are: he remembereth that we are dust.
15. A man in his life is as grass; he flourisheth as a flower of the field.
16. When the wind passeth over it, it is no more, neither knoweth it any more the place thereof.
17. But the mercy of the LORD endureth for ever upon them that fear him, and his righteousness upon the children of children.
18. In them that keep his covenant, and remember his commandments, to do them.
19. The LORD hath prepared his throne in heaven, and his kingdom ruleth over all.
20. Praise ye the LORD, O ye his angels, ye mighty men of valour, which do his commandment, that the voice of his word may be heard.
21. Praise ye the LORD, all ye his hosts, his servants, which do his will.
22. Praise the LORD, all his works, in all places of his dominion! Praise the LORD, my soul!

The 104th Psalm (^)

Praise God from the Book of Nature.

1. Praise the LORD, O my soul. O LORD my God, thou art very glorious; thou art beautifully and splendidly adorned.

2. Light is thy garment which thou hast put on. You spread out the sky like a carpet; 3. thou archest it above with water; thou goest upon the clouds as upon a chariot, and walkest upon the wings of the wind.

4. Who makest thine angels winds, and thy servants flames of fire;

5. Thou that layest the foundation of the earth upon his ground, that it may abide for ever and ever.

6. With the deep thou coverest it as with a garment, and waters stand upon the mountains.

7. But from thy rebuke they flee, from thy thunder they go away.

8. The mountains go up, and the broad places come down to the place which thou hast founded for them.

9. you have set a boundary, they do not come over it, and do not have to cover the ground again.

10. Thou hast caused wells to spring up in the valleys, and the waters to flow between the mountains,

11. That all the beasts of the field may drink, and that the beasts of the field may quench their thirst.

12. In the same sit the birds of the air, and sing under the branches.

13. Thou dost wet the mountains from above; thou makest the land full of fruit which thou makest.

14. Thou hast caused grass to grow for cattle, and seed for the use of men, to bring forth bread out of the ground,

15. And that the wine may gladden the heart of man, and that his form may be made beautiful with oil, and that the bread may strengthen the heart of man;

16. The trees of the LORD are full of sap, the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted.

17. There the birds make their nests, and the herons dwell in the fir trees.

18. the high mountains are the refuge of the chamois, and the clefts of the rabbits.

19. Thou makest the moon to divide the year after; the sun knoweth her going down.

20. Thou makest darkness, and night cometh; and all the wild beasts stir up, 21. The young lions that roar after the prey, and seek their meat from GOD.

22. But when the sun riseth, they lift themselves up, and lie down in their holes.
23. So man goeth forth to his work, and to his labour, until the even.
24. O LORD, how great and abundant are thy works! Thou hast wisely arranged them all, and the earth is full of thy goods.
25. The sea, which is so great and wide, teemeth without number, both beasts great and small.
26. There go the ships: there are whales which thou hast made to jest within.
27. All things wait for thee, that thou mayest give them meat in his season.
28. When thou givest unto them, they gather: when thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.
29. When thou hidest thy face, they are afraid; when thou takest away their breath, they perish, and return to dust.
30. Thou sendest forth thy breath, and they are made; and thou renewest the form of the earth.
31. The glory of the LORD is everlasting: the LORD is well pleased with his works.
32. He looketh upon the earth, and it quaketh: he toucheth the mountains, and they smoke.
33. I will sing unto the LORD all the days of my life, and praise my God as long as I live.
34. Let my speech please him. I rejoice in the LORD.
35. Let there be an end of sinners on earth, and let the wicked be no more! Praise the Lord, my soul! Hallelujah!

The 105th Psalm (^)

Short chronicle from Abraham to Joshua.

1. Give thanks unto the LORD, and preach his name; declare his doings among the nations;
2. Sing of him, and praise him; speak of all his wonders;
3. Praise his holy name; let the heart of them that seek the LORD rejoice.
4. Inquire ye of the LORD, and of his power; seek his face always.
5. Remember his wondrous works which he hath done, his miracles, and his word,
6. You, the seed of Abraham his servant, you children of Jacob, his chosen ones!

7. He is the LORD our God: he judgeth in all the earth.
8. He remembereth his covenant for ever, the word which he promised for many thousands to come and to go.
9. Which he made with Abraham, and of the oath with Isaac, 10. And established the same Jacob for a law, and Israel for an everlasting covenant.
11. And said, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance, 12. For they were few and poor, and strangers within.
13. And they went from nation to nation, from kingdom to kingdom.
14. He suffered no man to harm them, and punished kings for their sakes.
15. do not touch my anointed, and do not harm my prophets.
16. And he caused a famine to come into the land, and took away all the supply of bread.
17. And he sent a man before them; and Joseph was sold for a servant.
18. They constrained his feet in the stocks, and his body was made to lie in irons, 19. Till his word came, and the speech of the LORD purified him.
20. And the king sent, and loosed him: and the lord of nations loosed him.
21. And he made him lord of his house, and ruler over all his goods, 22. That he might instruct his princes after his manner, and teach his ancients wisdom.
23. And Israel went into Egypt, and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
24. And he increased his people greatly, and made them mightier than their enemies.
25. He turned away their hearts, so that they were angry with his people, and thought to subdue his servants with guile.
26. And he sent his servant Moses, Aaron, whom he had chosen.
27. These did his signs among them, and his wonders in the land of Ham.
28. He caused darkness to come, and made it dark; and were not disobedient to his words.
29. He turned their waters into blood, and killed their fish.
30. Their land swarmed with toads out of the chambers of their kings.
31. He said, There came vermin, lice, in all their borders.

32. He gave them hail for rain, flames of fire in their land;
 33. And he smote their vines and their fig trees, and brake the trees within their borders.
 34. And he said, There came locusts and beetles without number.
 35. And they did eat all the grass of their land, and did eat the fruit of their field.
 36. And smote all the firstborn in Egypt, all their firstborn heirs.
 37. And he brought them out with silver and gold; and there was not an infirm man among their tribes.
 38. And Egypt was glad that they went out: for their fear was fallen upon them.
 39. And he spread out a cloud for a covering, and a fire to shine by night.
 40. And they asked, and he sent for quails; and he filled them with bread from heaven.
 41. And he opened the rock, and waters flowed out, and streams ran in the dry wilderness.
 42. For he remembered his holy word, spoken unto Abraham his servant.
 43. So he brought forth his people with joy, and his elect with gladness.
 44. And gave them the lands of the heathen, that they might take the goods of the nations.
 45. That they might keep his statutes, and keep his judgments.
- Hallelujah!

The 106th Psalm (^)

God's good deeds shown to the Israelites. Great punishment of ingratitude.

1. Hallelujah! Give thanks unto the LORD: for he is good; and his mercy endureth for ever.
2. Who can utter the great deeds of the LORD, and praise all his praiseworthy works?
3. Blessed are they that keep the commandment, and do right continually.
4. Remember me, O LORD, according to the mercy which thou hast promised thy people: show us thy help,
5. That we may see the welfare of thine elect, and rejoice that it is well with thy people, and glory in thine inheritance.

6. We have sinned with our fathers; we have transgressed, we have been ungodly.

7. Our fathers in Egypt would not understand thy wonders; they remembered not thy great goodness, and were disobedient at the sea, even at the Red sea.

8. And he helped them for his name's sake, to shew forth his power.

9. And he rebuked the Red sea, and it was dry: and he led them through the deep as through a wilderness;

10. And delivered them out of the hand of him that hated them, and delivered them out of the hand of the enemy.

11. And the waters drowned their adversaries, that there remained not one.

12. And they believed his words, and sang his praises.

13. But they soon forgot his works; they waited not for his counsel.

14. And they lusted in the wilderness, and tempted GOD in the desert.

15. And he gave them their request, and sent them enough until they were disgusted with it.

16. And they rebelled against Moses in the camp, and against Aaron the holy one of the LORD.

17. And the earth arose, and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.

18. And fire was kindled among their company; and the flame burned up the wicked.

19. And they made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the graven image;

20. And changed their glory into the likeness of an ox eating grass.

21. They forgot God their Saviour, who had done so great things in Egypt, 22. wonders in the land of Ham, and terrible works at the Red sea.

23. And he said, He would destroy them, except Moses his elect had stayed the breach, to turn away his fury, that he might not destroy them.

24. And they despised the dear land; they believed not his word.

25. And murmured in their tents; they hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.

26. And he lifted up his hand against them, to smite them in the wilderness.

27. And cast their seed among the heathen, and scattered them abroad.

28. And they clave unto Baal the blood of their sons, and the blood of their daughters, which they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan; and the land was stained with blood; 29. And they provoked him to anger with their doings; and the plague was upon them.

30. And he came to Phinehas, and settled the matter, and the plague was stayed, 31. And it was counted unto him for righteousness for ever and ever.

32. And they provoked him to anger at the water of Hader; and they afflicted Moses.

33. For they grieved his heart, so that some words escaped from him.

34. Neither did they destroy the nations, as the LORD had commanded them, 35. But they mingled with the heathen, and learned the works thereof, 36. And served their idols, which were an offence unto them.

37. And they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils.

38. And they shed innocent blood, the blood of their sons and of their daughters, which they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan, so that the land was stained with blood; 39. And defiled themselves with their works, and fornicated with their doings.

40. And the anger of the LORD was kindled against his people, and abhorred his inheritance.

41. And delivered them into the hand of the heathen, that they might have dominion over them which were evil to them.

42. And their enemies affrighted them, and were humbled under their hands.

43. He saved them many times: but they provoked him to anger with their pride, and became few because of their iniquity.

44. And he looked upon their affliction, when he heard their lamentation, 45. And remembered his covenant made with them. And repented him according to his great goodness.

46. And made them come to mercy before all them that had taken them captives.

47. Help us, O LORD our God, and bring us together from among the nations, that we may give thanks to thy holy name, and praise thy praise.

48. Blessed be the LORD God of Israel for ever and ever: and let all the people say, Amen, alleluia.

The 107th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving to God for salvation from many hardships.

1. Give thanks unto the LORD: for he is good; and his mercy endureth for ever.

2. Say ye, ye that are redeemed by the LORD, whom he hath redeemed out of trouble.

3. And whom he hath gathered together out of the countries of the rising, and of the going down, and of the north, and of the sea;

4. Who wandered in the wilderness by the way of no man, and found no city to dwell in, 5. hungry and thirsty, and their soul languisheth;

6. And they cried unto the LORD in their affliction, and he delivered them out of their fears.

7. And led them in a right way, that they might go to the city where they dwelt: 8. They shall give thanks unto the LORD for his lovingkindness, and for his wondrous works which he doeth for the children of men,

9. To satisfy the thirsty soul, and to fill the hungry soul with good things.

10. Who were made to sit in darkness and in vanity, bound in constraint and in iron, 11. Because they had disobeyed the commandments of God, and had profaned the law of the Most High;

12. Therefore their heart was troubled with misery, because they lay there, and no man helped them;

13. And they cried unto the LORD in their affliction, and he saved them out of their fears.

14. And brought them out of darkness and gloom, and brake their bands: 15. They shall give thanks unto the LORD for his lovingkindness, and for his wondrous works which he doeth for the children of men,

16. To break the doors of brass, and to break the bars of iron.

17. The fools that were afflicted for their transgression, and for their sin, 18. And they were disgusted with all meat, and were sick unto death; 19. And they cried unto the LORD in their affliction, and he saved them out of their fears; 20. And he sent his word, and healed them, and saved them, that they died not: 21. They shall give thanks unto the LORD for his lovingkindness, and for his wondrous works which he doeth for the children of men,

22. and offer thanksgiving, and tell his works with gladness.
23. They that sailed in ships upon the sea, and did their trade in great waters; 24. Who have known the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the sea, 25. When he spake, and stirred up a tempest that lifted up the waves, 26. And they went up to heaven, and entered into the bottomless pit, and their souls were troubled for fear,
27. And they staggered and staggered like a drunken man, and knew not what to do; 28. And they cried unto the LORD in their affliction, and he brought them out of their fears.
29. And quieted the tempest, that the waves were subdued,
30. And they were glad when it was made quiet, and he brought them to land according to their desire:
31. They shall give thanks unto the LORD for his goodness, and for his wondrous works which he doeth for the children of men, 32. And glorify him among the congregation, and praise him among the ancients.
33. Those whose brooks were dried up, and whose fountains were dried up, 34. That a fruitful land yielded nothing because of the wickedness of them that dwelt therein; 35. And, again, he made the dry land full of water, and in the dry land springs of water; 36. And hath set the hungry to prepare a city to dwell in,
37. and sow the fields, and plant the vineyards, and reap the fruit thereof year by year; 38. And he blessed them, and they multiplied almost, and gave them much cattle; 39. Those who were oppressed and weakened by the evil one who had compelled and pressed upon them,
40. When contempt was heaped upon the princes, and all things were in error and desolate; 41. And he protected the poor from misery, and multiplied his seed as a flock.
42. The righteous shall see and rejoice: and all wickedness shall be shut up.
43. Who is wise, and keepeth these things? Then shall they know how many benefits the LORD hath bestowed.

The 108th Psalm (^)

David's thanksgiving and prayer for installation into the kingdom.

1. a psalm song of David.
2. God, I am in earnest; I will sing and write, my glory also.
Come, psalteries and harps! I will be up early.
4. I will give thee thanks, O LORD, among the nations; I will sing praise unto thee among the people.
5. For thy mercy reacheth as far as the heavens, and thy truth as far as the clouds go.
6. Exalt yourself, O God, above the heavens, and your glory above all the earth, 7. That thy dear friends may be done. Help with thy right hand, and hear me.
8. God speaketh in his sanctuary: I am glad, and will divide Shechem, and measure the valley of Shushoth.
9. Gilead is mine, Manasseh also is mine, and Ephraim is the power of my head; Judah is my prince,
10. Moab is my washing-pot; I will stretch out my shoe upon Edom; upon the Philistines will I exult.
11. Who will lead me into a strong city? Who will lead me to Edom?
12. Wilt thou not do it, O God, which hast cast us off, and wilt thou not go forth, O God, with our host?
13. give us help in trouble, for the help of men is of no avail.
14. With God we will do deeds. He will trample under our enemies.

The 109th Psalm (^)

Prophecy of Judas and the Jews committing unfaithfulness to Christ, and their curse.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung. God, my glory, do not be silent!
2. For they have opened their ungodly and false mouths against me, and have spoken against me with a false tongue.
3. And they speak evil against me in every place, and fight against me without a cause.
4. For that I love them, they are against me: but I pray.
5. they prove me evil for good, and hate for love.
6. Set the wicked over him; and let Satan stand at his right hand.
7. Whosoever shall be taught the same, that his life must be ungodly, and his prayer sin.
8. Let his days be few, and let another receive his office.
9. His children shall be orphans, and his wife a widow.

10. His children must go astray, begging and seeking, as those that are corrupt.
11. Let the usurer suck out all that he hath; and let strangers rob his goods.
12. And let no man do him good, neither let any man have pity on his fatherless.
13. His seed must be cut off; their name must be destroyed in the other generation.
14. Let his father's iniquity be remembered before the LORD, and let not his mother's sin be blotted out.
15. Let the LORD never take them out of his sight, and let their remembrance be cut off from the earth,
16. Because he had no mercy at all, but persecuted the wretched, and the poor, and him that was afflicted, to put him to death.
17. And he would have the curse, and it shall come upon him: but he would not have the blessing, and it shall be far from him.
18. And he put on the curse like his shirt; and it went into his inward parts like water, and like oil into his bones.
19. Let it be unto him as a garment to be put on, and as a girdle to be girded withal.
20. So be it done unto them of the LORD that are against me, and speak evil against my soul.
21. But thou, O Lord, be thou with me for thy name's sake: for thy mercy is my consolation: save me.
22. For I am poor and wretched; my heart is slain within me.
23. I pass away as a shadow that is driven away, and am chased away as the locusts.
24. My knees are weak from fasting; and my flesh is lean, and hath no fat.
25. And I must be their mockery: when they see me, they shake their heads.
26. Help me, O LORD my God; help me according to thy mercy,
27. That they may know that this is thy hand, that thou, O Lord, doest these things.
28. If they curse, bless thou. If they set themselves against me, they shall be put to shame: but let thy servant rejoice.

29. My adversaries must be clothed with shame, and be clothed with their shame as with a garment.

30. I will give great thanks unto the LORD with my mouth, and will praise him among many; 31. For he standeth at the right hand of the poor, to save him from them that condemn his life.

The 110th Psalm (^)

Prophecy of Christ our King, Prophet, and High Priest.

1. A psalm of David. The LORD said unto my LORD, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

2. The LORD shall send the scepter of thy kingdom out of Zion. Rule among your enemies!

3. After thy victory thy people shall willingly sacrifice unto thee in holy, adornment. Thy children shall be born unto thee as the dew out of the dawn.

4. The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent: thou art a priest for ever after the manner of Melchizedech.

5. The LORD at thy right hand shall smite kings in the time of his wrath.

6. He shall judge the nations; he shall do great slaughter; he shall bruise the head of great countries.

7. He shall drink of the brook by the way: therefore shall he lift up his head.

The 111th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's corporal and spiritual

One. Hallelujah! Blessing. I thank the Lord with all my heart in the council of the pious and in the congregation.

2. Great are the works of the LORD: he that regardeth them taketh pleasure in them.

3. That which he hath ordained is praiseworthy and glorious; and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4. He hath instituted a memorial of his wonders, the gracious and merciful LORD.

5. He giveth food unto them that fear him: he remembereth his covenant for ever.

6. He shall declare his mighty works unto his people, that he may give them the inheritance of the heathen.

7. The works of his hands are truth and judgment; all his commandments are righteous.

8. They shall be preserved for ever and ever, and shall be done faithfully and honestly.

9. He sendeth a salvation unto his people: he hath promised that his covenant shall endure for ever. Holy and holy is his name.

10. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: it is a subtle prudence: the praise of him that doeth it endureth for ever.

The 112th Psalm (^)

Of the godly quality and bliss.

1. Hallelujah! Blessed is he that feareth the LORD, that hath great delight in his commandments.

2. The seed shall be mighty in the earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

3. Riches and fullness shall be in their house, and their righteousness shall endure for ever.

4. To the upright there ariseth light in the darkness from him that is gracious, and merciful, and just.

5. Blessed is he that is merciful, and lendeth willingly, and judgeth his goods, that he do wrong to none.

6. For he shall abide for ever: the righteous shall never be forgotten.

7. If a plague come, he feareth not: his heart hopeth in the LORD without fear.

8. His heart is confident, and fears not, till he see his delight in his enemies.

9. He scattereth, and giveth to the poor: his righteousness endureth for ever: his horn is exalted with glory.

10. The wicked shall see it, and be grieved: he shall gnash his teeth, and perish. For what the wicked would have, that is lost.

The 113th Psalm (^)

God gives grace to the humble.

1. hallelujah! Praise, ye servants of the LORD, praise the name of the LORD!

2. Blessed be the name of the LORD from henceforth even for ever.

3. From the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same be the name of the LORD praised.

4. The LORD is high above all nations: his glory is as far as the heavens.

5. Who is like unto the LORD our God? Who hath set himself so high 6. And look upon the low things in heaven and in earth;
7. Who raiseth up the lowly out of the dust, and exalteth the poor out of the dung, 8. To set him beside the princes, beside the princes of his people; 9. Who maketh the barren to dwell in the house, that she may be a joyful mother of children.

Hallelujah!

The 114th Psalm (^)

From execution of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

1. When Israel came forth out of Egypt, the house of Jacob out of the strange nation, 2. Judah was his sanctuary, Israel his dominion.
3. The sea saw, and fled: Jordan turned back;
4. The mountains skipped like lambs, the hills like young sheep.
5. What was thine, O sea, that thou fledst? and thou Jordan, that thou turnedst back; 6. Ye mountains, that ye should leap like lambs; ye hills, like young sheep?
7. Before the LORD the earth worshippeth, before the God of Jacob, 8. Who changed the rock into a lake of water, and the stones into fountains of water.

The 115th Psalm (^)

Rejection of idolatry and idolatry

1. Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory for thy mercy and truth.
2. Why should the Gentiles say, Where is now their God?
3. But our God is in heaven; He can create what He wills.
4. And those idols are silver and gold, made with men's hands.
5. They have mouths, and speak not; they have eyes, and see not; 6. They have ears, and hear not; they have noses, and smell not; 7. They have hands, and they grasp not; they have feet, and they walk not, nor speak through their throats.
8. They that make them are like unto them, and all that hope in them.
9. But Israel hopeth in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
10. The house of Aaron hope in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.
11. They that fear the LORD hope also in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.

12. The LORD remembereth us, and blesseth us. He blesseth the house of Israel; he blesseth the house of Aaron;
13. He blesseth them that fear the LORD, both small and great.
14. May the Lord bless you more and more, you and your children.
15. Ye are the blessed of the LORD, which made heaven and earth.
16. The heavens are the LORD'S in every place: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.
17. The dead shall not praise thee, O LORD; neither they that go down into silence, 18. But we praise the LORD from henceforth even for ever. Hallelujah!

The 116th Psalm (^)

How to comfort and behave in the cross.

1. This is dear unto me, that the LORD heareth my voice and my supplications, 2. That he may incline his ear unto me: therefore will I call upon him all the days of my life.
3. The cords of death had compassed me about, and the fear of hell had come upon me: I came in distress and in trouble.
4. But I called upon the name of the LORD, O LORD, save my soul.
5. The LORD is gracious and just, and our God is merciful.
6. The LORD keepeth the simple. When I fall short, he helps me.
7. Now therefore be content again, my soul: for the LORD doeth good unto thee.
8. For thou hast plucked my soul out of death, mine eye from tears, my foot from slipping.
9. I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.
10. I think that's why I'm talking. I'm getting very harried, though.
11. I said in my anguish, All men are liars.
12. How shall I recompense the LORD for all his benefits which he doeth unto me?
13. I will take the cup of salvation, and will preach the name of the LORD.
14. I will pay my vows unto the LORD before all his people.
15. The death of his saints is accounted worthy in the sight of the LORD.
16. O LORD, I am thy servant; I am thy servant, the son of thine handmaid. Thou hast broken my bonds.
17. Unto thee will I offer thanksgiving, and preach the name of the LORD.

18. I will pay my vows unto the LORD before all his people,
19. In the courts of the house of the LORD, in thee, O Jerusalem.
Hallelujah!

The 117th Psalm (^)

Of the Messiah and his kingdom.

1. Praise the LORD, all ye nations; praise him, all ye peoples.
2. For his grace and truth are with us for ever and ever. Hallelujah!

The 118th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for the good deeds acquired through Christ's suffering.

1. Give thanks unto the LORD: for he is good; and his lovingkindness endureth for ever.
2. Now therefore say unto Israel, His goodness endureth.
3. Now therefore say unto the house of Aaron, His lovingkindness endureth for ever.
4. They therefore that fear the LORD say: His goodness endureth for ever.
5. In my anguish I called upon the LORD, and the LORD hearkened unto me, and comforted me.
6. The LORD is with me, therefore I will not fear: what can men do unto me?
7. The LORD is with me to help me: and I will see my delight in mine enemies.
8. It is good to trust in the LORD, and not to rely upon men.
9. It is good to trust in the LORD, and not to rely on princes.
10. All the heathen compass me about: but in the name of the LORD I will smite them.
11. They compass me about every where: but in the name of the LORD will I cut them down.
12. They surround me like bees, they dwell as a fire in thorns: but in the name of the LORD I will smite them.
13. They thrust me down, that I should fall: but the LORD help me.
14. The LORD is my power, and my psalm, and is my salvation.
15. They sing with joy of victory in the tabernacles of the righteous. The right hand of the Lord keeps the victory;
16. The right hand of the LORD is exalted; the right hand of the LORD retaineth the victory.
17. I will not die, but live, and declare the work of the LORD.

18. The LORD chasteneth me, but giveth me not away to death.
19. Open unto me the gates of righteousness, that I may enter therein, and give thanks unto the LORD.
20. This is the gate of the LORD: the righteous shall enter therein.
21. I thank thee that thou hast humbled me, and hast helped me.
22. The stone which the builders rejected became the corner stone.
23. This came to pass from the LORD, and is a wonder in our sight.
24. This is the day which the LORD maketh: let us rejoice and be glad in it.
25. O Lord, help, O Lord, make it prosperous!
26. Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the LORD. We bless you who are of the house of the LORD.
27. The LORD is God, which enlighteneth us. Adorn the feast with may to the horns of the altar; 28. Thou art my God, and I thank thee: my God, I will praise thee.
29. Give thanks unto the LORD: for he is good, and his mercy endureth for ever.

The 119th Psalm (^)

The Christians' golden ABC of the praise, love, power and benefit of the Word of God.

1. Blessed are they that walk without change, that walk in the law of the LORD.
2. Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, that seek him with all their heart.
3. For they that walk in his ways do no evil.
4. Thou hast commanded to keep thy precepts diligently.
5. O that my life would keep thy statutes with all earnestness!
6. If I look only unto thy commandments, I shall not be put to shame.
7. I thank thee with a right heart, because thou hast taught me the judgments of thy righteousness.
- 8 I will keep thy statutes: forsake me no more.
9. How shall a young man go his way blamelessly? If he keep thy words.
10. I seek thee with all my heart: let me not fail of thy commandments.
11. I will keep thy word in mine heart, that I sin not against thee.
12. Praise be to you, O Lord! Teach me your rights!
13. I will tell with my lips all the statutes of thy mouth.
14. I rejoice in the way of thy testimonies, as in all riches.

15. I will speak that which thou hast commanded, and look to thy ways.
16. I delight in thy rights, and forget not thy words.
17. Do good unto thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word.
18. Open mine eyes, that I may see the wonders of thy law.
19. I am a sojourner in the earth: hide not thy commandments from me.
20. My soul is crushed with desire for thy statutes at all times.
21. Thou reproachest the proud: cursed are they that lack thy commandments.
22. Turn from me reproach and contempt: for I hold thy testimonies.
23. The princes also sit and speak against me: but thy servant speaketh from thy right hand.
24. I delight in thy testimonies: they are my counsellors.
25. My soul lieth in the dust: quicken me according to thy word.
26. I tell my ways, and thou hearest me: teach me thy statutes.
27. Instruct me in the way of thy commandments, and I will speak of thy wonders.
28. I am grieved that my heart languisheth: strengthen me according to thy word.
29. turn from me the wrong way and grant me your law
30. I have chosen the way of truth; I have set thy statutes before me.
31. I hang upon thy testimonies: O Lord, let me not be put to shame.
32. If thou comfort my heart, I will walk in the way of thy commandments.
33. Show me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes, that I may keep them unto the end.
34. Instruct me, that I may keep thy law, and keep it with all my heart.
35. Lead me in the way of thy commandments: for I delight in them.
36. incline my heart to thy testimonies, and not to avarice.
37. Turn away mine eyes, that they look not after unprofitable doctrine: but refresh me in thy way.
38. Let thy servant keep thy commandment steadfastly unto thy word, that I may fear thee.
39. Turn away from me the reproach which I shun: for thy statutes are lovely.
40. Behold, I desire thy commandments; refresh me with thy righteousness.

41. O LORD, grant me thy mercy, thy help according to thy word,
42. That I may answer my blasphemer: for I trust in thy word.
43. And take not from my mouth the word of truth: for I hope in thy judgments.
44. I will keep thy law for ever and ever.
45. And I will walk cheerfully; for I seek thy precepts.
46. I speak of thy testimonies before kings, and am not ashamed; 47. And have delight in thy commandments, and are dear unto me;
48. And lift up my hands unto thy commandments which are dear unto me, and speak of thy statutes.
49. Remember thy servant thy word, in the which thou hast given me hope: 50. This is my consolation in my affliction: for thy word hath refreshed me.
51. The proud have their mockery upon me: nevertheless I depart not from thy law.
52. O LORD, when I remember how thou hast judged from the world, I am comforted.
53. I am enraged against the wicked who forsake thy law.
54. thy rights are my song in the house of my pilgrimage.
55. O LORD, I remember thy name by night, and keep thy law.
56. This is my treasure, that I keep thy commandments.
57. I have said, O LORD, this shall be mine inheritance, that I may keep thy ways.
58. I beseech thee before thy face with all my heart; be gracious unto me according to thy word.
59. I consider my ways, and turn my feet unto thy testimonies.
60. I will haste, and not be slow to keep thy commandments.
61. The wicked rob me: but I forget not thy law.
62. At midnight I rise to give thee thanks for the judgments of thy righteousness.
63. I cleave unto them that fear thee, and keep thy commandments.
64. O LORD, the earth is full of thy lovingkindness: teach me thy statutes.
65. Thou doest good unto thy servant, O LORD, according to thy word.
66. Teach me wholesome manners and knowledge; for I believe thy commandments.

67. Before I was humbled, I was in error; but now I keep thy word.
68. thou art kind and gracious: teach me thy statutes.
69. The proud invent lies against me: but I keep thy commandments with all my heart.
70: their heart is as thick as the sea; but I delight in thy law.
71. I am glad that thou hast humbled me, that I may learn thy statutes.
72: The law of thy mouth is dearer unto me than many thousand pieces of gold and silver.
73. thy hand hath made me and prepared me: instruct me, that I may learn thy commandments.
74. They that fear thee see me, and rejoice: for I hope in thy word.
75. O LORD, I know that thy judgments are right, and that thou hast humbled me faithfully.
76. let thy mercy be my consolation, as thou hast promised thy servant.
77: let thy mercy be upon me, that I may live: for I delight in thy law.
78. Oh that the proud might be put to shame, who oppress me with lies! But I speak of thy command.
79. Oh that those who fear thee and know thy testimonies would cleave to me!
80. Let my heart be established in thy statutes, that I be not put to shame.
81. My soul desireth thy salvation; I hope in thy word.
82. My eyes long for thy word, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?
83. for I am as a skin in the smoke; thy right hand do I not forget.
84. How long shall thy servant wait? When wilt thou execute judgment upon my persecutors?
85. the proud dig me pits that are not according to thy law.
86. Thy commandments are all truth. They persecute me with lies; help me!
87. They have almost killed me on the earth; but I will not forsake thy commands.
88. Restore me by thy grace, that I may keep the testimonies of thy mouth.
89. O LORD, thy word endureth for ever, as far as the heavens are; 90. Thy truth endureth for ever and ever. Thou hast prepared the earth, and it standeth still.
91. Remain daily according to thy word: for all things must serve thee.

92. If thy law had not been my consolation, I should have perished in my misery.
93. I will never forget thy commandments: for thou hast refreshed me with them.
94. I am thine, help me; for I seek thy orders.
95. the wicked wait for me, that they may destroy me: but I take heed to thy testimonies.
96. I have seen the end of all things: but thy commandment endureth.
97. How I love thy law! Daily I speak of it.
98. thou makest me wiser with thy commandment than mine enemies are: for it is mine treasure for ever.
99. I am more learned than all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my speech.
100. I am wiser than the ancients; for I keep thy commandments.
101. I will keep my foot from all evil ways, that I may keep thy word.
102. I will not depart from thy statutes: for thou teachest me.
103. Thy word is sweeter to my mouth than honey.
104. thy word maketh me wise: therefore hate I all false ways,
105. Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.
106. I swear, and will keep it, that I will keep the statutes of thy righteousness.
107. I am greatly humbled; O Lord, refresh me according to thy word.
108. Indulge thou, O LORD, the willing sacrifice of my mouth, and teach me thy statutes.
109. I carry my soul always in my hands, and I forget not thy law.
110. The wicked lay ropes for me: but I will not go astray from thy commandment.
111. Thy testimonies are my everlasting inheritance; for they are the delight of my heart.
112. I incline mine heart to do thy statutes for ever and ever.
113. I hate the fluttering spirits and love your law.
114. thou art my shield and buckler; I hope in thy word.
115. Depart from me, ye wicked ones; I will keep the commandments of my God.
116. Keep me by thy word, that I may live; and let not my hope fail me.
117. strengthen me that I may recover, and I will always delight in thy statutes.

118. Thou treadest down all them that lack thy right: for their deceit is vain falsehood.

119. Thou castest away all the wicked of the earth as dross: therefore do I love thy testimonies.

120. I am afraid of thee, and my skin shivers: I am afraid of thy right hand.

121. I am above justice and righteousness; do not hand me over to those who would do me violence!

122. Stand thou for thy servant, and comfort him, that the proud do me no violence.

123. My eyes long for your salvation and for the word of your righteousness.

124. deal with thy servant according to thy lovingkindness, and teach me thy statutes.

125.. I am thy servant: instruct me, that I may know thy testimonies.

126. It is time for the LORD to do it: they have broken thy law.

127. Therefore I love thy commandment above gold, and above fine gold.

128. Therefore I keep all thy commandments straightway; I hate all false ways.

129. Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my soul keep them.

130. When thy word is made manifest, it rejoiceth, and maketh wise the simple.

131. I will open my mouth, and desire thy commandments: for I desire them.

132. turn unto me, and be gracious unto me, as thou wilt do unto them that love thy name.

133. Let my walk be sure in thy word, and let no injustice rule over me.

134. Deliver me from the iniquities of men, and I will keep thy commandments.

135. Let thy face shine upon thy servant, and teach me thy statutes.

136. mine eyes run with water, that they keep not thy law.

137. O LORD, thou art just, and thy word is right.

138. Thou hast harshly commanded the testimonies of thy righteousness and the truth.

139. I have been almost jealous to death, so that my adversaries forget your words.

140. thy word is well purified, and thy servant loveth it.

141. I am lowly and despised, but I do not forget your command.

142. Your righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and your law is truth.

143. anguish and distress have afflicted me; but I delight in thy commandments.

144. The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting; instruct me, and I shall live.

145. I cry with all my heart; hear me, O LORD, that I may keep thy statutes.

146. I cry unto thee: help me that I may keep thy testimonies.

147. I come early and cry out; in thy word I hope.

148. I awake early to speak of thy word.

149. Hear my voice according to thy mercy; O LORD, refresh me according to thy statutes.

150. My wicked persecutors seek me, and are far from thy law.

151. Thou art near, O Lord, and thy commandments are all truth.

152. But before this I know that thou hast established thy testimonies for ever.

153. Behold my affliction, and deliver me: help me out, for I forget not thy law.

154. Lead my cause, and deliver me; refresh me with thy word.

155. Salvation is far from the wicked: for they respect not thy statutes.

156. O LORD, thy mercy is great: refresh me according to thy righteousness.

157. My persecutors and adversaries are many: but I depart not from thy testimonies.

158. I see the despisers, and woe is me that they keep not thy word.

159. Behold, I love thy commandments; O LORD, refresh me according to thy grace!

160. thy word is nothing but truth: all the statutes of thy righteousness endure for ever.

161. The princes persecute me without a cause, and my heart is afraid of thy words.

162. I rejoice in thy word as one that getteth a great spoil.

163. I am a lover of lies, and abhor them: but I love thy law.

164. I praise thee seven times a day for thy righteousness' sake.

165. great peace have they that love thy law, and shall not stumble.
166. O LORD, I wait for thy salvation, and do according to thy commandments.
167. My soul holdeth thy testimonies, and loveth them almost.
168. I will keep thy commandments and thy testimonies: for all my ways are before thee.
169. O Lord, let my complaint come before thee; instruct me according to thy word.
170. let my supplication come before thee; save me according to thy word.
171. my lips shall rave, when thou teachest me thy statutes.
172. My tongue shall have her conversation of thy word: for all thy commandments are right.
173. Let thy hand be with me: for I have fulfilled thy commandments.
174. O LORD, I desire thy salvation, and have delight in thy law.
175. Let my soul live, that it may praise thee; and let thy judgments help me.
176. I am like a sheep that is gone astray and lost: seek thy servant; for I forget not thy commandments.

The 120th Psalm (^)

Prayer against false teachers, slanderers and tyrants.

1. A song in the higher chorus. I cry unto the Lord in my trouble, and he heareth me.
2. O Lord, deliver my soul from the lying lips, and from the false tongues.
3. what can the wrong tongue do to you? and what can it do?
4. it is like sharp arrows of a strong man, like fire in junipers.
5. Woe is me, that I am a stranger among Meshech! I will dwell among the tents of Kedar.
6. It shall be long unto my soul to dwell with them that hate peace.
7. I keep peace; but when I speak, they make war.

The 121st Psalm (^)

God a keeper of men.

1. A song in the higher chorus. I lift up my eyes to the mountains, from which help comes to me.
2. My help cometh from the LORD, which made heaven and earth.

3. He shall not suffer thy foot to slip: and he that keepeth thee shall not sleep.

4. Behold, the keeper of Israel sleepeth not yet.

5. The LORD keep thee: the LORD is thy shadow over thy right hand, 6. That the sun sting thee not by day, nor the moon by night.

7. The LORD keep thee from all evil: he keep thy soul. Peor and ate of the sacrifices of the dead idols

8. The LORD keep thy going out, and thy coming in, from henceforth even for ever.

The 122nd Psalm (^)

Glory of the city of Jerusalem.

1. A song of David in the higher chorus. I rejoice in that which is spoken unto me, that we shall go into the house of the LORD,

2. And our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.

3. Is built that it may be a city, where men may come together,

4. When the tribes should go up, even the tribes of the LORD, to preach unto the people of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the LORD.

5. For there sit the seats of judgment, the seats of the house of David.

6. wish Jerusalem happiness. May it be well with those who love you!

7. Let there be peace within thy walls, and happiness in thy palaces.

8. For my brethren's sake, and for my friends' sake, I will wish thee peace.

9. For the sake of the house of the LORD our God, I will seek thy best.

The 123rd Psalm (^)

The pious condition and comfort.

1. a song in the higher chorus. I lift up mine eyes unto thee that sitteth in heaven.

2. Behold, as the eyes of servants look on the hands of their masters, as the eyes of maidservants on the hands of their wives; so our eyes look on the LORD our God, until he be gracious unto us.

3. Be gracious unto us, O LORD, be gracious unto us: for we are very full of contempt.

4. Very full is our soul of proud scorn, and of proud contempt.

The 124th Psalm (^)

God's help in time of need.

1. A song of David in the higher chorus. Where the Lord would not be with us, say Israel, 2. Where the Lord would not be with us if men set themselves against us, 3. So they devoured us alive, when their wrath was kindled against us, 4. So water drowned us, streams went over our souls;

5. Waters went too high over our souls.

6. Blessed be the LORD, because he giveth us no prey in their teeth.

7. Our soul is escaped as a bird from the captor's snare. The rope is broken and we are free.

8. Our help is in the name of the LORD, which made heaven and earth.

The 125th Psalm (^)

Hope does not let you be defeated.

1. A song in the higher chorus. They that hope in the LORD shall not fall, but shall abide for ever, as Mount Zion.

2. There are mountains round about Jerusalem: and the LORD is round about his people from henceforth even for ever.

3. For the sceptre of the wicked shall not abide upon the company of the righteous, lest the righteous stretch out their hand unto iniquity.

4. O Lord, do good to the good and devout in heart.

5. And the LORD shall drive away them that turn aside into their crooked ways with the transgressors. But peace be upon Israel!

The 126th Psalm (^)

The sadness of the pious shall be turned into joy.

A song in the higher chorus. When the Lord shall redeem the captives of Zion, we shall be as those who dream.

2. Then shall our mouth be full of laughter, and our tongue of praise.

Then shall they say among the heathen: The LORD hath done great things for them.

3. The LORD hath done great things for us: we rejoice.

4. O Lord, turn our prison, as thou dost dry the waters at noonday.

5. those who sow with tears will reap with joy.

6. They go and weep, and bear noble seed, and come with joy, and bring their sheaves.

The 127th Psalm (^)

Blessed stewardship and government.

1. A Song of Solomon in the higher chorus. Where the LORD buildeth not the house, they that build it labour in vain. Where the LORD keepeth not the city, the watchman watcheth in vain.
2. It is vain for you to rise up early, and afterward to sit down long, and to eat your bread with sorrow: for he giveth it to his friends sleeping.
3. Behold, children are a gift of the LORD, and the fruit of the womb is a gift.
4. As the arrows in the hand of a strong man, so do the young boys turn out.
5. Blessed is he that hath his quiver full of them. They shall not be put to shame, when they deal with their enemies in the gate.

The 128th Psalm (^)

Pious husband and wife's duty and blessing.

1. A song in the higher chorus. Blessed is he that feareth the LORD, and walketh in his ways!
2. Thou shalt feed thyself with the work of thine hands: prosper thou, thou hast prospered.
3. Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine round about thy house, thy children as the olive branches round about thy table.
4. Behold, thus is the man blessed that feareth the LORD.
5. The LORD shall bless thee out of Zion, and thou shalt see the happiness of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.
6. And see thy children's children. Peace upon Israel!

The 129th Psalm (^)

The church's victory against her enemies.

1. A song in the higher chorus. They have often urged me on from my youth, so say Israel;
2. They have often urged me from my youth; but they have not overpowered me.
3. the ploughmen have ploughed on my back and drawn their furrows long.
4. The LORD that is righteous hath cut off the cords of the wicked.
5. Alas, that all they that love Zion should be put to shame, and return!
6. Oh that they should be as the grass upon the housetops, which withereth before it be plucked up,
7. Of which the reaper filleth not his hand, nor the binder his arm full,
8. And they that pass by shall not say: The blessing of the LORD be upon you; we bless you in the name of the LORD.

The 130th Psalm (^)

Prayer for forgiveness of sins.

1. a song in the higher choir. From the depths I call to thee, O Lord.
2. O LORD, hear my voice; let thine ears be attentive unto the voice of my supplications.
3. If thou wilt, O LORD, impute sin, O LORD, who shall stand?
4. For with thee is forgiveness, that they may fear thee.
5. I wait for the LORD: my soul waiteth, and I hope in his word.
6. My soul waiteth for the LORD from morning watch to morning watch.
7. Israel hope in the LORD: for with the LORD is grace, and much salvation with him; 8. And he will redeem Israel from all their sins.

The 131st Psalm (^)

Mirror of humility. Abomination of arrogance.

1. A song of David in the higher chorus. O Lord, my heart is not proud, Nor mine eyes haughty, Nor walk in great things that are too high for me.
2. If I sat not down and nursed my soul, my soul was weaned, as one is weaned from his mother.
3. Israel hope in the LORD from henceforth even for ever.

The 132nd Psalm (^)

Prayer for the preservation of worship and secular government.

1. A song in the higher chorus. Remember, O Lord, David and all his sufferings, 2. Who swore unto the LORD, and vowed unto the mighty man of Jacob: 3. I will not go into the tabernacle of my house, neither will I lie down in the bed of my bed, 4. I will not let my eyes sleep, nor my eyelids slumber,
5. Till I find a place for the LORD; for a dwelling place unto the mighty one of Jacob.
6. Behold, we hear of her in Ephrathah; we have found her in the field of the forest.
7. We will enter into his tabernacle, and worship before his footstool.
8. Arise, O Lord, unto thy rest, thou and the ark of thy power.
9. Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy saints rejoice.
10. Take not away the rule of thine anointed for thy servant David's sake.

11. The LORD sware unto David a true oath: he will not turn from it: I will set the fruit of thy womb upon thy throne.
12. If thy children keep my covenant, and my testimony which I will teach them, their children also shall sit in thy throne for ever.
13. For the LORD hath chosen Zion, and hath pleased to dwell there.
14. This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell; for it is well with me.
15. I will bless their food, and give bread to their poor.
16. Their priests will I clothe with salvation, and their saints shall rejoice.
17. There shall the horn of David arise: I have prepared a lamp for mine anointed.
18. His enemies will I clothe with shame: but upon him shall his crown flourish.

The 133rd Psalm (^)

From the golden jewel of peace and harmony.

1. A song of David in the higher chorus. Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together!
2. As the precious balm which flowed down from the head of Aaron into all his beard, which flowed down into his garment,
3. As the dew that cometh down from Hermon upon mount Zion. For there the LORD promiseeth blessing and life for ever and ever.

The 134th Psalm (^)

Of the office of churchwardens.

1. A song in the higher choir. Behold, praise the LORD, all ye servants of the LORD, that stand by night in the house of the LORD.
2. Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and praise the LORD.
3. The LORD bless thee from Zion, which made heaven and earth!

The 135th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's benefits.

1. hallelujah! Praise the name of the LORD, praise, ye servants of the LORD, 2. Ye that stand in the house of the LORD, in the courts of the house of our God.
3. Praise ye the LORD: for the LORD is good: sing ye praises unto his name: for he is good.
4. For the LORD hath chosen Jacob for him, and Israel for his possession.

5. For I know that the LORD is great, and that he is our LORD above all gods.
6. Whatsoever he will, that doeth he, in heaven, in earth, in the sea, and in all deeps; 7. Who maketh the clouds to rise from the ends of the earth, who maketh the lightnings to rain, who maketh the wind to come out of secret places;
8. Who smote the firstborn in Egypt, both of men and cattle,
9. And sent his signs and wonders upon thee, O land of Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants;
10. Who smote many nations, and slew mighty kings,
11. The king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan; 12. And gave their land for an inheritance, for an inheritance unto his people Israel.
13. O LORD, thy name endureth for ever: thy memorial, O LORD, endureth for ever.
14. For the LORD will judge his people, and be gracious unto his servants.
15. The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, made with the hands of men.
16. They have mouths, and speak not; they have eyes, and see not; 17. They have ears, and hear not: neither is there breath in their mouth.
18. They that make such are like unto them, all they that hope for such.
19. Let the house of Israel praise the LORD. Praise the LORD, ye of the house of Aaron; 20. Ye of the house of Levi, praise the LORD: ye that fear the LORD, praise the LORD.
21. Blessed be the LORD of Zion, which dwelleth in Jerusalem.
Hallelujah!

The 136th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's goodness and miracles.

1. Give thanks unto the LORD: for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
2. Give thanks unto the God of all gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.
3. Give thanks unto the LORD of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.
4. For he alone doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.
5. Who hath made the heavens good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
6. Who hath spread the earth upon the face of the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever.

7. Who hath made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever;
8. The sun to preside over the day: for his mercy endureth for ever; 9.
The moon and the stars to preside over the night: for his mercy
endureth for ever.
10. He smote Egypt with their firstborn: for his mercy endureth for ever; 11. And brought Israel out: for his mercy endureth for ever;
12. By a mighty hand and an outstretched arm: for his mercy endureth for ever.
13. Who divided the Red sea into two parts: for his mercy endureth for ever; 14. And let Israel pass through: for his mercy endureth for ever.
15. Who thrust Pharaoh and his army into the Red sea: for his mercy
endureth for ever.
16. Who led his people through the wilderness: for his mercy endureth
for ever.
17. He smote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever;
18. And slew mighty kings: for his mercy endureth for ever;
19. Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever; 20. And Og king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth for ever;
21. And gave her land for an inheritance: for his mercy endureth for ever; 22. For an inheritance unto his servant Israel: for his mercy
endureth for ever.
23. For he remembered us when we were oppressed: for his mercy endureth for ever; 24. And delivered us from our enemies: for his mercy endureth for ever.
25. Who giveth meat unto all flesh: for his mercy endureth for ever.
26. Give thanks unto God from heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.

The 137th Psalm (^)

The captive Jews' lamentation song.

1. By the waters of Babel we sat and wept, when we remembered Zion.
2. We hanged our harps upon the willows that are within.
3. For there let them that held us captive sing unto us, and be merry in our crying: beloved, sing unto us a song of Zion.
4. How shall we sing the LORD'S song in a strange land?
5. If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand be forgotten.
6. Let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, where I remember thee not, where I let not Jerusalem be my chief delight.

7. Remember, O LORD, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem, which say, Cleanse off, cleanse off, even unto their floor.

8. Thou daughter of Babylon, that thou mayest be rewarded for what thou hast done unto us.

9. Blessed is he that taketh thy young children, and dasheth them to the stone!

The 138th Psalm (^)

Thanksgiving for God's goodness.

1. David's. I thank thee with all my heart: before the gods will I sing praise unto thee.

2. I will worship in thy holy temple, and give thanks unto thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy faithfulness: for thou hast magnified thy name above all things by thy word.

3. When I call upon thee, hear me, and give great strength unto my soul.

4. All the kings of the earth give thee thanks, O LORD, because they have heard the word of thy mouth,

5. And sing in the ways of the LORD, that the glory of the LORD may be great.

6. For the LORD is high, and looketh on the lowly, and knoweth the proud afar off.

7. When I walk in the midst of fear, thou hast refreshed me, and hast stretched out thine hand upon the wrath of mine enemies, and hast saved me with thy right hand.

8. The LORD will make an end of it for my sake. O Lord, thy lovingkindness is everlasting.

Thou wilt not leave the work of thy hands.

The 139th Psalm (^)

Of God's providence, omnipotence, and omnipresence.

1. A psalm of David, to be sung. O Lord, thou searchest me, and knowest me.

2. I sit, or rise up, thou knowest: thou understandest my thoughts afar off.

3. I walk, or lie down; thou art about me, and seest all my ways.

4. For, behold, there is not a word upon my tongue, which thou, LORD, knowest not all things.

5. Thou wilt do what I do before or after, and holdest thine hand over me.
6. Such knowledge is too strange and too high for me; I cannot understand it.
7. Whither shall I go before thy spirit, and whither shall I flee before thy face?
8. If I go to heaven, behold, thou art there. If I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there also.
9. If I took wings of the dawn, and abode by the uttermost sea,
10. Yet thine hand shall lead me there, and thy right hand shall hold me.
11. If I say, Let darkness cover me, the night also shall be light round about me; 12. For even darkness is not dark with thee, and the night shineth as the day: darkness is as the light.
13. For thou hast my kidneys in thy power: thou wast over me in my mother's womb.
14. I thank thee that I am marvellously made: marvellous are thy works, and my soul knoweth them.
15. My bones were not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, when I was formed in the lower parts of the earth.
16. Thine eyes saw me when I was yet unprepared, and all the days were written in thy book, which were yet to come, and there was none of them.
17. But how precious in my sight, O God, are your thoughts! How great is their sum!
18. If I were to count them, they would be more than the sand. When I wake, I'll still be with you.
19. O God, that thou wouldest slay the wicked, and that the bloodthirsty would depart from me!
20. For they speak blasphemy against thee, and thine enemies rise up without a cause.
21. I hate, O LORD, them that hate thee, and am turned away upon them, that they should set themselves against thee.
22. I hate them in a right earnestness; therefore they are an enemy unto me.

23. Search me, O God, and know my heart; test me and know how I mean; 24. And see if I be in an evil way, and guide me in an everlasting way.

The 140th Psalm (^)

Prayer for salvation from secret and public enemies.

1. a psalm of David, to be sung.

2. Deliver me, O LORD, from evil men: keep me from the wicked,

3. Who think evil in their hearts, and stir up war daily.

4. They sharpen their tongue like a serpent; adder's venom is under their lips. Sela.

5. Keep me, O LORD, from the hand of the wicked: keep me from the transgressors, that seek to overthrow my course.

6. The proud have spread me ropes for a net, and have set traps in my way. Sela.

7. But I say unto the LORD, Thou art my God: O LORD, hear the voice of my supplications.

8. O Lord, my strong help, thou shieldest my head in the time of battle.

9. O LORD, let not the wicked have his covetousness: strengthen not his indignation: they will rise up. Sela.

10. Let the calamities of which mine enemies counsel fall upon their heads.

11. He shall pour out rays upon them; he shall smite them with fire deep into the earth, and they shall never rise.

12. An evil mouth shall not prosper in the earth: a wicked man shall be cast out, and overthrown.

13. For I know that the LORD will execute the cause of the afflicted, and the judgment of the poor.

14. The righteous also shall give thanks unto thy name, and the upright shall abide before thy face.

The 141st Psalm (^)

Prayer for help and salvation.

1. a psalm of David. O LORD, I cry unto thee; make haste unto me; hear my voice when I call upon thee.

2. Let my prayer be accepted before thee as an incense, and the lifting up of my hands as an evening sacrifice.

3. O LORD, keep my mouth, and keep my lips.

4. Incline not mine heart unto any evil, to lead an ungodly life with the transgressors, that I eat not of that which is dear unto them.
5. The righteous smite me kindly, and punish me: it shall do me good as a balm upon my head.
For I pray always that they do me no hurt.
6. Their teachers must be overthrown upon a rock: then shall my doctrine be heard, that it may be sweet.
7. Our bones are scattered as far as hell, as one that scattereth and scattereth the earth.
8. For in thee, O Lord, do mine eyes look; I trust in thee: forsake not my soul.
9. Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and from the snare of the workers of iniquity.
10. The wicked must fall into their own net together, but I always pass by.

The 142nd Psalm (^)

David's prayer for help and salvation.

1. an instruction to David to pray, as he was in the cave.
2. I cry unto the LORD with my voice; I beseech the LORD with my voice; 3. I will pour out my speech before him, and show my affliction before him.
4. When my spirit is in anguish, thou takest care of me. They lay ropes for me in the way where I go up.
5. Look on thy right hand, and, behold, no man knoweth me. I cannot escape; no man taketh hold of my soul.
6. O LORD, unto thee do I cry, saying, Thou art my refuge, my portion in the land of the living.
7. Take heed to my lamentation, for I am greatly afflicted: deliver me from my persecutors, for they are too mighty for me.
8. Bring forth my soul out of the dungeon, that I may give thanks unto thy name. The righteous will gather to me, if you do me good.

The 143rd Psalm (^)

Prayer of repentance for the averting of evil and the attainment of good.

1. a psalm of David. Hear my prayer, O Lord; hear my supplication for thy truth's sake; hear me for thy righteousness' sake.

2. And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for there is none living that is righteous before thee.
3. For the enemy pursueth my soul, and destroyeth my life to the ground; he layeth me in darkness, as the dead in the world.
4. And my spirit is troubled within me; my heart is consumed in my flesh.
5. I remember the former times; I speak of all thy doings, and tell of the works of thy hands.
6. I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth for thee as a dry land. Sela.
7. Hear me, O LORD, quickly; my spirit is departed: hide not thy face from me, that I be not like them which go down to the pit.
8. Let me early hear thy mercy: for I hope in thee. Make known unto me the way wherein I shall go; For I long for thee.
9. Deliver me, O my God, from mine enemies: in thee have I refuge.
10. Teach me to do according to thy good pleasure: for thou art my God: let thy good spirit lead me in a straight path.
11. O LORD, quicken me for thy name's sake, bring my soul out of trouble for thy righteousness' sake;
12. And destroy mine enemies for thy lovingkindness' sake, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am thy servant.

The 144th Psalm (^)

Acknowledgement for received and request for future victory.

1. A psalm of David. Blessed be the LORD my stronghold, which teacheth my hands to fight, and my fists to war,
2. My goodness, and my fortress, my refuge, and my deliverer, my shield, in whom I trust, that compelleth my people under me.
3. O LORD, what is man, that thou art so mindful of him? and the child of man, that thou hast such regard for him?
4. Man is as nothing; his time passeth away like a shadow.
5. O LORD, incline thy heavens, and descend; touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.
6. Let thy lightning flash, and scatter them: shoot thy beams, and scatter them.
7. Send thine hand from on high, and deliver me, and deliver me from great waters, from the hand of strange children,

8. Whose doctrine is not profitable, and their works are false.
9. God, I will sing unto thee a new song; I will play unto thee upon the psaltery of ten strings.
10. Who givest victory unto kings, and deliverest thy servant David from the murderous sword of the wicked.
11. Deliver me also, and deliver me out of the hand of strange children, whose doctrine is not profitable, and whose works are false,
12. That our sons may grow up in their youth like plants, and our daughters like hewn out oriels, like palaces,
13. And our storehouses shall be full, which may give out one store after another; and our flocks shall bear a thousand and an hundred thousand in our villages;
14. That our oxen may work much: that there be no hurt, neither loss, nor complaint in our streets.
15. Blessed are the people, to whom it is so. But blessed are the people, whose God is the LORD!

The 145th Psalm (^)

Praise for the kingdom of Christ and its benefits.

1. praise of David. I will exalt thee, O my God, O king; I will praise thy name for ever and ever.
2. I will praise thee daily, and magnify thy name for ever and ever.
3. The LORD is great and very praiseworthy, and his greatness is unspeakable.
4. Children's children shall praise thy works, and shall speak of thy power.
5. I will speak of thy glorious and fair splendor, and of thy wonders, 6. That they should speak of thy glorious works, and that they should tell of thy glory, 7. That they may praise thy great goodness, and glorify thy righteousness.
8. Gracious and merciful is the LORD, patient, and of great kindness.
9. The LORD is good to all, and hath mercy on all his works.
10. Let all thy works give thee thanks, O LORD; and let thy saints praise thee.
11. And boast of the glory of thy kingdom, and speak of thy power, 12. That thy power may be made known unto the children of men, and the honourable majesty of thy kingdom.

13. Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth for ever.

14. The LORD upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all that are brought low.

15. All eyes wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in his season.

16. Thou openest thine hand, and fillest all that livest with good pleasure.

17. The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.

18. The LORD is near unto all them that call upon him, to all them that call upon him with earnestness.

19. He doeth that which the godly desire: he heareth their cry, and helpeth them.

20. The LORD keepeth all them that love him, and shall destroy all the wicked.

21. Let my mouth speak the praises of the LORD, and let all flesh praise his holy name for ever and ever.

The 146th Psalm (^)

Of true trust in God.

1. Hallelujah! Praise the Lord, my soul!

2. I will praise the LORD as long as I live, and sing praises unto my God because I am here.

3. Rely not on princes: they are men, they cannot help.

4. For the spirit of man must depart, and he must return to the ground: then are all his works lost.

5. Blessed is he whose help is the God of Jacob, whose hope is in the LORD his God,

6. Who made heaven, earth, sea, and all that is in them; whose faith endureth for ever; 7. He that doeth justice to them that suffer violence; he that feedeth the hungry. The LORD looseth the captives.

8. The LORD maketh the blind to see. The LORD raiseth up them that are downcast. The LORD loveth the righteous.

9. The LORD keepeth the stranger and the fatherless, and preserveth the widow; and turneth back the way of the wicked.

10. The LORD is King for ever, thy God, O Zion, for ever and ever.
Hallelujah!

The 147th Psalm (^)

Exhortation to give thanks for God's care and benefits.

1. Praise ye the LORD: for to praise our God is a precious thing: such praise is sweet and beautiful.

2. The LORD buildeth Jerusalem, and gathereth together the outcasts of Israel.

3. He healeth the brokenhearted, and bindeth up their sorrows.

4. He numbereth the stars, and calleth them all by name.

5. Our Lord is great, and of mighty power: and how he ruleth is incomprehensible.

6. The LORD judgeth the wretched, and castteth down the wicked.

7. Sing ye one to another with thanksgiving unto the LORD, and praise our God with harps, 8. Who covereth the heavens with clouds, and giveth rain upon the earth; who maketh grass to grow upon mountains;

9. Who giveth his food to the cattle, to the young ravens that call upon him.

10. He hath no pleasure in the strength of the horse, nor in the legs of any man.

11. The LORD is pleased with them that fear him, that hope in his goodness.

12. Praise, O Jerusalem, the LORD; praise, O Zion, thy God.

13. For he maketh strong the bars of thy gates, and blesseth thy children within.

14. He maketh peace within thy borders, and satisfieth thee with the best of wheat.

15. He sendeth forth his speech upon earth; his word runneth swiftly.

16. He giveth snow like wool, he scattereth hoar-frost like ashes.

17. He casteth out his locks like morsels: who can abide from his frost?

18. He speaketh, and it melteth: he maketh his wind to blow, and it thaweth.

19. He shewed his word unto Jacob, and his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.

20. He hath not done so unto any heathen, neither hath he made them know his statutes.

Hallelujah!

The 148th Psalm (^)

General exhortation to all creatures to praise God

1. hallelujah! Praise, ye heavens, the LORD; praise him in the highest!
2. Praise him, all his angels; praise him, all his host.
3. Praise him, sun and moon; praise him, all the shining stars!
4. Praise him, ye heavens on every side, and the waters that are above in the sky.
5. They shall praise the name of the LORD: for he giveth, and it shall be done.
6. He keepeth them for ever and ever: he ordaineth them, that they walk not otherwise.
7. Praise ye the LORD upon the earth, ye whales, and all the deeps; 8. fire, hail, snow, and vapor, tempestuous winds, which execute his word; 9. mountains and all hills, fruitful trees and all cedars;
10. beast, and all cattle, and vermin, and birds;
11. Ye kings of the earth, and all the people, and rulers, and all the judges of the earth; 12. young men and virgins, old men with young men
13. Let them praise the name of the LORD: for his name only is great: his praise goeth forth as far as heaven and earth.
14. And he exalteth the horn of his people. Let all his saints praise, the children of Israel, the people that serve him, alleluia!

The 149th Psalm (^)

Song of thanksgiving for the spread of the holy gospel of Christ.

1. Hallelujah! Sing to the Lord a new song! Let the congregation of the saints praise him.
2. Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be glad in their king.
3. They shall praise his name in song: with timbrels and harps shall they play unto him.
4. For the LORD is well pleased with his people: he helpeth the needy gloriously.
5. Let the saints be glad and praise and glory in their camps.
6. Their mouth shall exalt GOD, and shall have sharp swords in their hands, 7. To execute vengeance among the heathen, punishment among the nations, 8. To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron, 9. To do them the judgment that is written. Such glory shall all his saints have. Hallelujah!

The 150th Psalm (^)

Exhortation to the praise of God.

1. Hallelujah! Praise the Lord in his sanctuary; praise him in the firmament of his power!
2. Praise him in his deeds; praise him in his great glory.
3. Praise him with trumpets; praise him with psalteries and harps.
4. Praise him with timbrels and with music; praise him with strings and with pipes.
5. Praise him with barking cymbals; praise him with sounding cymbals.
6. Let every living thing praise the Lord! Hallelujah!

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Proverbs of Solomon (Proverbs) ^

Chapter 1

Whereby wisdom is attained or hindered.

1. These are the sayings of Solomon king of Israel, David's son, 2. to learn wisdom and discipline, understanding,
3. prudence, justice, right and wrong,
4. That the silly become witty, and the young men sensible and prudent.
5. He that is wise hearkeneth, and mendeth: and he that is understanding heareth counsel, 6. That he may hear the sayings and their interpretation, the doctrine of the wise and their examples.
7. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of learning. The wicked despise wisdom and discipline.
8. my child, obey your father's discipline and do not forsake your mother's commandment.
9. For these things are an ornament unto thy head, and a chain about thy neck.
10. My child, if the wicked lure thee, follow not.
11. When they say, Go with us; we will lie in wait for blood, and pursue the innocent without a cause;

12. We will swallow them up alive as hell, and the pious as they that go down to the pit; 13. We will find great goods; we will fill our houses with spoil; 14. Dare it with us; it shall be a bag of us all: 15. My child, walk not in the way with them; turn away thy foot from their path. 16. For their feet run to evil, and haste to shed blood. 17. For it is vain to cast the net before the eyes of the birds. 18. They also lie in wait among themselves for their blood, and seek one another's lives. 19. So do all the covetous, that one taketh another's life. 20. Wisdom complaineth without, and is heard in the streets. 21. She calleth in the door of the gate in the front among the people; she speaketh her words in the city: 22. How long will ye be foolish, and the scoffers delight in scoffing, and the reprobate hate the doctrine? 23. Return unto my punishment. Behold, I will speak my spirit unto you, and make known my words unto you. 24. Because I call, and ye refuse; I stretch forth my hand, and no man hearkeneth unto it, 25. And let all my counsel go, and be not willing of my punishment: 26. I will also laugh at your calamity, and mock you, when that cometh which ye fear, 27. When upon you cometh as a storm ye fear, and your calamity as a weather, when upon you cometh fear and trouble. 28. Then shall they call unto me, but I will not answer: they shall seek me early, and shall not find me. 29. Because they hated the doctrine, and would not have the fear of the LORD, 30. Were not willing of my counsel, and blasphemed all my punishment, 31. So shall they eat of the fruits of their being, and be satisfied with their counsel. 32. That which the foolish desire killeth them, and the wicked fortune destroyeth them. 33. But he that obeyeth me shall be safe, and shall have plenty, and shall fear no evil.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 2

Of learning wisdom.

1. My child, wilt thou accept my speech, and keep my commandments with thee?
2. Let thine ear be attentive to wisdom, and incline thine heart diligently unto it.
3. For if thou shalt diligently call for it, and pray for it,
4. If thou seek them as silver, and search them out as treasures, 5. Then thou shalt hear the fear of the LORD, and shalt find the knowledge of God.
6. For the LORD giveth wisdom, and out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.
7. He maketh the upright to prosper, and shieldeth the pious.
8. And keep them that do right, and keep the way of his saints.
9. Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and justice, and godliness, and every good way.
10. Where wisdom is in thy heart, that thou mayest gladly learn, 11. Good counsel shall preserve thee, and understanding shall keep thee,
12. That thou enter not into the way of the wicked, nor among perverse babblers, 13. Those who go out of the right way and walk in darkness,
14. Who delight to do evil, and are merry in their evil, perverse nature,
15. Who turn aside their way, and follow their way;
16. Lest thou fall in with another's wife, and she be not thine, which speaketh evil words.
17. Forsaking the Lord of their youth, and forgetting the covenant of their God; 18. For their house inclineth unto death, and their courses unto the lost; 19. All who enter into it do not return and do not take the way of life: 20. That thou mayest walk in a good way, and keep thee in the paths of righteousness.
21. For the righteous shall dwell in the land, and the upright shall dwell within; 22. But the wicked shall be cut off out of the land, and the reprobate shall be destroyed out of it.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 3

Exhortation to good works. Praise of wisdom.

1. My child, forget not my law, and let thy heart keep my commandments.

2. For they shall bring thee long life, and good years, and peace; 3. Grace and faithfulness shall not fail thee. Hang them on your neck and write them on the tablet of your heart,

4. Then you will find favor and wisdom pleasing to God and man.

5. Trust in the LORD with all thine heart, and lean not upon thine understanding; 6. But remember him in all thy ways, and he shall guide thee aright.

7. Thou shalt not be wise, but fear the LORD, and depart from evil.

8. This shall be health unto thy navel, and thy bones shall be refreshed.

9. Honour the LORD of thy substance, and of the firstfruits of all thy substance, 10. And thy barns shall be filled, and thy winepresses shall overflow with wine.

11. My child, do not reject the chastening of the Lord, and do not be impatient with His punishment!

12. For whom the LORD loveth he punisheth, and is well pleased with him, as a father with his son.

13. Blessed is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.

14. For it is better to handle them, neither to handle silver; and their revenue is better than gold.

15. She is more precious than pearls; and all that thou mayest desire is not like her.

16. Long life is at her right hand; at her left hand are riches and honour.

17. Her ways are pleasant ways, and all her paths are peace.

18. It is a tree of life unto all them that lay hold upon it: and blessed are they that keep it.

19. For the LORD by wisdom hath founded the earth, and by his counsel hath prepared the heavens.

20. By his wisdom the deeps are divided, and the clouds are made dripping with dew.

21. My child, let them not depart from thine eyes, and thou shalt be blessed and wise.

22. This shall be the life of thy soul, and thy mouth shall be glad.

23. Then shalt thou walk safely in thy way, and thy foot shall not stumble. .

24. When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid, but shalt sleep sweetly, 25. That thou shalt not be afraid of sudden terror, nor of the tempest of the wicked, when it cometh.
26. For the LORD is thy stoutness: he keepeth thy foot, that it be not taken.
27. Refuse not to do good to the needy, if thy hand hath from God to do it.
28. Say not unto thy friend, Go thy way, and come again; to morrow will I give thee, if thou be well pleased.
29. Seek not evil against thy friend, which dwelleth with thee in faithfulness.
30. Be not grieved with any without a cause, if he hath not wronged thee.
31. Be not eager after any iniquity, neither choose his ways.
32. For the LORD hath abhorred of the transgressor, and his secret is with the upright.
33. In the house of the wicked is the curse of the LORD: but the house of the righteous shall be blessed.
34. He will mock the scoffers; but he will give mercy to the wretched.
35. The wise shall inherit honour: but when fools come up, they are put to shame.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 4

Opportunity to sin is to be avoided.

1. Hearken, my children, unto the discipline of your father; take heed that ye learn and become wise.
2. For I give you good doctrine: forsake not my law.
3. For I was my father's son, a tender and a few before my mother, 4. And he taught me, saying, Let thine heart receive my words; keep my commandments, and thou shalt live.
5. Increase in wisdom, increase in understanding; forget not, and depart not from the speech of my mouth.
6. Forsake her not, and she shall keep thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.
7. For the beginning of wisdom is to hear gladly, and to have prudence rather than all goods.

8. Esteem her highly, and she shall exalt thee; and she shall make thee honourable where thou hearest her.
9. She shall beautifully adorn thy head, and shall adorn thee with a fair crown.
10. Hear therefore, my child, and receive my words, and thy years shall be many.
11. I will lead thee in the way of wisdom; I will guide thee in the paths of righteousness, 12. That when thou walkest, thy walk be not sore unto thee; and when thou runnest, that thou bump not against thyself.
13. Take hold of discipline, leave it not: keep it, for it is thy life.
14. Come not into the path of the wicked, neither tread thou in the way of the evil.
15. Let him go, and go not in: depart from him, and pass by.
16. For they sleep not, because they have done evil: neither do they rest, because they have done evil.
17. For they feed on ungodly bread, and drink of the wine of iniquity.
18. But the path of the righteous shineth as the light that goeth forth, and shineth unto the full day.
19. But the way of the wicked is as darkness, and they know not whither they shall fall.
20. My son, hearken unto my word, and incline thine ear unto my speech.
21. Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in thine heart.
22. For they are life to them that find them, and health to their whole body.
23. Take heed to thine heart with all diligence: for out of it cometh life.
24. Put away from thee the perverse mouth, and let the blasphemer be far from thee.
25. Let thine eyes look straight before thee, and let thine eyelids look right before thee.
26. Let thy foot go straight before thee, and thou shalt surely go.
27. Wilt thou not turn to the right hand, nor to the left: turn thy foot from evil.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 5

Warning against fornication. Exhortation to chastity.

1. My child, take heed to my wisdom; incline thine ear unto my doctrine, 2. That thou mayest keep good counsel, and that thy mouth may know the difference.

3. For the lips of the harlot are sweet as honeycomb, and her throat is smoother than oil, 4. But afterwards bitter as wormwood, and sharp as a twoedged sword.

5. their feet run down to death, their corridors attain hell.

6. She walketh not straight in the way of life: her footsteps are unsteady, that she knoweth not where she prayeth.

7. Obey me therefore, my children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8. Let thy ways be far from her, and not nigh unto the door of her house, 9. That thou givest not thine honour to strangers, nor thy years to the cruel, 10. Lest strangers fill themselves with thy substance, and thy labour be not in another man's house,

11. And afterward thou shalt groan, when thou hast consumed thy body and thy substance, 12. And say: Alas, how I have hated discipline, and my heart hated punishment, 13. And I have not hearkened unto the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear unto them that taught me.

14. I am come almost to all mischief in the sight of all people, and in the sight of all the nation.

15. Drink water out of thy pit, and rivers out of thy well.

16. Let thy fountains flow forth, and the rivers of water upon the streets.

17. But have them alone, and no stranger with thee.

18. Bless thy spring, and rejoice in the wife of thy youth.

19. She is as sweet as a hind, and as lovely as a deer. Let her love satisfy thee at all times, And rejoice in her love for ever.

20. My child, why wilt thou delight thyself in a stranger, and be in love with another?

21. For every man's ways are straight before the LORD, and he hath utterly rejected all their courses.

22. The iniquity of the wicked shall take him, and he shall be held with the snare of his sin.

23. He shall die, because he will not be drawn: and for his great folly it shall not be well with him.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 6

Warning against infidelity in trade.

1. My child, become thou surety for thy neighbour, and have thine hand arrested with a stranger, 2. so thou art bound with the speech of thy, mouth, and captive with the speeches of thy mouth.
3. Do thou therefore, my child, and save thyself: for thou art come into thy neighbour's hand: make haste, press, and drive thy neighbour.
4. Let not thine eyes sleep, nor let thine eyelids slumber.
5. Deliver thee as a deer from the hand, and as a bird from the hand of the vulture.
6. Go unto the ant, thou sluggard, behold her ways, and learn.
7. Whether she have no prince, nor captain, nor lord,
8. For she maketh her bread in summer, and gathereth her meat in harvest.
9. How long have you been lying there, lazy one? When wilt thou rise from thy sleep?
10. Yea, sleep yet a little, slumber a little, clasp thy hands together a little, that thou mayest sleep,
11. Then poverty shall overtake thee as a footman, and want as a man armed.
12. A loose man, an evil man, prayeth with a perverse mouth,
13. Beckon with eyes, point with feet, point with fingers,
- 14: Seeketh always evil and perverseness in his heart, and maketh strife.
15. Therefore his accident shall come upon him suddenly, and shall be broken fast, that there shall be no help.
16. These six things hateth the LORD: and in the seventh he abhorreth:
17. High eyes, false tongues, hands that shed innocent blood;
18. heart, which dealeth wickedly; feet, which are nimble to do hurt;
19. False witness, one that speaketh lies boldly, and that causeth strife between brethren.
20. My child, keep the commandments of your father, and do not forsake the law of your mother.
21. Bind them together upon thy heart every way, and hang them upon thy neck: 22. When thou walkest, that they may guide thee; when thou liest down, that they may preserve thee; when thou awakest, that they may be thy conversation.

23. For the commandment is a lamp, and the law a light: and the chastening of correction is a way of life,

24. That thou mayest be preserved from the wicked woman, from the smooth tongue of strangers.

25. Let not their beauty lusteth in thine heart, neither be thou offended at their eyelids.

26. For a harlot depriveth a man of his bread: but a wife feedeth the noble life.

27. Can any man also keep a fire in his bosom, that his garments burn not?

28. How shall a man walk upon coals, that his feet be not burned?

29. So goeth he that toucheth his neighbour's wife: there is none unpunished that toucheth her.

30. It is not so great a reproach to a thief, if he steal, to satisfy his soul, because he hunger.

31. And if he be understood, he shall restore it sevenfold, and lay up all the substance of his house.

32. But he that committeth adultery with a woman is a fool: he bringeth his life to destruction.

33. And he shall be plagued with shame, and his reproach shall not be blotted out.

34. For the wrath of man is fierce, and spareth not in the time of vengeance.

35. And looketh not on any person to make reconciliation, and receiveth not, whether thou wilt give much.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 7

Description of adultery and warning against it.

1. My child, keep my speech, and hide my commandments from you.

2. Keep my commandments, and thou shalt live; and keep my law as the apple of thine eye.

3. Put them on your fingers, write them on the tablet of your heart!

4. Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call prudence thy friend, 5. That thou mayest be preserved from a strange woman, from another that speaketh evil words.

6. For at the window of my house I looked through the lattice, and saw among the silly ones 7. And perceived among the children a foolish youth,
8. Who walked in the street at a corner, and therefore stood in the way at her house, 9. At twilight, in the evening of the day, when it was night and dark.
10. And, behold, there met him a woman in whoredom, crafty,
11. Wild and unruly, that their feet cannot abide in their house.
12. Now she's out, now in the alley, lurking on every corner.
13. And caught him, and kissed him brazenly, and said unto him: 14. I have paid peace offerings for myself this day, for my vows.
15. Therefore I went out to meet thee, to seek thy face early, and found thee.
16. I have beautifully decorated my bed with colorful carpets from Egypt.
17. I have sprinkled my camp with myrrh, and with aloes, and with the name of tin.
18. Come, let us strive enough until the morning, and let us cultivate love; 19. For the man is not at home, he has gone a far way;
20. He has taken the money bag with him; he will not come home until the feast.
21. She persuaded him with many words, and won him in with her smooth mouth.
22. He followed her straightway, as an ox is led to a meat-box, and as to a fetter, where fools are chastened,
23. Till she split his liver with the arrow, as a bird hasteth to the rope, and knoweth not that life is for him.
24. Obey me therefore, my children, and hearken unto the words of my mouth.
25. Let not thine heart be turned aside into their way, neither let thine heart be deceived into their paths.
26. For she hath wounded and killed many, and all mighty men are slain by her.
27. Her house are ways to hell, where one goeth down into the chamber of death.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 8

Of the essential wisdom, the Son of God,

1. Crieth not wisdom, and prudence is heard?
2. it stands publicly by the way and by the street.
3. At the gates of the city, as one entereth in at the door, she crieth out:
4. O ye men, I cry unto you, and call unto the people!
5. Mark, ye foolish, the wit; and ye fools, take it to heart.
6. Harken, for I will speak that which is princely, and teach that which is right.
7. For my mouth shall speak truth, and my lips shall hate that which is ungodly.
8. All the words of my mouth are righteous; there is nothing perverse or false in them.
9. They are all alike to them that hear it, and right to them that will receive it.
10. Take my discipline rather than silver, and esteem the doctrine above precious gold.
11. For wisdom is better than pearls, and all that may be desired cannot equal it.
12. I, Wisdom, dwell with the wit, and I know good counsel to give.
13. The fear of the LORD hateth evil, and pride, and arrogance, and the wicked way: and I am an enemy to the perverse mouth.
14. Both counsel and action are mine; I have understanding and might.
15. by me kings reign, and the aldermen establish justice.
16. By me the princes and all the rulers of the earth reign.
17. I love them that love me: and they that seek me early shall find me.
18. Riches and honour are with me, verily good and righteousness.
19. My fruit is better than gold and fine gold, and my revenue than choice silver.
20. I walk in the right way, in the highway of justice,
21. That I may counsel well them that love me, and fill up their treasures.
22. The LORD had me in the beginning of his ways; before he made any thing, I was there.
23. I am appointed from everlasting, from the beginning before the earth.
24. Since the deeps were not yet, I was already prepared, because the fountains were not yet welling with water,

25. Before the mountains were lowered, before the hills was I prepared.

26. He had not yet made the earth, nor the things that are therein, nor the mountains of the ground.

27. When he prepared the heavens, there was I: when he compassed the deep with his purpose, 28. When he made firm the clouds above, when he made firm the fountains of the deep, 29. When he set the purpose of the sea, and of the waters, that they should not transgress his commandment, when he laid the foundation of the earth: 30. Then was I the master of his work, and had my pleasure daily, and played before him always.

31. And played upon his ground; and my delight is with the children of men.

32. Obey me therefore, my children! Blessed are they who keep my ways!

33. Hearken unto the discipline, and be wise, and let it not go.

34. Blessed is the man that obeyeth me, that he watcheth at my door daily, that he waiteth at the posts of my door.

35. He that findeth me findeth life, and shall be well pleased of the LORD.

36. But whosoever sinneth against me hurteth his soul. All who hate me love death.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 9

From the wisdom of friendly invitation.

1. Wisdom built her house, and hewed seven pillars,

2. Slaughtered their cattle, and brought up their wine, and prepared their table.

3. And sent forth their harlots to charge the tops of the palaces of the city: 4. Let him that is foolish come hither. And to the fool she said: 5. Come, feed on my bread, and drink of the wine which I give.

6. Forsake the foolish things, and ye shall live; and walk in the way of understanding.

7. He that chastiseth the scorner shall be put to shame: and he that chastiseth the wicked shall be put to scorn.

8. Punish not the scoffer, he hateth thee: punish the wise, he shall love thee.
9. Give unto the wise, and he shall be yet wiser: teach the righteous, and he shall increase in doctrine.
10. The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and understanding teacheth that which is holy.
11. For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.
12. If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise unto thyself: if thou be a scoffer, thou shalt bear it alone.
13. But she is a foolish woman, a wild woman, full of babbling, and knoweth nothing; 14. Who sitteth in the door of her house upon the chair, up in the city, 15. To invite all who pass by and walk right in their ways.
16. He that is foolish, let him come hither. And to the fool she saith: 17. the hidden waters are sweet and the hidden bread is cute.
18. But he knoweth not that there are dead men there, and that their guests are in the depths of hell.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 10

Of justice.

1. These are the sayings of Solomon. A wise son is his father's delight: but a foolish son is his mother's grief.
2. Unrighteousness profiteth not: but righteousness delivereth from death.
3. The LORD suffereth not the soul of the righteous to hunger: but he overthroweth the oppression of the wicked.
4. The lazy hand maketh poor: but the diligent hand maketh rich.
5. He that gathereth in summer is wise: but he that sleepeth in harvest is put to shame.
6. The blessing is upon the head of the righteous: but the mouth of the wicked shall be overtaken with their iniquity.
7. The memory of the righteous remaineth in blessing: but the name of the wicked shall rot.
8. He that is wise in heart receiveth the commandments: but he that hath a fool's mouth shall be smitten.

9. He that liveth innocently liveth safely: but he that is perverse in his ways shall be made manifest.
10. He that winketh with his eyes shall be troubled: and he that hath a fool's mouth shall be smitten.
11. The mouth of the righteous is a living fountain: but the mouth of the wicked shall be overtaken with their iniquities.
12. Hatred causeth strife: but love covereth all transgressions.
13. In the lips of the prudent is wisdom: but upon the back of the fool is a rod.
14. The wise keep the doctrine: but the mouth of fools is nigh unto terror.
15. The rich man's good is his strong city: but poverty maketh the poor foolish,
16. The righteous have need of his substance to live: but the wicked have need of his substance to sin.
17. To keep discipline is the way to life: but he that forsaketh punishment, the same goeth astray.
18. False mouths cover hatred: and he that slandereth is a fool.
19. Where words are many, there is no sin: but he that keepeth his lips is wise.
20. The tongue of the righteous is silver, but the heart of the wicked is nothing.
21. The lips of the righteous feed many: but fools shall die in their folly.
22. The blessing of the LORD maketh rich without trouble.
23. A fool doeth wickedness, and hath his mockery: but the man is wise that heareth it.
24. That which the wicked feareth shall come upon him: and that which the righteous desireth shall be given unto them.
25. The wicked is as the weather, which passeth away, and is no more: but the righteous endureth for ever.
26. As vinegar is to the teeth, and smoke to the eyes, so doth the sluggard to them that send him.
27. The fear of the LORD increaseth days: but the years of the wicked are shortened.
28. The waiting of the righteous shall be joy: but the hope of the wicked shall be lost.

29. The way of the LORD is the stouthearted: but the transgressors are foolish.

30. The righteous shall never be overthrown: but the wicked shall not abide in the land.

31. The mouth of the righteous bringeth wisdom: but the mouth of the perverse is cut off.

32. The lips of the righteous teach wholesome things: but the mouth of the wicked is perverse.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 11

More distant doctrine of justice, its benefits and obstacles.

1. False scales are an abomination unto the LORD: but a perfect weight is his delight.

2. Where pride is, there is shame: but wisdom is with the humble.

3. innocence shall guide the pious; but wickedness shall disturb the scornful.

4. Good helpeth not in the day of wrath: but righteousness delivereth from death.

5. The righteousness of the upright maketh his way straight: but the wicked shall fall by his wickedness.

6. The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: but the scornful shall be snared in their wickedness.

7. When the wicked man dieth, hope is lost; and the waiting of the unrighteous is brought to nought.

8. The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked is put in his place.

9. By the mouth of the hypocrite his neighbour is destroyed: but the righteous know it, and are saved.

10. A city rejoiceth when the righteous prosper: and when the wicked perish, it is glad.

11. By the blessing of the upright a city is exalted: but by the mouth of the wicked it is broken down.

12. He that dishonoureth his neighbour is a fool: but a man that hath understanding quieteth it.

13. A slanderer betrayeth that which he knoweth secretly: but he that is of a faithful heart hideth the same.

14. Where there is no counsel, the people perish: but where there is much counsel, the people prosper.
15. He that is a surety for another shall be in danger: but he that isware of vows is safe.
16. A fair woman receiveth honour: but tyrants receive riches.
17. A merciful man doeth good to his body: but an unmerciful man grieveth also his flesh and blood.
18. The work of the wicked shall fail: but he that soweth righteousness is surely good.
19. For righteousness increaseth unto life: but to pursue after evil increaseth unto death.
20. The LORD hath abhorred of the perverse in heart, and is well pleased with the upright.
21. Though they put all their hands together, it profiteth not the wicked: but the seed of the righteous shall be saved.
22. A fair woman without breeding is like a sow with a golden headband.
23. The desire of the righteous is a good thing: but the hope of the wicked is a calamity.
24. One distributeth, and hath more and more: another spareth, when he ought not, and yet becometh poorer.
25. The soul that blesseth abundantly becometh fat: and he that maketh drunk shall be drunken.
26. He that keepeth corn, men curse him: but blessing cometh upon him that selleth it.
27. To him that seeketh good things shall good things come: but to him that seeketh evil things shall evil things come.
28. He that trusteth in his riches shall perish: but the righteous shall flourish like a leaf.
29. He that grieveth his own house shall have wind for an inheritance: and a fool shall be the servant of a wise man.
30. The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life: and a wise man taketh heartily to his people.
31. If the righteous suffer on earth, how much more the wicked and the sinner!

(Proverbs)

Chapter 12

Useful rules of life and sayings.

1. He that loveth to be punished shall be wise: but he that loveth to be unpunished shall be a fool.
2. He that is pious receiveth comfort from the LORD: but a reprobate condemneth himself.
3. An ungodly man shall not prosper: but the root of the righteous shall abide.
4. A diligent woman is a crown to her husband: but an un-diligent woman is a pus in his bones.
5. The thoughts of the righteous are upright: but the devices of the wicked are deceitfulness.
6. The preaching of the wicked maketh bloodshed: but the mouth of the upright delivereth.
7. The wicked shall be overthrown, and shall be no more: but the house of the righteous shall stand.
8. The counsel of a wise man is praised: but the wiles are put to shame.
9. He that is little, and waiteth for his own, is better than he that is great, who lacketh bread.
10. The righteous have mercy on their cattle: but the heart of the wicked is unmerciful.
11. He that tilleth his field shall have bread in abundance: but he that followeth after vain things is a fool.
12. The pleasure of the wicked is to do hurt: but the root of the righteous shall bring forth fruit.
13. The wicked is taken in his own false words: but the righteous escapeth from fear.
14. Much good cometh by the fruit of the mouth: and a man is recompensed according to the merit of his hands.
15. A fool's way is pleasing: but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise.
16. A fool showeth his wrath quickly: but he that bringeth shame is witty.
17. He that is true speaketh freely what is right: but a false witness deceiveth.
18. He that goeth forth carelessly stingeth as a sword: but the tongue of the wise is healing.

19. A true mouth endureth for ever: but a false tongue endureth not long.
20. They that counsel evil deceive: but they that counsel peace make glad.
21. There shall be no hurt to the righteous: but the wicked shall be full of trouble.
22. False mouths are an abomination unto the LORD: but they that do faithfully please him.
23. A man of wit pretendeth not wisdom: but the heart of fools calleth out his foolishness.
24. The diligent hand shall rule: but he that is lax shall bear interest.
25. Care in the heart grieveth; but a kind word rejoiceth.
26. The righteous is better than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked deceiveth them.
27. A slack man's trade profiteth him not: but an industrious man shall be rich.
28. In the right way is life, and in the path that is made straight there is no death.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 13

Distant Rules of Life.

1. A wise son suffereth his father to chasten him: but a scoffer obeyeth not the chastisement.
2. The fruit of the mouth is enjoyed; but the despisers think only to do wrong.
3. He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that goeth out with his mouth cometh to terror.
4. The lazy man desireth, and getteth not: but the diligent getteth enough.
5. The righteous is an enemy to falsehood: but the wicked profaneth and reproacheth himself.
6. Righteousness keepeth the innocent: but ungodliness bringeth one to sin.
7. Some are poor by great goods; and some are rich by their poverty.
8. With riches a man may save his life: but a poor man heareth not rebuke.

9. The light of the righteous maketh glad: but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
10. Among the proud there is always strife: but wisdom maketh wise men.
11. Wealth is little where it is wasted: but that which is gathered together is great.
12. Hope consumeth the heart: but when it cometh to be desired, it is a tree of life.
13. He that despiseth the word corrupteth himself: but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.
14. the teaching of the wise is a living fountain, to avoid the snares of death.
15. Good counsel doeth good: but the way of the scornful bringeth woe.
16. A wise man doeth all things with understanding: but a fool spreadeth folly.
17. An ungodly messenger bringeth evil: but a faithful wooer is wholesome.
18. He that forsaketh discipline hath poverty and dishonour: he that is glad to be punished shall be honoured.
19. When that which is desired cometh, it is good for the heart: but he that shuneth evil is an abomination to fools.
20. He that walketh with the wise shall be wise: but he that is the companion of fools shall have misfortune.
21. Adversity pursueth the sinner: but the righteous shall be recompensed.
22. The good man shall inherit for his child, but the good of the sinner shall be given to the righteous.
23. There is much food in the furrows of the poor: but they that do wrong perish.
24. He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him quickly.
25. The righteous eateth, that his soul may be full: but the belly of the wicked is never full.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 14

Praise for cleverness in human life.

1. By wise women is the house built up; but a foolish woman breaketh it up with her doings.
2. He that feareth the LORD walketh in the paths of righteousness: but he that despiseth him goeth out of his way.
3. fools speak tyrannically; but the wise keep their mouths.
4. Where there are no oxen, the manger is clean: but where the ox is busy, there is much revenue.
5. A faithful witness doth not lie: but a false witness speaketh lies deceitfully.
6. The scoffer seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easy unto him that hath understanding.
7. Depart from the fool: for thou learnest nothing of him.
8. This is the wisdom of the prudent, that he take heed to his way: but this is the folly of fools, that it is vain deceit with them.
9. Fools make a mockery of sin: but the pious delight in the pious.
10. When the heart is sad, outward joy is of no avail.
11. The house of the wicked shall be destroyed: but the tabernacle of the upright shall be green.
12. There is a way that pleaseth many a man, but at length it bringeth him to death.
13. after laughter comes mourning, and after joy comes sorrow.
14. A slack man shall do as he doeth: but a pious man shall be over him.
15. a silly man believes everything; but a witty man takes note of his walk.
16. A wise man feareth, and avoideth evil: but a fool goeth through it foolishly.
17. An impatient man doeth foolishly: but a thoughtful man hateth it.
18. The foolish inherit folly; but it is the crown of the witty to act prudently.
19. The wicked must bow down before the good, and the wicked within the gates of the righteous.
20. A poor man also hateth his neighbours: but the rich have many friends.
21. The sinner despiseth his neighbour: but blessed is he that hath mercy on the poor.
22. They that work wicked schemes shall fall short: but they that do good shall have faithfulness and goodness.

23. Where one worketh, there is enough: but where one dealeth in words, there is want.
24. To the wise their riches are a crown: but the folly of fools is folly.
25. A faithful witness saveth life: but a false witness deceiveth.
26. He that feareth the LORD hath a strong hold, and his children also are protected.
27. The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, that men may avoid the snares of death.
28. Where a king hath much people, that is his glory: but where there is little people, that maketh a lord foolish.
29. He that is patient is wise: but he that is impatient revealeth his folly.
30. A kind heart is the life of the body: but envy is pus in the legs.
31. He that doeth violence to the poor blasphemeth his Maker: but he that hath mercy on the poor honoureth GOD,
32. The wicked endureth not in his calamity: but the righteous is confident even in his death.
33. Wisdom resteth in the heart of the prudent, and is made manifest among fools.
34. Righteousness exalteth a people: but sin is the destruction of men.
35. A wise servant is pleasing in the sight of the king; but a wicked servant is an enemy to him.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 15

The effect of prudence. Means to guard against sins.

1. A gentle answer quencheth wrath; but a harsh word maketh fury.
2. The tongue of the wise loveth doctrine: the mouth of fools speaketh folly.
3. The eyes of the LORD behold in all places both the wicked and the righteous.
4. A wholesome tongue is a tree of life; but a lying tongue maketh her
5. The fool blasphemeth his father's discipline: but he that receiveth punishment shall be wise.
6. In the house of the righteous there is good enough, but in the income of the wicked there is destruction.
7. The mouth of the wise scattereth good counsel: but the heart of the fool is not so.

8. The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination unto the LORD: but the prayer of the upright is acceptable unto him.
9. The way of the wicked is abomination to the LORD: but he that followeth after righteousness shall be loved.
10. This is evil discipline, to forsake the way: and he that hateth the punishment shall die.
11. Hell and destruction are before the LORD: how much more the hearts of men!
12. The scoffer loveth not him that reproveth him, neither goeth he to the wise.
13. A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but when the heart is troubled, then the courage falleth.
14. A prudent heart dealeth prudently: but bold fools rule foolishly.
15. A sorrowful man never hath a good day: but a good courage is a daily prosperity.
16. It is better to have the fear of the LORD a little, than great treasure, wherein is unrest.
17. Better is a dish of herbs with love, than a fatted bullock with hatred.
18. A man that is wroth maketh strife: but a man that is patient stilleth strife.
19. The way of the slothful is thorny: but the path of the upright is well prepared.
20. A wise son maketh his father glad: and a foolish man is a reproach to his mother.
21. Folly is a joy to a fool: but a man of understanding keepeth the right way.
22. The plots come to nought where there is no counsel; but where there is much counsel, they stand.
23. It is a joy to one where he is answered aright; and a word in his season is very sweet.
24. The way of life is to make wise above, that one may avoid hell beneath.
25. The LORD will break up the house of the proud, and confirm the border of widows. .
26. The plots of the wicked are an abomination unto the LORD: but the pure speak comfortably.

27. The covetous man hateth his own house: but he that hateth the gift shall live.

28. The heart of the righteous deviseth what is to be answered: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil.

29. The LORD is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.

30. A pleasant sight maketh the heart glad: a good report maketh the bones fat.

31. The ear that heareth the sentence of life shall dwell among the wise.

32. He that suffereth not himself to be drawn, destroyeth himself: but he that heareth punishment, becometh wise.

33. The fear of the LORD is discipline unto wisdom: and before a man is honoured, he must first suffer.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 16

Of God's providence and government, and man's duty.

1. Man setteth it before him in his heart; but from the LORD cometh that which the tongue shall speak.

2. Every man's ways seem pure unto him: but the LORD only maketh the heart sure.

3. Commit thy works unto the LORD, and thine ordinances shall continue.

4. The LORD maketh all things for his own sake, even the wicked for an evil day.

5. A proud heart is an abomination unto the LORD, and shall not go unpunished, though they all cleave one to another.

6. By goodness and faithfulness iniquity is reconciled; and by the fear of the LORD evil is avoided.

7. If a man's ways please the LORD, he will also please his enemies with him.

8. it is better to have little with justice than much income with injustice.

9. The heart of man beateth in his way, but the LORD only giveth to go his way.

10. Divination is in the mouth of the king: his mouth shall not fail in judgment.

11. Right scales and weights are of the LORD; and all the pounds in the sack are his works.
12. To do wrong in the sight of kings is an abomination: for by righteousness the throne is established.
13. Right counsel pleaseth kings: and he that counteth rightly is loved.
14. The king's wrath is a messenger of death: but a wise man shall make reconciliation for him.
15. If the king's face be gracious, it is life: and his mercy is as the evening rain.
16. Receive wisdom; for it is better than gold, and to have understanding is more precious than silver.
17. The way of the upright avoideth evil: and he that keepeth his way keepeth his life.
18. He that shall perish shall first be proud: and proud courage goeth before a fall.
19. It is better to be lowly in heart with the wretched, than to deal plunder with the proud.
20. He that leadeth a matter wisely findeth happiness: and good is he that trusteth in the LORD.
21. A man of understanding is praised for a wise man; and pleasant speeches teach well.
22. Prudence is a living fountain to him that hath it: but the discipline of fools is folly.
23. A wise heart speaketh wisely, and teacheth well.
24. The speeches of the kind are honeycomb, they comfort the soul, and refresh the bones.
25. Many a way pleaseth well; but his last reacheth unto death.
26. Many a man cometh to great misfortune by his own mouth.
27. A loose man digs for mischief, and fire burns in his mouth.
28. A perverse man causeth strife, and a slanderer maketh princes divided.
29. A wicked man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him not into a good way.
30. He that beckoneth with his eyes thinketh not good: and he that signifieth with his lips doeth evil.
31. Gray hairs are a crown of honors found in the way of righteousness.

32. A patient man is better than a strong man, and he that is master of his own strength than he that triumpheth over cities.

33. The lot is cast into the bosom; but it falleth according to the will of the LORD.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 17

Of untimely quarrels and strife.

1. A dry morsel to be satisfied with is better than a house full of slaughter with strife.

2. A wise servant shall rule over indolent heirs, and shall divide the inheritance among the brethren.

3. As the fire is to silver, and the furnace to gold, so the LORD trieth the heart.

4. A wicked man hearkeneth unto evil mouths, and a false man loveth to obey pernicious tongues.

5. He that mocketh the needy scorneth his Maker: and he that rejoiceth in his mischief shall not go unpunished.

6. The crown of the ancients are their children, and the glory of the children are their fathers.

7. It is not fitting for a fool to speak of high things, much less for a prince to lie.

8. He that hath a gift is as a precious stone: whithersoever he turneth, he is esteemed wise.

9. He that covereth sin maketh friends: but he that stirreth up matters maketh princes divided.

10. A rebuke is more grievous to a man of understanding, than an hundred blows to a fool.

11. A bitter man seeketh to do harm: but a cruel angel shall come upon him.

12. It is better to meet a bear whose cubs are stolen, than a fool in his folly.

13. He that repayeth good with evil shall not depart from his house.

14. He that beginneth strife is like unto him that breaketh up the dam of the waters. Thou shalt cease from strife, ere thou be mixed therein.

15. He that justifieth the wicked, and condemneth the righteous, are both an abomination to the LORD.

16. What shall money in the hand of a fool buy wisdom, if he be a fool?

17. A friend loveth always, and a brother is found in trouble.
18. It is a fool that pledges himself to the hand, and becomes surety for his neighbour.
19. He that loveth strife loveth sin: and he that lifteth up his door calamities.
20. A perverse heart findeth no good: and he that is of a perverse tongue shall fall into mischief.
21. He that begetteth a fool hath sorrow; and the father of a fool hath no joy.
22. A merry heart maketh life merry: but a sorrowful spirit drieth the bones.
23. The wicked taketh gifts secretly, to bend the way of righteousness.
24. A man of understanding behaves wisely; a fool casts his eyes to and fro.
25. A foolish son is his father's mourning, and grief to his mother that bare him.
26. It is not good that the righteous should be oppressed, to smite the prince that ruleth aright.
27. A man of understanding moderates his speech, and a man of understanding is a dear soul.
28. A fool, if he held his peace, would also be counted wise, and have understanding, if he held his peace.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 18

Of breaking up good friends.

1. He that separateth himself seeketh after that which he lusteth after, and setteth himself against all that is good.
2. a fool does not delight in his mind, but in what is in his heart.
3. Where the wicked goeth, there cometh contempt and reproach with scorn.
4. The words in one mouth are as deep waters, and the fountain of wisdom is a full stream.
5. It is not good to respect the person of the wicked, to bow down the righteous in judgment.
6. The lips of the fool bring forth strife, and his mouth crieth for blows.
7. The mouth of a fool doeth harm unto himself, and his lips do wrong unto his own soul.

8. the words of the slanderer are blows and go through one's heart.
9. He that is slack in his work is a brother to him that doeth his own work.
10. The name of the LORD is a stronghold: the righteous walketh therein, and is protected.
11. The rich man's goods are unto him a strong city, and as a high wall round about him.
12. If a man perish, his heart is proud first: and before he is honoured, he suffereth first.
13. He that answereth before he heareth is foolish and ashamed.
14. He that hath a merry heart knoweth how to bear himself in his affliction: but if courage lie, who can bear it?
- 15; An understanding heart knows how to keep itself sensible, and the wise hear gladly that one acts sensibly.
16. the gift of man makes room for him and brings him before the great lords.
17. The righteous is sure of his cause beforehand; and when his neighbour cometh, he findeth him so.
18. The lot setteth the strife, and divideth between the mighty.
19. A brother that is wounded is stronger than a strong city; and strife is stronger than the bars of the palace.
20. A man shall be recompensed according to that which his mouth hath spoken, and shall be satisfied with the fruit of his lips.
21. Death and life are in the power of the tongue: he that loveth it shall eat of the fruit thereof.
22. He that findeth a wife findeth good, and getteth favour of the LORD.
23. a poor man speaks with supplication; a rich man answers proudly.
24. A faithful friend loveth more, and standeth stronger than a brother.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 19

Of contempt of the poor and moderation of wrath.

1. A poor man that walketh in his piety is better than a perverse man with his lips, who is yet a fool.
2. Where a man dealeth not wisely, it is not well: and he that is swift with his feet doeth hurt.

3. The folly of a man leadeth him astray, because his heart rageth against the LORD.
4. good makes many friends; but the poor man is forsaken by his friends.
5. A false witness shall not go unpunished; and he that speaketh lies boldly shall not escape.
6. many wait for the person of the prince, and are all friends of him that giveth gifts.
7. All his brethren hate the poor man, and his friends also are far from him: and he that trusteth in words shall not prosper,
8. He that is wise loveth his life: and he that hath understanding findeth good.
9. A false witness shall not go unpunished; and he that speaketh lies boldly shall perish.
10. It is not fitting for a fool to have good days, much less for a servant to rule over princes.
11. He that is patient is a wise man, and is honest to him, that he may overhear iniquity.
12. The king's displeasure is as the roaring of a young lion: but his mercy is as dew upon the grass.
13. A foolish son is his father's heartache, and a quarrelsome wife a continual torment.
14. Houses and goods are inherited of parents: but a wife of understanding cometh of the LORD.
15. laziness brings sleep, and a lax soul will suffer hunger.
16. He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his life: but he that despiseth his way shall die.
17. He that hath mercy on the poor lendeth unto the LORD, and he shall repay him with good.
18. Chasten thy son, because there is hope; but let not thy soul be moved to slay him.
19. For great wrath bringeth evil: therefore let him go, and thou mayest chasten him more.
20. Obey the counsel, and receive correction, that thou mayest be wise hereafter.
21. There are many counsels in a man's heart: but the counsel of the LORD standeth still.

22. A man lusteth by his goodness: and a poor man is better than a liar.
23. The fear of the LORD bringeth forth life, and shall be satisfied, that no evil shall afflict it.
24. The slothful man hideth his hand in the pot, and bringeth it not again to his mouth.
25. If a scoffer be beaten, the foolish man is made merry: if a man be punished, he is made wise.
26. He that putteth away his father, and chaseth his mother, is an unclean and accursed child.
27. Cease, my son, to hear the chastening that leadeth away from sound doctrine.
28. A loose witness mocketh the law, and the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity.
29. Punishments are prepared for the scoffers, and smitings for the backs of fools.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 20

Warning against gluttony and drunkenness.

1. Wine maketh froward, and strong drink maketh wild: he that lusteth after it never becometh wise.
2. The terror of the king is as the roaring of a young lion: he that enrages him sinneth against his life.
3. It is a man's honour to be at strife: but they that love to strive are all fools.
4. Because of the cold the lazy man will not plow; so he must beg in the harvest, and get nothing.
5. The counsel of a man's heart is as deep waters: but a man of understanding knoweth what he meaneth.
6. Many men are called righteous: but who shall find one that is righteously righteous?
7. A righteous man that walketh in his piety, his children shall prosper after him.
8. A king that sitteth upon the throne to judge scattereth all evil with his eyes.
9. Who can say, I am pure in heart, and clean from my sin?
10. Many weights and measures are both abomination unto the LORD.

11. A man also knoweth a child by his character, whether he will be pious and upright.
12. An ear that heareth, and an eye that seeth; the LORD maketh them both.
13. Love not sleep, lest thou be poor: let thine eyes be open, and thou shalt have bread.
14. Evil, evil, say they, when they have it; but when it is gone, praise it.
15. There is gold and much pearl: but a reasonable mouth is a precious jewel.
16. Take away the garment of him that is a surety for another, and seize him for the sake of him that is not known.
17. The bread that is stolen is good for every man: but afterward his mouth shall be full of pebbles.
18. Proposals stand, if they be made with counsel: and war shall be made with discretion.
19. Be not sworn with him that revealeth secrecy, and with the slanderer, and with the false-mouthed.
20. Whosoever curseth his father and his mother, his light shall be put out in the midst of darkness.
21. The inheritance, which at the first is much sought after, shall not be blessed at the last.
22. Say not, I will repay evil. Wait for the LORD, and he will help thee.
23. Many weights are an abomination unto the LORD, and false scales are not good.
24. Every man's walk is from the LORD. What man understandeth his way?
25. It is a snare unto a man to blaspheme that which is holy, and after that to seek vows.
26. A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel upon them.
27. The lamp of the LORD is the breath of man: it passeth through the whole heart.
28. Piety and truth keep the king, and his throne is established by piety.
29. The strength of the young is their price; and the gray hair is the ornament of the aged.
30. The wicked must be restrained with severe punishment, and with sore blows that are felt.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 21

By God's gracious government.

1. The . The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water; and he inclineth it whithersoever he will.
2. Every man's way seemeth right unto him: but the LORD only maketh hearts sure.
3. To do good and to do right is better in the sight of the LORD than sacrifice.
4. Prideful eyes, and proud courage, and the light of the wicked, is sin.
5. The smitings of an endued one bring abundance: but he that is too light shall be in want.
6. He that gathereth treasure with lies shall fall short, and fall among them that seek death.
7. The robbery of the wicked shall be a reproach unto them: for they would not do that which was right.
8. He that walketh in another way is perverse: but he that walketh in his commandment is righteous.
9. It is better to dwell in the corner of the house upon the housetop, than with a brawling woman in a house together.
10. The soul of the wicked desireth evil, and grudgeth not his neighbour.
11. When the scoffer is punished, the foolish become wise; and when a wise man is taught, he becomes sensible.
12. The righteous keepeth himself wisely against the house of the wicked: but the wicked thinketh only to do harm.
13. He that stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, the same shall cry, and not be heard.
14. A secret gift quencheth wrath; and a gift in the bosom quencheth fierce anger.
15. It is a joy to the righteous to do what is right, but a fear to evildoers.
16. A man that erreth from the way of wisdom abideth in the congregation of the dead.
17. He that loveth lust shall lack; and he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

18. The wicked must be given for the righteous, and the scornful for the pious.
19. It is better to dwell in a desolate land than with a contentious and angry woman.
20. In the house of the wise is a goodly treasure and oil, but a fool maketh it waste.
21. He who pursues mercy and goodness finds life, mercy and honor.
22. A wise man taketh the city of the mighty, and overthroweth their power by their safety.
23. He that keepeth his mouth and tongue keepeth his soul from fear.
24. He that is proud and presumptuous is called a loose man, that showeth pride in anger.
25. The slothful man dieth over his desires: for his hands will do nothing.
26. He desireth daily; but the righteous giveth, and faileth not.
27. The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination: for they are offered in sins.
28. A lying witness shall perish: but he that obeyeth shall always be heard again.
29. The wicked goeth through with his head: but he that is righteous shall stand.
30. No wisdom, no understanding, no counsel, can avail against the LORD.
31. Horses are prepared for the day of battle: but the victory is of the LORD.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 22

Of good report and name, whereby he is obtained and prevented.

1. Rumour is more precious than great riches, and favour better than silver and gold.
2. Rich and poor must be one with another: the LORD hath made them all.
3. the funny man sees the misfortune and hides himself; the silly go through and are damaged.
4. Wherever there is suffering in the fear of the LORD, there is riches and honour and life.

5. There are thorns and cords in the way of the wicked: but he that is fenced from them preserveth his life.
6. As a boy is accustomed, so he will not leave it when he is old.
7. The rich ruleth over the poor, and he that boreth is the servant of the hireling.
8. He that soweth iniquity shall reap trouble, and shall perish with the rod of his wickedness.
9. A good eye is blessed: for he giveth his bread to the poor.
10. Cast out the scorner, and the quarrel shall be put away: then cease from strife and reproach.
11. A friend of the king is he that hath a true heart and a kind speech.
12. The eyes of the LORD keep good counsel: but the words of the scorner he turneth back.
13. The slothful man saith, There is a lion without, I would be slain in the street.
14. The mouth of the harlot is a deep pit: whosoever the LORD displeaseth shall fall into it.
15. Folly is in the heart of the child: but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.
16. Whosoever shall wrong the poor, that his goods may be much, the same shall give to the rich, and shall lack.
17. Incline thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and take my teaching to heart.
18. For it shall do thee good to keep them with thee, and they shall prosper together at thy mouth, 19. That thy hope may be in the LORD. I must daily remind thee of these things for thy good.
20. Have I not enjoined thee manifoldly with counsels and doctrines?
21. That I might shew thee a certain ground of truth, that thou mightest answer rightly them that send thee?
22. Rob not the poor, though he be poor; neither oppress the wretched in the gate; 23. For the LORD shall deal with their cause, and shall subdue their trespassers.
24. Be not thou a man of wrath, neither be thou a fierce man;
25. Thou wilt learn his way, and thou wilt give offence to thy soul.
26. Be not with them that arrest their hand, and become sureties for iniquity; 27. For where thou hast it not to pay, they shall take away thy bed from under thee.

28. Drive not back the former bounds which thy fathers made.
29. When thou seest a man at length in his business, he shall stand before kings, and shall not stand before the base.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 23

Of temperance in eating and drinking.

1. When thou sittest and eatest with a lord, mark whom thou hast before thee, 2. And put a knife to thy throat, if thou wilt keep life.
3. desire not his food, for it is false bread.
4. Seek not to be rich, and leave off thy little bundles.
5. Let not thine eyes fly unto that which thou canst not have: for the same maketh him wings like an eagle, and biddeth for the heavens.
6. Eat not bread with an envious man, neither desire thou his meat.
7. For he is like a ghost within. He saith, Eat and drink; and yet his heart is not in thee.
8. Thy morsels which thou hast eaten thou must spit out, and must have lost thy kind words.
9. Not in the ears of a fool, for he despiseth the wisdom of thy words.
10. Drive not back the former borders, and go not into the orphans' field.
11. For their Redeemer is mighty; he shall accomplish their cause against thee.
12. Give thine heart to discipline, and thine ears to reasonable speech.
13. Cease not to chasten the lad: for where thou chastenest him with the rod, it is not lawful to kill him.
14. Thou smitest him with the rod; but thou savest his soul from hell.
15. My son, if thou be wise, my heart also rejoiceth;
16. And my kidneys are glad when thy lips speak what is right.
17. Let not thine heart follow sinners, but be thou daily in the fear of the LORD.
18. For it shall be well with thee hereafter, and thy waiting shall not fail.
19. Hear, my son, and be wise, and direct thine heart into the way.
20. Be not among drunkards and gluttons;
21. For the drunkard and the glutton are made poor, and a sleeper must wear torn garments.
22. Obey thy father which begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.

23. Buy truth and do not sell it, wisdom, discipline and understanding.
24. A father of the righteous rejoiceth, and he that hath begotten a wise man rejoiceth.
25. Let thy father and thy mother rejoice and be glad, which begat thee.
26. Give me, my son, thy heart, and let thine eyes be well pleased with my ways.
27. For a harlot is a deep pit, and an adulteress is a narrow pit.
28. She also lieth in wait like a robber, and gathereth unto her the insolent of men.
29. where is woe? Where is sorrow? Where is strife? Where is lamentation? Where are wounds without cause? Where are red eyes?
30. namely, where one lies with the wine and comes to drink up what is poured.
31. Look not on the wine, because it is red, and standeth so fair in the glass. It is smooth; 32. But afterward he bites like a serpent, and stings like an adder.
33. Then thine eyes shall look for other consecrations, and thine heart shall speak perverse things,
34. And thou shalt be as one that sleepeth in the midst of the sea, and as one that sleepeth upon the top of the mast.
35. They beat me, but it hurt me not: they knock me, but I feel it not. When will I wake up, that I may do it more?

(Proverbs)

Chapter 24

Of patience and tolerance.

1. do not follow evil people and do not desire to be with them.
2. For their heart seeketh after mischief, and their lips counsel evil.
3. By wisdom a house is built, and by understanding it is preserved.
4. By proper stewardship the chambers become full of all delicious and lovely riches.
5. A wise man is strong, and a prudent man is mighty in strength.
6. For with counsel is war: and where there is much counsel, there is victory.
7. Wisdom is too high for a fool; he may not open his mouth in the gate.

8. He that doeth himself harm is called an arch wicked man.
9. The fool's guile is sin: and the scoffer is an abomination in the sight of men.
10. He is not strong that is not steadfast in adversity.
11. Deliver them that are about to be slain, and withdraw not thyself from them that are about to be strangled.
12. Sayest thou, Behold, we understand not: thinkest thou not that he that knoweth the heart knoweth it, and he that regardeth the soul knoweth it, and rewardeth a man according to his work?
13. Eat, my son, honey: for it is good; and the honeycomb is sweet in thy throat.
14. Learn therefore wisdom for thy soul. If thou find it, thou shalt prosper hereafter, and thy hope shall not be in vain.
15. Lurk not, as an ungodly man, at the house of the righteous; disturb not his rest.
16. For the righteous falleth seven times, and riseth up again: but the wicked sink into mischief.
17. Rejoice not in the fall of thine enemy, neither let thine heart be glad in his calamity; 18. Let the LORD see it, and be displeased with him, and turn away his wrath from him.
19. Be not angry with the wicked, and jealous not with the ungodly; 20. For the wicked hath no hope, and the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.
21. My child, fear the LORD and the king, and mingle not with the rebellious.
22. For their calamity shall be sudden; and who knoweth when both calamities shall come?
23. This also comes from the wise: To look at the person in judgment is not good.
24. Whosoever saith unto the wicked, Thou art righteous; men curse him, and the people hate him.
25. But they that punish are well pleased, and a rich blessing cometh upon them.
26. A right answer is like a sweet kiss.
27. Set thy business without, and work thy field; afterward build thine house.

28. Be not a witness without a cause against thy neighbour, and deceive not with thy mouth.

29. Say not, As one doeth unto me, so will I do again, and repay every man his work.

30. I went before the field of the slothful, and before the vineyard of the fool, 31. And, behold, there were nettles in it, and thistles full, and the wall was fallen down.

32. And when I saw it, I took it to heart, and looked, and learned.

33. Thou wilt sleep a little, and slumber a little, and put thy hands together a little, that thou mayest rest;

34. But thy poverty shall come unto thee as a wayfarer, and thy want as a man armed.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 25

Honor and glory as wisdom's reward, to whom it is due.

1. These also are the sayings of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah added unto them.

2. It is the glory of God to conceal a matter: but the glory of kings is to search out a matter.

3. The heavens are high, and the earth is low: but the heart of the king is unsearchable.

4. Put the foam from the silver, and it shall be a pure vessel.

5. Let the king's wickedness be done, and his throne shall be established with righteousness.

6. range not before the king, and enter not into the place of the great.

7. For it is better for thee that it should be said unto thee, Come up hither; than that thou shouldest be humbled before the prince, that thine eyes should see.

8. Go not forth soon to quarrel: for what wilt thou do hereafter, when thou hast defiled thy neighbour?

9. Handle thy business with thy neighbour, and reveal not another's secrecy, 10. Lest he that heareth it speak evil of thee, and let not thy evil report cease.

11. A word spoken in his season is as apples of gold in bowls of silver.

12. He that punisheth a wise man that obeyeth him is as a golden headband, and as a golden collar.

13. As the cold of the snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to him that sent him, and restoreth his lord's soul.
14. He that speaketh much, and keepeth not, is as clouds and wind without rain; 15. By patience a prince is reconciled, and a gentle tongue breaketh hardness.
16. If thou find honey, eat enough of it, that thou be not full, and spit it out.
17. Remove thy foot from thy neighbour's house: for he is weary of thee, and hateth thee.
18. He that speaketh false witness against his neighbour is a spear, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.
19. The hope of the despiser in time of trouble is as a rotten tooth and a slippery foot.
20. He that sings songs to an evil heart is as a torn garment in winter, and vinegar upon the chalk.
21. If thine enemy hunger, feed him with bread; if he thirst, give him drink of water.
22. For thou shalt heap coals upon his head, and the LORD shall reward thee.
23. The north wind bringeth tempests, and the secret tongue maketh the face sour.
24. It is better to sit on the housetop in a corner than to sit in a house with a quarrelsome woman.
25. a good rumor from distant lands is like cold water to a thirsty soul.
26. A righteous man falling before an ungodly man is as a turbid well and a corrupt fountain.
27. He that eateth too much honey is not good; and he that searcheth after heavy things is heavy.
28. A man that cannot keep his spirit is like an open city without walls.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 26

Which people are not worthy of honor.

1. As the snow in summer, and the rain in harvest, so the fool's honour rhymeeth not.
2. As a bird passeth by, and a swallow flew, so an undeserved curse doth not meet.

3. A whip for the horse, and a bridle for the ass; and a rod for the fool's back.
4. Answer not the fool with his foolishness, lest thou also be like him.
5. But answer the fool according to his folly, lest he be thought wise.
6. He that doeth a thing by a foolish messenger is as a lame man in his feet, and taketh hurt.
7. As it is for a cripple to dance, so it is for fools to speak of wisdom.
8. Whoso putteth honour upon a fool, it is as if one cast a jewel upon the raven stone.
9. A saying in a fool's mouth is like a thorn pricked in a drunken man's hand.
10. A good master maketh a thing right: but he that maketh a bungler maketh it vile.
11. As a dog eateth his spittle again, so is the fool that worketh his folly again. .
12. When thou seest one that thinketh himself wise, there is more hope in a fool than in him.
13. The lazy man saith, There is a young lion in the way, and a lion in the streets.
14. a lazy man turns in the best as the door in the hinge.
15. The slothful man hideth his hand in the pot, and is sore displeased, that he bringeth it to his mouth.
16. A slothful man thinketh himself wiser than seven that teach morals.
17. He that goeth before, and mixeth himself in other men's quarrels, is like one that pincheth a dog by the ears.
18. How one shooteth and killeth secretly with bullet and arrow, 19. So doth a false man with his neighbour, and speaketh afterward: I have jested.
20. When there is no more wood, the fire is quenched; and when the slanderer is gone, the strife ceaseth.
21. As coals are an ember, and wood a fire, so a contentious man maketh strife.
22. The words of the slanderer are like blows, and they go through the heart.
23. poisonous mouth and evil heart is like a shard covered with silver foam.
24. The enemy is known by his speech, though he be false in heart.

25. If he make his voice pleasing, believe him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.

26. Whosoever hateth secretly to do evil, his wickedness shall be made manifest in the sight of the congregation.

27. He that maketh a pit shall fall three times: and he that rolleth a stone shall fall upon it.

28. A false tongue hateth him that punisheth him: and a hypocritical mouth destroyeth.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 27

Of vain conceit and presumption, as the first hindrance to wisdom, and of this manifold use.

1. Boast not thyself of the morrow: for thou knowest not what may come to pass to day.

2. Let another praise thee, and not thy mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips.

3. Is heavy, and sand is burden; but the fool's wrath is heavier than both of them.

4. Anger is a fierce thing, and wrath is fierce: and who can stand before envy?

5. public punishment is better than secret love.

6. The blows of the lover are well meant: but the kissing of the hater is a whisper.

7. A full soul treadeth honeycomb: but to a hungry soul all bitter things are sweet.

8. As a bird is that departeth from his nest, so is he that departeth from his place.

9. The heart rejoiceth in ointment and incense: but a friend is sweet for the counsel of the soul.

10. Forsake not thy friend, nor thy father's friend. And go not into thy brother's house, when thou art in evil: for a neighbour is better near, than a brother far off.

11. Be wise, my son, and my heart will rejoice; and I will answer him that reproacheth me.

12. A witty man seeth misfortune, and hideth himself: but the foolish pass through, and suffer harm.

13. Take away the garment of him that is a surety for another, and seize him for the stranger's sake.
14. Whosoever blesseth his neighbour with a loud voice, and riseth up early, it shall be cursed for him.
15. A quarrelsome woman, and a continual drifting, when it rains very hard, are well compared together.
16. He that stoppeth them holdeth the wind, and will lay hold on the oil with his hand.
17. One knife sharpeneth another, and one man another.
18. He that keepeth his fig tree eateth fruit of it: and he that keepeth his master is honoured.
19. As the shadow of the waters is against the face, so is the heart of man against the other.
20. Hell and corruption shall never be full, neither shall men's eyes be full.
21. A man is proved by the mouth of praise, as silver in a crucible, and gold in a furnace.
22. If thou pound the fool in the mortar with the pestle as groats, his foolishness shall not depart from him.
23. Take heed to thy sheep, and look after thy flock;
24. For good endureth not for ever, neither doth the crown endure for ever.
25. The hay is risen, and the grass is there, and the herbage is gathered upon the mountains.
26. The lambs shall clothe thee, and the goats shall give thee the money of the field.
27. Thou hast goats' milk enough for the food of thy house, and for the food of thy maidens.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 28

Of the other hindrance to wisdom, an evil conscience, its quality, origin, and remedy against it.

1. The wicked man fleeth, and no man chaseth him: but the righteous man is as bold as a lion.
2. For the sin of the land there are many changes of principalities: but for the people's sakes, who are understanding and sensible, they abide long.

3. A poor man that offendeth the lowly is as a meltoid that spoileth the fruit.
4. They that forsake the law praise the wicked: but they that keep it are unwilling unto them.
5. Wicked men take no heed to judgment: but they that inquire of the LORD take heed to all things.
6. It is better for a poor man to walk in godliness than for a rich man to pray in perverse ways.
7. He that keepeth the law is a child of understanding: but he that feedeth iniquity dishonoureth his father.
8. He that increaseth his goods by usury and extravagance gathereth them for the use of the poor.
9. He that turneth away his ear to hear the law, his prayer is an abomination.
10. He that deceiveth the righteous in an evil way shall fall into his pit: but the righteous shall inherit good things.
11. A rich man thinketh himself wise, but a poor man of understanding knoweth him.
12. When the righteous have the prevalance, ye deal very well: but when the wicked arise, it turneth among the people.
13. He that denieth his iniquity shall not prosper: but he that confesseth and forsaketh it shall obtain mercy.
14. Blessed is he that feareth all things. But he that is stiff-necked shall fall into mischief.
15. A wicked man that ruleth over a poor people is a roaring lion and a ravening bear.
16. If a prince be without understanding, many wrongs are done: but he that hateth covetousness shall live long.
17. A man that worketh iniquity in the blood of one soul shall not obtain, though he go into hell.
18. He that walketh uprightly shall recover: but he that is perverse in his ways shall at once perish.
19. He that tilleth his ground shall have bread enough: but he that followeth idleness shall have poverty enough.
20. A faithful man is much blessed: but he that hasteth to be rich shall not be blameless.

21. To look upon a person is not good: for he would do evil for a piece of bread.
22. He that hasteth to get rich, and is envious, knoweth not that calamity shall befall him.
23. He that reproveth a man shall hereafter find favour, because he that feigneth it.
24. Whosoever taketh from his father or mother, and saith it is not sin, the same is the companion of the destroyer.
25. A proud man stirreth up strife: but he that trusteth in the LORD shall be fat.
26. He that trusteth in his heart is a fool: but he that prayeth with wisdom shall escape.
27. He that giveth to the poor shall not want: but he that turneth away his eyes shall greatly perish.
28. When the wicked arise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous abound.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 29

The third obstacle to wisdom is stubbornness.

1. He that is stiffnecked against judgment shall perish suddenly without all help; 2. When the righteous are many, the people rejoice: but when the wicked rule, the people groan.
3. He that loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but he that lieth with harlots perisheth his goods.
4. A king upholdeth the land by judgment: but a covetous man destroyeth it.
5. He that is hypocritical with his neighbour spreadeth a net unto his footsteps.
6. When a wicked man sinneth, he entangleth himself: but a righteous man rejoiceth and is glad.
7. The righteous knoweth the cause of the poor: the wicked regardeth not reason.
8. The scoffers brazenly bring calamity upon a city: but the wise quiet the wrath.
9. If a wise man deal with a fool, and he be angry, or laugh, he hath no rest.
10. The bloodthirsty hate the upright: but the righteous seek his soul.

11. A fool poureth out his spirit: but a wise man keepeth himself.
12. A lord that delighteth in lying, his servants are all wicked.
13. The poor and the rich meet together: but the eyes of both are enlightened by the LORD.
14. A king that judgeth the poor faithfully, his throne shall be established for ever.
15. The rod and the chastisement giveth wisdom: but a boy, left unto himself, defileth his mother.
16. Where the wicked abound, there is much sin: but the righteous shall see their fall.
17. Chasten thy son, and he shall gladden thee, and do good to thy soul.
18. When the prophecy is ended, the people become wild and desolate: but he that keepeth the law is well pleased.
19. A servant cannot be chastened with words: for though he understands, yet he accepteth not.
20. When thou seest one quick to speak, there is more hope in a fool than in him.
21. If a servant be kept tenderly from his youth, he will afterward be a squire.
22. An angry man causeth strife, and a fierce man doeth much sin.
23. The pride of man shall overthrow him: but the humble shall receive glory.
24. He that hath part with thieves, and heareth cursing, and saith it not, hath hated his life.
25. To be afraid of man is a fall: but he that trusteth in the LORD is preserved.
26. Many seek the face of a prince: but every man's judgment is of the LORD.
27. An unrighteous man is an abomination to the righteous: and he that is of the right way is an abomination to the wicked.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 30

Solomon's confession and prayer.

1. These are the words of Agur the son of Jake, the doctrine and speech of the man Leithiel, Leithiel and Uchal.
2. for I am the most foolish, and common sense is not with me.

3. I have not learned wisdom, neither know I what is holy.
4. Who flieth up to heaven, and who flieth down? Who taketh hold of the wind in his hands?
Who bindeth the waters in a garment? Who hath made all the ends of the earth? What is his name, and what is the name of his son? Do you know?
5. all the words of God are purified and are a shield to those who trust in Him.
6. Do nothing to his words, lest he punish thee, and thou be found false.
7. Two things I ask of thee, which thou wilt not deny me before I die; 8. Let idolatry and falsehood be far from me: poverty and riches give me not: but let me take my humble portion of meat.
9. Or else, if I be too full, I will deny, saying, Who is the LORD? Or where I would be poor, I would steal, and take the name of my God in vain.
10. Betray not the servant against his lord: for he will curse thee, and thou shalt bear the iniquity.
11. it is a kind that curses its father and does not bless its mother; 12. a kind that thinks itself pure, and yet is not washed from its excrement;
13. a species that carries its eyes high and holds its eyelids up; 14. A kind having swords for teeth, which eateth with their molars, and devoureth the wretched of the land, and the poor of the people.
15. The hedgehog hath two daughters: bring hither, bring hither. Three things are not to be sated, and the fourth speaketh not: it is enough:
16. Hell, the mother of women shut up, the earth is not filled with water, and the fire saith not, It is enough.
17. An eye that mocketh the father, and despiseth to obey the mother, that must the ravens peck out by the brook, and the young eagles eat.
18. Three things are too strange for me, and the fourth I know not: 19. The way of the eagle in heaven, the way of the serpent upon a rock, the way of the ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man by a maid.
20. So is the way of the adulteress: she devoureth, and wipeeth her mouth, saying, I have done no evil.
21. A land is troubled by three things, and the fourth may not bear it:
22. A servant when he becomes king; a fool when he is too full;
23. A hostile woman when she is married, and a maid when she is heir to her wives.

24. four are small in the earth, and wiser than the wise:
25. The ants, a weak race, yet they create their food in summer; 26.
rabbit, a weak nation, yet it lays its house in the rock;
27. locusts have no king, yet they move out with whole heaps;
28. The spider works with his hands and is in the kings' castles.
29. Three things have a fine course, and the fourth pray well:
30. The lion, mighty among the beasts, and turneth not back before any; 31. a wind of good loins; and a ram; and the king, against whom no man may lie down.
32. If thou hast been deceitful, or if thou hast gone up too high, or if thou hast done evil, put thy hand upon thy mouth.
33. If a man putteth milk, he maketh it butter; and he that bloweth the nose, he bringeth forth blood; and he that provoketh wrath, he bringeth forth strife.

(Proverbs)

Chapter 31

In praise of a virtuous woman.

1. These are the words of king Lamuel, the doctrine which his mother taught him: 2. Ah, my chosen one, ah, thou son of my womb, ah, my desired son, 3. Leave not thy substance unto women, neither walk thou in the ways wherein kings corrupt themselves.
4. O, not to kings, Lamuel, give not wine to the kings to drink, nor strong drink to the princes.
5. they want to drink and forget the rights and change the cause of some wretched people.
6. Give strong drink to them that shall perish, and wine to the afflicted souls, 7. That they may drink, and forget their miseries, and remember their calamities no more.
8. Open thy mouth for the dumb, and for the cause of all that are forsaken.
9. Open thy mouth, and judge righteously, and avenge the wretched and the poor.
10. To whom a virtuous woman is given, she is far more precious than the most precious pearls.
11. Her husband's heart may rely upon her, and food shall not fail him.
12. She loveth him, and harmeth him not all his days.
13. She handleth wool and flax, and worketh gladly with her hands.

14. she is like a merchant ship that brings its food from afar.
15. She riseth up by night, and giveth food to her house, and meat to her maidens.
16. she thinks of .a field and buys it and plants a vineyard from the fruit of her hands.
17. She girdeth up her loins, and strengtheneth her arms.
18. She perceiveth how her commerce bringeth piety: her lamp goeth not out by night.
19. She stretcheth forth her hand toward the skirt, and her fingers grasp the spindle.
20. She stretcheth out her hands to the poor, and giveth her hand to the needy.
21. She feareth not the snow from her house: for all her house hath twofold garments.
22. She maketh her own covering; white silk and purple is her garment.
23. Her husband is renowned in the gates, when he sitteth with the elders of the land.
24. She maketh a skirt, and selleth it: one girdle she giveth to the grocer.
25. Her ornament is that she is clean and diligent; and she shall laugh afterward.
26. She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and upon her tongue is blessed doctrine.
27. She looketh on the things of her house, and eateth not her bread with sloth.
28. Her sons arise, and call her blessed; her husband praiseth her.
29. Many daughters bring wealth; but thou excellest them all.
30. To be lovely and beautiful is nothing; a woman who fears the LORD is to be praised.
31. She shall be praised by the fruits of her hands; and her works shall she praise in the gates.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Preacher Solomon (Ecclesiastes) ^

Chapter 1

Man is not blissful in his earthly wisdom, but vain.

1. These are the sayings of Ecclesiastes, the son of David king of Jerusalem.
 2. It is all vanity, said the preacher, it is all vanity.
 3. What hath man more of all his toil that he hath under the sun?
 4. One generation passeth away, and another cometh: but the earth abideth for ever.
 5. The sun riseth, and setteth, and returneth to his place, and riseth there again.
 6. The wind goeth toward the south, and cometh round about the north, and returneth again to the place where it began.
 7. All the waters go into the sea, neither is the sea filled: in the place whence they flow, they flow again.
 8. All the work is so full of trouble, that no man is able to speak. The eye never sees enough, and the ear never hears enough.
 9. What is it that is come to pass? The very thing that is hereafter to come to pass. What is that which is done? The same that shall be done hereafter: and there is no new thing under the sun.
 10. Doth any thing happen of which it may be said, Behold, this is new? For it was also done before, in times past, which were before us.
 11. They remember not those things which are before: neither shall they remember those things which are after in those things which are hereafter.
 12. I, Ecclesiastes, was king over Israel in Jerusalem.
 13. And I gave my heart to search and search wisely all that is done under heaven. God has given the children of men such unhappy trouble that they have to toil in it.
 14. I looked upon all that is done under the sun, and, behold, it was all vain and pitiful.
 15. crooked cannot become bad, nor the fault be counted.
 16. And I said in mine heart, Behold, I am become glorious, and have more wisdom than all that were before me in Jerusalem: and my heart hath learned and experienced many things.
 17. And I set my heart to learn wisdom, and folly, and prudence. But I perceived that these things are trouble.
 18. For where there is much wisdom, there is much sorrow: and he that teacheth much, suffereth much.
- (Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 2

Earthly lusts are vain.

1. I said in mine heart, Well, I will live well, and have good days. But, behold, this also was vain.

2. I spoke to the laughter: You are great and to joy: What are you doing?

3. Then thought I in mine heart to draw my body from wine, and to draw my heart unto wisdom, to lay hold on that which is foolishness, until I should learn what is good for men to do, as long as they live under heaven.

4. I did great things; I built houses, I planted vineyards,

5. I made me gardens and pleasure gardens, and planted therein all manner of fruitful trees; 6. I made me pools to water the forest of green trees.

7. I had menservants, and maidservants, and servants; I had a greater substance of oxen and sheep than all that were before me in Jerusalem.

8. I also gathered me silver, and gold, and treasure of kings and of countries. I made me singers, and singers, and the lust of men, and all manner of strings,

9. And increased upon all them that were before me in Jerusalem: wisdom also abode with me.

10. And all things whatsoever mine eyes desired I left them, and withheld no joy from my heart, that it should rejoice in all my labour: and this I counted my portion in all my labour.

11. And when I had considered all my works that my hand had done, and the labour that I had laboured under, behold, it was all vain and pitiful, and there was nothing left under the sun.

12. Then turned I to see wisdom, and prudence, and folly. For who knoweth what manner of man he shall be after the king whom they have made ready?

13. Then I saw that wisdom surpassed folly, as light surpasseth darkness, 14. That the wise man's eyes are in his head, but fools walk in darkness; and yet he perceiveth that one is like another.

15. Then thought I in mine heart, Because the fool is like me, why then have I sought wisdom?

Then thought I in mine heart, That these things also are vanity.

16. For the wise man is not remembered for ever, neither is the fool: and the days to come forget all things: and as the wise dieth, so dieth the fool.

17. Wherefore I was displeased to live: for I was displeased with the things that are done under the sun, that they were so vain and troublesome.

18. And all my labour that I had under the sun grieved me, that I should leave the same unto a man that should be after me.

19. For who knoweth whether he shall be wise or foolish? And yet shall reign in all my work, Which I have wisely done under the sun. That also is vain.

20. Therefore I turned, that my heart might depart from all the work that I have done under the sun.

21. For a man that hath wrought his work with wisdom, and understanding, and skill, must leave it for an inheritance to another that hath not wrought it. This also is vain, and a great misfortune.

22. For what shall a man get of all his labour and toil of his heart that he hath under the sun?

23. For all the days of his life he hath sorrow, and grief, and his heart hath not rested at night?

This also is vain.

24. Is it not better for a man to eat and drink, and for his soul to be in good health in his work?

But these things also have I seen, that they are of the hand of God.

25. For who hath more gladly eaten and rejoiced than I?

26. For to the man that pleaseth him he giveth wisdom, and understanding, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth calamity, that he may gather and heap, and yet be given to him that pleaseth God.

Therefore this also is a vain sorrow.

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 3

God's providence shows that the heathen care of food is vain.

1. To every thing there is a season; and to every purpose under heaven there is an hour.

2. Being born, dying, planting, eradicating that which is planted, 3.

Choking, healing, breaking, building,

4. Crying, laughing, complaining, dancing,

5. Scattering stones, gathering stones, hearts, farthings from hearts, 6. Search, lose, keep, discard,
7. Tearing, sewing, silence, talking,
8. Love, hate, quarrel, peace has its time.
9. work as you will, so you can't do more.
10. Therefore I saw the trouble which God gave to men, that they should be afflicted within.
11. But he doeth all things in his good time, and maketh their hearts to be anxious, how things shall be in the world: for man cannot do the work that God doeth, neither the beginning nor the end.
12. Therefore I perceived that there was nothing better in it, but to be merry, and to do him good in his life.
13. For every man that eateth and drinketh, and hath good courage in all his work, is the gift of God.
14. I perceived that whatsoever God doeth, that continueth for ever: there is nothing to add unto it, neither to take away from it: and this is what God doeth, that men should fear him.
15. What God doeth, that standeth; and what he will do, that shall come to pass: for he seeketh and pursueeth after him.
16. Further, I saw under the sun a place of judgment, where was an ungodly creature; and a place of righteousness, where were ungodly men.
17. Then thought I in mine heart, God must judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a season to every purpose and to every work.
18. I have spoken in my heart of the nature of men, wherein God doth indicate and make them look as if they were among themselves as cattle.
19. For man is as the beast: as the beast dieth, so dieth he; and they have all the same breath: and man hath nothing more than beast: for all are vain.
20. All things come to one place: all things are made of dust, and return to dust.
21. Who knoweth whether the breath of men go up, and the breath of cattle go down under the earth?
22. Therefore I saw that there is nothing better than that a man should be glad in his work: for that is his portion. For who shall bring him to see what shall come after him?

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 4

More distant doctrine wherein true happiness does not consist.

1. I turned, and saw all that were wronged under the sun: and, behold, there were tears of them that were wronged, and had no comforter: and they that wronged them were too mighty to have a comforter.
2. Then I praised the dead which were dead, rather than the living which had life.
3. And he that is not yet is better than both, and is not aware of the evil that is done under the sun.
4. I have seen work and skill in all things: one envieth another. That also is vain and toil.
5. For a fool claspeth his fingers together, and eateth his flesh.
6. It is better to have one hand full of peace than both fists full of trouble and sorrow.
7. I turned, and saw vanity under the sun.
8. He is one, and not one; he hath neither child nor brethren: neither is there an end of his labour, neither are his eyes full of riches. Whom do I labour after, and break off my soul? This also is vain, and wicked toil:
9. Two are better than one: for they enjoy their work well.
10. If a man fall, his companion shall help him up. Woe to him who is alone! If he falls, there is no one to help him up.
11. even if two lie together, they warm themselves; how can' one become warm?
12. One may be overcome, but two may withstand: for a threefold cord is not easily broken.
13. A poor child that is wise is better than an old king that is a fool, and knoweth not how to beware.
14. One cometh out of prison unto the kingdom; and one born in his kingdom is impoverished.
15. And I saw that every living thing that is under the sun walketh by one in the child that shall arise in his stead.
16. And there was no end of the people that went before him, or of them that followed him: yet they were not glad. This also is a vain and grievous thing.

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 5

From the path to true bliss,

17. Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and come and hear. This is better than the sacrifice of fools: for they know not what evil they do.

Chap. 5, v. 1. Be not quick with thy mouth, and let not thy heart haste to speak any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

2. For where there is much sorrow, there come dreams: and where there are many words, there is heard a fool.

3. When thou vowest a vow unto God, thou shalt not consume to keep it: for he hath no pleasure in fools. That which thou vowest, keep it.

4. It is better that thou vow nothing, than that thou keep not that which thou vowest.

5. Curse not thy mouth, that it may deceive thy flesh: neither say thou before the angel, I am innocent. God will be angry with thy voice, and condemn all the works of thy hands.

6. Where there are many dreams, there is vanity and many words; but fear God!

7. When thou seest the poor wronged, and righteousness and justice taken away in the land, marvel not at the noble: for there is yet a high guardian above the high, and there are yet higher than these two.

8. About this is the king throughout all the land, to build the field.

9. He that loveth money shall never be satisfied with money: he that loveth riches shall not profit thereby. This also is vain.

10. For where there is much good, there are many that eat it: and what is he worthy that hath it, without seeing it with his eyes?

11. To him that worketh sleep is sweet, whether he have eaten little, or whether he have eaten much: but the rich man's abundance maketh him not sleep.

12. It is an evil plague that I have seen under the sun, to keep wealth to the hurt of him that hath it.

13. For the rich man perisheth with great sorrow: and if he have begotten a son, he hath nothing left in his hand.

14. As he came naked from his mother's womb, so he goeth again as he came, and taketh nothing of his work in his hand with him when he goeth.

15. This is an evil plague, because he is gone as he came. What profit is it to him, that he hath wrought in the wind?

16. For all his life he hath eaten in darkness, and in great sorrow, and in sickness, and in grief.

17. Now therefore I consider it good to eat and to drink, and to be of good cheer in all the work that a man doeth under the sun all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for that is his portion.

18. For unto whomsoever God giveth riches, and goods, and power, to eat thereof, and to drink thereof for his portion, and to be merry in his labour, this is the gift of God.

19. For he thinketh not much of the miserable life, because God delighteth his heart.

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 6

Avarice and worldly honor a vain thing.

1. It is a calamity that I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men: 2. One to whom God hath given riches, goods, and honor, and lacketh none that his heart desireth, and yet God giveth him not power to enjoy them, but another devoureth them: this is vain and an evil plague.

3. If he beget an hundred children, and live so long, that he live many years, and his soul be not satisfied with good, and remain without a grave, of him I say that untimely birth is better than he.

4. For in vanity he cometh, and in darkness he passeth away, and his name abideth in darkness, 5. Is not glad of the sun, and knows no rest either here or there.

6. Though he live two thousand years, yet hath he no good courage. Is it not all in one place?

7. To every man is laid up work according to his measure: but the heart cannot keep it up.

8. For what doth a wise man judge more than a fool? What dare Anne, that he should be among the living?

9. It is better to use the present good, than to think of other things. This is also vanity and misery.

10. What is the matter, though a man be highly renowned, yet know ye that he is a man, and be not grieved with that which is too mighty for him?

11. For the vain thing is too much: what hath a man more of it?

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 7

From means to bliss.

1. For who knoweth what shall profit a man in life, as long as he liveth in his vanity, which passeth away as a shadow? Or who shall tell man what shall come after him under the sun?

2. a good rumour is better than good ointment, and the day of death neither the day of birth.

3. It is better to go into the house of complaint than into the house of drunkenness: in the latter is the end of all men, and the living take it to heart.

4. It is better to mourn than to laugh: for by mourning the heart is made better.

5. The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, and the heart of fools in the house of gladness.

6. It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise than to hear the song of fools.

7. For the laughter of the fool is as the crackling of thorns among pots; and that also is vain.

8. A contumacious man maketh a wise man unwilling, and corrupteth a meek heart.

9. the end of a thing is better than its beginning. A patient spirit is better than a high spirit.

10. Be not quick to anger: for anger resteth in the heart of a fool.

11. Say not, What is it that the former days were better than these? For thou askest not wisely.

12. wisdom is good with an inheritance, and helps that one may rejoice in the sun.

13. For wisdom shieldeth, and money also shieldeth: but wisdom giveth life to him that hath it.

14. Behold the works of God: for who can make evil that which he bendeth?

15. Be of good cheer in the good day, and take the evil day also for good: for this God hath made beside that, that man should not know what is to come.

16. All manner of things have I seen in the time of my vanity. There is a righteous man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is an ungodly man that liveth long in his wickedness.

17. Be not too righteous, nor too wise, lest thou corrupt thyself.

18. Be not overmuch ungodly, and be not foolish, lest thou die untimely.

19. It is good for thee to take hold of these things, and not to let those things out of thine hand: for he that feareth God escapeth all these things.

20. Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men that are in the city. For there is not a man upon the earth that doeth good, and sinneth not.

22. Neither take to thine heart all that is said, lest thou hear thy servant curse thee.

23. For thine heart knoweth that thou hast often cursed others also.

24. All these things have I tried wisely. I thought I would be wise; but she came farther from me.

25. It is far off; what shall it be? and it is very deep; who shall find it?

26. I turned my heart to know, and to search, and to seek wisdom and arts; to know the folly of the wicked, and the error of the foolish,

27. And found that such a woman, whose heart is a net and a snare, and her hands are bands, is more bitter than death. He that pleaseth God shall escape her; but the sinner shall be snared by her.

28. Behold, these things have I found, saith the preacher, one by one, that I might learn art.

29. And my soul seeketh yet, and hath not found it. I have found one man in a thousand, but I have not found a woman among them all.

30. Behold, I have found that God hath made man upright: but they seek many arts.

Ch. 8, v. 1. who is so wise? and who can interpret it?

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 8

Other rules to happiness against this life vanity.

1. The wisdom of man enlighteneth his face: but he that is bold is hostile, 2. I keep the word of the King and the oath of God.

3. Hasten not to depart from his presence, neither tarry in evil: for he doeth that which he lusteth after.

4. There is power in the king's word: and who shall say unto him, What doest thou?
5. He that keepeth the commandment shall know no evil: but the heart of a wise man knoweth the time and the manner.
6. For to every purpose there is a season and a time: for the calamity of man is much with him.
7. For he knoweth not what hath been; and who shall tell him what shall be?
8. A man hath not power over the spirit to resist the spirit; neither hath he power in the time of death, neither is he loosed in the battle: neither doth the ungodly deliver the ungodly.
9. I have seen all these things, and have set my heart upon all the works that are done under the sun. One man at a time ruleth over another to his own hurt.
10. And there I saw the wicked buried, which had walked, and had walked in the holy place, and were forgotten in the city, because they had done so. This also is vain.
11. Because judgment of evil works is not soon executed, thereby men's hearts are filled with doing evil.
12. Though a sinner do evil a hundred times, and yet live long, yet I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, that fear his face.
13. For it shall not prosper the wicked, neither shall they live long, as a shadow, that fear not God.
14. There is a vanity that is done in the earth. The righteous are as though they had the works of the wicked; and the wicked are as though they had the works of the righteous. And I said, This also is vanity.
15. Therefore I commend joy, that there is nothing better for a man under the sun, than to eat and to drink, and to be merry: and such shall he have of the work of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.
16. I gave my heart to know the wisdom, and to behold the travail that is upon the earth, that no man should see sleep with his eyes day or night.
17. And I saw all the works of God. For a man cannot find the work that is done under the sun; and the more a man labors to seek, the less he finds. Though he say, I am wise, and know it, yet can he not find it.

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 9

Let vanity be confronted, and let wisdom be exercised.

1. For I have taken all these things to heart, to search out all these things, that the righteous and the wise are, and their subjects in the hand of God. But no man knoweth neither the love nor the hate of any that he hath before him.

2. It befalleth one as well as another, the righteous as well as the wicked, the good and the clean as well as the unclean, he that sacrificeth as well as he that sacrificeth not. As it is with the good, so it is with the sinner. As it is with the perjurer, so it is with him who fears the oath.

3. This is an evil thing of all that is done under the sun, that it goeth to one as it goeth to another: therefore also the heart of men is filled with evil, and folly is in their heart, while they live; and after that they die.

4. For with all living things there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion.

5. For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither do they deserve any more; for their memory is forgotten,

6. That they be no more loved, nor hated, nor envied; neither have they any more any part in the world in anything that is done under the sun.

7. Go therefore, eat thy bread with gladness, drink thy wine with good courage: for thy work is pleasing unto God.

8. Let thy garments be always white, and let not thy head lack ointment.

9. Use life with thy wife, whom thou lovest, as long as thou hast the vain life which God hath given thee under the sun, as long as thy vain life endureth: for this is thy portion in life, and in thy work which thou doest under the sun.

10. Whatsoever thou hast power to do, do it fresh: for in hell, whither thou goest, there is neither work, nor skill, nor understanding, nor wisdom.

11. I turned, and saw how it is under the sun, that to run is not to be swift, to fight is not to be strong, to eat is not to be skillful, to be rich is not to be wise; that a man may be pleasant is not that he may do a thing well, but all depends upon time and fortune.

12. Neither knoweth man his time: but as the fishes are taken with a noisome snare, and as the birds are caught with a snare, so men are taken with the evil time, when it suddenly cometh upon them.

13. I have also seen this wisdom under the sun, which seemed great unto me, 14. And there was a small city, and few people in it: and there came a great king, and filled it, and built great fortresses about it, 15. And there was found in it a poor wise man, which was able to save that city by his wisdom:

and no man remembered that poor man.

16. Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength. Nor was the poor man's wisdom despised, nor his words obeyed.

17. For the words of the wise are more effectual among the quiet, than the shouting of lords among fools.

18. For wisdom is better than armour: but a few knaves destroy much good.

Ch. 10, v. 1. So the noxious flies spoil good ointments. Therefore at times folly is better than wisdom and honour.

2. For the heart of the wise is on his right hand: but the heart of the fool is on his left.

3. Though the fool himself be foolish in his doings, yet he thinketh every man a fool.

4. Wherefore, if a mighty one go against thy will, be not dismayed: for forbearance stilleth great evil.

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 10

Of authorities and subjects.

5. There is a calamity that I have seen under the sun, namely, foolishness, which is common among the mighty,

6. That a fool sitteth in great dignity, and the rich sit down here.

7. I saw servants on horses, and princes walking as servants.

8. But he that maketh a pit shall fall into three: and he that breaketh the fence shall be stung by a serpent.

9. He that rolleth away stones shall have trouble; and he that cleaveth wood shall be hurt thereby.

10. If an iron be blunt, and the edge remain unsharpened, it must be sharpened again with power: so also wisdom followeth diligence.

11. A launderer is nothing better than a serpent that stings unsworn.

12. The words of a wise man's mouth are pleasant: but the lips of a fool devour him.

13. The beginning of his words is foolishness, and the end is pernicious folly.

14. A fool speaketh much: for a man knoweth not what hath been; and who shall tell him what shall be after him?

15. the work of the fools becomes sour to them, because one does not know to go to the city.

16. Woe unto thee, O land, whose king is a child, and whose prince eateth early!

17. Blessed art thou, O land, whose king is noble, and whose prince eateth in due season, for strength, and not for pleasure.

18. (For by slothfulness the beams sink, and by negligent hands the house is dripping).

19. That maketh bread to make merry, and wine to make glad the living, and money to make all things work for them.

20. Curse not the king in thine heart, neither curse the rich man in thy bedchamber: for the fowls of the air carry the voice, and they that have wings repeat it.

Chapter 11

To practice goodness; to shun anxious worry.

1. Let thy bread pass over the waters, and thou shalt find it for a long time.

2. Divide from among seven, and from among eight: for thou knowest not what evil shall come upon the earth.

3. When the clouds are full, they give rain upon the earth: and when the tree falleth, let it fall toward the south, or toward the north, upon what place it falleth, there shall it lie.

4. He that looketh to the wind soweth not, and he that looketh to the clouds reapeth not.

5. As thou knowest not the way of the wind, and as the bones are prepared in the womb, so thou canst not know the work of God which he doeth everywhere.

6. Early see thy seed, and let not thine hand depart in the evening: for thou knowest not whether it be this or that: and if it be both, so much the better.

7. The light is sweet, and it is pleasant to the eyes to see the sun.

8. If a man live a long time, and be merry in all things, he remembereth but the evil days, that they are so many: for all that he hath met with is vain.

(Ecclesiastes)

Chapter 12

Of Grievousness of Age and God's Judgment.

9. Rejoice therefore, O young man, in thy youth; and let thine heart be merry in thy youth. Do that which thy heart lusteth after, and is pleasing to thine eyes: and know that God will bring thee into judgment for all this.

10. Put away sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy body: for childhood and youth are vain.

Ch. 12, v. 1 Remember thy Maker in thy youth, before the evil days come, and the years come, when thou shalt say, They please me not,

2. Before the sun and the light, the moon and the stars, be darkened, and the clouds return after the rain,

3. At the time when the keepers of the house tremble, and the strong are bowed down, and the millers stand idle, because they have been so few; and the faces through the windows are darkened,

4. and the doors of the street are shut, that the voice of the miller's wife may be hushed, and awake when the bird sings, and all the daughters of song bend down, 5. That even the high ones may fear and be afraid in the way; when the almond tree blossometh, and the locust is burdened, and all pleasure perisheth (for man goeth away, as he abideth for ever, and the accusers go about in the street,

6. Before the silver cord be taken away, and the fountain of gold run down, and the bucket be broken in the fountain, and the wheel be broken in the fountain.

7. For the dust must return to the earth as it was, and the spirit to God who gave it.

8. It is all vain, said the preacher, all vain!

9. This same preacher was not only wise, but taught the people good doctrine, and discerned, and searched out, and set forth many sayings.

10. He sought to find pleasant words, and wrote rightly the words of truth.

11. These words of the wise are spears and nails, written by the masters of the assemblies, and given by a shepherd.

12. Beware, my son, of others more: for there is no end of much bookmaking, and much preaching weariseth out the body.

13. Let us hear the main sum of all doctrine: Fear God and keep His commandments, for this belongs to all men.

14. For God shall bring all works into judgment, which is hid, whether it be good or evil.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Song of Solomon (Song of Songs) ^

Chapter 1

The Christian Church longs for her Bridegroom, Christ, to whom she is promised and united in love.

1. the Song of Solomon.

2. Let him kiss me with the kiss of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine; 3. That they may smell thy good ointment. Thy name is an ointment poured out: therefore do the handmaids love thee.

4: Lead me after thee, and we will run. The king leadeth me into his chamber. We rejoice and are glad in thee; We remember thy love more than wine. The pious love thee.

5. I am black, but I am lovely, O daughters of Jerusalem, like the tents of Kedar, like the carpets of Solomon.

6. Look not upon me, because I am black: for the sun hath burned me. My mother's children are angry with me. They have made me the keeper of the vineyards: but the vineyard which I had, I have not kept it.

7. Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou retest at noonday, that I walk not to and fro among the flocks of thy companions.

8. If thou knowest not thyself, O fairest of women, go out in the footsteps of the sheep, and feed thy goats by the shepherds' houses.

9. I will liken thee, my friend, unto my travelling witness unto Pharaoh's chariot.

10. Thy cheeks are set in braces, and thy neck in chains.

11. We will make thee clasps of gold, and silver spangles.

12. And when the king turned himself, my nard gave his smell.

13. My friend is a clump of myrrh that hangeth between my breasts.

14. My friend is a grape of Kopher unto me in the vineyards of Engeddi.
15. Behold, my friend, thou art fair, fair art thou; thine eyes are as the eyes of a dove.

16. Behold, my friend, thou art fair and lovely. Our bed is green.

17. The beams of our houses are cedars, and our laths are cyresses.

(Song of Solomon)

Chapter 2

Love and sorrow are common to Christo and his bride.

1. I am a flower to Saron, and a rose in the valley.

2. As a rose among thorns, so is my friend among daughters.

3. As an apple tree among the wild trees, so is my friend among the sons. I sit under the shade of him whom I desire, And his fruit is sweet to my throat.

4. He leadeth me into the wine cellar, and love is his banner over me.

5. He hath refreshed me with flowers, and fed me with apples: for I am sick of love.

6. His left hand is under my head, and his right hand is upon me.

7. I adjure you, O daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, or by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up my friend, nor stir her up, until ye yourselves fall.

(Epistle on the day of the Visitation.)

8. There is the voice of my friend. Behold, he cometh, and leapeth upon the mountains, and leapeth upon the hills.

9. My friend is like a roe deer, or a young hart. Behold, he standeth behind our wall, and looketh through the window, and peepeth through the lattice.

10. My friend answereth and saith unto me, Arise, my friend, my fair one, and come hither.

11. For, behold, the winter is past, and the rain is gone and gone; 12. The flowers are come forth in the land, the spring is come, and the turtledove is heard in our land;

13. The fig tree has gained nodes, the vines have gained eyes and give their smell. Arise, my friend, and come, my beautiful one, come here!

14. My dove in the holes of the rock, in the clefts of the stone, show me thy form, let me hear thy voice. For thy voice is sweet, and thy form lovely.

15. Fear us the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vineyards: for our vineyards have gained eyes.

16. My friend is mine, and I am his that feedeth among the roses, 17. Till the day be cool, and the shadow depart. Turn back, become like a deer, my friend, or like a young stag on the Scheideberge!

(Song of Solomon)

Chapter 3

Christ his church's mighty shoe.

1. I sought in my bed at night him whom my soul loveth. I sought, but found him not.

2. I will arise, and go about the city in the streets and lanes, and seek him whom my soul loveth.

I sought, but found him not.

3. The watchmen that go about the city found me: Have ye not seen him whom my soul loveth?

4. And when I had passed a little before them, I found him whom my soul loveth. I hold him, and will not leave him, Till I bring him into my mother's house, Into my mother's chamber.

5. I adjure you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes or hinds of the field, that ye stir not up my friend, nor stir her up, till she herself be fallen.

6. Who is she that cometh up out of the wilderness as a straight smoke, as the smoke of myrrh, and frankincense, and all manner of powder of an apothecary?

7. Behold, round about the bed of Solomon stand threescore and ten strong men of the mighty men of Israel.

8. They hold all swords, and are skillful in battle. Every man hath his sword upon his thigh for fear of the night.

9. And king Solomon made him a litter of wood out of Lebanon.

10. The pillars thereof were of silver, the covering of gold, the seat of purple, the floor in the midst thereof was beautifully paved for the daughters' sake in Jerusalem.

11. Come forth, ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon in the crown, that his mother hath crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

(Song of Solomon)

Chapter 4

Beauty of the Church a gift of grace.

1. Behold, my friend, thou art fair behold, fair art thou! Thine eyes are as the eyes of doves among thy braids. Thy hair is like the herds of goats that are shorn in mount Gilead.

2. Thy teeth are like the flock of circumcised wool, which come out of the flood, which bear twins at all times; and there is none barren among them.

3. Thy lips are like a rosy cord, and thy speech is sweet. Thy cheeks are like the slit on the pomegranate between thy braids.

4. Thy neck is like the tower of David, built with breastworks; there hang a thousand shields thereon, and all the weapons of the mighty.

5. thy two breasts are like two young doe twins grazing among the roses, 6. Till the day be cool, and the shadow be removed. I will go to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.

7. thou art all things fair, my friend, and there is no spot in thee.

8. Come, my bride, from Lebanon, come from Lebanon. Come in, come in from the height of Amana, from the height of Senir and Hermon, from the dwellings of lions, from the mountains of leopards.

9. Thou hast taken my heart, my sister, dear bride, with thine eyes one, and with thy necklaces one.

10. How beautiful are thy breasts, my sister, my dear bride! Thy breasts are more sweet than wine, and the smell of thy ointments surpasses all spices.

11. Thy lips, my bride, are as honey dripping; honey and milk are under thy tongue; and the smell of thy garments is as the smell of Lebanon.

12. My sister, dear bride, you are a closed garden, a closed spring, a sealed well.

13. Thy growth is like a garden of pomegranates, with noble fruit, Cyprus with nard, 14. nard with saffron, calamus, and tin names, with all manner of trees of frankincense, myrrh, and aloes, with all the best spices.

15. As a garden fountain, as a spring of living waters flowing from Lebanon.

16. Arise, north wind, and come, south wind, and woe through my garden, that his spices may drip!

(Song of Solomon)

Chapter 5

Christ is invited by the church out of love for guests and praised for his beauty.

17. Let my friend come into his garden, and eat of his noble fruit.

Chap. 5, v. 1. I come, my sister, dear bride, into my garden. I have broken off my myrrh together with my spices; I have eaten of my seed together with my honey; I have drunk of my wine together with my milk. Eat, my beloved, and drink, my friends, and be drunk!

2. I sleep, but my heart waketh. There is the voice of my friend knocking, Open to me, my dear friend, my sister, my dove, my pious: for my head is full of dew, and my locks of night-drops.

3. I have taken off my skirt, how shall I put it on again? I have washed my feet, how shall I sully them again?

4. But my friend put his hand through the hole, and my body trembled at it.

5. And I arose to give up my friend; and my hands were dripping with myrrh, and myrrh ran upon my fingers by the latch of the lock.

6. And when I had opened my friend, he was gone, and departed. Then went out my soul after his word: I sought him, but found him not: I called, but he answered me not.

7. And the keepers of the city found me, and smote me sore: the keepers of the wall took away my veil.

8. I beseech you, ye daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my friend, tell him that I lie sick of love.

9. What is thy friend above other friends, O thou fairest of women? What is thy friend before other friends, that thou hast thus adjured us?

10. my friend is white and red, chosen among many thousands.

11. His head is the finest gold. His curls are frizzy, black as a raven.

12. His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of water, washed with milk, and standing in fullness.

13. His cheeks are like the growing of the spices of the apothecaries. His lips are like roses dripping with flowing myrrh.

14. His hands are like rings of gold, full of turquoises; His body is as pure ivory adorned with sapphires.

15. His legs are like pillars of marble, founded upon feet of gold. His form is like Lebanon, chosen like cedars.

16. His throat is sweet, and all sweetness. Such a one is my friend; my friend is such, O daughters of Jerusalem!

(Song of Solomon)

Chapter 6

The church is commended and visited upon its confession of Christ.

17. Whither then hath thy friend gone, O thou fairest of women?

Whither hath thy friend turned?

Let us seek him with thee.

Ch. 6, v. 1. My friend is gone down to his garden, to the spice garden, to feed among the gardens, and to break the roses.

2. My friend is mine, and I am his that feedeth among the roses.

3. Thou art fair, my friend, as Thirzah, lovely as Jerusalem, terrible as Heerspitzen.

4. Turn away thine eyes from me; for they make me ruthless: thy hair is as a flock of goats shorn in mount Gilead.

5. Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which come out of the flood, which bear twins every one; and there is not one barren among them.

6. your cheeks are like a slit on the pomegranate between your braids.

7. Sixty are the queens, and fourscore the concubines; and there is no number of virgins.

8. But one is my dove, my pious; one is her mother's beloved, and her mother's elect. When they saw the daughters, they blessed them: the queens and the concubines praised them.

9. Who is she that cometh forth as the dawn, fair as the moon, chosen as the sun, terrible as the tops of the hosts?

10. I went down into the garden of nuts, to see the shrubs by the brook, to see whether the vine blossomed, whether the pomegranates were green.

11. My soul knew it not, that he had set me by the chariot of Ammi-Nadib.

12. Return again, return again, O Sulamith! Return again, return again, that we may behold thee!

What do you see in Sulamith? The round dance at Mahanaim.

(Song of Solomon)

Chapter 7

Farther praise and prayer of the church.

1. How beautiful is thy walk in thy shoes, O prince's daughter! Thy loins are like two clasps together, which the master's hand hath made.
 2. Thy navel is like a round cup that never lacketh drink. Thy belly is like a heap of wheat, covered with roses.
 3. Your two breasts are like two young deer twins.
 4. Thy neck is like an ivory tower. Thine eyes are like the pools of Heshbon, at the gate of Bathrabbim. Thy nose is like the tower of Lebanon, which looketh toward Damascus.
 5. Thy head is upon thee like Carmel. The hair of thy head is bound in folds like the purple of the king.
 6. How beautiful and how lovely art thou, O love of lusts!
 7. Thy length is like a palm tree, and thy breasts like grapes.
 8. I said: I must climb the palm tree and take hold of its branches. Let thy breasts be as grapes upon the vine, and thy nose as the smell of apples.
 9. And thy throat like good wine, which is smooth unto my friend, and speaketh of far-off things.
 10. my friend is mine and he sticks up for me too.
 11. Come, my friend, let us go out into the field, and stay in the villages,
 12. That we may arise early unto the vineyards, and see whether the vine be in blossom, and whether the eyes be grown, and whether the pomegranates be put forth: then will I give thee my breasts.
 13. The lilies give off the smell, and at our door are all kinds of noble fruits. My friend, I have kept both this year's and far-off ones for you.
- (Song of Solomon)

Chapter 8

Last love talk of Christ and His Church.

1. O that I might find thee, my brother, sucking my mother's breasts, out of doors, and kiss thee, that no man should mock me!
2. I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, where thou shouldest teach me: and I would water thee with wine made, and with the juice of my pomegranates.
3. His left hand is under my head, and his right hand is upon me.
4. I charge you, daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up nor stir up my love, until ye yourselves be pleased.

5. Who is she that cometh up from the wilderness, and leaneth upon her friend? Under the apple tree I waked thee, When thy mother bare thee, When she that bare thee lay with thee.

6. Set me as a seal upon thine heart, and as a seal upon thine arm. For love is strong as death, and zeal is firm as hell. Their embers are fiery, and a flame of the LORD, 7. That even much water may not quench love, nor the rivers drown it. If a man were to give all that is in his house for love, it would be worth nothing.

8. Our sister is small and has no breasts. What should we do to our sister, if one should address her now?

9. If it be a wall, let us build silver bulwarks upon it. If it be a door, let us strengthen it with cedar planks.

10. I am a wall, and my breasts are as towers. There have I been before his eyes, as which finds peace.

11. Solomon had a vineyard in Baalhamon. And he gave the vineyard to the keepers, that every one might bring a thousand shekels of silver for the fruit thereof.

12. My vineyard is before me. To thee, Solomon, is due a thousand; but to the keepers, two hundred, with its fruit.

13. Thou that dwellest in the gardens, let me hear thy voice: the companies take heed.

14. Flee, my friend, and be like a deer or young stag on the Würzberge.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Prophet Isaiah (Isaiah) ^

Chapter 1

Sermon of repentance to the ungrateful Jews.

1. This is the vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw of Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Jehizkiah, kings of Judah.

2. Hear, ye heavens, and earth, take heed. For the LORD speaketh: I have raised up and exalted children, and they have fallen away from me.

3. An ox knoweth his master, and an ass his master's crib: but Israel knoweth it not, neither do my people hear it.

4. O woe unto the sinful people, the people of great iniquity, the wicked seed, the children of iniquity, which forsake the LORD, blaspheming the Holy One in Israel, draw back!
5. What more shall they smite upon you, if ye do but the more to depart? The whole head is sick, the whole heart is dull.
6. From the sole of his foot even to his head there is no soundness in him, but sores and welts and boils, which are not healed, neither bound up, nor soothed with oil.
7. Your land is desolate, your cities are burned with fire; strangers devour your fields before your eyes, and is desolate, as that which is devastated by strangers.
8. And that which is left of the daughter of Zion is as a little house in the vineyard, as a tent of the night in the gourds, as a desolate city.
9. If the LORD of hosts left us not a little, we should be as Sodom, and as Gomorrha.
10. Hear the word of the LORD, ye princes of Sodom; give ear to the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrha.
11. What is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD. I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and of the fat of the fatlings; and I have no desire for the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of goats.
12. When ye come in to appear before me, who shall require this of your hands, that ye should tread in my court?
13. Offer no more meat offerings in vain. The incense is abomination unto me: the new moons and the sabbaths, when ye come together, and are troubled and afraid, them will I not like.
14. My soul hateth your new moons and your seasons: I am weary of them; I am weary of suffering.
15. And though ye spread forth your hands, yet will I hide mine eyes from you; and though ye pray much, yet will I not hear you; for dear hands are full of blood.
16. Wash, cleanse yourselves, put away your evil from mine eyes, depart from evil.
17. Learn to do good, seek justice, help the oppressed, give justice to the fatherless, and help the widow's cause.
18. Come then, and let us reason together, saith the LORD. If sin be as scarlet, it shall be as white as snow: and if it be as raisin, it shall be as wool.

19. If ye will obey me, ye shall enjoy the good of the land.
 20. But if ye refuse and disobey, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD saith it.
 21. How is it that the good city is become a harlot? It was full of justice, righteousness dwelt therein, but now murderers
 22. Thy silver is become foam, and thy drink is mixed with water.
 23. Thy princes are renegades and thieves: they all take gifts gladly, and seek after gifts: they do not do justice to the fatherless, and the widow's cause cometh not before them.
 24. Therefore saith the LORD of hosts, the mighty one in Israel; O woe! I will be comforted by mine enemies, and avenged by mine enemies;
 25. And I will turn mine hand against thee, and sweep away thy foam most purely, and put away all thy tin.
 26. And give thee judges again, as they were before, and councillors, as at the beginning. Then shalt thou be called a city of righteousness, and a pious city.
 27. Zion must be redeemed by judgment, and her captives by righteousness, 28. That transgressors and sinners should be broken in pieces together, and that they which forsake the LORD should perish.
 29. For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye delight in, and ashamed of the gardens which ye choose,
 30. When ye shall be as an oak tree with dry leaves, and as a garden without water; 11. When the protection shall be like ashes, and his doings like sparks, and both shall be kindled together, that no man put them out.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 2

Profession of the Gentiles in the place of the Jews.

1. This is it that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw of Judah and Jerusalem: 2. In the latter days the mountain where the house of the LORD is shall surely be higher than all mountains, and shall be exalted above all hills: and all nations shall run unto it, 3. And many nations shall go and say, Come, and let us go up into the mount of the LORD, unto the house of the God of Jacob, that he may teach us his ways, and that we may walk in his paths. For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD out of Jerusalem.

4. And he shall judge the nations, and punish many people. And they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. For no nation shall lift up a sword against another, neither shall they learn to fight any more.

5. Come ye therefore from the house of Jacob, and let us walk in the light of the LORD.

6. But thou hast forsaken thy people, the house of Jacob: for they do more than they that are against the east, and are as the Philistines, and do much with strange children.

7. Their land is full of silver and gold, and there is no end of their treasures: their land is full of horses, and there is no end of their chariots.

8. Their land also is full of idols, and they worship the work of their hands, which their fingers have made.

9. there the riffraff stoopeth, there the nobles humble themselves. You will not forgive them.

10. Go into the rock, and hide thyself in the earth, from the fear of the LORD, and from his glorious majesty.

11. For every high eye shall be abased, and every high man shall stoop: but the LORD alone shall be high in that day.

12. For the day of the LORD of hosts shall pass upon all that is proud, and upon all that is high, and upon all that is exalted, and shall be humbled,

13. And over all the tall and lofty cedars of Lebanon, and over all the oaks of Bashan, 14. Over all the high mountains, and over all the lofty hills,

15. Over all high towers, and over all strong walls,

16. Over all the ships in the sea, and over all the delicious work, 17.

That all the high places of men should bow down, and humble themselves which are high; and that the LORD alone should be high at that time.

18. And the idols shall be utterly destroyed.

19. And they shall walk in the caves of the rocks, and in the clefts of the earth, for the fear of the LORD, and for his glorious majesty, when he shall arise to terrify the earth.

20. In that day shall every man cast away his idols of silver and of gold, which he had made for him to worship, into the holes of moles and bats,

21. That he may grovel in the clefts of the stones and in the crags for the fear of the LORD, and for his glorious majesty, when he shall arise to terrify the earth.

22. Cease therefore from the man that hath breath in his nostrils: for ye know not how highly he is esteemed.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 3

Punishment of ruthlessness and arrogance.

1. For, behold, the LORD of hosts shall take from Jerusalem and from Judah every store, all the store of bread, and all the store of water,

2. strong men and men of war, judges, prophets, soothsayers, and old men, 3. captains over fifty, and honest men, and counsellors, and wise workmen, and prudent orators.

4. And I will give them young men to be rulers, and children shall rule over them.

5. And the people shall drudge, one against another, and every man against his neighbour: and the younger shall be proud against the old, and a loose man against the upright.

6. Then shall one seize his brother out of his father's house: Thou hast clothes; be our prince, help thou this accident!

7. And he shall swear in that day, and say, I am no physician; there is neither bread nor raiment in mine house: set me not over the people.

8. For Jerusalem is fallen, and Judah is fallen, because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to resist the eyes of his majesty.

9. Their nature hath they no secret; they glory in their sin, as they did in Sodom, and hide it not.

Woe to their soul! For thereby they bring all calamity upon themselves.

10. Preach of the righteous, that they do well: for they shall eat the fruit of their works.

11. But woe unto the wicked, because they are wicked: and it shall be recompensed unto them according to their deserts.

12. Children are drivers of my people, and wives rule over them. My people, your comforters deceive you and destroy the way you should go.

13. But the LORD standeth in judgment, and hath stood to judge the nations.

14. And the LORD cometh to judgment with the elders of his people, and with his princes. For ye have spoiled the vineyard, and the spoil of the poor is in your house.

15. Why do ye tread down my people, and break in pieces the persons of the wretched? saith the LORD of hosts.

16. And the LORD saith, Because the daughters of Zion are proud, and walk with their necks lifted up, and their faces made up, and they walk, and they walk with their tails down, and they have fine shoes upon their feet,

17. Then shall the LORD make the crown of the daughters of Zion bald, and the LORD shall take away their jewels.

18. In that day shall the LORD take away the ornaments of the precious shoes, and the harness, and the clasps,

19. the chains, the bracelets, the bonnets,

20. the tinsel, the tresses, the laces, the muslins, the earrings, 21. The rings, the hair bands,

22. The ceremonial garments, the cloaks, the veils, the bags,

23. the mirrors, the collars, the braids, the smocks

24. And there shall be stench for a good smell, and a loose band for a girdle, and a bald head for a frizzy hair, and for a broad mantle a tight sackcloth; all these things instead of thy beauty.

25. Thy rabble shall fall by the sword, and thy warriors in battle.

26. And her gates shall mourn and lament, and she shall sit miserable upon the earth, Ch. 4, v. 1. That seven wives shall take hold of one man at that time, and say: We will feed and clothe ourselves; let us only be called by thy name, that our reproach may be taken from us.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 4

Prophecy of Christo.

2. In that day shall the branch of the LORD be sweet and precious, and the fruit of the earth glorious and comely in them that are preserved in Israel.

3. And whosoever shall be left in Zion, and shall remain in Jerusalem, he shall be called holy, every one that is written among the living in Jerusalem.

4. Then shall the LORD wash the filthiness of the daughters of Zion, and drive out the blood of Jerusalem from her, by the Spirit that judgeth, and kindleth a fire.

5. And the LORD shall make over all the tabernacle of mount Zion, and where it is gathered, clouds and smoke by day, and the brightness of fire burning by night. For there shall be a screen over all that is glorious;

6. And shall be a tabernacle for a shadow of the day from the heat, and a refuge and a hiding place from the weather and rain.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 5

From the Jewish vineyard.

1. Come, I will sing to my beloved a song of my cousin's from his vineyard. My beloved has a vineyard in a fat place.

2. And he fenced it, and covered it with heaps of stones, and put noble vines therein. And he built a tower in it, and digged a winepress in it, and waited for it to bring forth grapes. But he brought forth grapes.

3. Now therefore judge, ye citizens of Jerusalem, and ye men of Judah, between me and my vineyard.

4. What more shall be done in my vineyard, that I have not done in it? Why then hath he brought forth seedlings, when I waited for him to bring forth grapes?

5. Now therefore, I will shew you what I will do unto my vineyard. The wall thereof shall be taken away, that it may be desolate; and the fence thereof shall be broken down, that it may be trodden under foot.

6. I will leave it desolate, and it shall not be cut, neither chopped, but thorns and briers shall grow upon it: and I will command the clouds that they rain not upon it.

7. Now the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel; and the men of Judah are his tender flock. He waiteth for justice, behold, it is drudgery; for righteousness, behold, it is lamentation.

8. Woe unto them that set house against house, and bring one field to another, until there be no more room, that they alone may possess the land!

9. It is in the ears of the LORD of hosts: what is the matter, but that the many houses shall be desolate, and the great and the good shall stand waste?

10. For ten acres of vineyard shall yield but one bucket, and one bushel of seed shall yield but one bushel.

11. Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning to be diligent to drink, and sit up to night, to be heated with wine,

12. And they have harps, and psalteries, and timbrels, and pipes, and wine, in their good pleasure, and look not on the work of the LORD, nor consider the business of his hands.

13. Therefore shall my people be taken away unawares; and their nobles shall hunger, and their people thirst.

14. Therefore hath hell opened wide the soul, and opened the jaws without measure, that both her glorious and her vile, both her rich and her merry, may go down, 15. That every man should stoop, and every man be humbled, and the eyes of the proud be humbled,

16. But let the LORD of hosts be exalted in judgment, and let God the Holy One be sanctified in righteousness.

17. Then shall the lambs feed in that place, and the strangers shall feed in the wilderness of fatness.

18. Woe unto them that cleave together with loose cords to do iniquity, and with chariot ropes to sin,

19. Saying: Let his work come quickly and speedily, that we may see it; let it come, and let the stroke of the Holy One come upon Israel, that we may know it.

20. Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil; that turn darkness into light, and light into darkness; that turn sour into sweet, and sweet into sour!

21. Woe unto them that are wise in themselves, and think themselves wise!

22. Woe unto them that are valiant in drinking wine, and warriors in gluttony, 23. Who give judgment to the wicked for a gift, and turn away the judgment of the righteous from them.

24. Therefore as the flame of the fire devoureth straw, and as the tuft taketh up stubble, so shall their root rot, and their shoot as dust. For they despise the law of the LORD of hosts, and blaspheme the words of the Holy One in Israel.

25. Therefore the anger of the LORD is kindled against his people, and he stretcheth out his hand against them, and smiteth them, that the mountains quake; and their carcase is as dung in the streets. And in all this his anger is not abated, but his hand is stretched out.

26. For he shall cast a banner afar off among the heathen, and shall draw them from the ends of the earth. And, behold, they come with haste and speed!

27. And there is none of them that is weary or faint, neither slumbereth nor sleepeth, neither doth his girdle unloose from his loins, neither doth his shoe-strap rent.

28. Their arrows are sharp, and all their bows are strained. The hoofs of his horses are like rocks, and the wheels of his chariots are like a whirlwind.

29. They shall roar like lions, and roar like young lions: they shall roar, and take the spoil, and carry it away, that no man shall deliver.

30. And shall roar upon them in that day as the sea. And when they look upon the land, behold, it is dark with fear, and the light shineth no more above them.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 6

Isaiah sees God's glory.

1. In the year that king Uzziah died, I saw the LORD sitting on a high and lofty throne, and his hem filled the temple.

2. Seraphim stood over him, every one having six wings: with two they covered their faces, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew.

3. And one cried unto another, saying, Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts: the tables of the earth are full of his glory.

4. And the overflowing waves shook at the voice of their cry, and the house was filled with smoke.

5. And I said, Woe is me, I perish! For I am of unclean lips, and dwell among a people of unclean lips: for I have seen the King, the LORD of hosts, with mine eyes.

6. Then one of the seraphim flew unto me, having a burning coal in his hand, which he took with tongs from the altar,

7. And he stirred up my mouth, and said, Behold, thy lips are hereby stirred, that thine iniquity may be put away from thee, and that thy sin may be atoned for.

8. And I heard the voice of the LORD saying, Whom shall I send? Who shall be our messenger?

And I said, Here am I; send me.

9. And he said, Go, and say unto this people, Hear, and understand not; see, and perceive not.

10. Harden the heart of this people, and make their ears thick, and blind their eyes; that they see not with their eyes, nor hear with their ears, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and be healed.

11. And I said, Lord, how long? And he said, Till the cities be desolate without inhabitant, and the houses without people, and the field lie all waste.

12. For the LORD will remove the people afar off, and the land shall be very desolate: 13. But the tenth part shall remain in it: for it shall be taken away, and destroyed, as the oak and the linden tree, which have the trunk, though their leaves be cast off. Such a trunk shall be a holy seed.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 7

The Messiah is to be born of a virgin.

1. And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah king of Judah, that Rezin king of Syria and Pekah the son of Remaliah king of Israel went up to Jerusalem to fight against them, but could not prevail against them.

2. And it was told the house of David, saying, The Syrians rely upon Ephraim. Then his heart and the heart of his people trembled, as the trees of the forest tremble with the wind.

3. And the LORD said unto Isaiah: Go out to meet Ahaz, thou, and Searjashub thy son, unto the end of the water-pipes by the upper pool, by the way of the dyer's field, 4. And say unto him, Beware, and be still. Fear not, and let not thine heart be troubled for these two fires of fire, which smoke, even for the wrath of Rezin with the Syrians, and for the wrath of the son of Remaliah,

5. That the Syrians have made an evil counsel against thee, with Ephraim and the son of Remaliah, saying:

6. And we will go up to Judah, and raise them up, and divide them among us, and make the son of Tabeal king within.

7. For thus saith the LORD GOD; It shall not stand, nor be so,

8. But as Damascus is the head of Syria, so Rezin shall be the head of Damascus. And sixty and five years shall be the end of Ephraim, and they shall be no more one people.

9. And as Samaria is the head of Ephraim, so shall the son of Remaliah be the head of Samaria.

If ye believe not, ye shall not abide.

(Epistle on the day of the Annunciation Mary.)

10. And the LORD spake again unto Alias, saying:

11. Ask thee a sign from the LORD thy God, whether it be in hell below, or in heaven above.

12. But Alias said: I will not require it, lest I tempt the LORD.

13. And he said, Come now, ye of the house of David, is it not enough for you to offend men; ye must also offend my God?

14. Therefore the LORD himself shall give you a sign; Behold, a virgin is with child, and shall bring forth a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.

15. Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know how to reject evil, and to choose good.

16. For before the child learneth to reject evil, and to choose good, the land which thou fearest shall be forsaken of her two kings].

17. But the LORD will bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that are not come since the time that Ephraim was separated from Judah by the king of Assyria;

18. For in that day shall the LORD swallow up the fly that is at the end of the waters of Egypt, and the bee that is in the land of Assyria,

19. And they shall come and lay them all down by the dry brooks, and in the clefts of the rocks, and in every hedge, and in every bush.

20. In that day shall the LORD shave off the head, and the hair of the feet, and take off the beard with a hired clipper, even by them that are beyond the water, as by the king of Assyria.

21. In that day shall a man draw a herd of cows, and two flocks.

22. And he shall have so much to milk, that he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall he eat that is left in the land.

23. For it shall come to pass in that day, that where now there are a thousand vines worth a thousand shekels of silver, there shall be thorns and hedges,

24. To go thither with bows and arrows. For throughout the land there will be thorns and hedges, 25. And it shall come to pass, that in all the mountains which are hewn down with hews, they shall not come for fear of the thorns and the hedges, but shall let oxen go there, and sheep tread thereon.

Ch. 8, v. 1: And the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great letter, and write thereon with a man's pen, saying, Robbery, haste.

2. And I took unto me two faithful witnesses, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah,

3. And I went unto a prophetess, and she conceived, and bare a son. And the LORD said unto me, Call his name Raubebald, hurry up.

4. For before the child can cry: Dear father, dear mother, the power of Damascus and the spoils of Samaria shall be taken away by the king of Assyria.

5. And the LORD spake unto me further, saying;

6. Because this people despised the waters of Shiloh, which were still, and took comfort of Rezin the son of Remaliah,

7. Behold, the LORD shall bring upon them strong waters, and many waters of the river, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory, to pass over all their rivers, and to go over all their banks;

8. And shall break in upon Judah, and shall flood, and go over, until they reach unto the neck, and shall spread their wings, and fill thy land, O Immanuel, as far as it is.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 8

Punishment of all the people of Israel, comfort of the godly.

9. Be ye wicked, ye nations, and yet give way. Hear ye, all ye that are in far countries, Prepare yourselves, and give flight: rather, prepare yourselves, and give flight.

10. Take counsel, and nothing shall come of it. Come to an agreement, and nothing will come of it; for here is Immanuel.

11. For thus saith the LORD unto me, as if he had taken me by the hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying:

12. Ye shall not say, Covenant. This people speak of nothing but covenant. Fear not therefore, as they do; neither be afraid,

13. But sanctify the LORD of hosts. Let him be your fear and your terror,

14. He shall be a sanctification, but a stumblingblock and a rock of offence unto the two houses of Israel, a snare and a trial unto the inhabitants of Jerusalem, 15. That many of them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be entangled, and be taken.

16. Bind up the testimony, seal the law unto my disciples.

17. For I hope in the LORD, which hid his face from the house of Jacob: but I wait for him.

18. Behold, here am I, and the children which the LORD hath given me, for a sign and for a wonder in Israel, from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

19. And when they say unto you, Ye must ask the diviners and the interpreters of signs, which prate and debate; say ye, Shall not a people ask their God? or shall the dead be asked for the living?

20. Yea, according to the law and testimony. If they will not say this, they will not have the dawn,

21. But shall go about in the land smitten hard, and hungry. And when they are hungry, they shall be wroth, and curse their king, and their God.

22. And they shall look upon the earth above them, and shall look upon the earth beneath them, and shall find nothing but gloom and darkness: for they are weary with fear, and go astray in darkness.

Ch. 9, v. 1: For there shall be another trouble that troubleth them, as in the days of old, when it was easy in the land of Zebulun, and in the land of Naphtali; and afterward it was hard by the way of the sea, on this side Jordan, in Galilee of the Gentiles.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 9

The Messiah's birth, name and kingdom.

(Epistle on Christmas Day.)

2. The people that walk in darkness behold a great light; and upon them that dwell in the land of darkness it shineth brightly.

3. Thou makest the heathen much; thou makest not much joy. But before thee shall men rejoice, as one rejoiceth in harvest, as one rejoiceth when he divideth the spoil.

4. For thou hast broken the yoke of their burden, and the rod of their shoulder, and the staff of their driver, as in the days of Midian.

5. For all warfare with tumult and bloody raiment shall be burned up, and consumed with fire.

6. For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, whose dominion is upon his shoulder: and his name is Wonderful, Counsellor, Strength, Hero, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace, 7. That his dominion might be great, and that there should be no end of peace in the throne of David, and in his kingdom; that he might establish it, and strengthen it with judgment and righteousness from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

8. The LORD sent a word in Jacob, and fell in Israel,

9. That all the people of Ephraim, and the inhabitants of Samaria, which say in pride and loftiness of mind, may be brought to remembrance:

10. Bricks are fallen, but we will build it again with pieces: they have cut down mulberry trees, and we will put cedars in their place.

11. For the LORD will raise up the armies of Rezin against them, and will cut off their enemies in multitude:

12. The Syrians in the front, and the Philistines in the rear, shall devour Israel with their mouths.

In all this his anger is not yet abated; his hand is yet stretched out.

13. Neither do the people turn unto him that smiteth them, nor inquire of the LORD of hosts.

14. Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel both head and tail, both branch and stump, in one day.

15. The old men of truth are the head: but the prophets that teach falsely are the tail.

16. For the leaders of this people are deceivers, and they that are led are lost.

17. Therefore the LORD cannot rejoice over their young men, neither have mercy on their fatherless and widows: for they are all hypocrites and wicked, and their mouth speaketh folly.

In all this his wrath is not yet abated; his hand is yet stretched out.

18. For the ungodly is kindled like fire, and devoureth thorns and hedges, and burneth as in a thick forest, and giveth great smoke.

19. For in the wrath of the LORD of hosts the land is darkened, and the people are as meat of fire: they spare not one another.

20. If they rob on the right hand, they hunger: if they eat on the left hand, they are not satisfied.

Every man eateth the flesh of his own arm:

21. Manasseh against Ephraim, and Ephraim against Manasseh, and they together against Judah.

In all this his anger is not abated; his hand is stretched out.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 10

Punishment of injustice. Downfall of the Assyrians.

1. Woe unto the scribes that make unrighteous laws, and that write unrighteous judgments, 2. That they may plead the cause of the poor, and do violence in the judgment of the wretched among my people, that widows may be their spoil, and fatherless their prey.

3. What will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the day of calamity that cometh from afar? To whom will ye flee for help, and where will ye leave your honour?

4. That it be not bowed down among the captives, and fall among them that are slain? In all this his anger is not abated; his hand is yet stretched out.

5. O woe unto Assyria, which is the rod of mine anger, and her hand the staff of my fury!

6. And I will send him against a hypocritical people, and will command him against the people of mine anger, to spoil them, and to divide them, and to tread them down as the dung of the street,

7. Though he mean not so, neither think so in his heart; but his heart is to destroy and to cut off not a few nations.

8. For he saith, Are not all my princes kings?

9. Is not Kalno like Karchemis? Is not Hamath like Arpad? Is not Samaria like Damascus?

10. As mine hand hath found the kingdoms of idols, though their idols were stronger than those that are in Jerusalem and Samaria:

11. Shall I not do to Jerusalem and her idols, as I did to Samaria and her idols?

12. And it shall come to pass, when the LORD hath finished all his work in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, that I will punish the fruit of the proud king of Assyria, and the glory of his haughty eyes,

13. Because he saith, I have wrought it out by the power of mine hands, and by my wisdom; for I am wise: I have divided the countries in other ways, and have spoiled their revenue, and have cast down the inhabitants to the ground like a mighty man,

14. And mine hand hath found the nations like a bird's nest; and I have gathered all the countries together, as one gathereth up eggs that are left, when no man stirreth up a feather, or openeth his beak, or hisseth.

15. May an axe boast against him that heweth therewith, or a saw defy him that cutteth therewith, as he that leadeth the rod, and lifteth it up, and leadeth it as lightly as if it were not wood?

16. Therefore the LORD of hosts will send drought among his fat ones, and he will kindle his glory, and it shall burn as the fire.

17. And the light of Israel shall be a fire, and his holy one shall be a flame, and shall kindle his thorns and his hedges, and consume them in one day.

18. And the glory of his forest and of his field shall be destroyed from the souls even to the flesh, and shall perish and vanish away,

19. That the rest of the trees of his forest may be numbered, and a lad may mark them.

20. In that day the remnant of Israel, and they that are saved of the house of Jacob, shall no more rely upon him that smiteth them; but they shall rely upon the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.

21. The remnant shall be converted, even the remnant in Jacob, unto GOD the strong.

22. For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet the remnant of them shall be converted. For when destruction is prevented, righteousness cometh abundantly.

23. For the LORD of hosts shall cause destruction to come, and shall bring it upon all the earth.

24. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Fear not, my people that dwell in Zion, before Assyria. He shall smite thee with a rod, and lift up his staff against thee, as it was in Egypt.

25. For there is yet but a little to be done, and there shall be an end of iniquity, and of mine anger against their iniquity.

26. Then shall the LORD of hosts raise up a scourge upon him, as in the battle of Midian upon the rock Oreb; and he shall lift up his rod, which he used by the sea, as in Egypt.

27. In that day shall his burden depart from thy shoulder, and his yoke from thy neck: for the yoke shall rot before the fatness.

28. He cometh (let it be) to Ajath; he passeth through Migron; he musteth his stuff to Michmash.

29. They pass over Geba before our camp: Ramah is afraid, Gibeath of Saul is afraid.

30. Thou daughter of Gallim, cry aloud; take heed, Laishah, thou wretched Anathoth!

31. Madmena gives way; the citizens of Gebim strengthen themselves.

32. For it may be that he will tarry a day at Nob; and he will lift up his hand against the mountain of the daughter of Zion, and against the hill of Jerusalem.

33. But, behold, the LORD of hosts shall hew down the boughs with power, and shall shorten the things that are lifted up, that the high places may be humbled.

34. And the thick forest shall be hewn down with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by the mighty.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 11

Christ and his gospel power.

(Epistle on the day of the Visitation.)

1. And there shall come up a rod from the tribe of Jesse, and a branch from his root shall bring forth fruit.

2. Upon whom shall rest the Spirit of the LORD, the Spirit of wisdom, and of understanding, the Spirit of counsel, and of strength, the Spirit of knowledge, and of the fear of the LORD.

3. And his smelling shall be in the fear of the LORD. He shall not judge according to that his eyes see, nor punish according to that his ears hear,

4. But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and with judgment shall he punish the wretched of the earth: and with the rod of his mouth shall he smite the earth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5. Righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faith the girdle of his kidneys.

6. The wolves shall dwell with the lambs, and the pardel shall lie with the rams. A little boy shall drive calves and young lions and fatlings together.

7. Cows and bears shall go by the pasture, and their young shall lie down together: and lions shall eat straw like oxen.

8. And an infant shall have his delight in the hole of the adder, and a weaned man shall put his hand into the den of the basilisk.
9. There shall no man hurt nor destroy in my holy mountain: for the land is full of the knowledge of the LORD, as it is covered with the waters of the sea.
10. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the root of Jesse, which is for a panoply to the nations, shall be inquired of by the heathen; and his rest shall be honour.
11. And the LORD shall stretch out his hand in that day the second time, to conquer the remnant of his people that are left of the Assyrians, and of the Egyptians, and of the Pathros, and of the Moors, and of the Elamites, and of Sinear, and of Hamath, and of the isles of the sea, 12. And he shall set a standard among the heathen, and gather together the outcasts of Israel, and shall bring the dispersed of Judah by multitude out of the four places of the earth.
13. And the envy of Ephraim shall cease, and the enemies of Judah shall be cut off, that Ephraim envy not Judah, and Judah be not against Ephraim.
14. And they shall be upon the neck of the Philistines toward the west, and shall spoil all them that dwell toward the east. Edom and Moab shall fold their hands against them. And the children of Ammon shall be obedient.
15. And the LORD shall destroy the river of the sea in Egypt, and shall cause his hand to pass over the waters with his strong wind, and shall smite the seven rivers, that men may pass through with shoes.
16. And there shall be a course for the remnant of his people that remain of the Assyrians, as it was to Israel when they came out of the land of Egypt.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 12

Song of thanksgiving for the good deeds of the Messiah.

1. In that day shalt thou say, I thank thee, O Lord, that thou wast angry with me, and that thine anger is turned, and thou hast comforted me.
2. Behold, God is my salvation; I am safe, and fear not: for the Lord God is my strength, and my psalm, and is my salvation.
3. ye shall draw water with joy out of the wells of salvation.

4. And ye shall say in that day, Give thanks unto the LORD, preach his name, make known his doings among the nations, declare how great is his name.

5. Sing ye praises unto the LORD: for he hath shewed himself glorious: let it be known throughout all the earth.

6. Rejoice and be glad, O inhabitant of Zion: for the Holy One of Israel is great with thee.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 13

Destruction of the Babylonian Empire.

1. This is the burden over Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz saw: 2. Cast up your banners upon the high mountains; cry out against them with confidence; lift up your hands, let them enter in through the gates of the princes.

3. I have commanded my holy ones, and called my strong ones to my wrath, which rejoice in my glory.

4. There is a shout of a multitude upon the mountains, as of a great people; a shout as of a tumult of the kingdoms of the heathen gathered together. The LORD of hosts maketh ready an army to battle,

5. Who come from far countries, from the end of heaven, even the LORD himself, with the witness of his wrath, to destroy the whole land.

6. Hasten: for the day of the LORD is at hand; it cometh as a desolation from the Almighty.

7. Therefore shall all hands be idle, and all men's hearts shall be cowardly.

8. Terrors, and fears, and sorrows, shall come upon them: they shall be as afraid as a woman in childbirth: one shall be afraid of another: their faces shall be red with fire.

9. For, behold, the day of the LORD cometh cruelly, wrathfully, fiercely, to destroy the land, and to cut off sinners out of it.

10. For the stars of heaven and his Orion shine not brightly: the sun riseth darkly, and the moon seemeth dim.

11. I will punish the earth for its wickedness, and the wicked for their iniquity; and I will put an end to the pride of the proud, and will humble the arrogance of the mighty, 12. That a man should be more precious than fine gold, and a man more precious than gold pieces of Ophir.

13. Therefore will I move heaven, and the earth shall shake out of her place with the fury of the LORD of hosts, and with the day of his wrath.

14. And she shall be as a roe deer driven away, and as a flock without a shepherd: and every man shall return to his own people, and every man shall flee to his own land, 15. Because he that is found there shall be stabbed, and he that is found there shall fall by the sword.

16. Their children also shall be broken in pieces before their eyes, and their houses plundered, and their wives ravished.

17. For, behold, I will raise up the Medes upon them, which seek not silver, nor ask for gold, 18. But to shoot the young men with bows, and not to have mercy on the fruit of the womb, nor to spare the children.

19. So Babylon, the most beautiful of kingdoms, the glorious splendor of the Chaldeans, shall be turned back from God, as Sodom and Gomorrah,

20. That they dwell therein no more, neither abide therein any more, neither do the Arabians make tents there, nor do the shepherds put up fences there,

21. But zihim shall encamp there, and their houses shall be full of ohim, and ostriches shall dwell there, and spirits of the field shall leap there,

22. And owls shall sing in their palaces, and dragons in the merry castles. And their time shall come sheerly, and their days shall not tarry.

Ch. 14, v. 1: For the LORD will have mercy upon Jacob, and will choose Israel yet more, and will set them in their own land. And strangers shall join themselves unto them, and cleave unto the house of Jacob.

2. And the nations shall receive them, and bring them into their place, and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for bondmen and bondwomen: and they shall take them captives of whom they were captives, and shall rule over their beaters.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 14

Fall of the Babylonians and Assyrians.

3. And in that day when the LORD shall give thee rest from thy mourning and from thy suffering, and from the hard service wherein thou hast been,

4. Then shalt thou speak such a proverb against the king of Babylon, saying, How is the driver finished, and the interest is ended?

5. The LORD hath broken the rod of the wicked, the rod of the rulers, 6. Which smote the nations in fury without ceasing, and ruled with fury over the heathen, and persecuted without mercy.

7. Now therefore let all the earth rest, and be still, and rejoice.

8. The fir trees also rejoice over thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Because thou liest, no man cometh up to cut us off.

9. The hell that was below trembled at thy coming. She hath raised up the dead unto thee, all the goats of the earth, and hath caused all the kings of the heathen to rise from their seats, 10. And they shall all speak one to another, and say unto thee, Thou also art smitten, as we are smitten; and it shall be unto thee as it is unto us.

11. Thy glory is gone down to hell with the sound of thy harps. Moths shall be thy bed, and worms thy covering.

12. How art thou fallen from heaven, O beautiful morning star! How art thou fallen to the earth, who didst weaken the heathen!

13. Thou hast thought in thine heart, saying, I will ascend into heaven, and will exalt my throne above the stars of God;

14. I will sit upon the mount of the congregation on the side toward the north: I will pass over the high clouds, and be like unto the most High.

15. yea, to hell thou goest, to the side of the pit.

16. He that beholdeth thee shall look upon thee, and behold thee, and say, Is this the man that made the world to tremble, and the kingdoms to shake?

17. Who made the earth a desolation, and brake in pieces the cities that were therein, and delivered not his captives?

18. Though all the kings of the heathen lie together with honour, every one in his own house; 19. But thou art rejected from thy grave as a despised branch, as the garment of them that are slain with the sword, which go down to the heaps of stones of hell, as a trodden down corpse.

20. Thou shalt not be buried like them: for thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: for the seed of the wicked shall never be remembered.

21. Let his children be slain for the iniquity of their fathers, that they rise not up, nor inherit the land, nor fill the earth with cities.

22. And I will come upon them, saith the LORD of hosts, and will cut off from Babylon their remnant, and their nephews, and their seed, saith the LORD,

23. And I will make them an inheritance to the hedgehogs, and a lake of waters, and will sweep them with a broom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.

24. The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, What is the matter? let it go as I think, and let it stand as I have it in mind,

25. And Assyria shall be broken in my land, and I will tread him down upon my mountains, that his yoke may be taken from them, and his burden from off their neck.

26. This is the stroke which he hath over all the earth, and this is the stretched out hand over all the nations.

27. For the LORD of hosts hath decreed it: who shall withstand it? And his hand is stretched out; who shall turn it?

(Isaiah)

Chapter 15

Devastation of the Philistines.

28. In the year that king Ahaz died was this the burden:

29. Rejoice not, all ye Philistines, that the rod that smote thee is broken. For out of the root of the serpent shall come a basilisk, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying dragon.

30. For the firstfruits of the needy shall feed, and the poor shall rest safely: but thy root will I kill with famine, and thy remnant shall he slain.

21. Howl, O gate; cry out, O city. All the Philistine country is cowardly: for from midnight there cometh a smoke, and there is none solitary in his tents.

32. And what shall the messengers of the Gentiles say now and then? Namely, Zion hath the LORD founded; and there shall the afflicted of his people have confidence.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 16

Plague and fall of the Moabites.

Ch. 15, v. 1: This is the burden upon Moab: Disturbance cometh by night upon Ar in Moab; she is gone. At night disturbance cometh upon Kir in Moab; it is gone.

2. They go up to Baith and Dibon unto the altars, and weep and wail over Nebo and Medbah in Moab. Every head is shaven, every beard is cut off.
 3. In their streets they walk girded with sackcloth; in their housetops and in their streets they all howl, and go down weeping.
 4. Heshbon and Eleale cry out, and they are heard in Jahaz. Wherefore the scaffolded of Moab mourn: for their soul is evil.
 5. My heart crieth unto Moab; her fugitives flee from the heifer of three years, even unto Zoar: for they go up to Luhith, and weep; and in the way of Horonaim there is a cry of lamentation.
 6. For the waters of Nimrim are dried up, and the hay is withered, and the grass withereth, and no green herb groweth.
 7. For the goods which they have gathered, and the people which they have armed, are carried over the brook of the willows.
 8. Cries are heard in the borders of Moab; they howl unto Eglaim, and howl at the spring of Elim.
 9. For the waters of Dimon are full of blood. And I will bring more upon Dimon, both upon them that are preserved in Moab the Lion, and upon the remnant of the land.
- Ch. 16. v. 1. Rather send, ye rulers of the land, lambs of Selah out of the wilderness unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.
2. But as a bird fleeth, when it is driven out of the nest, so shall the daughters of Moab be, when they pass before Arnon.
 3. Gather counsel, hold judgment; make thee the shadow of the noonday as of a night; hide the driven out, and report not the fugitive.
 4. Let my exiles lodge with thee; O Moab, be thou their shield from the destroyer: then shall the driver be ended, and the destroyer cease, and the trespasser depart out of the land.
 5. And a throne shall be prepared by grace, that one may sit upon it in the truth, in the tabernacle of David, to judge, and to seek judgment, and to promote righteousness.
 6. And we hear of the arrogance of Moab, that it is almost great; that also their arrogance, and their pride, and their wrath, are greater than their might.
 7. Therefore shall one Moabite howl over another; all of them shall howl. Over the foundations of the city of Kir-hareseth shall the crippled groan:

8. For Heshbon is become a desolate field; the vine of Sibmah is corrupt: the lords of the heathen have broken down the noble branches thereof, and are come unto Jaesher, and are moved in the wilderness: their festers are scattered, and are carried over the sea. 9. Therefore I weep for Jaeser, and for the vine of Sibmah, and shed many tears for Heshbon and Eleale. For there is a song fallen into thy summer, and into thy harvest, 10. Joy and gladness are ceased in the field; and in the vineyards there is no shouting or rejoicing. They press no wine in the winepresses: I have made an end of singing. 11. Therefore my heart murmureth over Moab like a harp, and my inward parts over Kir-hares. 12. Then shall it be seen how Moab is weary at the altars, and how he hath gone to his church to pray, and hath not prospered. 13. This is the thing which the LORD spake against Moab in those days. 14. And now the LORD speaketh, saying, In three years, as the years of a hired servant, shall the glory of Moab be few in multitude; and there shall be a little left, and not much.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 17

Burden of Damascus, the Israelites and Assyrians.

1. This is the burden of Damascus: behold, Damascus shall be no more a city, but a heap of stones broken down. 2. The cities of Aroer shall be desolate, and the flocks shall feed there, and no man shall drive them out. 3. And the fortress of Ephraim shall be finished: and the kingdom of Damascus, and the remnant of Syria, shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts. 4. In that day shall the glory of Jacob be thin, and his fat body shall be lean. 5. For it shall be as when one gathered in corn in the harvest, and as when one gathered in ears with his arm, and as when one gathered in ears in the valley of Rephaim, 6. And there shall be a harvest in it, as when a tree of olive oil is shaken, and two and three berries remain in the top of the tree, or as when four or five fruits hang upon the branches, saith the LORD God of Israel. 7. In that day shall a man cleave unto him that made him; and his eyes shall be upon the Holy One in Israel.

8. And he shall not keep himself to the altars which his hands have made, neither shall he look upon that which his fingers have made, neither to groves, nor to images.

9. In that day shall the cities of their strength be as a branch and twig forsaken before the children of Israel, and shall be desolate.

10. For thou hast forgotten God thy salvation, and hast not remembered the rock of thy strength.

Therefore thou shalt plant pleasant plants, but thou shalt have laid a foothold for strangers.

11. In the time of planting thou shalt wait, that thy seed may grow in time: but in the harvest, when thou shalt inherit the almonds, thou shalt have the pains of a sorrowful man.

12. O woe unto the multitude of such great people! It will roar like the sea, and the tumult of the people will rage like great waters.

13. Yea, as great waters rage, so shall the people rage. But he shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far away: and he shall pursue them, as the wind doeth to the dust of the mountains, and as the storm doeth to the whirlwind of the wind.

14. At evening, behold, there is terror; and before morning they are no more. This is the reward of our robbers, and the inheritance of them that take away our own.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 18

The Moors Visitation and Conversion.

1. Woe to the land that flieth under the sails in the shadow, on this side the waters of the land of the Moors,

2. Which sendeth tidings by sea, and saileth upon the waters in vessels of reeds. Go ye, ye swift messengers, unto the people that are rent and spoiled, unto the people that are more abominable than any other, unto the people that are here and there measured out and trodden down, to whom the rivers of waters take their land.

3. All ye that dwell on the earth, and are seated in the land, shall see the banners cast up on the mountains, and hear the sound of the trumpets.

4. For thus saith the LORD unto me, I will keep still, and look in my seat, as a heat that driveth up the rain, and as a molten dew in the heat of harvest.

5. For before the harvest the crop shall be cut off, and the unripe fruit shall wither in the blossom; and the stalks shall be cut off with pruning hooks, and the vines put away, and cut down,

6. To let the fowls of the mountains and the beasts of the earth lie together, that the fowls may nest therein in summer, and that all manner of beasts may lie in the earth in winter.

7. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the people which is torn and spoiled, which is more abominable than any other, which is here and there measured out and trodden down, whose land is taken by the rivers of waters, shall bring gifts unto the LORD of hosts unto the place where the name of the LORD of hosts is, unto mount Zion.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 19

Destruction and.. Conversion of the Egyptians.

1. This is the burden of Egypt: Behold, the LORD shall ride upon a swift cloud, and come into Egypt. Then shall the idols of Egypt tremble before him, and the Egyptians' hearts shall wax faint in their flesh.

2. And I will set the Egyptians against one another; and brother shall fight against brother, and friend against friend, and city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.

3. And the courage of the Egyptians among them shall perish, and their devices shall be destroyed. Then shall they ask their idols, and their priests, and their diviners, and their interpreters of signs.

4. But I will deliver the Egyptians into the hand of cruel lords; and a fierce king shall reign over them, saith the LORD of hosts.

5. And the waters of the seas shall dry up, and the river shall dry up and disappear.

6. And the waters shall run down, and the lakes shall be few and dry at the dams, and the reeds and the cane shall wither away,

7. And the grass by the waters shall die, and all the seed by the waters shall wither and come to nothing.

8. And the fishermen shall mourn; and all they that cast fishing-rods into the water shall mourn; and they that let down their nets into the water shall be grieved.

9. They shall stand with shame that work good yarn, and knit nets.
10. And they that have ponds, and all they that make ponds for wages, shall be troubled.
11. The princes of Zoan are fools; the wise counsellors of Pharaoh are become fools in the council. What say ye of Pharaoh, I am the child of the wise, and come of ancient kings?
12. Where then are thy wise men? Let them tell thee, and shew thee what the LORD of hosts hath decreed for Egypt.
13. But the princes of Zoan are fools, the princes of Noph are deceived: they deceive with Egypt the cornerstone of the families.
14. For the LORD hath poured out a spirit of deceit among them, to deceive Egypt in all their doings, as a drunken man staggereth when he drinketh.
15. And Egypt shall have nothing that beareth head, or tail, or branch, or stump.
16. In that day shall Egypt be as women, and shall fear and be afraid, when the LORD of hosts shall stretch forth his hand upon her.
17. And Egypt shall be afraid of the land of Judah: and he that remembereth it shall be afraid of it, because of the counsel of the LORD of hosts, which he hath determined against them.
18. In that day shall five cities of the land of Egypt speak after the language of Canaan, and swear by the LORD of hosts. One shall be called Irheres.
19. In that day shall the altar of the LORD be in the midst of the land of Egypt, and the mark of the LORD in the borders thereof,
20. Which shall be a sign and a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt. For they shall cry unto the LORD in the presence of the insulters; and he shall send them a Saviour and a Master to deliver them.
21. For the LORD shall be known unto the Egyptians: and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day, and shall serve him with sacrifice and meat offering, and shall vow unto the LORD, and keep the vow.
22. And the LORD shall afflict the Egyptians, and heal them: for they shall turn unto the LORD, and he shall be entreated, and heal them.
23. And it shall come to pass in that day, that there shall be a course from Egypt into Assyria, that the Assyrians shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptians into Assyria; and the Egyptians with the Assyrians shall serve God.

24. In that day shall Israel be third with the Egyptians and Assyrians by the blessing that shall be upon the earth.

25. For the LORD of hosts shall bless them, saying: Blessed art thou, O Egypt, my people; and thou, O Assyria, the work of my hands; and thou, O Israel, my inheritance.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 20

The Egyptian and Moor's prison.

1. In the year that Tartan came to Ashdod, when Sargon king of Assyria had sent him, he fought against Ashdod, and took them,

2. At that time the LORD spake by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go, take off thy sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoes from off thy feet. And he did so, walking naked and barefooted.

3. And the LORD said, As my servant Isaiah goeth naked and barefooted for a sign and for a wonder of three years over Egypt and over the land of Moor,

4. So shall the king of Assyria drive captive Egypt, and drive out the land of the Moors, both young and old, naked and barefooted, with naked shame, to the shame of Egypt.

5. And they shall be afraid, and shall stand in shame upon the land of the Moors, whereon they trusted, and again the land of the Moors upon the Egyptians, whom they boasted of.

6. And the inhabitants of these isles shall say in that day, Is this our hope, when we fled for help, that we might be delivered from the king of Assyria? How well we have escaped!

(Isaiah)

Chapter 21

The burden of Babels, Dumas and Arabia.

1. This is the burden of the wilderness by the sea: as the weather cometh from the south, and turneth all things, so cometh it out of the wilderness, out of a cruel land.

2. For a stern face is shewed me. One despiser cometh against another, one disturber against another. Show up, Elam; prove them, Madai! I will make an end of all his sighing.

3. Therefore my loins are full of pain, and fear hath taken hold upon me, as a woman in childbirth: I bow down when I hear it, and am afraid when I look upon it.
4. My heart trembles, horror hath terrified me; I have no rest from it in the dear night.
5. Yea, prepare a table, let watch in the waiting place, eat, drink; arise, ye princes, smear the shield.
6. For thus saith the LORD unto me, Go, set a watchman to watch and to tell.
7. And he seeth riders riding, and going on horses, and asses, and camels, and hath respect unto them with great diligence.
8. And a lion cried: Lord, I stand upon the watch by day, and stand upon my guard by night.
9. And, behold, there cometh one riding in a chariot, which answereth and saith, Babylon is fallen, she is fallen, and all the images of her gods are cast down to the ground.
10. My good threshingfloor, whereon I thresh: that which I have heard of the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, I declare unto you.
11. This is the burden of Duma. They cry unto me from Seir, O keeper, is the night almost gone?
O keeper, is the night almost gone?
12. And the keeper said, Though the morning come, yet shall it be night. Though ye ask, yet shall ye come again, and ask again:
13. This is the burden of Arabia: ye shall dwell in the forest of Arabia, by the way of Dedanim.
14. Bring water to the thirsty, ye that dwell in the land of Thema; offer bread to the fugitives.
15. For they flee from the sword, yea, from the naked sword, from the bended bow, from the great battle.
16. For thus saith the LORD unto me, In one year, as the years of the hired servant, shall all the glory of Kedar perish,
17. And the remnant of the captains of the guard of Kedar shall be less: for the LORD God of Israel hath spoken it.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 22

Jerusalem besieged; Zebna overthrown; Eliakim appointed.

1. This is the burden of the valley of the shews: what is the matter with you, that ye all run upon the housetops?
2. Thou wast full of sound, a city of people, a joyful city. Thy slain are not slain with the sword, nor died in strife,
3. But all thy captains are fled before the bow, and are taken: all that were found in thee are taken, and fled far away.
4. Therefore I say, Lift up yourselves from me, let me weep bitterly; trouble not yourselves to comfort me over the destruction of the daughter of my people.
5. For it is a day of tumult, and of destruction, and of confusion, from the LORD of hosts in the valley of the rock, because of the pulling down of the walls, and the crying of the mountain.
6. For Elam cometh with quiver, and with chariots, and with men, and with horsemen; and Kir shineth with shields.
7. And it shall come to pass, that thy chosen valleys shall be full of chariots, and horsemen shall lie down before the gates.
8. And the veil of Judah shall be uncovered, and in that day shall be seen the stuff of the house of the forest.
9. And ye shall see many breaches in the city of David, and shall gather the waters into the lower pool.
10. Ye shall also number the houses of Jerusalem; yea, ye shall break down the houses to fortify the walls.
11. And ye shall make a trench between the two walls of the waters of the old pool. Ye shall not yet look upon him that doeth these things, neither shall ye look upon him that maketh them from afar.
12. Therefore shall the LORD of hosts call in that day to weep, and to mourn, and to be weighed down, and to put on sackcloth.
13. But now, behold, it is joy and gladness to kill oxen, and to slaughter sheep, and to eat flesh, and to drink wine, saying, Let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die.
14. These things are manifest in the ears of the LORD of hosts. What matter if this iniquity be forgiven you until ye die? saith the LORD of hosts.
15. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Go in unto Sebna the treasurer, the keeper of the horses, and say unto him:

16. What hast thou here? to whom dost thou belong, to hew thee a grave here, as he that heweth his grave on high, and as he that maketh his dwelling in the rock?

17. Behold, the LORD shall cast thee away, as a strong man casteth one away, and shall shut thee up,

18. And he shall compass thee about as an orb upon a far country: there shalt thou die, there shall thy precious chariots abide with reproach of the house of thy Lord.

19. And I will cast thee down from thy station, and from thy office will I set thee.

20. And in that day will I call unto my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah,

21. And I will put thy robe upon him, and gird him with thy girdle, and put thy power into his hand; and he shall be the father of them that dwell at Jerusalem, and of the house of Judah.

22. And I will put the keys of the house of David upon his shoulder, that he may open, and that no man may shut, and that he may shut, and that no man may open.

23. And he shall put it for a nail in a strong place, and shall have the throne of honour in his father's house,

24. That all the glory of his father's house should be hanged upon him; his children, and his children's children, and all the little vessels, and the drinking vessels, and all manner of stringed instruments.

25. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, the nail that is in the strong place shall be taken away, that it may break, and fall, and that the burden thereof may perish. For the LORD saith.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 23

Destruction and rebuilding of Tyre.

1. This is the burden of Tyre: Hie ye down, ye ships of the sea: for it is destroyed; there is no house, neither doth any man go thither. They shall know it out of the land of Chittim.

2. The inhabitants of the isles have become quiet. The merchants of Zidon, which passed through the sea, filled thee.

3. And the fruit that grew by Sihor, and the corn that grew by the waters, were brought in unto her by great waters: and thou wast the market of the heathen.

4. Thou shalt be afraid, O Zidon. For the sea, even the firmament of the sea, saith, I am no more with child, I bear no more: so I raise no young men, neither bring up virgins.
5. As men were afraid when they heard of Egypt, so shall they be afraid when they hear of Tyre.
6. Go ye to the sea; howl, ye inhabitants of the isles.
7. Is this your joyful city, which boasted of her age? Her feet shall lead her afar off to wander.
8. Who would have thought that it should be so with Tyre the crown, when her merchants are princes, and her merchants the chiefest in the land?
9. Thus hath the LORD of hosts purposed, that he might diminish all the glory of the goodly city, and bring into contempt all the glories of the land.
10. Pass through thy land like a river, thou daughter of the sea: there is no more girdle.
11. He stretcheth out his hand over the sea, and terrifieth the kingdoms. The LORD hath commanded Canaan to destroy her mighty ones,
12. And saith, Thou shalt not rejoice any more, thou violated virgin, thou daughter of Zidon. O Chittim, arise, and depart: for thou shalt not abide there,
13. But in the land of the Chaldeans, which was not a nation, but Assyria hath prepared it for ships, and have set up strong towers within, and built palaces. But it is set to be pulled down.
14. Hail, ye ships of the sea: for your power is destroyed.
15. In that day shall Tyre be forgotten seventy years, as long as a king may live. But after seventy years they will sing of Tyre a harlot's song:
16. Take the harp, go about in the city, thou forgotten harlot: play well upon the strings, and sing with confidence, that thou mayest be remembered.
17. For after threescore and ten years the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall return to the wages of her harlotry, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the earth.
18. But their merchandise and their wages shall be holy unto the LORD. They shall not be treasured, neither shall they be hid: but they that dwell before the LORD shall have their merchandise, that they may eat, and be full, and be well clothed.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 24

Devastation of the Jewish land.

1. Behold, the LORD maketh the land empty and desolate, and overthroweth that which is therein, and scattereth the inhabitants thereof.
2. And go ye to the priest as well as to the people, to the lord as well as to the servant, to the woman as well as to the maid, to the seller as well as to the buyer, to the borrower as well as to the borrower, to the admonisher as well as to the debtor.
3. For the land shall be empty and despoiled: for the LORD hath spoken these things.
4. The land is desolate and corrupt, the ground is wasted and corrupt; the chief of the people of the land are wasted.
5. The land is polluted of her inhabitants: for they have transgressed the law, and changed the commandments, and forsaken the everlasting covenant.
6. Therefore the curse devoureth the land: for they that dwell therein are in debt. Therefore the inhabitants of the land wither, and few remain.
7. The must is gone, the vine languisheth, and all that were glad of heart groan.
8. The joy of the timbrel celebrates, the rejoicing of the joyful is ended, and the joy of the harps is ended.
9. Sing not while drinking wine: and good drink is bitter to them that drink it.
10. The empty city is broken up; all the houses are shut up, that no man may enter in.
11. They lament wine in the streets, that all joy is gone, all the delight of the land is gone.
12. Vain desolation is left in the city, and the gates stand desolate.
13. For there is a prayer in the land and among the people, as when an olive tree is plucked up, as when the vintage is over.

14. These lift up their voice, and shout, and shout from the sea, for the glory of the LORD: 15. Now therefore praise ye the LORD in the foundations, in the isles of the sea, the name of the LORD God of Israel. 16. We hear songs of praise from the end of the earth in honor of the righteous. And I must say: How thin I am! How thin I am! Woe is me; for the despisers despise, even the despisers despise. 17. Therefore terror, pit, and stroke, come upon you, ye inhabitants of the land. 18. Though a man escape from the cry of the terror, yet shall he fall into the pit; though he come out of the pit, yet shall he be taken in a snare. For the windows of the high places are opened, and the foundations of the earth are shaken. 19. The land shall be evil, and shall not prosper, and shall fall away. 20. The land shall stagger like a drunken man, and be carried away like a hovel: for her iniquity oppreseth her, that she must fall, and cannot stand. 21. In that day shall the LORD visit the high knights that are in high places, and the kings of the earth that are on the earth, 22. That they should be gathered into a bundle to the pit, and be shut up in the dungeon, and after a long time be visited again. 23. And the moon shall be ashamed, and the sun shall be ashamed, when the LORD of hosts shall be king in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and before his ancients in glory.

Chapter 25

Thanksgiving for the procreation of Christ's kingdom.

1. O LORD, thou art my God: I praise thee. I praise thy name, for thou doest wonders. Thy precepts of old are faithful and true. 2. For thou hast made the city a heap of stones, the strong city to lie in a heap, the palace of the strangers, that there shall be no more city, neither shall there be any more building. 3. Therefore a mighty nation honoureth thee: the cities of mighty nations fear thee. 4. For thou art the strength of the lowly, the strength of the poor in affliction, a fine refuge from the tempest, a shade from the heat when tyrants rage, as a tempest against a wall.

5. Thou hast humbled the stranger's fierceness, as the heat in a dry place; that the heat may destroy the vine of the tyrant, and the cloud may give shade.
6. And the LORD of hosts shall make all nations a fat banquet in this mountain, a banquet of pure wine, of fat, of marrow, of wine, wherein is no yeast.
7. And he shall put away the covering upon this mountain, that all nations may be covered; and the covering, that all the heathen may be covered.
8. For he shall swallow up death for ever. And the LORD GOD shall wipe away the tears from off all faces, and shall lift up the reproach of his people throughout all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.
9. In that day it shall be said, Behold, this is our God, in whom we wait, and he shall save us: this is the LORD, in whom we wait, that we may rejoice and be glad in his salvation.
10. For the hand of the LORD is upon this mountain Moab: but it shall be broken down under it, as straw is broken down, and as dung.
11. And he shall spread out his hands in the midst of them, as a swimmer spreadeth them out to swim; and shall make their glory low with the arms of his hands.
12. And bend the high fortress of your walls low, and cast it into the dust to the ground.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 26

Encouraging the church to trust God in tribulation.

1. In that day shall they sing such a song in the land of Judah, saying, We have a strong city; the wall and the defence are salvation.
2. Open the gates, that the righteous people which keep the faith may enter in.
3. Thou shalt always have peace according to a certain promise: for they trust in thee.
4. Therefore rely upon the LORD for ever: for the LORD God is a rock for ever.
5. And he boweth down them that dwell on high; he bringeth low the high city; yea, he thrusteth it to the earth, and it lieth in the dust,
6. That it may be trodden under foot, even with the feet of the poor, with the heels of the lowly.

7. But the way of the righteous is evil: the path of the righteous thou makest right.
8. For we wait for thee, O LORD, in the way of thy right hand: the desire of the heart is for thy name and for thy memorial.
9. With my heart I desire thee at night; And with my spirit within me I awake unto thee early.
- For where thy justice is done in the land, The inhabitants of the earth learn righteousness.
10. But though grace be offered unto the wicked, yet learn they not righteousness, but do evil in the right land: for they see not the glory of the LORD.
11. O LORD, thine hand is lifted up; they see it not: but when they shall see it, they shall be confounded in zeal against the heathen: thou wilt also burn them with fire, that thou mayest consume thine enemies.
12. But unto us, O LORD, thou wilt make peace: for all that we do thou hast given us.
13. O LORD our God, there are other lords over us besides thee: but we remember thee and thy name only.
14. The dead shall not live, neither shall they rise: for thou hast visited them, and destroyed them, and brought to nought all their remembrance.
15. But thou, O LORD, goest on among the heathen, thou goest on among the heathen, thou showest thy glory, and comest afar off unto the end of the world.
16. O LORD, when tribulation cometh, they seek thee: when thou chastenest them, they cry out with fear.
17. As a woman with child, when she is about to be delivered, is afraid, and crieth out in her pains: so is it with us, O Lord, before thy face.
18. And we are with child, and are afraid that we shall not draw breath; neither can we help the land, neither will the inhabitants of the earth fall.
19. But thy dead shall live, and rise with the body. Awake, and glorify them that lie under the earth: for thy dew is the dew of the green field. But the land of the dead shalt thou overthrow.
20. Go thy way, O my people, into thy chamber, and shut thy door upon thee; hide thyself for a moment from me, until the wrath be past.

21. For, behold, the LORD shall go forth out of his place to visit the wickedness of the inhabitants of the land upon them, and the land shall reveal their blood, and shall not hide them that are slain within.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 27

God's judgment on all desolators of the spiritual vineyard.

1. In that day shall the LORD visit both Leviathan, which is an evil serpent, and Leviathan, which is a crooked serpent, with his fierce and great and strong sword, and shall slay the dragons in the sea.

2. In that day shall they sing of the vineyard of the best wine: 3. I the LORD will keep him, and will make him wet quickly, that his leaves be not wanting: I will keep him day and night.

4. God is not angry with me. Oh that I would have the hedges and the ladies! So I would tear among them, and set them in a heap.

5. He shall keep me in my strength, and shall make me at peace: peace shall he make me nevertheless.

6. Nevertheless it shall come to pass, that Jacob shall take root, and Israel shall flourish and be green, that they may fill the earth with fruit.

7. Yet shall he not be smitten, as his enemies smite him; neither shall he be slain, as his enemies slay him,

8. But with moderation thou judgest them, and loosest them, when thou hast afflicted them with thy rude wind, even with the east wind.

9. Therefore the sin of Jacob shall cease thereby: and this is the profit of it, that his sins be taken away, in that he maketh all the stones of the altar as stones broken to powder, that there remain no groves nor images.

10. For the strong city shall be desolate, and the goodly houses shall be cast down, and forsaken, as a wilderness: there shall calves feed, and there shall they rest, and there shall they be eaten up.

11. Their branches shall break with drought; and the women shall come and make fire therewith.

For they are an unwise people: therefore he that made them shall not have mercy upon them, neither shall he that made them have compassion upon them.

12. In that day shall the LORD roll from the bank of the river unto the brook of Egypt: and ye children of Israel shall be gathered one by one.

13. And it shall come to pass in that day, that they shall blow with a great trumpet, that the lost of the land of Assyria, and the outcasts of the land of Egypt, shall come and worship the LORD in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 28

Burden of the kingdom of Israel and Judah.

1. Woe to the glorious crown of the drunkards of Ephraim, to the withered flower of their lovely glory, which stands above a fat valley of those who stagger with wine!

2. Behold, a strong and mighty one from the LORD, like a hailstorm, like an evil weather, like a tempest of waters, which break in mightily, is let into the land with violence, 3. That the glorious crown of the drunken of Ephraim might be trodden under foot.

4. And the withered flower of her lovely glory, which is above a fat valley, shall be like the ripening before summer, which perisheth when it is yet clinging to his branch.

5. In that day shall the LORD of hosts be a crown of beauty and a garland of glory unto the remnant of his people.

6. And a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and strength to them that return from the battle unto the gate.

7. These also are mad with wine, and reel with strong drink. For both priests and prophets are mad with strong drink, and are drowned in wine, and reel with strong drink: they are mad in prophesying, and lick out judgments.

8. For all tables are full of spittle and filth in every place.

9. Whom then shall he teach knowledge? To whom shall he give understanding of the sermon?

To them that are weaned from milk; to them that are weaned from breasts.

10. For (they say), Give hither, give hither; give hither, give hither; wait here, wait there; wait here, wait there; here a little, there a little.

11. Well, he shall speak with a different tongue and with a different mouth unto this people, to whom these things are preached:

12. Thus is there rest, thus is there rest for the weary, thus is there quietness; and yet they will not hear such preaching.

13. Therefore the word of the LORD shall be even so unto them: Give ye here, give ye here; give ye here, give ye here; wait here, wait there; wait here, wait there; here a little, there a little; that they may go, and fall back, and be broken, and snared, and taken.

14. Hear therefore the word of the LORD, ye scoffers that rule over this people which is at Jerusalem.

15. For ye say, We have made a covenant with death, and a covenant with hell: if a flood come, it shall not overtake us: for we have made falsehood our refuge, and hypocrisy our shield.

16. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I lay in Zion a foundation, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, well established. He that believeth shall not flinch.

17. And I will make judgment the guide, and righteousness the weight: and the hail shall drive away the false refuge, and waters shall wash away the screen,

18. That your covenant with death may be loosed, and your understanding with hell be not established: and when a flood cometh, it shall tread you down; and when it cometh, it shall take you away.

19. If it come in the morning, it is in the morning: so also if it come in the day, or if it come in the night. For the temptation alone teacheth to mark the word.

20. For the bed is so narrow that there is nothing left, and the cover so short that one must nestle in it.

21. For the LORD will arise as in mount Prazim, and will be angry as in the valley of Gibeon, to do his work in another way, and to do his work in another manner.

22. Now therefore cease your mocking, lest your bonds be hardened: for I have heard a destruction and a taxation, which shall come upon all the earth from the LORD of hosts.

23. Give ear, and hear my voice: give ear, and hear my words.

24. Doth a husbandman also plow, or till, or work his field for seed continually?

25. Is it not so? And when he hath made it even, he shall scatter vetches, and cast caraway, and sow wheat and barley, every one where he will, and spelt in his place.

26. So also their God chasteneth them with judgment, and teacheth them.

27. For the vetches are not threshed with a threshing cart, neither is the cart wheel made to go over the caraway: but the vetches are beaten with a rod, and the caraway with a stick.

28. They grind it to make it bread, and do not crush it, when they thresh it with the wheels of chariots and with horses.

29. This also is done of the LORD of hosts: for his counsel is wonderful, and he bringeth it forth gloriously.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 29

Jerusalem is to be destroyed, the Jews blinded, the Gentiles converted.

1. Woe unto Ariel, Ariel, thou city of the camp of David! Ye keep seasons, and celebrate feasts.

2. But I will afflict Ariel, that he may be sad and wretched; and he shall be a true Ariel unto me.

3. For I will besiege thee round about, and will make thee afraid with a fortress, and will set up ramparts round about thee.

4. Then shalt thou be humbled, and shalt speak out of the earth, and shalt murmur with thy speech out of the dust: thy voice shall be as the voice of a sorcerer out of the earth, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

5. And the multitude that scatter thee shall be as a thin dust, and the multitude of tyrants as a waving chaff: and it shall come to pass suddenly soon.

6. For thou shalt be visited of the LORD of hosts with tempests, and with earthquakes, and with great thunderings, and with whirlwinds, and with tempests, and with flames of devouring fire.

7. But as a night vision in a dream, so shall be the multitude of all the heathen that fight against Ariel, with all their armies and their fortresses, and that fear him.

8. For as a hungry man dreameth that he eateth, but when he awaketh his soul is still empty: and as a thirsty man dreameth that he drinketh, but when he awaketh he is faint and thirsty: so shall be the multitude of all the Gentiles that fight against mount Zion.

9. Be stiffnecked, and be dismayed; be blinded, and be drunken, but not with wine; be staggered, but not with strong drink.

10. For the LORD hath given you a spirit of hard sleep, and hath closed your eyes; he hath blinded your prophets, and your princes, and your seers,

11. And the visions of all the prophets shall be unto you as the words of a sealed book, which, if it were given to one that can read, saith, Read this; and he saith, I cannot, because it is sealed, 12. Or as if it were given to him that cannot read, saying, Read this; and he saith, I cannot read.

13. And the LORD saith, Because this people draw near unto me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but their heart is far from me, and they fear me according to the commandment of men, which they teach,

14. I will also deal strangely with this people, most strangely and oddly, that the wisdom of their wise men may perish, and the understanding of their prudent men be blinded.

15. Woe unto them that desire to be hid from the LORD, that hide their ways, and their doings, and keep them in darkness, and say: Who seeth us, and who knoweth us?

16. How wickedly are ye! As if a potter's clay were remembered, and a work were said of its master, He hath not made me; and a vessel were said of its potter, He knoweth me not.

17. Now therefore, there is yet a little to be done, and Lebanon shall be a field, and the field shall be reckoned a forest.

18. For in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of darkness and gloom,

19. And the miserable shall have joy again in the LORD, and the poor of men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel,

20. When the tyrants shall be ended, and the scoffers shall be finished, and all they that watch to do mischief shall be destroyed,

21. Who make men to sin by preaching, and go after him that punisheth them in the gate, departing from the righteous by lying.

22. Therefore thus saith the LORD that redeemed Abraham unto the house of Jacob; Jacob shall be put to shame no more, neither shall his face be ashamed any more.

23. For when they shall see their children, the works of my hands among them, they shall hallow my name, and shall sanctify the Holy One in Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.

24. For they that have an erroneous spirit shall receive understanding, and the talkers shall be taught.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 30

In God, 'and not in creatures, shall one put his trust.

1. Woe unto the apostate children, saith the LORD, which counsel without me, and seek refuge without my Spirit, to heap sin upon sin,

2. Who go down into Egypt, and ask not my mouth, that they may strengthen themselves with the power of Pharaoh, and shelter themselves under the shadow of Egypt.

3. For the strength of Pharaoh shall be a reproach unto you, and the shelter under the shadow of Egypt a mockery.

4. Their princes have been in Zoan, and their message is come to Hanes, 5. But they shall all be ashamed of the people, which shall not be able to profit them, neither to help them, nor to profit them, but only to shame and to mock them.

6. This is the burden of the beasts that go toward the south, where there are lions, and lionesses, and vipers, and fiery flying dragons, in the land of affliction and anguish: they carry their goods upon the backs of the colts, and their treasures upon the humps of the camels, unto the people, which cannot profit them.

7. For Egypt is nothing, and her help is vain. Therefore thus preach I: Rahab shall sit quietly by.

8. Go therefore, write it before them upon a tablet, and write it in a book, that it may stand for ever.

9. For they are a rebellious people, and lying children, which will not hear the law of the LORD, 10. But say unto the seers: Ye shall not see! and to the showers: Ye shall not see us the right doctrine: but preach unto us gently, behold us deceit!

11. Depart from the way, make yourselves of the way; let the holy one in Israel cease from us.

12. Therefore thus saith the Holy One in Israel, Because ye reject this word, and rely upon iniquity and wickedness, and defy it,

13. Then shall such iniquity be unto you as a breach in a high wall, when it begineth to trickle, which suddenly falleth and is broken down,

14. As when a pot is broken, which is broken, and not spared; so that there is not found of the pieces thereof a fragment to make fire out of the hearth, or to draw water out of a well.

15. For thus saith the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel; If ye be quiet, ye shall be saved: by quietness and hope ye shall be strong. But ye will not

16. And say, Nay; but on horses will we flee (therefore ye shall be fugitives> and on runners will we ride (therefore your pursuers will overtake you).

17. For a thousand of you shall flee from the rebuke of a few, yea, from five ye shall all flee: until ye be left as a pole upon a mountain, and as a banner upon a hill.

18. Therefore wait ye on the LORD, that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of judgment: good to all them that wait on him.

19. For the people of Zion shall dwell at Jerusalem: thou shalt not weep: he will be gracious unto thee when thou shalt call; he will answer thee when he heareth.

20. And the LORD will give you bread in tribulation, and water in anguish: for he will not suffer thy teacher to depart, but thine eyes shall see thy teacher,

21. And thine ears shall hear the word spoken behind thee, saying thus, This is the way that ye go: otherwise not to the right hand, nor to the left.

22. And ye shall profane your silvered idols, and the precious garments of your images, and shall cast them away as filth, and shall say unto them, Get thee out.

23. And he shall give rain unto thy seed, which thou hast sown in the field, and bread of the revenue of the field, and full sufficiency thereof. And thy cattle shall feed in that day in a wide pasture.

24. The oxen and the bullocks that till the field shall eat mingled fodder, which is winnowed with the shovel and the tub.

25. And upon all the great mountains, and upon all the great hills, shall be divided rivers of water in the time of the great battle, when the towers shall fall.

26. And the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be seven times brighter than now, in the days when the LORD shall bind up the hurt of his people, and heal their wounds.

27. Behold, the name of the LORD cometh afar off; his wrath burneth, and is very fierce; his lips are full of fury, and his tongue is as a consuming fire.

28. And his breath shall be as a flood of waters reaching unto the neck, to scatter the heathen, until they be destroyed, and to drive the nations to and fro with a bridle in their beacons.

29. Then shall ye sing as at the night of a holy feast, and rejoice with all your heart, as when one goeth with a pipe unto the mountain of the LORD, the stronghold of Israel.

30. And the LORD shall sound with his glorious voice, and his outstretched arm shall be seen with wrathful anger, and with flames of devouring fire, and with rays, and with heavy rain, and with hail.

31. For Assyria shall be afraid at the voice of the LORD, which smiteth him with the rod.

32. For the rod shall pierce all the way, and shall smite when the LORD bringeth it upon him with timbrels and harps, and shall fight against them in every place.

33. For the pit is prepared from yesterday; yea, the same is prepared for the king, deep and wide enough: so is the tabernacle within, fire and wood the multitude: the breath of the LORD shall kindle it as a river of brimstone.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 31

Void help of the Egyptians. Divine victory against the Assyrians.

1. Woe unto them that go down into Egypt for help, and trust in horses, and hope in chariots, because they are many; and in horsemen, because they are very strong; and hold not themselves to the holy one in Israel, and enquire not after the LORD.

2. But he is wise, and bringeth evil, and turneth not his words: but he will arise against the house of the wicked, and against the help of evildoers.

3. For Egypt is man, and not God; and their horses are flesh, and not spirit. And the LORD shall stretch out his hand, and the helper shall be punished, and he that is helped shall fall, and all shall perish together.

4. For thus saith the LORD unto me, As a lion, and a young lion, roareth for his prey, when the multitude of the shepherds cry unto him; he is not afraid at their cry, neither is he sorry for their multitude: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight in mount Zion, and in the hill thereof.

5. And the LORD of hosts shall shield Jerusalem, as the birds do with their wings, and shall preserve, and shall save, and shall compass it about, and shall help it.

6. Return, ye children of Israel, which are greatly departed.

7. For in that day shall every man cast away his idols of silver and of gold, which your hands have made unto you to sin.

8. And Assyria shall fall, not by man's sword, and shall be consumed, not by man's sword: yet shall she flee from the sword, and her young men shall be made to pay interest; 9. And her rock shall depart for fear, and her princes shall give flight before the panoply, saith the LORD, which hath fire in Zion, and hearth in Jerusalem.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 32

Constant bliss of Christ's kingdom.

1. Behold, a king shall reign to do justice, and princes shall reign to execute judgment, 2. That every man shall be as one kept from the wind, and as one hid from the downpour, as the brooks of water in the dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in the dry land.

3. And the eyes of them that see shall not be blinded, and the ears of them that hear shall give heed,

4. And the unwary shall learn prudence, and the stammering tongue shall speak ready and clean.

5. No more shall a fool be called a prince, nor a covetous man be called a lord.

6. For a fool speaketh folly, and his heart dealeth wickedly, to make hypocrisy, and to preach error of the LORD, that he may starve the hungry soul, and prevent the thirsty from drinking.

7. For the government of the covetous is vile: for he deviseth deceit to destroy the wretched with false words, when he shall speak justice to the poor.

8. But the princes shall have princely thoughts, and shall think upon it.

9. Arise, ye proud women, hear my voice; ye daughters that are so sure, give ear to my speech.

10. It is uni year and day to do, so ye that are sure shall tremble: for there shall be no vintage, so shall there be no reading.

11. Be afraid, ye proud women; tremble, ye secure ones. There is undressing, and girding, and girding about the loins.

12. They shall mourn for the fields, even for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vines.

13. For thorns and hedges shall grow in the field of my people, and over all the houses of mirth in the merry city.

14. For the palaces shall be desolate, and the multitude in the city shall be desolate; and the towers and the fortresses shall become everlasting dens, and a delight to the game, and a pasture to the flocks,

15. Until the Spirit be poured out upon us from on high. So then the wilderness will become a field, and the field will be counted as a forest.

16. And justice shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness in the field.

17. And the fruit of righteousness shall be peace; and the profit of righteousness shall be everlasting quietness and safety,

18. That my people shall dwell in houses of peace, in dwellings of safety, and in proud rest.

19. But there shall be hail in the forest, and the city thereof shall be low.

20. Blessed are ye that sow by the rivers, that ye may let the feet of oxen and asses go thereon.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 33

The Assyrians are to be driven out, Jerusalem and the church protected.

1. But woe unto thee, thou destroyer! Thinkest thou that thou shalt not be destroyed? And thou despiser, thinkest thou that thou shalt not be despised? When thou hast made an end of disturbing, thou shalt be destroyed: and when thou hast made an end of despising, thou shalt be despised again.

2. O Lord, have mercy upon us, for we wait for thee: let their arm be early, and our salvation in the time of trouble.

3. Let the nations flee from the great tumult, and let the heathen be scattered, when thou art lifted up.

4. Then shall ye be taken up as a prey, as the locusts are taken up, and as the beetles are scattered when they are attacked.

5. The LORD is exalted, because he dwelleth on high. He hath made Zion full of judgment and righteousness.

6. And in thy days shall faith be, and dominion, and salvation, and wisdom, and prudence, and the fear of the LORD, shall be his treasure.

7. Behold, their messengers cry without, the angels of peace weep bitterly (saying): 8. The highways are desolate; no man walketh in the streets. He hath neither faith nor allegiance; he hath rejected the cities, he hath not regarded the people.

9. The land lieth miserable and desolate, Lebanon standeth shamefully hewn down, and Saron is as a field, and Bashan and Carmel are desolate.

10. Now will I arise, saith the LORD, now will I rise up, now will I come up.

11. With straw ye conceive, and with stubble ye give birth: fire shall consume you with your courage.

12. For the nations shall be burned with lime, as cut thorns are burned with fire.

13. Hear ye therefore, ye that are afar off, what I have done: and ye that are nigh, mark my strength.

14. The sinners of Zion are afraid, trembling is come upon the hypocrites, saying, Who is there among us that shall dwell by a consuming fire? Who is among us that shall dwell by the everlasting fire?

15. He that walketh in righteousness, and speaketh that which is right; he that hateth iniquity with covetousness, and shaketh his hands that he take not gifts; he that stoppeth his ears that he hear not the sin of blood, and stoppeth his eyes that he see not evil, 16. He shall dwell on high, and the rocks shall be his stronghold and his refuge. His bread shall be given him, and his water shall be sure.

17. Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty, thou shalt see the land enlarged, 18. That thine heart shall wonder greatly, saying, Where then are the scribes? Where are the counsellors? Where are the chancellors?

19. For this thou shalt not see the strong people, the people of low speech, which cannot be heard, and of an uncertain tongue, which cannot be understood.

20. Look, O Zion, the city of our tabernacle. Thine eyes shall see Jerusalem, a sure habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be removed; whose nails shall never be pulled out, neither shall any of her cords be broken.

21. For the LORD shall be mighty there with us, and there shall be broad channels, that no ship with oars shall pass over them, neither shall any galley go over them.

22. For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our master, the LORD is our king, he helpeth us.

23. Let them stretch out their cords, and they shall not hold: so shall they not set out the ensign upon the mast. Then shall many precious spoils be given out, that even the lame shall spoil.

24. And no inhabitant shall say, I am weak. For the people that dwell therein shall have forgiveness of sins.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 34

God's wrath and judgment against all enemies of the church.

1. Come near, ye nations, and hear, ye peoples, give ear; let the earth hear, and the things that are therein, the world and its plants.

2. For the LORD is wroth with all the heathen, and fierce with all their armies: he will utterly destroy them, and deliver them to the slaughter.

3. And their slain shall be cast down, and the stench shall rise from their dead bodies, and the mountains shall flow with their blood.

4. And all the host of heaven shall wither away, and heaven shall be wrapped up like a letter, and all his host shall wither away, as a leaf withereth on the vine, and as a dry leaf on the fig tree; 5. For my sword is drunken in heaven: and, behold, it shall come down upon Edom, and upon the exiled people for judgment.

6. The sword of the LORD is full of blood, and thick with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, and with the fatness of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a slaughter in Bozrah, and a great strangulation in the land of Edom.

7. And the unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the fatted oxen. For their land shall be drunken with blood, and their earth shall be fat with fatness.
8. For it is the day of the LORD'S vengeance, and the year of vengeance, to avenge Zion.
9. Then shall their rivers become as pitch, and their earth as brimstone; yea, their land shall become burning pitch,
10. Which shall not be quenched day nor night, but smoke shall go up from it for ever: and it shall be desolate for ever, and none shall pass through it for ever, 11. But bitterns and hedgehogs shall dwell there; night owls and ravens shall dwell there. For he shall draw a measuring line over it, that it may be desolate; and a plumb line, that it may be desolate,
12. That their lords should be called lords without a country, and that all their princes should come to an end.
13. And thorns shall grow in their palaces, and nettles and thistles in their castles: and there shall be a dwelling place for dragons, and pasture for ostriches.
14. And the marten and the vulture shall run among them, and the devil of the field shall meet with another; and the hobgoblin shall lodge there, and find his rest there.
15. The hedgehog also shall nest there, and lay, and brood, and devise, under her shadow; and the harriers shall come together there.
16. Search ye therefore in the book of the LORD, and read. There shall be no lack of any of these: neither shall this be missed, nor that. For it is he that speaketh by my mouth, and it is his Spirit that gathereth it together.
17. He giveth lot upon them, and his hand divideth the measure among them, that they may inherit therein for ever, and that they may abide therein for ever.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 35

Blissful state of the New Testament church.

1. But the wilderness and the desert shall be merry, and the field shall stand glad, and shall blossom as the lilies.

2. She shall flourish, and stand joyful in all her delight. For the glory of Lebanon is given unto her, the ornament of Carmel and Saron. They see the glory of the LORD, the ornament of our God.

3. Strengthen the weary hands, and give rest to the stumbling knees.

4. Say unto the desponding hearts, Be of good cheer, fear not. Behold, your God, He comes to avenge you; God, Who repays, comes and will help you.

5. Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.

6. Then shall the lame make a sound like a hart, and the tongue of the dumb shall speak praise.

For waters shall flow in the wilderness, and rivers in the fields.

7. And where it was dry before, there shall be pools: and where it was dry, there shall be fountains. And where serpents have lain before, there shall be hay, and reeds, and canes.

8. And there shall be there a highway and a way, which shall be called the holy way, that no unclean person shall walk therein: and it shall be for them to walk therein, that even fools may not err.

9. There shall no lion be there, neither shall any beast of prey tread thereon, nor be found there: but one shall walk there in safety.

10. The redeemed of the LORD shall return, and come unto Zion with shouting: everlasting joy shall be upon their head; joy and gladness shall take hold upon them; and sorrow and sighing shall be taken away.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 36

Jerusalem besieged by Sanherib.

1. And it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sanherib king of Assyria went up against all the strong cities of Judah, and took them.

2. And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh of Lachish unto Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with great power. And he stood by the waters of the upper pool by the way of the dyer's field.

3. And there came out unto him Eliakim the son of Hilkiah the chamberlain, and Sebena the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the scribe.

4. And the archbishop said unto them, Say ye unto Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria: What defiance is this, in which thou trustest?

5. I suppose thou wilt be persuaded, that thou wilt yet know counsel and might to fight. In whom then wilt thou trust, that thou hast been displeasing to me?

6. Dost thou trust in the broken reed of Egypt, which, if any man lean upon it, it entereth into his hand, and pierceth it? Thus doeth Pharaoh king of Egypt unto all them that rely upon him.

7. But wilt thou say unto me, We trust in the LORD our God? Is not this he, whose high places and altars Hezekiah hath abolished, and hath said unto Judah and Jerusalem, Before this altar shall ye worship?

8. Now therefore, I pray thee, take it up with my lord the king of Assyria. I will give thee two thousand horses, and let thee see if thou canst raise up them that ride thereon.

9. How then wilt thou abide before a captain, the least of the servants of one my lord? And thou trustedst in Egypt for chariots and horsemen.

10. And thou thinkest that I went up into this land without the LORD, to destroy it? Yea, the LORD said unto me, Go up into this land, and destroy it.

11. And Eliakim, and Sebena, and Joah, said unto the prince, Speak unto thy servants in Syrian, for we understand it: speak not unto us in the Jews' language in the ears of the people that are upon the wall.

12. Then said the archbishop, Thinkest thou that my lord hath sent me unto thy lord, or unto thee, to speak such words, and not rather unto the men that sit upon the wall, to eat their own dung with you, and to drink their own urine?

13. And the archbishop stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews, saying, Hear the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14. Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he cannot deliver you.

15. And let not Hezekiah put you off unto the LORD, saying, The LORD will deliver us, and this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16. Hearken not unto Hezekiah. For thus saith the king to Assyria: Give me thanks, and come out unto me; and ye shall eat every man of his vine, and of his fig tree, and drink of his well, 17. Till I come and take you into a land like your land, a land where corn and wine are within, a land where bread and vineyards are within.

18. Let not Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Have any of the gods of the heathen delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19. Where are the gods of Hamath and Arpad? Where are the gods of Sepharvaim? Have they also delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20. Which of all the gods of these countries hath delivered his land out of mine hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of mine hand?

21. And they held their peace, and answered him nothing: for the king had commanded, saying, Answer him nothing.

22. And Eliakim the son of Hilkiah the chamberlain, and Sebena the chancellor, and Joah the son of Asaph the scribe, came with their clothes rent, and shewed him the words of the archbishop.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 37

Sanherib's power is beaten at Hezekiah's prayer.

1. And when Hezekiah the king heard it, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth about him, and went into the house of the LORD.

2. And he sent Eliakim the chamberlain, and Shebena the chancellor, and the chief priests, with sackcloth about them, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz,

3. And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This is a day of affliction, and of reproach, and of blasphemy; and it is as though the children were come to the birth, and there were no strength to bring forth.

4. That the LORD thy God would hear the words of the archbishop, whom his lord the king of Assyria hath sent to blaspheme the living God, and to reproach him with such words as the LORD thy God hath heard. And lift up thy prayer for the remnant that are left.

5. And the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.

6. And Isaiah said unto them, Tell your Lord, Thus saith the LORD; Fear not the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the children of the king of Assyria have reproached me.

7. Behold, I will change his heart, and he shall hear, and return to his own land; and I will slay him with the sword in his own land.

8. And when the prince returned, he found the king of Assyria fighting against Libnah: for he had heard that he was come out of Lachish.

9. For there came a rumour from Thirhakah the king of the Moors, saying, He is gone out to fight against thee.

10. And when he heard these things, he sent messengers unto Hezekiah, saying, Tell Hezekiah king of Judah thus, Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou trustest, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11. Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done unto all the countries, and hast banished them: and thou shalt be saved?

12. Have the gods of the heathen also saved the countries which my fathers destroyed, as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden of Thelassar?

13. Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arpad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Iwa?

14. And when Hezekiah had received the letter from the messengers, and had read it, he went up into the house of the LORD, and spread it out before the LORD.

15. And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying:

16. O LORD of hosts, thou God of Israel, which sittest over the cherubims, thou alone art God over all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth.

17. O LORD, incline thine ears, and hear. O LORD, open your eyes, and behold! Hear all the words of Sanherib, whom he has sent to revile the living God!

18. It is true, O LORD, that the kings of Assyria have made desolate all the kingdoms and their provinces.

19. And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were not gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone. They are slain.

20. But now, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD alone.

21. And Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Because thou hast asked me of Sanherib king of Assyria,

22. This is what the LORD saith of him: The virgin daughter of Zion despiseth thee, and mocketh thee; and the daughter of Jerusalem shaketh her head at thee.

23. Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? Against whom hast thou lifted up thy voice?

and hast lifted up thine eyes against the Holy One of Israel.

24. By thy servants thou hast defiled the LORD, saying, I went up by the multitude of my chariots unto the height of the mountains that are by the sides of Lebanon, and have cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof, and have come by the height unto the end of this forest of the country.

25. I have digged and drunk the waters, and have dried up with the soles of my feet all the waters that were stored up.

26. But hast thou not heard that I did so in time past, and did so of old, and do so now, that strong cities are destroyed into heaps of stones?

27. And the inhabitants thereof shall be weakened, and shall faint, and shall be ashamed, and shall become grass of the field, and green herbage, as hay upon the housetops, which doth dwell before it be ripe?

28. But I know thy dwelling, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy raging against me.

29. Because thou hast raged against me, and because thy pride is come up into mine ears, I will put a ring upon thy nose, and a bit in thy mouth, and will bring thee again by the way which thou camest.

30. And this shall be a sign unto thee: Eat this year that which is trodden down, and the next year that which groweth: in the third year sow, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31. For they that are saved of the house of Judah, and they that remain, shall yet again take root among themselves, and bear fruit above themselves.

32. For out of Jerusalem shall go forth those that remain, and them that are saved out of mount Zion. The zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

33. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: He shall not enter into that city, neither shall he shoot an arrow thither, neither shall he put a shield before it, neither shall he heap a wall about it,

34. But by the way that he came he shall return, that he come not into this city, saith the LORD.

35. For I will defend this city, and will save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

36. And the angel of the LORD came out, and smote in the camp of Assyria an hundred and fourscore thousand men. And when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead bodies.

37. And Sanherib king of Assyria departed, and went away, and returned again, and dwelt at Nineveh.

38. And it came to pass, as he worshipped in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adramelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword, and they fled into the land of Ararat. And Assar-haddon his son reigned in his stead.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 38

Hezekiah's fatal illness, recovery, and praise to God.

1. In those days Hezekiah was sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order; for thou shalt die, and not live.

2. And Hezekiah turned his face to the wall, and prayed unto the LORD.

3. And said, Remember, O LORD, how I have walked before thee in truth with a perfect heart, and have done that which was right in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept greatly.

4. And the word of the LORD came unto Isaiah, saying:

5. Go and tell Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, and have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6. And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: for I will defend this city.

7. And have this for a sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do these things which he hath spoken:

8. Behold, I will draw back the shadow of the pointer of the sun, Ahaz, ten lines over which it hath passed; and the sun shall draw back ten lines in the pointer over which it hath passed.

9. This is the writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he was sick, and was healed of the sickness:

10. And I said, Now must I go to the gates of hell, because my time was expired, when I thought to live longer.

11. And I said, Now have I no more to see the LORD, even the LORD in the land of the living; now have I no more to see men with them that live in their time.

12. My days are expired, and I am cleared away as a shepherd's hut; and my life is rent as a weaver. He maketh me dry. Thou hast made an end of me the day before evening: 13. I thought, Would that I might live till to-morrow! But he brake all my bones like a lion: for thou makest it up with me the day before evening.

14. I cried as a crane, and as a swallow, and as a dove: mine eyes would break: O Lord, I am in distress; soothe me.

15. O how will I speak that he hath promised me, and hath done it! All the days of my life I shall shrink from this affliction of my soul.

16. O Lord, by this I live, and the life of my spirit is even in this: for thou hast made me to sleep, and hast made me to live.

17. Behold, I was very afraid for comfort. But thou hast taken my soul in heart, that it be not consumed: for thou hast cast all my sin behind thee.

18. For hell doth not praise thee, neither doth death glorify thee; neither do they that go down to the pit wait for thy truth,

19. But only they that live praise thee, as I do now. The Father shall make thy truth known unto the children.

20. O Lord, help me, and we will sing my songs as long as we live in the house of the Lord.

21. And Isaiah was told to take a plaster of figs, and to put it upon his gland, that he might be healed.

22. And Hezekiah said, What a sign is this, that I should go up to the house of the LORD?

(Isaiah)

Chapter 39

Hiskia's ambition is punished.

1. At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan king of Babylon sent letters and gifts unto Hezekiah: for he had heard that he was sick, and that he was strong again.

2. And Hezekiah rejoiced, and shewed them the treasury, and the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointments, and all his armoury, and all the treasure that he had. There was nothing that Hezekiah showed them not in his house, and in his dominion.

3. And Isaiah the prophet came to Hezekiah the king, and said unto him, What say these men, and whence come they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They come unto me from afar, even from Babylon.
4. And he said, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah said, All that is in mine house have they seen; and there is nothing that I have not shewed them in my treasures.
5. And Isaiah said unto Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD of hosts.
6. Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have gathered unto this day, shall be brought unto Babylon, that nothing shall remain, saith the LORD.
7. And they shall take thy children, which shall come of thee, and thou shalt beget, and they shall be chamberlains in the court of the king of Babylon.
8. And Hezekiah said unto Isaiah: The word of the LORD is good that thou sayest. And said, Let it only be peace and faithfulness, because I live.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 40

Future of Christ. His forerunner's sermon.

(Epistle on the day of John the Baptist.)

1. Comfort, comfort my people, says your God.
2. Speak kindly unto Jerusalem, and preach unto her, that her reign is ended; for her iniquity is forgiven: for she hath received double from the hand of the LORD for all her sin.
3. It is the voice of a preacher in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, make ye a level path in the land for our God.
4. All valleys shall be exalted, and all mountains and hills shall be made low; and that which is unequal shall be made level, and that which is crooked shall be made plain.
5. For the glory of the LORD shall be revealed; and all flesh together shall see that the mouth of the LORD speaketh].
6. And a voice saith, Preach. And he said, What shall I preach? All flesh is hay, and all his goodness is as a flower of the field.
7. The hay withereth, the flower fadeth: for the Spirit of the LORD bloweth in it. Yea, the people are the hay.
8. The hay withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God endureth for ever.

9. Zion, thou preacher, arise upon a high mountain. Jerusalem, thou preacher, lift up thy voice with power, lift up and fear not; say to the cities of Judah, Behold, there is your God!
10. For, behold, the Lord GOD cometh mightily; and his arm shall reign. Behold, his reward is with him, and his recompense is before him.
11. He shall feed his flock as a shepherd; he shall gather the lambs into his arms, and carry them in his bosom, and lead the mothers of the sheep.
12. Who hath measured the waters with a fist, and hath compassed the heavens with a span, and comprehended the earth with a dreiling, and weighed the mountains with a weight, and the hills with a balance?
13. Who instructeth the spirit of the LORD, and what counsellor instructeth him?
14. Whom shall he ask counsel of, that may give him understanding, and teach him the way of judgment, and teach him knowledge, and instruct him in the way of understanding?
15. Behold, the heathen are esteemed as a drop that remaineth in the bucket, and as a mite that remaineth in the balance. Behold, the isles are as the small sticks.
16. Lebanon was too small for fire, and his beasts too small for burnt offering.
17. All the heathen are nothing before him, and are esteemed as vain and empty.
18. Whom then will ye liken God unto, or what likeness will ye make unto him?
19. The master maketh an image, and the goldsmith gildeth it, and maketh silver chains thereunto.
20. Likewise he that is able to make a poor heave, let him choose a wood that rotteth not, and let him seek a wise master to make an image that will stand the test of time.
21. Know ye not? Hear ye not? Is it not declared unto you before? Have ye not understood it from the foundation of the earth?
22. He sitteth upon the circle of the earth; and they that dwell therein are as locusts. Who stretcheth out the heavens like a thin skin, and spreadeth them out like a tabernacle to dwell in;
23. Which destroyeth princes, and maketh vain the judges of the earth,
24. As if their tribe had neither plant, nor seed, nor root in the earth; so that, when a wind bloweth among them, they wither, and a whirlwind carries them away like stubble.

25. Whom then will ye liken me to? saith the Holy One.

26. Lift up your eyes on high, and behold. Who hath created these things, and brought forth their host by number? He that calleth them all by name: so great is his ability, and so great is his might, that there is no lack of one.

27. Wherefore then sayest thou, O Jacob, and thou, O Israel, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment passeth before my God?

28. Don't you know? Hast thou not heard? The LORD, the eternal God, who created the ends of the earth, is not weary nor faint; his understanding is unfathomable.

29. He giveth strength to the weary, and power enough to the impotent.

30. The lads grow weary and faint, and the young men fall;

21. But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength, that they may mount up as eagles, that they may run, and not be weary, that they may walk, and not be faint.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 41

Vanity of idolatry.

1. Let the isles be silent before me, and let the nations strengthen themselves. Let them come near and speak now; let us be right with one another!

2. Who hath raised up the righteous from his rising? Who called him to go? Who gave the nations and kings before him, that he might be mighty over them; and gave them to his sword as dust, and to his bow as scattered stubble,

3. That he followed them, and passed through with peace, and was never weary of the way?

4. Who doeth it, and maketh it, and calleth all men one by one from the beginning? It is I the LORD, both the first and the last.

5. And when the isles saw it, they were afraid, and the ends of the earth were afraid; and they drew nigh, and came near.

6. And one helped another, and said unto his neighbour, Be of good cheer.

7. And the carpenter took the goldsmith, and made the plate smooth with the hammer upon the anvil, and said: This will be fine. And they fastened it with nails, that it should not shake.

8. But thou, O Israel, my servant Jacob, whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my beloved, 9. Who strengthened thee from the end of the world, and called thee from their mighty ones, and said unto thee, Thou shalt be my servant: for I choose thee, and will not reject thee, 10. Fear not, I am with you; do not turn away, for I am your God. I strengthen you, I also help you; I uphold you by the right hand of my righteousness.

11. Behold, they shall be mocked and put to shame, all they that offend thee; they shall be as nothing: and the men that dispute with thee shall perish,

12. That thou mayest inquire of them, and shalt not find them. The men that quarrel with thee shall be as nothing; and the men that fight against thee shall come to an end.

13. For I am the LORD thy God, which strengthen thy right hand, and say unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee.

14. Fear not, O little worm of Jacob, ye poor multitude of Israel. I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.

15. Behold, I have made thee a sharp new threshing-floor, having prongs; and thou shalt break down mountains, and bruise them, and make the hills as chaff.

16. Thou shalt scatter them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall weave them. But thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, and shalt glory in the holy things of Israel.

17. The wretched and the poor seek water, and there is none: their tongue is parched with thirst.

But I the LORD will hear them; I the God of Israel will not forsake them,

18. But I will open rivers of water upon the high places, and fountains in the midst of the fields; I will make the wilderness lakes of water, and the dry land springs of water.

19. I will give in the wilderness cedars, and pines, and myrtles, and pines; and in the field I will give firs, and beeches, and box trees together,

20. That they may see, and know, and perceive, and understand at the same time, that the hand of the LORD hath done these things, and that the Holy One hath created these things in Israel.

21. Let your cause come, saith the LORD; bring hither that ye stand upon, saith the king in Jacob.

22. Let them come near, and tell us what is to come. Declare unto us, and give us knowledge beforehand; let us consider it with our hearts, and know how it shall be hereafter: or let us hear what is to come.

23. Tell us what shall come after this, and we will know that ye are gods. In spite of yourselves, do good or harm, and let us talk about it and look at it together.

24. Behold, ye are of nothing, and your doings are also of nothing, and to choose you is abomination.

25. But I will raise up one from the north, and come from the rising of the sun. He shall preach my name unto them, and shall go over the mighty as over glaciers, and shall tread the dung as a potter.

26. Who can declare from the beginning? let us hear it; or prophesy beforehand? let us say, Thou speakest aright. But there is no proclaimer, no one to hear, no one to hear a word from you.

27. I am the first that saith unto Zion, Behold, here it is; and I give preachers unto Jerusalem.

28. But there I look, but there is none; and I look among them, but there is no counsellor; I ask them, but they answer nothing.

29. Behold, all is vain trouble, and nothing with their doings; their idols are wind and vain.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 42

Christ's goodness, the Jews' ingratitude.

1. Behold, this is my servant, I sustain him: and my chosen, in whom my soul is well pleased, I have given him my spirit; he shall bring judgment among the heathen.

2. He shall not cry, neither shall he shout; neither shall his voice be heard in the streets.

3. He will not break the bruised reed, nor quench the smoldering wick. He will teach to keep the law truly.

4. He shall not be sullen nor grievous, that he may establish judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

5. Thus saith the Lord GOD, which maketh the heavens, and stretcheth them out, and maketh the earth, and the increase thereof; which giveth breath unto the people that are therein, and breath unto them that walk therein:

6. I the LORD have called thee with righteousness, and have taken thee by the hand, and have kept thee, and have given thee for a covenant among the people, for a light to the Gentiles, 7. That thou shouldest open the eyes of the blind, and bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness from the dungeon.

8. I the LORD, that is my name, and will not give my glory to another, nor my honour to idols.

9. Behold, the things which are to come I declare beforehand, and proclaim new things: before they arise I will let you hear them.

10. Sing unto the LORD a new song. His glory is at the end of the earth; they that sail in the sea, and that are in it, the isles, and they that dwell in them!

11. Shout aloud, ye deserts, and the cities thereof, and the villages where Kedar dwelleth. They that dwell in the rocks shall shout, And call from the high places of the mountains.

12. Let them give glory to the LORD, and declare his fame in the isles.

13. The LORD shall go forth as a giant; he shall stir up zeal as a man of war; he shall shout and shout; he shall give way to his enemies.

14. I will hold my peace for a season, and be silent, and hold my peace. But now, like a woman in childbirth, I will cry out; I will lay them waste and devour them all.

15. I will lay waste the mountains and the hills, and wither all their grass; and I will make the rivers islands, and dry up the seas.

16. But the blind will I lead in the way which they know not; I will lead them in the paths which they know not: I will make the darkness light before them, and the cave a plain. These things will I do unto them, and will not forsake them.

17. But they that trust in idols, and say unto the molten image, Ye are our gods, shall return and be put to shame.

18. Hear, ye deaf; and look, ye blind, that ye may see.

19. Who is so blind as my servant, and who is so deaf as my messenger whom I send? Who is so blind as the perfect, and so blind as the servant of the LORD?

20. They preach much, but they keep it not: they tell them enough, but they will not hear.

21. Nor is the LORD pleased with them for his righteousness' sake, to make the law glorious and great,

22. They are a spoiled and plundered people; they are all entangled in dens, and hid in dungeons; they are become a spoil, and there is no deliverer, plundered, and there is none that saith, Restore them.

23. Who is there among you that heareth these things, and hearkeneth, and heareth that which cometh after?

24. Who delivered Jacob to plunder, and Israel to robbers? Hath not the LORD done it, against whom we have sinned? And they would not walk in his ways, neither obeyed they his law.

25. Therefore hath he poured out upon them the fury of his wrath, and a power of war; and hath set them on fire round about, but they know it not; and hath set them on fire, but they take it not to heart.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 43

The church has comfort in Christ and his suffering.

1. And now thus saith the LORD that created thee Jacob, and made thee Israel; Fear not, for I have redeemed thee: I have called thee by thy name: thou art mine.

2. For if thou pass through the waters, I will be with thee, and the rivers shall not drown thee: and if thou enter into the fire, thou shalt not burn, neither shall the flame kindle thee.

3. For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour. I have given Egypt, Moor, and Seba in thy stead to make reconciliation.

4. Because thou art esteemed in mine eyes, thou also must be glorious, and I love thee: therefore will I give men in thy stead, and nations for thy soul.

5. Fear not therefore, for I am with thee. I will bring thy seed from the morning, and gather thee from the evening;

6. And I will say toward the north, Give me; and toward the south, Resist not. Bring my sons from afar, and my daughters from the end of the earth,

7. All that are called by my name, even whom I have created for my glory, and prepared them, and made them.
8. Bring forth the blind people, which have eyes; and the deaf, which have ears.
9. Let all the heathen be gathered together, and let the nations be assembled. Which of them shall proclaim these things, and make us hear aforetime what shall come to pass? Let them present their witnesses, and let them prove, and it shall be heard, and they shall say, It is the truth.
10. But ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen; that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he. Before me there was no God made, neither shall there be after me.
11. I am the LORD, and beside me there is no saviour.
12. I have declared, and have helped, and have told you; and there is no strange god among you.
- Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD; so am I GOD.
13. Neither am I, till there was no day; neither is there any that can deliver out of mine hand. I work; who shall turn it away?
14. Thus saith the LORD your Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; For your sakes have I sent to Babylon, and have cast down all the bars, and have driven the wailing Chaldeans into the ships.
15. I am the LORD your Holy One, which have created Israel, your King.
16. Thus saith the LORD, that maketh way in the sea, and maketh way in strong waters; 17. Who bringeth forth chariots, and horses, and armies, and mighty men, and they lie down in a heap, and rise not up; and they go out as a wick goeth out:
18. Remember not the former things, and regard not the things which are past.
19. For, behold, I will make a new thing; now it shall grow up; that ye may know that I make a way in the wilderness, and rivers of water in the desert,
20. That the beast of the field may praise me, the dragon and the ostrich. For I will give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to water my people; my chosen ones.
21. This people have I prepared for myself; they shall tell my fame.

22. Not that thou hadst called me, O Jacob, or that thou hadst labored for me, O Israel.

23. For thou hast not brought me the sheep of thy burnt offering, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices: I have not desired thy service in the meat offering, neither have I desired thy work in the incense;

24. Thou hast not bought me calamity for money; thou hast not filled me with the fatness of thy sacrifices. Yea, thou hast made me labour in thy sins, and hast given me trouble in thine iniquities.

25. I will blot out thy transgression for my own sake, and will not remember thy sins.

26. Remind me, and let us be just one to another: tell me how thou wilt be just.

27. Thy forefathers have sinned, and thy teachers have dealt treacherously against me.

28. Therefore have I profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and made Jacob an outlaw, and Israel a scorn.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 44

God's majesty is praised, idolatry rejected.

1. Hear now, O my servant Jacob, and Israel, whom I have chosen.

2. Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and prepared thee, and hath stood by thee from the womb: Fear not, O my servant Jacob, and thou that art upright, whom I have chosen.

3. For I will pour water upon the thirsty, and streams upon the drought; I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thy seed,

4. That they may grow as grass, as the willows by the rivers of water.

5. This man shall say, I am the LORD'S; and this man shall be called by the name of Jacob: and this man shall ascribe himself with his hand unto the LORD, and shall be called by the name of Israel.

6. Thus saith the LORD King of Israel, and his Redeemer the LORD of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God.

7. And who is like unto me, that calleth, and proclaimeth, and bringeth it unto me, that setteth the nations from the world? Let them proclaim unto them the signs, and the things which are to come.

8. Fear not, neither be dismayed. Have I not at this time caused thee to hear and to proclaim it?

For ye are my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? There is no refuge, for I know of none.

9. The idolaters are all vain, and their good things are of no profit. They are their witnesses, and see nothing, neither perceive; therefore they are put to shame.

10. Who are they that make a god, and cast idols, which are of no profit?

11. Behold, all their fellows are put to shame; for they are masters of men. Though they all come together, yet they shall fear, and be put to shame.

12. A man forgeth iron in the tongs, and worketh in the furnace, and maketh it ready with hammers, and worketh at it with all the strength of his arm: he also suffereth hunger, until he cannot; neither drinketh he water, until he be weary.

13. And the other carpeth wood, and measureth it with a cord, and marketh it with a red stone, and heweth it, and chiseleth it, and maketh it like a man's image, like a goodly man that dwelleth in the house.

14. He goeth freshly among the trees of the forest, to cut down the cedars, and to take the beeches and the oaks, even a cedar that is planted, and that is grown before the rain.

15. Which giveth fireworks unto men, and they take them to warm themselves, and they set them on fire, and bake bread with them. There he maketh a god of it, and worshippeth it: he maketh an idol of it, and boweth down to it.

16. Half of it he burneth in the fire, and over the other half he eateth flesh: and he roasteth a roast, and is satisfied, and warmed himself, and said, Hoja! I am warmed; I see my delight in the fire.

17. But the rest he maketh God, that it may be his idol, before which he kneeleth, and boweth down, and prayeth, saying, Save me: for thou art my God.

18. They know nothing, and understand nothing: for they are blinded, that their eyes cannot see, nor their hearts perceive,

19. And they enter not into their heart: there is no understanding, neither wit, that they should think: I have burned half of it with fire, and have baked bread upon the coals, and roasted meat, and eaten it; and shall make the rest an abomination, and shall kneel to a block?

20. It giveth ashes, and deceiveth the heart that inclineth unto it, and cannot save his soul. Nor thinketh he, Is this also deceit, which my right hand driveth?

21. Remember this, O Jacob, and Israel: for thou art my servant. I have prepared thee to be my servant: Israel, forget me not.

22. I will destroy thy iniquity as a cloud, and thy sin as the mist. Turn to me, for I will deliver you.

23. Rejoice, ye heavens, for the LORD hath done it: call down, ye earth; ye mountains, rejoice with singing; the forest and all the trees thereof: for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and is glorious in Israel.

24. Thus saith the LORD thy Redeemer, which hath prepared thee from the womb: I am the LORD that doeth all things, that stretched out the heavens alone, and made the earth wide without help,

25. Who destroyeth the signs of the diviners, and maketh the diviners foolish; who turneth back the wise, and maketh their art foolish,

26. But confirm the word of his servant, and execute the counsel of his messengers, which saith unto Jerusalem, Be ye inhabited; and unto the cities of Judah, Be ye built; and I will raise up their desolations;

27. Who saith to the deep, Seal up; and to the rivers, Dry up.

28. Who saith unto Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and he shall accomplish all my will, that it may be said unto Jerusalem, Be thou built; and unto the temple, Be thou established.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 45

Redemption from Babylonian captivity.

1. Thus saith the LORD unto his anointed, Cyrus, whom I will take by his right hand, to subdue the heathen before him, and to cut off the sword from kings; that the doors may be opened before him, and the gates not shut:

2. I will go before thee, and level the humps; I will break the doors of brass, and break the bars of iron.

3. And I will give thee the secret treasures, and the hidden treasures, that thou mayest know that I the LORD God of Israel have called thee by thy name.

4. For Jacob my servant's sake, and for Israel my chosen. Yea, I called thee by thy name, and called thee, when thou knewest me not yet.

5. I am the LORD, and there is none else: there is no God without me. I have equipped thee, when thou knewest me not,

6. That they may know both the rising of the sun, and the going down of the sun, that there is nothing beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none more,

7. Who maketh light, and maketh darkness: who giveth peace, and maketh evil. I am the LORD, which doeth all these things.

8. Drop, ye heavens, from above, and let the clouds rain down righteousness; let the earth open, and bring forth salvation; and let righteousness increase with it. I, the LORD, create it.

9. Woe unto him that contendeth with his maker, even the potsherd with the potter of the clay. If the clay also saith unto his potter, What doest thou? Thou proveest not thy hands by thy work?

10. Woe unto him that saith unto his father, Why hast thou begotten me? and to his wife: Why hast thou conceived?

11. Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and their Master; Ask of me the signs; direct my children, and the work of my hands, unto me.

12. I have made the earth, and created man upon it. It is I whose hands have stretched out the heavens, and have commanded all his host.

13. I have raised him up in righteousness, and all his ways will I make even. He shall build my city, and let my captives go, not for money, nor for gifts, saith the LORD of hosts.

14. Thus saith the LORD; The trades of the Egyptians, and the trades of the Moors, and the long men of Sheba, shall yield themselves unto thee, and be thine own; they shall follow thee; they shall go in bonds, and shall fall down before thee, and make supplication unto thee: for with thee is God, and there is no more God.

15. Verily thou art a hidden God, O God of Israel, the Saviour.

16. But the idolaters must all stand with shame and scorn, and go down ashamed together.

17. And Israel shall be redeemed by the LORD unto an everlasting redemption, and shall not be put to shame, nor made a mockery of for ever and ever.

18. For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens, the God that prepared the earth, and made it, and fashioned it, and made it not to be empty, but prepared it to be inhabited; I am the LORD, and there is none else.

19. I have not spoken in secret in the dark place of the earth. I have not said in vain unto the seed of Jacob, Seek me. For I am the LORD that speaketh of righteousness, and declare that which is right.

20. Let the mighty men of the heathen be gathered together, and come together, which know not any thing, and bear themselves with the graven images of their idols, and make supplication unto God, who is not able to help.

21. Proclaim, and make yourselves known; take counsel together. Who hath spoken these things of old, and proclaimed them of old? Have not I, the LORD, done it? And there is no other God without me, a righteous God and Saviour; and there is none without me.

22. Turn ye unto me, and ye shall be saved, even to the end of the world. For I am God, and no other.

23. I swear by myself, and a word of righteousness proceedeth out of my mouth, and it shall stand: every knee shall bow unto me, and every tongue shall swear.

24. Saying, In the LORD have I righteousness and strength. Such also shall come unto him: but all they that resist him shall be put to shame.

25. For in the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory in him.

Ch. 46. v. 1. Bel is bowed down, Nebo is fallen, their idols are given to beasts and cattle, that they may be weary with your burden.

2. Yea, they fall and bow down all, and cannot bear away the burden, but their souls must go into prison.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 46

God is his church's protection.

3. Hearken unto me, ye of the house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are borne in my womb, and lie with me in my mother.

4. Yea, I will bear you up unto old age, and till ye be grey. I will do it; I will lift and carry and save.

5. After whom do ye form me, and to whom do ye compare me?
Against whom do ye measure me, that I should be like?

6. They pour out the gold out of the bag, and weigh the silver in the balances, and reward the goldsmith to make it a god, before whom they kneel and worship.

7. They lift him up on the shoulder, and bear him, and set him in his place. There he standeth, and cometh not out of his place. If any man cry unto him, he answereth not, neither helpeth him out of his trouble.

8. Remember these things, and be firm: ye transgressors, enter into your hearts.

9. Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none more, a God like unto whom there is none,

10. Who declareth beforehand that which is to come after, and before that which is to come to pass, saying, My purpose is established, and I will do all that I please.

11. I call unto a bird from the east, and to a man that doeth my bidding, from a far country. What I say, that let come; what I think, that do I.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 47

Destruction of tyrannical Babel.

12. Harken unto me, ye of proud heart, which are far from righteousness.

13. I have brought my righteousness near, it is not far off, and my salvation is not delayed: for I will give salvation in Zion, and my glory in Israel.

Ch. 47. v. 1. Down, virgin, thou daughter of Babylon, sit thou in the dust, sit thou upon the earth!

For the daughter of the Chaldeans hath no more a seat. They shall call thee no more: Thou tender and lewd.

2. take the mill and grind flour, fray your braids, bare your foot, uncover your thigh, wade through the water,

3. That thy shame may be exposed, and that thy dishonour may be seen. I will be avenged, and no man shall abate me.

4. Our Redeemer, which is called the LORD of hosts, the Holy One of Israel, doeth these things.

5. Sit thou in silence, go into darkness, thou daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called Woman over Kingdoms.

6. For when I was wroth with my people, and profaned my inheritance, I delivered them into thine hand: but thou showedst them no mercy; neither didst thou make thy yoke too heavy upon the aged.

7. and thought: I am a queen for ever. Thou hast not yet laid these things to thine heart, nor thought how it shall be with them hereafter.

8. Hear now this, thou that livest in lust, and sittest so secure, and sayest in thine heart, I am, and no more; I will not be a widow, nor barren.

9. And they shall both come upon thee suddenly in one day, and thou shalt be a widow, and barren: yea, they shall come upon thee abundantly, because of the multitude of thy sorcerers, and because of thy conjurors, of whom there is a great multitude with thee.

10. For thou hast trusted in thine own wickedness, when thou thoughtest: I am not seen: thy wisdom and thy art have overthrown thee, saying in thine heart, It is I, and none else.

11. Therefore there shall come upon thee a calamity which thou knewest not when it brake, and an accident shall fall upon thee which thou canst not atone for: for there shall come upon thee a sudden tempest which thou knewest not.

12. Stand therefore with thy conjurors, and with the multitude of thy sorcerers, among whom thou hast laboured from thy youth, whether thou wouldest counsel thyself, whether thou wouldest strengthen thyself.

13. For thou art weary before the multitude of thy counsels. Let the masters of the course of the heavens stand and help thee, and the stargazers that reckon by the moons what shall come upon thee.

14. Behold, they are as stubble which the fire burneth up; they cannot save their lives from the flame: for there shall not be an ember to warm them, nor a fire to sit by.

15. So they among whom thou hast laboured are thy servants from thy youth: every one shall go his way hither and thither, and have no helper.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 48

The people's sin is punished, God's glory is praised.

1. Hear this, ye of the house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are flowed out of the waters of Judah, which swear by the name of the LORD, and remember God in Israel, but not in truth nor righteousness.

2. For they call themselves of the holy city, and defy the God of Israel, which is called the LORD of hosts:

3. I have declared these things before: they are come out of my mouth, and I have spoken them: I do it suddenly that they come.
4. For I know that thou art hard; and thy neck is a vein of iron, and thy forehead is a vein of steel.
5. I told thee before, and I sent word unto thee before it came, lest thou shouldest say, My idol hath done it, and my image and my god hath commanded it.
6. These things thou hearest, and seest, and hast not declared. For I have told thee new things before, and hidden things, which thou knewest not.
7. But now is it created, and not then; and thou hast not heard of it a day before, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew it.
8. For thou heardest not, neither knewest, neither was thine ear open at that time: but I knew that thou wouldest despise, and be called a transgressor from thy mother's womb.
9. Therefore I am patient for my name's sake, and for my glory's sake will I forbear thee, that thou be not cut off.
10. Behold, I will purify thee, but not as silver; but I will make thee choice in the furnace of affliction.
11. For mine own sake, yea, for mine own sake will I do it, that I be not blasphemed: for I will not leave mine honour to another.
12. Harken unto me, O Jacob, and thou, O Israel, my called: I am he, I am the first, and also the last.
13. My hand hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath compassed the heavens: whatsoever I call, there standeth.
14. Gather yourselves together, all of you, and hear: Who is there among these that can declare these things? The LORD loveth him: therefore will he prove his will against Babylon, and his arm against the Chaldeans.
15. I, even I, have said it, I have called him; I will also cause him to come, and his way shall prosper him.
16. Come near unto me, and hear these things: I have not spoken them before in secret. From the time that it is spoken, I am there: and now the Lord GOD and his Spirit send me.
17. Thus saith the LORD thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel; I am the LORD thy God, which teach thee that which is good, and guide thee in the way that thou goest.

18. O that thou wouldest hearken unto my commandments! Then thy peace shall be as a river of water, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea,

19. And thy seed shall be as the sand, and the increase of thy body as the gravel thereof; whose name shall not be cut off nor destroyed from before me.

20. Go ye out from Babylon, flee from the Chaldeans with a joyful noise; proclaim and let it be heard; bring it forth unto the end of the world. Say, The LORD hath redeemed his servant Jacob.

21. They thirsted not, when he led them in the wilderness; he caused water to flow out of the rock for them; he rent the rock, and water ran out.

22. But the wicked, saith the LORD, have no peace.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 49

Christ never forgets his church.

1. Hearken unto me, ye isles, and ye nations afar off, take heed. The LORD hath called unto me from my mother's womb: he hath remembered my name, while I was yet in my mother's womb,

2. And hath made my mouth like a sharp sword; with the shadow of his hand hath he covered me. He hath made me a pure arrow; he hath put me in his quiver.

3. And saith unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, by whom I will be glorified.

4. But I thought that I labored in vain, and that I spent my strength in vain, though my cause was the Lord's, and my ministry my God's.

5. And now thus saith the LORD, which hath prepared me from my mother's womb to be his servant, that I should turn Jacob unto him, that Israel should not be taken away: therefore am I glorious in the sight of the LORD, and my God is my strength.

6. Saying, It is a small thing that thou art my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to bring again that which was desolate in Israel: but I have made thee also the light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be my salvation unto the end of the world.

7. Thus saith the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, his Holy One, unto the despised soul, unto the people that are abominable, unto the servant that is among tyrants; Kings shall see and arise, and princes shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithful, because of the Holy One that is in Israel, who hath chosen thee.

8. Thus saith the LORD; I have heard thee in a good time, and have helped thee in the day of salvation; and have kept thee, and have set thee for a covenant among the people, to raise up the land, and to take the inheritance that was spoiled,

9. To say unto the captives: Come forth; and to them that are in darkness, Come forth; that they may feed by the way, and have their pasture upon every hill.

10. They shall neither hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor the sun sting them: for their Beneficent God shall lead them, and shall guide them unto the springs of waters.

11. I will make all my mountains paths, and my ways shall be made plain.

12. Behold, these shall come from afar, and, lo, that midnight, and that from the sea, and that from the land of Sinnig.

13. Rejoice, ye heavens; be glad, O earth: praise ye mountains with singing. For the LORD hath comforted his people, and hath had mercy upon his afflicted.

14. And Zion saith, The LORD hath forsaken me, the LORD hath forgotten me.

15. Can a woman forget her child, that she have not compassion on the son of her womb?

Though she forget him, yet will I not forget thee;

16. Behold, in my hands have I drawn thee. Thy walls are before me for ever.

17. Thy builders shall haste, but thy breakers and thy destroyers shall depart.

18. Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold! All these come gathered unto thee. As I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt be clothed with all these as with an ornament, and shalt put them about thee as a bride.

19. For thy land, which is desolate, and broken down, shall be too strait for thee to dwell in, when thy destroyers are come far from thee,

20. That the children of thy barrenness may continue to say in thine ears: The space is too narrow for me; move, that I may dwell with thee.

21. But thou shalt say in thine heart, Who begat me these? I am barren, solitary, driven out, and cast down. Who brought up these unto me? Behold, I was left alone; where then were these?

22. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will lift up mine hand unto the heathen, and will cast up my banner unto the nations; and they shall bring thy sons in thine arms, and carry thy daughters in their shoulders.

23. And the kings shall be thy nurses, and their princesses thy nurses. They shall fall to the ground before thee, and lick the dust of thy feet. Then shalt thou know that I am the LORD, in whom they that wait upon me shall not be put to shame.

24. Can a robbery be taken from a giant, or can the righteous be loosed from his captives?

25. For thus saith the LORD; Now shall the captives be taken from the giant, and the spoil of the strong be loosed: and I will contend with thy strife, and will save thy children.

26. And I will feed thy oppressors with their own flesh; and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I am the LORD thy Saviour, and thy Redeemer, the Mighty One in Jacob.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 50

The rejection of the Jews. Christ's obedience.

1. Thus saith the LORD; Where is your mother's bill of divorcement, that I might have left her?

Or who is my usurer, to whom I have sold you? Behold, ye are sold for your sins, and your mother is left for your transgressions.

2. Why came I, and there was none; I called, and no man answered? Is my hand now become so short, that it cannot deliver, or is there no power with me to deliver? Behold, with my rebuke I make the sea dry, and make the rivers of waters as a wilderness, that their fishes stink for want of water, and die for thirst.

3. I will clothe the heavens with darkness, and make his covering as sackcloth.

4. The Lord GOD hath given me a learned tongue, that I may know how to speak in season to him that is weary. He waketh me every morning; he waketh my ear, that I may hear as a disciple.

5. The LORD hath opened mine ear; and I am not disobedient, neither do I go back.
6. I set my back before them that smote me, and my cheeks before them that scolded me: I hid not my face from shame and spittle.
7. For the LORD help me, therefore I shall not be put to shame. Therefore have I set my face as a pebble; for I know that I shall not be put to shame.
8. He is near, he that judgeth me: who will dispute with me? Let us come together: who is he that judgeth me? Come ye hither unto me.
9. Behold, the LORD help me: who is he that will condemn me? Behold, they shall all wax old as a garment; moths shall eat them up.
10. Who is there among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and seemeth not to him? He shall hope in the name of the LORD, and rely upon his God.
11. Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, armed with flames: walk in the light of your fire, and in flames which ye have kindled. These things are returned unto you of mine hand: in pain ye shall lie.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 51

Comfort of all believers, grounded in God's promise.

1. Hearken unto me, ye that pursue after righteousness, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the well whence ye are digged.
 2. Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah, of whom ye were born. For I called unto him, while he was yet single, and blessed him, and multiplied him.
 3. For the LORD hath comforted Zion; he hath comforted all her desolations; he hath made her wildernesses as gardens of pleasure, and her fields as the garden of the LORD; to find delight and joy in them, and thanksgiving and praise.
 4. Hearken unto me, my people; hearken unto me, my people. For from me shall go forth a law, and my judgment will I soon set forth for the light of the nations.
 5. For my righteousness is near, my salvation goeth forth, and mine arms shall judge the nations.
- The isles wait for me, and wait for my arm.

6. Lift up your eyes toward heaven, and look down upon the earth. For the heavens shall pass away as smoke, and the earth shall wax old as a garment; and they that dwell therein shall die in the twinkling of an eye. But my salvation endureth for ever, and my righteousness shall not fail.

7. Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, O people, in whose hearts is my law. Fear not when men revile you, and be not dismayed when they make you despondent.

8. For moths shall eat them up as a garment, and worms shall devour them as a willing cloth: but my righteousness shall stand for ever, and my salvation for ever.

9. Hither, hither, come power, thou arm of the LORD! Farewell, as of old, as of old! Art thou not he that hath cut down the proud, and wounded the dragon?

10. Art thou not he that dried up the sea of great deep waters, that made the bottom of the sea a way for the redeemed to pass through?

11. So shall the redeemed of the LORD return, and come unto Zion with glory; and everlasting joy shall be upon their head. Delight and joy shall take hold of them, but mourning and sighing shall flee from them.

12. I am your Comforter. Who art thou then that thou art afraid of men that die, and of the children of men that are eaten for hay?

13. And forget the LORD that made thee, that stretched out the heavens, and founded the earth?

But thou fearest the wrath of the wicked all the day long, when he is about to destroy. Where is the wrath of the wicked?

14. When he had made haste and run about, that he might deliver, and they died not in the destruction, neither lacked they bread?

15. For I am the LORD thy God, which turneth the sea, and the waves thereof rage: his name is called LORD of hosts.

16. I will put my word in thy mouth, and will cover thee under the shadow of my hands, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.

17. Awake, awake, arise, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk of the hand of the LORD the cup of his wrath. The lees of the cup of staggering thou hast drunk, and licked the drops.

18. There was none of all the children which she bare to guide her, none of all the children which she brought up to take her by the hand.

19. These two met thee: who bare sorrow with thee? There was disturbance, harm, famine, and sword; who should comfort thee?
20. Thy children were fainted; they lay in every street like a snared hart, full of wrath from the LORD, and reproach from thy God.
21. Therefore hear this, thou wretched man, and drunken without wine!
22. Thus saith thy sovereign LORD, and thy God that avengeth his people; Behold, I take away the cup of stumbling out of thine hand, and the lees of the cup of my wrath; thou shalt drink it no more,
23. But I will deliver him into the hand of thy oppressors, which have said unto thy soul: Bend thee down, that we may pass over; and put thy back to the ground, and like an alley to pass over.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 52

Redemption of the church and loveliness of the gospel.

1. Arise, arise, O Zion; put on thy strength, adorn thyself gloriously, O holy city Jerusalem. For no uncircumcised or unclean shall reign in thee henceforth.
2. Get thee out of the dust, arise, thou captive Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, thou captive daughter of Zion.
3. For thus saith the LORD, Ye are sold for nought; ye shall be redeemed without money.
4. For thus saith the LORD GOD; My people went down at the first into Egypt, to be sojourners there: and Assyria hath done them violence without a cause.
5. But how is it done unto me now in all this place? saith the LORD. My people are seduced in vain; their rulers make vain weeping, saith the LORD; and my name is blasphemed daily.
6. Therefore my people shall know my name in that day: for, behold, I myself will speak.
7. How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of the messengers that proclaim peace, that preach good, that proclaim salvation, that say unto Zion, Thy God is King.
8. Thy watchmen cry aloud with their voice, and boast together: for it shall be seen with eyes, when the LORD converteth Zion.
9. Let us be glad and rejoice together in the desolation of Jerusalem: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and redeemed Jerusalem.

10. The LORD hath revealed his holy arm in the sight of all nations, that the end of the world may see the salvation of our God.

11. Go away, go away! Depart from thence, and touch no unclean thing. Come out from her, purify yourselves, ye that bear the vessels of the LORD.

12. For ye shall not go out with haste, nor walk with flight: for the LORD shall go before you, and the God of Israel shall gather you.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 53

Christ's passion and resurrection.

(On Good Friday.)

13. Behold, my servant shall do wisely, and shall be exalted, and very highly exalted, 14. That many shall be angry with thee, because his form is more ugly than other men's, and his countenance than the children of men.

15. But so shall he sprinkle many nations, that even kings shall shut their mouths against him.

For unto them that have not heard of it shall they see with delight: and they that have not heard of it shall know it.

Ch. 53. v. 1. But who will believe our preaching, and to whom will the arm of the Lord be revealed?

2. For he sprung up before him as rice, and as a root out of dry ground. He had no form nor beauty; we saw him, but there was no form to please us.

3. He was the most despised, the most unworthy, full of pain and sickness. He was so despised that people hid their faces from him; therefore we did not respect him.

4. For verily he bare our sickness, and took upon him our pains. And we took him for one that was afflicted, and smitten of God, and martyred.

5. But he is wounded for our iniquity, and bruised for our sin. The punishment is upon him, that we might have peace; and by his wounds we are healed.

6. We all went astray like sheep, every one looking to his own way: but the LORD cast upon him the sin of us all.

7. When he was punished and martyred, he opened not his mouth, as a lamb that is led to the slaughter, and as a sheep that is dumb before her shearers, and openeth not her mouth.

8. But he is taken out of anguish and judgment: who shall plead the length of his life? For he is taken out of the land of the living, because he was afflicted for the iniquity of my people.
9. And he was buried like the wicked, and died like a rich man, though he did no man wrong, neither was there deceit in his mouth.
10. But the LORD would smite him with disease. When he hath given his life for a trespass offering, he shall have seed, and shall live for a long time: and the LORD'S purpose shall pass away by his hand.
11. Because his soul hath wrought, he shall see his delight, and have his fullness. And by his knowledge shall he, my servant the righteous, justify many: for he beareth their sin.
12. Therefore will I give him a great multitude for a prey, and he shall have the strong for a prey: because he hath given his life unto death, and is counted like unto the transgressors, and hath borne many sins, and hath made intercession for the transgressors.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 54

The church's gift of grace from Christ her Bridegroom.

1. Boast, thou barren woman, which hast not given birth; rejoice with glory, and exult, thou that art not with child. For the lone woman hath more children than she that hath a husband, saith the LORD.
2. Make wide the room of thy tabernacle, and spread out the carpets of thy dwelling; spare not thine own; stretch thy cords long, and fasten thy nails.
3. For thou shalt go forth on the right hand, and on the left: and thy seed shall inherit the heathen, and shall dwell in the waste cities.
4. Fear not, for thou shalt not be put to shame: be not thou foolish, for thou shalt not be a laughingstock; but thou shalt forget the shame of thy virginity, and shalt remember no more the reproach of thy widowhood.
5. For he that made thee is thy husband; LORD of hosts is his name: and thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, who is called GOD to all the earth.
6. For the LORD hath made thee to be as a woman forsaken, and sorrowful in heart, and as a young woman cast out, saith thy God.
7. I have left thee one thy moment; but with great mercy will I gather thee.

8. I have hid my face from thee a little in the moment of wrath: but with everlasting mercy will I have mercy upon thee, saith the LORD thy Redeemer.
9. For this shall be unto me as the waters of Noah, when I swore that the waters of Noah should no more pass over the face of the earth. So have I sworn that I will not be angry with thee, nor reproach thee.
10. For the mountains shall depart, and the hills shall fall: but my mercy shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace fall away, saith the LORD thy merciful God.
11. Thou wretched, over whom all weathers pass, and thou desolate! Behold, I will set thy stones as an ornament, and will lay thy foundation with sapphires.
12. And make thy windows of crystals, and thy gates of rubies, and all thy borders of choice stones;
13. And taught all thy children of the LORD, and great peace unto thy children.
14. Thou shalt be prepared by righteousness. Thou shalt be far from violence and wrong, that thou shalt not fear it; and from terror, that it come not nigh thee.
15. Behold, who shall again destroy thee, and overtake thee, if they destroy themselves without me?
16. Behold, I make it that the smith that bloweth up the coals in the fire shall make a stuff of them for his work: for I make it that the destroyer shall perish.
17. For every thing that is prepared against thee shall not prosper; and every tongue that shall set itself against thee thou shalt condemn in judgment. This is the inheritance of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness from me, saith the LORD.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 55

Of true repentance and God's word.

1. Now therefore, all ye that thirst, come ye hither for water; and ye that have no money, come ye hither, buy and eat; come ye hither, and buy without money, and for nothing, both wine and milk.
2. Why do ye count money where there is no bread, and your labour where ye cannot be satisfied? Harken ye unto me, and eat that which is good, and your souls shall be fat with lust.

3. Give ear, and come unto me: hear, and your souls shall live. For I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the certain mercies of David.
4. Behold, I have set him for a witness unto the people, for a ruler and master unto the nations.
5. Behold, thou shalt call the heathen whom thou knowest not: and the heathen that know thee not shall run unto thee because of the LORD thy God, and because of the Holy One that is in Israel, which glorifieth thee.
6. Seek the Lord, because he is to be found; call upon him, because he is near.
7. Let the wicked forsake his way, and the transgressor his thoughts, and turn unto the LORD; and he will have mercy upon him, and upon our God: for with him is much forgiveness.
8. For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD, 9. But as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.
10. For as the rain and the snow falleth from heaven, and returneth not again; but moisteneth the earth, and maketh it fruitful and yielding, that it may give seed to sow, and bread to eat, 11. So shall the word that goeth forth out of my mouth be: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall do that which I please, and it shall prosper when I send it.
12. For ye shall go forth in joy, and be led in peace. Mountains and hills shall rejoice before you with glory, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.
13. Let fir trees grow for hedges, and myrtles for thorns: and let the LORD have a name and an everlasting sign, that shall not be cut off.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 56

Admonition to godliness. Punishment of the dumb dogs.

1. Thus saith the LORD; Keep ye judgment, and do righteousness: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.
2. Blessed is the man that doeth these things, and the son of man that keepeth them, that he keep the sabbath day, and profane it not; and that he keep his hand, that he do no evil.

3. And the stranger that hath joined himself to the LORD shall not say, The LORD will separate me from his people. And he that is cut off shall not say, Behold, I am a dry tree.
 4. For thus saith the LORD unto them that are cut off, which keep my sabbaths, and choose that which is right in mine eyes, and keep my covenant:
 5. I will give them a place in my house, and within my walls, and a better name than that of sons and daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, which shall not pass away.
 6. And the children of strangers, which have joined themselves unto the LORD, to serve him, and to love his name, that they may be his servants; every one that keepeth the sabbath day, that he profane it not, and keepeth my covenant.
 7. These will I bring unto my holy mountain, and will make them joyful in my house of prayer: and their sacrifices and their burnt offerings shall be acceptable unto me upon mine altar: for mine house is called a house of prayer unto all people.
 8. The LORD GOD, which gathereth the outcasts out of Israel, saith, I will gather more unto the multitude that are gathered together.
 9. All ye beasts of the field, come and eat, yea, all ye beasts of the forest.
 10. All their watchmen are blind, they all know nothing; dumb dogs are they, which cannot punish; are lazy lying, and love to sleep.
 11. But they are strong dogs of the flesh, which can never be filled: they the shepherds know not understanding: every man looketh to his way, every man is covetous of himself in his estate.
 12. Come ye hither, and let us take wine, and be drunken: and to morrow shall be as to day, and much more.
- Ch. 57. v. 1. But the righteous perish, and there is none that taketh it to heart; and holy men are taken up, and no man heareth. For the righteous are snatched away from calamity.
2. And they that have walked rightly before them come to peace, and rest in their chambers.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 57

God will punish the rebellious and make peace for the penitent.

3. And ye, come near, ye children of the day-widower, ye seed of the adulterer and the whore!
4. In whom will ye now have your pleasure? Over whom will ye now open your mouths, and stick out your tongues? Are ye not the children of transgression, and a false seed?
5. Ye that run in heat unto idols under every green tree, and slay the children by the rivers under the tops of the rocks?
6. Thy substance is in the smooth stones of the brook; they are thy portion: thou pourest out thy drink offering unto them, when thou offerest meat offerings. Shall I be comforted in this?
7. Thou makest thy camp upon a high and lofty mountain, and goest up there also to sacrifice.
8. And behind the door and the posts thou shalt set thy memorial. For thou rollest away from me, and goest up, and makest thy camp wide, and joinest thyself to them: thou lovest their camp, where thou seest them.
9. Thou hast burned with oil unto the king, and hast many spices: thou hast sent thy message afar off, and hast been humbled unto hell.
10. Thou didst labour in the multitude of thy ways, and saidst not, I leave it: but because thou findest life in thine hand, thou art not weary.
11. Of whom art thou so careful, and so afraid, when thou dealest in lies, and rememberest me not, and takest not to heart? Thinkest thou that I will keep silence all the way, that thou fearest me not at all?
12. But I will shew thy righteousness, and thy works, that they shall not profit thee.
13. If thou shalt call, let thy multitudes help thee. But the wind shall carry them all away, And vanity shall take them away. But he that trusteth in me shall inherit the land, And possess my holy mountain.
14. And he shall say, Make way, make way, clear the way, remove the stumblingblocks out of the way of my people.
15. For thus saith he that is high and exalted, which dwelleth for ever, whose name is holy, who dwelleth on high, and in the sanctuary, and with them that are of a contrite and a humble spirit; that I may quicken the spirit of the humble, and the heart of the contrite: 16. I will not always contend, neither will I be wroth for ever: but a spirit shall move from my face, and I will breathe.

17. I was wroth with the iniquity of their covetousness, and smote them, and hid myself, and was wroth: and they went to and fro in the way of their heart.

18. But when I saw their ways, I healed them, and guided them, and restored comfort unto them, and to them that mourned over them.

19. I will make fruit of the lips that preach: Peace, peace, both to them that are afar off, and to them that are nigh, saith the LORD; and I will heal them.

20. But the wicked are like a turbulent sea, which cannot be still, and the waves thereof cast out mire and filth.

21. The wicked have not peace, saith my God.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 58

Of fasting and sanctifying the Sabbath.

1. Shout confidently, spare not! Lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and declare to my people their transgression, and to the house of Jacob their sin.

2. They seek me daily, and desire to know my ways, as a people that have done righteousness, and have not forsaken the judgment of their God. They claim me rightly and want to be right with their God.

3. Why do we fast, and thou seest it not? Why do we afflict our bodies, and thou wilt not know it? Behold, when ye fast, ye do your will, and cast out all your trespassers.

4. Behold, ye fast to quarrel, and wrangle, and smite ungodly with your fists. Fast not so as ye do now, that a shout be heard from you on high.

5. Is this a fast that I should choose, that a man should do evil to his body by day, or hang his head like a reed, or lie on sackcloth and in ashes? Will ye call this fasting, and one day acceptable unto the LORD?

6. Now this is a fast which I choose: Loose those whom thou hast bound with iniquity; Release those whom thou hast burdened; Release those whom thou hast urged; Take away every burden;

7. Break thy bread to the hungry, and bring into the house them that are in misery: if thou seest any naked, clothe him, and be not deprived of thy flesh.

8. Then shall thy light break forth as the dawn, and thy correction shall speedily increase, and thy righteousness shall go before thee, and the glory of the LORD shall take thee.

9. Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer thee: and when thou shalt cry, he shall say, Behold, here am I. If thou wilt not afflict any man with thee, neither wilt thou point fingers, nor speak evil,
10. And thou shalt let the hungry find thy heart, and satisfy the wretched soul: thy light shall be for darkness, and thy darkness shall be as the noonday;
11. And the LORD shall guide thee for ever, and satisfy thy soul in the drought, and strengthen thy bones: and thou shalt be as a watered garden, and as a fountain of waters, which never lacketh water.
12. And by thee shall be built that which was long waste, and thou shalt lay the foundation thereof, which shall remain for ever: and thou shalt be called He that fenceth the gaps, and mendeth the ways, that they may dwell there.
13. If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath day, and do not that which is pleasing in thy sight on my holy day, it shall be a merry sabbath to hallow the LORD, and to praise him. For so shalt thou praise him, if thou do not thy ways, nor be found in them that please thee, or that speak thou.
14. Then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD, and I will cause thee to soar upon the high places of the earth, and will feed thee with the inheritance of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the LORD saith.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 59

The sins of the Jews are told. Christ will bite.

1. Behold, the hand of the LORD is not too short, that he cannot help; neither are his ears waxed thick, that he cannot hear,
2. But your iniquities separate you from your God, and your sins hide the face of you, that ye be not heard.
3. For your hands are stained with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; your lips speak.
- Falsehood, your tongue sealeth iniquity.
4. There is none that preacheth righteousness, or that judgeth faithfully. They trust in vain things, and speak not righteous things: they are pregnant with misfortunes, and bring forth trouble.
5. they hatch basilisk eggs, and work cobwebs. If one eats of their eggs, one shall die; but if one crushes them, an adder comes out.

6. Their spider's web is not fit for garments, neither is their fabric fit for a covering: for their work is toil, and in their hands is wickedness.

7. Their feet run to evil, and are swift to shed innocent blood; their thoughts are trouble, their way is vain destruction and harm;

8. They know not the way of peace, neither is there any righteousness in their ways: they are perverse in their paths: he that walketh therein hath no peace.

9. Therefore is judgment far from us, and we obtain not righteousness. We wait for the light, and, behold, it is dark; for the light, and, behold, we walk in darkness.

10. We grope after the wall as the blind, and grope as they that have no eyes. We stumble in the midday as in the twilight; we are in the gloom as the dead.

11. We all growl like bears, and groan like doves: for we wait for judgment, if it be not there; for salvation, if it be far from us.

12. For our transgression before thee is too much, and our sins answer against us. For our transgressions are with us, and we feel our sins.

13. By transgressing, and lying against the LORD, and turning back from our God, and speaking iniquity and disobedience, striving, and uttering false words out of the heart.

14. Therefore also judgment is receded, and righteousness is put afar off: for truth falleth in the street, and righteousness cannot walk,

15. And the truth is gone; and he that departeth from evil is every man's spoil. The LORD seeth these things, and is displeased with them, because they are not right.

16. And he beheld that there was none, and marvelled that no man represented them. Therefore he himself helpeth him with his arm, and his righteousness sustaineth him.

17. For he putteth on righteousness as an armour, and setteth a helmet of salvation upon his head, and putteth on vengeance, and clotheth himself with zeal as with a garment,

18. As he will repay his adversaries, and pay his enemies with wrath; yea, the isles will he pay,

19. That the name of the LORD may be feared from the going down, and his glory from the rising of the sun, when he shall come as a stopped river, which the wind of the LORD driveth.

20. For unto them that are in Zion shall come a deliverer, and unto them that turn from sins in Jacob, saith the LORD.

21. And I make this covenant with them, saith the LORD; My spirit which is with thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed and of thy child, saith the LORD, from henceforth even for ever.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 60

The New Testament Church Assembly, Treasures and Goods.

(Epistle on the day of Epiphany.)

1. Arise, get thee up; for thy light cometh, and the glory of the LORD riseth upon thee.

2. For, behold, darkness covereth the earth, and darkness the nations: but upon thee the LORD riseth up, and his glory shineth upon thee.

3. And the heathen shall walk in thy light, and kings in the brightness that riseth upon thee.

4. Lift up thine eyes, and look round about. These all gathered come unto thee! Thy sons shall come afar off, and thy daughters shall be brought up to the side.

5. Then shalt thou see thy desire, and shalt break forth; and thine heart shall be sore, and thou shalt be enlarged, when the multitude of the sea shall turn unto thee, and the power of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

6. For the multitude of camels shall cover thee, the runners from Midian and Ephah. They shall all come out of Sheba, bringing gold and incense, and shall declare the praises of the LORD].

7. All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered unto thee, and the goats of Nebajoth shall serve thee.

They shall be offered upon mine acceptable altar: for I will adorn the house of my glory.

8. Who are they that fly as the clouds, and as the doves to their windows?

9. The isles wait for me, and the ships of the sea before me, to bring thy children from far, with their silver and their gold, the name of the LORD thy God, and the Holy One in Israel, which hath glorified thee.

10. Strangers shall build thy walls, and their kings shall serve thee. For in mine anger have I smitten thee, and in my mercy have I had mercy upon thee.

11. And thy gates shall be open continually, and they shall not be shut day nor night; and the power of the heathen shall be brought unto thee, and their kings shall be brought.

12. For whatsoever nations or kingdoms will not serve thee, they shall perish; and the heathen shall be laid waste.

13. The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, fir trees, and beech trees, and box trees together, to adorn the place of my sanctuary: for I will make the place of my feet glorious.

14. They also that oppressed thee shall come bowing down unto thee: and all they that blasphemed thee shall fall down at thy feet, and shall call thee a city of the LORD, a Zion of the Holy One in Israel.

15. For because thou hast been the forsaken and hated, when no man went, I will make thee an everlasting glory, and a joy to all generations,

16. And thou shalt suck milk of the heathen, and the breasts of kings shall suckle thee; that thou mayest know that I the LORD am thy Saviour, and I the mighty one in Jacob am thy Redeemer.

17. I will bring gold for brass, and silver for iron, and brass for wood, and iron for stones: and I will make thy rulers to teach peace, and thy keepers to preach righteousness.

18. No more shall iniquity be heard in thy land, nor hurt nor destruction within thy borders: but thy walls shall be called salvation, and thy gates praise.

19. The sun shall no more shine in the day unto thee, neither shall the brightness of the moon give thee light; but the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20. Thy sun shall no more go down, neither thy moon put out her light: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy sorrow shall be ended.

21. And thy people shall be righteous for ever, and shall inherit the earth for ever, as the branch of my planting, and the work of my hands, to praise.

22. From the least shall be a thousand, and from the least a mighty nation. I the LORD will hasten these things in his time.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 61

Christ's Magisterium. The joy of the church.

1. The Spirit of the LORD the LORD is upon me; therefore the LORD hath anointed me. He hath sent me to preach to the afflicted, to bind up the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and an opening to them that are bound,
2. To preach a gracious year of the Lord, and a day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn,
3. To make ready for the mourners of Zion, to give them ornaments for ashes, and the oil of gladness for mourning, and fair raiment for a sorrowful spirit; to call them trees of righteousness, plants of the LORD, to praise.
4. They shall build up the old desolations, and raise up the things that were destroyed before: they shall renew the cities that were laid desolate, which were in ruins for ever.
5. Foreigners shall stand and feed your flock, and foreigners shall be your husbandmen and your husbandmen.
6. But ye shall be called priests of the LORD, and shall be called the servants of our God: and ye shall eat the goods of the Gentiles, and boast of their glory.
7. For your reproach shall come in twain, and for shame shall they rejoice in their fields. For they shall possess double things in their land; they shall have everlasting joy.
8. For I am the LORD, which love righteousness, and hate a spoiled burnt offering: and I will make their work sure, and will make an everlasting covenant with them.
9. And their seed shall be known among the heathen, and their seed among the nations: that whosoever shall see them shall know them, that they are a seed blessed of the LORD, 10. I rejoice in the LORD, and my soul is glad in my God: for he hath clothed me with garments of salvation, and with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom adorned with priestly ornaments, and as a bride girdeth herself in her apparel.
11. For as the herb groweth up out of the earth, and as the seed cometh up in the garden, so shall righteousness and praise spring up out of the Lord GOD in the sight of all nations.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 62

Glory of the New Testament Church.

1. For Zion's sake I will not hold my peace; and for Jerusalem's sake I will not tarry, till her righteousness arise as a brightness, and her salvation as a torch, 2. That the heathen may see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall call.
3. And thou shalt be a crown of beauty in the hand of the LORD, and a royal hat in the hand of thy God.
4. Thou shalt no more be called Forsaken, nor thy land a desolation; but thou shalt be called My delight in her, and thy land a dear paramour: for the LORD hath delight in thee, and thy land hath a dear paramour.
5. For as a good man loveth a good man, so shall thy children love thee: and as a bridegroom rejoiceth over his bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.
6. O Jerusalem, I will set watchmen upon thy walls, which shall never hold their peace all the day nor all the night, and which shall remember the LORD; that there be no silence among you,
7. And ye shall not hold your peace from him, till Jerusalem be finished, and be set for a praise upon the earth.
8. The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his might: I will no more give thy corn to thine enemies to eat, nor thy wine, whereon thou hast laboured, to the strangers to drink,
9. But they that gather it shall eat it, and praise the LORD; and they that bring it in shall drink it in the courts of my sanctuary.
10. Go ye, pass through the gates, prepare the way for the people; make straight the way, make straight the way, clear the stones; cast a banner over the nations.
11. Behold, the LORD is heard unto the end of the world. Tell the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh; behold, his reward is with him, and his recompense is before him.
12. They shall call them the holy people, the redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called the city visited and not forsaken.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 63

Christ's struggle and victory.

1. Who is he that cometh from Edom, clothed in the red of Bazrah, adorned with his garments, and treading in his great strength? I am he that teacheth righteousness, and am a master to help.
2. Why then is thy robe the colour of red, and thy raiment like the winepress?
3. I tread the winepress alone, and there is none among the nations with me. I have pressed them in mine anger, And trodden them in my fury. Therefore their wealth is sprinkled upon my garments, and I have defiled all my raiment.
4. For I have determined a day of vengeance: the year to redeem mine own is come.
5. For I looked round about, and there was no helper, and I was in terror, and no man contained me; but my arm had to help me, and my wrath contained me.
6. Therefore have I trodden down the nations in mine anger, and made them drunken in my wrath, and cast down their substance to the ground.

The 64th chapter

Praise of divine miracles. Prayer for salvation.

7. I will remember the goodness of the LORD, and the praise of the LORD in all that the LORD hath done unto us, and the great goodness of the house of Israel, which he hath done unto them in his mercy and great kindness.
8. For he said, They are my people, children that are not false. Therefore was he their saviour.
9. He that afflicted them afflicted him also: and the angel that is before him helped them. He delivered them, because he loved them, and spared them. He took them up, and carried them from of old.
10. But they provoked and enraged his Holy Spirit: therefore he became their enemy, and fought against them.
11. And he remembered the former time, Moses, which was among his people. Where then is he that brought them up out of the sea, and the shepherd of his flock? Where is he who gave his Holy Spirit among them?
12. Who led Moses by the right hand with his glorious arm, which parted the waters before them, that he might make him an everlasting name,

13. Who leadeth them through the deep, as horses in the wilderness, which stumble not, 14. As the cattle that go down into the field, which the breath of the LORD driveth? So hast thou also led thy people, that thou mightest make thee a glorious name.

15. Look therefore from heaven, and behold from thy holy glorious habitation. Where then is thy zeal, thy might? Thy great hearty mercy holdeth hard against me.

16. Thou art our father. For Abraham knoweth not of us, and Israel knoweth us not. But thou, O

LORD, art our Father, and our Redeemer: of old time is thy name.

17. Why hast thou caused us to err, O LORD, from thy ways, and hardened our hearts, that we fear not thee? Return again for thy servants' sake, for the tribes' sake, for thine inheritance.

18. They almost possess thy holy people: thine adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.

19. We are as we were before, when thou didst not rule over us, and we were not called by thy name.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 64,

1: Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, and bring down the mountains before thee!

2. As waters boiled by fierce fire, that thy name might be known among thine enemies, and that the heathen might tremble at thy presence.

3. By the wonders which thou doest, which are not understood, when thou camest down, and the mountains were melted before thee.

4. For as it is not heard from the world, nor heard with ears, neither hath eye seen, without thee, O God, what befalleth them that wait for him.

5. Thou metst the merry, and them that do righteousness, and remember thee in thy ways.

Behold, thou wast angry with us, because we sinned, and abode long within: but we were saved.

6. But now we are all as the unclean, and all our righteousness is as an unclean garment. We are all withered as the leaves, and our sins carry us away as the wind.

7. No man calleth upon thy name, nor riseth up to hold thee: for thou hidest thy face from us, and causest us to languish in our sins.

8. But now, O Lord, thou art our Father, we are clay; thou art our potter, and we are all the work of thy hands.

9. O LORD, be not angry with us, and remember not our sins for ever. Behold, we are all thy people!

10. The cities of thy sanctuary are desolate: Zion is desolate, Jerusalem is destroyed.

11. The house of our holiness and glory, wherein our fathers praised thee, is burned with fire, and all that we had of beauty is put to shame.

12. O Lord, wilt thou be so hard unto such, and hold our peace, and smite us so much?

(Isaiah)

Chapter 65

Casting out of the Jews. Calling of the Gentiles.

1. I am sought of them that asked not for me; I am found of them that sought me not: and to the Gentiles that called not upon my name, I say, Here I am, here I am.

2. For I stretch out my hands all the day long unto a disobedient people, which walk after their own thoughts in a way that is not good.

3. A people that indigneth me is ever before my face, sacrificing in the gardens, and burning incense upon the bricks,

4. dwell among the tombs, and keep themselves in dens, and eat swine's flesh, and have abominable soups in their pots

5. And say: Tarry at home, and stir me not: for I shall sanctify thee. Such shall become a smoke in mine anger, a fire that burneth all the day.

6. Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will pay; yea, I will pay them in their bosoms,

7. Both their iniquity, and their fathers' iniquity, together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense in the mountains, and have defiled me in the hills; and I will measure unto them their former works in their bosoms.

8. Thus saith the LORD; As when one findeth must in a bunch, and saith, Destroy it not; for there is a blessing in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I destroy it not all, 9. But I will cause seed to grow out of Jacob, and out of Judah to possess my mountain: for mine elect shall possess it, and my servants shall dwell there.

10. And Saron shall be a house for the flock, and the valley of Achor shall be a storehouse for my people that seek me.

11. But ye that forsake the LORD, and forget my holy mountain, and prepare a table for Gad, and offer a drink offering to Meni,

12. Now therefore I will number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down yourselves to the battle: because I called, and ye answered not; because I spake, and ye hearkened not; but did that which was evil in my sight, and mentioned that which was not in my sight.

13. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, my servants shall eat, and ye shall hunger; behold, my servants shall drink, and ye shall thirst; behold, my servants shall rejoice, and ye shall be ashamed;

14. Behold, my servants shall shout for joy, but ye shall cry for sorrow, and howl for lamentation.

15. And ye shall leave your name for an oath unto my chosen ones: and the LORD GOD shall kill you, and call his servants by another name,

16. That whosoever shall bless himself on earth shall bless himself in the right God, and whosoever shall swear on earth shall swear by the right God: for the former fears are forgotten, and are hid from mine eyes.

17. For, behold, I will create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall be no more to be remembered, nor to be cherished,

18. But they shall rejoice for ever, and be glad in that which I create.

For, behold, I will make Jerusalem to rejoice, and her people to be glad.

19. And I will be glad in Jerusalem, and rejoice in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be heard no more within, neither the voice of lamentation.

20. There shall be no more children that do not attain their days, nor old men that do not fulfil their years: but the children of an hundred years shall die, and the sinners of an hundred years shall be accursed.

21. They shall build houses, and inhabit them; they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

22. They shall not build, that another may inhabit; neither shall they plant, that another may eat.

For the days of my people shall be as the days of a tree, and the work of their hands shall wax old in mine elect.

23. They shall not labor in vain, nor bear untimely birth: for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their seed with them.

24. And it shall come to pass, before they call, that I will answer; and while they yet speak, that I will hear.

25. The wolf and the lamb shall feed together; the lion shall eat straw like the ox, and the serpent shall eat earth. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

(Isaiah)

Chapter 66

Spreading the true worship of God.

1. Thus saith the LORD; Heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: what house then will ye build me, or what place shall I rest in?

2. My hand hath made all that there is, saith the LORD. But I look on the wretched, and on him that is of a broken spirit, and that feareth my word.

3. For he that killeth an ox is even as he that killeth a man. He that sacrificeth a sheep is as if he had broken the neck of a dog. He that offereth a meat offering is as he that offereth a wave offering. He that burneth incense is as one that praiseth iniquity. They choose such things in their ways, and their souls delight in their abominations.

4. Therefore will I also choose that which they shall mock at; and that which they shall shun will I bring upon them; because I called, and no man answered that I spake; and they hearkened not, and did that which was evil in my sight, and chose that which was not in my sight.

5. Hear the word of the LORD, ye that fear his word: your brethren that hate you, and turn you away for my name's sake, say: Let them see how glorious the LORD is: let him appear for your joy: they shall be put to shame.

6. For there shall be heard a voice of tumult in the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD paying his enemies.

7. She beareth before her woe: she is recovered of a child before the need of her child cometh.

8. who hath ever heard such things? Who hath seen such things? Can a nation be born at the same time, before a land has a woe? For Zion hath born her children without the woe.

9. Shall I suffer others to break the mother's womb, and shall not myself also bring forth? saith the LORD. Shall I let others bear, and be shut up myself? saith thy God.
10. Rejoice with Jerusalem, and be glad in her, all ye that love her. Rejoice with her, all you who have been sad over her!
11. For this ye shall suck, and be filled with the breasts of her consolation; ye shall suck for it, and be filled with the abundance of her glory.
12. For thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will spread peace over her as a river, and the glory of the Gentiles as a stream poured down: there shall ye suck. Ye shall be carried on your sides, and on your knees ye shall be held in kindness.
13. I will comfort you, as a mother comforts her mother: yea, ye shall be gladdened in Jerusalem.
14. Ye shall see it, and your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall be green as grass. Then shall the hand of the LORD be known in his servants, and wrath in his enemies.
15. For, behold, the LORD will come with fire, and his chariots as the weather, to recompense in the fierceness of his wrath, and his rebuke in flames of fire.
16. For the LORD will judge by fire, and by his sword all flesh: and the slain of the LORD shall be many.
17. They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens, one with another, and eat swine's flesh, and abominations, and mice, shall be gathered together, saith the LORD.
18. For I will come and gather their works and their thoughts together with all nations and tongues, and they shall come and see my glory.
19. And I will set a sign among them, and will send some of them that are saved unto the heathen that are by the sea, to Phul, and to Lud, and to the archers, and to Thubal, and to Javan, and unto the isles afar off, where they have not heard of me, and have not seen my glory; and they shall declare my glory among the heathen.
20. And all your brethren from all the nations shall bring a meat offering unto the LORD in horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and in mouths, and in heels, unto Jerusalem unto my holy mountain, saith the LORD; as the children of Israel bring a meat offering in a clean vessel unto the house of the LORD.

21. And I will take of them priests and Levites, saith the LORD.

22. For as the new heavens and the new earth that I shall make shall be before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name be before me.

23. And all flesh shall come one month after another, and one sabbath after another, to worship before me, saith the LORD.

24. And they shall go out, and see the dead bodies of the men that have trespassed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched; and they shall be an abomination to all flesh.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Prophet Jeremiah (Jeremiah) ^

Chapter 1

Jeremiah is called to proclaim the destruction of Jerusalem.

1. These are the acts of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests of Anathoth, in the land of Benjamin,

2. To whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign,

3. And afterward in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the prison of Jerusalem in the fifth month.

4. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

5. I knew thee before I prepared thee in the womb, and I separated thee before thou wast born of thy mother, and set thee to be a prophet among the nations.

6. And I said, O Lord GOD, I am not fit to preach, for I am too young.

7. And the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am too young: but go whithersoever I send thee, and preach the things which I command thee.

8. Fear them not: for I am with thee, and will deliver thee, saith the LORD.

9. And the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth, and said unto me, Behold, I put my words in thy mouth.

10. Behold, I set thee this day over nations and kingdoms, to pluck up, and to break down, and to destroy, and to build, and to plant.

11. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said: I see a rod of valour.
12. And the LORD said unto me, Thou hast seen right: for I will be valiant in my word to do it.
13. And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said: I see a hot boiling pot from the north.
14. And the LORD said unto me, From northward there shall be calamity upon all them that dwell in the land.
15. For, behold, I will call all the princes of the kingdoms toward the north, saith the LORD; and they shall come and set their seats at the gates of Jerusalem, and round about the walls thereof, and before all the cities of Judah.
16. And I will execute judgment upon them for all their wickedness; and they shall forsake me, and burn incense unto other gods, and worship the work of their hands.
17. Gird up thy loins therefore, and arise, and preach unto them all that I bid thee. Be not afraid of them, as if I should discourage thee!
18. For I will make thee this day a strong city, a pillar of iron, a wall of brass throughout all the land, against the kings of Judah, against their princes, against their priests, against the people of the land,
19. That though they fight against thee, yet they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

Ch. 2, v. 1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Go and preach openly at Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD; I remember thee, when thou wast a kind young maid, and a fair bride, when thou followedest me in the wilderness of the land that soweth not,
3. When Israel was the LORD'S own, and the firstfruits thereof. He that devoured them was guilty, and evil came upon him, saith the LORD.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 2

God's benefits. The sin and ingratitude of the Jews.

4. Hear the word of the LORD, ye of the house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.
5. Thus saith the LORD; How your fathers have erred in me, in that they have departed from me, and have walked after vain idols, when they obtained nothing,

6. And never once thought, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, and led us in the wilderness, in the wild land, in the land of no man, in the parched land, in the land of darkness, in the land where no man walked, nor where any man dwelt?
7. And I brought you into a good land, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goods thereof: and ye entered therein, and polluted my land, and made my inheritance an abomination unto me.
8. The priests thought not, Where is the LORD? and the scholars regarded me not, and the shepherds led men away from me, and the prophets prophesied of Baal, and worshipped useless idols.
9. I must always reproach myself with you, and with your children's children, saith the LORD.
10. Go ye into the isles of Chittim, and look, and send into Kedar, and mark diligently, and see whether it be so there,
11. Whether the heathen change their gods, though they be not gods? And yet my people have changed their glory for a vain idol.
12. If the heavens were astonished, and terrified, and greatly exalted, saith the LORD.
13. For my people have sinned a twofold sin: for they have forsaken me, the living fountain, and have made for themselves wells which are hewn out here and there, but they have holes, and give no water.
14. Is Israel then a bondman, or bondwoman, that he should be every man's spoil?
15. For the lions roared against him, and cried, and laid waste his land, and burned his cities, that none dwelt therein.
16. And they of Noph and Thachpanhes shall bruise thy head.
17. This do thou unto thyself, that thou trust in the LORD thy God, when he leadeth thee in the way.
18. What profit is it that thou goest into Egypt, and wilt drink the water of Sihor? And what profit is it that thou goest to Assyria, and wilt drink the water of Phrath?
19. It is the fault of thy wickedness that thou art beaten, and of thy disobedience that thou art punished: Thou shalt therefore know and know the sorrow and the heartache of forsaking the LORD thy God, and shalt not fear him, saith the LORD of hosts.

20. For thou hast always broken thy yoke, and rent thy bands, saying, I will not be so subdued: but upon every high hill, and under every green tree, thou hast lain in whoredom.

21. But I had planted thee for a sweet vine, an altogether upright seed. How then hast thou become unto me a bitter and wild vine?

22. Though thou wash thyself with lye, and take much soap, yet thy iniquity shineth the more before me, saith the LORD GOD.

23. How canst thou say, I am not unclean, I am not attached to Baalim? Behold, how thou doest it in the valley, and consider how thou hast done it.

24. Thou walkest about as a she-camel in heat, and as a wild beast in the wilderness, when it is in a great heat, and runneth, that no man can stop it. If you want to know, you must not run far; on the holiday you can see it.

25. Hold thou, I pray thee, and run not so hard. But thou sayest, I will not; I must court the strangers, and run after them.

26. As a thief is put to shame when he is taken, so shall the house of Israel be put to shame, and their kings, and their princes, and their priests, and their prophets, 27. Who say unto the wood, Thou art my father; and unto the stone, Thou hast begotten me. For they turn their backs upon me, and not their faces. But when trouble cometh, they say: Arise, and help us.

28. But where are thy gods, which thou hast made thee? Let them arise; Let them see if they can help thee in thy trouble. For many a city, many a god, hast thou, O Judah.

29. Why are ye yet right against me? Ye are all fallen from me, saith the LORD.

30. All the blows are lost upon your children; yet they cannot be drawn. For your sword devoureth your prophets like a fierce lion.

31. Thou wicked manner; mark the word of the LORD. Am I Israel a desolation, or a waste land?

Why sayest thou my people, We are lords, and need not follow thee?

32. Forget not a virgin her jewels, nor a bride her veil: but my people forget me for ever.

33. Why hast thou much adorned thy doings, that I should be gracious unto thee? Under these appearances thou doest more and more wickedness.

34. About which the blood of poor and innocent souls is found with thee in every place, and is not secret, but manifest in the same places.
35. Nor sayest thou: I am innocent: turn away his wrath from me. Behold, I will be even with thee, and thou shalt say, I have not sinned.
36. How gladly wilt thou yield, and fall now hither, now hither! But thou shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou hast been ashamed of Assyria.
37. For thou also must depart thence, and smite thine hands together upon thy head: for the LORD will make thy hope fail, and thou shalt not prosper with them.

Ch. 3, v. 1. And saith, If a man put away his wife, and she depart from him, and take another husband, may he receive her again? Is it not so, that the land is polluted? But thou hast dealt with many lovers: but come again unto me, saith the LORD.

2. Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see how thou doest whoredom in every place. By the highways thou sittest, and waitest for them, as an Arabian in the wilderness, and defileest the land with thy whoredom and thy wickedness.

3. Therefore also the early rain must fail, and the late rain must not come. Thou hast a whore's forehead, thou wilt not be ashamed any more.

4. and yet cries unto me, Dear father, thou master of my youth!

5. Wilt thou then be angry for ever, and not cease from wrath? Behold, thou teachest, and doest evil, and sufferest not to be taxed.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 3

Exhortation to repentance Promise of divine grace.

6. And the LORD said unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou also seen what Israel the apostate hath done? She went up into all the high mountains, and under every green tree, and committed whoredom there.

7. And when she had done all these things, I said, Turn thou unto me. But she turned not. And though her sister Judah the hardened saw,

8. As I have punished adultery against Israel the apostate, and have forsaken her, and have given her a bill of divorcement: yet her sister Judah, which is hardened, feareth not, but goeth and committeth whoredom also.

9. And the land is polluted with the cry of her fornication: for she committeth adultery with stones and with wood;
10. And in all this Judah her sister, which is hardened, turneth not unto me with her whole heart, but feigneth herself thus, saith the LORD.
11. And the LORD said unto me, The apostate Israel is righteous against the stubborn Judah.
12. Go thy way, and preach toward the north, saying, Return, thou apostate Israel, saith the LORD; and I will not hide my face from you: for I am merciful, saith the LORD, and will not be angry for ever.
13. Only know thine iniquity, that thou hast sinned against the LORD thy God, and hast run to and fro unto strange gods among all the green trees, and hast not hearkened unto my voice, saith the LORD.
14. Turn ye, O ye apostate children, saith the LORD; for I will trust you unto me, and will fetch you, and one shall lead a whole city, and two a whole land; and I will bring you unto Zion.
15. And I will give you shepherds after mine own heart, which shall feed you with doctrine and wisdom.
16. And it shall come to pass, when ye are increased, and your number is increased in the land, that, saith the LORD, in that day they shall speak no more of the ark of the covenant of the LORD, neither shall they remember it, nor preach of it, nor visit it, nor sacrifice there any more,
17. But in that day shall Jerusalem be called the throne of the LORD: and there shall all the heathen be gathered together unto Jerusalem for the name of the LORD, and shall walk no more after the thoughts of their evil heart.
18. And it shall come to pass in that day, that the house of Judah shall go unto the house of Israel, and shall come together from the north unto the land which I gave unto your fathers for an inheritance.
19. And I say unto thee, How will I give thee so many children, and the good land, the goodly inheritance, even the host of the heathen? And I say unto thee, Thou shalt then call me..: And thou shalt not depart from me.
20. But the house of Israel regardeth me not, as a woman regardeth not her husband, saith the LORD.

21. Therefore there shall be heard a mourning and a weeping of the children of Israel in the high places, because they have done evil, and have forgotten the LORD their God.

22. Return therefore, ye apostate children, and I will heal you of your disobedience. Behold, we come unto thee: for thou art the LORD our God.

23. Verily it is all deceitfulness with hills, and with all mountains. Verily Israel hath no help but in the LORD our God.

24. And let the labours of our fathers, which we have kept from our youth, perish with shame, with their flocks, and their herds, and their children, and their daughters.

25. For that which we trusted in is now a reproach unto us: and that which we trusted in we are now ashamed of. For we have sinned against the LORD our God, both we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 4

Repeated sermon of repentance. Prophecy of devastation of the Jewish land.

1. If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, return unto me. And if thou put away thine abominations from my presence, thou shalt not be driven out.

2. Then shalt thou swear without hypocrisy, rightly and sacredly: As the LORD liveth! And the heathen shall be blessed in him, and shall glory in him.

3. For thus saith the LORD unto them of Judah and Jerusalem, Plant a new thing, and sow not under the hedges.

4. Circumcise yourselves unto the LORD, and put away the foreskin of your heart, ye men of Judah, and ye people of Jerusalem; lest my wrath come forth as fire, and burn, and no man quench it, because of your wickedness.

5. Proclaim ye then in Judah, and cry aloud unto Jerusalem, saying, Blow ye the trumpets in the land. Cry with a loud voice, saying, Gather yourselves together, and let us go into the strong cities.

6. Throw up a banner in Zion; heap ye up, and tarry not. For I bring a calamity from the north, and a great distress.

7. Therefore the lion cometh out of his hedge. And the destroyer of the heathen cometh out of his place. And the destroyer of the heathen cometh out of his place, to lay waste thy land, and to burn up thy cities, that no man dwell therein.

8. Therefore put on sackcloth, and mourn, and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD will not cease from us.

9. In that day, saith the LORD, the heart of the king and of the princes shall fail; the priests shall be confounded, and the prophets shall be afraid.

10. And I said, O Lord GOD, thou hast greatly failed this people and Jerusalem, when they said, There shall be peace among you, though the sword reach unto the soul.

11. And it shall be said in that day unto this people and to Jerusalem, There cometh a dry wind out of the mountains, as out of the wilderness, by the way of the daughter of my people, not to whirl nor to blow.

12. Yea, a wind cometh, which shall be too strong for them: then will I also be right with them.

13. Behold, he goeth forth as the clouds, and his chariots are as the whirlwind, and his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us, we shall be destroyed!

14. Wash therefore, O Jerusalem, thine heart from evil, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall these evil doctrines abide with thee?

15. For there cometh a cry from Dan, and an evil report from mount

Ephraim, 16. As the heathen boast. And it hath sounded as far as Jerusalem, and the guardians shall come from far countries, and shall cry against the cities of Judah.

17. They shall besiege them round about, as the keepers of the field: for they have provoked me to anger, saith the LORD.

18. This thou hast to recompense for thy nature and for thy doings. Then shall thy heart feel how thy wickedness is so great.

19. How heartily I am pained! My heart throbs in my flesh, and I have no rest: for my soul heareth the sound of the trumpet, and a battle of the field.

20. And the cry of murder shall be upon the cry of murder: for all the land shall be devastated; suddenly shall my tents and my tabernacles be destroyed.

21. How long shall I see the banner, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22. But my people are foolish, and believe me not: they are foolish, and regard not. They are wise enough to do evil, but they will not learn to do good.

23. I looked upon the land, and, behold, it was desolate and waste; and upon the heaven, and it was dark.

24. I looked upon the mountains, and, behold, they quaked, and all the hills trembled.

25. I looked, and, behold, there was no man, and every fowl under heaven was flown away.

26. I looked, and, behold, the field was a desolation, and all the cities thereof were broken down before the LORD, and before his fierce anger.

27. For thus saith the LORD, The whole land shall be desolate, and yet it shall not be utterly desolate.

28. Therefore the land shall be sad, and the heavens above shall be sorrowful: for I have spoken it, I have determined it, and I will not repent, neither will I cease from it.

29. All the cities shall flee from the shout of the horsemen and the archers, and shall run into the thick forests, and shall creep into the rocks: all the cities shall stand desolate, and none shall dwell therein.

30. What then wilt thou do, O thou that art distressed? Though thou be clothed in purple, though thou be adorned with jewels of gold, though thou make up thy face, yet thou adornest thyself in vain: for they that court thee shall despise thee, they shall seek thy life.

31. For I hear a cry as of a woman in childbirth, an anguish as of one in the first throes of childbearing, a cry of the daughter of Zion, lamenting and casting out her hands, Alas, woe is me, I am almost consumed with grief.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 5

Many sins of the Jewish people and the punishments threatened against them.

1. Go ye through the streets of Jerusalem, and see, and know, and search in her streets, if ye find any that do right, and enquire after faith; and I will be gracious unto her.
2. And though they speak: By the living God, they swear falsely.
3. O Lord, thine eyes are upon faith. Thou smitest them, but they feel it not: thou afflictest them, but they amend not. They have a hard face like a rock, and will not be converted.
4. And I said, Well, this poor company is without understanding, and knoweth not the way of the LORD, nor the righteousness of their God.
5. I will go to the mighty, and speak unto them: they shall know the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God: but they all had broken the yoke, and rent the cords.
6. Therefore also the lion that cometh out of the forest shall tear them, and the wolf that cometh out of the wilderness shall destroy them, and the leopard shall lie in wait for their cities; and all that go out therein shall he devour. For their sins are too many, and they are hardened in their rebellion.
7. How then shall I be gracious unto thee, because thy children forsake me, and swear by him that is not God? And when I have filled them, they commit adultery, and run into the whorehouse.
8. Every man neigheth after his neighbour's wife, as the full and idle stallions.
9. And shall I not punish them for these things? saith the LORD; and shall not my soul take vengeance on such a people as these?
10. Overthrow their walls, and cast them down, and make them not at all. Take away their branches; for they are not the LORD'S,
11. But they despise me, both the house of Israel, and the house of Judah, saith the LORD.
12. They deny the LORD, and say: This is he not, and so evil shall it not be unto us; sword and famine shall we not see;
13. Yea, the prophets are washers, neither have they the word of God: so let it pass over themselves!
14. Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts; Because ye do such words, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and will consume them.
15. Behold, I will bring upon you of the house of Israel, saith the LORD, a nation from afar, a mighty nation, which were the first nation, a nation whose language thou canst not understand, neither canst thou hear what they say.

16. His quivers are open graves, they are vain giants.

17. They shall devour thy harvest and thy bread, they shall devour thy sons and thy daughters, they shall devour thy sheep and thy oxen, they shall devour thy vines and thy fig trees; thy strong cities, wherein thou trustedst, shall they destroy with the sword.

18. And I will not, saith the LORD, finish it in that day.

19. And if they say, Why doth the LORD our God do these things unto us? thou shalt answer them: As ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your own land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20. These things shall ye proclaim in the house of Jacob, and preach in Judah, saying: 21. Give ear, ye foolish people, which have no understanding; which have eyes, and see not; which have ears, and hear not.

22. Will ye not fear me, saith the LORD, and be afraid of me? For I have set the sand of the sea for a shore, wherein it shall dwell for ever, and it shall not pass over it: though it roll, it shall not be able; though the waves thereof rage, they shall not pass over it.

23. But this people have an apostate and disobedient heart; they remain apostate, and go away continually.

24. And say not even in their heart, Let us fear the LORD our God, which giveth us early rain, and rain in due season, and keepeth us the harvest faithfully year by year.

25. But your iniquities hinder such things, and your sins turn away such good from you.

26. For wicked men are found among my people, pursuing after men, and setting snares to catch them, as the reeves do with cobs.

27. And their houses are full of deceit, as a fowler is full of decoys. Therefore they become mighty and rich, fat and smooth.

28. They deal wickedly; they keep not justice; they promote not the cause of the fatherless, and prosper them; they help not the poor to justice.

29. Shall I not then visit these things, saith the LORD, and shall not my soul take vengeance on such a people as these?

10. The land is a dreadful and abominable place.

31. The prophets teach falsely, and the priests rule in their office, and my people are pleased so.

How will ye fare at the last?

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 6

Babylonian captivity and its causes.

1. Gather yourselves together, ye children of Benjamin, out of Jerusalem, and sound the trumpets in the tabernacle of Thekoa, and cast upon a banner in the tabernacle of Beth-cherem: for there goeth a calamity from the north, and a great distress.

2. the daughter of Zion is like a beautiful and merry meadow.

3. But shepherds shall come upon them with their flocks, and shall pitch tents round about them, and feed every man in his place:

4. Prepare yourselves for war against them. Come, let us go up, for it is still high day. The evening is about to come, and the shadows are growing large.

5. Come, let us be up, and let us go up by night, and destroy their palaces.

6. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, Cut down trees, and make a vail against Jerusalem: for she is a city to be visited. For she is a city to be visited. For there is iniquity in it.

7. For as a brook quencheth its waters, so quencheth their wickedness. Their iniquities and their violence cry out against them; And their murders and their smitings do they daily before me.

8. Amend thee, O Jerusalem, before my heart turn from thee, and I make thee a desolate land, wherein no man dwelleth.

9. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; What is left of Israel shall be gathered afterward, as from the vine. The grape harvester shall cast one by one into the vats.

10. Ah, to whom shall I speak and testify? I wish someone would listen. But their ears are uncircumcised; they will not hear. Behold, they hold the word of the LORD in derision, and will not hear it.

11. Therefore I am so full of the LORD'S wrath, that I cannot forbear it. Pour out, both of you, upon the children of the streets, and upon the company of the council together: for both man and woman, both old and old, shall be taken.

12. Their houses shall be for the strangers, and their fields, and their wives: for I will stretch out mine hand, saith the LORD, upon the inhabitants of the land.
13. For they are all covetous, both small and great; and both prophets and priests teach false worship.
14. And comfort my people in their affliction, that ye should esteem them little, saying, Peace, peace; and yet is not peace.
15. Therefore shall they be ashamed, because they have committed such abominations, though they will be undefiled, and will not be ashamed. Therefore they shall fall upon a heap: and when I shall visit them, they shall fall, saith the LORD.
16. Thus saith the LORD; Stand ye in the ways, and look, and enquire of the former paths which is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they say: We will not do it.
17. I have set watchmen over you. Heed the voice of the trumpets. But they speak: We will not do it.
18. Hear therefore, ye Gentiles, and take heed with your people.
19. O earth, listen! Behold, I will bring a calamity upon this people, their deserved reward, that they will not heed my words, and will reject my law.
20. Why ask I for the incense that cometh out of the kingdom of Arabia, and for the good cinnamon bark that cometh from a far country? Your burnt offerings are not acceptable to me, and your sacrifices are not pleasing to me.
21. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will set a stumblingblock before this people, and both fathers and children shall stumble together, and one neighbour shall perish with another.
22. Thus saith the LORD; Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation shall rise up hard against our land,
23. Who bear bows and shields. They are cruel and without mercy; they roar like a raging sea; they ride on horses, armed like men of war, against you, O daughter of Zion.
24. When we shall hear of them, our fists shall fall out: we shall be afraid and sore as one that travaileth in childbirth.
25. Let no man go out into the field, neither let any man pass over the ground: for in every place there is no safety from the sword of the enemy.

26. O daughter of my people, wear sackcloth, and lay thee in ashes: mourn as for an only son, and lament as they that are highly afflicted: for the destroyer cometh upon us suddenly.

27. I have set thee to be a smelter among my people, which are so hard, that thou shalt know and try their nature.

28. They are all apostates, and walk deceitfully: they are vain corruptors of brass and iron.

29. The bellows are burned up, the lead disappeareth: the melting is vain, for the evil is not separated therefrom.

30. Wherefore they are called rejected silver: for the LORD hath rejected them.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 7

Outward worship without true repentance is an abomination in the sight of God.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2. Enter ye into the gate of the house of the LORD, and preach there this word, saying, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah that enter into these gates to worship the LORD.

3. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Your life and your substance will I dwell with you in this place.

4. Do not listen to their lies when they say, Here is the Lord's temple, here is the Lord's temple, here is the Lord's temple.

5. But amend your lives and your ways, that ye may do right one to another.

6. And do no violence to strangers, orphans, or widows, nor shed innocent blood in this place; and follow not after other gods to your own hurt;

7. I will dwell with you always in this place, in the land which I gave to your fathers.

8. But now ye rely upon lies, which are of no profit.

9. Besides these, ye are thieves, and murderers, and adulterers, and perjurers, and burn incense unto Baal, and go after strange gods, which ye know not.

10. Then come ye, and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, There is no need of us, because we do such abominations.

11. Think ye then that this house, which is called by my name, is a den of thieves? Behold, I see it, saith the LORD.
12. Go to my place at Shiloh, where my name dwelt before, and see what I have done there for the wickedness of my people Israel.
13. Because ye all do such things, saith the LORD, and I always preach unto you, and ye will not hear; I call you, and ye will not answer:
14. Then will I do unto the house which is called by my name, in which ye trust, and unto the place which I gave unto your fathers, even as I did unto Shiloh.
15. And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, all the seed of Ephraim.
16. And thou shalt not plead for this people, neither shalt thou make complaint nor prayer for them, neither shalt thou plead for them before me: for I will not hear thee.
17. For seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?
18. The children read wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead the dough, to bake cakes unto Melecheth of heaven, and to give drink offerings unto the strange gods, that they may offend me.
19. But they shall not be grieved with me, saith the LORD, but with themselves, and shall be put to shame.
20. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, my wrath and my fury is poured out upon this place, both upon men, and upon cattle, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it shall burn, that none may quench it.
21. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Set your burnt offerings and your sacrifices in abundance, and eat flesh.
22. For I spake not unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, neither commanded I them of burnt offerings, and of sacrifices,
23. But this I commanded them, saying, Obey my word, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people, and walk in all the ways which I command you, that it may be well with you.
24. But they would not hear, nor incline their ears, but walked after their own counsel, and after the counsel of their evil heart, and went behind them, and not before them.

25. Yea, from the day that I brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt unto this day have I sent unto you all my servants the prophets.

26. But they will not hearken unto me, nor incline their ears; but are stiffnecked, and do worse than their fathers.

27. And though thou say these things unto them, yet will they not hear thee: if thou call unto them, they will not answer thee.

28. Therefore say unto them: This is the people that will not hear the LORD their God, nor amend themselves. Faith is perished and cut off from their mouths.

29. Cut off thy hair, and cast it from thee, and howl piteously in the high places: for the LORD hath rejected and cast away this generation, against whom he is wroth.

30. For the children of Judah do evil in my sight, saith the LORD. They put their abominations in the house that is called by my name, to defile it,

31. And they build the altars of Topheth in the valley of Benhinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters: which I commanded not, neither did I take in mind.

32. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Topheth, and the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of choke: and they shall bury in Topheth, because there shall be no more room.

33. And the carcases of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and for the beasts of the earth: no man shall scare them away.

34. And I will take away in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, the cry of joy and gladness, and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

Chap. 8, v. 1. At that time, saith the LORD, the bones of the kings of Judah, the bones of their princes, the bones of the priests, the bones of the prophets, the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, shall be cast out of their graves.

2. And they shall be scattered among the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, which loved them, and served them, and followed them, and sought them, and worshipped them.

They shall not be gathered up again, nor buried, but shall be dung upon the earth.

3. And all the remnant of this wicked people, in the place whither I have cast them out, shall rather be dead than alive, saith the LORD of hosts.
(Jeremiah)

Chapter 8

The unrepentant Jews are threatened with the Chaldean invasion.

4. Say therefore unto them, Thus saith the LORD; Where is there any that falleth, which will not gladly rise again? Where is there any that goeth astray, which will not gladly recover himself?

5. For yet this people of Jerusalem will go astray for ever and ever. They hold so hard to the false worship, that they will not be turned away.

6. I see and hear that they teach nothing right. There is none that is sorry for his wickedness, saying, What do I do? They all run their course like a fierce stallion at war.

7. A stork under heaven knoweth his time, a turtledove, a crane, and a swallow, know their time, when they shall return: but my people will not know the right of the LORD.

8. How can ye say, We know what is right, and have the scriptures before us? For what the scribes say is a lie.

9. Therefore such teachers must be put to shame, and be afraid, and be taken: for what good can they teach, because they reject the word of the LORD?

10. Therefore will I give their wives unto strangers, and their fields unto them that drive them out. For they are all covetous, both small and great; and both priests and prophets teach false worship.

11. And they comfort my people in their affliction, that they should esteem them little, saying, Peace, peace; and yet is not peace.

12. Therefore shall they be ashamed, because they have committed such abominations, though they will be undefiled, and will not be ashamed. Therefore they shall fall in heaps, and when I visit them, they shall fall, saith the LORD.

13. I will gather them all, saith the LORD; and there shall not be left grapes in the vine, nor figs in the fig tree; yea, the leaves also shall fall away: and that which I have given them shall be taken away from them.

14. Where then shall we dwell? gather yourselves together, and let us go into the strong cities, and there wait for help. For the LORD our God will help us with a bitter drink, because we have sinned against the LORD.

15. Yea, trust ye that there shall be no need, when there is no good; and that ye shall be healed, when there is great hurt.
16. And it shall be heard, that their horses shall make a noise in Dan, and their horses shall give a shout, and the whole land shall tremble. And they shall go forth, and devour the land, and all that is therein, and the city, and all that dwell therein.
17. For, behold, I will send serpents and basilisks among you, which are not sworn; and they shall bite you, saith the LORD.
18. There will I rejoice in my labour and in my heart's sorrow.
19. Behold, the daughter of my people shall cry out from a far country, Will not the LORD be God in Zion any more, or shall she have no king? Yea, why have they provoked me to anger with their images, and with their strange and vain services?
20. The harvest is past, the summer is gone, and no help is come unto us.
21. I am heartily sorry that my people are so corrupt: I am grieved and wretched.
22. Is there no ointment in Gilead? or is there no physician? Why then is not the daughter of my people healed?

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 9

Jeremiah's lamentation over his people's sins and the same punishment.

1. Oh that I had water enough in my head, and that mine eyes were fountains of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of my people!
2. Oh that I had an inn in the wilderness, that I might leave my people, and depart from them. For they are vain adulterers, and an unruly multitude.
3. They shoot with their tongues vain lies, and no truth: and they do violence in the land, and go from wickedness to wickedness, and regard me not, saith the LORD.
4. Let every man beware of his friend, neither let him trust his brother: for brother oppresseth another, and friend betrayeth another.
5. One friend deceiveth another, and speaketh no truer word: they labour how one may deceive another, and are sorry that they cannot make it worse.

6. There is deceitfulness among them everywhere: and for deceitfulness they will not know me, saith the LORD.

7. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will melt them, and try them. For what else shall I do, because my people are so adorned?

8. Their false tongues are murderous arrows: with their mouth they speak kindly against their neighbour, but in their heart they lie in wait for him.

9. Should I not therefore visit these things upon them, saith the LORD, and should not my soul take vengeance upon such a people as these?

10. I have wept and lamented upon the mountains, and lamented upon the waste places: for they are utterly desolate, and none walketh there, neither can cattle be heard to cry. The birds of the air and the cattle are all gone.

11. And I will make Jerusalem a heap of stones, and a dragon's habitation; and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, and none shall dwell therein.

12. Who then would be wise, and would let him go to his heart, and declare the things which the mouth of the LORD saith unto him, why the land is laid waste and desolate, as a wilderness where no man walketh?

13. And the LORD said, Because they have forsaken my law, which I commanded them, and have not hearkened unto my words, neither have they walked in them, 14. But follow the dictates of their hearts, and Baalim, as they taught their fathers, 15. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will feed this people with wormwood, and water them with gall.

16. I will scatter them among the heathen, which know neither them nor their fathers; and I will send the sword after them, until they be finished.

17. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Create and appoint wailing women to come, and send for them that are able,

18. And hastening to lament, our eyes run with tears, and our eyelids flow with water, 19. And there shall be heard a lamentable cry in Zion, saying, Alas, how we are utterly desolate and confounded! We must leave the land, for they have taken away our dwellings.

20. Hear therefore, ye wives, the word of the LORD, and take heed to the words of his mouth: teach your daughters to weep, and one to mourn, even thus:

21. Death is come in at our windows, and into our palaces, to choke the children in the street, and the young men in the street.

22. Thus saith the LORD; Say: The dead bodies of men shall lie as dung in the field, and as sheaves behind the reaper, which no man gathereth.

23. Thus saith the LORD; Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his strength, neither let the rich man glory in his riches, 24. But let him that will boast boast, that he knoweth and knoweth me, that I am the LORD, which do mercy, and judgment, and righteousness in the earth: for these things please me, saith the LORD.

25. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will visit all the circumcised with the uncircumcised,

26. Egypt, Judah, Edom, the children of Ammon, Moab, and all that dwell in the wilderness places. For all the heathen have uncircumcised foreskins, but all the house of Israel have uncircumcised hearts.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 10

Not idols, but God alone is to be feared and called upon.

1. Hear what the LORD saith unto you concerning the house of Israel.

2. Thus saith the LORD; Ye shall not learn the manner of the heathen, neither shall ye be afraid of the signs of heaven, as the heathen are afraid: 3. For the gods of the heathen are nothing. They hew down a tree in the land, and the master of the work maketh them with an axe.

4. And adorn them with silver and gold, and fasten them with nails and hammers, that they fall not down.

5. They are nothing but pillars covered. They cannot speak, so they must be carried, for they cannot walk. Therefore do not be afraid of them, for they can neither help nor hurt.

6. But unto thee, O LORD, is no man like: thou art great, and thy name is great, and canst prove it in deed.

7. Who shall not fear thee, O king of the heathen? For thou shalt be obeyed: for there is none like thee among all the wise men of the heathen, nor in all the kingdoms.

8. They are all fools and fools only: for a wood must be a vain service.
9. Silver plate is brought from the sea, and gold from Uphaz, prepared by the master and the goldsmith; yellow silk and purple are made for him: all this is the work of the wise.
10. But the LORD is a true God, a living God, an everlasting King. The earth trembleth at his wrath, and the heathen cannot bear his wrath.
11. Say ye therefore unto them, The gods which have not made heaven and earth must be destroyed from off the earth, and from under heaven.
12. And he made the earth by his power, and prepared the world by his wisdom, and stretched out the heavens by his understanding.
13. When he thundereth, the multitude of waters is under heaven, and he causeth the mists to come up from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings in the rain, and causeth the wind to come out of secret places.
14. All men are fools in their art, and all goldsmiths are ashamed of their images: for their idols are deceitfulness, and have no life.
15. It is vain nothing, and a deceitful work; they must perish when they are afflicted.
16. But he that is Jacob's treasure is not so; but he that made all things, and Israel is his inheritance. His name is called LORD of hosts.
17. Put away thy trade out of the land, thou that dwellest in the strong city.
18. For thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will spoil the inhabitants of the land this day, and will afflict them, that they may feel it.
19. Alas for the sorrow of my heart! But I think, It is my affliction, I must suffer it.
20. My tabernacle is broken down, and all my cords are rent. My children are gone, and are no more. No man rebuildeth my tabernacle, neither pitcheth my tent again.
21. For the shepherds are become fools, and enquire not after the LORD: therefore can they teach nothing that is right, but all the flocks are scattered.
22. Behold, there cometh a shout, and a great shaking out of the land of the north, that the cities of Judah shall be desolate, and shall become the habitation of dragons.

23. I know, O Lord, that a man's doings are not in his power, neither is it in any man's power how he shall walk, or how he shall direct his course.

24. Chasten me, O LORD, but with moderation, and not in thine anger, lest thou destroy me.

25. But pour out thine anger upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the kindreds that call not upon thy name. For they have devoured Jacob, and swallowed him up; they have cleared him up, and laid his habitation waste.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 11

God's Covenant. The Jews' transgression Jeremiah's life danger 1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2. Hear ye the words of this covenant, and tell them unto them that are in Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

3. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Cursed be he that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4. Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt out of the iron furnace, saying, Hearken unto my voice, and do as I have commanded you; and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God,

5. That I may keep the oath which I sware unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. And I answered and said, Lord, yea, so be it.

6. And the LORD said unto me, Preach all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear the words of this covenant, and do them.

7. For I have testified unto your fathers from the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt unto this day, and have borne witness early, saying, Hearken unto my voice.

8. But they hearkened not, neither inclined their ears; but went every man according to his own evil heart. Therefore will I also cause to pass upon you all the words of this covenant, which I commanded to be done, and yet they have not done them.

9. And the LORD said unto me, I know well how they are routed in Judah and in Jerusalem.

10. They turn again to the sins of their forefathers, who also would not hearken unto my words, and followed after other gods, and served them. So the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11. Therefore, behold, saith the LORD, I will bring upon them a calamity, which they shall not escape: and when they cry unto me, I will not hear them.

12. Let the cities of Judah therefore, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, go and cry unto the gods which they have burned incense unto: but they will not help them in their trouble.

13. For many a city, and many a god, hast thou, O Judah: and many a street is Jerusalem, and many an altar of shame have ye set up to burn incense unto Baal.

14. Now therefore pray not for this people, neither make supplication nor prayer for them: for I will not hear them when they cry unto me in their affliction.

15. What have my friends to do in my house? They do all wickedness, and think that the holy flesh shall take it from them: and when they do evil, they are well pleased.

16. The LORD called thee a green olive tree, fair and fruitful: but now hath he kindled a fire round about the same with a great cry of murder, that the boughs thereof must perish.

17. For the LORD of hosts, which planted thee, hath brought thee evil, because of the wickedness of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they do, to provoke me to anger with their incense, which they do unto Baal.

18. The LORD hath revealed it unto me, that I might know it; and he hath shewed me their doings,

19. That they might bring me as a poor sheep to the slaughter. For I knew not that they had consulted against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with his fruit, and cut him off from the land of the living, that his name be never more remembered.

20. But thou, O LORD of hosts, righteous judge, that tryest the kidneys and the hearts, let me see thy vengeance upon them: for I have committed my cause unto thee.

21. Therefore thus saith the LORD against the men of Anathoth, which stand after thy life, and say: Prophecy not unto us in the name of the LORD, lest thou die at our hands.

22. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will punish them; and their young men shall be slain with the sword, and their sons and their daughters shall die of hunger; and there shall not be left any of them;

23. For I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth in the year when they shall be afflicted.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 12

The bliss of the wicked will soon come to an end.

11. O Lord, though I would be right with thee, yet thou art right: yet of the right must I speak unto thee. Why is it that the wicked are so well off, and the scornful have all things in abundance?

2. Thou plantest them, that they take root, and grow, and bring forth fruit: thou sufferest them to boast much of thee, and chastenest them not.

3. But thou, O LORD, knowest me, and hast judged me, and hast tried my heart before thee. But thou hast let them go free as sheep to be slain, and hast spared them to be strangled.

4. How long shall the land be laid waste, and the grass of the field wither in every place, because of the wickedness of the inhabitants, that both cattle and fowl shall be no more? For they say: He knoweth well how we shall fare.

5. If they that go on foot wear thee out, how wilt thou fare when thou goest with horsemen? And if thou seek safety in the land of peace, what shall become of thee by Jordan the proud?

6. For thy brethren also, and thy father's house, have despised thee, and have cried out against thee. Therefore trust thou not in them, though they speak kindly unto thee.

7. Therefore have I forsaken my house, and shunned my inheritance, and delivered my dear soul into the hand of mine enemies.

8. My inheritance is become unto me as a lion in the forest, and roareth against me: therefore am I grieved against him.

9. My inheritance is like the speckled bird around which the birds gather. Come and gather yourselves together, all ye beasts of the field; come and feed.

10. Shepherds, and many of them, have spoiled my vineyard, and trodden down my field; they have made my good land desolate, they have made it waste.
11. I see already how it is so miserably desolate; yea, the whole land is desolate. But no one wants to take it to heart.
12. For the destroyer passeth over all the hills of the wilderness, and the devouring sword of the LORD from one end of the land even unto the other: and there shall no flesh have peace.
13. They sow wheat, but they shall reap thistles: they make it sour unto them, but they shall not enjoy it: they shall not be glad of their revenue before the fierce anger of the LORD.
14. Thus saith the LORD against all my wicked neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have distributed for my people Israel: Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and will pluck the house of Judah out of their substance.
15. And it shall come to pass, when I have plucked them out, that I will have mercy upon them again, and will restore every man to his inheritance, and to his own land.
16. And it shall come to pass, when they shall learn of my people, that they shall swear by my name: As the LORD liveth, as they have taught my people to swear by Baal, so shall they be built among my people.
17. But if they will not hearken, then will I pluck up such people, and destroy them, saith the LORD.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 13

Punishment of the Jews, in effigies of the linen belt and wine leech.

1. Thus saith the LORD unto me, Go and buy thee a linen girdle, and with it ferment thy loins, and wet it not.
2. And I bought a girdle according to the commandment of the LORD, and girded it about my loins.
3. And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying: 4. Take the girdle which thou hast bought, and girded it about thy loins, and arise, and go to the Phrath, and hide it there in a grove of stones.
5. And I went and hid him at Phrath, as the LORD commanded me.
6. And after a long time the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to the Phrath, and fetch again the girdle, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7. And I went to the Phrath, and digged up, and took the girdle out of the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was corrupt, that it was no more good.

8. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

9. Thus saith the LORD; Even so will I destroy the great hope of Judah and Jerusalem.

10. The wicked people, which will not hearken unto my words, but go according to the deceit of their heart, and follow other gods, to serve them, and to worship them: they shall be as the girdle that is no more good.

11. For as a man girdeth a girdle about his loins, so have I, saith the LORD, girded about me all the house of Israel, and all the house of Judah, that they should be my people, for a name, for praise, and for honour: but they will not hear.

12. Now therefore say unto them this word, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Let all the vessels be filled with wine. And they shall say unto thee, Who knoweth not that all the vessels shall be filled with wine?

13. Say unto them, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will fill all that dwell in this land, the kings that sit on the throne of David, the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to make them drunken.

14. And I will scatter one with another, the fathers with the children, saith the LORD; and I will not spare, nor overlook, nor have mercy upon their ruin.

15. Hearken therefore, and take heed, and resist not: for the LORD hath spoken it.

16. Give glory unto the LORD your God, before it be dark, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, that ye may wait for the light, when he shall make it dark and gloomy.

17. But if ye will not hear these things, yet my soul weepeth in secret for such hope: mine eyes are filled with tears, because the flock of the LORD is taken.

18. Say unto the king and to the queen, Sit down; for the crown of glory is fallen from off your heads.

19. The cities of the south are shut up, and there is none to open them: all Judah is carried away clean.

20. Lift up your eyes, and see how they come from the north. Where then is the flock that was commanded thee, thy glorious flock?
21. What wilt thou say, when he shall thus afflict thee? For thou hast made them accustomed unto thee, that they should be princes and chiefs. What is the matter? fear shall come upon thee like a woman in childbearing.
22. And if thou wilt say in thine heart: Why do these things befall me? Because of the multitude of thine iniquity thy hems are uncovered, and thy thighs are bared.
23. Can a Moor also change his skin, or a leopard his spots? So can ye also do good, because ye are accustomed to evil.
24. Therefore will I scatter them as stubble that is blown before the wind out of the wilderness.
25. This shall be thy reward, and thy portion which I have measured out unto thee, saith the LORD. Because thou hast forgotten me, and hast relied upon lies, 26. Then will I also set thy hems on high against thee, that thy shame may be seen.
27. For I have seen thy adulteries, and thy lewdness, and thy fornications, even thine abominations, both in the hills, and in the fields. Woe unto thee, O Jerusalem! When wilt thou be purified more and more?

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 14

Drought and famine. Jeremiah's intercession.

1. This is the word which the LORD spake unto Jeremiah concerning the precious time: 2. Judah lieth miserable, her gates are fallen down: the land is desolate; and there is a great drought in Jerusalem.
3. The great send the little ones for water; but when they come to the well, they find no water, and bring their vessels empty. again. They go sad. and afflicted, and cover their heads, 4. Because the earth languisheth, because it rained not upon the earth. The husbandmen go sadly, and cover their heads.
5. For the hinds also, which cast in the field, leave the young, because there is no grass.
6. The wild beasts stand upon the hills, and gasp for breath, as the dragons, and languish, because no herb groweth.

7. O Lord, our iniquities have merited it: but help us for thy name's sake: for great is our disobedience, that we have sinned against thee.

8. Thou art the consolation of Israel, and their helper in trouble: why standest thou as a sojourner in the land, and as a stranger that sojourneth within?

9. Why hast thou set thyself forth as a valiant man, desponding, and as a giant that can not help?

For thou art among us, O LORD, and we are called by thy name: forsake us not.

10. Thus saith the LORD concerning this people; They love to run to and fro, and they love not to tarry at home: therefore the LORD will not have them, but now remembereth their iniquity, and will punish their sins.

11. And the LORD said unto me, Thou shalt not ask mercy for this people.

12. For though they fast, yet will I not hear their supplications: though they bring burnt offerings and meat offerings, yet will they not please me; but I will destroy them with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence.

13. And I said, O Lord GOD, behold, the prophets say unto them: Ye shall see no sword, neither shall there be any plague with you: but I will give you good peace in this place.

14. And the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy falsely in my name: I have not sent them, neither have I commanded them, nor spoken unto them: they preach unto you false visions, and interpretations, and idolatries, and deceitfulness of their hearts.

15. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, when I have not sent them, and yet they preach that there shall no sword nor plague come into this land: Such prophets shall die by the sword and by the famine.

16. And the people to whom they prophesy shall lie by the sword, and shall famish in the streets of Jerusalem, and no man shall bury them: so shall their wives, and their sons, and their daughters; and I will pour their wickedness upon them.

17. And thou shalt say unto them this word, Mine eyes run down with tears day and night, and cease not: for the virgin, the daughter of my people, is horribly afflicted and miserably stricken.

18. When I go forth into the field, behold, they that are slain with the sword lie there: and when I come into the city, they that are famished with hunger lie there. For the prophets also, and the priests also, must go into a land which they know not.

19. Hast thou then rejected Judah, or hast thy soul disgusted with Zion? Why then hast thou smitten us so that no man can heal us? We hoped that there should be peace, and there is no good: we hoped that we should be healed, but, behold, there is more harm.

20. O LORD, we acknowledge our ungodliness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.

21. But for thy name's sake let us not be profaned; let not the throne of thy glory be mocked: yet remember, and let not thy covenant with us cease.

22. For there is none among the heathen that giveth rain: neither can heaven rain. For thou art the LORD our God, in whom we hope: for thou canst do all these things.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 15

Punishment on the impenitent.

1. And the LORD said unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet have I no heart toward this people. Drive them away from me, and let them go.

2. And if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go? say unto them, Thus saith the LORD; Whom death shall smite, let it smite him; whom the sword shall smite, let it smite him; whom famine shall smite, let it smite him; whom prison shall smite, let it smite him.

3. For I will punish them with four plagues, saith the LORD; with the sword, that they may be slain; with dogs, that they may be dragged; with the fowls of the air, and with the beasts of the earth, that they may be devoured, and be put to death.

4. And I will drive them to and fro throughout all the kingdoms of the earth because of Manasseh the son of Jehizkiah king of Judah, because of his transgression in Jerusalem.

5. Who then will have mercy upon thee, O Jerusalem? Who then will have compassion on thee?

Who then will go and buy thee peace?

6. Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, and fallen away from me: therefore have I stretched out mine hand against thee, to destroy thee: I am weary of mercy.

7. And I will cast them out of the land with the shovel of words, and will make my people vain orphans, if they turn not from their nature, and will destroy them.

8. There shall be more widows for me among them than there are sands of the sea. I will bring upon the mother of the young men a manifest destroyer, and will overtake the city with it suddenly and unawares,

9. She that hath seven children shall be wretched, and shall groan with her heart. For their sun shall go down in high day; and both their glory and their joy shall be at an end. And the rest will I put to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD.

10. O my mother, that thou hast born me, against whom all men dispute and quarrel in all the land! I have neither lent nor borrowed on usury, nor do men curse me.

11. And the LORD said, Well, I will spare you a few, and they shall prosper: and I will come to your help in trouble and in fear from among your enemies.

12. Thinkest thou not that there is an iron that can break the iron and brass of the north?

13. But I will first give your goods and your treasures into the bottle, and ye shall receive nothing for them; and that for all your sins which ye have committed in all your borders.

14. And I will bring you unto your enemies into a land which ye know not: for the fire is come upon you in mine anger.

15. O Lord, thou knowest; remember us, and take care of us, and avenge us on our persecutors.

Receive us, and consume not thine anger upon them: for thou knowest that we are reproached for thy sake.

16. But keep thy word from us, if we have it: and thy word is the joy and comfort of our hearts: for we are called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.

17. We will not join the scoffers, nor rejoice with them, but we will be alone before thy hand: for thou art very angry with us.

18. Why is our grief so long, and our wounds so grievous, that no man can heal them? Thou art become unto us as a spring that will no more spring.

19. Therefore thus saith the LORD; If thou shalt cleave unto me, I will cleave unto thee, and thou shalt be my preacher: and if thou shalt teach the righteous from the wicked, thou shalt be my teacher: and before thou shalt fall unto them, they shall fall unto thee.

20. For I have made thee a strong wall of brass against this people: though they fight against thee, they shall not hurt thee: for I am with thee to help thee, and to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

21. And will also deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and will redeem thee out of the hand of tyrants.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 16

The Jews are to be led to Babel and from there redeemed again.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Thou shalt not take a wife, nor beget sons or daughters in this place.

3. For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bear them, and concerning their fathers that beget them in this land:

4. They shall die of sickness, and shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried: but they shall be dung upon the ground, and perish by the sword and by the famine: and their dead bodies shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and for the beasts of the earth.

5. For thus saith the LORD; Thou shalt not go to the house of mourning, neither shalt thou go anywhere to mourn, nor have compassion on them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, with my grace and my mercy,

6. And both they, great and small, shall die in this land, and shall not be buried, neither shall they be lamented; neither shall any man cut himself upon them, nor make them bald.

7. Neither shall they divide bread among them for a lamentation, to comfort them for a dead body; neither shall they give them drink of the cup of consolation for their father and mother.

8. Therefore shalt thou not go into any drinking house to sit with them, neither to eat nor to drink.

9. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will raise up in this place before your eyes, and in your life, the voice of joy and gladness, the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride.

10. And when thou hast told all these things unto this people, and they shall say unto thee: Why saith the LORD against us all this great evil? what is this iniquity and sin, that we have sinned against the LORD our God?

11. And thou shalt say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have followed other gods, and served them, and worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law,

12. And ye do more wickedly than your fathers. For, behold, every man liveth after the imagination of his own evil heart, that he should not obey me.

13. Therefore will I thrust you out of this land into a land which neither ye nor your fathers know, and there ye shall serve other gods day and night: there will I show you no mercy.

14. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said: As the LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, 15. But, As the LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of the north, and out of all countries whither he had driven them. For I will bring them again into the land which I gave unto their fathers.

16. Behold, I will send forth many fishermen, saith the LORD, and they shall fish; and afterward I will send forth many hunters, and they shall hunt them in every mountain, and in every hill, and in every cave of stones.

17. For mine eyes are upon all their ways, that they cannot hide themselves from me: and their iniquity is unconcealed from mine eyes.

18. But first I will pay their iniquity and their sin double, because they have polluted my land with the carcasses of their idols, and filled my inheritance with their abominations.

19. O LORD, thou art my strength, and my power, and my refuge in trouble. The heathen shall come unto thee from the end of the world, saying, Our fathers had false and vain gods, which profit nothing.

20. How can a man make gods that are not gods?

21. Therefore, behold, now will I teach them, and make known my hand and my power unto them, that they may know that my name is the LORD.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 17

Idolatry, reliance on creatures, desecration of the Sabbath, etc., are causes of all unhappiness.

1. The sin of Judah is written with styluses of iron, and with pointed demonds, and graven upon the tablet of their heart, and upon the horns of their altars,
2. And their children shall remember the same altars and groves among the green trees in the high mountains.
3. But I will give both thy high places, on mountains and in fields, with thy substance, and all thy treasures, into the river of rapine, because of sin committed within all thy borders.
4. And thou shalt be cast out of thine inheritance which I have given thee, and I will make thee servants of thine enemies in a land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire of mine anger, which shall burn for ever.
5. Thus saith the LORD; Cursed is the man that trusteth in man, and keepeth flesh for his arm, and departeth from the LORD with his heart.
6. He shall be as the heathen in the wilderness, and shall not see the consolation that is to come; but shall abide in drought, in desolation, in a barren land, where no man dwelleth.
7. But blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and the LORD is his confidence.
8. He is planted like a tree by the waters, and rooted by the brook. For though a heat cometh, yet it feareth not, but the leaf thereof remaineth green, and sorroweth not when a drought cometh, but bringeth forth fruit without ceasing.
9. The heart is a stout and timorous thing: who can search it out?
10. I the LORD am able to search the heart, and to try the kidneys: and I give unto every man according to his doings, according to the fruits of his works.
11. For as a bird that sitteth over eggs, and hatcheth them not, so is he that gathereth unrighteous goods: for he is made to eat them, when he esteemeth them least, and is made a mockery of them at the last.

12. But the place of our sanctuary, which is the throne of the glory of God, is established for ever.

13. For, O LORD, thou art the hope of Israel. All they that forsake thee must be put to shame, and the apostates must be written in the earth: for they forsake the LORD, the fountain of living waters.

14. Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed: help me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my glory.

15. Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the LORD? Let us go, my beloved!

16. But I have not therefore fled from thee, my shepherd: I have not desired the days of men, thou knowest: that which I have preached is right in thy sight.

17. Be thou not terrible unto me, my confidence in trouble!

18. Let them be put to shame that persecute me, and me not; let them be dismayed, and me not; let the day of calamity come upon them, and break them in twain.

19. Thus saith the LORD unto me, Go and stand under the gate of the people, where the kings of Judah go in and out, and under all the gates of Jerusalem.

20. And say unto them: Hear the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, which come in at this gate.

21. Thus saith the LORD; Take heed, and bear no burden in the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day.

22. And bring no burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work: but hallow the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.

23. But they will not hear, neither will they incline their ears; but they will be stiffnecked, that they may not hear me, nor be drawn away.

24. If ye will hear me, saith the LORD, that ye bear no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but keep it holy, that ye do no work on that day, 25. And through the gates of this city shall go out kings, and princes that sit on the throne of David, riding, and going, both in chariots, and on horses, they and their princes, and all that dwell in Judah and in Jerusalem: and this city shall be inhabited for ever.

26. And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from Jerusalem round about, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the valleys, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, unto the house of the LORD.

27. But if ye will not hearken unto me, to hallow the sabbath day, and to bear no burden in the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire under their gates, and it shall devour the houses of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 18

True repentance preserves, impenitence corrupts.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 2. Arise, go down to the potter's house; there will I make thee hear my words.

3. And I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he was working at the wheel.

4. And the pot which he made of the clay was displeasing in his hands. And he made another pot again, as it pleased him.

5. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

6. Can I not also deal with you, ye of the house of Israel, as with this potter? saith the LORD.

Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye of the house of Israel in mine hand.

7. Suddenly I speak against a nation and a kingdom, to roll them up, and to break them, and to destroy them.

8. But if he turn from his wickedness, which I speak against, then I also shall repent of the evil that I thought to do unto him.

9. And suddenly I speak of a nation and a kingdom, that I may build them and plant them.

10. But if he do evil in mine eyes, and hearken not unto my voice, then the good which I promised him to do shall repent me also.

11. Speak therefore unto them that are in Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I am preparing evil for you, and have thoughts against you: therefore turn ye every man from his evil way, and amend your ways and your doings.

Twelve, but they say: Nothing will come of it! We will walk after our own thoughts, and do every man according to the imagination of his evil heart.

13. Therefore saith the LORD, Ask ye of the heathen, who hath heard of such a thing as this, that the virgin of Israel hath done such an abominable thing?

14. If the snow be longer upon the stones of the field, when it snoweth from Lebanon, and the waters of the rain be not so soon as my people forget me.

15. They burn incense unto the gods, and make mischief in their ways for to and fro, and walk in roads not trodden,

16. That their land may become a desolation, and an everlasting reproach unto them: that they which pass by may be astonished, and shake their heads.

17. For I will scatter them before their enemies with an east wind; I will show them the back, and not the face, when they perish.

18. But they say: Come, and let us counsel against Jeremiah: for the priests cannot err in the law, and the wise men cannot fail in counsel, and the prophets cannot teach unrighteously. Come, and let us smite him with our tongues, and give no heed to all his words.

19. Take heed, O Lord, and hear the voice of mine adversaries.

20. Is it right to repay good with evil? For they have digged a pit in my soul. Remember how I stood before thee, and spoke their best, and turned away thine anger from them.

21. Now therefore punish their children with famine, and put them to the sword; that their wives may be without children, and widows; and that their husbands may be slain, and their young men slain with the sword in battle,

22. And a cry shall be heard out of their houses, how that thou hast suddenly sent a people of war upon them. For they have digged a pit for me, and have laid ropes for my feet.

23. And because thou, O LORD, knowest all their plots against me, to kill me, forgive them not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from before thee. Let them be overthrown before thee, and deal with them according to thine anger.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 19

Destruction of Jerusalem with breaking of the earthen jar prefigured.

1. Thus saith the LORD; Go and buy thee an earthenware jar of the potter, and some of the elders of the people, and of the elders of the priests.
2. And go forth into the valley of Ben-hinnom, which is before the brick gate, and preach there the words which I say unto thee,
3. And say, Hear the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring such calamity upon this place, that whosoever shall hear it, his ears shall ring,
4. Because they have forsaken me, and given this place to a strange god, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, which they knew not, nor their fathers, nor the kings of Judah: and they have made this place full of innocent blood.
5. For they have built high places for Baal, to burn their children unto Baal for burnt offerings, which I commanded them not, neither spake I unto them, neither came it into mine heart.
6. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Topheth, nor the valley of Ben-hinnom, but the valley of choke.
7. For I will destroy the worship of Judah and Jerusalem of this place, and will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, under the hand of them that seek their life; and I will give their dead bodies for meat unto the fowls of the air, and to the beasts of the earth;
8. And I will make this city desolate, and a mockery: and all that pass by shall marvel at all the plague thereof, and mock at it.
9. I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and of their daughters, and one shall eat another's flesh in distress and in anguish; and they shall afflict their enemies, and them that seek their life.
10. And thou shalt break the pitcher before the men that went with thee.
11. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; As a potter's vessel is broken, and shall not be whole again; so will I break this people and this city, and they shall be buried in Ethiopia, because there shall be no other place to bury them.
12. Thus will I deal with this place, saith the LORD, and with the inhabitants thereof; and this city shall be as Topheth.

13. And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, shall be as unclean as the place of Topheth, even all the houses, because they have burned incense upon the housetops unto all the host of heaven, and have offered drink offerings unto other gods.

14. And when Jeremiah was come again from Topheth, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy, he stood in the court of the LORD'S house, and spake unto all the people: 15. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring upon this city, and upon all the cities thereof, all the evil that I have spoken against them, because they are stiffnecked, and will not hearken unto my words;

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 20

Jeremiah proclaims captivity in Babylon, laments his ministry and birthday.

1. And when Pashur the son of Immer the priest, which was made ruler in the house of the LORD, heard Jeremiah prophesying these words,

2. And he smote Jeremiah the prophet, and cast him into the vault under the upper gate of Benjamin, which is by the house of the LORD.

3. And it came to pass in the morning, that Pashur drew Jeremiah out of the vault. And Jeremiah said unto him, The LORD calleth thee not Pashur, but Magur round about.

4. For thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will put thee and all thy friends in fear, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies: thou shalt see it with thine eyes. And I will deliver all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon; and he shall carry them away to Babylon, and slay them with the sword.

5. And I will deliver into the hand of their enemies all the goods of this city, and all that it hath wrought, and all the jewels, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah; and they shall spoil them, and take them, and bring them to Babylon.

6. And thou, Pashur, shalt go captive with all thy household, and shalt come to Babylon: there shalt thou die, and be buried with all thy friends, to whom thou preachest lies.

7. O Lord, thou hast persuaded me, and I have been persuaded: thou hast been too strong for me, and hast won. But I have become a mockery of it daily, and every man maketh me to scorn.

8. For since I spake, and cried, and preached of the plague and disturbance, the word of the LORD hath become a mockery and a derision unto me daily.

9. Then thought I, Well, I will remember him no more, neither will I preach in his name any more. But it was as a burning fire in my heart, shut up in my bones, that I could not bear it, and would almost have passed away.

10. For I hear how many reproach me, and how many affright me: Hui, sue him! We will sue him, say all my friends and fellows, if we may take advantage of him, and come to his aid, and avenge ourselves on him.

11. But the LORD is with me as a mighty hero: therefore shall my persecutors fall, and not prevail, but shall be greatly put to shame, because they have done so foolishly: for ever shall be their reproach, which shall not be forgotten.

12. And now, O LORD of hosts, which tryest the righteous, and seest the kidneys and the heart, let me see thy vengeance upon them: for I have committed my cause unto thee.

13. Sing unto the LORD, praise the LORD, which delivereth the life of the poor out of the hands of the wicked.

14. Cursed be the day wherein I was born; let the day wherein my mother bare me be unblessed.

15. Cursed be he that brought good tidings unto my father, saying, Thou hast a young son, that he should make him merry.

16. Let that man be as the cities which the LORD hath turned back, and hath not repented him; and let him hear a cry in the morning, and a howling at noon.

17. That thou hadst not killed me in my mother's womb! That my mother had been my grave, and her womb had remained pregnant for ever!

18. Why have I come forth out of my mother's womb, that I should see such sorrow and heartache, and spend my days in shame?

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 21

From the conquest of the city of Jerusalem and Zedekiah's captivity.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Zedekiah the king sent unto him Pashur the son of Malchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying: 2. Ask the LORD for us. For Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon contendeth against us, that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wonders, that he may depart from us.

3. And Jeremiah said unto them, Thus saith Zedekiah:

4. Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Behold, I will turn back the weapons that are in your hands, that ye may fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans that besiege you without the wall, and will gather them together in the midst of the city.

5. And I will fight against you with an outstretched hand, and with a strong arm, and with great wrath, and with fury, and with unmercifulness.

6. And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both men and beasts, and they shall die by a great pestilence.

7. And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people that remain in this city from the pestilence, and from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life; and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword, and there shall be no mercy, neither grace, nor pity.

8. And say unto this people, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.

9. Whosoever remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but whosoever shall go out unto the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and shall keep his life for a prey.

10. For I have set my face against this city for evil, and for no good, saith the LORD. It shall be delivered unto the king of Babylon, that he may burn it with fire.

11. And hear the word of the LORD, ye of the house of the king of Judah.

12. O house of David, thus saith the LORD, Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the wicked: lest my wrath go forth as a fire, and burn so that no man quench it, because of your wickedness.

13. Behold, saith the LORD, I say unto thee, that dwell in the bottomless pit, in the rock, and in the plain, saying, Who shall assail us, or come into our stronghold?

14. I will punish you, saith the LORD, according to the fruit of your doings: I will kindle a fire in their forest, and it shall devour all that is round about.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 22

From the Regency. Punishment of three kings: Jehoahaz, Jehoiakim, and Jechaniah.

1. Thus saith the LORD; Go down into the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word.

2. And say, Hear the word of the LORD, thou king of Judah, which sittest upon the throne of David, both thou, and thy servants, and thy people, which go in unto these gates.

3. Thus saith the LORD; Execute justice and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the wicked; and afflict not the stranger, nor the fatherless, nor the widow; neither do violence to any man, nor shed innocent blood in this place.

4. And if ye do so, then shall enter in at the gates of this house kings that sit on David's throne, both of them in chariots, and on horses, with their servants, and their people.

5. But if ye will not obey these things, I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall be destroyed.

6. For thus saith the LORD concerning the house of the king of Judah, Gilead, thou art the head of Lebanon unto me: what matter, I will make thee a desolation, and the cities without inhabitant?

7. For I have appointed spoilers against thee, every man with his weapons; and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.

8. Then shall many nations pass by before this city, and say one to another, Why hath the LORD dealt so with this great city?

9. And they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and have worshipped other gods, and served them;

10. Weep not for the dead, neither grieve for them: but weep for him that goeth away: for he shall never come again to see his country.

11. For thus saith the LORD concerning Shallum the son of Josiah king of Judah, which is king instead of Josiah his father, which went out from this place; He shall not come again, 12. But shall die in the place whither he is carried captive, and shall see this land no more.

13. Woe unto him that buildeth his house with sins, and his chambers with iniquity, that maketh his neighbour to work for nought, and giveth him not his hire.

14. And he said, Well, I will build me a great house, and large palaces: and he made windows in them, and wainscotted them with cedar, and painted them red.

15. Thinkest thou that thou wilt be king, because thou art clothed with cedars? Did not thy father also eat and drink, and yet keep judgment and righteousness, and prosper?

16. He helped the poor and needy to judgment, and he was well. Is it not so, that this is my right knowledge? saith the LORD.

17. But thine eyes and thine heart are not so, but upon thy covetousness, upon shedding innocent blood, upon sacrilege, and upon oppression.

18. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah; They shall not lament him, Brother, sister. He shall not be accosted, O lord, O noble one!

19. He shall be buried like an ass, bruised and cast out at the gates of Jerusalem.

20. Yea, go up to Lebanon, and cry, and be heard in Bashan, and cry from Abarim: for all thy lovers are miserably slain.

21. I foretold thee, while it was yet well with thee; but thou saidst: I will not hearken. So hast thou done all thy days, that thou hast not hearkened unto my voice.

22. The wind feedeth all thy shepherds, and thy lovers go in captivity: thou shalt be mocked and confounded for all thy wickedness.

23. Thou that dwellest now in Lebanon, and nestestestest in cedars, how fair shalt thou see when sorrows and woes shall come unto thee, as one in childbearing!

24. As I live, saith the LORD, if Chaniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were a signet ring upon my right hand, I would break thee off.

25. And deliver them into the hand of them that seek thy life, of whom thou art afraid, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.

26. And I will drive thee, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, which is not thy fatherland; and there thou shalt die.

27. And into the land, where they would gladly return with their hearts, they shall not return.

28. What a wretched, despised, rejected man is Chania, an unworthy vessel! Oh, how he is driven away with his seed, and cast into an unknown land!

29. O land, land, land; hear the word of the LORD!

30. Thus saith the LORD; Write unto this man for a corrupt man, a man that shall not prosper all his days. For he shall not prosper, that one of his seed shall sit upon the throne of David, and reign in Judah any more.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 23

The evil shepherds and false prophets are described and punished.

Christ, the good shepherd and great prophet, promised.

1. Woe unto you shepherds, that destroy and scatter the flock of my pasture! saith the LORD.

2. Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel concerning the shepherds that feed my people: Ye have scattered my flock, and cast them out, and have not visited them. Behold, I will punish you for your wickedness, saith the LORD.

3. And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all the countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their fences, and they shall increase and be many.

4. And I will set shepherds over them, which shall feed them; and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, nor be visited, saith the LORD.

5. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise up a righteous seed unto David; and he shall be a king that shall reign well, and do justice and righteousness in the earth.

6. In that day shall Judah be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely. And this shall be his name, that they shall call him: LORD, who is our righteousness.

7. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said: As the LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

8. But, As the LORD liveth, which brought up the seed of the house of Israel, and brought them out of the land of the north, and out of all the countries whither I had driven them, to dwell in their own land.

9. Against the prophets. My heart wants to break in my body, all my bones tremble; I am like a drunken man and like one reeling from wine before the Lord and before his holy words,

10. That the land is full of adulterers, and that the land standeth in desolation, and is cursed, and the pastures of the wilderness are withered: and their life is evil, and their government is not good.

11. For both prophets and priests are husks, and find also in my house their wickedness, saith the LORD.

12. Therefore their way is as a smooth path in the darkness, whereon they slide and fall. For I will bring evil upon them in the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

13. For I saw folly in the prophets of Samaria, that they prophesied by Baal, and deceived my people Israel.

14. But with the prophets of Jerusalem I see abominations, how they commit adultery, and deal in lies, and strengthen the wicked, lest any man turn from his wickedness. They are all like Sodom before me, and their people like Gomorrah.

15. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets; Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and water them with gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem cometh hypocrisy throughout all the land.

16. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Harken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you. They deceive you: for they preach the words of their heart, and not of the LORD'S mouth.

17. They say to them that blaspheme me, The LORD hath said, It shall be well with you. And to all that walk after the stinking of their hearts, they say, There shall no evil come upon you.

18. For who hath stood in the council of the LORD, seeing and hearing his word? Who hath heard and heard his word?

19. Behold, the weather of the LORD shall come with fury, and a terrible tempest shall fall upon the head of all the wicked.

20. And the wrath of the LORD shall not abate, until he do and execute that which he hath in mind. Afterward ye shall know it.

21. I sent not the prophets, neither did they run: I spake not unto them, neither did they prophesy.

22. For if they had kept my counsel, and had preached my words unto my people, they would have converted them from their evil nature, and from their evil living.

23. Am not I a God that is near, saith the LORD, and not a God that is far off?

24. Thinkest thou that any man can hide himself secretly, that I should not see him? saith the LORD. Is it not I that fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD.

25. I have heard that the prophets preach and prophesy falsely in my name, and say: I have dreamed, I have dreamed.

26. When will the prophets cease from prophesying falsely, and from prophesying the deceitfulness of their hearts?

27. And will my people forget my name above their dreams, which they preach one to another, as their fathers forgot my name above Baal?

28. A prophet that hath dreams, let him preach dreams: but he that hath my word, let him preach my word aright. How do straw and wheat rhyme together? saith the LORD.

29. Is not my word as a fire, saith the LORD, and as a hammer that breaketh in pieces the rock?

30. Wherefore, behold, I will look unto the prophets, saith the LORD, which steal my word one from another.

31. Behold, I will look unto the prophets, saith the LORD, which speak and speak their own word: He hath spoken it.

32. Behold, I will speak unto them that prophesy false dreams, saith the LORD, and preach them, and deceive my people with their lies, and with their loose words, when I have not sent them, neither commanded them, neither are they of any use unto this people, saith the LORD.

33. And when this people, or a prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the LORD? thou shalt say unto them, What is the burden? I will cast you down, saith the LORD.

34. And if any prophet, or priest, or people, shall say, This is the burden of the LORD; I will punish him, and his house also.

35. And they shall speak one to another, saying one to another, What answereth the LORD, and what saith the LORD?

36. And call it no more the burden of the LORD: for every man's own word shall be a burden unto him, because ye thus pervert the words of the living God, the LORD of hosts, our God.

37. Therefore thus shall ye say unto the prophet, What answer answereth thee, and what saith the LORD?

38. But because ye say, The burden of the LORD; therefore thus saith the LORD; If ye call this word the burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not call it the burden of the LORD,

39. Behold, I will take you away, and cast you out of my sight, and the city which I have given you and your fathers;

40. And I will bring upon you everlasting shame and everlasting reproach, which shall never be forgotten.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 24

Face of good and bad figs and what they mean.

1. Behold, the LORD shewed me two baskets of figs, which were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away Jechaniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, the carpenters and smiths of Jerusalem, and brought them to Babylon.

2. In the one basket were very good figs, as the first ripe figs are; in the other basket were very bad figs, that they could not be eaten, so bad were they.

3. And the LORD said unto me, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, Figs: the good figs are very good, and the bad figs are very bad, that they cannot be eaten, because they are so bad.

4. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

5. Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, As these figs are good, so will I have mercy upon the captives of Judah, whom I have sent forth out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans, 6. And I will look upon them graciously, and will bring them again into this land, and will build them, and not break them down; I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7. And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall turn unto me with all their heart.

8. But as the evil figs are so evil that they cannot be eaten, saith the LORD, so will I deliver up Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes, and the remnant that are left in Jerusalem, and the remnant that are left in this land, and they that dwell in the land of Egypt.

9. I will do them evil, and will not suffer them to dwell in any kingdom upon the earth; and they shall be put to shame, and become a proverb, and a fable, and a curse, in all places whither I will cast them.

10. And I will send sword and famine and pestilence among them, until they perish from off the land which I have given them and their fathers.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 25

Seventy years of captivity at Babel.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah (which is the first year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon),

2. Which also Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and unto all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying:

3. From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah the word of the LORD came unto me unto this day, and I have preached unto you twenty and three years with diligence; but ye would not hear.

4. Even so hath the LORD sent unto you all his servants the prophets diligently: but ye have never hearkened, nor inclined your ears to obey,

5. Saying, Turn ye every man from his wicked way, and from your wickedness; and ye shall dwell in the land which the LORD hath given you, and to your fathers, for ever and ever.

6. Follow not other gods, to serve them, and to worship them; lest ye provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, and I bring evil upon you.

7. But ye would not hearken unto me, saith the LORD, that ye might provoke me to anger by the work of your hands, to your own hurt.

8. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; Because ye will not hear my words,

9. Behold, I will send and bring all nations northward, saith the LORD, even Nebuchadnezzar my servant the king of Babylon; and I will bring them upon this land, and upon them that dwell therein, and upon all this people that are round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them a mockery, and an everlasting desolation.

10. And I will take out all joyful singing, the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride, the voice of the mills, and the light of the lantern,

11. And all this land shall lie desolate and waste. And these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years. And these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.

12. And it shall come to pass, when the seventy years are expired, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and all this people, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans; and I will make it an everlasting desolation.

13. So will I bring upon this land all my words which I have spoken against them, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah prophesied against all nations.

14. And they also shall serve, though they be great nations, and great kings. So will I recompense them according to their merit, and according to the works of their hands.

15. For thus saith the LORD God of Israel unto me, Take this cup of wine full of wrath out of mine hand, and pour it out unto all the nations to whom I send thee; 16. And they shall drink, and stagger, and be mad before the sword that I will send among them.

17. And I took the cup from the hand of the LORD, and gave to all the nations whither the LORD sent me,

18. To wit, Jerusalem, the cities of Judah, their kings, and their princes, to lie desolate and ruined, and to be a mockery and a curse, as it is this day;

19. Even Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people; 20. To all the countries westward, to all the kings of the land of Uz, to all the kings of the land of Palestine, to Ascalon, and to Gaza, and to Aaron, and to the rest of Ashdod; 21. To them of Edom, to them of Moab, to the children of Ammon;

22. To all the kings of Tyre, to all the kings of Zidon, to the kings of the isles beyond the sea; 23. those of Dedan, those of Thema, those of Bus, and all the princes in the places;

24. To all the kings of Arabia, to all the kings toward the west, that dwell in the wilderness; 25. All the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, all the kings of Media; 26. To all the kings toward the north, both near and far, one with another, and to all the kings upon him that are upon the face of the earth. And king Seshach shall drink after these.

27. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Drink, that ye may be drunken, and drink, and fall down, and not rise up before the sword that I will send among you.

28. And if they will not take the cup from thine hand, and drink, say unto them: Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Now drink ye.

29. For, behold, in the city that is called by my name I began to afflict, and ye shall go unpunished? Ye shall not go unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all them that dwell upon the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.

30. And thou shalt prophesy all these words unto them, and shalt say unto them: The LORD shall roar from on high, and shall cause his thunder to be heard from his holy habitation; he shall roar over his hurdles; he shall sing a song, as the treaders of wine, over all the inhabitants of the land, which shall resound unto the end of the earth.

31. The LORD is right with the heathen, and will execute judgment upon all flesh: he will deliver up the wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.

32. Thus saith the LORD Zeboath; Behold, there shall be a plague from nation to nation, and great weather shall be raised up from the side of the land.

33. Then shall the slain of the LORD lie in that day from the one end of the earth even unto the other end: they shall not be lamented, nor taken up, nor buried, but shall lie in the field, and become dung.

34. Hay therefore, ye shepherds, and cry out; roll yourselves in the ashes, ye mighty over the flock. For the time is here, that ye should be slain, and be scattered, and fall to pieces, as a precious vessel.

35. And the shepherds shall not be able to flee, neither shall the mighty over the flock be able to escape.

36. Then shall the shepherds cry, and the mighty men of the flock shall howl, because the LORD hath spoiled their pasture,

37. And their pastures, which were good, are corrupt before the fierce anger of the LORD.

38. He hath forsaken his tabernacle like a young lion: and their land is destroyed from the wrath of the tyrant, and from his fierce anger.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 26

Jeremiah's sermon of repentance, accusation, responsibility and protection.

1. In the beginning of the kingdom of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word from the LORD, saying:
2. Thus saith the LORD; Stand in the court of the LORD'S house, and preach unto all the cities of Judah that come in to worship in the house of the LORD all the words which I commanded thee to say unto them, and do nothing of them,
3. Whether they will hear, and be converted every man from his wickedness; that I also may repent of the evil which I intend to do them, because of their wickedness.
4. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD; Will ye not obey me, to walk in my law which I have set before you?
5. That ye might hearken unto the words of my servants the prophets, whom I have always sent unto you, and ye would not hearken,
6. And I will make this house like Shiloh, and will make that city a curse to all the nations of the earth.
7. And the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speak these words in the house of the LORD,
8. And when Jeremiah had spoken all that the LORD commanded him to speak unto all the people, the priests, and the prophets, and all the people, took him, and said: Thou must die!
9. Why mayest thou prophesy in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be as Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate, and none shall dwell therein? And all the people gathered themselves together against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.
10. And when the princes of Judah heard these things, they went up out of the king's house into the house of the LORD, and sat down before the new gate of the LORD.
11. And the priests and the prophets said before the princes and all the people, This man is guilty of death: for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.
12. And Jeremiah said unto all the princes, and to all the people, The LORD hath sent me to prophesy against this house, and against this city, all these things which ye have heard.

13. Therefore amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God; and the LORD will repent of the evil which he hath spoken against you.

14. Behold, I am in your hands; ye may do with me as seemeth you right and good.

15. But know ye, where ye kill me, that ye shall bring innocent blood upon yourselves, upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof. For verily the LORD hath sent me unto you, to speak all these things in your ears.

16. Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and prophets: This man is not guilty of death: for he hath spoken unto us in the name of the LORD our God.

17. And some of the elders of the land arose, and said unto all the multitude of the people: 18. In the days of Hezekiah king of Judah there was a prophet, Micah of Mareshah, which said unto all the people of Judah, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Zion shall be ploughed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become a heap of stones, and the mountain of the house of the LORD a wild wood.

19. Neither did Hezekiah king of Judah, nor all Judah, put him to death for this cause: for they feared the LORD, and prayed before the LORD. Then also the LORD repented of the evil which he had spoken against them: therefore do we very evil against our souls: 20. And there was one that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Uriah the son of Shemaiah, of Kiriathjearim. He prophesied against this city, and against this land, as did Jeremiah.

21. And when king Jehoiakim, and all his mighty men, and the princes, heard his words, the king would have put him to death. And Uriah heard of it, and was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

22. But king Jehoiakim sent men into Egypt, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and others with him.

23. And they brought him out of Egypt, and brought him unto king Jehoiakim; and he slew him with the sword, and buried his body among the common people.

24. So the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that he came not into the hand of the people, that they slew him.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 27

Judah and its neighbors must come under the yoke of the king of Babylon.

1. In the beginning of the kingdom of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word from the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying:

2. Thus saith the LORD unto me, Make thee a yoke, and hang it upon thy neck.

3. And send it unto the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the children of Ammon, and to the king of Tyre, and to the king of Zidon, by the messengers that came to Zedekiah king of Judah to Jerusalem.

4. And command them to say unto their masters, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Thus shall ye say unto your masters:

5. I have made the earth, and man and beast that are upon the earth, by my great power and outstretched arm, and give them to whom I will.

6. And now I have given all these lands into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon my servant, and have given him the wild beasts of the field also to serve him.

7. And all nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the time of his land also come: for many nations and great kings shall serve him.

8. And what people and kingdom soever will not serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and whoever will not put his neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, such a people will I punish with the sword; famine and pestilence, saith the LORD, until I destroy them by his hand.

9. Obey not therefore your prophets, diviners, interpreters of dreams, diviners of days, and sorcerers, which say unto you, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon.

10. For they prophesy falsely unto you, that they may take you far from your land, and I will cast you out, and ye shall perish.

11. For what people soever shall yield up their necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and shall serve him, them will I leave in their own land, to build it, and to inhabit it, saith the LORD.

12. And I spake all these things unto Zedekiah king of Judah, saying, Put your neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and ye shall live.

13. Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence? as the LORD hath said concerning the people that will not serve the king of Babylon.

14. Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets which say unto you, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon. For they prophesy falsely unto you,

15. And I have not sent them, saith the LORD; but they prophesy falsely in my name, that I may cast you out, and ye perish with the prophets that prophesy unto you.

16. And I spake unto the priests, and unto all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD; Hearken not unto the words of your prophets which prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the house of the LORD shall soon come again from Babylon. For they prophesy falsely unto you.

17. Obey them not, but serve the king of Babylon, and ye shall live. Why should this city become a desolation?

18. But if they be prophets, and if they have the word of the LORD, let them pray the LORD of hosts that the rest of the vessels which are in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem, be not brought also to Babylon.

19. For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the stalls, and concerning the vessels that are left in this city, 20. Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not away, when he carried away Jeichaniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the princes of Judah and Jerusalem;

21. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and in Jerusalem: 22. And they shall be brought to Babylon, and shall dwell there until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD, and bring them up again into this place.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 28

Jeremiah has a yoke of iron; indicates certain death to Hananiah, the false prophet.

1. And in the same year, in the beginning of the kingdom of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fifth month of the fourth year, Hananiah the son of

Azur, a prophet of Gibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying: 2. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon;

3. And before two years be expired, I will bring again into this place all the vessels of the house of the LORD, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took out of this place, and brought them to Babylon.

4. Moreover I will bring again to this place Jechaniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and all the captives of Judah that are carried to Babylon, saith the LORD; for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5. And Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Hananiah the prophet in the presence of the priests, and of all the people that were in the house of the LORD,

6. And said, Verily the LORD do so. Let the LORD confirm thy word, which thou hast spoken, to bring again the vessels out of the house of the LORD of Babylon into this place, and all the captives.

7. But hear also this word, which I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people: 8. The prophets that were before me, and before thee, of old time, have prophesied against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of calamity, and of pestilence; 9. But if a prophet prophesy peace, he shall be known whether the LORD hath truly sent him, when his word shall be fulfilled.

10. Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, and brake it.

11. And Hananiah said in the presence of all the people, Thus saith the LORD; Likewise will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon before two years perish, from off the neck of all nations. And Jeremiah the prophet went his way.

12. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of Jeremiah the prophet, saying:

13. Go and tell Hananiah, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast broken the yoke of wood; now therefore make a yoke of iron in its stead.

14. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they should serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and serve him: for I have given him the wild beasts also.

15. And Jeremiah the prophet said unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah. The LORD hath not sent thee, and thou hast made this people to trust in lies.

16. Therefore thus saith the LORD. Behold, I will take thee from the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die: for thou hast turned them away from the LORD with thy speech.

17. So Hananiah the prophet died in the seventh month of the same year.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 29

Jeremiah's letter to the captive Jews at Babel, telling them how they should behave.

1. These are the words of the letter which Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the remnant of the ancients that were carried away, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem to Babylon.

2. After that king Jeconiah and the queen were departed, with the officers and princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the carpenters and smiths that were at Jerusalem, 3. By Eleazah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent to Babylon unto Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, saying: 4. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all the captives whom I have brought away from Jerusalem to Babylon:

5. Build houses, and dwell therein: plant gardens, and eat the fruit thereof; 6. Take wives, and beget sons and daughters; take wives for your sons, and give husbands to your daughters, that they may beget sons and daughters: multiply yourselves there, that ye be not few.

7. Seek the good of the city whither I have led you away, and pray unto the LORD for it: for if it prosper, it prospereth you also.

8. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Let not the prophets that are with you, nor the diviners, deceive you, neither hearken ye to your dreams which dream you; 9. For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name. I have not sent them, saith the LORD.

10. For thus saith the LORD; When seventy years are expired in Babylon, then will I visit you, and will raise up my gracious word against you, and bring you again into this place.

11. For I know the thoughts that I have toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of sorrow; that I may give you the end that ye wait for.

12. And ye shall call upon me, and go and entreat me, and I will hear you.

13. Ye shall seek me, and ye shall find me. For if ye shall seek me with all your heart, 14. Then will I be found of you, saith the LORD, and will turn away your captivity, and gather you out of all nations, and out of all places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD; and will bring you again into this place, from whence I sent you away.

15. For ye think that the LORD hath raised up prophets unto you at Babylon.

16. For thus saith the LORD concerning the king that sitteth upon David's throne, and concerning all the people that dwell in this city, even concerning your brethren that are not gone forth captive with you;

17. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will send sword and famine and pestilence among them, and will deal with them as with the evil figs, because one is afraid to eat; 18. And I will go after them with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence: and I will not suffer them to dwell in any kingdom upon the earth; and they shall be a curse, and a wonder, and a scorn, and a derision, among all nations, whither I will cast them out, 19. Because they hearkened not unto my words, saith the LORD, who have always sent unto you my servants the prophets; but ye would not hearken, saith the LORD.

20. But all ye that are carried away captives, whom I have sent away from Jerusalem to Babylon, hear the word of the LORD.

21. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, against Ahab the son of Colaiah, and against Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy falsely unto you in my name: Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and he shall smite them before your eyes,

22. And they shall make a curse of them among all the captives of Judah that are at Babylon, saying, The LORD do unto thee as Zedekiah and Ahab did, whom the king of Babylon roasted with fire,

23. Because they committed folly in Israel, and committed adultery with other women, and preached falsely in my name, which I commanded them not. These things know I, and bear witness, saith the LORD.

24. And against Shemaiah of Nehalam shalt thou say:

25. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Because thou hast sent letters by thy name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and unto Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and unto all the priests, saying:

26: The LORD hath made thee a priest instead of Jehoiada the priest, to be overseers in the house of the LORD over all madmen and diviners, to put them in prison and in stocks.

27. Why then dost thou not punish Jeremiah of Anathoth, who prophesied unto you?

28. Because he sent unto us to Babylon, saying, It shall be for a long time: build ye houses to dwell in, and plant gardens to eat the fruit thereof.

29. For Zephaniah the priest had read the same epistle, and had caused Jeremiah the prophet to hear it.

30. Therefore the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying:

31. Send unto all the captives, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD against Shemaiah of Nehalam, Because Shemaiah knoweth you, and I sent him not, and ye trust in lies, 32. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will visit Shemaiah of Nehalam with his seed, and none of his shall remain among this people, and shall not see the good that I will do unto my people, saith the LORD: for he hath turned them away from the LORD with his speech.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 30

Promise from the Jewish people in the last days of the New Covenant.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD:

2. Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Write thee all the words that I speak unto thee in a book.

3. For, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will turn again the prison of my people, both of Israel and Judah, saith the LORD; and I will bring them again into the land which I gave unto their fathers, that they may possess it.

4. Now these are the words which the LORD speaketh concerning Israel and Judah.
5. For thus saith the LORD, We hear a cry of terror; there is fear, and no peace.
6. But search ye, and see whether a man's image bear? How is it then that I see all men with their hands upon their thighs, as women in childbearing, and all their faces pale?
7. For it is a great day, and the like of it hath not been, and there is a time of trouble in Jacob: yet shall he be delivered out of it.
8. And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will loose thy bands, and he shall no more serve strangers therein, 9. But to the LORD their God, and to David their king, whom I will raise up unto them.
10. Therefore fear not, O my servant Jacob, saith the LORD; neither be dismayed, O Israel. For, behold, I will save thee out of far countries, and thy seed out of the land of their captivity; and Jacob shall return, and live in peace, and be satisfied; and none shall affright him.
11. For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to help thee. For I will make an end of all nations, whither I have scattered thee: but I will not make an end of thee: but I will chasten thee with measures, that thou hold not thyself innocent.
12. For thus saith the LORD; Thy hurt is desperately grievous, and thy wounds are incurable.
13. Thine affair hath no man to bind it up: no man can heal thee.
14. All thy lovers forget thee, and ask nothing of thee. I have smitten thee, as I smite an enemy, With ruthless distemper for thy great iniquity, And for thy strong sins.
15. Why cryest thou over thy hurt, and over thy desperately wicked pain? For I have done these things unto thee for thy great iniquity, and for thy great sins.
16. Therefore all they that devoured thee shall be devoured, and all they that afflicted thee shall be taken captive, and they that robbed thee shall be robbed, and they that plundered thee shall be plundered.
17. But I will restore thee, and heal thy wounds, saith the LORD; because thou art called the outcast, and Zion, whom no man inquireth after.

18. Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will turn the prison of Jacob's tabernacles, and have mercy upon his habitation; and the city shall be built again upon her hills, and the temple shall stand after his manner.

19. And from thence shall go forth songs of praise and joy: for I will increase them, and not diminish them; I will make them glorious, and not small.

20. Their sons shall be as before, and their congregation shall prosper before me: for I will punish all them that afflict them.

21. And their ruler shall come out of them, and their sovereign shall go forth from them, and he shall draw near unto me: for who is he that draweth near unto me with a willing heart? saith the LORD.

22. And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

23. Behold, the weather of the LORD shall come with fury; a terrible tempest shall fall upon the head of the wicked.

24. For the fierce anger of the LORD shall not abate, until he do and execute that which is in his mind. In the last time ye shall know these things.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 31

More distant prophecy of the salvation yet to come for the Jewish people.

1. In that day, saith the LORD, will I be God to all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.

2. Thus saith the LORD; The remnant of the sword have found mercy in the wilderness: Israel goeth to his rest.

3. The LORD hath appeared unto me afar off, saying, I have loved thee evermore; therefore out of my goodness have I drawn thee unto me.

4. Now therefore, I will build thee again, and thou shalt be called built. Thou virgin Israel, thou shalt yet make merry, and go forth to the dance.

5. Again, thou shalt plant vineyards in the mountains of Samaria: they shall plant, and whistle for them.

6. For the time shall yet come, that the keepers of mount Ephraim shall cry: Come, and let us go up to Zion unto the LORD our God.

7. For thus saith the LORD, Shout for joy over Jacob, and shout for joy over the head of the Gentiles; shout aloud, and shout, and say, O LORD, help thy people, the remnant of Israel.

8. Behold, I will bring them out of the land of the north, and gather them from the ends of the earth, both blind, and lame, and with child, and women with child, and they shall return with a great multitude.

9. They shall come weeping and praying, and I will guide them: I will lead them by the rivers of water by a rough way, and they shall not stumble: for I am the father of Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn son.

10. Hear ye, O ye Gentiles, the word of the LORD, and proclaim it abroad in the isles, saying, He that scattered Israel will gather them again, and will shepherd them as a shepherd shepherds his flock.

11. For the LORD will redeem Jacob, and deliver him out of the hand of the mighty.

12. And they shall come and rejoice in the high places of Zion, and shall heap themselves to the gifts of the LORD, even to corn, and wine, and oil, and young sheep, and oxen: and their soul shall be as a garden of waters, and shall be troubled no more.

13. Then shall the virgins rejoice in the dance, and the young men, and the old men together. For I will turn their mourning into joy, and comfort them, and make them glad after their affliction.

14. And I will fill the heart of the priests with joy, and my people shall have abundance of my gifts, saith the LORD.

15. Thus saith the LORD; A voice of mourning is heard, and bitter weeping in the high places: Rachel weepeth over her children, and will not be comforted over her children; for it is finished with them.

16. But thus saith the LORD; Cease thy crying, and thy weeping, and the tears of thine eyes: for thy labour shall be well rewarded, saith the LORD. They shall come again out of the land of the. Enemy.

17. And thy seed have much good to wait for, saith the LORD; for thy children shall return into their border.

18. I have heard the lamentation of Ephraim, Thou hast chastened me, and I am chastened like a horny calf. Turn thou me, and I shall be turned: for thou, O LORD, art my God.

19. When I was converted, I repented: for after that I was wrought, I smote myself on the hip.

For I am ashamed, and stand in shame: for I have suffered the scorn of my youth.

20. Is not Ephraim my dear son, and my trusty child? For I remember the things which I spake unto him: therefore my heart breaketh against him, that I should have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.

21. Set thee up grave-marks, set thee mourning-marks, and set thy heart upon the highway that I have trodden. Return, O virgin Israel; Return to these thy cities!

22. How long wilt thou go astray, thou apostate daughter? For the LORD shall create a new thing in the land: the woman shall compass the man about.

23. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; They shall speak this word again in the land of Judah, and in the cities thereof, when I turn their captivity: The LORD bless thee, O habitation of righteousness, O holy mountain.

24. And Judah and all her cities shall dwell therein, and the husbandmen, and they that go about with flocks.

25. For I will refresh the weary soul, and the troubled soul.

26. Therefore I woke up and looked up and slept so softly.

27. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will seed the house of Israel, and the house of Judah, both man and beast.

28. And as I have watched over them to pluck up, and to break down, and to destroy, and to afflict; so will I watch over them to build, and to plant, saith the LORD.

29. In that day it shall no more be said, The fathers have eaten herbs, and the children's teeth are blunted,

30. But every man shall die for his iniquity: and every man that eateth herbs shall have his teeth dulled.

31. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah,

32. Not as the covenant which I made with their fathers, when I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt, which covenant they kept not, and I constrained them, saith the LORD,

33. But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after that time, saith the LORD; I will put my law in their hearts, and write it in their minds; and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

34. And no man shall teach another, nor brother another, saying, Know the LORD: but they shall all know me, both small and great, saith the LORD. For I will forgive their iniquity, and will remember their sin no more.

35. Thus saith the LORD, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the moon and the stars for a light by night, according to their courses; which maketh the sea to roar with the waves thereof; O LORD of hosts is his name:

36. When these ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then shall the seed of Israel also cease, that they be no more a nation before me for ever.

37. Thus saith the LORD; If it be possible to measure the heavens above, and to search the foundations of the earth, I will also reject all the seed of Israel for all that they do, saith the LORD.

38. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the city of the LORD shall be built from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the river.

39. And the line shall go forth beside it unto the hill. Gareb, and turn toward Gaath.

40. And all the valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the field, unto the brook Kidron, unto the corner of the horse gate eastward, shall be holy unto the LORD; it shall never be broken up, nor cut down.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 32

Jeremiah buys a field from Babylon as a sign of the Second Coming.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which is the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar.

2. Then the army of the king of Babylon besieged Jerusalem. But Jeremiah the prophet lay captive in the court of the prison of the house of the king of Judah, 3. When Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, he said, Wherefore prophesiest thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will deliver this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it,

4. And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape from the Chaldeans: but I will deliver him into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak unto him by word of mouth, and he shall see him with his eyes;

5. And he shall bring Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he dwell, until I visit him, saith the LORD: for though ye fight against the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper.

6. And Jeremiah said, The word of the LORD is come unto me, saying: 7. Behold, Hanameel the son of Shallum thy cousin cometh unto thee, and shall say, Thou shalt buy my field at Anathoth: for thou hast the next right hand to buy it.

8. So Hanameel my cousin's son came unto me, as the LORD had said, unto the court of the prison, and said unto me, Buy my field which is in Anathoth, which is in the land of Benjamin: for thou hast the right of inheritance, and thou art next unto me: buy it. Then I knew that it was the word of the LORD,

9. And he bought the field of Hanameel my cousin's son in Anathoth, and weighed him the money, seven shekels and ten shekels of silver,

10. And he wrote a letter, and sealed it, and took witnesses thereto, and weighed the money in the balances.

11. And he took unto me the bill of sale sealed according to law and custom, and an open copy.

12. And he gave the bill of sale unto Baruch the son of Neriah the son of Mahaseiah, in the presence of Hanameel my cousin, and of the witnesses that were written in the bill of sale, and of all the Jews that dwelt in the court of the prison,

13. and commanded Baruch before their eyes, saying:

14. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Take these letters, the sealed bill of sale, with this open copy, and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may remain long.

15. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; They shall yet buy houses, and fields, and vineyards, in this land.

16. And when I had given the bill of sale unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying:

17. O Lord GOD, behold, thou hast made heaven and earth by thy great power, and by thy outstretched arm; and there is no thing impossible in thy sight; 18. Thou that hast benefited many thousands, and hast recompensed the iniquity of the fathers in the bosom of their children after them, thou great and mighty God: O LORD of hosts is thy name;

19. Great in counsel, and mighty in deed: and thine eyes are open unto all the ways of the children of men, to give every man according to his way, and according to the fruit of his doings;

20. Who did signs and wonders in the land of Egypt unto this day, both to Israel and to man, and made thee a name, as it is this day,

21. And brought thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt by signs and wonders, by a mighty hand, and by an outstretched arm, and by great terror.

22. And thou gavest them this land, which thou swarest unto their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey,

23. And when they came in, and had it, they hearkened not unto thy voice, neither walked they according to thy law; and all things whatsoever thou commandedst them to do, they left off: wherefore thou didst cause all these calamities to befall them:

24. Behold, this city is besieged, and it must be taken, and delivered into the hands of the Chaldeans that fight against it, from the sword, and from the famine, and from the pestilence: and as thou hast said, so it shall be, so thou shalt see;

25. And thou, O Lord, sayest unto me, Buy thou a field for money, and take witnesses unto it, when the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans?

26. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying:

27. Behold, I the LORD am a God of all flesh. Should anything be impossible for me?

28. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; and he shall take it.

29. And the Chaldeans that fight against this city shall come in, and set it on fire, and burn it, and the houses thereof, because they have burned incense upon the housetops unto Baal, and offered drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30. For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have done evil in my sight from their youth, and the children of Israel have provoked me to anger by the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31. For from the time that this city was built unto this day it hath made me angry and fierce, that I should put it out of my sight.

32. Because of all the wickedness of the children of Israel and the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger. They, their kings, and their princes, and their priests, and their prophets, and they that dwell in Judah and Jerusalem,

33. Have turned their backs unto me, and not their faces, though I taught them always: but they would not hearken, nor amend.

34. For this cause have they put their abominations in the house which is named of me, to defile it,

35. And they have built the high places of Baal in the valley of Ben-hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters unto Moloch, whereof I commanded them not: and it never came into my mind that they should do such abominations, that they might cause Judah to sin.

36. And now therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel concerning this city, of which ye say that it shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon for the sword, and for the famine, and for the pestilence:

37. Behold, I will gather them out of all the countries whither I have driven them by my great wrath, and by my fury, and by my mercilessness; and I will bring them again into this place, and they shall dwell safely.

38. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

39. And I will give them one heart and one nature, and they shall fear me all the days of their life; that it may be well with them, and with their children after them.

40. And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not cease to do them good; and I will put my fear in their hearts, and they shall not depart from me.

41. And it shall be my delight to do them good; and I will plant them in this land, faithfully, with all my heart and with all my soul.

42. For thus saith the LORD; As I have brought upon this people all this great evil, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have spoken unto them.

43. And the land shall be bought yet in this land, which ye say shall be desolate, that neither man nor beast shall dwell therein; and it shall be given into the hand of the Chaldeans.

44. Nevertheless they shall buy fields for money, and shall certify them, and seal them, and testify them, in the land of Benjamin, and round about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south. For I will turn away their prison, saith the LORD.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 33

Redemption from the captivity of Babylon promised Christ and his kingdom.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the prison, saying:
2. Thus saith the LORD, which maketh, and doeth, and establisheth these things: the LORD is his name:
3. Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.
4. For thus saith the LORD God of Israel concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are broken down, to make a stronghold for a defence, 5. And of them that come in to fight against the Chaldeans, to fill them with dead bodies, which I will smite in my wrath and my fury: for I have hid my face from this city because of all their wickedness:
6. Behold, I will heal them, and make them whole, and will grant them of prayer peace and faithfulness.
7. For I will turn the prison of Judah and the prison of Israel, and will build them as at the beginning;
8. And I will cleanse them from all iniquity, because they have sinned against me; and I will forgive them all iniquity, because they have sinned and transgressed against me.
9. And this shall be unto me a joyful name, and glory, and honour, among all the heathen of the earth, when they shall hear all the good that I do unto them. And they shall marvel and be astonished at all the good things, and at all the peace which I will give them.
10. Thus saith the LORD; In this place, of which ye say, It is desolate; because there remaineth neither people nor cattle in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, which are desolate, that there is neither people, nor people, nor cattle therein, 11. Nevertheless the voice of joy and gladness shall be heard again, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, and the voice of them that saw: Give thanks unto the LORD of hosts, because he is gracious, and doeth good continually: and of them that bring peace offerings unto the house of the LORD. For I will turn the land of the prison as at the first, saith the LORD.

12. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; In this place, which is desolate, that neither men nor beasts are therein, and in all the cities thereof, shall be shepherds' houses again, feeding flocks, 13. Both in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south, in the land of Benjamin, and about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah: yet again the flocks shall be numbered going out and coming in, saith the LORD.

14. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will bring again the gracious word, which I spake unto the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.

15. In those days, and in that time, will I raise up a righteous increase unto David; and he shall be a king that shall reign iniquitously, and shall execute judgment and righteousness upon the earth.

16. In that day shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and he shall be called: The LORD our righteousness.

17. For thus saith the LORD; There shall never fail, one of David shall sit upon the throne of the house of Israel.

18. And there shall be no lack of priests and Levites before me for ever, to offer burnt offerings, and to burn meat offerings, and to slay sacrifices for ever.

19. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying:

20: Thus saith the LORD; When my covenant shall cease from day and night, that there be not day and night in his days,

21. My covenant also shall cease from David my servant, that he have not a son to be king upon his throne, and from the Levites and the priests my servants.

22. As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.

23. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying:

24. Hast thou not seen what this people say, saying, The LORD also hath rejected the two families which he chose, and they have blasphemed my people, as though they were no more my people?

25. Thus saith the LORD; I will not keep my covenant of day and night, nor the ordinance of heaven and earth,

26. Then will I also reject the seed of Jacob, and David my servant, that I take not of their seed, which have dominion over the seed of Abraham, and over Isaac, and over Jacob. For I will turn away their prison, and have mercy upon them.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 34

Zedekiah's and his subjects' imprisonment and punishments for breaking the year of liberty 1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his host, and all the kingdoms of the earth that were under his power, and all the nations, fought against Jerusalem, and against all her cities, saying:

2. Thus saith the LORD God of Israel; Go and tell Zedekiah king of Judah, and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will deliver this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

3. And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt be taken, and delivered into his hand, and shalt see him with thine eyes, and shalt speak unto him by word of mouth, and shalt come to Babylon.

4. Hear therefore, O Zedekiah, king of Judah, the word of the LORD. Thus saith the LORD concerning thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword.

5. But thou shalt die in peace. And as they burned against thy fathers, the former kings that were before thee, so shall they burn against thee, and lament thee, saying, Alas, Lord! For I have spoken it, saith the LORD.

6. And Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah at Jerusalem, 7. When the army of the king of Babylon was already fighting against Jerusalem, and against all the rest of the cities of Judah, even against Lachish and Azekah: for these, being the strong cities, were yet left among the cities of Judah.

8. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people of Jerusalem, to proclaim a year of liberty, 9. That every man should free his manservant, and every man his maidservant, both of the male and of the female Eberians; that no Jew should hold any of them in bondage. 10. And all the princes and all the people that had made the covenant obeyed, that every man should deliver his manservant and his maidservant, and hold them no more in bondage; and they delivered them up.

11. But afterward they turned again, and took the bondmen and bondwomen, whom they had let go, and compelled them to be bondmen and bondwomen.

12. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying: 13. Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, I made a covenant with your fathers, when I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying: 14. And it shall come to pass, when seven years are expired, that every man shall let his brother go free, who is an Eberian, and hath sold himself unto him, and served him six years. But your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ears.

15. So ye have repented this day, and have done that which was right in mine eyes, in proclaiming a year of rest every man for his neighbour, and have made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name.

16. But ye are turned back, and have profaned my name; and every man shall recover his manservant and his maidservant, whom ye had released to be his own, and now compel them to be your manservants and your maidservants.

17. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye will not hearken unto me, to proclaim a year of liberty every man to his brother, and to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim, saith the LORD, a year of liberty unto you for the sword, and for the pestilence, and for the famine; and I will not suffer you to abide in any kingdom upon the earth.

18. And I will make the men that transgress my covenant, and that keep not the words of the covenant which they made before me, as the calf which they divided in two, and passed between the parts,

19. The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, and the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which were passed between the pieces of the calf.

20. And I will deliver them into the hand of their enemies, and of them that seek their life; and their dead bodies shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and for the beasts of the earth.

21. And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes, will I deliver into the hand of their enemies, and of them that seek their lives, and into the hand of the host of the king of Babylon, which are now departed from you.

22. For, behold, I will command them, saith the LORD, and will bring them again before this city, and they shall fight against it, and win it, and burn it with fire; and I will lay waste the cities of Judah, and none shall dwell there.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 35

Of the Rechabite obedience and the Jewish people disobedience.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying:

2. Go into the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD in the chapel, and give them wine.

3. And I took Jazaniah the son of Jeremiah the son of Habaziah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and all the house of Rechab.

4. And brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chapel of the children of Hanan the son of Jegdaliah, the man of God, which is by the prince's chapel, above the chapel of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the gate.

5. And I set before the children of the house of Rechab, cups full of wine, and bowls, and said unto them: Drink wine!

6. And they answered: We drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father hath commanded us, saying, Ye and your children shall never drink wine.

7. And build no house, nor sow seed, nor plant a vineyard, nor have any: but dwell in tents all your days, that ye may live long in the land wherein ye sojourn.

8. So we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab our father, the son of Rechab, in all that he commanded us, that we should drink no wine all the days of our life, neither we, nor our wives, nor our sons, nor our daughters,

9. Neither build we houses to dwell in, neither have we vineyards, nor fields, nor seed, 10. But dwell in tabernacles, and obey, and do all things, as our father Jonadab commanded.

11. And when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, we said: Come, and let us go up to Jerusalem before the army of the Chaldeans and the Syrians: and we abode at Jerusalem.

12. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying:

13. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Go and say unto them of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not amend yourselves, that ye may hearken unto my words?

saith the LORD.

14. The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, which he commanded his children that they should not drink wine, are kept: and they drink no wine unto this day, because they obeyed their father's commandment. I have always preached to you, but you have not obeyed me.

15. Even so have I always sent unto you all my servants the prophets, saying, Turn ye every man from his evil way, and amend your ways, and follow not other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given you and your fathers. But ye would not incline your ears, nor obey me,

16. But the children of Jonadab the son of Rechab have kept their father's commandment, which he commanded them. But this people will not obey me.

17. Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, and the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, all the evil that I have spoken against them, because I have spoken unto them, and they will not hear, I have called, and they will not answer me.

18. And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his commandments, and done all that he commanded you,

19. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; There shall never fail Jonadab the son of Rechab; one of his own shall stand before me at all times.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 36

Jeremiah's sermons are torn up, burned, and rewritten.

1. In the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying:

2. Take a book, and write therein all the words which I have spoken unto thee concerning Israel, and concerning Judah, and concerning all nations, from the time that I spake unto thee, even from the days of Josiah even unto this day,

3. Whether it may be that the house of Judah, hearing all the evil that I intend to do unto them, will turn every man from his wickedness, that I may forgive them their iniquity and their sin.

4. Then called Jeremiah Baruch the son of Neriah. And Baruch the same wrote in a book out of the mouth of Jeremiah all the sayings of the LORD, which he spake unto him.

5. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying: I am a prisoner, that I cannot enter into the house of the LORD.

6. And thou shalt go in, and read the book wherein thou hast written the words of the LORD out of my mouth, before the people in the house of the LORD at the feast: and thou shalt read them also in the ears of all Judah, which come in out of their cities, 7. Whether they would humble themselves with prayer before the LORD, and turn every man from his evil way: for great is the wrath and fury of which the LORD hath spoken against this people.

8. And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, to read the words of the LORD out of the book in the house of the LORD.

9. And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD unto all the people of Jerusalem, and to all the people that come out of the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

10. And Baruch read out of the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chapel of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the chancellor, in the upper court before the new gate of the house of the LORD, before all the people.

11. Now when Micaiah the son of Gemariah the son of Shaphan had heard all the words of the LORD out of the book,

12. And he went down into the king's house, that they might be their own: and now compel them to be your servants and your handmaids.

17. Therefore thus saith the LORD: Ye will not hearken unto me, to proclaim a year of liberty every man to his brother, and to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim, saith the LORD, a year of liberty unto you for the sword, and for the pestilence, and for the famine; and I will not suffer you to abide in any kingdom upon the earth.

18. And I will make the men that transgress my covenant, and that keep not the words of the covenant which they made before me, as the calf which they divided in two, and passed between the parts,

19. The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, and the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which were passed between the pieces of the calf.

20. And I will deliver them into the hand of their enemies, and of them that seek their life; and their dead bodies shall be meat for the fowls of the air, and for the beasts of the earth.

21. And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes, will I deliver into the hand of their enemies, and of them that seek their lives, and into the hand of the host of the king of Babylon, which are now departed from you.

22. For, behold, I will command them, saith the LORD, and will bring them again before this city, and they shall fight against it, and win it, and burn it with fire; and I will lay waste the cities of Judah, and none shall dwell there.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 35

Of the Rechabite obedience and the Jewish people disobedience.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying:

2. Go into the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chapels, and give them wine.

3. And I took Jazaniah the son of Jeremiah the son of Habaziniah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and all the house of Rechab.

4. And brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chapel of the children of Hanan the son of Jegdaliah, the man of God, which is by the prince's chapel, above the chapel of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the gate.

5. And I set before the children of the house of Rechab, cups full of wine, and bowls, and said unto them: Drink wine!

6. And they answered: We drink not wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father hath commanded us, saying, Ye and your children shall never drink wine.

7. And build no house, nor sow seed, nor plant a vineyard, nor have any: but dwell in tents all your days, that ye may live long in the land wherein ye sojourn.

8. So we have obeyed the voice of Jonadab our father, the son of Rechab, in all that he commanded us, that we should drink no wine all the days of our life, neither we, nor our wives, nor our sons, nor our daughters,

9. Neither build we houses to dwell in, neither have we vineyards, nor fields, nor seed, 10. But dwell in tabernacles, and obey, and do all things, as our father Jonadab commanded.

11. And when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, we said: Come, and let us go up to Jerusalem before the army of the Chaldeans and the Syrians: and we abode at Jerusalem.

12. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying:

13. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Go and say unto them of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not amend yourselves, that ye may hearken unto my words? saith the LORD.

14. The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, which he commanded his children that they should not drink wine, are kept: and they drink no wine unto this day, because they obeyed their father's commandment. I have always preached to you, but you have not obeyed me.

15. Even so have I always sent unto you all my servants the prophets, saying, Turn ye every man from his evil way, and amend your ways, and follow not other gods to serve them; and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given you and to your fathers. But ye would not incline your ears, nor obey me,

16. But the children of Jonadab the son of Rechab have kept their father's commandment, which he commanded them. But this people will not obey me.

17. Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, and the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, all the evil that I have spoken against them, because I have spoken unto them, and they will not hear, I have called, and they will not answer me.

18. And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his commandments, and done all that he commanded you,

19. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; There shall never fail Jonadab the son of Rechab; one of his own shall stand before me at all times.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 36

Jeremiah's sermons are torn up, burned, and rewritten.

1. In the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying:

2. Take a book, and write therein all the words which I have spoken unto thee concerning Israel, and concerning Judah, and concerning all nations, from the time that I spake unto thee, even from the days of Josiah even unto this day,

3. Whether it may be that the house of Judah, hearing all the evil that I intend to do unto them, will turn every man from his wickedness, that I may forgive them their iniquity and their sin.

4. Then called Jeremiah Baruch the son of Neriah. And Baruch the same wrote in a book out of the mouth of Jeremiah all the sayings of the LORD, which he spake unto him.

5. And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying: I am a prisoner, that I cannot enter into the house of the LORD.

6. And thou shalt go in, and read the book wherein thou hast written the words of the LORD out of my mouth, before the people in the house of the LORD at the feast: and thou shalt read them also in the ears of all Judah, which come in out of their cities, 7. Whether they would humble themselves with prayer before the LORD, and turn every man from his evil way: for great is the wrath and fury of which the LORD hath spoken against this people.

8. And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, to read the words of the LORD out of the book in the house of the LORD.

9. And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD unto all the people of Jerusalem, and to all the people that come out of the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

10. And Baruch read out of the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chapel of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the chancellor, in the upper court before the new gate of the house of the LORD, before all the people.

11. Now when Micaiah the son of Gemariah the son of Shaphan had heard all the words of the LORD out of the book,

12. And he went down into the king's house, into the king's chamber. And, behold, all the princes sat there; Elishama the chancellor, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, with all the princes.

13. And Micaiah shewed them all the words which he had heard, when Baruch read out of the book in the ears of the people.

14. Then all the princes sent Judiah the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Chushi, unto Baruch, saying. Take with thee the book out of which thou hast read before the people, and come. And Baruch the son of Neriah took the book with him, and came unto them.

15. And they said unto him, Sit thou down, and read, that we may hear. And Baruch read in their ears.

16. And when they heard all these sayings, they were amazed one against another, and said unto Baruch, We will report all these sayings unto the king.

17. And said unto Baruch, Tell us, how hast thou written all these sayings out of his mouth?

18. And Baruch said unto them: He read all these sayings out of his mouth unto me, and I wrote them in ink in the book.

19. And the princes said unto Baruch, Go and hide thyself with Jeremiah, that no man know where ye are.

20. And they went in unto the king into the court, and kept the book in the chamber of Elishama the chancellor, and spake all these words before the king.

21. Then the king sent Judi to fetch the book. And he took it out of the chamber of Elishama the chancellor. And Judiah read before the king, and before all the princes that sat with the king.

22. And the king sat in the winter house, in the ninth month, before the hearth.

23. And when Judi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with a penknife, and cast it into the fire that was in the hearth, until the book was burnt up altogether in the fire.

24. And no man was astonished, nor rent his clothes, neither the king, nor his servants, when all had heard these sayings.

25. And Elnathan, and Delaiah, and Gemariah, besought the king that he would not burn the book; but he hearkened not unto them.

26. And the king commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hamelech, and Seraiah the son of Aziel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, that they should take Baruch the scribe, and Jeremiah the prophet. But the LORD had hid them.

27. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the book, and the words which Baruch wrote out of the mouth of Jeremiah, saying: 28. Take thee another book, and write therein all the former words which were in the first book, which Jehoiakim king of Judah burnt,

29. And say of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Thus saith the LORD; Thou hast burned this book, saying, Why hast thou written therein, that the king of Babylon shall come and destroy this land, and make it desolate; that there shall be neither people nor cattle therein?

30. Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim king of Judah; He shall not sit on the throne of David, one of his own; and his body shall lie thrown down in the heat of the day, and in the frost of the night.

31. And I will punish him, and his seed, and his servants, for their iniquity. And I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon them that are in Judah, all the evil that I have spoken unto them, and they will not obey.

32. Then Jeremiah took another book, and gave it to Baruch the son of Neriah the scribe. And he wrote therein out of the mouth of Jeremiah all the words that were in the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned with fire: and upon them were many more words than those.
(Jeremiah)

Chapter 37

Jeremiah is beaten and imprisoned.

1. And Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned instead of Jechaniah the son of Jehoiakim: for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon made him king in the land of Judah.

2. But he, and his servants, and the people of the land, hearkened not unto the words of the LORD, which he spake by Jeremiah the prophet.

3. And Zedekiah the king sent Juchal the son of Shelemiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Pray unto the LORD our God for us.

4. For now Jeremiah went out and in among the people, and no man put him in prison.

5. So Pharaoh's army was come out of Egypt, and the Chaldeans that were before Jerusalem, when they heard the rumour, departed from Jerusalem.

6. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the prophet, saying:

7. Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Thus say ye unto the king of Judah, which sent you unto me to inquire of me, Behold, the army of Pharaoh, which went out to help you, shall return into Egypt,

8. And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against that city, and win it, and burn it with fire.

9. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Deceive not your souls, that ye think the Chaldeans will depart from us. They shall not depart.

10. And if ye smite all the army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and if there remain any wounded, they will arise every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.

11. And when the army of the Chaldeans was departed from Jerusalem for Pharaoh's army's sake, 12. Jeremiah went out of Jerusalem, and would go into the land of Benjamin, to till the ground among the people.

13. And when he was come under the gate of Benjamin, there was one appointed keeper of the gate, whose name was Jena, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah: and he took hold of Jeremiah the prophet, and said, Thou wilt fall unto the Chaldeans.

14. And Jeremiah said, It is not true; I will not fall to the Chaldeans. But Jeriah would not hear him, but took Jeremiah, and brought him unto the princes.

15. And the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and cast him into prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe, whom they made a jailer.

16. So Jeremiah went into the pit and dungeon, and lay there a long time.

17. And Zedekiah the king sent and fetched him, and asked him secretly in his house, saying: Is there also a word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, Yea; for thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18. And Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I sinned against thee, and against thy servants, and against this people, that they have cast me into prison?

19. Where then are your prophets that prophesied unto you, saying: The king of Babylon shall not come upon you, nor upon this land?

20. And now, my lord king, hear me, and let my petition be accepted before thee, and let me not be brought again into Jonathan the scribe's house, that I die not there.

21. And king Zedekiah commanded that Jeremiah should be kept in the court of the prison, and gave him a loaf of bread out of the bakers' street every day, until all the bread in the city was consumed. So Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 38

Jeremiah is thrown into a pit, rescued from it, and challenged by the king to a secret interview.

1. And Shaphatiah the son of Mathan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and Juchal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchiah, heard the words which Jeremiah spake unto all the people, saying:

2. Thus saith the LORD; He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out to the Chaldeans shall live, and shall carry away his life as a prey.

3. For thus saith the LORD, This city shall be delivered unto the army of the king of Babylon, and they shall recover it.

4. Then said the princes unto the king: Let this man be put to death: for by this manner he turneth away the men of war that are left in this city, and all the people also, because he saith such words unto them. For this man seeks not peace for this people, but disaster.

5. And king Zedekiah said, Behold, he is in your hands: for the king can do nothing against you.

6. And they took Jeremiah, and cast him into the pit of Malchiah the son of Hamelech, which was in the court of the prison, and let him down by ropes into the pit, where was no water, but mire. And Jeremiah sank into the mire.

7. And when Ebed-melech the Moor, a chamberlain of the king's house, heard that Jeremiah was cast into the pit, the king sat in the gate of Benjamin,

8. And Ebed-melech went out of the king's house, and spake unto the king, and said: 9. O my lord the king, men have dealt wickedly with Jeremiah the prophet, because they have cast him into the pit, and he shall die of hunger: for there is no bread left in the city.

10. Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Moor, saying, Take with thee thirty men of these, and draw Jeremiah the prophet out of the pit, before he die.

11. And Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the king's house under the treasury, and took there old rags that were torn and worn, and let them down by a cord unto Jeremiah into the pit.

12. And Ebed-melech the Moor said unto Jeremiah, Put these torn and worn old rags under thine armpits about the rope. And Jeremiah did so.

13. And they drew Jeremiah up out of the pit by the cords. And so Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

14. And king Zedekiah sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him, unto the third entry of the house of the LORD. And the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a question; but, my lord, do not hinder me.

15. And Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I tell thee anything, thou shalt kill me: but if I give thee counsel, thou shalt not hearken unto me.

16. Then king Zedekiah sware unto Jeremiah privily, saying, As the LORD liveth, which hath made this soul for us, I will not slay thee, nor give thee into the hand of men that seek thy life.

17. And Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel; If thou go out unto the princes of the king of Babylon, then thou shalt live; and this city shall not be burned, but thou shalt live, thou, and thy house.

18. But if thou wilt not go out unto the princes of the king of Babylon, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire; neither shalt thou escape out of their hand.

19. And king Zedekiah said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid that I may be delivered unto the Jews which are fallen among the Chaldeans, that they may mock me.

20. And Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee up. But obey the voice of the LORD, which I say unto thee, and it shall be well with thee, and thou shalt live.

21. But if thou wilt not go forth, this is the word which the LORD hath shewed me: 22. Behold, all the women that are left in the house of the king of Judah shall go out unto the princes of the king of Babylon. And they shall say, Alas, thy comforters have persuaded thee, and deceived thee, and led thee into the mire, and have left thee in the lurch!

23. So then all thy wives and thy children shall go out to the Chaldeans, and thou thyself shalt not escape their hand; but thou shalt be taken by the king of Babylon, and this city shall be burned with fire.

24. And Zedekiah said unto Jeremiah, See that no man know this saying, and thou shalt not die.

25. And if the princes know that I have spoken unto thee, and come unto thee, saying, Declare thou what thou hast spoken unto the king, and deny us not, we will not kill thee: and what hath the king spoken unto thee?

26. Then say, I have prayed the king that he would not suffer me to return to Jonathan's house, and that I should die there.

27. Then all the princes came to Jeremiah, and asked him; and he told them as the king commanded him. And they left him, because they knew nothing.

28. And Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 39

Jerusalem is conquered, Zedekiah is captured, Jeremiah and Ebed-Melech are preserved.

1. And it came to pass, that Jerusalem was taken. For in the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his host before Jerusalem, and besieged it.

2. And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, on the ninth day of the fourth month, they entered into the city.

3. And all the princes of the king of Babylon went in, and stood by the middle gate, Nergal-sarezer, and Sangar-nebo, and Sarsechim the chief chamberlain, and Nergal-sarezer the chamberlain, and all the princes of the king of Babylon.

4. And when Zedekiah king of Judah saw them, they and his men of war fled out of the city by night by the king's garden through the gate between two walls, and passed through the field.

5. And the army of the Chaldeans pursued after them, and took Zedekiah in the field near Jericho, and took him, and brought him unto Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Riblath, which is in the land of Hemath: and he pronounced judgment against him.

6. And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes in Riblath, and slew all the princes of Judah.

7. And he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains, to bring him to Babylon.

8. And the Chaldeans burned both the king's house, and the houses of the people, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.

9. And the rest of the people that were in the city, and the rest that fell among them, Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried them all away captive to Babylon.

10. And of the little people that had nothing, Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left some in the land of Judah at that time, and gave them vineyards and villages.

11. But Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon had commanded Nebuzar-Adan the chief man of Jeremiah, saying:

12. Take thee, and let him be commanded thee, and do him no hurt: but as he desireth thee, so do it unto him.

13. And Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard, and Nebu-sasban the chief chamberlain, and Nergal-sarezer the chamberlain, and all the princes of the king of Babylon, sent to him 14. And they sent for

Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and commanded Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, to bring him out to his house, and to dwell with the people.

15. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was yet a prisoner in the court of the prison, saying:

16. Go and tell Ebed-melech the Moor: Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and for no good; and thou shalt see it in that day.

17. But I will save thee in that day, saith the LORD; and thou shalt not be delivered unto them of whom thou art afraid.

18. For I will save thee from falling by the sword, but thou shalt carry away thy life as a prey: because thou hast trusted in me, saith the LORD.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 40

Jeremiah stays with Gedaliah in the land.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard loosed him at Ramah: for he also was bound with chains among all them that were captives in Jerusalem and in Judah, to carry them away to Babylon.

2. And when the captain of the guard had sent for Jeremiah, he said unto him, The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.

3. And he brought it to pass, and did according to his word: for ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice: therefore these things have happened unto you.

4. Now therefore, behold, I have loosed thee this day from the chains that bound thy hands. If it please thee to go with me to Babylon, come, and I will command thee: but if it please thee not to go with me to Babylon, let it stand. Behold, all the land is before thee: whithersoever it seemeth thee good, and pleaseth thee, go thither.

5. For beyond that there shall be no return. Therefore return thou unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath set over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people; or go whithersoever it pleaseth thee. And the centurion gave him victuals and gifts, and let him go.

6. So Jeremiah came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and abode with him among the people that were left in the land.

7. And it came to pass, when the captains that were in the field, and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had set Gedaliah the son of Ahikam over the land, and over both men, and over women, and over children, and over the little ones of the land, which were not led to Babylon, that the king of Babylon had set him over the land,

8. And they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan, and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai of Netophath, and Jezaniah the son of Maachathi, and their men.

9. And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to be subject unto the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and be subject unto the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

10. Behold, I dwell here in Mizpah, to minister unto the Chaldeans that come unto us. Gather therefore the wine, and the figs, and the oil, and put them into your vessels, and dwell in your cities which ye have received.

11. And all the Jews that were in the land of Moab, and in the children of Ammon, and in Edom, and in all the countries, when they heard that the king of Babylon had left some in Judah, and had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, 12. And they returned all of them from all the places whither they were driven into the land of Judah to Gedaliah to Mizpah, and gathered much wine and summer fruit.

13. And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains that were in the field, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14. And they said unto him, Knowest thou that Baalish king of the children of Ammon hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam would not believe them.

15. And Johanan the son of Kareah said unto Gedaliah secretly at Mizpah, I will go and smite Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, that no man know it. Why shall he smite thee, and all the Jews that are gathered unto thee shall be scattered, and they that are left of Judah shall perish?

16. And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah: Thou shalt not do this thing: it is not true that thou sayest of Ishmael.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 41

Ishmael slays Gedaliah, Johanan chases after him.

1. And it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah the son of Elishama, of the royal tribe, and the king's captains, and ten men with him, came to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah, and did eat there together at Mizpah.

2. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah arose, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword to death, because the king of Babylon had set him over the land.

3. And all the Jews that were with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, and all the men of war, did Ishmael smite.

4. The next day, after Gedaliah was slain, and as yet no man knew, 5. And there came eighty men from Shechem, and from Shiloh, and from Samaria, having shaven off their beards, and rent their clothes, and rent themselves, and bearing meat offerings and incense, to bring into the house of the LORD.

6. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went out from Mizpah to meet them, and went along weeping. And when he came to them, he said unto them: Ye shall come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.

7. And when they were come into the midst of the city, Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the men that were with him, slew them by the well.

8. But there were ten. And they said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he desisted, and slew them not with the rest.

9. And the well wherein Ishmael cast the dead bodies which he slew, and Gedaliah, is the well which king Asa made against Baasha king of Israel; and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with the slain.

10. And the rest of the people that were at Mizpeh, even the king's daughters, did Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carry away captive with all the rest of the people that were at Mizpeh, over whom Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had set Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: and he went and passed over to the children of Ammon.

11. And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host that were with him, heard all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done,

12. And they took all the men, and went to fight against Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and met him by the great river at Gibeon.

13. And when all the people that were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host that were with him, they were glad.

14. And all the people which Ishmael had led away from Mizpah turned again, and returned unto Johanan the son of Kareah.

15. And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went unto the children of Ammon.

16. And Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host that were with him, took unto them all the remnant of the people which they had brought again from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah out of Mizpah, because Gedaliah the son of Ahikam was slain, even the men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, which they had brought again from Gibeon,

17. And they went and returned to Kimham the lodger, which dwelt by Bethlehem, to go into Egypt before the Chaldeans.

18. For they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon had set over the land.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 42

Jeremiah counsels the Jews to go to Egypt.

1. Then came all the captains of the host, Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people, both small and great,

2. And they said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let our prayer be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God for all these remnant: for ours, alas, are few of many, as thou thyself seest us with thine eyes,

3. That the LORD thy God would shew us whither we should go, and what we should do.

4. And Jeremiah the prophet said unto them: Now therefore I will obey; and, behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God, as ye have said: and whatsoever the LORD shall answer you, that will I shew you, and will not restrain you.

5. And they said unto Jeremiah, Let the LORD be a sure and true witness between us, that we will not do all that the LORD thy God shall command thee concerning us.

6. Whether it be good or bad, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, unto whom we send thee; that it may go well with us, if we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7. And after ten days the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.

8. And he called Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host that were with him, and all the people, both small and great,

9. And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to bring your prayer before him:

10. If ye abide in this land, I will build you, and not break you; I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for the evil that I have done unto you hath already repented me.

11. Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid, saith the LORD; be not afraid of him: for I will be with you to help you, and to deliver you out of his hand.

12. I will show you mercy, and have compassion on you, and will bring you again into your own land.

13. And ye shall say, We will not dwell in the land, lest ye obey the voice of the LORD your God,

14. But say, Nay, we will go into the land of Egypt, that we may not see war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor famine for bread: there will we dwell:

15. Hear therefore the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Judah. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Will ye set your faces to go into the land of Egypt, that ye may dwell there?

16. And the sword, of which ye are afraid, shall fall upon you in the land of Egypt: and the famine, of which ye are troubled, shall always be after you in Egypt, and ye shall die there.

17. For let them be who they will, that set their faces to go into Egypt to dwell there: they shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence; and none shall survive, nor escape the evil that I will bring upon them.

18. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; As mine anger and my wrath is upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, so shall it be upon you, when ye go into Egypt, that ye shall be a curse, and a wonder, and an oath, and a reproach, and shall see this place no more.

19. The word of the LORD is unto you, O remnant of Judah, that ye go not into Egypt. Know therefore that I testify unto you this day.

20. Or else ye shall make your lives desolate. For ye have sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Ask the LORD our God for us: and whatsoever the LORD our God shall say, shew us, and we will do it.

21. These things have I made known unto you this day: but ye will not obey the voice of the LORD your God, nor all that he hath commanded me concerning you.

22. Know ye therefore that ye shall die by the sword, and by famine, and by pestilence, in the place whither ye go to dwell.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 43

The Jews move to Egypt.

1. When Jeremiah had spoken all the words of the LORD their God unto all the people, as the LORD their God had commanded him all these words unto them,

2. And Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the rebellious men, said unto Jeremiah, Thou liest. The LORD our God hath not sent thee unto us, nor said, Ye shall not go into Egypt to dwell there,

3. But Baruch the son of Neriah persuadeth thee against us, that we may be delivered unto the Chaldeans, that they may kill us, and carry us away to Babylon.

4. So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, and all the people, hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD, to abide in the land of Judah,

5. But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the host, took unto them all the remnant of Judah, which were returned from all the nations whither they fled, to dwell in the land of Judah,

6. And the man, and the woman, and the children, and the king's daughters, and all the souls that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah, 7. And they went into the land of Egypt, because they would not hearken unto the voice of the LORD: and they came to Tahpanhes.

8. And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah unto Tachpanhes, saying:

9. Take large stones, and bury them in the goatkiln that is at the door of Pharaoh's house in Tashpanheth; and the men of Judah shall see it.

10. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will send and fetch Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones which I have buried, and he shall pitch his tent over them.

11. And he shall come and smite the land of Egypt, and kill whomsoever it shall smite, carry captive whomsoever it shall smite, smite with the sword whomsoever it shall smite.

12. And I will burn the houses of the gods in Egypt with fire, and he shall burn them, and carry them away. And he shall put on him the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment, and depart thence in peace.

13. And he shall break in pieces the graven images of Bethshemesh in the land of Egypt, and shall burn with fire the churches of idols in Egypt. (Jeremiah)

Chapter 44

The unruly Jews are punished by Jeremiah.

1. This is the word that came unto Jeremiah unto all the Jews that dwelt in the land of Egypt, even to Migdal, and to Thachpanhes, and to Noph, and to them that dwelt in the land of Pathros, saying:

2. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and, behold, they are desolate this day, and none dwelleth therein;

3. And this because of their wickedness, which they did, to provoke me to anger, and to go and burn incense, and to serve other gods, which neither they, nor ye, nor your fathers, knew.

4. And I sent unto you always all my servants the prophets, saying, Do not such abominations as I hate.

5. But they hearkened not, neither inclined their ears from their wickedness, that they should repent, and not burn incense unto other gods.

6. Therefore also mine anger and my fury came on and burned upon the cities of Judah, and upon the streets of Jerusalem, and they became desolate and waste, as it is this day.

7. Now therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel; Why do ye this great evil against your own lives, that both man and woman, both child and suckling, should be cut off from among you out of Judah, and that nothing should remain of you?

8. That ye should provoke me to anger with your hands, and burn incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye went to lodge, that ye might be cut off, and become a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?

9. Have ye forgotten the calamities of your fathers, the calamities of the kings of Judah, the calamities of their wives, and your own calamities, and the calamities of your wives, which ye have met with in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?

10. Nor are they humbled unto this day, neither do they fear, nor walk in my law and my statutes, which I set before you and before your fathers.

11. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will set my face against you to destruction, and all Judah shall be cut off.

12. And I will take the remnant of Judah, which have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt, and they shall lodge there: and there shall be an end of them all in the land of Egypt. By the sword shall they fall, and by the famine shall they perish, both small and great: they shall die by the sword and by the famine; and they shall be sworn, and wrought a miracle, and cursed, and put to death.

Disgrace.

13. I will also afflict the inhabitants of the land of Egypt with the sword, with famine, and with pestilence, as I did Jerusalem,

14. That none of the remnant of Judah should escape, nor remain, who came hither to the land of Egypt to lodge, that they might return into the land of Judah, whither they would return and dwell: but there should no man return thither, except they flee hence.

15. And all the men that knew that their wives burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that were with a great multitude, and all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, and in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, and said:

16. According to the word which thou sayest unto us in the name of the LORD, we will not obey thee,

17. But we will do according to all the word that proceedeth out of our mouth, and we will burn incense unto Melecheth of heaven, and offer drink offerings unto her, as we have done, and as our fathers, and our kings, and our princes, have done in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem. And we had bread enough, and we prospered, and saw no evil.

18. But since that time we have ceased to burn incense to Melecheth of heaven, and to offer drink offerings, we have suffered all want, and have perished by the sword and by the famine.

19. Even when we burn incense unto Melecheth of heaven, and offer drink offerings, we do not do it without our husbands' will, that we should burn their cakes, and offer drink offerings, to afflict them.

20. Then said Jeremiah unto all the people, both men and women, and to all the people that answered him so:

21. For I think that the LORD remembered the incense which ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, with your fathers, kings, and princes, and all the people of the land, and took it to heart,

22. That he could no more endure your wickedness and your abominations which ye did: therefore also your land is become a desolation, and a wonder, and a curse, that no man dwelleth therein, as it is this day.

23. Because ye have burned incense, and sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, and have not walked in his law, and in his statutes, and in his judgments, and in his testimonies, therefore this evil hath befallen you, as it is this day.

24. And Jeremiah spake unto all the people, and unto all the women: Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah that are in the land of Egypt.

25. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Ye and your wives have spoken with your mouth, and wrought with your hands, saying, We will keep our vows, which we have vowed to Melecheth of heaven, to burn incense unto her, and to offer drink offerings unto her. Well then, you have fulfilled your vows and kept your vows.

26. Hear therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt.

Behold, I swear by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be called by the mouth of any man out of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, As the LORD LORD liveth.

27. Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and for no good: and whosoever is of Judah in the land of Egypt shall perish by the sword, and by the famine, until there be an end of them.

28. But they that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah with a small company. And all the remnant of Judah that went into the land of Egypt to lodge there shall know whose word is true, mine or theirs.

29. And for a sign, saith the LORD, that I will visit you in this place, that ye may know that my word shall come to pass upon you to mischief,

30. Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will deliver Pharaoh Haphra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and of them that are after his life; as I delivered Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that was after his life.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 45

Baruch is comforted by Jeremiah.

1. This is the word which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he wrote this saying in a book out of the mouth of Jeremiah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying:

2. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning thee, Baruch:

3. Thou sayest, Woe is me! How hath the LORD afflicted me with my sorrows: I groan, and find no rest.

4. Say therefore unto him, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, that which I have built I will break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even all this land of mine own.

5. And thou covetest great things for thyself. Desire them not. For, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD; but thy soul will I give thee for a prey, whither thou goest.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 46

Egypt is to be taken and destroyed, the Jews delivered from captivity.

1. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Jeremiah the prophet against all nations.

2. Against Egypt. Against the army of Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, which was at the river Phrath, at Carchemish, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah:

3. Arm your shields and tartars, and go forth to battle.

4. Harness horses and mount horsemen. Put on your helmets, sharpen your spears, and put on your armor.

5. And how is it that I see them desponding, and giving flight, and their mighty men slain? They flee, and look not about. They are afraid for ever, saith the LORD.

6. The swift shall not escape, nor the strong escape. Towards midnight at the waters of Phrath they fell and were laid low.

7. Where then is he that went up like a river, and his waves rose up like the waters?

8. Egypt went up like a river, and the waves thereof rose up like waters, and said: I will go up, and cover the land, and destroy the city, and them that dwell therein.

9. Now therefore, mount up the horses, run with the chariots, let the heroes go forth, the Moors, and from Put, that bear the shield, and the archers from Lydia.

10. For this is the day of the LORD of hosts, a day of vengeance, to avenge himself on his enemies, when the sword shall devour, and be filled with their blood, and be drunken. For they shall be a sacrifice unto the LORD of hosts in the land northward, by the river Phrath.

11. Go up to Gilead, and fetch ointment, O virgin, daughter of Egypt. But it is vain for thee to make much ointment: thou shalt not be healed.

12. Thy reproach is heard among the heathen, thy howling is full in the land: for one hero falleth over another, and both are fallen down together.

13. This is the word of the LORD, which he spake unto Jeremiah the prophet, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon was come to smite the land of Egypt: 14. Declare ye in Egypt, and tell Migdal; tell Noph and Thachpanhes, saying, Stand thou in the way: for the sword shall devour that is round about thee.

15. How is it that thy mighty ones fall to the ground, and may not stand? The LORD hath brought them down.

16. He maketh many of them to fall, one with another. Then they said: Come, let us return to our people, to our own land, from the sword of the tyrant.

17. And there they cried after them, saying, Pharaoh king of Egypt lieth down; he hath left his tent.

18. As surely as I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, he shall go up as high as mount Tabor among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea.

19. Take thy wayfaring, thou inhabitant, daughter of Egypt: for Noph shall be desolate and burned, and none shall dwell therein.

20. Egypt is a very fair calf: but the slayer cometh from the north.

21. And the hirelings also that dwell within are as fatted calves: but yet they must turn, and flee away together, and shall not stand: for the day of their calamity shall come upon them, even the time of their visitation.

22. They go forth with a clash of armour, and come with strength, and bring axes upon them like hewers of wood.

23. These shall so smite in their forest, saith the LORD, that they shall not be numbered: for there are no more of them than of locusts, which no man can number.

24. The daughter of Egypt standeth with shame: for she is given into the hands of the people of the north.

25. The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith, Behold, I will punish the ruler of Noah, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, and her gods, and her kings, and Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him, 26. And I will deliver them into the hand of them that are after their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants. And afterward thou shalt be inhabited as of old, saith the LORD.

27. But thou, my servant Jacob, fear not; and thou, Israel, despair not. For, behold, I will save thee out of far countries, and thy seed out of the land of his prison; and Jacob shall return, and be in peace, and have abundance; and none shall affright him.

28. Therefore fear not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD; for I am with thee. I will make an end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make an end of thee, but I will chasten thee with measures, that I may not leave thee unpunished.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 47

Prophecy against the Philistines, Tyre and Zidon.

1. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Jeremiah the prophet against the Philistines, before Pharaoh smote Gaza.

2. Thus saith the LORD; Behold, the waters come up from the north, which shall make a flood, and shall take away the land, and all that is therein, both the cities, and they that dwell therein; and the people shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3. For the tumult of their mighty horses that run, and for the rattling of their chariots, and the rumbling of their wheels, that the fathers shall not look for the children, because they shall be afraid.

4. Before the day that cometh to destroy all the Philistines, and to deliver up Tyre and Zidon, and all their helpers: For the LORD will destroy the Philistines, which are the remnant of the isle of Caphtor.

5. Gaza shall be bald, and Ascalon and the remnant thereof shall be destroyed in their foundations. How long wilt thou cut thyself?

6. O sword of the LORD, when wilt thou cease? Enter thou into thy sheath, and rest, and be still.

7. But how canst thou cease, because the LORD hath commanded thee against Ascalon, and hath appointed thee against the fords of the sea?

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 48

Prophecy against Moab.

1. Against Moab Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Woe unto the city of Nebo; for it is destroyed, and is in ruins! Kiriathaim is taken; the stronghold standeth in ruins, and is broken down.

2. The defiance of Moab, which they had against Heshbon, is ended: for evil is thought against them, saying, Come, and let us cut them off, that they be no more a nation. And thou, O

Madmen, shalt be destroyed: the sword shall come behind thee,

3. A cry is heard in Horonaim of distress and great lamentation.

4. Moab is smitten: they hear their young ones crying.

5. For they go up the way to Luhith with weeping, and the enemies hear a wailing cry down the way from Horonaim,
6. Namely, Lift up yourselves, and save your lives. But thou shalt be as the heathen in the wilderness.
7. Because thou trustest in thy buildings, and in thy treasures, thou shalt be won: and Kamos shall go forth captive, with his priests and his princes.
8. For the destroyer shall come upon all cities, and not one city shall escape. Both the foundations shall be spoiled, and the plains shall be destroyed: for the LORD hath spoken it.
9. Give Moab feathers. He shall go out as if he flew: and their cities shall be desolate, and none shall dwell therein.
10. Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD unadvisedly. Cursed be he that stoppeth his sword, lest it shed blood!
11. Moab hath been safe from his youth, and hath lain still upon his heels, and hath never poured out of one barrel into another, neither hath he gone into prison: therefore his savour hath remained unto him, and his smell hath not been changed.
12. Therefore, behold, saith the LORD, the time cometh, that I will send unto them roasting vessels, and will empty their barrels, and break their nails.
13. And Moab shall be ashamed of Kamos, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel, whereon they trusted.
14. How may ye say, We are the mighty men of valour, and the mighty men of war?
15. But if Moab be destroyed, and her cities be taken, and her best men go down to the slaughter, saith the king, whose name is the LORD of hosts.
16. For the calamity of Moab shall come quickly, and her calamity shall haste greatly.
17. Dearly beloved, have pity on them, ye that dwell about them, and know their name, and say, How is the strong rod and the glorious staff so broken?
18. Come down from glory, thou daughter that dwellest in Dibon, and sittest in drought. For the destroyer of Moab shall come up unto thee, and shall break down thy strongholds.

19. Stand ye in the street, and look, thou inhabitant of Aroer; ask them that flee and escape, and say, How is it?

20. Alas, Moab is desolate and ruined; howl and cry! Declare it unto Arnon, that Moab is desolate.

21. The punishment is gone over the plain land, namely, Holon, Jahaz, Mephaath, 22. Dibon, Nebo, Beth-diblathaim,

23. kiriathaim, beth-gamul, beth-meon,

24. Kirioth, and Bazrah, and over all the cities of the land of Moab, they are far off, or near.

25. The horn of Moab is cut off, and her arm is broken, saith the LORD.

26. Make her drunken (for she hath exalted herself against the LORD), that she may spit, and wring her hands, that she also may be a laughing-stock.

27. For Israel hath been thy mockery, as if he were found among thieves: and because thou speakest these things against them, thou shalt be put away.

28. O ye inhabitants of Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rocks, and be as the doves that nest in the holes.

29. It hath always been said of proud Moab, that he is very proud, haughty, haughty, defiant, and overconfident.

30. But the LORD saith, I know well his wrath, that he is not able to do so much; and he presumeth to do more than his ability.

31. Therefore I must howl over Moab, and cry over all Moab, and lament over the people of Kir-heres.

32. I weep over thee, O Jaeser, thou vine of Sibmah: for thy branches are gone over the sea, and are come unto the sea of Jaeser. The destroyer is fallen into thy harvest and thy vintage.

33. Joy and gladness are gone out of the field, and out of the land of Moab: they shall press no more wine; the treaders of the vine shall sing no more their song.

34. From the cry of Heshbon unto Eleale, which soundeth unto Jahaz, from Zoar the three year old heifer unto Horonaim: for the waters of Nimrim are dried up.

35. And I will, saith the LORD, make an end of it in Moab, that they shall no more sacrifice in the high places, nor burn incense unto their gods.

36. Therefore my heart murmureth over Moab like a trumpet, and over the men of Kir-heres my lord murmureth like a trumpet: for they have overpowered it, therefore they must go down.

37. All heads shall be bald, and all beards shaven, and all hands rent, and every man shall put on sackcloth.

38. On every housetop, and in every street, and in every part of Moab, shall there be mourning: for I have broken Moab as a vessel that is not worthy, saith the LORD.

39. O how is it corrupt, how they howl! How shamefully they hang their heads! And Moab is a mockery and a terror to all that dwell about her, 40. For thus saith the LORD; Behold, he fleeth as an eagle, and spreadeth his wings over Moab.

41. Kiriath is taken, and the strong cities are taken; and the heart of the mighty men of Moab shall be in that day as the heart of a woman in childbearing.

42. For Moab must be destroyed, that they be no more a nation, because they have exalted themselves against the LORD.

43. Fear, and a pit, and a snare, shall come upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD, 44. He that fleeth from fear shall fall into the pit, and he that cometh out of the pit shall be taken in a snare: for I will bring upon Moab a year of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45. And they that escape out of the battle shall take refuge in Heshbon: but there shall be a fire out of Heshbon, and a flame out of Sihon, which shall devour the places of Moab, and the valiant men.

46. Woe unto thee, Moab! The people of Kamos are lost: for they have taken thy sons and thy daughters, and carried them away captives.

47. But in the time to come I will turn the prison of Moab, saith the LORD. Let this be said of the punishment of Moab.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 49

Prophecy against some other nations, neighbors of the Jews.

1. Thus saith the LORD against the children of Ammon, Hath not Israel children, or hath he no heir? Why then hath Malchom the land of Gad, and his people dwell in those cities?

2. Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a noise of war against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and she shall lie desolate in a heap, and her daughters shall be set on fire. And Israel shall possess them that were possessed of them, saith the LORD.

3. Howl, O Heshbon; for Ai is a reprobate. Cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, and put on sackcloth; lament, and run about upon the walls. For Malchom is carried away captive, with his priests and his princes.

4. What bravest thou upon thy pastures? Thy pastures are wasted, thou disobedient daughter, which trustest in thy treasures, and sayest in thine heart, Who may make himself to me?

5. Behold, saith the LORD of hosts, I will bring fear upon thee of all that dwell round about thee, that every man may be cast out of his way before him, and there shall be none to gather the fugitives.

6. But afterward I will turn again the prison of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.

7. Against Edom. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Is there no more wisdom in Theman? Is there no more counsel in the wise? Is their wisdom so loose?

8. Flee, turn ye, and hide yourselves deep, ye citizens of Dedan: for I will bring an evil upon Esau, the time of his visitation.

9. Vine-gatherers shall come upon thee, which shall not let thee glean: and thieves by night shall come upon thee, which shall spoil them enough.

10. For I have made Esau bare, and have opened his secret places, that he cannot hide himself: his seed, and his brethren, and his neighbours, are cut off; there is none left of them.

11. But whatsoever remaineth of thy fatherless, to them will I give life; and thy widows shall hope in me.

12. For thus saith the LORD; Behold, they that were not guilty of drinking the cup must drink, and thou shalt go unpunished? Thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt drink also.

13. For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that Bazrah shall be a wonder, and a reproach, and a desolation, and a curse, and all her cities a desolation for ever.

14. I have heard of the LORD, that a message is sent unto the Gentiles, saying, Gather yourselves together, and come against them; arise to the battle.

15. For, behold, I have made thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16. Thine indignation and the pride of thine heart have deceived thee, because thou dwellest in the clefts of the rock, and hast high mountains in thine heart. Though thou make thy nest as high as the eagle, yet will I bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17. And Edom shall be desolate: and all they that pass by shall marvel and whistle at all their plagues,

18. As Sodom and Gomorrha are turned back, and their neighbours with them, saith the LORD, Let no man dwell there, neither let any man dwell therein.

19. For, behold, he cometh up as a lion from the proud Jordan against the strong hold: for there will I make him to run in haste. And who knoweth who the young man is, whom I will prepare against them? For who is like unto me? Who will master me, and who is the shepherd that can withstand me?

20. Hear therefore the counsel of the LORD which he hath concerning Edom, and his thoughts which he hath concerning the inhabitants of Theman. What matter if the shepherds drag them, and destroy their habitation?

21. That the earth shall tremble when it falls one upon another; and their cry shall be heard in the Red sea.

22. Behold, he shall soar like an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Bazrah. In that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in childbearing.

23. Against Damascus. Hemath and Arpad stand miserable; they are despondent, for they hear an evil cry; they that dwell by the sea are so terrified that they cannot have rest.

24. Damascus is despondent, and giveth flight; she fidgeteth, and is in anguish and pain, as a woman in childbearing.

25. How, is it not now deserted, the famous and joyful city?

26. Therefore their young men shall lie down in their streets, and all their men of war shall perish in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.

27. And I will set on fire the walls of Damascus, and it shall devour the palaces of Benhadad.

28. Against Kedar, and against the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon smote. Thus saith the LORD; Go up to Kedar, and destroy the children to morrow.

29. They shall take away their tents, and their flocks; their tents, and all their vessels, and their camels, shall they carry away: and they shall cry terribly upon them round about.

30. Flee, get thee quickly out of this place. Hide yourselves deep, ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD: for Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon hath a purpose against you, and meaneth you.

31. Come ye up against a people that have plenty, and dwell safely, saith the LORD: they have neither door nor latch, and dwell alone.

32. And their camels shall be spoiled, and the multitude of their cattle shall be taken; and I will scatter them to the winds that dwell in the corners; and from every place will I cause their calamity to come upon them, saith the LORD,

33. And Hazor shall be a dragon's habitation, and an everlasting desolation, and none shall dwell there, neither shall any man dwell therein.

34. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Jeremiah the prophet against Elam in the beginning of the kingdom of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying:

35. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, their chief power.

36. And I will cause the four winds to come upon them out of the four places of heaven, and will scatter them in all the same winds: and there shall not be a nation whither there shall not come exiles out of Elam.

37. And I will make Elam despondent before their enemies, and before them that seek their life, and will bring evil upon them with my fierce anger, saith the LORD; and I will send the sword after them, until I have consumed them.

38. And I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy both the king and the princes there, saith the LORD.

39. But in time to come I will turn again the prison of Elam, saith the LORD.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 50

Destruction of Babylon. Redemption of the Jewish people.

1. This is the word which the LORD spake by Jeremiah the prophet against Babylon, and against the land of the Chaldeans:

2. Proclaim among the heathen, and let it be heard; lift up a banner. Let it be heard, and hide it not, saying, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken, her idols are confounded, and her gods are broken.

3. For a people shall come up against them from the north, and shall make their land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: and they shall flee away, both men and cattle.

4. In those days and at that time, saith the LORD, shall the children of Israel come with the children of Judah, weeping, and seeking the LORD their God.

5. They shall seek the way to Zion, and there shall they turn: Come, and let us join ourselves to the LORD with an everlasting covenant, which shall never be forgotten.

6. For my people are as a lost flock: their shepherds have deceived them, and caused them to go astray upon the mountains, and they have gone from mountains to hills, and have forgotten their obstacles.

7. All that they met with they devoured: and their enemies said: We do not wrong, because they have sinned against the LORD in the tabernacle of righteousness, and against the LORD, which is the hope of their fathers.

8. Flee from Babylon, and go out of the land of the Chaldeans, and stand as goats before the flock.

9. For, behold, I will raise up great nations with multitudes out of the land toward the north, and will bring them up against Babylon, and they shall arm themselves against them, and they shall prevail against them: his arrows are as the arrows of a good warrior that faileth not.

10. And the land of the Chaldeans shall be a spoil; and all they that spoil it shall have enough of it, saith the LORD,

11. Therefore rejoice ye, and boast that ye have plundered my inheritance, and leech like the horny calves, and neigh like the strong horses.

12. Your mother standeth with great shame, and she that bare you is a mockery: behold, she is the least among the heathen, desolate, barren, and waste.

13. For before the wrath of the LORD it shall be uninhabited, and utterly desolate: and all that pass over before Babylon shall marvel and whistle at all the plague thereof.

14. Set yourselves about against Babylon, all ye archers; shoot into her, spare not the arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD.

15. Rejoice over her round about; she shall give herself up: her foundations are fallen, her walls are broken down: for this is the LORD'S vengeance. Take vengeance upon her; do unto her as she hath done.

16. Cut off from Babylon both the sower and the reaper of the harvest, that they may turn every man to his own people before the sword of the tyrant, and that they may flee every man to his own land.

17. Israel hath been a scattered flock, which the lions have driven away. First the king of Assyria devoured them, and afterward Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon overcame them.

18. Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; Behold, I will visit the king of Babylon, and his land, as I visited the king of Assyria.

19. And I will bring Israel again unto his habitation, and they shall feed in Carmel and Bashan, and their soul shall be satisfied in mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20. In that day and time shall the iniquity of Israel be sought, saith the LORD, but there shall be none: and the sin of Judah, but there shall be none found: for I will forgive them of them that remain.

21. Send up against the land that hath made all things bitter; send up against the inhabitants of the visitation; devastate and banish their seed, saith the LORD, and do all that I have commanded thee.

22. There is a cry of war in the land, and great lamentation.

23. How is it that the hammer of the whole world is broken and shattered? How is it that Babylon is become a desolation among all the nations?

24. I have delivered thee, O Babylon; therefore thou art taken before thou knowest: thou art smitten and taken, because thou hast trespassed against the LORD.

25. The LORD hath opened his treasure, and brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the LORD of hosts hath shewed it in the land of the Chaldeans.

26. Come up against her, ye of the end, open her granaries, cast them into a heap, and banish her, that nothing be left unto her.

27. Slay all their oxen, bring them down to the slaughter. Woe unto them! For the day is come, the time of their visitation.

28. The cry of the fugitives, and of them that escape out of the land of Babylon, is heard, that they may declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, and the vengeance of his temple.

29. Call many against Babylon, besiege her round about, all the archers, and let none escape: repay her according to her deserts; as she hath done, so do ye again. For she has acted proudly against the LORD, the Holy One of Israel,

30. Therefore their young men shall fall in their streets, and all their men of war shall perish in that day, saith the LORD:

31. Behold, thou proud one, I will be with thee, saith the LORD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time of thy visitation.

32. And the proud man shall fall, and fall down, and no man shall lift him up: and I will set his cities on fire, and it shall devour all that is round about him.

33. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, the children of Israel, and the children of Judah, suffer violence and wrong: all that carried them away captive hold them, and will not let them go.

34. But their Redeemer is strong, whose name is the LORD of hosts: he shall accomplish their cause, and shall make the land to shake, and the inhabitants of Babylon to tremble.

35. The sword shall come, saith the LORD, upon the Chaldeans, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon their princes, and upon their wise men.

36. The sword shall come upon their diviners, and they shall become fools. A sword shall come upon their mighty men, and they shall despair.

37. And the sword shall come upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the people that are therein, and they shall become women. The sword shall come upon their treasures, and they shall be spoiled.

38. Dryness shall come upon their waters, and they shall be dried up: for it is an idolatrous land, and they defy their abominable idols.

39. Therefore the great beasts and the fowls shall dwell therein, and the young ostriches: it shall never be inhabited, neither shall any man dwell therein for ever, 40. As God turned back Sodom and Gomorrah with their neighbours, saith the LORD, that no man dwelleth therein, neither dwelleth therein.

41. Behold, a people cometh from the north: many nations and many kings shall arise from the side of the land.
42. They have bows and shields, they are cruel and ruthless; their shout is like the roar of the sea; they ride upon horses, armed as men of war against thee, O daughter of Babylon.
43. When the king of Babylon heareth of their tidings, his fists shall fall out: he shall be as afraid as a woman in childbearing.
44. Behold, he cometh up as a lion from the proud Jordan against the strong holds: for there will I make him to run in haste. And who knoweth who the young man is, whom I will prepare against them? For who is like unto me? Who will master me, and who is the shepherd that can withstand me?
45. Hear therefore the counsel of the LORD, which he hath concerning Babylon, and the thoughts which he hath concerning the inhabitants of the land of the Chaldeans. What matter if the shepherds drag them, and destroy their habitation?
46. And the earth shall shake with the cry, and shall resound among the nations, when Babylon shall be won.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 51

The prophecy of the destruction of Babylon is repeated and confirmed.

1. Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will raise up a sharp wind against Babylon, and against her inhabitants, which have set themselves against me.
2. And I will send also whoremongers to Babylon, and they shall whoremonger them, and sweep out their land, which shall be round about them in the day of their calamity.
3. For their archers shall not shoot, and their armour shall not be able to defend themselves. Now therefore spare not her young men, banish all her host,
4. That the slain should lie there in the land of the Chaldeans, and the slain in their streets.
5. For Israel and Judah shall not be left widows of their God, the LORD of hosts. For that land hath borrowed heavily of the Holy One in Israel.
6. Flee from Babylon, that every man may save his soul, that ye perish not in their iniquity. For this is the time of the vengeance of the LORD, who is a revenger, and will pay them.

7. The golden cup of Babylon, which made all the world drunken, is in the hand of the LORD.

All the heathen have drunk of her wine: therefore have the heathen become great.

8. How suddenly is Babylon fallen and broken! Hail over her, and take ointment for her wounds, that she may be healed.

9. We heal Babylon, but she will not be healed. Let her therefore depart, and let us go every man to his own land. For her punishment reacheth unto heaven, And reacheth up to the clouds.

10. The LORD hath brought forth our righteousness. Come, let us tell in Zion the works of the LORD our God.

11. Now therefore polish ye the arrows, and prepare ye the shields. The LORD hath stirred up the courage of the kings of Media. For his thoughts are against Babylon, to destroy her: for this is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.

12. Now therefore set a watch upon the walls of Babylon; take ye the guard, set ye the watch, set ye the watch. For the LORD remembereth, and will do, what he hath spoken against the inhabitants of Babylon.

13. Thou that dwellest by great waters, and hast great treasures: thine end is come, and thy covetousness is ended.

14. The LORD of hosts hath sworn by his soul: I will fill thee with men, as with beetles, and they shall sing unto thee,

15. Who made the earth by his power, and prepared the world by his wisdom, and prepared the heavens in order.

16. When he thundereth, there is multitude of waters under heaven; he causeth the mists to come up from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings in the rain, and sendeth the wind out of secret places.

17. All men are fools in their art, and all goldsmiths are ashamed of their images: for their idols are deceitfulness, and have no life.

18. It is vain nothing, and deceitful work; they must perish when they are afflicted.

19. But he that is Jacob's treasure is not he; but he that maketh all things is he; and Israel is the rod of his inheritance. His name is called the LORD of hosts.

20. Thou art my hammer, my weapon of war: by thee have I broken in pieces the heathen, and destroyed the kingdoms.

21. I will break in pieces thy horses and thy horsemen; I will break in pieces thy chariots and thy horsemen;

22. I will break in pieces thy husbands and thy wives; I will break in pieces thy old men and thy young men; I will break in pieces thy young men and thy maidens; 23. I will break in pieces thy shepherds and thy flocks; I will break in pieces thy peasants and thy yoke; I will break in pieces thy princes and thy lords.

24. For I will recompense Babylon, and all the inhabitants of the Chaldeans, for all their wickedness which they have committed against Zion in your sight, saith the LORD.

25. Behold, I am against thee, thou evil mountain, which destroyest all the earth, saith the LORD; I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will roll thee down from the rock, and will make thee a burnt mountain,

26. That neither corner stone nor foundation stone may be taken out of thee, but thou shalt be an everlasting desolation, saith the LORD.

27. Throw up bands in the land, blow ye the trumpets among the nations, sanctify the heathen against them; call against them the kingdoms of Ararat, Meni, and Askenaz; appoint captains against them; bring up horses like fluttering beetles.

28. Sanctify the heathen against them, even the kings of Media, with all their princes and lords, and all the land of their dominion.

29. And the land shall shake, and be afraid: for the thoughts of the LORD will be fulfilled against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a desolation, wherein no man dwelleth.

30. The mighty men of Babylon shall not go forth into the field, but shall abide in the fortress.

Their strength is gone, and they are become women; their dwellings are set on fire, and their bars are broken.

31. Here and there one goeth out to meet another, and here and there one message meeteth another, to tell the king of Babylon that his city is won unto the end, 32. and the fords were taken, and the lakes were burned, and the men of war were dumb.

33. For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel; The daughter of Babylon is like a threshingfloor, when it is threshed: her harvest shall come in quickly.

34. Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon hath devoured me, and slain me; he hath made me an empty vessel; he hath swallowed me up like a dragon; he hath filled his belly with my baseness; he hath cast me out.

35. But now the iniquity of me is found upon Babylon, and my flesh, saith the inhabitant of Zion, and my blood upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, saith Jerusalem.

36. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I will accomplish thy cause, and avenge thee; I will dry up their sea, and make their fountains dry.

37. And Babylon shall become a heap of stones, and a dragon's habitation, and a wonder, and a whistle; that no man dwell therein.

38. They shall roar together as lions, and shout as young lions.

39. I will put them to the heat with their drinking, and will make them drunken, and they shall be merry, and sleep an everlasting sleep, from whence they shall never awake, saith the LORD.

40. I will bring them down as lambs to the slaughter, as rams with goats.

41. How is Seshach so won, and the famed in all the earth so taken! How has Babel become such a wonder among the nations!

42. A sea is gone over Babylon; and she is covered with the multitude of the same waves.

43. Their cities are become a wilderness, and a dry and desolate land, in the land where no man dwelleth within, and where no man walketh within.

44. For I have visited the Bel of Babylon, and have plucked out of his mouth that which he devoured: and the heathen shall run no more unto him: for the walls of Babylon also are broken down.

45. Go forth, my people, and save every man his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD.

46. Or else your heart shall wax faint, and be troubled for the cry that shall be heard in the land.

For there shall be a cry in one year, and after that in another year, a cry of violence in the land; and there shall be one prince against another.

47. Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will punish the idols of Babylon, and all their land shall be ashamed, and their slain shall lie within.

48. And the earth and all that is therein shall shout for joy over Babylon, because her destroyers are come from the north, saith the LORD.

49. And as Babylon hath killed the slain in Israel, so shall the slain be killed in Babylon throughout all the land.

50. Go ye therefore, ye that are escaped from the sword, and tarry not. Remember the LORD in a far country, and let Jerusalem be in your hearts.

51. We were put to shame, when we heard the reproach, and the shame covered our faces, when the strangers came upon the sanctuary of the house of the LORD.

22. Therefore, behold, the time cometh, saith the LORD, that I will visit their idols; and throughout all the land the deadly wounded shall groan.

53. And if Babylon ascend up to heaven, and establish her power on high, yet shall destroyers come upon her from me, saith the LORD.

54. There is a cry in Babylon, and a great lamentation in the land of the Chaldeans.

55. For the LORD hath destroyed Babylon; he hath destroyed her with a great cry and with a great tumult; her waves roar as the great waters.

56. For the destroyer is come upon Babylon; her mighty men are taken, her bows are broken: for the God of vengeance, the LORD, payeth them.

57. I will make their princes, and their wise men, and their lords, and their captains, and their valiant men, drunken; and they shall sleep an everlasting sleep, and shall never awake, saith the King, whose name is LORD of hosts.

58. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; The walls of great Babylon shall be broken down, and the high gates thereof shall be set on fire; and the labour of the nations shall be lost, and that which the nations have built with their labour shall be burnt up.

59. This is the word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah the son of Mahseah, when he went with Zedekiah king of Judah to Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. And Seraiah was a peaceable prince.

60. And Jeremiah wrote all the evil that should come upon Babylon in a book, even all these words that are written against Babylon,

61. And Jeremiah said unto Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, watch and read all these words.

62. And say, Lord, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that no man nor beast should dwell therein, but that it should be desolate for ever.

63. And when thou hast finished reading the book, bind a stone unto it, and cast it into the river.

64. And say, So shall Babylon be sunk, and shall not rise again from the evil that I will bring upon her, but shall perish. Thus far off hath Jeremiah spoken.

(Jeremiah)

Chapter 52

Destruction of the city of Jerusalem. Jehoiachin's exaltation.

1. Zedekiah was twenty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. His mother's name was Hamutal, a daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

2. And he did that which was evil in the sight of the LORD, as Jehoiakim had done.

3. For the anger of the LORD was upon Jerusalem and Judah, until he cast them out of his sight.

And Zedekiah fell away from the king of Babylon.

4. And in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth day of the tenth month, came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and all his host against Jerusalem, and besieged her, and made a fort round about.

5. And so the city remained besieged until the eleventh year of Zedekiah the king.

6. And on the ninth day of the fourth month the famine prevailed in the city, and the people of the land had no more to eat.

7. And they entered into the city, and all the men of war gave flight, and went out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, unto the king's garden. And the Chaldeans were round about the city.

8. And as they went by the way of the field, the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and took Zedekiah in the field near Jericho: and all his army was scattered from him.

9. And they took the king, and brought him up to the king of Babylon to Riblath, which is in the land of Hemath: and he pronounced judgment against him.

10. And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes, and slew all the princes of Judah in Riblath.

11. And he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with two chains: and the king of Babylon brought him to Babylon, and put him in prison, until he died.

12: And it came to pass on the tenth day of the fifth month, which is the nineteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, that Nebuzar-Adan the captain of the guard, which was always about the king of Babylon, came to Jerusalem.

13. And he burnt the house of the LORD, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem; all the great houses burnt he with fire.

14. And all the host of the Chaldeans that were with the captain of the guard brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.

15. And the poor people, and the rest of the people that were left in the city, and them that fell to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the craftsmen, did Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carry away captive.

16. And of the poor of the country Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left husbandmen and husbandmen.

17. And the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon.

18. And they took away the caldrons, and the shovels, and the knives, and the basons, and the ladles, and all the vessels of brass that were used in the service.

19. And the centurion took the vessels of gold and silver, and the censers, and the basons, and the censers, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the bowls,

20. The two pillars, and the one sea, and the twelve oxen of brass that stood for the stalls, which king Solomon had made for the house of the LORD. All these vessels of brass were exceeding great.

21. And the two pillars were every one eighteen cubits high, and a cord twelve cubits long reached round about it, and was four fingers thick, and hollow within.

22. And there stood upon every one a brass knob five cubits high; and the ripening and the pomegranates were upon every knob round about, all of brass: and one pillar was like unto another, and the pomegranates also.

23: There were ninety and six pomegranates: and there were an hundred of all the pomegranates in one bunch round about.

24. And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the priest of the first order, and Zephaniah the priest of the second order, and three doorkeepers.

25. And a chamberlain out of the city, which was set over the men of war, and seven men that should be about the king, which were found in the city, and Shopher the captain of the host, which was over the people of the land, and threescore men of the people of the land, which were found in the city.

26. And Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them unto the king of Babylon to Riblath.

27. And the king of Babylon smote them dead in Riblath, which is in the land of Hemath. So Judah was carried away out of his land.

28. These are the people which Nebuchadnezzar carried away, even in the seventh year three thousand and three hundred and twenty Jews,

29. And in the eighteenth year of Nebuchadnezzar, eight hundred thirty and two souls out of Jerusalem.

30. And in the twenty and third year of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away seven hundred forty and five souls out of Judah. All the souls were four thousand and six hundred.

31. And in the thirty and seventh year after that Jehoiachin king of Judah was carried away, in the five and twentieth day of the twelfth month, Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the year that he reigned, took up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him out of prison.

32. And he spake kindly unto him, and set his throne over the kings' throne that were with him at Babylon.

33. And he changed his prison garments for him, that he might eat before him all the days of his life.

34. And he was always given his entertainment by the king of Babylon, as he was commanded, all the days of his life, even unto the end of his days.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Lamentations of Jeremiah (Lamentations) ^

Chapter 1

The Jewish people's state of misery.

1. How desolate is that city, which was full of people! She is like a widow. She that was a princess among the nations, and a queen in the countries, is now a servant.
2. She weepeth at night, and tears run down her cheeks. There is none among all her friends to comfort her: all her neighbours despise her, and are become her enemies.
3. Judah is in bondage, and in hard service; she dwelleth among the heathen, and findeth no rest; all her persecutors hold her iniquitously.
4. The highways of Zion are desolate, because no man cometh to any feast; all her gates stand desolate; her priests groan, and her virgins look desolate, and she is afflicted.
5. Their adversaries are lifted up, their enemies prosper: for the LORD hath made them full of grief for their great sins; and their children are carried captive before the enemy.
6. All the glory is gone out of the daughter of Zion. Her princes are like the rams that find no pasture, and go dimly before the beater.
- 7: Jerusalem thinketh at this time how wretched and desolate she is, and how much good she hath had of old, because all her people lie low under the enemy, and no man helpeth her: her enemies see their pleasure in her, and mock at her sabbaths.
8. Jerusalem hath sinned; therefore she is as an unclean woman. All that honoured her spurned her, because they saw her shame: but she sighed, and returned.
9. Her filthiness is upon her hem. She would not have thought that this would be her last fate.
She is cast down too grievously, and hath no one to comfort her. O Lord, behold my affliction: for the enemy is very great.
10. The enemy hath laid his hand upon all her treasures: for she hath suffered the heathen to enter into her sanctuary, whereof thou commandedst that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11. All her people groan, and go for bread: they give their small things for meat, that they may refresh the soul. O Lord, behold, and see how vile I am become!

12. I say unto you all that pass by, Look ye, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is fallen upon me. For the LORD hath made me full of grief in the day of his fierce anger.

13. He hath sent a fire from on high into my legs, and hath made it to work; he hath put a net upon my feet, and hath turned me back; he hath made me a desolation, that I should mourn daily.

14. My grievous sins are awake by his punishment, and are heaped upon my neck, that all my strength is gone out of me. The LORD hath brought me to the point that I cannot arise.

15. The LORD hath trodden down all my mighty men that I had; he hath proclaimed a feast upon me, to destroy my young men. The LORD hath trampled the winepress of the virgin daughter of Judah.

16. Therefore I weep, and both mine eyes run with water, because the Comforter that should have refreshed my soul is far from me. My children are gone, for the enemy hath prevailed.

17. Zion stretcheth out her hands, and there is none to comfort her: for the LORD hath commanded his enemies round about Jacob, that Jerusalem should be as an unclean woman among them.

18. The LORD is righteous: for I have disobeyed his mouth. Hear, all ye nations, and see my grief. My virgins and my young men are gone into prison.

19. I called upon my friends, but they deceived me. My priests and my elders in the city are famished, for they go after bread, that they may feed their souls; 20. O Lord, behold, I am afraid, because it grieveth me in my belly. My heart walleth in my flesh: for I am greatly distressed. Outside the sword hath made me, and in the house death hath made me a widow.

21. It is heard that I groan, and have no comforter: all mine enemies hear my calamities, and rejoice: this doest thou. Let the day come, then, which thou hast proclaimed, that they may be like me.

22. Let all their wickedness come before thee, and judge them, as thou hast judged me for all mine iniquity: for my sighing is much, and my heart is grieved.

(Lamentations)

Chapter 2

Mourning song about the utter defeat of the daughter of Zion.

1. How hath the LORD poured out his wrath upon the daughter of Zion! He hath cast the glory of Israel from heaven to earth. He hath not remembered his footstool in the day of his wrath.

2. The LORD hath destroyed all the dwellings of Jacob without mercy: he hath broken down the strongholds of the daughter of Judah in his fury, and hath broken them down; he hath profaned both her kingdom and her princes.

3. He hath broken all the horn of Israel in his fierce anger; he hath drawn his right hand behind him when the enemy came, and hath kindled a fire in Jacob, and it hath consumed him round about;

4. He hath bent his bow like an enemy; he hath wielded his right hand like an adversary, and hath slain all that was pleasant to the sight, and hath poured out his fury like fire in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion.

5. The LORD is as an enemy: he hath destroyed Israel, he hath destroyed all their palaces, he hath destroyed their strongholds; he hath caused the daughter of Judah much mourning and sorrow;

6. He hath made his tent desolate like a garden, and hath made his tabernacle desolate. The LORD hath forgotten both the feast day and the sabbath in Zion, and in his fierce anger hath defiled both king and priest.

7. The LORD hath rejected his altar, and hath utterly destroyed his sanctuary; he hath delivered the walls of their palaces into the hand of the enemy; and they have cried out in the house of the LORD, as on a solemn day.

8. The LORD hath purposed to destroy the walls of the daughter of Zion: he hath drawn the rod over them, and hath not turned his hand from them, till he destroy them: the walls are pitiful, and the wall lieth desolate.

9. Their gates are deep in the earth: he hath broken their bars, and made them void. Their kings and their princes are among the heathen, because they cannot practice the law, and their prophets have no vision from the LORD.

10. The elders of the daughter of Zion lie on the earth, and are quiet; they cast dust upon their heads, and have put on sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang their heads to the ground.

11. I have almost wept my eyes out, and it grieveth me in my belly: my liver is poured out upon the earth for the mourning of the daughter of my people, because the babes and sucklings are fainting in the streets of the city,

12. Saying unto their mothers: Where is bread and wine? when they fainted in the streets of the city, as the fatally wounded, and gave up the ghost in the arms of their mothers.

13. O daughter of Jerusalem, to whom shall I liken thee, and for what shall I count thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? To whom shall I liken thee, that I may comfort thee? For thy hurt is great, as the sea; who can heal thee?

14. Thy prophets have preached unto thee evil and foolish visions, and have not revealed unto thee thine iniquity, that they might keep thee in prison; but have preached unto thee evil preaching, that they might preach thee abroad.

15. All that pass by clap their hands, and whistle at thee, and shake their heads at the daughter of Jerusalem: is this the city that was said to be the most beautiful, that all the land rejoiced in?

16. All thine enemies open their mouths against thee, and whistle at thee, and gnash their teeth, and say: We have destroyed them; this is the day of which we have desired; we have obtained it, we have seen it.

17. The LORD hath done that which he purposed; he hath fulfilled his word, which he commanded long before; he hath destroyed without mercy; he hath made glad the enemy against thee, and hath heard the horn of thine adversaries.

18. Her heart cried unto the LORD. O thou wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears flow down day and night like a brook; cease not also, and let not the apple of thine eye depart.

19. Arise in the night, and cry; pour out thine heart in the first watch against the LORD as water; lift up thy hands against him for the souls of thy young children, which faint for hunger in the front of every street.

20. Look, O LORD, and see whom thou hast so corrupted. Shall the women of her womb eat the fruit of her womb, and the youngest of her children by a span? Shall prophets and priests be slain in the sanctuary of the LORD?

21. Boys and old men lay in the streets of the earth: my virgins and my young men fell by the sword. Thou hast slain in the day of thy wrath: thou hast slain without mercy.

22. Thou hast called mine enemies round about, as on a solemn day; that none escaped, nor remained, in the day of the LORD'S wrath.

Those whom I have nourished and brought up, the enemy hath slain.
(Lamentations)

Chapter 3

Lament and Consolation.

1. I am a wretched man, which must see the rod of his fury.

2. He hath led me, and made me go into darkness, and not into light.

3. He hath turned his hand against me, and hath dealt otherwise with me for all things.

4. He hath made old my flesh and my skin, and hath bruised my bones.

5. He hath built me up, and compassed me about with gall and trouble.

6. He hath laid me in darkness, as the dead in the world.

7. He hath walled me up, that I cannot come out; he hath put me in hard bonds.

8. And though I cry and shout, he stoppeth mine ears at my prayer.

9. He hath walled up my way with pieces, and turned back my path.

10. He lay in wait for me like a bear, like a lion in secret.

11. He hath made me to lack the way. He hath cut me in pieces, and made me vile.

12. He hath bent his bow, and hath put me to the point of the arrow.

13. He shot from the quiver into my kidneys.

14. I am a mockery to all my people, and daily, their song.

15. He hath satiated me with bitterness, and made me drunken with wormwood.

16. He hath broken my teeth into small pieces. He rolled me in the ashes.

17. My soul is cast out of peace; I must forget the good.

18. And I said, My fortune is gone, and my hope is in the LORD.

19. Remember how I am so miserable and forsaken, soaked with wormwood and gall.

20. Thou shalt remember it, for my soul saith unto me.

21. I take that to heart, so I'm still hoping.
22. The goodness of the LORD is, that we are not finished: his mercy hath no end, 23. But it is new every morning, and thy faithfulness is great.
24. The LORD is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.
25. For the LORD is good to him that waiteth for him, and to the soul that seeketh him.
26. It is a precious thing to be patient, and to hope in the help of the LORD.
27. It is a precious thing for a man to bear the yoke in his youth, 28. That a forsaken man be patient when anything assails him,
29. and put his mouth in the dust, and wait for hope 30. And let him be smitten on the cheeks, and put upon him much reproach.
31. For the LORD doth not cast out for ever,
32. but he will have mercy again according to his great kindness; 33. Because he afflicteth not men with his heart, neither grieveth them, 34. As if he would tread all the captives of the earth under his feet.
35. And let a man's right be bent before the Most High.
36. And let a man's cause be perverted, as though the LORD saw it not.
37. Who then can say that these things are done without the commandment of the LORD?
38. And that neither evil nor good come out of the mouth of the Most High?
39. How then do men murmur in life? Let every man murmur against his sin.
40. And let us search and search our nature, and turn unto the LORD.
41. Let us lift up our hearts with our hands to God in heaven.
42. We have sinned and been disobedient. Therefore thou hast not spared, 43. But thou hast poured out wrath upon us, and persecuted us, and slain us without mercy.
44. thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that no prayer could pass through.
45. thou hast made us dung and filth among the nations.
46. All our enemies open their mouths against us.
47. We are pressed and afflicted with terror and fear.
48. Mine eyes run with rivers of water over the affliction of the daughter of my people.

49. My eyes flow, and cannot cease; for there is no cessation,
50. Until the LORD look down from heaven, and see therein.
51. my eye eats away my life for the daughter of my city.
22. Mine enemies have chased me as a bird without a cause.
Fifty-three. They killed my life in a pit and threw stones at me.
54. They have also poured water upon my head. Then said I, Now am I gone.
55. But I called upon thy name, O LORD, from beneath the pit;
56. And thou heardest my voice. Hide not thine ears from my groaning and my crying!
57. Draw nigh unto me when I call thee, and say, Fear not.
58. Lead, O Lord, the cause of my soul, and redeem my life!
29. O Lord, see how I am wronged, and help me to my right!
26. Thou seest all their vengeance, and all their thoughts against me.
11. O LORD, thou hearest their reproach, and all their thoughts concerning me, 62. The lips of mine adversaries, and their poems against me daily.
33. Behold, they go down, or they rise up, they sing of me a little song.
4. Reward them, O Lord, according to their deserts.
65. Let their hearts be troubled, and let them feel your curse!
66. Pursue them with fury, and destroy them under the heaven of the LORD!

(Lamentations)

Chapter 4

Lamentation over the affliction of the Jews.

1. How the gold is so darkened, and the fine gold is so ugly, and the stones of the sanctuary lie scattered in the front of every street!
2. The noble children of Zion, which are like unto gold, how are they now compared unto earthen pots, which a potter maketh!
3. The dragons give their breasts unto their young, and suckle them:
but the daughter of my people must be unmerciful, as an ostrich in the wilderness.
4. The infant's tongue cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children cry for bread, and there is none to break it for them.
5. They that ate the sweetest things before, now languish in the streets:
they that were brought up in silks before, now must lie in dung.

6. The iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the sin of Sodom, which was turned back suddenly, and there came no hand to it.

7. Their Nazarites were purer than snow, and clearer than milk; their form was redder than coral; their appearance was like sapphire.

8. But now their form is so dark with blackness, that they are not known in the streets: their skin hangeth upon their legs, and they are as thin as a log.

9. It happened unto them that were slain by the sword, that they died of hunger, that fainted, and were slain for want of the fruit of the field.

10. The most merciful women have cooked their own children, that they might eat in the affliction of the daughter of my people.

11. The LORD hath executed his fury, he hath poured out his fierce anger; he hath kindled a fire in Zion, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12. The kings of the earth believed it not, neither all the people of the world, that the adversary and the enemy should enter into the gates of Jerusalem.

13. And it was because of the sin of their prophets, and because of the iniquity of their priests, that they shed the blood of the righteous within.

14. They went to and fro in the streets like the blind, and were stained with blood, and could not touch their garments,

15. But called unto them: Depart, ye unclean; depart, depart; touch nothing. For they were afraid of them, and fled from them: so that it was said among the heathen also, They shall not tarry long there.

16. Wherefore the anger of the LORD hath scattered them, and will not look upon them any more, because they honoured not the priests, nor showed mercy unto the elders.

17. Yet our eyes gaped at the vain help, till they were wearied at once, as we waited for a people that after all could not help us.

18. We were chased, that we should not walk in our streets. Then came our end: our days are ended, and our end is come.

19. Our pursuers were swifter than the eagles of heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, and lay in wait for us in the wilderness.

20. The anointed of the LORD, which was our consolation, was taken captive, when they disturbed us, whom we comforted ourselves to live under his shadow among the heathen.

21. Yea, be glad and rejoice, O daughter of Edom, which dwellest in the land of Uz: for the cup shall come upon thee also, thou also shalt be drunken and blessed; 22. But thine iniquity is ended, O daughter of Zion; he will no more suffer thee to depart: but thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom, he will punish, and he will find out thy sins.

(Lamentations)

Chapter 5

Jeremiah's prayer for deliverance of the evil afflicted Jewish people.

1. Remember, O Lord, how we are: look and see our reproach.
2. Our inheritance is given to strangers, and our houses to foreigners.
3. We are orphans, and have no father: our mothers are as widows.
4. Our own water we must drink for money; our wood we must have brought for a price.
5. we are driven about by the neck, and though we are weary, yet they will not let us rest.
6. We have yielded ourselves unto Egypt and Assyria, that we may have bread to eat.
7. Our fathers have sinned, and are no more: and we must recompense their iniquity.
8. Servants rule over us, and there is none to deliver us out of their hand.
9. We must take our bread with the sword of our life before the sword in the wilderness.
10. our skin is burned as in a furnace from the abominable hunger.
11. They have weakened the women of Zion, and the virgins of the cities of Judah.
12. The princes are gone from them, and the persons of the ancients are not honoured.
13. The young men have borne millstones, and the lads have stumbled at the carrying of wood.
14. The old men sit no more under the gate, neither do the young men play with strings.
15. The joy of our heart is ended; our song is turned into lamentation.
16. The crown of our head is fallen off. O woe, that we have sinned so!
17. Therefore also our heart is grieved, and our eyes are darkened.
18. For the mountain of Zion's sake, because it lieth desolate, and the foxes run upon it.

19. But thou, O LORD, which abidest for ever, and thy throne for ever,
20. Why wilt thou so utterly forget ours, and so utterly forsake the length of us?

21. Bring us again, O LORD, that we may return unto thee: make our days as of old.

22. For thou hast rejected us, and art too wroth with us.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Ezekiel (Ezekiel) ^

Chapter 1

Face of the spread of Christ's kingdom through the preaching ministry.

1. In the thirtieth year, on the fifth day of the fourth month, when I was among the captives by the waters of Chebar, the heavens were opened, and God showed me visions.

2. This fifth day of the month was the fifth year since Jehoiachin king of Judah was carried away captive.

3. And the word of the LORD came unto Ezekiel the son of Busi the priest in the land of the Chaldeans, by the river Chebar; and there the hand of the LORD was upon him.

4. And I looked, and, behold, there came a rushing wind from the north, with a great cloud full of fire shining round about: and in the midst of the same fire there was as it were light.

5. And within was fashioned like four beasts, and among them one fashioned like a man.

6. And every one had four faces, and four wings.

7. And their legs were straight, but their feet were like round feet, and shone as bright brass.

8. And had men's hands under their wings in their four places: for they had all four their faces and their wings.

9. And the same wings were one upon another. And when they went, they were not to turn about, but whithersoever they went, they went straight before them.

10. Their faces on the right side of the fours were like unto a man and a lion: but on the left side of the fours their faces were like unto an ox and an eagle.

11. And their faces and their wings were parted above, and two wings were clasped together, and two wings covered their bodies.

12. Whither they went, they went straight before them: but they went whithersoever the wind blew, and could not turn when they went.

13. And the beasts were seen as coals of fire burning, and as torches going among the beasts.

And the fire gave forth a brightness, and out of the fire proceeded lightning.

14. And the beasts ran to and fro like lightning.

15. And when I saw the beasts, behold, a wheel stood upon the earth by the four beasts, and was as four wheels to look upon.

16. And the same wheels were like unto turquoise, and all four of them were one like unto another: and they were as one wheel in another to look upon.

17. And when they should go, they could go into all their four places, and could not turn when they went.

18. Their figs and their height were terrible; and their rims were full of eyes round about on all four wheels.

19. And when the beasts went, the wheels went also beside them: and when the beasts lifted themselves up from the earth, the wheels lifted themselves up also.

20. Whithersoever the wind went, they went also; and the wheels went up beside them: for there was a living wind in the wheels.

21. When they went, these also went; and when they kept, these also kept; and when they lifted themselves up from the earth, the wheels also lifted themselves up beside them: for there was a living wind in the wheels.

22. And above the beasts it was fashioned like the heaven, as a crystal, terrible, spread straight up above them,

23. And under heaven their wings were stretched out one against another, and every man's body was covered with two wings.

24. And I heard the wings as the great waters, and as the sound of the Almighty when they went, and as the tumult of an army. And when they were still, they let down their wings.

25. And when they sat still, and let down their wings, there was a thunder in heaven above them.

26. And above the heaven that was above them was fashioned like a sapphire, like a chair: and upon the same chair sat one fashioned like a man.

27. And I looked, and, behold, it was as the brightness of light; and within it was fashioned like fire round about. From the loins thereof above, and from the loins thereof beneath, I saw it shining like fire round about.

28. As the rainbow standeth in the clouds, when it rained, so it shined round about. This was the appearance of the glory of the Lord. And when I had seen it, I fell on my face, and heard one speak.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 2

Ezekiel's call to the prophetic office.

1. And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2. And when he spake thus unto me, I was refreshed, and stood upon my feet, and hearkened unto him that spake unto me.

3. And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee unto the children of Israel, to the apostate people, which have gone astray from me. They and their fathers have done evil against me unto this day.

4. But the children to whom I send thee have hard heads and hardened hearts. To them shalt thou say, Thus saith the Lord GOD.

5. They shall obey, or else they shall not obey. It is a disobedient house: nevertheless they shall know that there is a prophet among them.

6. And thou, son of man, shalt not fear them, nor be afraid of their words. There are thorns among thee, stubborn and prickly, and thou dwellest among scorpions: but thou shalt not be afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their faces, though they be a rebellious house, 7. But thou shalt tell them my word, and they shall obey, or else they shall not: for they are a rebellious people.

8. But thou, son of man, hear thou what I say unto thee, and be not disobedient, as the disobedient house is. Open your mouth and eat what I will give you.

9. And I looked, and, behold, there was a hand stretched out toward me, having a letter folded up.

10. This she spread out before me, and it was written within and without; and within it was written: Lamentation, and woe.

Ch. 3, v. 1. And he said unto me, Son of man, eat that which is before thee, even this letter, and go and preach unto the house of Israel.
2. And I opened my mouth, and he gave me the letter to eat.
3. And said unto me, Son of man, thou must eat this letter which I give thee into thy womb, and fill thy belly therewith. So I ate it, and it was in my mouth as sweet as honey.
4. And he said unto me, Son of man, go unto the house of Israel, and preach my word unto them.
5. For I send thee not unto a people that have a strange speech and an unknown language, but unto the house of Israel;
6. Not, indeed, to great nations, which have strange speech and unknown language, whose words thou canst not hear. Even if I sent thee to them, they would gladly hear thee.
7. But the house of Israel will not hear thee; for they themselves will not hear me: for all the house of Israel have hard faces, and hardened hearts.
8. Yet have I made thy face hard against their faces, and thy forehead against their foreheads.
9. Yea, I have made thy forehead as hard as a demon, harder than a rock. Therefore fear not, neither be dismayed at them, because they are a rebellious house.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 3

The prophet is led to Babel.

10. And he said unto me, Son of man, all my words which I say unto thee, lay hold on them with thine heart, and receive them in thine ears.
11. And go unto the captives of thy people, and preach unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; they will hear, or they will forbear.
12. And a wind lifted me up, and I heard behind me a sound as of a great earthquake: Blessed be the glory of the LORD in their place.
13. And there was a sound of the wings of the beasts kissing one another, and also the rattling of the wheels hard by them, and the sound of a great earthquake.
14. And the wind took me up, and led me away. And I went, and was sore afraid: but the hand of the LORD held me fast.

15. And I came to the captives that dwelt by the water of Chebar, where the almonds were in the month of Abib, and sat with them that sat there, and abode there among them seven days in sorrow.

16. And when the seven days were expired, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 17. Son of man, I have set thee a watchman over the house of Israel: thou shalt hear the word out of my mouth, and warn them from me.

18. If I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou warn him not, nor tell him, that the wicked may beware of his wickedness, that he may live: then the wicked shall die for his sin, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19. But if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wicked ways, he shall die for his sin: but thou hast saved thy soul.

20. And if a righteous man turn from his righteousness, and do evil, then will I cause him to run, and he shall die. For because thou hast not warned him, he shall die for his sin; and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be regarded: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21. But if thou warn the righteous, that he sin not, and he sin not, he shall live, because he hath been warned: and thou hast saved thy soul.

22. And there the hand of the LORD came upon me, and said unto me, Arise, and go forth into the field, and I will speak unto thee.

23. And I arose, and went out into the field; and, behold, the glory of the LORD was there, as I had seen it by the river Chebar. And I fell down on my face.

24. And I was refreshed, and stood upon my feet. And he spake unto me, and said unto me, Go, hide thyself in thine house.

25. And thou, son of man, behold, they shall put ropes upon thee, and bind thee therewith, that thou shalt not escape them.

26. And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, and thou shalt be ashamed, and shalt punish them no more: for it is a rebellious house.

27. And when I shall speak unto thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD. He that heareth, let him hear; and he that letteth, let him alone: for it is a rebellious house.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 4

Siege of the city of Jerusalem prefigured.

1. And thou, son of man, take a brick, and lay it before thee, and design thereon the city of Jerusalem.
2. And make a siege about it, and build a bulwark about it, and dig a debris about it, and make an army about it, and set goats round about it.
3. And take for thee an iron pan, and let it be an iron wall between thee and the city; and set thy face against it, and besiege it. This shall be a sign unto the house of Israel.
4. Thou shalt also lie upon thy left side, and put the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: as many days as thou shalt lie thereon, so long shalt thou bear their iniquity.
5. And I will make the years of their iniquity the number of days unto thee, even three hundred and ninety days: so long shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.
6. And it shall come to pass, when thou hast finished these things, that thou shalt lie on thy right side afterward, and bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: for I will give thee here also a day for a year.
7. And set thy face and thy bare arm against Jerusalem that is besieged, and prophesy against her.
8. And, behold, I will put ropes upon thee, that thou shalt not turn from side to side, till thou hast finished the days of thy siege.
9. Now therefore take thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentils, and millet, and spelt, and put them all in a barrel, and make thee as many loaves of them as thou shalt lie on thy side three hundred and ninety days to eat,
10. And thy meat, which thou shalt eat daily, shall be twenty shekels. And thou shalt eat it from time to time.
11. The water also thou shalt drink according to the measure, even the sixth part of the hin; and thou shalt drink it from time to time.
12. Barley cakes shalt thou eat, which thou shalt bake with manure before their eyes.
13. And the LORD said, So must the children of Israel eat their unclean bread among the heathen, whither I have driven them.
14. And I said, O Lord GOD, behold, my soul hath never been defiled: for from my youth even unto this time I have eaten no carcase, neither have I torn any flesh; neither hath any unclean flesh entered into my mouth.

15. And he said unto me, Behold, I will let thee have cow dung for man dung, that thou mayest make thy bread.

16. And he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will take away the store of bread from Jerusalem, that they may eat the bread by weight with sorrow, and drink the water by measure with sorrow,

17. Because there shall be a lack of bread and water, and they shall mourn one with another, and be consumed in their iniquity.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 5

Plagues proclaimed to the Jews.

1. And thou, son of man, take a sword sharp as a clipper's knife, and run it over thy head and beard; and take a pair of balances, and divide them therewith.

2. The one third part thou shalt burn with fire in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are expired; the other third part take, and smite it round about with the sword; the last third part scatter in the wind, that I may draw out the sword after them.

3. but take a little of it and tie it in your coat-tail.

4. And take again some of it, and cast it into a fire, and burn it with fire: and there shall be a fire of it upon all the house of Israel.

5. Thus saith the LORD GOD; This is Jerusalem, which I have set among the nations, and round about her lands.

6. But she hath turned my law into ungodly doctrine more than the heathen, and my statutes more than the countries that are round about her. For they reject my law, and will not walk after my statutes.

7. Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye do more than the heathen that are round about you, and do not walk in my statutes, nor do my judgments, but do after the manner of the heathen that are round about you,

8. Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will also remember thee, and will execute judgment upon thee, that the heathen may see.

9. And I will deal so with thee, as I never have done, nor will do henceforth, because of all thine abominations.

10. And in thee shall the fathers devour their children, and the children their fathers: and I will execute such judgment upon thee, that all thy remnant shall be scattered abroad.

11. Therefore, as surely as I live, saith the LORD GOD, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy abominations and thy idols, I will also smite thee: mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have mercy upon thee.

12. The third part of thee shall die of pestilence, and be consumed with famine; and the other third part of thee shall fall by the sword round about thee: and the last third part will I scatter abroad, and will draw out the sword after them.

13. So shall my wrath be accomplished, and my fury be turned upon them, to cool my courage: and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken in my zeal, when I have turned my fury upon them.

14. I will make thee a desolation and a reproach in the sight of the heathen that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.

15. And thou shalt be a reproach, and a scorn, and an example, and a wonder, unto all the heathen that are round about thee, when I execute judgment upon thee with wrath, and with fury, and with wrathful reproach, saith the LORD,

16. And when I shall shoot wicked arrows of hunger among them, which shall be hurtful, and I shall shoot them out to destroy you, and cause the hunger to increase upon you, and take away the supply of bread.

17. Yea, I will send famine and evil beasts among you, and they shall make you childless: and pestilence and flood shall pass among you, and I will bring the sword upon you. I the LORD have spoken it.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 6

Of desolation of the Jewish land.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, turn thy face against the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them.

3. And say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD GOD. Thus saith the LORD

GOD both to the mountains, and to the hills, both to the rivers, and to the valleys; Behold, I will bring a sword upon you, and will destroy your high places,

4. And your altars shall be laid waste, and your idols shall be broken: and I will cause your dead bodies to be slain before the images.

5. Yea, I will cut down the dead bodies of the children of Israel before your images, and will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6. Where ye dwell, the cities shall be desolate, and the high places shall be made waste. For they shall make your altars desolate and waste, and break your idols, and destroy them, and break your images, and destroy your graven images,

7. And they that are slain shall lie down among you, that ye may know that I am the LORD.

8. But I will leave some of you to escape the sword among the heathen, when I have scattered you abroad.

9. These your remnant shall then remember me among the heathen, when they shall be taken captive, when I have broken their Huring heart that departed from me, and their Huring eyes that looked after their idols: and they shall repent of the wickedness which they have committed by all their abominations.

10. And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not spoken in vain to do them this evil.

11. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Smite thy hands together, and stamp thy feet, and say, Woe unto all the abominations of wickedness that are in the house of Israel, because they fall by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence!

12. He that is far off shall die of the pestilence, and he that is near shall fall by the sword: but he that remaineth, and is kept from it, shall die of hunger. So will I perfect my wrath among them,

13. That ye may know that I am the LORD, when their slain shall lie under their idols round about their altars, upon every hill, and upon every mountain, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, wherein they offered sweet incense unto all manner of idols.

14. I will stretch out mine hand against them, and make the land desolate and waste, from the wilderness even unto Diblath, where they dwell: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 7

Prophecy of the fall of the kingdom of Judah.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, thus saith the LORD of the land of Israel, The end cometh, the end upon all the four places of the land.
3. Now the end is come upon thee: for I will send my wrath upon thee, and will judge thee according to thine own deserts, and will give thee according to all thine abominations.
4. Mine eye shall not spare thee, nor overlook thee: but I will give thee according to thy deserts, and thine abominations shall come among thee, that ye may know that I am the LORD.
5. Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, one calamity cometh upon another!
6. The end cometh, the end cometh, it is awakened upon thee; behold, it cometh!
7. It riseth up and breaketh upon thee, O inhabitant of the land: the time cometh, the day of mourning is at hand, when there shall be no singing in the mountains.
8. Now soon will I pour out my fury upon thee, and execute my wrath upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy deserts, and give thee according to all thine abominations.
9. Mine eye shall not pity thee, neither will I have mercy upon thee: but I will give thee according to thy due, and thine abominations shall come among thee, and ye shall know that I am the LORD that smiteth you.
10. Behold, the day, behold, it cometh, it breaketh forth! The rod flourisheth, and the proud is green.
11. The tyrant hath risen up a rod against the wicked, that none of them, nor of their people, nor of their multitude, shall have comfort.
12. Therefore the time cometh, the day draweth nigh. The buyer shall not rejoice, neither shall the seller mourn: for wrath cometh upon all their multitude.
13. Therefore the seller shall not seek again his goods that are sold: for he that liveth shall have them. For the prophecy of all their multitude shall not return: no man shall preserve his life for his iniquity.
14. Let them sound the trumpet, and prepare all things. No man shall go forth to war: for my wrath is upon all their multitude.

15. In the streets goeth the sword; in the houses goeth pestilence and famine. He that is in the field shall die by the sword: but he that is in the city shall be devoured with pestilence and famine.

16. And they that escape among them shall be in the mountains, and shall be as doves in the valley, all gyrating among themselves, every one for his iniquity.

17. Every hand shall sink, and every knee shall stand as the waters.

18. And they shall gird themselves with sackcloth, and be overwhelmed with fear; and every man's face shall be desolate, and every man's head shall be bald.

19. They shall cast their silver into the streets, and shall count their gold as filth: for their silver and their gold shall not save them in the day of the LORD'S wrath. Yet shall not their soul be satisfied with it, nor their belly filled with it: for it hath been a stumblingblock unto their iniquity.

20. They have made images of their abominations and abominations out of their precious jewels, that they might be proud: therefore will I make them filthy.

21. And I will give it into the hands of strangers, that they may spoil it; and to the wicked of the earth for a prey, that they may desecrate it.

22. I will turn my face from it, that they may profane my treasure: yea, robbers shall come upon it, and profane it.

23. Make chains; for the land is full of bloodshed, and the city full of iniquity.

24. Then will I send for the most wicked of the heathen, and they shall take their houses: and I will put an end to the proud, and desecrate their churches.

25. The destroyer cometh; and they shall seek peace, and shall not be there.

26. One accident shall come upon another, one rumour upon another. Then shall they seek a vision from the prophets: but there shall be no more law with the priests, nor counsel with the ancients.

27. The king shall be grieved, and the princes shall be arrayed in mourning, and the hands of the people of the land shall be despondent. I will deal with them as they have dealt, and will judge them as they have deserved, that they may know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 8

Idolatry a cause of future punishment.

1. And it came to pass in the sixth year, on the fifth day of the sixth month, that I sat in mine house, and the ancients of Judah sat before me: and there the hand of the LORD God fell upon me.
2. And, behold, I saw that from his loins downward was as it were fire; but above his loins was light.
3. And he reached out as it were a hand, and took me by the hair of my head. Then a wind led me between heaven and earth, and brought me to Jerusalem in a divine vision unto the inner gate that standeth toward the north, where an image sat in vexation to the master of the house.
4. And, behold, there was the glory of the God of Israel, as I had seen it before in the field.
5. And he said unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes toward the north. And when I lifted up mine eyes toward the north, behold, toward the north sat the fretful image at the gate of the altar, even as one goeth in.
6. And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou also what these do, which are great abominations, which the house of Israel doeth here, to drive me far from my sanctuary? But thou shalt see yet greater abominations.
7. And he brought me to the door of the court: and I looked, and, behold, there was a hole in the wall.
8. And he said unto me, Son of man, dig through the wall. And when I had digged through the wall, behold, there was a door.
9. And he said unto me, Go in, and see the wicked abominations which they do in all these places.
10. And when I was come in, and looked, behold, there were all manner of graven images, and all manner of beasts, and all manner of abominations, and all manner of idols of the house of Israel, made round about upon the wall,
11. Before whom stood seventy men of the elders of the house of Israel: and Jazaniah the son of Shaphan stood also among them; and every man had his incense in his hand. And there arose a thick mist from the incense.

12. And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou what the elders of the house of Israel do in darkness, every man in his goodliest chamber? For they say, The LORD seeth us not: but the LORD hath forsaken the land.

13. And he said unto me, Thou shalt see yet greater abominations that they do.

14. And he brought me in unto the gate of the LORD'S house, which is toward the north: and, behold, there sat women weeping over the Thamus.

15. And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou this? But thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16. And he brought me into the inner court of the house of the LORD: and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the hall and the altar, there were twenty and five men with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east, praying toward the rising of the sun.

17. And he said unto me, Son of man, seest thou this? Is it not enough for the house of Judah, that they all do such abominations here? for they do violence and wrong throughout all the land, and go about and provoke me also: and, behold, they hold the vines to their noses.

18. Therefore will I deal fiercely with them, and mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I be gracious unto them. Though they cry with a loud voice in mine ears, yet will I not hear them.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 9

Punishment of the idolatrous.

1. And he cried with a loud voice in mine ears, saying, Let the visitation of the city come near, and let every man have a murderous weapon in his hand.

2. And, behold, there came six men by the way from the upper gate, which is toward the north, every one having a pestilent weapon in his hand. But there was one of them that had on linen, and a writing instrument by his side. So they went in and stood beside the bronze altar.

3. And the glory of the God of Israel rose up from the cherub that was over it unto the threshold of the house, and called unto him that had the linen on, and the writing by his side.

4. And the LORD said unto him, Pass through the city of Jerusalem, and mark with a sign in the foreheads the men that sigh and lament for all the abominations that are done therein.

5. And he said unto them, that I might hear it, Go after this man through the city, and smite thee: let not thine eyes spare nor overlook.

6. Slay both old men, and young men, and virgins, and children, and women, all dead: but them that have the mark upon them touch none of them. But begin at my sanctuary! And they began at the old men that were before the house.

7. And he said unto them: Defile the house, and make the courts full of dead bodies; come out.

And they went out, and smote in the city.

8. And when they had struck out, I was left. And I fell on my face, and cried, saying, O Lord GOD, wilt thou destroy all the remnant of Israel, and pour out thy wrath upon Jerusalem?

9. And he said unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and of Judah is too great: there is violence in the land, and iniquity in the city. For they say: The LORD hath forsaken the land, and the LORD looketh not upon us.

10. Therefore also mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have mercy, but I will cast their doings upon their heads.

11. And, behold, the man that had the linen on, and the writing by his side, answered and said: I have done as thou hast commanded me.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 10

Face of burning coals and the glory of the Lord.

1. And I looked, and, behold, in heaven above the head of the cherubims it was fashioned like a sapphire, and above them it was like the appearance of a throne.

2. And he said unto the man clothed in linen, Go in among the wheels under the cherub, and take the hands full of burning coals that are between the cherubims, and scatter them upon the city. And he went in, and I saw it, as he went in.

3. And the cherubims stood on the right hand of the house, and the court was filled with mist within.

4. And the glory of the LORD was lifted up from the cherub unto the threshold of the house: and the house was filled with mist, and the court with the glory of the LORD.

5. And the wings of the cherubims were heard to come out of the court, as the voice of the Almighty God, when he spake.

6. And when he had commanded the man clothed in linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels under the cherubims, the same went in, and stood by the wheel.

7. And the cherub put forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took of it, and put it into the hands of the man clothed in linen: and he received it, and went out.

8. And appeared unto the cherubims as the hand of a man under their wings.

9. And I looked, and, behold, there were four wheels upon the cherubims, and upon every cherub a wheel; and the wheels were as it were a turquoise in appearance.

10. And all four were one like unto another, as one wheel within another.

11. When they should go, they could go into all their four places, and could not turn when they went: but whither the first went, there they went after, and could not turn, 12. And all their bodies, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings. And the wheels were full of eyes round about upon all four wheels.

13. And he cried unto the wheels: Galgal, that I might hear.

14. Each had four faces. The first face was a cherub, the second a man, the third a lion, the fourth an eagle.

15. And the cherubims went up. It is the very beast that I saw by the waters of Chebar.

16. When the cherubims walked, the wheels also walked beside them: and when the cherubims swung their wings, so as to lift them up from the earth, neither did the wheels turn from them.

17. If those were slow, these also were slow: if they were exalted, these also were exalted: for there was a living wind in them.

18. And the glory of the LORD went out again from the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

19. And the cherubims lifted up their wings, and came up from the earth before mine eyes: and as they went out, the wheels went beside them. And they entered into the gate of the house of the LORD toward the east: and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

20. This is the beast that I saw among the God of Israel by the water of Chebar, and perceived that they were cherubims,

21. For every one had four faces, and four wings, and under the wings were as the hands of men.

22. Their faces were fashioned as I saw them by the waters of Chebar, and they went straight before them.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 11

Of the safety and punishment of princes.

1. And a wind took me up, and brought me to the gate of the house of the LORD, which is toward the east: and, behold, there were twenty and five men under the gate. And I saw among them Jazaniah the son of Assyria, and Platiah the son of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2. And he said unto me, Son of man, these men have evil thoughts and evil counsels in this city.

3. For they say: It is not so near, let us only build houses; she is the pot, so are we the flesh.

4. Therefore shalt thou, O son of man, prophesy against them.

5. And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Say, Thus saith the LORD, Ye have spoken thus, O house of Israel; and I know the thoughts of your mind.

6. Ye have slain many in this city, and the streets thereof are full of the dead.

7. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; They which ye have killed within are the flesh, and she is the pot: but ye must go forth.

8. The sword that ye fear, that will I bring upon you, saith the LORD GOD.

9. I will cast you out from thence, and will deliver you into the hand of strangers, and will do you justice.

10. Ye shall fall by the sword, and I will judge you within the borders of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

11. But the city shall not be your pot, neither ye the flesh that is therein: but within the borders of Israel will I judge you;

12. And ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither kept my judgments, but have done after the manner of the heathen that are round about you.

13. And it came to pass, as I prophesied, that Platiah the son of Benaiah died. And I fell on my face, and cried with a loud voice, saying, O Lord GOD, thou wilt make an end of the remnant of Israel.

14. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

15. Son of man, thy brethren, and thy near friends, and all the house of Israel that dwell at Jerusalem, speak well among themselves: they are fled from the LORD afar off, but we have the land.

16. Therefore say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Yea, I have driven them afar off among the heathen, and scattered them abroad: but I will soon be their saviour in the countries whither they are come.

17. Say therefore, Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will gather you out of the nations, and will gather you out of the countries whither ye are scattered, and will give you the land of Israel.

18. And they shall come and put away all the abominations and detestableness thereof.

19. And I will give you one heart of one accord, and put a new spirit within you: and I will take out of your body the heart of stone, and will give you a heart of flesh, 20. That they may walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them. And they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21. But unto them that walk after the abominations and the abominations of their heart will I cast their doings upon their heads, saith the LORD GOD.

22. Then the cherubims swung their wings, and the wheels went beside them, and the glory of the God of Israel was above them.

23. And the glory of the LORD arose out of the city, and stood upon the mountain that lieth on the east side before the city.

24. And a wind lifted me up, and brought me in the vision and spirit of God into Chaldea unto the captives. And the vision which I had seen vanished from before me.

25. And I told the prisoners all the words of the LORD, which he had shewed me.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 12

Model of the calamity to befall Zedekiah and his kinsmen.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, thou dwellest in a rebellious house, which hath eyes to see, and will not see; ears to hear, and will not hear: but it is a rebellious house.
3. Wherefore, thou son of man, take thy travelling device, and depart in the daylight from before their eyes. Thou shalt remove from thy place unto another place in their sight, though they may know that they are a rebellious house.
4. And thou shalt put forth thy utensils, as an itinerant utensil, in the daylight before them: and thou shalt go forth in the evening before them, as a man goeth forth to wander.
5. And thou shalt break through the wall before their eyes, and there thou shalt pass through.
6. And thou shalt take it upon thine shoulder before their eyes, and when it is dark thou shalt carry it forth: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the land. For I have set thee for a miraculous sign unto the house of Israel.
7. And I did as I was commanded, and brought forth my utensil, as an itinerant utensil, in the daylight; and in the evening I broke through the wall with my hand; and when it was dark, I took it upon my shoulder, and brought it forth before their eyes.
8. And the word of the LORD came unto me early in the morning, saying: 9. Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the disobedient house, said unto thee, What doest thou?
10. Say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; This burden is upon the prince of Jerusalem, and upon all the house of Israel that are therein.
11. Say, I am your miraculous sign: as I have done, so shall it be done unto you, that ye shall wander, and be led captive.
12. Their prince shall bear upon his shoulder in the darkness, and shall go out through the wall, and they shall break it, and go out through it: his face shall be covered, and he shall not see the land with his eye.
13. And I will cast my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my pursuit, and I will bring him to Babylon, to the land of the Chaldeans, which he shall not see; and there he shall die.

14. And all that are about him, and his assistants, and all his company, will I scatter to the winds, and will draw out the sword after them.

15. So shall they know that I am the LORD, when I cast them out among the heathen, and scatter them abroad.

16. But I will save a few of them from the sword, and from the famine, and from the pestilence: and they shall tell of those abominations among the heathen, whither they shall come; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

17. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

18. Son of man, thou shalt eat thy bread with trembling, and drink thy water with shaking and sorrow.

19. And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the LORD of the inhabitants of Jerusalem in the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread in sorrow, and drink their water in affliction: for the land shall be desolate of all that is therein, because of the iniquity of all the inhabitants thereof.

20. And the cities that are inhabited shall be desolate, and the land shall be waste. So shall ye know that I am the LORD.

21. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

22. Son of man, what is this proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, Because it hath been long consumed, now shall not the prophecy continue?

23. Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will put away the proverb, that it shall no more be used in Israel. And speak unto them: The time is at hand, and all that is prophesied.

24. For now therefore ye shall know that no vision shall fail, neither shall any prophecy lie against the house of Israel.

25. For I am the LORD: whatsoever I speak, that shall be done, and it shall no longer be delayed: but in your time, ye disobedient house, I will do that which I speak, saith the LORD GOD.

26. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

27. Son of man, behold, the house of Israel saith, The vision which this man seeth is yet for a long time, and foreknoweth the time that is yet afar off.

28. Say therefore unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; What I speak shall no longer be delayed, but shall be done, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 13

Description and punishment of false prophets.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel, and say unto them that prophesy of their own heart, Hear the word of the LORD.
3. Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe unto the foolish prophets, which follow their own spirit, and have not vision!
4. O Israel, thy prophets are as foxes in the deserts!
5. They stand not before the breaches, neither make themselves a stumblingblock for the house of Israel, neither stand in the battle in the day of the LORD.
6. Their countenance is nothing, and their prophesying is vain lying. They say: The LORD hath spoken it, when the LORD hath not sent them: and they labour to keep their things.
7. Is it not so, that your vision is nothing, and your prophesying lies? And say ye, The LORD hath spoken it, when I have not spoken it.
8. Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye preach that which is not made, and know lies, I will be with you, saith the Lord GOD.
9. And my hand shall come upon the prophets that preach that which is not made, and that prophesy lies. They shall not be in the congregation of my people, neither shall they be written in the number of the house of Israel, nor come into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the LORD GOD,
10. Because they deceive my people, saying, Peace; when there is no peace. The people build the wall, and whitewash it with lime.
11. Speak unto the whitewashers that whitewash with loose lime, that it shall fall away: for there shall come a downpour, and great hailstones shall fall, and a whirlwind shall break it.
12. Behold, the wall shall fall down. What matter, then shall they say unto you, Where is now the whitewash which ye have whitewashed?
13. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will send a whirlwind in my wrath, and a downpour in my anger, and great hailstones in my fury, and they shall overthrow it all.
14. So will I overthrow the wall which ye have whitewashed with loose lime, and will thrust it down to the ground, and the bottom thereof shall be seen to lie there: and ye shall perish within it also, and he shall go that I am the LORD, 15. So will I execute mine anger upon the wall, and upon them that whitewash it with lime, and say unto you, Here is neither wall nor whitewash.

16. These are the prophets of Israel, which prophesy unto Jerusalem, and preach peace, when there is no peace, saith the LORD GOD.

17. And, thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their hearts, and prophesy against them.

18. And say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Woe unto you, that put pillows for men's arms, and pills for their heads, to catch souls, both young and old! When ye have taken the souls of my people, promise ye them life.

19. And sanctify me among my people for a handful of barley and a morsel of bread, that ye should condemn to death those souls which ought not to die, and condemn to life those which ought not to live, by your lying among my people, which love to hear lies.

20. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will touch your pillows, that ye may faire and comfort souls; and I will pluck them out of your arms, and loose the souls which ye faire and comfort.

21. And I will rend your plagues, and deliver my people out of your hand, and ye shall go no more: and ye shall know that I am the LORD,

22. Because ye falsely grieve the heart of the righteous, whom I have not grieved; and have strengthened the hands of the wicked, that they turn not from their wickedness, that they may live.

23. Therefore preach ye no more vain doctrine, neither prophesy: but I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 14

Rejection of the despisers of divine word.

1. And there came unto me certain of the elders of Israel, and sat down before me.

2. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

3. Son of man, these men cleave with their hearts unto their idols, and hold the offence of their iniquity. Shall I then answer them when they ask me?

4. Speak therefore unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Whosoever of the house of Israel shall cleave with his heart unto his idols, and shall hold the offence of his iniquity, and shall come unto the prophet, I the LORD will answer him according to his great idolatry,

5. That the house of Israel might be deceived in their heart, because they have all departed from me through idolatry.

6. Therefore shalt thou say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Return, and turn away from your idolatry, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7. For whatsoever man of the house of Israel, or stranger that sojourneth in Israel, shall depart from me, and cleave unto his idols with his heart, and hold his idolatry in vexation, and come unto the prophet to enquire of me by him, I the LORD will answer him myself.

8. And I will set my face against them, and they shall be desolate, and become a sign and a proverb: and I will cut them off from among my people, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

9. But if a deceived prophet speak any thing, I the LORD will again cause him to be deceived, and will stretch out mine hand upon him, and cut him off from among my people Israel.

10. So shall they both bear their iniquity: as the iniquity of the questioner, so shall be the iniquity of the prophet,

11. That they deceive not the house of Israel from me, neither defile themselves any more in all their transgressions: but they shall be my people, and I will be their God, saith the LORD GOD.

12. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

13. Son of man, if a land sin against me, and spurn me, I will stretch out mine hand upon it, and will take away the store of bread, and will send a plague therein, and will destroy both man and beast within.

14. And if the three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they alone would save their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD.

15. And if I should bring evil beasts into the land, and they should cleanse the people, and make it desolate, that no man should walk therein before the beasts,

16. And these three men were in it: as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall save neither sons nor daughters, but themselves only; and the land shall be desolate.

17. Or if I bring the sword upon the land, and say, Sword, pass through the land, and cut off both man and beast,
18. And the three men were within: as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall save neither sons nor daughters, but they alone shall be saved.
19. Or if I send pestilence upon the land, and pour out my fury upon it, and bring down blood, to cut off both man and beast,
20. And Noah, and Daniel, and Job, were in it: as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they would save neither sons nor daughters, but their own souls only by their righteousness.
21. For thus saith the LORD GOD; If I send my four evil judgments, the sword, and the famine, and the beasts, and the pestilence, upon Jerusalem, to cut off both man and beast from therein,
22. And, behold, some of the remnant that are within shall come forth, and shall bring forth sons and daughters, and shall come unto you, and ye shall see how they fare, and comfort yourselves concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and all that I have brought upon her.
23. They shall be your consolation, when ye shall see how they fare, and shall know that I have not done without a cause what I have done within, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 15

Extermination of the people of Jerusalem prefigured.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, what is the wood of the vine above other wood, or a branch above other wood in the forest?
- Do you also take it and make something out of it? Or does one also make a nail out of it, on which one may hang something?
4. Behold, they cast it into the fire, and it was consumed: both the places thereof were consumed by the fire, and the midst thereof was burned up. What is it good for? Is it good for anything?
5. Behold, when it was whole, nothing could be made of it: how much less can anything be made of it now, that the fire hath consumed and burned it?
6. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; As I give the wood of the vine before the wood of the forest to be consumed by fire, so will I deal with the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

7. And I will set my face against them, and they shall not escape the fire, but the fire shall devour them. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

8. And make the land desolate, because they spurn me, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 16

Punishment of ingratitude. Establishment of the new covenant.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, shew the city of Jerusalem her abominations, and say: 3. Thus saith the LORD GOD unto Jerusalem; Thy seed and thy birth are of the land of the Canaanites; thy father of the Amorites, and thy mother of the Hittites.

4. Thy birth was thus: Thy navel, when thou wast born, was not cut: neither wast thou bathed with water to make thee clean, nor rubbed with salt, nor wrapped in swaddling clothes.

5. For no man had compassion on thee, neither did he show thee pieces; but thou wast cast into the field. So was thy soul despised when thou wast born.

6. And I passed over before thee, and saw thee lying in thy blood, and said unto thee, As thou layest in thy blood, Thou shalt live. Yea, I said unto thee, as thou layest in thy blood, Thou shalt live.

7. And I brought thee up, and caused thee to grow as a plant of the field; and thou wast grown, and become great and fair. Thy breasts were grown, and thou hadst grown long hair; but thou wast yet naked and ashamed.

8. And I passed over before thee, and looked upon thee; and, behold, it was time to woo thee.

And I spread my sheath over thee, and covered thy shame. And I pledged thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, that thou shouldest be mine.

9. And I bathed thee in water, and washed thee in thy blood, and anointed thee with balm.

10. And I clothed thee with embroidered garments, and put on thee shoes of seed; and I gave thee fine linen garments, and silken veils.

11. And adorned thee with jewels, and put jewels upon thine ear, and chains upon thy neck.

12. And gave thee a hairband upon thy forehead, and earrings upon thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thy head.

13. Summa, thou wast adorned with fine gold and silver, and clothed with fine linen, and silk, and embroidery. Thou didst also eat vain bread, and honey, and oil, and wast exceeding fair, and received the kingdom.

14. And thy fame went up among the nations because of thy beauty, which was made perfect by the ornament that I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15. But thou trustedst in thy beauty, and because thou wast so renowned, thou didst fornicate, so as to make thyself common to every one that passed by, and didst his will.

16. And thou hast taken of thy garments, and hast made thee multicolored altars, and hast committed thy whoredom thereon, as never was, nor ever shall be.

17. Thou hast also taken thy goodly vessels, which I gave thee of my gold and of my silver, and hast made thee manly likenesses of them, and hast committed whoredom with them.

18. And thou tookst thy embroidered garments, and coveredst them therewith; and thou puttest my oil and my incense before them.

19. My meat which I gave thee to eat, the bread, and the oil, and the honey, thou puttest before them for a sweet savour. Yea, it came to pass, saith the Lord GOD, 20. Because thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, which thou begotst me, and hast offered them for food.

Thinkest thou then that thy fornication is a small thing?

21. That thou shouldest slay my children, and let them burn the same?

22. Nor hast thou in all thine abominations and thy fornications remembered the days of thy youth, how naked and bare thou wast, and layest in thy blood.

23. Over all this thy wickedness (alas, woe, woe unto thee!) saith the LORD GOD, 24. thou buildest thee churches of the mountains, and makest thee altars of the mountains in every street.

25. And in the front of every street thou hast built thy mountain altars, and hast made thy beauty a vile abomination. Thou hast attacked with thy legs all that passed by, and hast committed great whoredom.

26. First, thou didst commit whoredom with the children of Egypt thy neighbours, which had great flesh, and didst great whoredom to provoke me.

27. And I stretched out mine hand against thee, and turned thee in such a way as thine, and delivered thee into the will of thine enemies, the daughters of the Philistines, who were ashamed of thy wickedness.

28. Afterward thou didst commit fornication with the children of Assyria, and couldst not be satisfied: for thou hadst committed fornication with them, and couldst not be satisfied, 29. Thou didst make more fornication in the land of Canaan, even unto Chaldea; neither couldst thou be satisfied therewith.

30. How shall I circumcise thine heart, saith the LORD GOD, because thou doest these works of a great archwhore?

31. That thou mightest build thy mountain churches in the front of every street, and make thine altars in every lane? For this thou wast not as another harlot, which must be bought with money,

32. Nor like the adulteress, which suffereth others instead of her husband.

33. For to all other whores they give money: but thou givest money to all thy whoredoms, and givest them to come unto thee everywhere, and to commit whoredom with thee.

34. And in thee there is a contradiction in the sight of other women with thy whoredoms, because they go not after thee, but thou givest money, and they give thee no money. So thou doest the adultery.

35. Therefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD.

36. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because thou hast given money so bountifully, and hast uncovered thy shame by thy fornication against thy lovers, and against all the idols of thine abominations, and hast shed the blood of thy children, which thou sacrificest unto them, 37. Therefore, behold, I will gather unto thine enemies all thy lovers, with whom thou hast committed lasciviousness, and all whom thou hast thought to be thy friends; and I will gather them both against thee round about, and I will make thy shame known unto them, that they may see thy shame.

38. And I will bring upon thee the judgment of adulteresses and bloodshedders, and will overthrow thy blood with fury and jealousy.

39. And I will deliver thee into their hand, and they shall break down thy mountain churches, and shall pull down thy mountain altars, and shall strip thee of thy garments, and take thy fair apparel, and leave thee naked and bare.

40. And they shall bring upon thee multitudes of men, which shall stone thee, and cut thee in pieces with their swords.

41. And I will burn thy houses with fire, and do thee justice in the sight of many women. So will I make an end of thy whoredom, and thou shalt no more give money, neither shalt thou acknowledge it.

42. And I will cool my courage in thee, and satisfy my zeal in thee, that I may rest, and be angry no more.

43. Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast provoked me with all these things, therefore will I lay all thy doings upon thy head, saith the LORD GOD; though I have not done according to the vice of thine abominations.

44. Behold, all they that practice such proverbs shall say of thee this proverb, The daughter is like the mother.

45. Thou art thy mother's daughter, which putteth away her husband and her children; and thou art a sister of thy sisters, which put away their husbands and their children. Your mother is one of the Hittites, and your father an Amorite.

46. Samaria is thy great sister, and her daughters, which dwelleth on thy left hand; and Sodom is thy little sister, and her daughters, which dwelleth on thy right hand; 47. Yet thou hast not lived after their manner, nor done after their abominations. It is not far from this, that thou hast done worse than they in all thy ways.

48. As I live, saith the LORD, Sodom thy sister and her daughters have not done as thou and thy daughters have done.

49. Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, that she and her daughters were proud and full of all things, and of good peace: but they helped not the poor and needy, 50. But were proud, and did abominable things in my sight: therefore when I began to look into them, I put them away.

51. So Samaria also hath not done the half of thy sins, but thou hast done so much more of thine abominations upon her, that thou hast made thy sister like unto all thine abominations which thou hast done.

22. Be thou also now ashamed, that thou hast made thy sister righteous by thy sins, in which thou hast done greater abominations than she, and hast made her more righteous than thou art. Be thou therefore ashamed also, and bear thy shame, because thou hast made thy sister righteous.

53. And I will turn away their prison, the prison of this Sodom, and of their daughters, and the prison of this Samaria, and of their daughters, and the prisoners of thy present prison with them,

54. That thou shouldest bear thy shame and scorn for all that thou hast done, and yet be comforted.

55. And thy sister, this Sodom, and her daughters, shall be converted as they were before; and Samaria and her daughters shall be converted as they were before: thou also and thy daughters shall be converted as ye were before.

56. And thou shalt no more praise the same Sodom thy sister, as in the days of thy pride, 57. When thy wickedness was not yet discovered, when the daughters of Syria and the daughters of the Philistines had defiled thee round about, and despised thee round about, 58. Because ye have borne your vices and your abominations, saith the Lord GOD.

59. For thus saith the LORD GOD; I will do unto thee as thou hast done, to forsake the oath, and to break the covenant.

26. But I will remember my covenant which I made with thee in the days of thy youth, and will establish with thee an everlasting covenant.

11. Then shalt thou remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt take unto thee thy great sisters and thy little sisters, whom I will give thee for daughters, but not of thy covenant,

22. But I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD, 33. That thou mayest remember, and be ashamed, and not open thy mouth any more for shame, when I shall forgive thee all that thou hast done, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 17

Of the captivity of Zedekiah the king, and the kingdom of Christ.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, set before the house of Israel a riddle and a parable.

3. And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; A great eagle with great wings, and long feathers, and full of feathers of many colours, came up to Lebanon, and took the top of the cedar tree.
4. And brake off the topmost rice, and brought it into the merchant's country, and set it in the merchant's city.
5. And he took seed out of the same land, and sowed it in that good land, where there was much water, and set it by itself.
6. And it grew, and became a spreading vine, and a lowly trunk: for the branches thereof were bent toward it, and the roots thereof were under it: and it was a vine that grew branches and grapes.
7. And there was another great eagle with great wings and many feathers; and, behold, the vine had desire in his roots toward this eagle, and stretched forth his branches toward him, that he might be watered of the place of his plants.
8. And yet he was planted in a good soil by much water, that he might bring forth branches, and bear fruit, and be a glorious vine.
9. Say therefore, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Shall he be put to death? Yea, his root shall be rooted up, and his fruit shall be plucked up, and shall wither, and all his plant shall wither, and shall not be done by great arm, nor by much people, that he may be taken away from his roots.
10. Behold, it is planted, but shall it grow? Yea, as soon as the east wind stirreth it up, it shall wither in the place of his plant.
11. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
12. Speak unto the rebellious house, saying, Know ye not what these things are? And say, Behold, the king of Babylon came to Jerusalem, and took their king and their princes, and carried them away to Babylon.
13. And he took of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and took an oath of him: but he took away the mighty men of the land,
14. That the kingdom might be humble, and not be exalted, that his covenant might be kept and stand.
15. But the same seed fell from him, and sent his message into Egypt, that they should send him horses and many people. Shall he be advised? Shall he escape that doeth these things? And shall he that breaketh the covenant escape?

16. As I live, saith the LORD GOD, in the place of the king that made him king, which oath he hath despised, and which covenant he hath broken, there shall he die, even at Babylon.

17. Neither shall Pharaoh help him in battle with a great host, and with a great people, when they shall cast up the vaults, and build strongholds, that much people shall be slain.

18. For because he hath despised the oath, and hath broken the covenant, whereon he gave his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; As surely as I live, I will bring my oath, which he hath despised, and my covenant, which he hath broken, upon his head.

20. For I will cast my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my pursuit: and I will bring him to Babylon, and there I will make terms with him for his trespass against me.

21. And all his fugitives that followed him shall fall by the sword, and the remnant of them shall be scattered abroad: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will also take of the top of the high cedar tree, and will break from the top of the branches thereof a tender rice, and will plant it in a high heaped mountain, 23. I will plant it in the high mountain of Israel, and it shall have branches, and bring forth fruit, and be a glorious cedar tree. And every fowl shall dwell under it, and every flying thing shall dwell under the shadow of the branches thereof.

24. And let all the trees of the field know that I the LORD have humbled the high tree, and have exalted the low tree, and have parched the green tree, and have made green the dry tree. I the LORD speak it, and do it.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 18

God is just and merciful, therefore repent.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Why do ye practise this proverb among you in the land of Israel, saying, The fathers did eat herbs, but the children's teeth were dulled with them?

3. As surely as I live, saith the LORD GOD, let no more such a proverb pass among you in Israel.

4. For, behold, all souls are mine: the Father's soul is mine, as well as the Son's soul. Whichever soul sinneth, it shall die.

5. If therefore one be godly, that doeth righteousness and good; 6. He that eateth not upon the mountains, nor lifteth up his eyes unto the idols of the house of Israel, nor defileth his neighbour's wife, nor lieth with his wife in her sickness; 7. Who hath not wronged any man; who restoreth the pledge of a debtor; who taketh not away aught by force; who giveth bread to the hungry, and clotheeth the naked; 8. He that useth not; he that transgresseth not; he that turneth away his hand from iniquity; he that judgeth rightly among men;

9. He that walketh after my statutes, and keepeth my commandments, to do them earnestly: this is a righteous man; he shall have life, saith the LORD GOD.

10. But if he beget a son, and he be a murderer, and shed blood, or do any of these things 11. And he hath not done any of the rest, but hath eaten upon the mountains, and hath defiled his neighbour's wife, 12. He hath wronged the poor and miserable, he hath taken by violence, he hath not returned the pledge, he hath lifted up his eyes unto idols, that he might commit an abomination, 13. Giveth upon usury, translated, shall he live? He shall not live, but because he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death; his blood shall be upon him.

14. And he begetteth a son, which seeth all such sin as his father doeth, and feareth, and doeth no such thing:

15. Eat not upon the mountains, nor lift up his eyes unto the idols of the house of Israel, nor defile his neighbour's wife,

16. Damage no man, keep not the pledge, take not by force, divide his bread with the hungry, and clothe the naked;

17. He that turneth away his hand from iniquity, that taketh not usury, nor extravagance, but keepeth my commandments, and walketh after my statutes: he shall not die for his father's iniquity, but shall live.

18. But his father, which hath wrought violence and iniquity, and hath wrought iniquity among his people, behold, he shall die for his iniquity.

19. Then say ye, Why should not a son bear his father's iniquity? Because he hath done right and well, and kept and done all my statutes, he shall live.

20. For whatsoever soul sinneth, that soul shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: but the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the unrighteousness of the unrighteous shall be upon him.

21. But if the wicked turn from all his sins which he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do right and well, he shall live, and not die.

22. All his transgressions which he hath committed shall not be remembered; but he shall live for the righteousness that he doeth.

23. Thinkest thou that I have pleasure in the death of the wicked, saith the LORD GOD, and not rather that he turn from his way, and live?

24. And if the righteous turn from his righteousness, and do evil, and live in all the abominations which the wicked doeth, shall he live? Yea, all his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but in his transgression and in his sins which he hath done he shall die.

25. Nor say ye, The LORD dealeth not justly. Hear therefore, ye of the house of Israel, Is it not so, that I am right, and ye are wrong?

26. For if the righteous turn from his righteousness, and do evil, he must die: but he must die for his wickedness which he hath done.

27. Again, if the wicked turn from his iniquity which he hath done, and do right and well, he shall keep his soul alive.

28. Because he hath seen and turned from all his wickedness which he hath done, he shall live, and not die.

29. Nor say they of the house of Israel, The LORD dealeth not righteously. Shall I be wrong? Ye of the house of Israel are wrong.

30. Therefore will I judge you, ye of the house of Israel, every man according to his character, saith the LORD GOD. Therefore repent ye of all your transgressions, that ye fall not because of iniquity.

31. Cast away from you all your transgression, that ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit. For why then wilt thou die, O house of Israel?

32. For I have no pleasure in the death of the dying, saith the Lord GOD. Therefore repent, and ye shall live.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 19

Lament over the downfall of the kingdom of Judah and her princes.

1. But thou makest a lamentation for the princes of Israel.
2. And say, Why doth thy mother the lioness lie among the lionesses, and bring forth her whelps among the young lions?
3. And she brought up one of them, and it became a young lion; and it was accustomed to devour men and to devour them.
4. And when the heathen heard it of him, they caught him in their pits, and led him away in chains into the land of Egypt.
5. And when the mother saw that her hope was lost, because she had hoped long, she took another of her young, and made it a lionling.
6. And when he walked among the lionesses, he became a young lion; and he was accustomed to devour men, and to devour them.
7. He knew their widows, and laid waste their cities, that the land, and all that was therein, was astonished at the voice of his roaring.
8. Then the heathen from all the countries round about cast a net upon him, and caught him in their pits.
9. And they cast him bound into a gate, and brought him to the king of Babylon: and they put him away, that his voice should be heard no more in the mountains of Israel.
10. Thy mother was as a vine, like thee, planted by the waters, and her fruit and her branches grew by the great waters,
11. And his vines grew so strong, that they were good for a master's sceptre: and he was high among the vines. And when it was seen that he was so high, and had many vines, 12. He was pulled down to the ground in fury, and was rejected: the east wind withered his fruit, and his strong branches were broken, and withered, and were burned.
13. But now it is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty land, 14. And a fire is gone out of her strong branches, and devoureth her fruit, that there is no more in her a strong branch to the sceptre of the LORD. This is a pitiful and wretched thing.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 20

Punishment of hypocrisy and ingratitude.

1. And it came to pass in the seventh year, on the tenth day of the fifth month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat down before me.
2. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
3. Son of man, tell the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Are ye come to ask of me? As I live, I will be unasked of you, saith the LORD GOD.
4. But if thou wilt punish them, O son of man, so mayest thou punish them. Shew them the abominations of their fathers.
5. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; In the day that I chose Israel I lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt. Yea, I lifted up my hand unto them, and said: I am the LORD your God.
6. And at that time I lifted up mine hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt unto a land which I had provided for them, flowing with milk and honey, a goodly land above all countries, 7. And said unto them: Cast away every man the abominations that are before his eyes, and defile not yourselves in the idols of Egypt: for I am the LORD your God.
8. And they disobeyed me, and would not obey me: and none of them cast away the abominations from before his eyes, nor forsook the idols of Egypt. Then thought I to pour out mine anger upon them, and to let all mine wrath pass upon them, even in the land of Egypt.
9. But I left it for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the heathen among whom they were, and before whom I made myself known unto them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt.
10. And when I had brought them out of the land of Egypt, and had brought them into the wilderness,
11. I gave them my commandments, and taught them my statutes, by which a man liveth that keepeth them.
12. I also gave them my sabbaths for a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD which sanctifieth them.
13. But the house of Israel also disobeyed me in the wilderness, and lived not according to my commandments, and despised my statutes, by which a man liveth that keepeth them, and greatly profaned my sabbaths. Then I thought to pour out my wrath on them in the wilderness and even to destroy them.

14. But I left it for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the heathen, before whom I had brought it out.

15. And I lifted up mine hand against them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, which floweth with milk and honey, a goodly land above all countries,

16. Because they had despised my statutes, and had not walked in my commandments, and had profaned my sabbaths; for they walked after the idols of their hearts.

17. But mine eye spared them, lest I destroy them, or even destroy them in the wilderness.

18. And I said unto their children in the wilderness, Ye shall not walk in the statutes of your fathers, neither shall ye keep their judgments, neither shall ye defile yourselves in their idols.

19. For I am the LORD your God: according to my commandments shall ye live, and my statutes shall ye keep, and do them.

20. And my sabbaths ye shall keep holy, that they may be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21. And the children also disobeyed me, and kept not my commandments, neither kept they my statutes to do them, by which the man that keepeth them liveth; and they profaned my sabbaths. Then I thought to pour out my wrath on them and to let all my anger go out on them in the wilderness.

22. But I turned my hand, and left it for my name's sake, that it should not be profaned before the heathen, before whom I had brought it out.

23. And I lifted up mine hand against them in the wilderness, to scatter them among the heathen, and to destroy them in the countries,

24. Because they had not kept my commandments, and had despised my statutes, and had profaned my sabbaths, and had walked after the idols of their fathers.

25. Therefore delivered I them into doctrines which are not good, and into judgments wherein they could not live,

26. And rejected them with their sacrifice, when they burnt all the firstborn with fire, that I might destroy them, and that they might know that I am the LORD.

27. Speak therefore, thou son of man, unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Your fathers have blasphemed me yet more, and trespassed against me.

28. For when I had brought them into the land which I had lifted up mine hand to give them, where they saw a high hill, or a thick tree, there they offered their sacrifices, and there they brought their hostile gifts, and there they burnt incense of their sweet savour, and there they poured out their drink offerings.

29. And I said unto them: What is this high place whither ye go? And so it is called the high place unto this day.

30. Say therefore unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Ye have defiled yourselves in the manner of your fathers, and have committed fornication with their abominations.

31. And defile yourselves in your idols, to whom ye offer your gifts, and burn your sons and your daughters by fire, unto this day: and I should ask you of the. And I should ask you of the house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will be unasked of you.

32. For that ye think that we will do as the heathen do, and worship wood and stone, as other men do in the countries, ye shall lack that.

33. As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will rule over you with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out;

34. And I will bring you out of the nations, and gather you out of the countries whither ye are scattered, with a strong hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with fury poured out; 35. And I will bring you into the wilderness of the nations, and there I will come face to face with you.

36. As I dealt with your fathers in the wilderness of Egypt, so will I deal with you, saith the Lord GOD.

37. I will surely bring you under the rod, and compel you into the bonds of the covenant.

38. And I will sweep out from among you the apostates that transgress against me: yea, out of the land where ye dwell I will bring them, and will not suffer them to come into the land of Israel, that ye may learn that I am the LORD.

39. Therefore, ye of the house of Israel, thus saith the LORD GOD; Because ye will not obey me, go and serve every man his own idol; but leave my holy name henceforth undefiled with your sacrifices and your idols.

40. For thus saith the LORD GOD; In my holy mountain, in the high mountain of Israel, there shall all the house of Israel and all that are in the land serve me: there shall they be acceptable unto me: and there will I require your heave offerings, and the firstfruits of your sacrifices, with all that ye sanctify unto me.

41. Ye shall be acceptable unto me with a sweet savour, when I shall bring you out of the nations, and gather you out of the countries whither ye are scattered, and shall be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have brought you into the land of Israel, into the land which I lifted up mine hand to give unto your fathers.

43. There ye shall remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye are defiled; and ye shall be displeased with all your wickedness which ye have done,

44. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I do with you for my name's sake, and not according to your wickedness and your evil doings, O house of Israel, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 21

Sword of the Chaldeans against the Jews and Ammonites.

45. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

46. Son of man, set thy face toward the south wind, and prophesy toward the south, and prophesy against the wood of the field toward the south.

47. And say unto the wood toward the south, Hear the word of the LORD. Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour both green and dry trees; and the flame thereof shall not be quenched, but all that standeth from the south toward the north shall be burned up.

48. And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it, and that none shall quench it.

49. And I said, O Lord GOD, they say of me, This man speaketh vain words.

Ch. 21. v. 1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, set thy face against Jerusalem, and prophesy against the sanctuaries, and prophesy against the land of Israel.
 3. And say unto the land of Israel, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I am against thee; I will unsheathe my sword, and will cut off from thee both the righteous and the unrighteous.
 4. Because I have cut off in thee both the righteous and the unrighteous, my sword shall come forth out of the sheath upon all flesh from the south even unto the north.
 5. And all flesh shall know that I the LORD have drawn my sword out of the sheath thereof; and it shall not be put in again.
 6. And thou, son of man, shalt groan until thy loins be sore: yea, thou shalt groan bitterly, that they may see it.
 7. And when they shall say unto thee: Wherefore sighest thou? thou shalt say, Because of the cry which is coming, before which all hearts shall despair, and all hands shall fall, and all courage shall fail, and all knees shall go down like water. Behold, it cometh, and it shall come to pass, saith the Lord GOD.
 8. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
 9. Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD; Say, The sword, yea, the sword is sharpened and swept.
 10. It is sharpened, that it may slay; it is swept, that it may blink. O how glad we would be, if he had made all the trees rods over the wicked children!
 11. But he hath given a sword to sweep, to take hold of: it is sharpened and swept, that it may be put into the hand of the slayer.
 12. Cry and howl, thou son of man: for it is upon my people, and upon all the rulers of Israel, which are gathered to the sword with my people. Therefore smite upon thy loins: 13. For he hath often chastened them: what profit is it? The rod of the wicked child is of no avail, saith the Lord GOD.
 14. And thou, son of man, prophesy, and smite thy hands together. For the sword shall come twofold, yea, threefold, a choking sword, a sword of great slaughter, which shall also smite them in the chambers where they flee.
 15. I will sound the sword, and the hearts shall be troubled, and many shall fall at all their gates.
- Oh, how it shines, and how it is hammered to the battle!

16. And say: Thrust in, both on the right hand and on the left, that which is before thee.

17. Then will I rejoice with my hands, and let go my wrath. I, the LORD, have said it.

18. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

19. Son of man, make two ways by which the sword of the king of Babylon shall come; and they shall both come out of one land.

20. And put a sign in the front of the way to the city, whither it shall point: and make the way, that the sword may come to Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and to Judah, unto the strong city Jerusalem.

21. For the king of Babylon shall stand by the way side, in the front of the two ways, to prophesy, to shoot arrows at the lot, to inquire of his idol, and to look upon the liver.

22. And the prophecy shall point to the right side to Jerusalem, that he should bring in goats, and make holes, and attack them with a great cry, and slay them; and that he should bring in goats against the gates, and make a wall there, and build a stronghold.

23. But they shall think such divination false, that he may swear as much as he pleaseth. But he shall think of iniquity, that he may gain it.

24. Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye are remembered for your iniquity, and your rebellion is made manifest, and your sin is seen in all your doings; yea, because ye are remembered, ye shall be taken with violence.

25. And thou, O ruler of Israel, who art condemned and condemned, when the day cometh, when iniquity is ended,

26. Thus saith the Lord GOD; Take off thy hat, and lift up thy crown. For neither the hat nor the crown shall remain: but he that is exalted shall be humbled, and he that is brought low shall be exalted.

27. I will bring the crown to nought, to nought, to nought, until he come that shall have it: to him will I give it.

28. And thou, son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD GOD concerning the children of Ammon, and concerning their reproach; and say, The sword, the sword is drawn, that it may slay; it is swept, that it may choke, and it shall flash, 29. Because thou hast caused false visions to be told thee, and hast prophesied lies, that thou also mightest be delivered up among the slain of the wicked, to whom their day came, when iniquity was at an end.

30. Though it be put again into the sheath, yet will I judge thee in the place wherein thou wast made, and in the land wherein thou wast born.

31. And I will pour out my wrath upon thee, and I will puff up the fire of my fury upon thee, and I will deliver thee unto men that can burn and destroy.

32. Thou shalt be food for the fire, and thy blood shall be shed in the land; and thou shalt be remembered no more. For I the LORD have spoken it.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 22

The sins of the Jews a cause of their captivity and other punishments.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, wilt thou not punish the murderous city, and shew her all her abominations?

3. Say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; O city, that thou sheddest the blood of thine own, that thy time may come, and that thou makest idols among thyself, to defile thyself!

4. Thou art guilty of the blood which thou hast shed, and thou hast defiled thyself with the idols which thou hast made: thou hast brought thy days, and thou hast made thy years to come.

Therefore will I make thee a mockery among the nations, And a scorn in all lands.

5. Both near and far shall they mock thee; and thou shalt have a vile report, and great mourning.

6. Behold the princes of Israel! Every one of them is mighty with thee to shed blood.

7. They despise the father and the mother; they do violence and wrong to the stranger; they oppress the widow and the fatherless.

8. Thou despisest my sanctuaries, and desecratest my sabbaths.

9. Traitors are in thee, that they may shed blood. They eat upon the mountains, and act wantonly in thee;

10. They blaspheme the shame of the fathers, and compel the women in their sickness.

11. And they commit abominations among themselves, friend with friend's wife; they defile their own cords with all wantonness; they ravish their own sisters, their father's daughters; 12. They take gifts, that they may shed blood; they usurp and overreach one another, and do covetousness against their neighbour, and do violence one to another, and so forget me, saith the LORD GOD.

13. Behold, I smite my hands together for the covetousness which thou hast done, and for the blood which is shed in thee.

14. But thinkest thou that thine heart shall suffer it, or that thine hands shall bear it, in the day that I shall do it unto thee? I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.

15. And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and cast thee out into the countries, and will make an end of thy filthiness,

16. That thou shouldest be accursed among the heathen, and know that I am the LORD.

17. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

18. Son of man, the house of Israel is become foam unto me: all their brass, and their tin, and their iron, and their lead, is become silver foam in the furnace.

19. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Because ye are all foamed, behold, I will gather you all together unto Jerusalem.

20. As silver, brass, iron, lead, and tin, are gathered together in a furnace, and a fire is kindled under them, and they are melted: so will I gather you together in mine anger and my fury, and will put them in and melt them.

21. Yea, I will gather you together, and will blow up the fire of my wrath among you, and ye shall melt within.

22. As silver melts in the furnace, so shall ye melt within, and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my wrath upon you.

23. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

24. Son of man, say to them: You are a land not to be cleansed, as one that is not watered in the time of wrath.

25. The prophets that are within are ready to devour souls, as a roaring lion when it spoileth: they take goods and money, and make widows much within.

26. Their priests have transgressed my law, and have profaned my sanctuary; they have made no distinction between the holy and the unholy, neither have they taught me that which is clean or that which is unclean, neither have they kept my sabbaths: and I am profaned among them.

27. Their princes are within, as the ravening wolves, to shed blood, and to slay souls, for their avarice's sake.

28. And their prophets whitewash them with loose lime, and preach loose teidings, and prophesy lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the LORD GOD; when the LORD hath not spoken it.

29. The people of the land do violence, and spoil, and rob, and afflict the poor and the miserable, and do violence and injustice to strangers.

30. I sought among them if any man would make himself a wall, and stand against the breach before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31. Therefore I poured out mine indignation upon them, and with the fire of my wrath I made an end of them, and gave them their reward upon their head, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 23

Comparing the kingdoms of Judah and Israel to two harlots.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, there were two women, daughters of one mother.

3. They committed fornication in Egypt in their youth: there they made their breasts to be grasped, and the teats of their virginity to be felt.

4. The name of the great one is Ahalah, and her sister's name is Ahalibah. And I took them in marriage, and they begat me sons and daughters. And Ahalah's name is Samaria, and Ahalibah's name is Jerusalem.

5. And Ahalah committed fornication when I had taken her, and burned against her lovers, even against the Assyrians that came unto her,

6. Against the princes, and against the lords clothed in silk, and against all the young lovelies, even against the horsemen and chariots.

7. And booded with all the fair fellows of Assyria, and defiled herself with all their idols, where she burned upon one.

8. Neither forsook she her fornication with Egypt, which had lain with her from her youth, and had touched the breasts of her virginity, and had committed great fornication with her.

9. And I delivered her into the hand of her lovers, the children of Assyria, against whom she burned with lust.

10. And they uncovered their shame, and took away their sons and their daughters, and slew them with the sword. And it came to pass, that these women were punished.

11. And when Ahalibah her sister saw it, she was more enraged than she, and did more fornication than her sister.

12. And she burned against the children of Assyria, namely, the princes and the lords that came unto her well clothed, horsemen and chariots, and all the young men that were lovely.

13. And I saw that they were both defiled alike.

14. But this woman did more fornication. For there she saw painted men on the wall in red paint, the images of the Chaldeans,

15. Girded about their loins, and coloured tapers upon their heads, and all like unto mighty men to look upon, as the children of Babylon and the Chaldeans bear in their fatherland, 16. And she was aroused against them as soon as she knew them, and sent tidings unto them into Chaldea.

17. And when the children of Babylon came unto her to lie with her after love, they defiled her with their fornication, and she defiled herself with them, that she was weary of them.

18. And when both their fornication and their shame were so manifest, I was weary of them also, as I had been weary of their sister.

19. And she committed her whoredom more and more, and remembered the days of her youth, when she committed whoredom in the land of Egypt,

20. And they burned against their lovers, whose heat was as the heat of the ass, and as the heat of the stallions.

21. And thou hast appointed thy fornication as in thy youth, when they that were in Egypt took hold of thy breasts, and touched thy teats.

22. Therefore, O Ahalibah, thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will raise up against thee thine enemies, of whom thou art weary, and will bring them against thee round about, 23. Namely, the children of Babylon, and all the Chaldeans with captains, and princes, and lords, and all the Assyrians with them, and the fair young men, and all the princes, and lords, and knights, and nobles, and all manner of horsemen.

24. And they shall come upon thee armed with chariots, and with wheels, and with a great multitude of people, and shall besiege thee with shields, and with bucklers, and with helmets round about. And I will give them judgment, and they shall judge thee according to their judgment.

25. I will bring my zeal upon thee, and they shall deal unmercifully with thee. They shall cut off thy noses and ears; and that which remaineth shall fall by the sword. They shall take away thy sons and thy daughters, and burn the remnant with fire.

26. And they shall strip thee of thy garments, and take away thy jewels.

27. So will I make an end of thy fornication and thy whoredom with the land of Egypt, and thou shalt lift up thine eyes unto them no more, neither shalt thou remember Egypt any more.

28. For thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will deliver thee up to them of whom thou art an enemy, and of whom thou art weary.

29. They shall deal with thee as enemies, and take away all that thou hast gotten, and leave thee naked and bare, that thy shame may be exposed, with thy fornication and thy whoredom.

30. This shall be done unto thee for thy whoredom, which thou hast committed with the heathen, in whose idols thou hast defiled thyself.

31. Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister: therefore I also give thee the same cup in thine hand.

32. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Thou shalt drink thy sister's cup, deep and wide; thou shalt become such a mockery and a scorn, that it shall be unbearable.

33. Thou must drink thyself full of strong drink and mourning: for the cup of thy sister Samaria is a cup of mourning and grief.

34. Thou shalt drink the same clean, and afterward shalt cast the fragments thereof, and rend thy breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the LORD GOD.

35. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Because thou hast forgotten me, and hast cast me behind thy back, bear now thy fornication and thy whoredom.

36. And the LORD said unto me, Son of man, if thou wilt punish Ahalah and Ahalibah, shew them their abominations,

37. How they have committed adultery, and shed blood, and committed adultery with idols, and burned their children, which they begat of me, for a sacrifice unto them.

38. For these things have they done unto me: they have polluted my sanctuaries at that time, and have profaned my sabbaths.
39. For when they had slain their children to idols, they entered into my sanctuary the same day to profane it. Behold, they have done this in my house.
40. They also sent messengers for men that should come from far countries: and, behold, when they were come, thou wast bathed, and made up, and adornedst thyself with jewels, in honour of them,
41. And thou satest upon a glorious bed, before which was a table prepared: thereon thou didst burn incense, and didst offer my oil thereon.
42. And there was a great shout of joy: and they gave to the people that were come from every part of the great people, and from the wilderness, jewels for their arms, and beautiful crowns for their heads.
43. And I said, She is accustomed to adultery of old, she cannot leave off her fornication.
44. For one goeth in unto her, as one goeth in unto a harlot: so goeth one in unto Ahalah and Ahalibah, the lewd women.
45. Therefore they shall punish the men that execute judgment, as adulteresses and bloodshedters shall be punished: for they are adulteresses, and their hands are full of blood.
46. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Bring up a great multitude upon them, and give them into rapine and robbery,
47. Who stone them, and stab them with their swords, and slay their sons and their daughters, and burn their houses with fire.
48. So will I make an end of fornication in the land, and all the women shall be offended at it, and shall not do after such fornication.
49. And they shall lay your fornication upon you, and ye shall bear the sin of your idols, that ye may know that I am the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 24

Destruction of Jerusalem, by a boiling pot and quick death of Ezekiel's wife pictured.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me in the ninth year, in the tenth day of the tenth month, saying:
2. Son of man, mark this day, even this very day: for the king of Babylon hath arrayed himself against Jerusalem this very day.

3. And give a parable unto the disobedient people, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Put in a pot; put in a pot, and pour water into it.
4. Put therein the pieces together that are to go in, and the best pieces, the loins and the shoulders, and fill it with the best marrow.
5. Take the best of the hearth, and make a fire under it to boil marrow, and let it boil safely, and let the marrow boil well therein.
6. Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; O that murderous city, which is such a pot, where the burnt things are stuck in it, and will not come out! Put out one piece at a time, and let not the pieces be divided as to which shall come out first.
7. For her blood is within, which she spilled upon a rock, and not upon the ground, when it might have been covered with earth.
8. And for this cause also have I caused them to pour out the same blood upon a rock, that it should not be covered, that wrath should come upon them, and be smelled.
9. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; O thou murderous city, which I will make a great fire!
10. Only bring plenty of wood, and kindle the fire, that the meat may be cooked, and season it well, that the marrow may be burned.
11. Put also the pot empty upon the fire, that it may be hot, and that the brass thereof may burn, whether the uncleanness thereof be melted, and the burning thereof be removed.
12. But that which is burned, how nearly it burneth, will not depart, because it is too much burned; it must be melted in the fire.
13. Thine uncleanness is so hardened, that though I would gladly cleanse thee, yet thou wilt not be cleansed from thine uncleanness. Therefore thou shalt not be clean again until my wrath be cooled in thee.
14. I the LORD have spoken it; it shall come. I will do it, and will not tarry: I will not spare, neither will I be sorry: but they shall judge thee, as thou hast lived, and as thou hast done, saith the LORD GOD.
15. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
16. Son of man, behold, I will take away the lust of thine eyes by a plague. But thou shalt not mourn, nor weep, nor shed a tear.

17. Thou mayest sigh in secret, but thou shalt not mourn: thou shalt put on thy ornaments, and shalt put on thy shoes. Thou shalt not cover thy mouth, nor eat the bread of mourning.

18. And it came to pass, when I spake early in the morning unto the people, that at even my wife died. And I did on the morrow as I was commanded.

19. And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not shew us what these things are that thou doest?

20. And I said unto them: The LORD spake unto me, saying:

21. Tell the house of Israel, that thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will desecrate my sanctuary, which is your chief comfort, the delight of your eyes, and the desire of your heart; and your sons and your daughters, whom ye shall leave, shall fall by the sword; 22. And ye must do as I have done: ye must not cover your mouth, neither eat the mourning bread,

23. But put your jewels upon your heads, and put on your shoes. Ye shall not mourn, nor weep, but shall pine away for your sins, and groan among yourselves.

24. And Ezekiel shall be a wonder unto you, that ye should do as he hath done, when it shall come to pass, that ye may know that I am the LORD GOD.

25. And thou, son of man, in that day when I shall take away from them their power and their comfort, the delight of their eyes and the desire of their heart, their sons and their daughters, 26. And in that day shall one that escaped come to thee, and tell thee.

27. In that day thy mouth shall be opened, and he that escapeth, that thou shalt speak, and shalt no more hold thy peace: for thou shalt be their wonder, that they may know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 25

Threatened punishment against the Ammonites, Moabites, Edomites and Philistines.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying: 2. Son of man, set thy face against the children of Ammon, and prophesy against them.

3. And say unto the children of Ammon, Hear ye the word of the LORD GOD. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because ye have said of my sanctuary,

It is polluted; and of the land of Israel, It is desolate; and of the house of Judah, It is carried away captive.

4. Therefore, behold, I will give thee to the children toward the east, and they shall build their castles within, and make their habitation therein: they shall eat thy fruit, and drink thy milk.

5. And I will make Rabbath a sheepfold for camels, and the children of Ammon a fold for sheep: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

6. For thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast clapped thy hands, and shaved thy feet, and rejoiced in the land of Israel with all thine heart,

7. Therefore, behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will give thee for a prey unto the heathen, and will cut thee off from among the nations, and will destroy thee out of the countries; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

8. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because Moab and Seir say, Behold, the house of Judah is even as all the nations,

9. Behold, I will open Moab aside in his cities, and in his borders of the noble land, even Beth-jesimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,

10. To the children of the east with the children of Ammon; and I will give them for an inheritance, and the children of Ammon shall no more be remembered among the heathen.

11. And I will execute judgment upon Moab, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

12. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because Edom hath avenged herself on the house of Judah, and hath been guilty of her revenge,

13. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD: I will stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off from it both man and beast; and I will make it desolate from Theman even unto Dedan, and will cut it down by the sword.

14. And I will avenge myself on Edom by my people Israel, and they shall deal with Edom according to mine anger and my fury, and they shall know my vengeance, saith the LORD GOD.

15. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because the Philistines have avenged themselves, and have atoned for the old hatred according to all their will in the hurt of my people, 16. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD;

Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and will cut off the warriors, and will destroy the remnant that are by the sea port.

17. And I will execute great vengeance upon them, and will punish them with fury; and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have executed my vengeance upon them.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 26

Prophecy against Tyre.

1. And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the first month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, because Tyre saith concerning Jerusalem, Heh, the gates of the nations are broken, it is turned unto me; I will now be filled, because she is desolate: 3. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Tyre; and I will bring up many nations against thee, as the sea riseth up with the waves thereof.

4. They shall destroy the walls of Tyre, and break down the towers thereof: yea, I will also sweep away the dust from before her, and will make her a mere rock.

5. And for a value in the sea, whereon they stretch out the fishes' yarns: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD, and it shall be a prey to the heathen.

6. And their daughters that lie in the field shall be slain with the sword: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7. For thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will cause Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to come upon Tyre from the north, a king of kings, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and with a great multitude of people.

8. And he shall slay thy daughters that lie in the field with the sword: but against thee shall he pitch a fortress, and make a ruin, and prepare shields against thee.

9. He shall break down thy walls with goats, and shall overthrow thy towers with his weapons.

10. The dust of the multitude of his horses shall cover thee: thy walls also shall shake with the tumult of his horses, and of his wheels, and of his horsemen, when he cometh in at thy gates, as one cometh in at a broken city.

11. He shall tread down all thy streets with the feet of his horses. Thy people shall he slay with the sword, and thy strong pillars shall he pull down to the ground.
12. They shall spoil thy goods, and plunder thy commerce. Thy walls shall they break down, and thy fine houses shall they overthrow; and they shall cast thy stones and thy timber and thy dust into the waters.
13. So will I make an end of the sound of thy singing, that the sound of thy harps shall be heard no more.
14. And I will make of thee a mere rock, and a rock for a fish twine, and thou shalt not be built any more: for I am the LORD that speaketh these things, saith the LORD GOD.
15. Thus saith the LORD against Tyre, What matter, the isles shall tremble, when thou shalt be cut down so vilely, and thy wounded shall groan, when they shall be slain in thee.
16. All the princes of the sea shall sit down from off their seats, and shall put off their robes, and shall put off their embroidered garments, and shall walk in mourning, and shall sit upon the earth, and shall be afraid, and shall be astonished at thy sudden falling.
17. And they shall lament thee, and say of thee, Alas, how art thou become desolate, thou great city, which was by the sea, and so mighty upon the sea, with thy inhabitants, that all the land was afraid of thee.
18. Oh, how the isles are dismayed at thy fall! Yea, the isles of the sea are dismayed at thy fall.
19. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will make thee a desolate city, as other cities, where no man dwelleth therein; and I will bring upon thee a great flood, and great waters shall cover thee.
20. And I will cast thee down with them that go down to the pit, even with the dead. I will cast thee under the earth, and make thee as an everlasting desolation with them that go down to the pit; that no man dwell in thee. I will make thee, O tender one, in the land of the living,
21. Yea, I will make thee a terror, that thou shalt be nothing: and if any man inquire of thee, he shall never find thee, saith the Lord GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 27

Lament over the destruction of Tyre.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, make a lamentation for Tyre.

3. And say unto Tyre, which lieth by the sea, and traffitteth with many isles of the nations: Thus saith the LORD GOD; O Tyre, thou sayest, I am the most beautiful.
4. Thy borders are in the midst of the sea, and thy builders have made thee most beautiful.
5. They have made all thy table-work of cypress wood of the Sanir, and have led the cedars of Lebanon, and have made thy mast-trees of them.
6. And, thy oars of oaks out of Bashan, and thy benches of ivory, and the goodly chairs out of the isles of Chittim.
7. Thy sail was of embroidered silk out of Egypt, to be thy banner; and thy covering of yellow silk and purple out of the isles of Elisha.
8. They of Zidon and Arvad were thy oarsmen, and thou hadst skillful men to ship to Tyre.
9. The elders and the wise men of Gebal made thy ships. All the ships of the sea, and the mariners, were found in thee: they had their trade in thee.
10. They that came out of Persia, and Lydia, and Libya, were thy people of war, that put up their shield and their helmet in thee, and made thee so fair.
11. They of Arvad were among thy host round about thy walls, and watchmen upon thy towers: they have hung down their shields from thy walls every where, and have made thee fair.
12. Thou hast had thy trade upon the sea, and hast brought all manner of merchandise, silver, iron, tin, and lead, into thy markets.
13. Javan, and Thubal, and Mesech, have traded with thee, and have brought thee bondmen and brass into thy markets.
14. They of Thogarmah have brought thee horses and chariots and mules to thy markets.
15. They of Dedan have been thy merchants, and have traded in all the isles: they have sold thee ivory and ebony.
16. The Syrians have bought from thee thy work which thou hast made, and brought into thy markets ruby, and purple, and tapestry, and silk, and silk waste, and crystals.
17. Judah also and the land of Israel have traded with thee, and have brought thee wheat of Minnith, and balm, and honey, and oil, and mastic, into thy markets; 18. And Damascus also hath offered unto thee thy work, and all manner of merchandise, and strong wine, and fine wool.

19. Dan, and Javan, and Mehusal, have also brought into thy markets the ironwork, and the cassia, and the calamus, to trade with thee.

20. Dedan hath dealt with thee in decks to sit upon.

21. Arabia and all the princes of Kedar have dealt with thee in sheep rams and goats.

22. The merchants of Sheba and Raema have traded with thee, and brought into thy markets all manner of precious spices, and precious stone, and gold.

23. Haran, and Kanne, and Eden, and the merchants of Sheba, and Assyria, and Kilmad, have been thy merchants.

24. They have all traded with thee in precious raiment, in silken and embroidered cloths, which they have brought into thy markets in precious boxes made of cedar, and well kept.

25. But the ships of the sea have been the chief of thy markets. So thou hast become very rich and glorious in the midst of the sea.

26. And thy shipmen have led thee upon great waters. But an east wind shall break thee up in the midst of the sea,

27. also daß deine Ware, Kaufleute, Händler, Fergen, Schiffsherren und die, so die Schiffe machen, und deine Hantierer und alle deine Kriegsleute und alles Volk in dir mitten auf dem Meer umkommen werden zur Zeit, wenn du untergehest,

28. And the seas shall shake at the cry of thy shipmasters.

29. And all that pull the oars, and the masters, and the servants, shall be taken out of the ships unto the sea.

tread land

30. And cry aloud against thee, and mourn bitterly, and shall cast dust upon their heads, and roll themselves in ashes.

31. They shall be bald upon thee, and shall gird sackcloth about thee, and shall weep bitterly for thee with their hearts, and shall mourn for thee.

32. Their children also shall lament over thee, Alas, who ever was so still on the sea as thou, O

Tyre?

33. When thou didst trade upon the sea, thou didst make many countries rich; yea, with the multitude of thy merchandise and of thy trade thou didst make the kings of the earth rich.

34. But now thou art plunged from the sea into the very deep waters, so that thy commerce and all thy people are perished in thee.

35. All they that dwell in isles are terrified at thee, and their kings are astonished, and they look miserably.

36. The merchants of countries whistle at thee, that thou art gone down so suddenly, and canst not arise again.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 28

Of the downfall of the king of Tyre and the Zidonians. Redemption of the people of God.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyre, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because thine heart is lifted up, and saith, I am GOD, I sit in the throne of GOD, in the midst of the sea, though thou be a man, and not GOD: yet is thy heart lifted up as the heart of GOD; 3. Behold, thou thinkest thyself wiser than Daniel, that nothing is hid from thee, 4. And by thy wisdom and understanding thou hast wrought such power, and gathered treasures of gold and silver.

5. And by thy great wisdom and mightiness thou hast obtained so great power, and hast become so proud that thou art mighty:

6. Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thy heart is lifted up as the heart of GOD, 7. Therefore, behold, I will send strangers upon thee, even the tyrants of the heathen; and they shall draw their sword upon thy fair wisdom, and shall put thy great honour to shame.

8. And they shall cast thee into the pit, and thou shalt die in the midst of the sea, as the slain.

9. What matter if thou then shalt say before thy slayer, I am God; when thou art not God, but a man, and in the hand of thy slayer?

10. Thou shalt die, as the uncircumcised, at the hand of the stranger: for I have spoken it, saith the LORD GOD.

11. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

12. Son of man, make a lamentation for the king of Tyre, and say of him, Thus saith the LORD

GOD; Thou art a pure seal, full of wisdom, and fair beyond measure.

13. Thou art in the garden of pleasure of God, adorned with all manner of precious stones, namely, sardius, topaz, demonds, turquoise, onyx, jasper, sapphire, amethyst, emeralds, and gold. On the day thou wast created, thy timbrel and thy pipes were ready with thee.

14. Thou art as a cherub spreading abroad and covering: and I have set thee upon the holy mountain of God, to walk among the fiery stones,

15. And were without change in thy doings from the day that thou wast created, until thine iniquity was found.

16. For inwardly thou hast become full of iniquity because of thy great wickedness, and hast sinned. Therefore will I desecrate thee from off the mount of God, and will cast thee out of the fiery stones, a cherub spread abroad.

17. And because thine heart is lifted up, because thou art fair, and because thy wisdom hath deceived thee in thy splendor, therefore will I cast thee down to the ground, and make a spectacle of thee before the kings.

18. For thou hast corrupted thy sanctuary with thy great iniquity and unrighteousness. Therefore will I cause a fire to come up out of thee, and it shall devour thee; and I will make thee as ashes upon the earth, and all the world shall behold.

19. All they that know thee among the heathen shall be astonished at thee, because thou hast perished so suddenly, and canst never rise again.

20. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

21. Son of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesy against them.

22. And say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will put honour upon thee, Zidon, and will put honour upon thee, that it may be known that I am the LORD, when I shall execute judgment upon her, and she shall shew that I am holy.

23. And I will send pestilence and bloodshed among them in their streets, and they shall fall deadly wounded within by the sword, which shall go upon them every where; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24. And from henceforth there shall not be left round about the house of Israel, where their enemies are, a thorn to prick, nor a sting to hurt: that they may know that I am the LORD GOD.

25. Thus saith the LORD GOD; When I shall gather again the house of Israel from among the nations whither they are scattered, then will I shew them before the heathen that I am holy.

And they shall dwell in their land, which I have given unto Jacob my servant; 26. And they shall dwell securely therein, and build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, securely shall they dwell, when I shall execute judgment upon all their enemies round about: and they shall know that I am the LORD their GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 29

Prophecy about the kingdom of Egypt.

1. In the tenth year, on the tenth day of the twelfth month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all the land of Egypt.

3. Preach, and say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Pharaoh, king of Egypt, thou great dragon, which liest in thy waters, saying, The river is mine, and I have made it mine.

4. But I will put a bit in thy mouth, and will hang the fish of thy waters upon thy scales, and will pull thee out of thy river, and all the fish of thy waters that hang upon thy scales.

5. I will cast thee out of thy waters into the wilderness with the fishes: thou shalt fall upon the land, and shalt not be gathered nor gathered again, but shalt become the carcase of the beasts of the earth, and of the fowls of the air.

6. And all they that dwell in Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a rod of reed unto the house of Israel,

7. Which, when they took hold of him in the hand, he brake, and thrust them through the sides: but when they leaned upon him, he brake, and thrust them through the loins.

8. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will bring the sword upon thee, and will cut off both man and beast from within thee.

9. And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD, because he saith, The river is mine, and I am he that doeth it.

10. Therefore, behold, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and will make the land of Egypt desolate and waste from the tower of Syene unto the border of the land of Moor, 11. That neither cattle nor people go therein, nor dwell therein, forty years.

12. For I will make the land of Egypt desolate, I will make her border desolate, and her cities desolate, as other desolate cities, forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the heathen, and into the countries will I drive them out.

13. But thus saith the LORD GOD; When the forty years are expired, I will gather the Egyptians again out of the nations, and they shall be scattered abroad,

14. And I will turn the prison of Egypt, and bring them again into the land of Pathros, which is their fatherland, and there they shall be a little kingdom.

15. For they shall be small against other kingdoms, and shall reign no more over the heathen: and I will make them small, and they shall reign no more over the heathen, 16. That the house of Israel trust no more in them, and sin in them, when they cleave unto them: and they shall know that I am the LORD GOD.

17. And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first day of the first month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

18. Son of man, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon brought his army before Tyre with great difficulty, so that all the heads were bald and all the sides were sore, and yet neither he nor his army was rewarded for his work before Tyre.

19. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will give to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon the land of Egypt, and he shall take away all their goods, and spoil them, and plunder them, and give pay unto his army.

20. But the land of Egypt will I give him for his work which he hath done therein: for they have served me, saith the LORD GOD.

21. In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to grow, and will open thy mouth among them, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 30

Prophecy about the land of Egypt and the king Pharaoh.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Heulet (and say), O woe to the day!
3. For the day is at hand, yea, the day of the LORD is at hand, a dark day: the time is come for the Gentiles to come.
4. And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and the land of Moor shall be afraid, when the slain of Egypt shall fall, and her people shall be carried away, and her foundations shall be thrown down.
5. The land of Moor, and Libya, and Lydia, and all the rabble, and Chub, and they that are of the land of the covenant, shall fall by the sword with them.
6. Thus saith the LORD; The patrons of Egypt shall fall, and the arrogance of their power shall come down; from the tower of Syene they shall fall by the sword, saith the LORD, 7. And they shall be desolate, as their desolate border, and their cities shall be desolate among other desolate cities,
8. That they may know that I am the LORD, when I make a fire in Egypt, and all that help them shall be destroyed.
9. In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships to terrorize the land of Moor, which is now so secure; and there shall be terror among them, as there was among Egypt, when their time came: for, behold, it cometh surely.
10. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will remove the multitude from Egypt by Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon.
11. For he, and his people with him, and the oppressors of the heathen, are brought to destroy the land, and shall draw out their swords against Egypt, and the land shall be full of slain in every place.
12. And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land to evil men, and will make the land desolate, and all that is therein, by strangers. I the LORD have spoken it.
13. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will cut off the idols of Noph, and will destroy the idols; and Egypt shall have no more ruler; and I will send a terror into the land of Egypt.
14. I will make Pathros desolate, and I will kindle a fire in Zoan, and I will cause judgment to pass over No.
15. I will pour out my fury upon Sin, which is a stronghold of Egypt; and I will cut off the multitude from Noah.

16. I will kindle a fire in Egypt, and Sin shall be afraid; and No shall be torn, and Noph shall be troubled daily.
17. The young men of On and Bubasto shall fall by the sword, and the women shall be carried away captive.
18. Tachpanhes shall have a dark day, when I shall break the yoke of Egypt, and the proudness of her power shall be ended therein: she shall be covered with clouds, and her daughters shall be carried away captive.
19. And I will execute judgment upon Egypt, and they shall know that I am the LORD.
20. And it came to pass in the eleventh year, on the seventh day of the first month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
21. Son of man, I will break the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and, behold, it shall not be bound up, that it may heal; neither shall it be bound up with bands, that it may be strong, nor hold a sword.
22. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will break Pharaoh king of Egypt's arms, both strong and weak; and the sword shall be taken out of his hand.
23. And will scatter the Egyptians among the heathen, and drive them out into the countries.
24. But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword into his hand; and I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he shall whimper before him as one mortally wounded.
25. Yea, I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall, that they may know that I am the LORD, when I put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, that he may draw it upon the land of Egypt,
26. And I will scatter the Egyptians among the heathen, and will drive them out into the countries, that they may know that I am the LORD.
- (Ezekial)

Chapter 31

The previous prophecy is confirmed.

1. And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the third month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, say unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and unto all his people, To whom thinkest thou that thou art like unto thy glory?

3. Behold, Assyria was like a cedar tree in Lebanon, of goodly boughs, and thick of foliage, and very high; and the top thereof stood tall under great and thick branches.

4. The waters made him great, and the deep made him to grow up. The rivers thereof went round about his tribe, and the streams thereof unto all the trees of the field: 5. Therefore it grew taller than all the trees of the field, and had many branches and long boughs; for it had water enough to spread itself out.

6. All the fowls of the air made their nests in his boughs, and all the beasts of the field had young under his branches; and under his shadow dwelt all the great nations.

7. It had beautiful branches, large and long; for its roots had much water; 8. And there was no cedar tree like unto him in the garden of God, neither were the fir trees like unto his branches, neither were the chestnut trees like unto his boughs. Yea, he was as beautiful as no tree in the garden of GOD.

9. I made him so beautiful that he got so many branches that all the funny trees in the garden of God envied him.

10. Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because he was so high, that the top of his head was under great branches, high and thick; and his heart was lifted up, because he was so high, 11. Therefore I delivered him into the hand of the mightiest of the heathen, who dealt with him, and cast him out, as he deserved with his wickedness,

12. That strangers should cut him off, even the tyrants of the heathen, and scatter him; and his boughs should lie upon the mountains, and in all the valleys, and his branches should be broken by all the rivers of the land; that all the nations of the earth should depart from his shadow, and forsake him;

13. And all the fowls of the air sat upon his fallen trunk, and all the beasts of the field lay upon his branches,

14. That henceforth no tree by the waters may be lifted up from his height, that the top thereof may be under great and thick branches, neither may any tree by the waters be lifted up above the rest: for they must all be brought down to the earth, and be delivered unto death, as other men that go down to the pit.

15. Thus saith the LORD GOD; In the day that he went down to hell, I made a mourning for him, that the deep covered him, and his rivers stood still; and the great waters could not run, and made Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field to wither above him.

16. And I affrighted the heathen, when they heard him fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that go down to the pit. And all the goodly trees of the earth, the noblest and the best of Lebanon, and all that stood by the waters, were well pleased with him.

17. For they also went down with him to hell, to be slain with the sword, because they dwelt under the shadow of his arm among the heathen.

18. How great then thinkest thou that thou (Pharaoh) art among the goodly trees with thy glory and thy splendor? For thou shalt go down with the goodly trees into the earth, and shalt lie among the uncircumcised, slain with the sword. So shall Pharaoh and all his people be, saith the Lord GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 32

Lamentations over Egypt.

1. And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the first day of the twelfth month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, make a lamentation against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou art as a lion among the heathen, and as a dragon of the sea, leaping in thy rivers, and muddying the waters with thy feet, and making the rivers thereof turbid.

3. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will cast my net over thee with a great multitude of people, which shall chase thee into my yarn.

4. And I will remove thee unto the land, and cast thee into the field; and all the fowls of the air shall sit upon thee, and all the beasts of the earth shall be satisfied with thee.

5. And will cast thy carcase upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6. The land wherein thou swimdest, I will make it red with thy blood unto the mountains, and the rivers shall be filled with thee.

7. And it shall come to pass, when thou art gone, that I will cover the heavens, and darken the stars thereof, and cover the sun with clouds, and the moon shall not give her light.

8. All the lights of heaven will I make dark upon thee, and will make darkness in thy land, saith the LORD GOD.

9. For this cause will I make the heart of many nations afraid, when I shall cause the heathen to know thy plague, and many countries which thou knowest not.

10. Many nations shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be afraid of thee, when I flash my sword against them; and they shall be sore afraid, and their hearts shall be troubled at thy fall.

11. For thus saith the LORD GOD; The sword of the king of Babylon shall smite thee.

12. And I will cut off thy people by the sword of valiant men, and by all the tyrannies of the heathen; and they shall devastate the glory of Egypt, and all her people shall be destroyed.

13. And I will destroy all their beasts by the great waters, and they shall not make any man's foot or any beast's hoof dull.

14. Then will I make their waters pure, and their rivers shall flow as oil, saith the LORD GOD, 15. When I have made desolate the land of Egypt, and have made desolate all that is in the land, and have slain all that dwell therein, that they may know that I am the LORD.

16. This shall be the lamentation that shall be heard: yea, many daughters of the heathen shall lament over Egypt, and all her people shall be lamented, saith the LORD GOD.

17. And it came to pass in the twelfth year, on the fifteenth day of the same month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

18. Son of man, weep for the people of Egypt, and cast them down with the daughters of the strong nations under the earth unto them that go down to the pit.

19. Where then is thy lust? Down, and lie with the uncircumcised!

20. They shall fall among them that are slain with the sword. The sword is already grasped and drawn upon all their people.

21. Of these things shall the mighty men of valour say in hell, with their helpers, which are all gone down, and lie there among the uncircumcised, and slain with the sword.

22. There is Assyria buried, and all his people round about, all slain, and fallen by the sword.

23. Their graves are deep in the pit, and his people are buried round about, all slain, and fallen by the sword, because all the world feared.

24. There is Elam also buried round about with all his multitude, all of them slain, and fallen by the sword, and gone down as the uncircumcised into the earth, whereof all the world also feared: and they must bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25. They are laid among the slain with all their multitude, and lie buried round about: and they are all as the uncircumcised, and as those slain by the sword, of whom also all the world feared: and they must bear their shame with them that go down to the pit, and be left among them that are slain.

26. There lie buried Meshech and Thubal with all their multitude round about, all uncircumcised, and slain with the sword, of whom also the whole world feared,

27. And all the rest of the mighty men that fell among the uncircumcised, and went to hell with their weapons of war, and put their swords under their heads, and their iniquity came upon their bones, who also were mighty men of renown throughout all the earth: so they must lie.

28. And thou shalt be cut in pieces among the uncircumcised, and shalt lie down among them that are slain with the sword.

29. There is Edom, with her kings, and all her princes, among them that are slain with the sword, and among them that are uncircumcised, and among them that go down to the pit, which were mighty.

30. Yea, all the princes of the north, and all the Zidonians that went down with the slain, and their terrible power is put to shame, shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that are slain with the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31. These shall Pharaoh see, and be comforted with all his people that are slain under him with the sword, and with all his host, saith the LORD GOD.

32. For all the earth shall fear me, and Pharaoh and all his multitude shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that are slain with the sword, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 33

Of the office of spiritual watchmen.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, preach against thy people, and say unto them: If I bring a sword upon the land, and the people of the land take a man from among them, and make him their watchman, 3. And he saw the sword come upon the land, and blew the trumpet, and warned the people: 4. Whosoever therefore heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be warned, and the sword came and took him away, the blood thereof was upon his head;

5. For he heard the sound of the trumpets, and yet was not warned: therefore his blood be upon him. But he that taketh warning shall save his life.

6. And if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, nor warn his people, and the sword come and take away some, they shall be taken away for their sin: but I will require their blood at the hand of the watchman.

7. And now, thou son of man, I have set thee a watchman over the house of Israel, when thou shalt hear any thing out of my mouth, that thou mayest warn them from me.

8. If therefore I say unto the wicked, Thou wicked man shalt surely die; and thou sayest not unto him, that the wicked man may be warned of his nature: the wicked man shall surely die because of his wickedness, but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9. But if thou warn the wicked of his nature, that he turn from it, and he will not turn from his nature, he shall die for his sin, and thou shalt save thy soul.

10. Wherefore, thou son of man, say unto the house of Israel, Ye say thus, Our sins and iniquities are upon us, that we perish under them: how then can we live?

11. Say unto them, As surely as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his evil ways, and live. Turn ye therefore from your evil nature. Why will ye die, ye of the house of Israel?

12. And thou, son of man, say unto thy people, If a righteous man do evil, it shall not profit him that he hath been righteous: and if an ungodly man be righteous, it shall not profit him that he hath been ungodly. So also the righteous cannot live if he sins.

13. For where I say unto the righteous, Let him live; and he trusteth in his righteousness, and doeth evil; all his piety shall not be remembered, but he shall die in his wickedness which he doeth.

14. And if I say unto the wicked, Let him die, and let him turn from his sin, and do that which is right and good,
15. So that the wicked shall restore the pledge, and pay that which he hath stolen, and walk in the word of life, that he do no evil; and he shall live, and not die, 16. And all his sins which he hath done shall not be remembered: for now he doeth that which is right and good: therefore he shall live.
17. Yet thy people say, The LORD judgeth not right, when they are wrong.
18. For if the righteous turn from his righteousness, and do evil, he shall surely die for it; 19. And if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is right and good, he shall live justly.
20. Nor say ye, The LORD judgeth not righteously, when I judge you every man of the house of Israel according to his character.
21. And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our prison, in the fifth day of the tenth month, that there came unto me a man escaped from Jerusalem, saying, The city is smitten.
22. And the hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, before he that was escaped came; and he opened my mouth, until he came unto me in the morning, and opened my mouth, so that I could no more hold my peace.
23. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
24. Son of man, the inhabitants of this wilderness of the land of Israel say thus, Abraham was a few, and inherited this land: but ours is many, and we have the land more cheaply.
25. Say therefore unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Ye have devoured blood, and lifted up your eyes unto idols, and shed blood; and think ye that ye will possess the land?
26. Ye continue in murder, and in abominations, and in ravishing one another's wives, and think ye that ye will possess the land?
27. Speak unto them, saying, Thus saith the LORD GOD; As I live, all that dwell in the wilderness shall fall by the sword; and that which is in the field will I give to the beasts to eat: and they that are in strong holds and in dens shall die of the pestilence.
28. For I will make the land desolate, and will put an end to the glory thereof, and to the power thereof: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, and none shall pass through.

29. And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land utterly waste, because of all their abominations which they commit.
30. And thou, son of man, thy people speak against thee upon the walls, and under the doors of the houses, saying one to another: Come, my beloved, and let us hear what the LORD saith.
31. And they shall come unto thee into the congregation, and shall sit before thee as my people, and shall hear thy words, but shall do nothing after them; but shall whistle at thee, and live after their covetousness.
32. And, behold, thou shalt be their song, which they shall gladly sing and play. So they will hear your words and do nothing after them.
33. But when that which is to come shall come, behold, they shall know that there was a prophet among them.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 34

Of unfaithful shepherds and Christ the faithful arch-shepherd.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Woe unto the shepherds of Israel that feed themselves! Shall not the shepherds feed the flock?
3. But ye eat the fat, and clothe yourselves with the wool, and slay that which is fattened; but ye will not feed the sheep.
4. The weak ye do not care for, neither do ye heal the sick, neither do ye bind up the wounded, neither do ye heal the lost, neither do ye seek the lost; but ye rule over them sternly and harshly.
5. And my sheep are scattered, as they that have no shepherd, and are become meat for all the wild beasts, and are utterly scattered.
6. And they go astray every now and then in the mountains, and in the high hills, and are scattered abroad in all the land: and there is none that seeketh after them, or regardeth them.
7. Therefore hear, ye shepherds, the word of the LORD.
8. As I live, saith the Lord GOD, because ye make my sheep a prey, and my flock meat for all the wild beasts; because they have no shepherd, and my shepherds ask not after my flock, but are such shepherds as feed themselves, but will not feed my sheep, 9. Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD.

10. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I am against the shepherds, and will take my flock out of their hand, and will make an end of them, that they shall no more be shepherds, neither shall they feed themselves any more. I will deliver my sheep out of their mouths, and they shall eat them no more.

11. For thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will take unto me my own flock, and will seek them.

12. As a shepherd seeketh his sheep, when they are gone astray from his flock; so will I seek my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places whither they were scattered, in the time of dimness and darkness.

13. I will bring them out from all nations, and gather them from all countries, and will bring them into their own land; and I will feed them in the mountains of Israel, and in all the pastures, and in all the coasts of the land.

14. I will lead them into the best pasture, and their hurdles shall be upon the high mountains of Israel: there shall they lie down in soft hurdles, and have fat pasture upon the mountains of Israel.

15. I will feed my sheep myself, and I will feed them, saith the LORD GOD.

16. I will seek that which is lost, and will bring again that which is gone astray, and will bind up that which is wounded, and will take care of that which is weak; and that which is fat and strong will I take care of, and will tend them according to their due.

17. But unto you, my flock, thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will judge between sheep and sheep, and between rams and goats.

18. Is it not enough that ye have such good pasture, and so superfluous that ye tread it under foot, and such fair borne to drink, so superfluous that ye tread in it, and make it muddy, 19. That my sheep should eat that which ye have trodden with your feet, and drink that which ye have made muddy with your feet?

20. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD unto them, Behold, I will judge between the fat and the lean sheep,

21. Because ye levy with your feet, and thrust away the weak from you with your horns, until ye scatter them all from among you.

22. And I will help my flock, that they be no more a prey: and I will judge between sheep and sheep.

23. And I will raise up unto them one shepherd to feed them, even David my servant. And he shall feed them, and be their shepherd.
24. And I the LORD will be their God: but David my servant shall be prince among them. Thus say I, the LORD.
25. And I will make a covenant of peace with them, and will cut off all the evil beasts out of the land, and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and shall sleep in the woods.
26. I will bless them, and all my hills round about, and rain upon them in due season. These shall be gracious rains,
27. And the trees of the field shall bring forth their fruit, and the land shall yield her increase: and they shall dwell safely in the land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of them whom they served.
28. And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall any beast of the earth devour them any more; but they shall dwell safely without all fear.
29. And I will raise up unto them a famous plant, and they shall hunger no more in the land, neither shall they bear their reproach among the heathen any more.
30. And they shall know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they of the house of Israel are my people, saith the LORD GOD.
31. Ye shall be the flock of my pasture, and I will be your God, saith the Lord GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 35

Prophecy against the Edomites.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it.
3. And say unto the same, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will come upon thee, O mount Seir, and stretch out mine hand against thee, and will make thee desolate.
4. I will make thy cities desolate, and thou shalt be desolate, and shalt know that I am the LORD,
5. Because ye bear everlasting enmity against the children of Israel, and put them to the sword, when they were in evil, and their sin was ended.

6. Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD GOD, I will also make thee to bleed, and thou shalt not escape blood: because thou delightest in blood, thou shalt not escape blood.
7. And I will make mount Seir desolate and waste, and no man shall walk therein, nor go thither.
8. And I will fill his mountains, and all his hills, and his valleys, and all his valleys, with dead men, which shall be slain by the sword.
9. Yea, I will make thee an everlasting desolation, and none shall dwell in thy cities: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.
10. And because thou sayest, These two nations with both countries must become mine, and we will take them, though the LORD dwell there,
11. Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD GOD, I will deal with thee according to thine anger and thy hatred, as thou hast dealt with them out of pure hatred; and I will be known unto them, when I have punished thee,
12. And thou shalt know that I the LORD have heard thy blasphemy, when thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid waste, and given to us to destroy.
13. And ye have boasted against me, and have spoken fiercely against me: I have heard it.
14. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will make thee a desolation, and all the earth shall rejoice.
15. And as thou didst rejoice over the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate; so will I do unto thee, that mount Seir shall be desolate, and all Edom: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 36

The promise of salvation

1. And thou, son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, saying, Hear the word of the LORD, ye mountains of Israel.
2. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because the enemy hath cried out against you, saying, The everlasting high places are become our inheritance.
3. Therefore prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because ye are laid waste and destroyed in every place, and are come unto the remnant of the Gentiles, and are come into the mouths of men, and are become an evil cry,

4. Therefore hear, ye mountains of Israel, the word of the LORD GOD. Thus saith the Lord GOD both to the mountains, and to the hills; to the brooks, and to the valleys; to the waste deserts, and to the desolate cities, which are a prey and a mockery to the remnant of the heathen round about;

5. Yea, thus saith the Lord GOD; I have spoken my fiery zeal against the remnant of the heathen, and against all Edom, which have taken my land with gladness of heart, and with mocking laughter, to lay it waste and to spoil it.

6. Therefore prophesy from the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains, and unto the hills, and unto the rivers, and unto the valleys, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I have spoken in my zeal and in my fury, because ye bear reproach from the heathen.

7. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD: I lift up mine hand, that your neighbours the heathen round about may bear their reproach again.

8. But ye mountains of Israel shall green again, and bring forth your fruit unto my people Israel: and it shall be in a little season.

9. For, behold, I will turn again unto you, and look upon you, and ye shall be built, and ye shall be sown,

10. And I will multiply the people among you, all Israel: and the cities shall be inhabited again, and the deserts built.

11. Yea, I will multiply you of men and of cattle, and ye shall increase and grow. And I will restore you to your former habitation, and will do you more good than ever before: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

12. I will bring you men to be my people Israel, and they shall possess thee: and thou shalt be their inheritance, and shalt no more be without an heir.

13. Thus saith the LORD GOD; Because it is said of you, Thou hast devoured men, and hast made thy people without heirs,

14. Thou shalt not therefore eat any more people, neither shalt thou make thy people without heirs, saith the LORD GOD.

15. And I will not cause thee to hear the reproach of the heathen any more; neither shalt thou bear the scorn of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou make thy people without. Heirs, saith the Lord GOD.

16. And the word of the LORD continued unto me:

17. Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their land, and defiled it with their manner and doings, their manner was before me as the uncleanness of a woman in her sickness, 18. Then poured I out my wrath upon them for the blood which they had shed in the land, and polluted it with their idols.

19. And I scattered them among the heathen, and dispersed them abroad, and judged them according to their manner and doings. .

20. And they kept themselves as the heathen, whither they came, and profaned my holy name, saying of them, Is this the LORD'S people, which are gone out of their own land?

21. But I spared because of my holy name, which the house of Israel profaned among the heathen whither they came.

22. Therefore shalt thou say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the LORD GOD; I do it not for your sakes, ye of the house of Israel, but for my holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the Gentiles unto whom ye are come.

23. For I will sanctify my great name, which is profaned among you, which ye have profaned among the heathen. And the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the LORD GOD, when I shew myself holy in your sight.

24. For I will take you out of the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and bring you again into your own land.

25. And I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean from all your filthiness; and from all your idols will I cleanse you.

26. And I will give you a new heart, and a new spirit within you; and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and will give you a heart of flesh.

27. And I will put my spirit within you, and will make you such men as will walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them.

28. And ye shall dwell in the land which I gave unto your fathers, and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29. I will rid you of all your filthiness, and will call for the grain, and will multiply it, and will not suffer you to be troubled:

30. I will multiply the fruit of the trees, and the increase of the field, and the heathen shall no more mock you with plague.

31. Then shall ye remember your evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall repent of your sin and your idolatry.

32. These things will I do, not for your sakes, saith the LORD, that ye may know them; but ye shall be ashamed and red with shame, ye of the house of Israel, because of your nature.

33. Thus saith the LORD GOD; In that day, when I shall cleanse you from all your sins, I will restore the cities, and the deserts shall be built again.

34. The desolate land shall be plowed again, because it was desolate; and all that pass through it shall see it,

35. Saying, This land was desolate, and now is as a garden of pleasure; and these cities were ruined, and desolate, and broken up, and now are established.

36. And let the remnant of the heathen round about you know that I am the LORD, which build up that which was broken, and plant that which was waste. I the LORD say it, and do it.

37. Thus saith the LORD GOD; I will ask of the house of Israel again, and I will shew myself in them; and I will multiply them as a flock.

38. As a holy flock, as a flock at Jerusalem in her strongholds; so shall the desolate cities be filled with flocks of men; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 37

Redemption and unification of the Israelites, confirmed by example.

1. And the hand of the LORD came upon me, and brought me forth in the spirit of the LORD, and set me in a wide field, which was full of legs.

2. And he led me through all these places. And, behold, there was much in the field, and, lo, they were very withered.

3. And he said unto me, Son of man, thinkest thou that these legs shall live again? And I said, O Lord, thou knowest it.

4. And he said unto me, Prophecy of these legs, and speak unto them: Ye withered legs, hear the word of the LORD.

5. Thus saith the LORD of these bones, Behold, I will put a breath in you, and ye shall live.

6. I will give you veins, and flesh shall grow upon you, and cover you with skin; and I will give you breath, and ye shall live again: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

7. And I prophesied as I was commanded: and, behold, there was a noise as I prophesied; and, behold, there was a stirring. And the bones came together again, every one to his own bones.

8. And I looked, and, behold, veins and flesh grew upon them, and he covered them with skin; but there was no breath in them yet.

9. And he said unto me, Prophecy unto the wind; prophecy, thou son of man, and say unto the wind, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Wind, come forth out of the four winds, and blow upon these that are slain, that they may live again.

10. And I prophesied as he commanded me. And the breath came into them, and they revived, and stood upon their feet. And there was a very great host of them.

11. And he said unto me, Son of man, these legs are all the house of Israel. Behold, now they say, Our legs are withered, and our hope is lost, and is done with us.

12. Therefore prophecy, and say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will open your graves, and will bring you out of them, my people, and will bring you into the land of Israel; 13. And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, and brought you out of them, my people.

14. And I will put my spirit within you, and ye shall live again; and I will set you in your land, and ye shall know that I am the LORD. I speak it, and do it, saith the LORD.

15. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

16. Son of man, take thee a wood, and write upon it, Judah, and the children of Israel, and their servants. And take thee another wood, and write thereon, The wood of Joseph, even the wood of Ephraim, and of all the house of Israel, and of their servants, 17. And put one thing together with another, that it may be a wood in thine hand.

18. Then thy people shall say unto thee, saying: Wilt thou not show us what thou meanest by this?

19. Say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will take the wood of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and their servants the tribes of Israel, and will put them with the wood of Judah, and make them a wood, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20. And thou shalt hold in thine hand the timbers which thou hast written thereon; that they may see.

21. And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I will bring the children of Israel out of the heathen, whither they are gone, and will gather them every where, and will bring them again into their own land.

22. And I will make one people of them in the land of mount Israel, and they shall all have one king; and they shall no more be divided into two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms,

23. Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, and with their abominations, and with all manner of sins. And I will bring them out of all the places where they have sinned, and will cleanse them, and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

24. And David my servant shall be their king, and the shepherd of them all. And they shall walk in my statutes, and keep my commandments, and do them.

25. And they shall dwell in the land which I gave unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers dwelt. And they, and their children, and their children's children, shall dwell therein for ever: and my servant David shall be their ruler for ever.

26. And I will make a covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will preserve them, and multiply them; and my sanctuary shall be among them for ever.

27. And I will dwell among them, and will be their God, and they shall be my people, 28. That the heathen also may know that I am the LORD which sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary shall be among them for ever. (Ezekial)

Chapter 38

From Gog and Magog.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

2. Son of man, turn thou against Gog, which is in the land of Magog, and is the chief prince in Meshech and Thubal, and prophesy of him.

3. And say, Thus saith the LORD Gag; Behold, I will be with thee, Gag, which art the chief prince of the lords of Meshech and Tubal.

4. Behold, I will compass thee about, and put a bridle in thy mouth, and will bring thee forth with all thy host, horse and man, all clothed, and a great company of them, all bearing sabres, and shield, and sword.

5. Thou hast with thee Persians, and Moors, and Libyans, all bearing shields and helmets, 6. And Gomer, and all his host, and the house of Togarmah, which lieth on the north side, and all his host: thou hast a great people with thee.

7. Therefore prepare thyself, thou, and all thy companies that are with thee, and be thou captain of them.

8. After a long time thou shalt be visited. In the latter days thou shalt come into the land that was brought again by the sword, and gathered out of many nations, even into the mountains of Israel, which have been desolate for a long time, and are now brought out of many nations, and all dwell safely.

9. Thou shalt go up, and come with great boldness, and shalt be as a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy host, and the great people with thee.

10. Thus saith the LORD GOD; In that day shalt thou undertake these things, and shalt have them in thy mind wickedly.

11. And remember: I will invade the land without walls, and will come upon them that dwell quietly and securely, as they all sit without walls, and have neither bars nor gates, 12. That thou mayest spoil and plunder, and let thine hand go upon the spoiled that are inhabited again, and upon the people that are gathered out of the heathen, and have sent for food and goods, and dwell in the midst of the land.

13. And the Arabian kingdom, and Dedan, and the merchants of the sea, and all the mighty men that are therein, shall say unto thee, I think that thou art come to plunder, and hast gathered thy multitude to plunder, that thou mayest take away silver and gold, and gather cattle and goods, and make a great plunder.

14. Therefore prophesy, thou son of man, and say unto Gog: Thus saith the LORD Gog; Is it not so, that thou shalt know when my people Israel shall dwell safely?

15. And thou shalt come out of thy place, even from the north country, thou, and a great company with thee, all of them on horseback, a great multitude, and a mighty host.

16. And thou shalt come up upon my people Israel as a cloud to cover the land. This shall come to pass in the latter days. And I will bring thee into my land, that the heathen may know me, as I am sanctified in thee, O Gog, in their sight;

17. Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou art he of whom I spake in time past by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in that day, that I would bring thee upon them.

18. And it shall come to pass in those days, when Gog shall come upon the land of Israel, saith the LORD GOD, that my wrath shall come up in my fury.

19. And I speak these things in my zeal, and in the fire of my wrath. For in that day there shall be great trembling in the land of Israel,

20. And the fishes of the sea shall tremble at my presence, and the fowls of the air, and the cattle of the field, and every living thing that moveth upon the face of the earth, and every man that is upon the earth; and the mountains shall be turned back, and the walls and all the ramparts shall fall to the ground.

21. And I will call for a sword upon him upon all my mountains, saith the LORD GOD; and every man's sword shall be against every man's sword.

22. And I will judge him with pestilence and blood; and I will rain down downpours of fire and brimstone upon him, and upon his army, and upon the great people that are with him.

23. I will therefore be glorious, and holy, and known before many nations, that they may know that I am the LORD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 39

Of the defeat of Gog and Magog, and the victory of the people of God.

1. And thou, son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Behold, I am against thee, Gog, who art the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal.

2. Behold, I will turn thee about, and lure thee, and bring thee out of the ends of the midst, and make thee come upon the borders of Israel.

3. And I will strike thy bow out of thy left hand, and cast thine arrows out of thy right hand.

4. Upon the mountains of Israel shalt thou be laid, thou, and all thy host, and the people that are with thee. I will give thee to the fowls whence they fly, and to the beasts of the field to eat.

5. Thou shalt lie down in the field: for I the LORD have said it.

6. And I will cast fire upon Magog, and upon them that dwell safely in the isles; and they shall know that I am the LORD.
7. For I will make known my holy name among my people Israel, and will no more profane my holy name; but the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel.
8. Behold, it is come and is done, saith the LORD GOD; this is the day of which I spake.
9. And the citizens of the cities of Israel shall go out, and make fire, and burn the weapons, and the shields, and the tartars, and the bows, and the arrows, and the fist staves, and the long spears, and shall keep fire therewith seven years,
10. That they take not wood out of the field, nor hew wood out of the wood: but of weapons they shall keep fire; and they shall rob, of whom they are robbed; and they shall plunder, of whom they are plundered, saith the LORD GOD.
11. And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place to be buried in Israel, even the valley of the sea eastward: and they that pass by shall be afraid of it, because Gog and his multitude are buried there: and the valley shall be called Gog's valley.
12. And the house of Israel shall bury them seven months, that the land may be cleansed.
13. Yea, all the people of the land shall bury in them, and shall glory in that I have that day shewed my glory, saith the LORD GOD.
14. And they shall set apart men to go about the land continually, and with them the grave-diggers to bury the remnant of the land, that it may be cleansed: after seven months shall they search.
15. And they that go about the land, and see a man's bone, shall set up a mark thereat, until the grave-diggers bury it also in the valley of Gog.
16. So shall the name of the city be called Hamonah. So they shall cleanse the land.
17. Now therefore, thou child of man, thus saith the LORD GOD; Say unto all fowls whence they fly, and unto all beasts of the field, Gather yourselves together, and come hither. Gather yourselves together on every side unto my sacrifice, which I will slay for you, a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel; and eat flesh, and drink blood.

18. The flesh of the mighty shall ye eat, and the blood of the princes of the earth shall ye drink, of rams, and of rams, and of goats, and of oxen, all of them fat and well fattened.

19. And ye shall eat the fat, that ye may be filled; and ye shall drink the blood, that ye may be drunken with the sacrifice which I kill for you.

20. Fill yourselves therefore over my table with horses, and with horsemen, and with mighty men, and with all manner of men of war, saith the LORD GOD.

21. And I will bring my glory among the Gentiles, and all the Gentiles shall see my judgment which I have executed, and my hand which I have laid upon them,

22. And so the house of Israel shall know that I the LORD am their God from that day forward, 23. And the heathen know how that the house of Israel was carried away for their iniquity, and that they had sinned against me. Therefore have I hid my face from them, and delivered them into the hand of their adversaries, that they should all fall by the sword.

24. I have done unto them according to their sin and transgression, and have hid my face from them.

25. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; Now will I turn the prison of Jacob, and have mercy upon all the house of Israel, and will be jealous for my holy name.

26. And they shall bear their reproach, and all their sin, because they have sinned against me, when they dwell safely in their own land, that no man may affright them, 27. And I brought them again out of the nations, and gathered them out of the countries of their enemies, and was sanctified in them in the sight of many nations.

28. So they shall know that I the LORD am their God, which have led them away among the heathen, and have gathered them again into their own land, and have not left one of them there.

29. And I will hide my face from them no more: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 40

Of the new temple's outhouse.

1. In the five and twentieth year of our imprisonment, in the beginning of the year, on the tenth day of the month, which is the fourteenth year after the city was smitten, the same day the hand of the LORD came upon me, and brought me thither.

2. By divine visions, namely, into the land of Israel; and I stood upon a very high mountain, and there was there like a city built from the south.

3. And when he had brought me thither, behold, there was a man in the likeness of brass, having a cord of linen, and a measuring rod in his hand, standing under the gate.

4. And he said unto me, Son of man, behold, and hearken diligently, and mark the things which I shall shew thee. For therefore art thou brought, that I might shew thee these things, that thou mightest shew all these things, which thou seest here, unto the house of Israel.

5. And, behold, there went out a wall round about the house. And the man had a measuring rod in his hand, which was six cubits long; every cubit was a handbreadth longer than a cubit. He measured the width of the building by one rod, and the height by one rod.

6. And he came to the gate that was toward the east, and went up by his steps, and measured the thresholds of the gate, every threshold a rod broad.

7. And the chambers that were by the gate on either side measured he a rod by the length, and a rod by the breadth: and the space between the chambers was five cubits. And he measured also the thresholds of the gate of the hall from within one cubit.

8. And he measured the hall at the gate from within a rod.

9. And the hall of the gate measured eight cubits, and the bays thereof two cubits, and the hall from within the gate.

10. And the chambers were on every side three at the gate eastward, every one as wide as the other: and on both sides were bays of the same size.

11. And afterward he measured the breadth of the door of the gate, even ten cubits; and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.

12. And in the front of the chambers there was room on either side, every cubit: but the chambers were six cubits on either side.

13. And he measured the gate from the roof of the chamber unto the roof of the gate, twenty and five cubits broad; and the door was over against the door.

14. He made also oriels threescore cubits, and before every oriel a court by the gate round about.

15. And unto the porch of the inner gate, where they go in, were fifty cubits.

16. And there were narrow windows in the chambers, and in the oriels round about, at the gate round about. And there were windows in the inner parts of the halls round about, and palm trees in the oriels round about.

17. And he brought me to the outer court: and, behold, there were chambers and a pavement made round about in the court, and thirty chambers in the pavement.

18. And the higher pavement was at the gates, as long as the gates were, at the lower pavement.

19. And he measured the breadth of the lower gate before the inner court, an hundred cubits without, both toward the east and toward the north.

20. And he measured the gate that was toward the north, by the outer court, by the length thereof, and by the breadth thereof.

21. Which had also on every side three chambers, and had also his bays and halls, as great as at the former gate, fifty cubits the length, and twenty and five cubits the breadth.

22. And he had also his windows, and his halls, and his palm tree, as the gate eastward: and he had seven steps to go up, and his hall before it.

23. And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate that was northward and eastward, and measured an hundred cubits from gate to gate.

24. Afterward he brought me toward the south, and, behold, there was also a gate toward the south: and he measured the oriels thereof, and the halls thereof, like unto the rest.

25. They also had windows and halls round about, like unto those windows, fifty cubits long, and twenty and five cubits broad.

26. And there were also seven steps up, and a hall before it, and palm trees in the bays thereof on every side.

27. And he measured also the gate of the inner court toward the south, an hundred cubits from the one south gate unto the other.

28. And he brought me on through the south gate into the inner court: and he measured the same gate toward the south, as great as the rest,

29. With his chambers, and oriels, and halls, and windows thereof, as great as those round about, fifty cubits long, and twenty and five cubits broad.

30. And there went round about a hall twenty and five cubits long, and five cubits broad.

31. This stood in the front of the outer court, and had also palm trees in the oriels; but there were eight steps to go up.

32. And afterward he brought me to the inner gate toward the east, and measured the same as the other gates,

33. with his chambers, and his oriels, and his halls, and his windows, and his halls round about, as great as the others, fifty cubits long, and twenty and five cubits broad.

34. And had also a hall toward the outer court, and palm trees in the oriels on either side, and eight steps up.

35. And afterward he brought me to the gate toward the north, which he measured to be as great as the rest,

36. with his chambers, oriels, and halls, and their windows and halls round about, fifty cubits long, and twenty and five cubits broad.

37. And had also a hall toward the outer court, and palm trees in the oriels on either side, and eight steps up.

38. And down by the oriels of every gate was a chamber with a door, wherein they washed the burnt offering.

39. And in the hall that was before the gate were two tables on every side, whereon the burnt offerings, and the sin offerings, and the trespass offerings, were to be offered.

40. And on the other side, on the way up to the gate, toward the north, were two tables; and on the other side, under the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41. So there were four tables on every side before the gate: that is, eight tables in the midst, whereon they slew.

42. And the four tables made for the burnt offering were of hewn stones, each a cubit and a half long and broad, and a cubit and a half high: and there were laid thereon all manner of vessels for the slaying of burnt offerings and sacrifices.

43. And there went round about bars bent inward, upward of a cross hand. And on the tables they were to lay the flesh of the sacrifice.

44. And without the inner gate were chambers for the singers in the inner court: one on the side, beside the gate at midnight, which looked toward the south; the other on the side toward the east, which looked toward the midnight.

45. And he said unto me, The chamber toward the south belongeth unto the priests that minister in the house;

46. But the chamber toward the north belongeth unto the priests that minister upon the altar.

These are the children of Zadok, which alone among the children of Levi shall come before the LORD to minister unto him.

47. And he measured the place of the house, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, squarely: and the altar was before the temple.

48. And he brought me in unto the hall of the temple, and measured the hall five cubits on every side, and the gate three cubits on every side.

49. And the hall was twenty cubits long, and eleven cubits broad, and had steps to go up; and pillars were at the bottom of the bays, one on each side.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 41

Description of the inner temple.

1. And he brought me into the temple, and measured the bays of the walls, which were six cubits on every side, according to the breadth of the house.

2. And the door was ten cubits broad, and the walls on either side of the door were every five cubits broad. And he measured the room of the temple; which was forty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth.

3. And he went in within, and measured the door, two cubits: and the door was six cubits, and the breadth of the door seven cubits.

4. And he measured twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, by the temple. And he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5. And he measured the wall of the house, six cubits high; and there were courses round about it, divided into chambers, four cubits broad on every side.

6. And there were thirty and three of them on every side, one by one: and there were pillars by the walls of the house round about, which bare them.
7. And above these were more passages round about, and above were the passages wider, that one went out of the lower into the middle, and out of the middle into the upper.
8. And each stood six cubits above the other.
9. And the breadth of the upper courses was five cubits, and the pillars bare the courses of the house.
10. And there was from the wall of the house to the wall of the house twenty cubits.
11. And there were two doors at the snail's mouth, one toward the north, and the other toward the south: and the snail's mouth was five cubits wide.
12. And the wall toward the west was seventy and five cubits broad, and ninety cubits long.
13. And he measured the length of the house, which was an hundred cubits, and the wall thereof, and all that was therein.
14. And the breadth of the front of the house toward the east, with the things that hung thereon, was also an hundred cubits.
15. And he measured the length of the building, and all that was therein, from one corner to the other, an hundred cubits on every side, with the inner temple, and the halls of the court.
16. with the doors, and the windows, and the corners, and the three courses, and the table-work round about.
17. He measured also how high from the earth to the windows, and how broad the windows should be; and measured from the gate unto the holy of holies, outward and in turning round about.
18. And all about the house, from beneath to the top of the door, and upon the walls, were cherubims and palm trees made under the cherubims.
19. And every cherub had two heads, on the one side like the head of a man, and on the other like the head of a lion.
20. And from the floor unto the top of the door were carved the cherubims and the palm trees, and the wall of the temple.

21. And the door of the temple was foursquare, and all things were well joined together.

22. And the altar of wood was three cubits high, and two cubits long and broad; and the corners thereof, and all the sides thereof, were of wood. And he said unto me, This is the table that shall stand before the LORD.

23. And the door, both of the temple, and of the holy of holies, 24. had two leaves, which one did open and close.

25. And there were also cherubims and palm trees upon it, as upon the walls. And before it were strong bars against the hall.

26. And there were narrow windows, and much palm-work about the hall, and about the walls.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 42

Of the temple outbuildings.

1. And he brought me out unto the outer court northward, under the chambers that were over against the building that hung upon the temple, and over against the temple northward, 2. Which place was an hundred cubits long from the gate toward the north, and fifty cubits broad.

3. Twenty cubits were toward the inner court, and toward the pavement in the outer court, and thirty cubits from one corner to another.

4. And within the chambers was a place ten cubits broad before the doors of the chambers: all this was toward the north.

5. And above these chambers were other chambers narrower: for the space of the lower and middle chambers was not large.

6. For it was three chambers high, and yet had no pillars, as the courts had pillars, but were badly set one upon another.

7. And the outer court was compassed about with a wall, where the chambers were: the wall was fifty cubits long.

8. And the chambers were one after another, even fifty cubits, in the outer court: but the space before the temple was an hundred cubits;

9. And down before the chambers was a place toward the east, as one went out of the outer court: 10. And by the wall of the east were chambers also.

11. And there was also a place before it, as before those chambers, toward the north: and all was the same in length, and in breadth, and in all that was therein, as it was above in them.

12. And at noon there were also the same chambers with their doors: and before the place was the door at noon, to which one cometh from the wall that lieth on the east.

13. And he said unto me, The chambers toward the north, and the chambers toward the south, which are toward the temple, are of the sanctuary, wherein the priests eat, when they offer the most holy sacrifice unto the LORD. And they shall put therein the most holy sacrifices, the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering: for it is a holy place.

14. And when the priests go in, they shall not go out again of the sanctuary into the outer court, but shall first lay aside their garments wherein they ministered in the chambers thereof: for they are holy: and they shall put on their other garments, and then go forth among the people.

15. And when he had measured the house within, he brought me forth unto the gate toward the east, and measured it round about.

16. In the morning he measured five hundred rods.

17. And about midnight he also measured five hundred rods,

18. likewise about noon also five hundred rods.

19. And when he was come toward even, he measured also five hundred rods.

20. So the wall which he measured was fourscore and five hundred rods on every side round about, that the holy might be divided from the unholy.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 43

Of the new temple's glory, worship, and dedication.

1. And he brought me again unto the gate toward the east.

2. And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the east, and roared as a great flood; and there was great light upon the earth from his glory.

3. And it was like the vision which I saw by the river Chebar, when I came to destroy the city.

Then fell I down on my face.

4. And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate toward the east.

5. And a wind took me up, and brought me into the inner court: and, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6. And I heard one speaking with me out of the house. And a man stood by me, 7. And he said unto me, Son of man, this is the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, wherein I will dwell for ever among the children of Israel. And the house of Israel shall no more pollute my holy name, neither they, nor their kings, by their fornication, nor by the carcases of their kings in their high places,

8. Who have set their threshold against my threshold, and their posts against my posts, that there was but a wall between me and them: and they have polluted my holy name with their abominations which they have done: therefore have I consumed them also in mine anger.

9. But now they shall put away their fornication, and the carcases of their kings, far from me: and I will dwell among them for ever.

10. And thou, son of man, shew the house of Israel the temple, that they may be ashamed of their iniquity; and let them take a clean pattern of it.

11. And if they be ashamed of all their doings, shew them the manner and pattern of the house, and the going out thereof, and the coming in thereof, and all the manner thereof, and all the manners thereof, and all the statutes thereof; and prescribe it unto them, that they may keep all the manner thereof, and all the manners thereof, and do them.

12. And this shall be the law of the house: In the height of the mountain, as far as it hath compassed it, shall it be the most holy: this is the law of the house.

13. Now this is the measure of the altar by the cubit, which is a handbreadth longer than a cubit: the foot thereof is a cubit high, and a cubit broad; and the altar reacheth up unto the brim thereof, which is a span broad round about: and this is the height thereof.

14. And from the foot of the earth unto the lower part thereof shall be two cubits high and an cubit broad: but from the small part thereof unto the great part thereof shall be four cubits high and an cubit broad.

15. And the harel four cubits high, and from the ariel above four horns.

16. And the length of the ariel was twelve cubits, and the breadth thereof twelve cubits.

17. And the top of it was fourteen cubits long, and fourteen cubits broad on every side; and the border was about half a cubit broad; and the foot thereof was a cubit high, and the steps thereof were toward the east.

18. And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the LORD, These shall be the manner of the altar in the day that it is made, to lay burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.

19. And unto the priests of Levi, of the seed of Zadok, which come before me to minister unto me, saith the LORD GOD, thou shalt give a young bullock for a sin offering.

20. And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and sprinkle it upon the four horns thereof, and upon the four corners of the topmost part thereof, and upon the borders thereof; and thou shalt make an atonement for him therewith.

21. And thou shalt take the bullock of the sin offering, and burn it in the place of the house appointed for it, even in the sanctuary.

22. And on the morrow thou shalt offer a kid of the goats, without change, for a sin offering, and shalt sanctify the altar therewith, as it is sanctified with the bullock.

23. And when thou hast made an end of atoning, thou shalt offer a young bullock without change, and a ram of the flock without change.

24. And thou shalt offer them both before the LORD; and the priests shall sprinkle salt thereon, and offer them for a burnt offering unto the LORD.

25. So thou shalt offer a goat for a sin offering every day seven days in succession: and they shall offer a young bullock, and a ram of the flock, both without change.

26. And they shall make an atonement for the altar seven days, and cleanse it, and fill his hands.

27. And after those days shall the priests offer your burnt offerings and your peace offerings upon the altar for ever on the eighth day, and after that, and I will be gracious unto you, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 44

Of the priests of the new temple and their order.

1. And he brought me again unto the gate of the outer sanctuary eastward: and it was shut.
2. And the LORD said unto me, This gate shall be shut, and shall not be opened; neither shall any man pass through it, save the LORD God of Israel, which shall pass through it; and it shall be shut.
3. But the prince excepted: for the prince shall sit under it to eat bread before the LORD: he shall enter in through the hall, and go out through the same.
4. And afterward he brought me unto the gate of the house toward the north: and I looked, and, behold, the house of the LORD was full of the glory of the LORD: and I fell upon my face.
5. And the LORD said unto me, Son of man, take heed, and see, and hearken diligently unto all that I shall tell thee of all the statutes and judgments of the house of the LORD; and take heed how thou goest in, and unto all the exits of the sanctuary.
6. And say unto the disobedient house of Israel, Thus saith the LORD GOD; Ye do exceedingly, O house of Israel, with all your abominations;
7. For ye bring strangers, uncircumcised in heart and flesh, into my sanctuary, to profane my house, when ye offer my bread, and my fat, and my blood, and to break my covenant with all your abominations.
8. And do not keep the customs of my sanctuary, but make for yourselves new customs in my sanctuary.
9. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; There shall no stranger of uncircumcised heart and uncircumcised flesh come into my sanctuary out of all the strangers that are among the children of Israel,
10. Neither the Levites, which have departed from me, and gone astray from me with Israel after their idols. Therefore shall they bear their sin.
11. And they shall minister in my sanctuary at the offices, and at the doors of the house, and in the house: and they shall kill only the burnt offering, and other sacrifices, which the people bring, and shall stand before the priests to minister unto them.
12. Because they have served them before their idols, and have given the house of Israel occasion to sin, therefore have I stretched out mine hand upon them, saith the LORD GOD, that they should bear their sin.
13. And they shall not come nigh unto me to perform the priest's office, neither shall they come nigh unto any of my sanctuary, unto the holy of holies; but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14. Therefore have I made them keepers of all the service of the house, and of all that shall be done therein.

15. But the priests of the Levites, the sons of Zadok, which have kept the statutes of my sanctuary, when the children of Israel fell away from me, they shall come before me, and minister unto me, and stand before me to offer me the fat and the blood, saith the LORD GOD.

16. And they shall enter into my sanctuary, and stand before my table, to serve me, and to keep my statutes.

17. And when they go in through the gates of the inner court, they shall put on linen garments, and have nothing on, because they minister in the gates of the inner court.

18. And they shall have linen upon their heads, and linen for their loins; and they shall not gird themselves with sweat.

19. And it shall come to pass, when they go out into the outer court unto the people, that they shall put off the garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the chambers of the sanctuary, and put on other garments, and not sanctify the people in their own garments.

20. They shall not shave their heads, neither shall they let their hair grow free, but they shall shave their hair round about.

21. Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they go into the inner court.

22. And they shall not take a widow or a reprobate in marriage, but virgins of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow left of a priest.

23. And they shall teach my people, that they may know how to keep the difference between the holy and the unholy, and between the clean and the unclean.

24. And where a matter cometh before them, they shall stand and judge, and speak after my statutes, and keep my commandments and my statutes, and keep all my feasts, and hallow my sabbaths.

25. And they shall not go and defile themselves unto any dead person, save unto father, or mother, or son, or daughter, or brother, or sister, which hath not had a husband: upon them shall they defile themselves.

26. And after his cleansing he shall be numbered seven days.

27. And when he goeth again into the sanctuary into the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the LORD GOD.

28. But the inheritance which they shall have, that will I myself be. Therefore shall ye not give them a land of their own in Israel: for I am their inheritance.

29. They shall have their sustenance of the meat offering, and of the sin offering, and of the trespass offering: and all the banished things of Israel shall be theirs.

30. And all the firstfruits and the firstborn of all the heave offerings shall be to the priests. Ye shall also give unto the priests the firstfruits of all that is eaten, that the blessing may remain in thine house.

31. But whatsoever is a carcase, or torn, whether of fowls or beasts, the priests shall not eat it.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 45

Department of the country. Law of princes. Law of the victims 1. Now therefore, when ye shall divide the land by lot, ye shall set apart a heave offering out of the land, which shall be holy unto the LORD, twenty and five thousand rods long, and ten thousand broad. The place shall be holy as far as it goes.

2. And from it shall come unto the sanctuary five hundred rods a quarter, and a space round about fifty cubits.

3. And in the same place, which is twenty and five thousand rods long, and ten thousand broad, shall be the sanctuary, and the holy of holies.

4. And the rest of the holy land shall be for the priests that minister in the sanctuary, and that come before the LORD to minister unto him, that they may have room for houses; and it shall be holy also.

5. And the Levites also that minister before the house shall have twenty and five thousand rods long, and ten thousand broad, for their part, for twenty chambers.

6. And unto the city ye shall leave a place for all the house of Israel, five thousand rods broad, and twenty and five thousand long, beside the separate place of the sanctuary.

7. And ye shall give the prince also a place on either side between the priests' place, and between the place of the city, east and west: and the east and the west shall be the same length.

8. This shall be his own portion in Israel, that my princes shall no more take theirs from my people, but shall leave the land to the house of Israel for their tribes.
9. For thus saith the Lord GOD; Ye have done long enough, ye princes of Israel; depart from iniquity and violence, and do that which is right and good; and depart from my people your casting out, saith the Lord GOD.
10. Ye shall have right weight, and right bushels, and right measure.
11. The ephah and the bath shall be the same, that the bath may be the tenth part of the homer, and the ephah also the tenth part of the homer: for according to the homer they shall both be measured.
12. But a shekel shall have twenty gerahs: and a mina shall make twenty shekels, twenty and five shekels, and fifteen shekels.
13. Now this shall be the heave offering which ye shall lift up, even the sixth part of an ephah of a homer of wheat, and the sixth part of an ephah of a homer of barley.
14. And of the oil ye shall give one bath, even the tenth of the Kor, and the tenth of the Homer: for ten bath make one Homer.
15. And one lamb of every two hundred sheep of the flock of the pasture of Israel for a meat offering, and for a burnt offering, and for a peace offering, to make an atonement for them, saith the LORD GOD.
16. All the people of the land shall bring such heave offerings unto the prince in Israel.
17. And the prince shall offer his burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering, upon the feasts, and upon the new moons, and upon the sabbaths, and upon all the high feasts of the house of Israel; and he shall offer sin offerings, and meat offerings, and burnt offerings, and peace offerings, to make an atonement for the house of Israel.
18. Thus saith the LORD GOD; In the first day of the first month thou shalt take a young bullock without change, and shalt cleanse the sanctuary.
19. And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and sprinkle it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the ledge of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.
20. So shalt thou do also on the seventh day of the month, when any man hath erred, or been deceived, to make an atonement for the house.

21. In the fourteenth day of the first month ye shall keep the passover, and celebrate it seven days, and eat unleavened bread.
 22. And on the same day the prince shall offer a bullock for a sin offering for himself, and for all the people of the land.
 23. And during the seven days of the feast he shall offer a burnt offering daily unto the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without issue, and one kid of the goats for a sin offering.
 24. And for a meat offering he shall offer an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and an hin of oil to an ephah.
 25. And on the fifteenth day of the seventh month he shall celebrate seven days in succession, as he did those seven days, and shall keep the sin offering, and the burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the oil.
- (Ezekial)

Chapter 46

From the place and time of the victims

1. Thus saith the LORD GOD; The gate of the inner court toward the east shall be shut the six days of the week; but on the sabbath day and on the new moon it shall be opened.
2. And the prince shall go out by heart under the porch of the gate, and stand without by the posts of the gate. And the priests shall offer his burnt offering and his peace offerings: and he shall worship in the threshold of the gate, and go out afterward. And the gate shall be open until the even.
3. Likewise the people of the land shall worship in the door of the same gate before the LORD in the sabbaths and in the new moons.
4. And the burnt offering, which the prince shall offer before the LORD on the sabbath day, shall be six lambs without issue, and one ram without issue.
5. And an ephah of a meat offering for a ram for a meat offering. And unto the lambs, as much as his hand giveth, for a meat offering, and an hin of oil for an ephah.
6. And on the new moon he shall offer one young bullock without change, and six lambs, and one ram without change,
7. And an ephah to the bullock, and an ephah to the ram for a meat offering. And to the lambs as many as he taketh; and an hin of oil to an ephah.

8. And when the prince goeth in, he shall go in by the way of the hall of the gate, and shall come out by the same way.
9. But the people of the land, when they come before the LORD in the high feasts, and go in to worship at the north gate, they shall go out by the south gate: and they that go in by the south gate shall go out by the north gate, and shall not go out again at the gate by which they went in, but shall go out straightway before them.
10. And the prince shall go in and out with them both.
11. And on the feasts and on the high feasts they shall offer for a meat offering an ephah for every bullock, and an ephah for every ram, and for the lambs as much as his hand giveth, and an hin of oil for every ephah.
12. And if the prince will offer a freewill burnt offering or a peace offering unto the LORD, then the gate shall be opened unto him toward the east, that he may offer his burnt offering and his peace offering, as he is wont to offer on the sabbath day: and when he is come out, the gate shall be shut upon him.
13. And he shall offer a burnt offering daily unto the LORD, a lamb of the first year without change: he shall offer the same every morning.
14. And every morning he shall put thereon the sixth part of an ephah for a meat offering, and the third part of an hin of oil to be drunk upon the fine flour, for a meat offering unto the LORD. This shall be a perpetual statute of the daily sacrifice.
15. And they shall offer the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt offering.
16. Thus saith the LORD GOD; When the prince of his sons giveth a gift of his inheritance unto one, the same shall remain unto his sons, and they shall inherit it.
17. And if he give any of his servants of his inheritance, they shall possess it until the year of manumission, and then it shall return unto the prince: for his part shall be inherited by his sons only.
18. Neither shall the prince take from the people any of their inheritance, neither shall he put them out of their own goods: but his own goods shall be inherited by his children, lest any of my people be scattered abroad from their possession.
19. And he brought me under the entrance of the gate toward the north, unto the chambers of the sanctuary which belonged to the priests: and, behold, there was a room there in the corner toward the west.

20. And he said unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass offering, and the sin offering, and the meat offering, that they may not carry it out into the utter court to sanctify the people.

21. And afterward he brought me forth into the outer court, and commanded me to go into the four corners of the court.

22. And, behold, every one of the four corners had another place to burn incense, forty cubits long, and thirty cubits broad, all four of them of one measure.

23. And there was a wall round about every one of the four: there were flocks made round about upon the walls.

24. And he said unto me, This is the kitchen, wherein the servants of the house shall cook that which the people offer.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 47

Fertility and frontier of the Holy Land.

1. And he brought me again unto the door of the temple. And, behold, there flowed out water from under the threshold of the temple toward the east: for the door of the temple was also toward the east. And the water ran on the right side of the temple, beside the altar toward the south.

2. And he brought me by heart unto the gate toward the north, from the outer gate toward the east: and, behold, the waters gushed out of the right side.

3. And the man went out toward the east, having the measuring line in his hand; and he measured a thousand cubits, and led me through the water until it came to my ankles.

4. And he measured again a thousand cubits, and brought me through the water, until it came to my knees. And he measured again a thousand cubits, and made me pass through it, until it came to my loins.

5. Then measured he yet a thousand cubits, and it was so deep, that I could not make a foundation: for the water was too high to swim over, and I could not make a foundation.

6. And he said unto me, Son of man, thou hast seen this. And he brought me again to the bank of the brook.

7. And, behold, there stood very many trees on the bank on either side.

8. And he said unto me, This water that floweth out toward the east shall flow through the field of the puddle into the sea, and from sea to sea: and when it is come into the sea, then these waters shall be healed.

9. Yea, every living thing that liveth and travaileth therein, whither these rivers come, shall live, and have very much fish: and every thing shall be well, and live, whither this river cometh.

10. And the fishermen shall stand by it; from Engeddi even to En-Eglaim shall the fishes be stretched out: for there shall be there a great multitude of fishes, as in the great sea.

11. But the pools and the pools beside shall not be made whole, but shall remain salted.

12. And by the same river, on the banks thereof on both sides, shall grow all manner of fruitful trees; and their leaf shall not wither, neither shall their fruit rot: and they shall bring forth new fruit every month; for their waters flow out of the sanctuary. Their fruit shall be for food, and their leaves for medicine.

13. Thus saith the LORD GOD; This is the border, according to which ye shall divide the land among the twelve tribes of Israel: for two parts belong unto the tribe of Joseph.

14. And ye shall divide it equally unto one and to another: for I have lifted up mine hand to give the land unto your fathers, and to you for an inheritance.

15. Now this is the border of the land northward from the great sea, from Hethlon even unto Zedad:

16. Hemath, and Berotha, and Sibraim, which border with Damascus and Hemath; and Hazar-tikhon, which borders with Haveran.

17. This shall be the border from the sea even unto Hazar-enon: and Damascus and Hemath shall be the end thereof northward.

18. And ye shall measure the east border between Haveran and Damascus, and between Gilead and the land of Israel, from Jordan even unto the sea eastward. This shall be the border eastward.

19. And the south border shall be from Tamar unto the waters of Hader in Kadesh, and unto the waters of the great sea. This shall be the south border.

20. And the west border shall be from the great sea even unto Hemath. This is the border of the evening.

21. So shall ye divide the land among the tribes of Israel.

22. And when ye cast lots to divide the land among you, then ye shall keep the strangers that sojourn among you, and that beget children among you, even as the inhabitants among the children of Israel;

23. And they shall have their portion in the land, every one of them of the tribe wherein he dwelleth, saith the LORD GOD.

(Ezekial)

Chapter 48

Distribution of the Holy Land. Description of the holy city.

1. These are the names of the tribes. From northward, from Hethlon toward Hemath, and Hazar-enon, and from Damascus toward Hemath: this shall Dan have for his part from the east even unto the west.

2. Beside Dan shall Asser have his part from the east even unto the west.

3. Beside Asher shall Naphtali have his part from the east even unto the west.

4. Beside Naphtali shall Manasseh have his part from the east even unto the west.

5. Beside Manasseh shall Ephraim have his part from the east even unto the west.

6. And Reuben shall have his part with Ephraim from the east even unto the west.

7. And Judah shall have his part with Reuben from the east even unto the west.

8. And beside Judah ye shall set apart a portion from the east even unto the west, the breadth and the length of twenty and five thousand rods, a portion of the portions that are from the east even unto the west: therein shall the sanctuary be.

9. And from it ye shall set apart unto the LORD a portion twenty and five thousand rods long, and ten thousand rods broad.

10. And the same holy part shall be the priest's, even twenty and five thousand rods on the north side, and on the south side, and ten thousand broad on the east side, and on the west side.

And the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.

11. This shall be sanctified unto the priests, even to the sons of Zadok, which have kept my statutes, and have not fallen away with the children of Israel, as the Levites have fallen away.
12. And this separate part of the land shall be their own, wherein is the holy of holies, beside the border of the Levites.
13. And the Levites shall have beside the priest's border also twenty and five thousand rods in length, and ten thousand in breadth: for all the length shall be twenty and five thousand rods, and the breadth ten thousand rods.
14. And they shall not sell any of it, nor change it, lest the firstfruits of the land be taken away: for it is hallowed unto the LORD.
15. But the residue of the five thousand rods in breadth against the twenty and five thousand rods in length, that shall be unholy unto the city to dwell therein, and to the suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof.
16. And this shall be their measure, four thousand and five hundred rods on the north side, and on the south side; and on the east side, and on the west side, four thousand and five hundred.
17. And the suburbs shall have two hundred and fifty measures on the north side, and on the south side; and on the east side, and on the west side, two hundred and fifty measures.
18. And the rest of the length thereof, beside that which is set apart, and that which is sanctified, even ten thousand rods toward the east, and ten thousand rods toward the west, shall be for the maintenance of them that work in the city.
19. And the labourers shall work out of all the tribes of Israel of the city,
20. That the whole separation of the twenty and five thousand rods into the four quarters might be a holy separation for the possession of the city.
21. And that which remaineth on either side, beside the separate holy part, and beside the city part, even twenty and five thousand rods toward the east, and toward the west, shall be all the prince's. And the separate holy part, and the house of the sanctuary, shall be in the midst thereof.
22. And that which is between them, between the Levites' portion, and between the city's portion, and between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be the prince's.

23. Afterward shall the other tribes be: Benjamin shall have his part from the east even unto the west.
24. And beside the border of Benjamin shall Simeon have his part from the east even unto the west.
25. Beside the border of Shimeon shall Issachar have his part from the east even unto the west.
26. Beside the border of Issachar shall Zebulun have his part from the east even unto the west.
27. Beside the border of Zebulun shall Gad have his part from the east even unto the west.
28. And beside Gad is the border toward the south, from Tamar unto the waters of Hader unto Kadesh, and toward the waters of the great sea.
29. So shall the land be divided for an inheritance among the tribes of Israel; and this shall be their inheritance, saith the LORD GOD.
30. And so shall the city be: four thousand and five hundred rods toward the north.
31. And the gates of the city shall be called by the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates toward the north: the first gate Reuben, the second Judah, the third Levi.
32. And there were four thousand and five hundred rods toward the east, and three gates: the first gate Joseph, the second Benjamin, the third Dan.
33. And at noon there were four thousand and five hundred rods, and three gates: the first gate, Simeon; the second, Issachar; the third, Zebulun.
34. And at even four thousand and five hundred rods, and three gates: one gate Gad, the other Assyria, the third Naphtali.
35. So it shall have about and about eighteen thousand rods. And then shall the city be called: Here is the LORD!

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Daniel ^

Chapter 1

Daniels and his friends upbringing and representation

1. In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah, Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon came before Jerusalem, and besieged her.
2. And the LORD delivered Jehoiakim king of Judah unto him, and certain vessels of the house of God, which he brought into the land of Shinar, into the house of his God, and put the vessels into the treasury of his God.
3. And the king spake unto Aspenas his chief chamberlain, that he should choose of the children of Israel of the royal tribe and of the sons of lords
4. boys, not infirm, but handsome, sensible, wise, prudent, and understanding, able to serve in the king's court, and to learn the Chaldean writing and language.
5. To such the king provided what should be given them daily of his meat, and of the wine which he himself drank; that, being thus brought up three years, they should afterward minister before the king.
6. Among whom were Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, of the children of Judah.
7. And the chief eunuch gave them names, and called Daniel Belteshazzar, and Hananiah Shadrach, and Mishael Meshach, and Azariah Abednego.
8. But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the king's meat, nor with the wine which he himself drank: and he besought the chief eunuch that he should not defile himself.
9. And God gave Daniel that the chief steward might be favorable and gracious unto him.
10. And he said unto him, I am afraid of my lord the king, which hath given you your meat and your drink: if he should see your faces more wretched than the faces of the rest of the children of your age, ye would deprive me of my life by the king.
11. And Daniel spake unto Melzar, to whom Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, the chief eunuch, commanded:
12. Try thy servants ten days, and give us vegetables to eat, and water to drink.
13. And then let our form be seen before thee, and the children that eat of the king's meat: and after that thou shalt see, after that thou shalt create with thy servants.

14. And he obeyed them therein, and tried them ten days.
15. And after ten days they were more beautiful and fuller in body than all the boys that did eat the king's meat.
16. And Melzar put away their meat and their drink, and gave them vegetables.
17. But the God of these four gave them skill and understanding in all writing and wisdom: but to Daniel he gave understanding in all visions and dreams.
18. And when the time was expired, which the king had appointed that they should be brought in, the chief eunuch brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.
19. And the king spake unto them, and there was found none like Daniel, and Hananiah, and Mishael, and Azariah, among them all. And they became the king's servants.
20. And the king found them ten times wiser and more understanding in all things that he asked them than all the astrologers and wise men that were in all his kingdom.
21. And Daniel lived until the first year of Cyrus the king.

(Daniel)

Chapter 2

Daniel lays out the dream image of Nebuchadnezzar.

1. In the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar had a dream, and was troubled, and awoke.
2. And he commanded all the astrologers, and the wise men, and the magicians, and the Chaldeans, to come together, and tell the king his dream. And they came and stood before the king.
3. And the king said unto them: I have had a dream, and it troubled me: and I desired to know what dream it was.
4. And the Chaldeans said unto the king in the Chaldean tongue, O king, may God grant thee long life. Tell thy servants the dream, and we will interpret it.
5. And the king answered and said unto the Chaldeans, It hath slipped my mind. If ye will not tell me the dream, and interpret it, ye shall perish utterly, and your houses shall be shamefully destroyed.
6. But if ye shall tell me the dream, and interpret it, ye shall have gifts, and offerings, and great honour from me. Therefore tell me the dream and its interpretation.

7. And they answered again, and said: Let the king saw his servants the dream, and we will interpret it.

8. And the king answered and said, Verily I perceive that ye seek respite, because ye see that it hath slipped from me.

9. But if ye will not tell me the dream, then the judgment shall be upon you, as ye have purposed to speak lies and poems before me, until the time be past. Therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye have the interpretation.

10. And the Chaldeans answered before the king, and said unto him, There is not a man upon earth that can say what the king requireth. Neither is there any king, no matter how great or powerful he may be, who can ask this of any astrologer or wise man or Chaldean.

11. For that which the king requireth is too high, neither is there any that can speak it before the king, save the gods, which dwell not with men.

12. And the king was very wroth, and commanded that all the wise men of Babylon should be put to death.

13. And the sentence came to pass, that the wise men should be put to death. And Daniel and his companions were sought to be put to death.

14. And Daniel heard the sentence and the commandment of the king's chief judge, which went out to slay the wise men of Babylon.

15. And he began to say unto Arioch the king's reeve, Why is such a stern judgment gone forth from the king? And Arioch shewed it unto Daniel.

16. Then Daniel went up, and besought the king to give him time, that he might tell the interpretation unto the king.

17. And Daniel went home, and shewed these things unto his fellows, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,

18. That they would ask mercy of God from heaven for this hidden thing, that Daniel and his companions should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.

19. Then was this hidden thing revealed unto Daniel by a vision in the night.

20. And Daniel praised the LORD from heaven, and began to say, Blessed be the name of the LORD for ever and ever: for his is both wisdom and strength.

21. He changeth the time and the hour; he removeth kings, and setteth up kings; he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and understanding unto them that have understanding; 22. He revealeth that which is deep and hid; he knoweth that which is in darkness: for with him is all light.

23. I thank thee, and praise thee, O God of my fathers, that thou hast given me wisdom and strength, and hast now revealed unto me that which we have asked of thee; that is, thou hast revealed unto us the king's cause.

24. Then Daniel went up to Arioch, which had a commandment from the king to destroy the wise men of Babylon, and said unto him thus, Thou shalt not destroy the wise men of Babylon; but bring me up to the king, and I will tell the king the interpretation.

25. And Arioch hasted and brought Daniel up before the king, and said unto him, There is found one of the captives of Judah that can give the king an interpretation.

26. And the king answered and said unto Daniel, whom they called Belteshazzar: Art thou he that can show me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27. And Daniel began before the king, and said, The secret thing which the king requireth of the wise men, and of the learned, and of the astrologers, and of the soothsayers, is not in their ability to tell the king,

28. But GOD from heaven, who is able to reveal hidden things, who revealed to Nebuchadnezzar the things that were to come to pass in the days to come.

29. Thy dream and thy vision, when thou wast asleep, were because thou, O king, wast thinking in thy bed how it would be afterward: and he that revealeth hidden things hath shewed thee how it would be.

30. Thus is this hidden thing revealed unto me, not by my wisdom, as though it were greater than all that live; but that the interpretation might be made known unto the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thine heart.

31. Thou, O king, sawest, and, behold, a very great and high image stood before thee, terrible to behold.

32. His head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his loins of brass; 33. His legs were iron; his feet were part iron and part clay.

34. These things thou sawest, until a stone was brought down without hands, which smote the image upon his feet, which were iron and clay, and brake them in pieces.

35. And the iron, and the clay, and the brass, and the silver, and the gold, were broken in pieces together, and became as the chaff of the summer threshingfloor; and the wind wove them together, that they were nowhere to be found. And the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

Thirty-six: this is the dream. Now let us say the interpretation before the king.

37. you, O king, are a king of kings, to whom GOD has given from heaven kingdom, power, strength and honor

38. And all that dwell in the midst of men, and the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the air, have he delivered into thine hand, and given thee dominion over all things. Thou art the golden head.

39. After thee shall arise another kingdom less than thine. After the third kingdom, which is ancient, which shall reign over all the earth.

40. The fourth shall be hard as iron. For as iron breaketh and bruise all things; yea, as iron breaketh all things, so shall it break and bruise all things.

41. And when thou hast seen the feet and toes of part of clay, and part of iron, it shall be a divided kingdom: but the plant of the iron shall remain in it, as thou hast seen iron mixed with clay.

42. And the toes of his feet being part iron, and part clay, it shall be part strong kingdom, and part weak kingdom.

43. And when thou hast seen iron mixed with clay, they shall be mixed together after the blood of men, but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron cannot be mixed with clay.

44. But in the days of such kingdoms God shall set up from heaven a kingdom that shall never be destroyed; and his kingdom shall come upon no other people. It will crush and destroy all these kingdoms, but it will remain forever.

45. As thou sawest a stone torn down from the mountain without hands, which brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold. So the great God showed the king how things would be afterward; and this is certainly the dream, and the interpretation is right.

46. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king fell on his face, and worshipped before Daniel, and commanded that they should offer him meat offering and incense.

47. And the king answered Daniel, and said, There is no doubt that your God is a God above all gods, and a Lord above all kings, who can reveal hidden things, because thou hast been able to reveal this hidden thing.

48. And the king exalted Daniel, and gave him great and many gifts, and made him ruler over all the land of Babylon, and set him over all the wise men of Babylon.

49. And Daniel desired of the king that he would set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego over the coasts of Babylon: and Daniel stayed with the king in his court.

(Daniel)

Chapter 3

The friends of Daniel's steadfastness and fear of God.

1. And king Nebuchadnezzar made an image of gold, threescore cubits high and six cubits broad, and set it in the land of Babylon in the valley of Dura.

2. And king Nebuchadnezzar sent for the princes, and the lords, and the governors, and the judges, and the reeves, and the counsellors, and the officers, and all the mighty men of the land, that they should come together to dedicate the image which king Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

3. And the princes, and the lords, and the governors, and the judges, and the reeves, and the counsellors, and the officers, and all the mighty men of the land, came together to dedicate the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up. And they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4. And Ehrenhold cried aloud: Let this be told you, you nations, people and tongues: 5. When ye hear the sound of the trumpets, and of the drums, and of the harps, and of the violins, and of the psalteries, and of the lutes, and of all kinds of instruments, then ye shall fall down, and worship the graven image, which Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6. And whosoever shall not then fall down and worship shall be cast into the fiery furnace from that hour.

7. And when they heard the sound of the trumpets, and of the drums, and of the harps, and of the violins, and of the psalteries, and of all kinds of instruments, all nations and people and tongues fell down, and worshipped the graven image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set.

8. And from that time certain Chaldean men came and accused the Jews, 9. And they began to say unto king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, God grant thee long life.

10. Thou hast sent forth a commandment, that when all men hear the sound of trumpets, and of drums, and of harps, and of violins, and of psalteries, and of lutes, and of all kinds of instruments, they should fall down and worship the graven image; 11. And whosoever would not fall down and worship should be cast into a fiery furnace.

12. Now there are Jewish men whom thou hast set over the offices of the land of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego: they have despised thy commandment, and have not honoured thy gods, neither have they worshipped the graven image which thou hast set up.

13. And Nebuchadnezzar commanded with fury and wrath to set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego before him. And the men were set before the king.

14. And Nebuchadnezzar began to speak unto them: How? will ye not, Shadrach, Meshach, Abednego, honour my God, and worship the graven image which I have set?

15. Come, send ye. As soon as you hear the sound of trumpets, drums, harps, violins, psalteries, lutes and all kinds of strings, fall down and worship the image I have made. If you do not worship it, you will be thrown into the fiery furnace from that hour. Let us see who is the God who will deliver you out of my hand!

16. And Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, began to speak unto king Nebuchadnezzar, saying, There is no need that we should answer thee.

17. Behold, our God, whom we honour, is able to deliver us out of the fiery furnace, and also to deliver us out of thine hand.

18. And if he will not do it, know thou that we will not honour thy gods, nor worship the graven image which thou hast set up.

19. And Nebuchadnezzar was full of wrath, and stood in a vile place against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and commanded that the furnace should be made seven times hotter than it was wont to be made.

20. And he commanded the best men of war that were in his host to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the fiery furnace.

21. So these men were bound with their coats, and their shoes, and their hats, and their other garments, and cast into the burning fiery furnace.

22. For the king's commandment must be hasted. And they stirred up the fire in the furnace, and the men that burnt Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, were consumed in the flames of the fire.

23. And the three men Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, fell down into the burning fiery furnace, as they were bound.

24. Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and said unto his counsellors: Did we not cast three men bound into the fire? And they answered and said unto the king: Yes, O king!

25. And he answered and said, Behold, I see four men loose in the fire, and they are unharmed; and the fourth is like unto him, as if he were a son of the gods.

26. And Nebuchadnezzar came near before the hole of the burning furnace, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, ye servants of GOD most high, come out, and come hither. So Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego came out of the fire.

27. And the princes, and the lords, and the governors, and the king's counsellors, came together, and saw that the fire had no power in the bodies of these men, neither was the hair of their heads singed, neither were their coats corrupted; yea, there was no smell of fire in them.

28. And Nebuchadnezzar began to say, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, which hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants, which trusted in him, and kept not the king's commandment, but offered up their bodies, to honour no god, nor to worship any but their God.

29. Now therefore this is my commandment: Whosoever of all nations, people, and tongues shall blaspheme the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, he shall perish, and his house shall be shamefully destroyed. For there is no other God who can save like this.

30. And the king gave Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego great authority in the land of Babylon.

(Daniel)

Chapter 4

Nebuchadnezzar's dream and its interpretation by Daniel.

31. King Nebuchadnezzar to all peoples, people and tongues: God grant you much peace!

32. I have seen fit to declare the signs and wonders which God Most High hath done for me.

33. For his signs are great, and his wonders are mighty; and his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion endureth for ever.

Ch. 4, v. 1: I Nebuchadnezzar, when I had good rest in my house, and was at ease in my castle,

2. I saw a dream, and was afraid; and the thoughts which I had upon my bed concerning the vision which I had seen grieved me.

3. And I commanded that all the wise men of Babylon should be brought up before me, to tell me what the dream signified.

4. And they brought up the astrologers, and the wise men, and the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but they could not tell me what it signified, 5. Till at the last Daniel came before me, whose name is Belteshazzar, after the name of my god, which hath the spirit of the holy gods. And I told the dream before him:

6. Belteshazzar, thou chief of the stargazers, whom I know to have the spirit of the holy gods, and that nothing is hid from thee, tell the vision of my dream; which I have seen, and what it signifieth.

7. And this is the vision which I saw upon my bed: behold, there stood a tree in the midst of the land, and it was very high,

8. great and thick; his height reached to heaven, and spread to the end of all the land.

9. His boughs were fair, and bare much fruit, whereof all things did eat. All the beasts of the field found shade under it, and the birds of the air sat on its branches, and all flesh fed on it.

10. And I saw a vision upon my bed, and, behold, a holy watcher came down from heaven, 11. And he cried with a loud voice, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off the boughs thereof, and strip off the leaves thereof, and scatter the fruit thereof; that the beasts that lie under it may run, and the birds flee from the branches thereof.

12. But let the rod abide in the earth with his roots: but let him walk in the field in the grass with chains of iron and brass: let him lie under the dew of heaven, and let him be wet, and let him feed with the beasts of the herbs of the earth.

13. And the heart of man shall be taken from him, and the heart of a beast shall be given unto him, until seven times shall pass over him.

14. These things are determined in the council of the watchmen: The council of the watchmen, and the conversation of the saints, that the living may know that the Most High hath power over the kingdoms of men, and giveth them to whomsoever he will, and exalteth the lowly unto them.

15. This dream have I seen, O king Nebuchadnezzar. But thou, Belteshazzar, tell me what it is: for all the wise men of my kingdom cannot tell me what it is: but thou canst, because the spirit of the holy gods is with thee.

16. And Daniel, whose name is Belteshazzar, was afraid for an hour, and his thoughts were troubled. And the king said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream and the interpretation thereof grieve thee. And Belteshazzar began to say, O my lord, that the dream were to thine enemies, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

17. The tree which thou sawest, that it was great and thick, and that the height thereof reached unto heaven, and spread abroad over all the earth,

18. And the boughs thereof were good, and the fruit thereof abundant, and all that did eat thereof; and the beasts of the field dwelt under him: And the beasts of the field dwelt under him, and the fowls of the air sat upon his boughs:

19. This is thou, O king, that art great and mighty: for thy power is great, and reacheth unto heaven; and thy dominion endureth unto the end of the world.

20. And the king saw a holy watcher come down from heaven, and say, Cut down the tree, and destroy it; but let the stump with the roots thereof remain in the earth: but let it walk in the grass of the field in chains of iron and brass, and let it lie under the dew of heaven, and let it be wet, and let it feed with the beasts of the field, until seven times be past upon it: 21. This is the interpretation, O king; and such counsel of the most High is upon my lord the king.

22. Thou shalt be cast out from among men, and shalt dwell with the beasts of the field; and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen; and thou shalt lie under the dew of heaven, and be wet, until seven times be past upon thee; that thou mayest know that the Most High hath power over the kingdoms of men, and giveth them to whomsoever he will.

23. But that it is said, Nevertheless let the stick remain with the roots of the tree: thy kingdom shall remain unto thee, when thou shalt know the power that is in heaven.

24. Therefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and cleanse thee from thy sins by righteousness, and from thine iniquity by lovingkindness unto the poor; and he shall have patience with thy sins.

25. All these things happened unto Nebuchadnezzar the king.

26. For after twelve months the king went into the royal castle of Babylon, 27. And he began to say, This is great Babylon, which I have built for a royal house by my great power, in honour of my glory.

28. Before the king had spoken these words, there came a voice from heaven, saying, Unto thee, O king Nebuchadnezzar, it is said, Thy kingdom shall be taken from thee, 29. And they shall cast thee out from among men, and thou shalt dwell with the beasts of the field; and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, until seven times be past upon thee; that thou mayest know that the Most High hath power over the kingdoms of men, and giveth them to whomsoever he will.

30. From that hour the word was accomplished concerning Nebuchadnezzar, and he was cast out of the people, and he did eat grass like oxen, and his body was under the dew of heaven, and was wet, until his hair grew as great as eagles' feathers, and his nails became as birds' claws.

31. After that time I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and came to my senses, and praised the most High. I praised and glorified him that liveth for ever, whose power is for ever, and whose kingdom endureth for ever,

32. Against whom all that dwell on the earth are counted as nothing. He doeth as he will, both with the powers that are in heaven, and with them that dwell on the earth: and no man can stay his hand, nor say unto him, What doest thou?

33. At that time I returned to my senses, and to my royal honors, and to my glory, and to my form. And my counsellors and my mighty men sought me, and I was set again in my kingdom; and I came into greater glory.

34. Therefore I praise, Nebuchadnezzar, and honour and magnify the king from heaven. For all his doings are truth, and his ways are right; and he that is proud he is able to humble.

(Daniel)

Chapter 5

The godless king Belshazzar's feast and doom.

1. King Belshazzar made a glorious feast of a thousand of his mighty men and captains, and drank with them.
2. And when he was drunken, he commanded to bring the vessels of gold and silver, which Nebuchadnezzar his father had taken out of the temple that was in Jerusalem, that the king might drink of them with his mighty men, and with his wives, and with his concubines.
3. So the vessels of gold were brought, which were taken out of the temple, out of the house of God which is at Jerusalem: and the king, and his princes, and his wives, and his concubines, drank of them.
4. And as they drank, they praised the gods of gold, and silver, and brass, and iron, and wood, and stone.
5. And at that very hour there came forth fingers, as of a man's hand writing, over against the candlestick, upon the whitewashed wall of the king's chamber. And the king perceived the hand that wrote.
6. Then the king's heart was disquieted, and his thoughts terrified him, so that his loins shook, and his legs trembled.
7. And the king cried aloud to bring up the wise men, and the Chaldeans, and the diviners: and he said unto the wise men of Babylon, What man shall read this writing, and shall know what it meaneth, that man shall be clothed in purple, and have chains of gold about his neck, and shall be the third lord in my kingdom.
8. Then were all the king's wise men brought up; but they could not read the writing, neither shewed they the interpretation unto the king.
9. Then king Belshazzar was sore afraid, and lost his form altogether; and his mighty men were afraid.
10. Then the queen went up into the hall for the king's sake, and for the sake of his mighty men, and said, O king, God grant thee long life. Let not thy thoughts so terrify thee, and be not thus discoloured!

11. There is a man in thy kingdom that hath the spirit of the holy gods. For in thy father's time there was found in him enlightenment, wisdom, and prudence, as the wisdom of the gods: and thy father king Nebuchadnezzar set him over the astrologers, and the wise men, and the Chaldeans, and the diviners,

12. Because there was found with him a high spirit, and understanding, and wisdom, to interpret proverbs, and to divine dark sayings, and to reveal hidden things, Daniel, whom the king called Belteshazzar. Call Daniel, and he will tell you what it means.

13. And Daniel was brought up before the king: and the king said unto Daniel, Art thou Daniel the prisoner of one of Judah, whom the king my father hath brought out of Judah?

14. I have heard it said of thee, that thou hast the spirit of the holy gods, and that enlightenment, understanding, and great wisdom are found in thee.

15. Now I have called before me the wise and prudent to read this scripture, and to shew me what it meaneth: and they cannot tell me what it meaneth.

16. But of thee I hear that thou canst give the interpretation, and reveal the hidden things. If thou canst read the scripture, and shew me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed in purple, and shalt have chains of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third lord in my kingdom.

17. Then Daniel began to speak before the king: Keep thy gifts thyself, and give thy present unto another: nevertheless I will read the writing unto the king, and shew what it meaneth.

18. O LORD King, GOD Most High has given your father Nebuchadnezzar kingdom, power, honor and glory.

19. And for such power as was given him, all nations, people, and tongues feared and were afraid of him. He slew whom he would; he smote whom he would; he exalted whom he would; he humbled whom he would.

20. And when his heart was lifted up, and he was proud and haughty, he was cast out of the king's seat, and lost his honour;

21. And he was cast out of men, and his heart was like unto beasts, and he walked with the wild beasts, and did eat grass like oxen; and his belly was under the dew of heaven, and was wet, until he learned that GOD Most High hath power over the kingdoms of men, and giveth them to whomsoever he will.

22. And thou, Belshazzar his son, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knowest all these things,

23. But thou hast exalted thyself against the LORD of heaven, and the vessels of his house have been brought before thee: and thou, and thy mighty men, and thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk therefrom, and praised the gods of silver, and of brass, and of iron, and of wood, and of stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor feel: but the LORD, which hath thy breath, and all thy ways in his hand, hast thou not honoured.

24. Therefore is this hand sent from him, and this writing, which is written.

25. But this is the writing recorded all there: Mene, mene, tekem, upharsin.

26. And it signifieth this: Mene, that is, God has numbered and completed your kingdom.

27. tekem, that is, they weighed you in a balance and found you too light.

28. Peresh, that is, thy kingdom is divided, and given unto the Medes and Persians.

29. And Belshazzar commanded that Daniel should be clothed in purple, and that chains of gold should be put about his neck: and he proclaimed of him that he was the third lord in the kingdom.

30. And it came to pass in the night, that Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans was slain.

(Daniel)

Chapter 6

Daniel's deliverance from the lion's den under Darius.

31. And Darius of Media took the kingdom when he was sixty and two years old.

Ch. 6, v. 1: And Darius saw fit to set over the whole kingdom an hundred and twenty governors.

2. And over these he set three princes, one of whom was Daniel, whom the governors should give account unto, and the king should be overcharged.

3. And Daniel excelled all the princes and governors: for there was a high spirit in him: therefore the king thought to set him over all the kingdom.

4. Therefore the princes and the governors sought how they might find a thing against Daniel that was against the kingdom: but they could find no thing nor iniquity: for he was faithful, that no fault nor iniquity should be found in him.

5. And the men said, We shall not find any thing to Daniel without above his service.

6. Then the princes and the governors came often before the king, and said unto him thus, O king Darius, God grant thee long life.

7. The princes of the kingdom, and the lords, and the governors, and the counsellors, and the captains, have all thought to send forth a royal commandment, and to make a strict decree, that whosoever shall ask anything of any god or man within thirty days, except of thee, O king, alone, shall be cast into the lions' den.

8. Wherefore, dear king, thou shalt confirm such a commandment, and sign thee, lest it be changed again, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which none may transgress.

9. So the king Darius signed himself.

10. And when Daniel knew that such a commandment was signed, he went up to his house; for he had open windows in his summer house toward Jerusalem. And he fell on his knees three times that day, and prayed, and praised, and thanked his God, as he had done before.

11. Then these men came often, and found Daniel praying and supplicating before his God.

12. And they came and spake unto the king of the king's commandment: O king, hast thou not signed a commandment, that whosoever shall ask anything of any god or man within thirty days, without from thee, O king, alone, shall be cast into the den of lions? And the king answered and said, It is true; and the law of the Medes and Persians shall no man transgress.

13. And they answered and said before the king: Daniel, one of the captives of Judah, regardeth not thee, nor thy commandment which thou hast written: for he prayeth three times a day.

14. And when the king heard these things, he was sore distressed, and did great diligence to deliver Daniel, and laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15. But the men came often unto the king, and said unto him, Thou knowest, O king, that it is lawful for the Medes and Persians, that all the commandments and all the statutes which the king hath ordained should remain unchanged.

16. And the king commanded that Daniel should be brought, and they cast him into the den with the lions. And the king said unto Daniel, Thy God, whom thou servest without ceasing, help thee.

17. And they brought a stone, and laid it before the door of the trench; and the king sealed it with his own ring, and with the ring of his mighty men, that none else might do evil against Daniel.

18. And the king went away into his castle, and remained uneaten, and had no meat set before him, neither could he sleep.

19. And it came to pass in the morning, when it was daybreak, that the king arose, and went in haste unto the trench where the lions were.

20. And when he was come to the trench, he called Daniel with a lamentable voice. And the king said unto Daniel, Daniel, thou servant of the living God, hath thy God, whom thou servest without ceasing, delivered thee from the lions?

21. And Daniel spake unto the king: O king, God grant thee long life!

22. My God hath sent his angel, which hath shut the lions' mouths, that they should not hurt me.

For before him I am found innocent, and have done nothing against thee, O king.

23. And the king was very glad, and brought Daniel out of the ditch. And they drew Daniel out of the trench, and there was no hurt in him: for he had trusted in his God.

24. And the king commanded the men that had accused Daniel to be brought, and to be cast into the lions' den, with their children and their wives. And before they came down to the ground, the lions took them, and brake their bones in pieces.

25. Then Darius the king wrote unto all nations, people, and tongues: God grant you much peace!

26. This is my commandment, that in all the dominion of my kingdom the God of Daniel should be feared and revered. For he is the living

God, who abideth for ever: and his kingdom is everlasting, and his dominion is without end.

27. He is a deliverer and a giver of salvation, and doeth signs and wonders both in heaven and in earth. He delivered Daniel from the lions.

28. And Daniel was mighty in the kingdom of Darius, and also in the kingdom of Cyrus the Persian.

(Daniel)

Chapter 7

Of four monarchies and Christ's everlasting kingdom.

1. In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream, and his face was upon his bed: and he wrote the dream, and wrote it thus:

2. I Daniel saw a vision in the night, and, behold, the four winds which are under heaven tempest one against another upon the great sea.

3. And four great beasts came up out of the sea, every one different from the other.

4. The first was like a lion, and had wings like an eagle. And I watched until his wings were plucked out: and he was taken from the earth, and stood upon his feet as a man, and was given a human heart.

5. And, behold, the second beast after him was like a bear, and stood on one side, and had in his mouth under his teeth three great long teeth. And they said unto him, Arise, and eat much flesh.

6. And after these things I looked, and, behold, another beast like a leopard, having four wings like a bird upon his back: and the same beast had four heads, and power was given unto him.

7. After these things I looked in this vision by night, and, behold, the fourth beast was hideous and terrible, and very strong, and had great iron teeth, and devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet: he was also much different from the beasts that were before, and had ten horns.

8. And when I saw the horns, behold, there came out from among them another little horn, before whom were plucked up three of the first horns: and, behold, that horn had eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9. I saw these things until the chairs were set: and the old man sat down, whose raiment was white as snow, and the hair of his head was as the pure wool: his chair was as the flames of fire, and the wheels thereof burned with fire.

10. And out of the same went forth a long fiery ray. A thousand times a thousand ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him. The judgment was held, and the books were opened.

11. I watched because of the great words which the horn spake; I watched until the beast was slain, and his body was consumed, and cast into the fire,

12. And the power of the other beasts was ended: for the time and the hour were determined for them, how long they should continue.

13. I saw in this vision by night, and, behold, there came one in the clouds of heaven as the son of man unto the old man, and was brought before him.

14. Who gave him power, and glory, and kingdom, that all nations, and people, and tongues, should serve him. His power is everlasting, which shall not pass away; and his kingdom shall have no end.

15. I, Daniel, was astonished at it, and such a face terrified me.

16. And I went to one of them that sat there, and besought him that he would give me a certain report of all this. And he talked with me, and shewed me what it meant.

17. These four great beasts are four kingdoms which shall come upon the earth.

18. But the saints of the Most High shall possess the kingdom, and shall possess it for ever and ever.

19. After these things I would gladly have known a certain report of the fourth beast, which was very different from all the rest, very horrible, having iron teeth and brass claws, which devoured and brake in pieces, and trodden down the rest with his feet, 20. And of the ten horns that were upon his head, and of the other which came forth, before which three fell off, and of the same horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake great things, and was greater than they that were by him.

21. And I saw the same horn fight against the saints, and prevail against them, 22. Till the Ancient of days came and held judgment for the saints of the Most High; and the time came for the saints to take the kingdom.

23. And he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon the earth, which shall be mightier than all kingdoms; it shall devour all the earth, and tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24. The ten horns are ten kings, which shall arise out of the same kingdom. And after them shall arise another, mightier than the first, and shall humble three kings.

25. He shall blaspheme the Most High, and shall disturb the saints of the Most High, and shall presume to change the time and the law. And they shall be given into his hand for a time, and for several times, and for half a time.

26. After this shall be the judgment: then shall his power be taken away, and he shall perish, and be put to death.

27. But the kingdom, and the power, and the authority under the whole heaven, shall be given to the holy people of the Most High, whose kingdom is eternal; and all authority shall serve and obey him.

28. And that was the end of the speech. But I, Daniel, was greatly distressed in my thoughts, and my form fell; yet I kept the speech in my heart.

(Daniel)

Chapter 8

End of the second and beginning of the third monarchy.

1. In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar there appeared unto me, even unto Daniel, a vision like unto that which appeared unto me at the first.

2. And I was, when I saw such a vision, in Shushan the palace, in the land of Elam, by the river Ulai.

3. And I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, a ram stood before the river, having two high horns, but the one higher than the other, and the highest growing last.

4. And I saw the ram thrusting with his horns toward the west, and toward the north, and toward the south: and there was no beast that could stand before him, nor be delivered out of his hand: but he did according to his will, and waxed great.

5. And when I perceived thereupon, behold, a he goat came from the west over all the earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a goodly horn between his eyes.

6. And he came unto the ram that had two horns, which I saw standing before the waters: and he ran mightily in his wrath toward him.

7. And I saw him come hard upon the ram, and was enraged at him, and thrust the ram, and brake his two horns. And the ram had no strength to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and no man could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8. And the kid grew very great. And when he was grown strongest, the great horn was broken: and there grew up in his place four great horns against the four winds of heaven.

9. And out of the same one grew a little horn, which became very great toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the good land.

10. And it grew up unto the host of heaven, and cast some of them, and of the stars, unto the earth, and trod them down.

11. Yea, it grew up unto the prince of the host, and took away from him the daily sacrifice, and desolated the tabernacle of his sanctuary.

12. And such power was given him against the daily sacrifice for sin, that he smote the truth to the ground, and whatsoever he did he prospered.

13. And I heard a holy man speak, and the same holy man spake unto one that spake: How long shall this vision of the daily sacrifice, and of the sin for which this desolation is made, both the sanctuary and the host, be trodden down?

14. And he said unto me, Two thousand and three hundred days, from even unto even, shall the sanctuary be consecrated again.

15. And when I, Daniel, saw such a vision, and would have understood it, behold, it stood before me like a man.

16. And I heard between Ulai a man's voice crying, saying, Gabriel, set the face of this man, that he may understand.

17. And he came hard unto me. And I was afraid when he came, and fell upon my face. And he said unto me, Take heed, thou son of man: for this vision is of the time of the end.

18. And as he spake unto me, I sank down on my face to the earth in a swoon. And he touched me, and lifted me up, and I stood.

19. And he said, Behold, I will shew thee how it shall be in the time of the last wrath: for the end hath an appointed time.

20. The ram with two horns, which thou sawest, are the kings of Media and Persia.

21. And the he goat is king in Greece. The great horn between his eyes is the first king.

22. And that four stood in his stead, when it was broken, signifieth that four kingdoms shall arise out of the people, but not so mighty as he was.

23. After these kingdoms, when the transgressors shall abound, there shall arise an insolent and treacherous king.

24. He shall be mighty, but not by his power. He shall destroy it marvellously: and he shall succeed in his work. He shall destroy the mighty with the holy people.

25. And by his prudence shall he be advised of deceit. And shall rise up in his heart, and by prosperity shall he corrupt many, and shall rise up against the prince of all princes. But he shall be broken without hand.

26. This vision of the evenings and mornings, which is told thee, it is true; but thou shalt keep the vision secret, because it is yet a long time.

27. And I Daniel was faint, and lay sick some days. And afterward I arose, and did the king's business. And I marvelled at the vision; and there was none to tell me.

(Daniel)

Chapter 9

Daniel's prayer and prophecy of the seventy weeks.

1. In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the tribe of the Medes, who reigned over the kingdom of the Chaldeans,

2. In the same first year of his reign I Daniel noted in the books the number of the years, which the LORD spake unto Jeremiah the prophet, that Jerusalem should lie desolate seventy years.

3. And I turned unto GOD the LORD, to pray and to supplicate, with fasting, in sackcloth and ashes.

4. And I prayed unto the LORD my God, confessing, saying, O Lord, thou greater and terrible God, which keepest covenant and grace unto them that love thee, and keepest thy commandments:

5. we have sinned, we have done wrong, we have been ungodly, we have gone astray; we have departed from thy commandments and thy statutes.

6. We hearkened not unto thy servants the prophets, which preached in thy name unto our kings, and to our princes, and to our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7. Thou, O LORD, art righteous: but we are ashamed, as now we pray thee, to them of Judah, and to them of Jerusalem, and to all Israel, both to them that are near, and to them that are far off, in all countries, whither thou hast cast us out for their iniquity which they have committed against thee.

8. Yea, O LORD, we, our kings, our princes, and our fathers, are ashamed, because we have sinned against thee.

9. But thine, O LORD our God, is mercy and forgiveness. For we have become apostates 10. And obeyed not the voice of the LORD our God, that we should walk in his law, which he set before us by his servants the prophets,

11. But all Israel transgressed thy law, and turned aside, because they obeyed not thy voice.

Therefore the curse and the oath, which is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, is upon us, because we have sinned against him.

12. And he hath kept his words which he spake against us, and against our judges that should judge us, in that he hath brought upon us such great calamities, that there was none like them in all heaven, as there was upon Jerusalem.

13. As it is written in the law of Moses, so all this great evil is come upon us. Neither prayed we before the LORD our God, that we might repent of sins, and receive thy truth.

14. Therefore the LORD also hath been valiant in this calamity, and hath suffered it to pass upon us. For the LORD our God is righteous in all his works that he doeth: for we have not obeyed his voice.

15. And now, O LORD our God, who hast brought thy people up out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast made thee a name, as it is now: for we have sinned, and, alas, have been ungodly.

16. O LORD, for all thy righteousness' sake turn away thy wrath and thy anger from thy city Jerusalem, and from thy holy mountain. For our sins, and our fathers' iniquities, Jerusalem and thy people are reproached of all that are round about us.

17. And now, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications; and look graciously upon thy sanctuary, which is desolate, for the LORD'S sake.

18. Incline thine ears, O my God, and hear; open thine eyes, and behold how we are distressed, and the city that is called by thy name. For we lie before thee with our prayer, not upon our righteousness, but upon thy great mercy.

19. O LORD, hear; O LORD, be merciful; O LORD, take heed, and do it, and consume not for thine own sake, O my God. For thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

20. While I yet spake and prayed, and confessed my sin, and the sin of my people Israel, and lay with my prayer before the LORD my God, about the holy mountain of my God, 21. And as I was thus speaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel, whom I saw before in the vision, flew therefore, and touched me about the time of the evening sacrifice.

22. And he told me, and spake unto me, saying, Daniel, now am I gone forth to tell thee.

23. For when thou beganst to pray, this command went forth, and I come to tell thee: for thou art good and worthy. Take heed therefore that thou understand the vision.

24. Seventy weeks are appointed for thy people, and for thy holy city: and the transgression shall be repented of, and sin shall be sealed, and iniquity shall be atoned for, and everlasting righteousness shall be brought, and visions and prophecies shall be sealed, and the most holy place shall be anointed.

25. Know therefore, and mark, that from the time when the commandment shall go forth, that Jerusalem should be rebuilt until Christ the Prince, seven weeks and threescore and two weeks, the streets and the walls shall be rebuilt, though it be in a small time.

26. And after the threescore and two weeks Christ shall be cut off, and shall be nothing. And a people of the prince shall come, and shall destroy the city and the sanctuary, and it shall be cut off as by a flood: and it shall be desolate until the end of the controversy.

27. And he shall strengthen the covenant of many for a week. And in the midst of the week the sacrifice and the meat offering shall cease. And by the wings shall stand abominations of desolation: and it is determined that desolation shall overflow unto the end.

(Daniel)

Chapter 10

Preparation for the following faces.

1. In the third year of Cyrus king of Persia there was revealed unto Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, a thing sure and of great things: and he perceived it, and understood the vision.
2. At the same time I, Daniel, was sad for three weeks.
3. I did eat no sweetmeats, neither did meat nor wine enter into my mouth: neither did I anoint myself until the three weeks were expired.
4. In the four and twentieth day of the first month was I, by the great water Hiddekel 5. And I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there stood a man clothed in linen, having a girdle of gold about his loins.
6. His body was like turquoise, his countenance looked like lightning, his eyes like a fiery torch, his arms and his feet like burning brass, and his speech was like a great sound.
7. And I Daniel saw that vision alone, and the men that were with me saw it not: but great terror fell upon them, and they fled, and hid themselves.
8. And I tarried alone, and saw that great vision. But there remained no strength in me, and I became very shapeless, and had no strength.
9. And I heard his words: and when I heard them, I bowed myself to the ground.
10. And, behold, a hand touched me, and helped me upon my knees and upon my hands.
11. And he said unto me, Thou Daniel, mark the words which I speak unto thee, and arise: for I am now sent unto thee. And when he spake these things unto me, I straightened myself, and trembled.
12. And he said unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst desire to understand with thine heart, and didst mortify thyself before thy God, thy words are heard; and I am come for thy sake.
13. But the prince of the kingdom in the land of Persia withstood me twenty and one days: and, behold, Michael, the chief prince of one, came to my help; and I prevailed with the kings of Persia.

14. But now I come to tell thee how thy people shall fare hereafter: for the vision shall be after a time.

15. And when he spake these things unto me, I bowed down my face to the earth, and held my peace.

16. And, behold, one like a man touched my lips. And I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, My lord, my joints are shaken above my face, and I have no strength.

17. And how can the servant of my lord speak unto my lord, because now there is no strength in me, neither have I breath any more?

18. And once one touched me, as one fashioned like a man, and strengthened me.

19. And said, Fear not, thou good man. Peace be unto thee; and be of good cheer, be of good cheer. And when he spake unto me, I answered and said, My lord, speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

20. And he said, Knowest thou also why I am come unto thee? Now I will go again, and fight with the prince in Persia: but when I depart, behold, the prince shall come out of Greece.

21. But I will shew thee that which is written, which shall surely come to pass. And there is none to help me against them but your lord Michael.

Ch. 11, v. 1: For I also stood with him in the first year of Darius the Mede, to help him, and to strengthen him.

2. And now I will shew thee things which shall surely come to pass.
(Daniel)

Chapter 11

Of the kings in Persia, Alexander the Great's and his descendants' quarrels, and Antiochus' tyranny.

Behold, there shall yet be three kings in Persia: but the fourth shall have greater riches than all the rest: and when he is mightiest in his riches, he shall stir up all things against the kingdom in Greece.

3. After this shall a mighty king arise, and shall reign with great power: and whatsoever he will, that shall he bring to pass.

4. And when he is come to the highest, his kingdom shall be broken up, and divided into the four winds of heaven; not upon his seed, nor with such power as his was: for his kingdom shall be cut off, and given unto strangers.

5. And the king southward, which is one of his princes, shall be mighty: but against him shall one also be mighty, and shall reign, whose dominion shall be great.

6. And it shall come to pass, after a number of years, that they shall be friends one to another: and the king's daughter toward the south shall come to the king toward the north, to make an agreement. But she shall not abide in the power of the arm, neither shall her seed stand: but she shall be delivered up with them that brought her, and with the child, and him that made her mighty a while.

7. And there shall arise one of the branches of their tribe, and he shall come with host, and shall fall upon the king about the north in his stronghold; and he shall execute it, and prevail.

8. And he shall carry away their gods, and their images, and their precious things, both of silver and of brass, into Egypt, and shall stand before the king toward the north for many years.

9. And when he shall have passed through the kingdom thereof, he shall return unto his own land.

10. But his sons shall be wroth, and shall gather together great armies: and the one shall come and go like a flood, and shall provoke the other again before his feasts.

11. And the king shall be angry toward the south, and shall go out, and fight with the king toward the north: and he shall gather together such a great multitude, that that multitude shall be given into his hand.

12. And he shall lead away the same company. His heart shall be lifted up, because he hath laid so many thousands low: but he shall not be able to do it.

13. For the king shall gather again about midnight a greater company than that which was before: and after many years he shall go forth with a great army, and with great goods.

14. And it shall come to pass in that day, that many shall sit down against the king at noon: and there shall arise some of thy people that are apostates, and shall fulfil the prophecy, and shall fall.

15. So the king shall go forth toward the north, and shall make a separation, and shall gain strong cities: and the south arm shall not be able to withstand it, neither shall his best people be able to withstand it,

16. But when he cometh to him, he will work his will; and none shall be able to withstand him.

He shall also come into the good land, and shall finish it by his hand.

17. And he shall set his face to come with the power of all his kingdom. And he shall deal with him, and shall give him his daughter to wife, to destroy him: but he shall not deal with him, neither shall any thing come of it.

18. Afterward he shall turn against the isles, and shall gain many of them. But a prince shall teach him to cease from reproach, and to revile him no more.

19. And he shall turn again to the strongholds of his land, and shall thrust himself, and fall, and shall not be found.

20. And in his stead shall arise one that shall sit in royal honour, as a minion. But after a few days he shall break, yet not by wrath, nor by strife.

21. There shall arise in his stead an unworthy man, to whom the honour of the kingdom was not given: he shall come, and shall prosper, and shall take the kingdom with sweet words.

22. And the arms that go down like a flood shall be overtaken before him as with a flood, and shall be broken, even the prince with whom the covenant was made.

23. For after he hath befriended him, he shall deal craftily against him; and shall come up, and overpower him with a small people.

24. And it shall come to pass, that he shall enter into the best cities of the land, and shall do that which his fathers, nor his forefathers, could not do, by spoiling, and plundering, and taking: and he shall seek the most strong cities, and that for a season.

25. And he shall stir up his power and his heart against the king at noon with a great host. And the king shall be provoked to battle at noon with a great and mighty host. But he shall not prevail: for treacheries shall be made against him.

26. And they that eat his bread shall help to destroy him, and shall oppress his host, and many shall be slain.

27. And the hearts of both kings shall think how they have hurt one another, and shall speak falsely one to another over one table. But they shall lack; for the end is yet for another time.

28. And afterward he shall return with great substance, and shall judge his heart against the holy covenant; and he shall perform a thing, and return to his own land.

29. After this he shall go again in due season toward the south: but it shall not be for him the second time, as it was for the first.

30. For ships shall come against him out of Chittim, and he shall despair, and turn back. And he shall be enraged against the holy covenant, and shall bring it to pass: and he shall look round about, and draw them to himself that forsake the holy covenant.

31. And his ane shall stand there; and they shall profane the sanctuary of the feast, and cast off the daily sacrifice, and set up an abomination of desolation.

32. And he shall pretend, and give good words unto the wicked that transgress the covenant. But the people that know their God shall be moved, and shall perform it.

33. And the wise of the people shall teach many others: and they shall fall by the sword, and by the fire, and by the prison, and by the spoil, for a season.

34. And if they fall, yet a little help shall come to them. But many will do to them deceitfully.

35. And of them that have understanding shall fall, that they may be proved pure and clean, until there be an end: for there is yet another time.

(Daniel)

Chapter 12

Of the Antichrist, the last times, resurrection of the dead, etc.

36. And the king shall do whatsoever he will, and shall rise up and rebel against all that is God; and against the God of all gods shall he speak abominably: and he shall prosper until the wrath be ended: for it is determined how long it shall endure.

37. And he shall not esteem the God of his fathers: he shall not esteem the love of women, nor any of the things of God: for he shall rebel against them all.

38. But in his stead shall he honour his God Maüßim: for he shall honour a God which his fathers knew not of, with gold, and silver, and precious stones, and jewels.

39. And he shall do great honour to them that help him strengthen Maussim with the strange god whom he hath chosen, and shall make them lords over great possessions, and shall give them the land for a reward.

40. And it shall come to pass, that the king shall be at the south with him: and the king shall be at the north against him with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships: and he shall fall into the countries, and destroy, and pass through.

41. And shall fall in the good land, and many shall perish. But these shall escape out of his hand: Edom, Moab, and the firstfruits of the children of Ammon.

42. And he shall send his power into the countries, and Egypt shall not escape him, 43. But he shall reign by his train over the treasures of gold and silver, and over all the treasures of Egypt, and of Libya, and of the carrots.

44. And he shall be terrified with a shout from morning till midnight; and he shall go forth with great fury, willing to destroy and to destroy many.

45. And he shall pitch the tent of his palace between two seas round about the holy mountain, until there be an end of him: and no man shall help him.

Ch. 12, v. 1: In that day shall Michael the great prince, which standeth for thy people, arise. For there shall be such a time of trouble, as hath not been since men were, until that time. In that day thy people shall be saved, all that are written in the book.

2. And many that sleep under the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to everlasting shame and dishonour.

3. And the teachers shall shine as the brightness of heaven, and they that teach many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever.

4. And now, Daniel, hide these words, and seal up this writing until the latter time; and many shall come upon it, and find great understanding.

5. And I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood two others, the one on this bank of the river, and the other on that bank.

6. And he said unto him clothed in linen, which stood by the river, When shall these miracles cease?

7. And I heard him that was clothed in linen standing by the waters, and he lifted up his right hand and his left hand toward heaven, and swore by him that liveth for ever, that it shall be for a time, and times, and half a time: and when the dispersion of the holy people is ended, all these things shall be done.

8. And I heard it: but I understood not, saying, My lord, what shall be after this?

9. And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for it is hid and sealed until the last time.

10. Many shall be cleansed, and purified, and tried: and the wicked shall walk in wickedness, and the ungodly shall not esteem it: but they that have understanding shall esteem it.

11. And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be done, and an abomination of desolation shall be offered, a thousand two hundred and ninety days:

12. Blessed is he that looketh for, and reacheth a thousand three hundred and thirty and five days.

13. But thou, Daniel, go thy way until the end come, and rest, that thou mayest arise in thy part at the end of the days.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Hosea ^

Chapter 1

The Israelite people's idolatry and punishment prefigured.

1. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Hosea the son of Beheri in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.

2. And when the LORD began to speak by Hosea, he said unto him, Go thy way, take a harlot wife and children of harlots: for the land runneth after harlotry from the LORD.

3. And he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived, and bare him a son.

4. And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel: for it is yet a little while, and I will visit the blood in Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will make an end of the kingdom of the house of Israel.

5. In that day will I break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.

6. And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And he said unto him, Call her name Lo-ryhamo: for I will have no more mercy upon the house of Israel, but I will put her away.

7. But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God: but I will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, nor by horse, nor by horseman.

8. And when she had weaned Lo-ryhamo, she conceived again, and bare a son.

9. And he said, Call his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, neither will I be yours.

(Hosea)

Chapter 2

God's covenant with his church.

10. And the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered. And it shall come to pass in the place where it was said unto them: Ye are not my people, it shall be said unto them, O ye children of the living God!

11. For the children of Judah and the children of Israel shall come together, and shall cleave to one head, and shall go up out of the land: for the day of Jezreel shall be a great day.

Ch. 2, v. 1. Say to your brethren, they are my people; and to your sister, she is in grace.

2. Speak judgment against your mother, saying, She is not my wife, and I will not have her. Put away her fornication from her face, and her adultery from her breasts, 3. Lest I strip her naked, and present her as she was when she was born, and make her as a desolation, and as a dry land, and cause her to die of thirst,

4. And I will not have mercy on their children; for they are the children of harlots, 5. And her mother is a harlot, and she that bare her is shameful, and saith, I will go after my lovers, which give me bread, and water, and wool, and flax, and oil, and drink.

6. Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and will put a wall before it, that it shall not find its way,

7. And if she go after her lovers, that she take them not, and if she seek them, that she find them not, and say: I will go again to my former husband, when I was better than I am now.

8. For she will not know that I am he that giveth her corn, and wine, and oil, and have given her much silver and gold, which they have used for Baal.

9. Therefore will I take again my corn and my wine in their season, and take away my wool and my flax, that they may cover their shame.

10. Now will I expose their shame in the sight of their lovers, and none shall deliver them out of mine hand.

11. And I will make an end of all their joys, and of their feasts, and of their new moons, and of their sabbaths, and of all their holy days.

12. I will make her vines and her fig trees desolate; because she saith, This is my reward, which my lovers give me. I will make a forest of it, and the wild beasts shall eat it.

13. So will I visit upon her the days of Baalim, to whom she burneth incense; and she adorneth herself with her headdresses and her collars, and goeth after her lovers, and forgetteth me, saith the LORD.

14. Therefore, behold, I will entice her, and will bring her into a wilderness, and will speak kindly unto her.

15. And I will give her her vineyards out of the same place, and the valley of Achor, to open her hope. And there shall she sing, as in the days of her youth, when she came forth out of the land of Egypt.

16. Then saith the LORD, Thou shalt call me my husband, and shalt call me no more my Baal.

17. For I will put away the names of Baalim from their mouths, and they shall remember them no more.

18. And I will make a covenant for them in that day with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of the heaven, and with the creeping things of the earth; and I will break the bow, and the sword, and the war, from off the land, and will make them dwell safely.

19. I will betroth myself unto thee for ever: I will trust in thee in righteousness and in judgment, in mercy and in grace;

20. Yea, in faith will I betroth myself unto thee; and thou shalt know the LORD.

21. In that day, saith the LORD, will I hear; I will hear heaven; and heaven shall hear the earth.

22. And the earth shall yield corn, and wine, and oil: and they shall yield Jezreel.

23. And I will keep them for my seed upon the earth, and will have mercy upon them that were in disgrace, and will say unto them that were not my people, Thou art my people: and they shall say, Thou art my God.

(Hosea)

Chapter 3

Of mankind's unfaithfulness and God's longsuffering.

1. And the LORD said unto me, Go yet one more, and woo the woman that is covetous and adulterous, as the LORD woos the children of Israel, and they turn unto strange gods, and woo a flagon of wine.

2. And I was one with her for fifteen shekels of silver, and an homer and a half of barley.

3. And he said unto her, Take hold of me for a season, and be not a harlot, and let no other come unto thee: for I will take hold of thee also.

4. For the children of Israel shall be long without king, and without princes, and without sacrifice, and without altar, and without ephod, and without sanctuary.

5. Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king, and shall honour the LORD and his mercy in the latter days.

(Hosea)

Chapter 4

Sermon of punishment, directed against the sin of the Israelites.

1. Hear, ye children of Israel, the word of the LORD: for the LORD hath cause to rebuke them that dwell in the land. For there is no faithfulness, no love, no word of God in the land, 2. But blasphemy, lying, murder, stealing, and adultery, have abounded, and come one bloodguilt after another.

3. Therefore shall the land be desolate, and all the inhabitants thereof shall perish: for the beasts of the field, and the fowls of the air, and the fishes of the sea, shall be taken away.

4. But rebuke not, neither rebuke any: for my people are as they that rebuke the priests.

5. Therefore thou shalt fall by day, and the prophet shall fall by night beside thee: so will I put thy mother to death.

6. My people are gone, because they will not learn. For thou rejectest the word of God; therefore will I reject thee also, that thou shouldest not be my priest. Thou forgettest the law of thy God; therefore will I also forget thy children.

7. The more they are, the more they sin against me: therefore will I put their glory to shame.

8. They devour the sin offerings of my people, and are eager for their sins.

9. Therefore it shall be unto the people as unto the priest: for I will punish their doings, and will recompense them according to their deserts,

10. That they should eat, and not be satisfied, and commit fornication; and they shall not prosper, because they have forsaken the LORD, and have no respect unto him.

11. fornication, wine and must make great.

12. My people shall inquire of their wood, and their staff shall preach unto them: for the spirit of whoredom deceiveth them, that they should commit whoredom against their God.

13. They sacrifice upon the top of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under the oaks, and under the lindens, and under the beeches; for they have fine shadows. Therefore shall your daughters also become harlots, and your brides adulteresses.

14. Neither will I forbid it, if your daughters and your brides be defiled, and become harlots, because ye have worshipped with harlots, and sacrificed with harlots. For the foolish people will be beaten.

15. Wilt thou, O Israel, go to whoredom, lest Judah also be guilty? Go not to Gilgal, and come not up to Bethaven, and swear not, As the LORD liveth.

16. For Israel walketh as a mad heifer; so shall the LORD feed her as a lamb in the wilderness.

17. For Ephraim hath sat down with idols: let him go.

18. They have given themselves to revelry and whoredom: their lords delight in them, that they may bring shame.

19. The wind with his wings shall drive them bound, and shall be ashamed of their sacrifice.

(Hosea)

Chapter 5

Both kingdoms are threatened with God's just punishment for the sake of sin.

1. Hear now therefore, ye priests, and take heed, O house of Israel, and give ear, O house of the king: for there shall be a punishment upon you, which are a snare in Mizpeh, and a net stretched out in Tabor.
2. With slaughter they deepen in their going astray: therefore must I punish them all.
3. I know Ephraim well, and Israel is not hid from me: now Ephraim is a harlot, and Israel is unclean.
4. They think not to return unto their God: for they have a whoredom in their heart, and teach not of the Lord.
5. Therefore the pride of Israel shall be humbled before their face, and both Israel and Ephraim shall fall for their iniquity; Judah also shall fall with them.
6. Then shall they come with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD, but shall not find him: for he is turned away from them.
7. They despise the LORD, and beget strange children: therefore shall the new moon devour them with their inheritance.
8. Yea, blow ye trumpets at Gibeah; yea, sound ye the trumpet at Ramah; yea, cry unto Bethaven, Behind thee, Benjamin.
9. For Ephraim shall be a desolation in the day that I punish them. Before this I have faithfully warned the tribes of Israel.

(Hosea)

Chapter 6

God's punishment and chastening provokes repentance.

10. The princes of Judah are like unto them that draw the border: therefore will I pour out mine anger upon them as water.
11. Ephraim suffereth violence, and is afflicted; and it is meet for him: for he hath given himself to the commandment of men.
12. I am a moth to Ephraim, and a maggot to the house of Judah.
13. And when Ephraim felt his sickness, and Judah his wounds, Ephraim went to Assyria, and sent to the king of Jareb: but he could not heal you, nor heal your wounds.
14. For I am as a lion to Ephraim, and as a young lion to the house of Judah. I, I will rend them, and go away, and lead them away, and none can save them.
15. Again, I will go to my place, until they know their iniquity, and seek my face: and if it be evil in them, they shall seek me early:

Ch. 6, v. 1. Come, let us return to the Lord. For he hath rent us, he will also heal us; he hath smitten us, he will also bind us up.

2. He maketh us alive after two days: he will raise us up the third day, that we may live before him.

3. Then shall we take heed, and be diligent to know the LORD. For he shall break forth as the beautiful dawn, and shall come upon us as the rain, as the rain that maketh the land wet.

4. How will I do both to thee, Ephraim? How will I do well unto thee, O Judah! For the mercy that I will shew you shall be as the dew of the morning, and as the dew that spreadeth early in the morning.

5. Therefore will I smite them by the prophets, and slay them by the words of my mouth, that thy judgment may come to light.

6. For I delight in love, and not in sacrifice, and in the knowledge of God, and not in burnt offering.

7. But they transgress the covenant, as Adam did; in this they despise me.

8. For Gilead is a city of idolatry and bloodshed,

9. And the priests and their company are as the stumblers, which lie in wait for the people, and choke them in the way that goeth to Shechem: for they do what they will.

10. I see in the house of Israel that I am afraid: for Ephraim hath fornicated, and Israel hath defiled himself.

11. But Judah shall yet have a harvest before her, when I shall turn the prison of my people.

(Hosea)

Chapter 7

Lamentation over Israel and proclamation of the deserved punishments.

1. If I will heal Israel, first find the sin of Ephraim, and the wickedness of Samaria, how they do idolatry. For though they be plagued with thieves among themselves, and with robbers by heart,

2. Yet will they not know that I perceive all their wickedness. But I see their wickedness, which they do in every place.

3. They put off the king by their wickedness, and the princes by their lies.

4. And they are all adulterers, as an oven which the baker heats when he hath kneaded it, and leaveneth and riseth the dough.

5. This day is the feast of our king, and the princes begin to be mad with wine: so he sendeth the scoffers unto him.
6. For their heart is in hot devotion, as an oven, when they sacrifice, and when they deceive the people: but their baker sleepeth all night, and in the morning he burneth brightly.
7. They are yet as hot with devotion as an oven. Though their judges be eaten up, and all their kings fall, yet there is none among them that calleth unto me.
8. Ephraim is mixed among the nations: Ephraim is like a cake that no man turneth over,
9. But strangers eat up his strength; yet will he not know it. He also hath gray hairs; yet will he not know it.
10. And the pride of Israel is humbled before their eyes: yet turn they not unto the LORD their God, neither inquire of him in all this.
11. For Ephraim is like a tempted dove, that will not perceive. Now they call Egypt, then they run to Assyria.
12. But as they go to and fro, I will cast my net over them, and will come down as the fowls of the air; I will punish them as one preacheth in their gathering.
13. Woe unto them that they depart from me! They must be destroyed, for they have turned away from me. I would have delivered them, if they had not taught lies against me.
14. Neither do they call upon me from their hearts, but they listen in their camps. They gather themselves together for the sake of grain and must, and disobey me.
15. I teach them, and strengthen their arm: but they think evil of me.
16. They are converted, but not aright; they are as a false bow: therefore their princes shall fall by the sword; their dread shall be a mockery in the land of Egypt.

(Hosea)

Chapter 8

The wicked and apostate shall be cut off.

1. Cry with a loud trumpet, saying, He cometh upon the house of the LORD as an eagle: because they have transgressed my covenant, and have turned aside from my law.
2. Then shall they cry unto me: Thou art my God; we know thee, O Israel.

3. Israel rejecteth that which is good: therefore the enemy must persecute them.
4. They make kings, but without me: they set princes, and I have no need to know. Out of their silver and gold they make idols, that they may soon be cut off.
5. Thy calf, Samaria, he hath cast out; mine anger is kindled against them; it cannot stand long; they must be punished.
6. For the calf is come out of Israel, and a workman hath made it, and cannot be God: therefore shall the calf of Samaria be consumed.
7. For they sow the wind, and reap the whirlwind: their seed shall not come up, neither shall their plant yield flour: though it yield, yet shall strangers eat it.
8. Israel shall be eaten up; the heathen shall deal with them as with an unworthy vessel,
9. Because they go up to Assyria like a wild beast astray. Ephraim giveth to the wooers, and giveth tribute to the heathen.
10. These same nations will I now gather upon them; they shall soon be weary of the burden of the king and of the princes.
11. For Ephraim hath made the altars to sin much: so shall the altars be made sin for him.
12. If I write unto him as much of my law, it shall be regarded as a strange doctrine.
13. Though they sacrifice much, and bring flesh, and eat it, yet the LORD hath no pleasure in it; but he will remember their iniquity, and make an atonement for their sins which turn to Egypt.
14. Israel forgetteth his Maker, and buildeth churches: so Judah maketh many strong cities: but I will send fire into his cities, and it shall devour his houses.

(Hosea)

Chapter 9

Severe punishments follow severe sins.

1. Thou shalt not rejoice, O Israel, nor glory as the heathen: for thou hast whored against thy God, to seek the wages of whoredoms, that all the threshingfloors may be full of corn.
2. Therefore the threshingfloors and the winepress shall not nourish thee, and the must shall fail thee.

3. And they shall not dwell in the land of the LORD: but Ephraim shall return into Egypt, and shall eat in Assyria, which is unclean,
4. There they cannot make a drink offering of wine unto the LORD, nor do any thing to please him. Their offering shall be as the bread of the afflicted, whereof all they that eat thereof shall be unclean: for their bread they eat for themselves, and shall not be brought into the house of the LORD.
5. What then will ye do in the seasons, and in the feasts of the LORD?
6. Behold, they must depart from before the destroyer! Egypt shall gather them, and Moph shall bury them. Nettles shall grow where their dear silver of idols stand, and thorns in their tents.
7. The time of visitation is come, the time of vengeance; Israel shall know it. The prophets are fools, and the fools are mad, because of thy great iniquity, and because of the great hostile idolatry.
8. The watchmen of Ephraim kept about my God: but now they are prophets, laying cords in all their ways through the hostile idolatry of the house of their God.
9. They corrupt too deeply, as in the days of Gibeah: therefore shall he remember their iniquity, and punish their sin.
10. I found Israel in the wilderness like grapes, and saw your fathers as the first figs of the fig tree: but afterward they went to Baal-peor, and vowed themselves to the vile idol, and became as abominable as their wooers.
11. Therefore the glory of Ephraim must fly away like a bird, that they should not bear, nor carry, nor conceive.
12. Though they bring up their children, yet will I make them without children, and they shall not be men. And woe unto them, when I am departed from them!
13. Ephraim, as I look upon it, is planted and comely as Tyre, but now she letteth out her children to the slayer.
14. Give unto them, O Lord. But what wilt thou give them? Give them barren bodies and dried-up breasts!
15. All their wickedness is done in Gilgal: there am I hostile unto them: and I will also cast them out of mine house for their wickedness, and will show them no more love: for all their princes are apostates.

16. Ephraim is smitten; their root is withered, that they can no more bring forth fruit. Though they bring forth, yet will I kill the fruit of their womb.

17. My God shall reject them, because they will not hear him, and shall go astray among the heathen.

(Hosea)

Chapter 10

Warning the Israelites of their doom.

1. Israel is a desolate vine; the fruit thereof is even so. As much fruit as he had, so many altars had he made. Where the land was best, there they made the most beautiful churches.

2. Her heart is divided: now shall she find her iniquity. Her altars shall be broken down, and her churches shall be desolate.

3. Then shall they say, We have no king: for we fear not the LORD: what then can the king do for us?

4. They sware in vain, and made a covenant: and such counsel greeted all the furrows of the field as gall.

5. The inhabitants of Samaria take care of the calves of Bethaven: for his people mourn for him, over whom his camarim used to rejoice because of his glory: for he is led away from them.

6. The calf is brought into Assyria, and is a present unto the king of Jareb. So Ephraim is disgraced, and Israel is disgraced with his nobles.

7. For the king of Samaria is gone as the foam of the water.

8. The high places of Aven are destroyed, because Israel hath sinned: thorns and briers grow upon their altars. And they shall say, O mountains, cover us; and ye hills, fall upon us.

9. Israel, thou hast sinned since the days of Gibeah, and they have continued in it: but let not the battle of Gibeah take them like unto it, which was done against the wicked men, 10. But I will chasten them according to my desire, and nations shall come together against them, when I shall punish them for their two sins.

11. Ephraim is like a calf, and is accustomed to be driven. I will ride upon his beautiful neck: I will ride Ephraim; Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall harrow.

12. Sow ye therefore righteousness, and reap love, and plow otherwise: for it is time to seek the LORD, until he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13. For ye plow evil, and reap iniquity, and eat the fruit of lies.

14. Because thou trustest in thy character, and in the multitude of thy mighty men, there shall be a tumult among thy people, and all thy strongholds shall be destroyed. As Salman destroyed the house of Arbeel in the time of the battle, when the mother fell to pieces over the children, 15. Likewise also shall it be unto you at Bethel, because of your great wickedness, that the king of Israel shall go down early in the morning.

(Hosea)

Chapter 11

Praise of divine mercy, shown to the ungrateful Israelites.

1. When Israel was young, I loved him, and called him; my son, out of Egypt.

2. But now when they are called, they turn away, and sacrifice unto Baalim, and burn incense unto images.

3. I took Ephraim by his arms, and led him: but they perceived not how I helped them.

4. I made them draw a human yoke, and walk in cords of love, and helped them to bear the yoke upon their necks, and gave them food,

5. That he return not again into the land of Egypt. So Assyria became their king, because they would not return.

6. Therefore shall the sword come upon their cities, and shall wear out their bars, and devour them, because of their nobleness.

7. My people are weary to turn unto me: and as one preacheth unto them, so none riseth up.

8. what shall I make of thee, Ephraim? Shall I protect thee, O Israel? Shall I not make thee an Adama, and make thee like Zeboim? But my heart is not of this mind; my mercy is too fervent,

9. That I will not do according to mine indignation, nor turn to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not a man, and am the Holy One among thee. But I will not come into the city.

10. Then shall men follow the LORD, and he shall roar as a lion: and when he shall roar, they that are toward the west shall be afraid.

11. And they also that are in Egypt shall be afraid like a bird, and they that are in the land of Assyria like doves: and I will put them in their houses, saith the LORD.

(Hosea)

Chapter 12

Exhortation to repentance.

1. There is falsehood against me in Ephraim, and false worship in the house of Israel. But Judah still holds fast to God and to the right holy service.
2. And Ephraim feedeth on the wind, and runneth after the east wind, and maketh more idolatry and mischief every day: they make a covenant with Assyria, and bring balm into Egypt.
3. Therefore the LORD will plead the cause of Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his character, and will recompense him according to his merit.
4. Yea, they say, he hath trodden under his brother in his mother's womb, and hath fought with God with all his might.
5. And he fought with the angel, and prevailed; for he wept, and besought him: for there he found him at Bethel, and there he spake unto us.
6. But the LORD is the God of hosts: the LORD is his name.
7. Turn therefore unto thy God, keep mercy and justice, and hope always in thy God.
8. But the merchant hath a false scale in his hand, and loveth to deceive.
9. For Ephraim saith, I am rich, I have enough; there shall no iniquity be found me in all my work that is sin.
10. But I, the LORD, am thy God out of the land of Egypt, and I that let thee dwell in the tabernacles, as they do in the seasons of the year,
11. And speak unto the prophets: and I am he that giveth much prophecy, and sheweth me by the prophets.
12. In Gilead is idolatry, and in Gilgal they sacrifice oxen in vain; and they have as many altars as there are almonds in the field.
13. And Jacob fled into the land of Syria: and Israel had to serve for a wife, for a wife he had to shew.
14. And afterward the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt by a prophet, and shepherded him by a prophet.

15. And now Ephraim hath provoked him to anger by their idols: therefore their blood shall come upon them, and the LORD shall recompense their reproach.

(Hosea)

Chapter 13

Sin brings corruption, Christ's victory brings life.

1. Because Ephraim taught terribly, he was exalted in Israel. Afterward they sinned through Baal, and were slain for it.

2. But now they make much more of their sins, and of their silver such images as they can devise, even idols, which are vain works of wrought iron. Neither do they preach of them, He that killeth calves, let him sacrifice men.

3. The same shall have the morning cloud, and the dew that falleth early, even as the chaff that is blown from the threshingfloor, and as the smoke from the wall of the fire.

4. And I am the LORD thy God, from the land of Egypt: and thou shalt know no other God but me, and no saviour without me.

5. For I took care of thee in the wilderness, in the dry land;

6. But because they are fed, and have enough, their heart is lifted up; therefore they forget me.

7. So will I be against them as a lion, and as a leopard in the way will I lie in wait for them.

8. I will meet them as a bear whose cubs are taken away, and will rend their hardened heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: the wild beasts shall tear them.

9. Israel, thou hast brought thyself into evil: for thy salvation is with me alone.

10. Where is thy king gone, to help thee in all thy cities? and thy judges, of whom thou hast said: Give me kings and princes?

11. Well, I gave thee a king in mine anger, and will take him away from thee in my wrath.

12. The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up, and her sin is kept.

13. For they shall be afflicted as a woman in childbirth: for they are careless children. The time shall come, that they shall not tarry for the mourning of the children.

14. But I will deliver them out of hell, and save them from death. Death, I will be a poison unto thee; Hell, I will be a pestilence unto thee! But consolation is hidden from mine eyes.

15. For he shall bring forth fruit between brethren. The east wind shall come, and the LORD shall come up out of the wilderness, and shall dry up her fountain, and dry up her spring, and shall spoil the treasure of all the precious vessels.

Ch. 14. v. 1. Samaria shall be desolate, for they have disobeyed their God. They shall fall by the sword, and their young children shall be broken in pieces, and their pregnant women shall be torn in pieces.

(Hosea)

Chapter 14

God shows his mercy to the penitent.

2. Turn thou, O Israel, unto the LORD thy God: for thou art fallen because of thine iniquity.

3. Take these words with you, and turn unto the LORD, and say unto him, Forgive us all our sins, and do us good; and we will offer the fair of our lips.

4. Assyria shall not help us, neither shall we ride upon horses any more, neither shall we say any more unto the works of our hands: Ye are our God: but let the fatherless find grace in thee, 5. Then will I heal their cessation, gladly will I love them; then shall mine anger turn from them.

6. I will be to Israel as the dew, and he shall blossom as the rose; and his roots shall shoot forth as Lebanon,

7. And his branches shall spread forth, and he shall be as beautiful as an olive tree; and he shall give as good a smell as Lebanon.

8. And they shall sit again under his shadow. They shall feed on grain, and flourish like a vine; his memorial shall be like the wine of Lebanon.

9. Ephraim, what shall the idols be to me? I will hearken unto him, and lead him; I will be as a green fir tree: in me shall thy fruit be found.

10. Who is wise that understandeth these things, and prudent that knoweth them? For the ways of the LORD are right, and the righteous walk therein: but the transgressors fall therein.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Joel ^

Chapter 1

Proclamation of God's punishments concerning the Jews.

1. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Joel the son of Pethuel: 2. Hear this, ye elders, and consider, all the inhabitants of the land, whether these things were done in your days, or in the days of your fathers.
3. Tell your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children their seed, 4. To wit, What the caterpillars leave, that the locusts eat; and what the locusts leave, that the beetles eat; and what the beetles leave, that the fowls eat.
5. Awake, ye drunkards, and weep, and howl, all ye winebibbers, for the wine: for it is taken away from before your mouth.
6. For there cometh up into my land a mighty nation, and without number, having teeth like lions, and molars like lionesses.
7. The same hath laid waste my vineyard, and cut down my fig tree, and shewed it, and cast it down, that the branches thereof are white.
8. howl like a virgin who puts on sackcloth for her bridegroom!
9. For the meat offering and the drink offering are gone from the house of the LORD, and the priests the LORD'S servants mourn.
10. The field is desolate, and the ground miserable; the corn is corrupt, the wine miserable, and the oil miserable.
11. The husbandmen see miserably, and the husbandmen weep for the wheat and for the barley, that nothing can come of the harvest of the field.
12. The vine also is miserable, and the fig tree pitiful; and the pomegranate tree, and the palm tree, and the apple tree, and all the trees of the field are withered: for the joy of men is turned into mourning.
13. Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests; howl, ye ministers of the altar; go in, and lie in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God. For it is both meat offering and drink offering gone from the house of your God.
14. Sanctify a fast; call the congregation together; gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land unto the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD.
15. O woe to the day! For the day of the LORD is at hand, and cometh as destruction from the Almighty.

16. And the meat shall be taken away from before our eyes, and joy and gladness from the house of our God.

17. The seed is rotten under the earth, the granaries are desolate, the barns are broken down: for the corn is corrupt.

18. O how the cattle groan! The oxen look piteous, for they have no pasture; and the sheep languish.

19. O LORD, I call upon thee: for the fire hath burned up the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath kindled all the trees of the field.

20. The wild beasts also cry unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath burned up the pastures of the wilderness.

(Joel)

Chapter 2

Of true repentance, of Christ, and of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit.

1. Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, shout in my holy mountain: tremble, all ye inhabitants of the land. For the day of the LORD cometh, and is at hand.

2. A dark day, a gloomy day, a cloudy day, a misty day, as the dawn spreadeth over the mountains; even a great and mighty nation, such as was not before, neither shall be henceforth for ever and ever.

3. Before him goeth a devouring fire, and after him a burning flame. The land before him is like a garden of pleasure, but after him like a desolate wilderness; and no man shall escape it.

4. they are fashioned like horses and run like riders.

5. Therefore they burst forth upon the top of the mountains, as the chariots rattle, and as a flame blaze in the straw, as a mighty people prepared for battle.

6. The nations shall be astonished at him: the faces of all shall be as the pots.

7. They shall run as giants, and climb the walls as warriors: every one shall go straight before him, and shall not fail.

8. No man shall mistake another, but every man shall go in his own order: and they shall break through the weapons, and shall not be wounded.

9. They shall ride about in the city, and run upon the wall, and enter into the houses, and come in at the windows like a thief.

10. Before him the land trembles, and the heavens shake: the sun and the moon are darkened, and the stars withdraw their light.
11. For the LORD will give up his thunder before his army: for his army is very great and mighty, which shall execute his command: for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible: who can bear it?
12. Thus saith the LORD; Turn ye unto me with all your heart with fasting, and with weeping, and with lamentation.
13. Rend your hearts, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God. For he is gracious, merciful, patient, and of great goodness, and soon repents of punishment.
14. Who knoweth it may repent him again, and leave him a blessing, to offer meat offering and drink offering unto the LORD your God?
15. Blow with the trumpets in Zion, sanctify a fast, call the congregation together.
16. Gather the people together, sanctify the congregation, gather the elders, bring the young children and the babes in multitude. Let the bridegroom go out of his chamber, and the bride out of her chamber.
17. Let the priests, the servants of the LORD, weep between the hall and the altar, and say, O LORD, spare thy people, and let not thine inheritance fail, that the heathen should reign over them. Why wilt thou cause the nations to say, Where is their God?
18. Then will the LORD be jealous for his land, and spare his people.
19. And the LORD shall answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn and wine and oil in abundance, and ye shall have enough of them; and I will not suffer you to be put to shame among the heathen any more.
20. And I will drive him from the north far from you, and cast him into a dry and desolate land, even his face toward the sea eastward, and his end toward the uttermost sea. He shall rot and stink: for he hath done great things.
21. Fear not, O land, but be glad and of good cheer: for the LORD also is able to do great things.
22. Fear not, ye beasts of the field: for the dwellings of the wilderness shall flourish, and the trees shall bring forth their fruit, and the fig trees and the vines shall yield their fruit.

23. And ye children of Zion, rejoice and be glad in the LORD your God, which giveth you teachers of righteousness, and sendeth you early rain and late rain, as before, 24. That the threshingfloors may be full of corn, and the winepresses have abundance of must and oil.

25. And I will recompense you the years that the locusts, and the beetles, and the caterpillars, which were my great host, which I sent among you, have eaten,

26. That ye may have enough to eat, and praise the name of the LORD your God, which hath done wonders among you: and my people shall be put to shame no more.

27. And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I the LORD am your God, and none more: and my people shall be put to shame no more.

Ch. 3, v. 1. And after this I will pour out my Spirit upon all flesh, and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions.

2. And at the same time I will pour out my spirit upon both the servants and the handmaids.

3. And will shew wondrous signs in heaven and in earth, namely, blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke.

4. The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and terrible day of the LORD come.

5. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call upon the name of the LORD shall be saved. For in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be salvation, as the LORD hath promised, even to the remnant whom the LORD shall call.

(Joel)

Chapter 3

Protection of the church against the enemies.

6. For, behold, in those days, and at that time, when I shall turn the prison of Judah and Jerusalem,

7. And I will gather all the heathen together, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and there will I make terms with them for my people, and for my inheritance Israel, which they have scattered among the heathen, and divided themselves into my land.

8. And have cast lots for my people, and have given the boys for meat, and have sold the maidens for wine, and have made them drunk.

9. And ye of Zor, and Zidon, and all the border of the Philistines, what have ye to do with me?

Will ye defy me? If ye will defy me, I will speedily repay you upon your head, 10. Who have taken my silver and gold and my beautiful jewels, and have brought them into your churches,

11. For ye have also sold the children of Judah and the children of Jerusalem unto the Grecians, that ye might bring them far from their borders.

12. Behold, I will raise them up out of the place whither ye sold them, and will recompense you upon your head.

13. And I will sell your sons and your daughters again, by the children of Judah; and they shall sell them unto them that are in the kingdom of Arabia, a people of far countries: for the LORD hath spoken it.

14. Proclaim this among the heathen; sanctify a battle; stir up the mighty; let all the men of war come and go up.

15. Make your plowshares into swords, and your pruning hooks into spears. Let the weak man speak: I am strong.

16. Make a flock, and come hither, all ye nations round about, and gather yourselves together.

There shall the LORD put down thy mighty ones.

17. And the heathen shall arise, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.

18. Strike the sickle, for the harvest is ripe; come down, for the winepress is full, and the winepress overflows; for their wickedness is great.

19. Here and there shall be multitudes in the valley of judgment: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of judgment.

20. the sun and the moon will be darkened and the stars will restrain their light.

21. And the LORD shall roar out of Zion, and shall cause his voice to be heard out of Jerusalem, and the heavens and the earth shall shake. But the LORD shall be a refuge unto his people, and a stronghold unto the children of Israel.

22. And ye shall know that I the LORD your God dwell in Zion in my holy mountain. Then shall Jerusalem be holy, and no stranger shall pass through her.

23. In that day shall the mountains run with sweet wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall run with water: and there shall go forth a fountain from the house of the LORD, and it shall water the river Sittim.

24. But Egypt shall be desolate, and Edom a desolate waste, because of the iniquity of the children of Judah, that they shed innocent blood in their land.

25. But Judah shall be inhabited for ever, and Jerusalem for ever.

26. And I will not leave their blood unavenged. And the LORD shall dwell in Zion.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Amos ^

Chapter 1

God's punishments are threatened to the neighbors of the Israelites.

1. This is it that Amos, which was among the shepherds of Thekoa, saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.

2. And he said, The LORD shall roar out of Zion, and shall cause his voice to be heard out of Jerusalem; and the pastures of the shepherds shall be desolate, and the top of Carmel shall wither.

3. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of Damascus will I not spare them; because they have beaten Gilead with the tines of iron,

4. But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall consume the palaces of Benhadad.

5. And I will break the bars of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitants of the field of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre, out of the house of pleasure; and the people of Syria shall be carried away to Kir, saith the LORD.

6. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of Gase I will not spare them, because they have carried away captivity captive, and have driven them into the land of Edom, 7. But I will send a fire into the walls of Gaza, and it shall consume their palaces.

8. And I will cut off the inhabitants of Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre, out of Ascalon; and I will turn mine hand against Acron, and all that remain of the Philistines shall perish, saith the LORD GOD.

9. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of the city of Zor will I not spare them, because they have carried away the captives into the land of Edom, and have not remembered the covenant of the brethren,
10. But I will send a fire into the walls of Zor, and it shall devour their palaces.

11. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of Edom will I not spare him, because he hath pursued his brother with the sword, and because he hath slain their with child, and because he is always torn in his wrath, and because he hath kept his fury for ever, 12. But I will send a fire unto Theman, and it shall consume the palaces of Bazrah.

13. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of the children of Ammon will I not spare them; because they have rent the pregnant women in Gilead, that they might continue their border,

14. But I will kindle a fire within the walls of Rabbah, and it shall consume their palaces, when they shall call in the time of battle, and when the weather shall come in the time of the storm.

15. Then shall their king be carried away captive with his princes, saith the LORD.

Ch. 2, v. 1. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of Moab will I not spare them, because they have burned the bones of the king of Edom with ashes, 2. But I will send a fire into Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of Kirioth: and Moab shall die with tumult, and with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet.

3. And I will cut off the judge from among them, and will slay all their princes with him, saith the LORD.

(Amos)

Chapter 2

Threat of God's punishments on the house of Judah and Israel.

4. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of Judah will I not spare him; because they have despised the law of the LORD, and have not kept his statutes, and have been led astray by their lies, which their fathers followed,

5. But I will send a fire into Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.

6. Thus saith the LORD; For three and four vices of Israel will I not spare them; because they sell the righteous for money, and the poor for a pair of shoes.

7. They tread the head of the poor in dung, and hinder the way of the miserable. It sleeps son and father with a harlot, that they may profane my holy name.
8. And at all the altars they feast upon the garments which are pledged, and they drink wine in the house of their gods of the things which are paid for.
9. Now I have destroyed the Amorite before them, which was as high as the cedars, and his strength as the oaks: and I destroyed the fruit thereof above, and the root thereof beneath.
10. Also I brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and led you forty years in the wilderness to possess the land of the Amorites,
11. And I have raised up prophets of your children, and Nazarites of your young men. Is it not so, ye children of Israel? saith the LORD.
12. So ye give wine to the Nazarites to drink, and command the prophets, saying, Ye shall not prophesy.
13. Behold, I will shew it among you, as a cart full of sheaves sheweth,
14. He that is swift shall not escape, neither shall he that is mighty be able, neither shall he that is mighty be able to save his life;
15. And the archers shall not stand, and he that runneth swiftly shall not escape, and he that rideth shall not save his life;
16. And he that is mightiest among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

(Amos)

Chapter 3

Ingratitude of the Israelites must be punished.

1. Hear what the LORD saith unto you, O children of Israel, even unto all the families which I brought up out of the land of Egypt, saying:
2. Out of all the families of the earth have I known you only: therefore will I also punish you in all your iniquities.
3. Though two walk together, yet are they one among themselves?
4. Even a lion in the forest, when he hath no prey? Doth a young lion cry out of his den, that he hath caught something?
5. Doth a bird also fall into a snare upon the earth, where there is no fowler? Do you also pick up the rope from the earth, which has not yet caught anything?
6. Is there a trumpet blown in a city, that the people be not astonished at it? Is there any evil in the city, that the LORD will not do?

7. For the Lord GOD doeth nothing, but revealeth his secret unto the prophets his servants.
8. The lion roareth: who shall not fear? The LORD HEART speaks; who shall not prophesy?
9. Proclaim ye in the palaces of Ashdod, and in the palaces of the land of Egypt, saying, Gather yourselves together unto the mountains of Samaria, and see what a great clamour and iniquity is in them.
10. They regard not righteousness, saith the LORD; they gather treasures of iniquity and grossness into their palaces.
11. Therefore thus saith the LORD GOD; They shall besiege this land round about, and shall cut thee off from thy power, and spoil thy houses.
12. Thus saith the LORD; As a shepherd taketh out of the lion's mouth two knees, or the lobe of an ear; so shall the children of Israel be taken out, which dwell in Samaria, and have a bed in the corner, and a spoon in Damascus.
13. Hear and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the LORD GOD of hosts.
14. For in that day, when I shall visit the iniquity of Israel, I will visit the altars of Bethel, and will break off the horns of the altar, and they shall fall to the ground.
15. And I will smite both the winter house and the summer house: and the ivory houses shall perish, and many houses shall be destroyed, saith the LORD.

(Amos)

Chapter 4

Threat against the rulers of the people of Israel.

1. Hear this word, ye fat cows, which are in mount Samaria, and do wrong to the poor, and oppress the poor, and say unto your masters, Bring hither, and let us drink.
2. By his holiness hath the LORD LORD sworn, saying, Behold, the days come upon you, that they shall cast you out with fishes, and your seed with small fishes.
3. And shall go out unto the gaps, every one before him, and be cast away to Harmon, saith the LORD.

4. Come ye to Bethel, and cast out sins, and to Gilgal, that ye may do much of sinning; and bring your sacrifices in the morning, and your tithes the third day.
5. And burn incense of leaven for a sacrifice of peace offerings, and preach a freewill offering, and proclaim it: for so have ye pleasure, O children of Israel, saith the LORD GOD.
6. Therefore also have I given you idle teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places. Ye have not yet turned unto me, saith the LORD.
7. Also I restrained the rain upon you, until there were yet three months to harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another: one field was rained upon, and the other field, which was not rained upon, withered away.
8. And two or three cities went to one city to drink water, and could not find it enough. Ye have not yet turned unto me, saith the LORD.
9. I afflicted you with dry times, and with burnt grains: so also the caterpillars devoured all that grew in your gardens, and in your vineyards, and in your fig trees, and in your olive trees. Ye have not yet turned unto me, saith the LORD.
10. I sent pestilence among you, even as in Egypt; I slew your young men by the sword, and carried away your horses captive; I caused the stench of your camp to enter into your nostrils. Ye have not yet turned unto me, saith the LORD;
11. I have turned back some of you, as God turned back Sodom and Gomorrah; and ye were as a burning which is plucked out of the fire. Ye have not yet turned unto me, saith the LORD.
12. Therefore will I continue to do so unto thee, O Israel. Because I will do so unto thee, send thee, O Israel, and meet thy God.
13. For, behold, he it is that maketh the mountains, and maketh the wind, and teacheth a man speech. He maketh the dawn and the darkness; he treadeth upon the high places of the earth: his name is LORD God of hosts.

(Amos)

Chapter 5

Lament over the fall of Israel, enticing to repentance.

1. Hear ye, O house of Israel, this word: for I must make this lamentation over you: 2. The virgin of Israel is fallen, that she shall not rise again: she is cast down to the ground, and there is none to help her up.

3. For thus saith the LORD God, The city that goeth out a thousand shall have an hundred left; and the city that goeth out an hundred shall have ten left in the house of Israel.

4. Therefore thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek me, and ye shall live.

5. Seek not Bethel, and come not to Gilgal, and pray not to Beersheba. For Gilgal shall be carried away captive, and Bethel shall become Bethaven.

6. Seek ye the LORD, and ye shall live; lest there be a fire in the house of Joseph, and it consume him, and there be none to quench it in Bethel,

7. Ye that turn justice into wormwood, and cast down righteousness to the ground.

8. He maketh the mother hen, and Orion; who maketh the morning out of darkness, and the day out of darkness; who calleth unto the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: his name is the LORD,

9. He that maketh a disturbance against the strong, and bringeth a disturbance upon the strong city.

10. But they grudge him that punisheth them in the gate, and have abhorred him that teacheth salvation.

11. Therefore because ye oppress the poor, and take the corn of them with great burdens, dwell not in the houses which ye have built of works, neither drink ye the wine which ye have planted in the fine vineyards.

12. For I know your transgressions, which are many, and your sins, which are great, how ye press the righteous, and take blood money, and oppress the poor in the gate.

13. Therefore the prudent man must keep silence at that time: for it is an evil time.

14. Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live; and the LORD God of hosts shall be with you, as ye boast.

15. Hate evil, and love good, and establish judgment in the gate: and the LORD God of hosts shall be gracious unto the remnant in Joseph.

16. Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the LORD; There shall be mourning in every street, and they shall say in every street, Woe! woe! And the husbandman shall be called to mourn, and to lament, he that is able to weep.

17. There shall be mourning in all the vineyards: for I will go among you, saith the LORD.

18. Woe unto them that desire the day of the LORD! What shall it do unto you? For the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light.

19. As when a man fleeth before a lion, and a bear meeteth him; and as when a man cometh into a house, and leaneth his hand against the wall, and a serpent stingeth him.

20. For the day of the LORD shall be dark, and not light; dark, and not light.

21. I am grief-stricken for your feasts, and despise them, and like not to smell in your congregation;

22. Though ye offer me burnt offerings and meat offerings, I have no pleasure in them: neither will I regard your meat offerings of peace offerings.

23. Put away from me the noise of thy songs: for I will not hear thy psaltery.

24. And justice shall be revealed as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25. Have ye of the house of Israel offered me sacrifices and meat offerings in the wilderness forty years? yea, yea.

26. Ye bear Sichuth your king, and Chiun your image, the star of your gods, which ye made for yourselves.

27. Then will I send you away from hence beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is God of hosts.

(Amos)

Chapter 6

More distant threat of punishment because of the sins of Judah and Israel.

1. Woe unto the proud of Zion, and to them that trust in mount Samaria, who boast themselves the chief of the Gentiles, and walk in the house of Israel!

2. Go to Calne, and look thence unto Hemath the great city, and go down to Gath of the Philistines, which were better kingdoms than these, and whose border was greater than your border.
3. Ye that respect yourselves far from the evil day, and seek always the reign of iniquity.
4. And ye sleep upon beds of ivory, and have abundance in your beds: ye eat the lambs of the flock, and the fatted calves.
5. And play upon the psaltery, and make up songs unto you, as David did,
6. And drink wine of the vials, and anoint yourselves with balm, and care not for the hurt of Joseph.
7. Now therefore they shall be foremost among them that are carried away captives; and the feasting of the stocks shall cease.
8. For the LORD LORD hath sworn by his soul, saith the LORD God of hosts, I am displeased with the pride of Jacob, and I am displeased with their palaces; and I will deliver up the city also, and all that is therein.
9. And though ten men remain in one house, yet they shall die,
10. That every man's cousin and his uncle may take him, and bear his bones out of the house, and say unto him that is in the chambers of the house: Is there any more of them? And he shall answer, They are all gone. And he shall say, Be satisfied: for they would not that the name of the LORD should be remembered.
11. For, behold, the LORD hath commanded that the great houses should be smitten, that they should be smitten with breaches; and the small houses, that they should be smitten with breaches.
12. Who can run with horses, or plough with oxen upon the rocks? For ye turn righteousness into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into wormwood.
13. And take comfort in that which is nothing, saying, Are we not strong enough with our horns?
14. Therefore, behold, I will raise up a people against you of the house of Israel, saith the LORD God of hosts; and they shall afflict you from the place that goeth to Hemath unto the river of the wilderness.

(Amos)

Chapter 7

Amos, sued by Amazia, has three faces of future punishment.

1. The LORD God showed me a vision, and, behold, there stood a man making locusts at the beginning, when the grass was gathered up: and, behold, the grass was gathered up, after that the king had shorn his sheep.
2. And it came to pass, when they were about to eat up the herbage of the land, that I said, O Lord GOD, have mercy on me. Who shall restore Jacob? for he is little.
3. And the LORD repented, and said, Well, let it not be done.
4. The LORD God shewed me a vision, and, behold, the LORD God called the fire to punish with it; which was to devour a great deep, and it devoured part of it already.
5. And I said, O Lord GOD, let him go. Who shall restore Jacob? for he is little.
6. And the LORD repented, and the LORD said, Neither shall it be done.
7. And he shewed me this vision, and, behold, the LORD stood upon a wall, measured with a line of lead; and he had the line of lead in his hand.
8. And the LORD said unto me, What seest thou, Amos? And I said, A cord of lead. And the LORD said unto me, Behold, I will draw a cord of lead through the midst of my people Israel, and will not fail them,
9. But the high places of Isaac shall be laid waste, and the churches of Israel shall be desolate: and I will make me a sword against the house of Jeroboam.
10. And Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent unto Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos maketh a rebellion against thee in the house of Israel: the land cannot bear his words.
11. For thus saith Amos, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall be carried away captive out of his land.
12. And Amaziah said unto Amos, Thou seer, depart, and flee into the land of Judah, and eat bread there, and prophesy there.
13. And prophesy no more in Bethel: for it is the king's pen, and the king's house.
14. And Amos answered and said unto Amaziah, I am no prophet, neither am I the son of any prophet; but I am a shepherd of cows, which eat mulberries.
15. But the LORD took me from the flock, and said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

16. Hear therefore the word of the LORD. Thou sayest, Prophecy not against Israel, neither drip water against the house of Isaac.

17. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Thy wife shall become a harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy field shall be divided by the cord: but thou shalt die in an unclean land, and Israel shall be driven out of his land.

(Amos)

Chapter 8

Of the fall of the house of Israel and of spiritual hunger.

1. The Lord GOD showed me a vision, and, behold, there was a basket of fruit.

2. And he said, What seest thou, Amos? And I answered, A basket of fruit. And the LORD said unto me, The end is come upon my people Israel; I will not fail them.

3. And the songs of the church shall be turned into weeping in that day, saith the Lord GOD; and there shall be many dead bodies in every place, which shall be carried away privily.

4. Hear this, ye that oppress the poor, and destroy the wretched of the land.

5. Saying, When shall the new moon come to an end, that we may sell corn, and the sabbath, that we may sell corn, and wring the ephah, and increase the sekel, and falsify the scales?

6. That we may bring among us the poor for money, and the needy for a pair of shoes, and sell chaff for corn?

7. The LORD hath sworn against the pride of Jacob, saying, What matter if I forget these works of theirs for ever?

8. Shall not the land shake for this cause, and all the inhabitants mourn? Yea, it shall overflow altogether, as with a water, and be carried away, and be flooded, as with the river in Egypt.

9. In that day, saith the LORD GOD, will I cause the sun to go down in the midday, and the land to be darkened in the daylight.

10. I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentations; I will bring sackcloth upon every loin, and baldness upon every head; and I will make them mourning, as one mourneth for an unborn son; and they shall come to a miserable end.

11. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD GOD, that I will send a famine into the land, not a hunger for bread, or a thirst for water, but to hear the word of the LORD, 12. And they shall go to and fro, from sea to sea, from north to east, seeking the word of the LORD, and shall not find it.

13. In that day shall fair maidens and young men pine away for thirst,
14. Who now swear by the curse of Samaria, saying, As thy God liveth in Dan, as the wise woman liveth in Beersheba. For they shall fall, that they may not rise again.

(Amos)

Chapter 9

Prophecy of Christ and His Church.

1. I saw the LORD stand upon the altar, and he said, Strike the pommel, that the posts may shake. For their covetousness shall come upon their head, and shall slay their seed with the sword: none shall escape, nor any escape.

2. And if they go down to hell, my hand shall take them from thence: and if they go up to heaven, I will cast them down;

3. And though they hide themselves in the top of mount Carmel, yet will I seek them there, and bring them down: and though they hide themselves from mine eyes in the bottom of the sea, yet will I command the serpents to sting them there;

4. And if they go captive before their enemies, yet will I command the sword to slay them there.

For I will keep mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5. For the LORD of hosts is such a one: when he toucheth a land, it melteth, and all the inhabitants thereof mourn, and it runneth over them as the waters, and is overflowed as with the river of Egypt.

6. He it is that buildeth his house in heaven, and maketh his tabernacle upon the earth: he calleth unto the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: he is called LORD.

7. Are not ye children of Israel like unto me as the Moors? saith the LORD. Have not I brought Israel out of the land of Egypt, and the Philistines out of Caphtor, and the Syrians out of Kir?

8. Behold, the eyes of the LORD God are upon a sinful kingdom, that I may utterly destroy it from the face of the earth, though I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD.

9. But, behold, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all the nations, as one sifts with a sieve, and the grains shall not fall to the earth.

10. All the sinners among my people shall die by the sword, which say, Calamity shall not be so near, neither shall it meet with us.

11. In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down, and will fence the breaches thereof, and will raise up again that which is broken down, and will build it as it was before,

12. That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and the remnant of all the nations, upon whom my name shall be preached, saith the LORD that doeth these things.

13. Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall till and reap at the same time, and they shall press and sow at the same time: and the mountains shall run with sweet wine, and all the hills shall be fruitful.

14. For I will turn the prison of my people Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink wine of them; and they shall make gardens, and eat fruit of them.

15. For I will plant them in their land, and they shall no more be cut off from their land, which I will give them, saith the LORD thy God.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Prophet Obadiah (Obadiah) ^

Of the punishment of Edom and the redemption of the Israelites.

1. This is the vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord GOD of Edom; We have heard from the Lord, that a message is sent unto the heathen, saying, Come, and let us fight against them.

2. Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen, and greatly despised.

3. The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, because thou dwellest in the clefts of the rock, in thy high castles, saying in thine heart, Who shall thrust me down?

4. Though thou mount up as an eagle, and make thy nest among the stars, yet will I bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

5. If thieves or spoilers come upon thee by night, how shalt thou be destroyed! Yea, they shall steal enough: and when the vintners come upon thee, they shall not leave thee a gleanings.
6. How shall they search out Esau, and seek his treasures?
7. All thine own covenanters shall cast thee out of the land: they in whom thou trustest for comfort shall deceive thee, and overcome thee: they that eat thy bread shall betray thee before thou know it.
8. What is the matter? saith the LORD, I will destroy in that day the wise men of Edom, and the prudent men of the mount of Esau.
9. For thy mighty men of Theman shall be afraid, that they may all be cut off in the mount of Esau by the slaughter.
10. For the iniquity of thy brother Jacob.
11. In the day that thou stoodest against him, when the strangers carried away his host captive, and when the foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, thou wast as one of them. Therefore thou shalt be ashamed of all; thou shalt be cut off for ever.
12. Thou shalt no more take thy pleasure in thy brother in the time of his affliction, neither shalt thou rejoice over the children of Judah in the time of their mourning, neither shalt thou speak proudly with thy mouth in the time of their anguish.
13. Thou shalt not go in unto the gate of my people in the time of their mourning: thou shalt not see thy pleasure in their calamity in the time of their mourning: thou shalt not send against their host in the time of their mourning;
14. Thou shalt not stand in the way to slay his escaped: thou shalt not betray his remnant in the time of trouble.
15. For the day of the LORD is at hand upon all nations. As thou hast done, so shall it be done unto thee; and as thou hast earned, so shall it come upon thy head again.
16. For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink daily; yea, they shall drink it up, and swallow it up, as if it had never been there.
17. But in mount Zion there shall yet be saved some that shall be sanctuaries: and the house of Jacob shall possess the possession thereof.

18. And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau straw. And they shall burn them, and consume them, that there be none left unto the house of Esau: for the LORD hath spoken it.

19. And they that are toward the south shall possess the mountains of Esau, and they that are in the south shall possess the Philistines: yea, they shall possess the field of Ephraim, and the field of Samaria; and Benjamin shall possess the mountains of Gilead.

20. And the exiles of this host of the children of Israel, which are among the Canaanites unto Zarith, and the exiles of the city of Jerusalem, which are in Sepharad, shall possess the cities southward.

21. And saviours shall come up to mount Zion, to judge the mountain of Esau. So shall the kingdom of the LORD be.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Jonah ^

Chapter 1

Jonah's profession, disobedience and punishment.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the son of Amithai, saying: 2. Arise, go into the great city of Nineveh, and preach therein: for their wickedness is come up before me.

3. And Jonah arose, and fled from before the LORD, and would have gone to the sea, and came down to Japho. And when he found a ship going to sea, he gave ferry money, and entered into it, that he might go with them into the sea before the LORD.

4. And the LORD sent a great wind upon the sea, and there arose a great tempest in the sea, as if the ship were broken.

5. And the shipmen were afraid, and cried every man unto his God, and cast the vessels that were in the ship into the sea, that they might be lightened. But Jonah was gone down into the ship, and lay and slept.

6. And the master of the ship came unto him, and said unto him, Why sleepest thou? Arise, call upon thy God, if perhaps God would remember us, that we perish not.

7. And one said unto another: Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose sake we are so wicked. And as they were casting lots, Jonah was stricken.

8. And they said unto him, Tell us, why is it so evil with us? What is thy trade, and whence comest thou? Of what country art thou, and of what nation art thou?

9. And he said unto them: I am an Eberian, and I fear the LORD God of heaven, which made the sea and the dry land.

10. And the people were sore afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this thing? For they knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD: for he had told them.

11. And they said unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be still unto us? For the sea was boisterous.

12. And he said unto them: Take me, and cast me into the sea, and the sea shall be still unto you.

For I know that such a great tempest cometh upon you for my sake.

13. And the people made haste to return to the land, but they could not; for the sea was rushing against them.

14. Then cried they unto the LORD, saying: O LORD, let us not perish for this man's soul, neither count us innocent of blood: for thou, O LORD, doest as it pleaseth thee.

15. And they took Jonah, and cast him into the sea. And the sea was still from his raging.

16. And the people greatly feared the LORD, and offered sacrifices and vows unto the LORD.

Ch. 2, v. 1: But the Lord provided a great fish to swallow Jonah. And Jonah was in the body of the fish three days and three nights.

(Jonah)

Chapter 2

Jonah's prayer for deliverance.

2. And Jonah prayed moreover unto the LORD his God in the body of the fish.

3. And said: I cried unto the LORD in my anguish, and he answered me; I cried out of the belly of hell, and thou heardest my voice.

4. Thou castest me into the deep in the midst of the sea, and the floods compassed me about: all thy waves and thy billows went over me,

5. That I thought to be cast out of thine eyes, that I should see thy holy temple no more.

6. Waters compassed me about unto my life; the deep compassed me about; reeds covered my head.

7. I sank down to the bottom of the mountains: the earth had shut me up for ever. But thou hast brought my life out of destruction, O LORD my God!
8. When my soul was troubled with me, I remembered the LORD: and my prayer came unto thee into thy holy temple.
9. They that hold above vanity forsake their grace.
10. But I will offer with thanksgiving; I will pay my vows unto the LORD, because he hath helped me.
11. And the LORD spake unto the fish, and the fish spued out Jonah unto the land.

(Jonah)

Chapter 3

Jonah's fruitful sermon on repentance.

1. And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying:
2. Arise, go into the great city of Nineveh, and preach unto it the sermon which I say unto thee.
3. Then arose Jonah, and went to Nineveh, as the LORD had said. And Nineveh was a great city of God, three days' journey.
4. And when Jonah began to go in a day's journey into the city, he preached, saying, There are yet forty days, and Nineveh shall fall.
5. Then the people of Nineveh believed in GOD, and preached fasting, and put on sackcloth, both great and small.
6. And when this came before the king of Nineveh, he arose from his throne, and put off his purple, and put sackcloth about him, and sat down in ashes.
7. And he cried out and said unto Nineveh by the commandment of the king and of his mighty men, There shall no man nor beast, neither ox nor sheep, be tasted; neither shall they feed, nor drink water;
8. And they shall cover themselves with sackcloth, both man and beast, and cry fiercely unto God; and they shall turn every man from his wicked way, and from the iniquity of his hands.
9. Who knoweth that God will turn and repent, and turn from his fierce anger, that we perish not.
10. And when God saw their works, and they turned from their wicked ways, he repented him of the evil which he had spoken to do unto them, and did it not.

(Jonah)

Chapter 4

Jonah's impatience and resentment.

1. This grieved Jonah almost exceedingly, and he was wroth.
2. And he prayed unto the LORD, saying, O LORD, this is the thing that I said, while I was yet in my own country: therefore would I have preferred to flee to the sea: for I know that thou art gracious, and merciful, and longsuffering, and of great kindness, and hast repented of evil.
3. Take now therefore, O LORD, my soul from me: for I would rather be dead than live.
4. And the LORD said, Thinkest thou that thou art justly wroth?
5. And Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and made himself a tent there; and there he sat down in the shadow, until he should see what should befall the city.
6. And God the LORD provided a gourd, which grew upon Jonah, to give shadow upon his head, and to deliver him out of his evil. And Jonah rejoiced greatly over the gourd.
7. But the LORD provided a worm in the morning, when the dawn was breaking; and it stung the gourd, and it withered.
8. And it came to pass, when the sun was risen, that God brought a scorching east wind, and the sun stung Jonah upon his head, and he was faint. Then he wished his soul dead, saying, "I would rather be dead than live!
9. And God said unto Jonah, Thinkest thou that thou art justly wroth because of the gourd? And he said, I am justly wroth even unto death.
10. And the LORD said, Thou art sorry for the gourd, because thou hast not wrought for it, neither hast thou reared it, which was born in one night, and perished in one night, 11. And I should not lament in Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than an hundred and twenty thousand men, which know not the difference between right and left, and many beasts also?

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Prophet Micah (Micah) ^

Chapter 1

Devastation of Judah and Samaria for the sake of idolatry.

1. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Micaiah from Mareshah in the days of Jotham, Aliah, Jehizkiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria, and Jerusalem.
2. Hearken, all ye peoples, take heed, land, and all that is within! For God the LORD hath spoken unto you, even the LORD out of his holy temple!
3. For, behold, the LORD shall go forth out of his place, and shall come down, and tread upon the high places of the land,
4. And the mountains shall melt under him, and the valleys shall be rent, as wax melts before the fire, as the waters that flow beneath.
5. All this for the transgression of Jacob, and for the sin of the house of Israel. But what is the transgression of Jacob? Is it not Samaria? And what are the high places of Judah? Is it not Jerusalem?
6. And I will make Samaria a heap of stones in the field, which shall be laid round about the vineyards; and I will drag their stones into the valley, and break them down.
7. All their idols shall be broken, and all their whoredoms shall be burned with fire, and I will destroy all their images: for they are gathered of whoredoms, and shall be whoredoms again.
8. I shall mourn and howl over this; I shall go about bereft and naked; I shall mourn like the dragons, and grieve like the ostriches.
9. For there is no counsel in their plague, which shall come unto Judah, and shall reach unto the gates of my people unto Jerusalem.
10. Proclaim it not to Gath, neither let yourselves be heard to weep, but go into the mourning chamber, and sit down in the ashes.
11. Thou beautiful city shalt go with all shame. The inhabitant of Zaenan will not go out for the sake of the suffering of the next house. He will take it from you when he camps there.
12. The city that is afflicted cannot be comforted: for calamity shall come from the LORD, even unto the gate of Jerusalem.
13. Thou city of Lachish, harness the runners, and depart: for thou art the beginning of sin to the daughter of Zion, and in thee are found the transgressions of Israel.
14. Thou shalt give captives as well as Gath. The city of Achsib shall be lacking with the kings of Israel.

15. I will bring thee Mareshah the right heir: and the glory of Israel shall come unto Adullam.

16. Shave off thy hair, and go bald over thy tender children. Make thee as bald as an eagle: for they are led away captive from thee.

(Micah)

Chapter 2

The people's sin against the second tablet and threatened punishments.

1. Woe unto them that seek to do harm, and deal wickedly in their camp, that they may accomplish it early in the daylight, because they have power!

2. They pluck up the ground, and take the houses which they desire. So they do violence to every man's house, and to every man's inheritance.

3. Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, I remember evil against this generation, out of which ye shall not draw your necks, neither shall ye walk proudly: for it shall be an evil time.

4. And it shall come to pass in that day, that there shall be a saying of you, It is finished, they shall say, We are forsaken. My people's land is given to a foreign lord. When shall he restore unto us the fields which he hath taken from us?

5. Yea, ye shall have no part in the congregation of the LORD.

6. They say, Let no man cry: for such crying doth not befall us; we shall not be so put to shame.

7. The house of Jacob therefore comforteth themselves, saying, Thinkest thou that the spirit of the LORD is shortened? Will he do this? It is true, my words are good to the upright.

8. But my people are risen up as an enemy: for they spoil both the garment and the tunic of them that pass safely by, as well as of them that come out of war.

9. Ye drive the wives of my people out of their good houses, and always take my jewels from their young children.

10. Arise therefore; ye must depart; ye shall not abide here. For their uncleanness they must be rudely destroyed.

11. If I were a false spirit, and a preacher of lies, and preached how they should drink and revel, that would be a preacher unto this people.

12. And I will gather thee, O Jacob, altogether, and will gather the remnant of Israel together; and I will put them together as a flock into a strong stall, and as a herd into their folds; and the sound of men shall be heard.

13. And there shall come up a breaker before them; and they shall break through, and go out and come in at the gate: and their king shall go before them, and the LORD before him.

(Micah)

Chapter 3

Punishment of the heads in the secular and ecclesiastical state.

1. And I said, Hear now, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel. Ye ought to be just, that know the right.

2. But ye hate that which is good, and love that which is evil: ye flay the skin of them, and the flesh of their legs.

3. And ye shall eat the flesh of my people: and when ye have flayed off their skin, ye shall break their legs also, and cut them as into a pot, and as meat into a caldron.

4. Therefore when ye shall cry unto the LORD, he will not hearken unto you, but will hide his face from you in that day, as ye have deserved with your wickedness.

5. Thus saith the LORD against the prophets that deceive my people: They preach that it shall be well where they are fed: but where they are not fed, they preach that war must come.

6. Therefore your vision shall become night, and your divination darkness. The sun shall go down upon the prophets, and the day shall be dark upon them.

7. And the showers shall be put to shame, and the diviners to scorn; and they shall all cover their mouths, because there shall be no word of God.

8. But I am full of the power and spirit of the LORD, of judgment and might, that I may shew Jacob his transgression, and Israel his sin.

9. Hear therefore this, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, which spurn justice, and pervert all that is upright,

10. Which build Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity. Their heads judge for gifts, their priests teach for wages, and their prophets prophesy for money, relying on the LORD, and saying: Is not the LORD among us? No evil can come upon us.

12. Therefore Zion shall be ploughed up as a field for your sakes, and Jerusalem shall become a heap of stones, and the mountain of the temple a wild height.

(Micah)

Chapter 4

Of Christ's kingdom; redemption from Babylonian captivity.

1. But in the last days the mountain whereon the house of the LORD standeth shall surely be higher than all mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills.

2. And the nations shall come running, and many nations shall go, saying, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob, that he may teach us his ways, and that we may walk in his paths. For out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD out of Jerusalem.

3. He shall judge among great nations, and shall punish many nations in far countries. They shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks. No nation shall lift up a sword against another, neither shall they learn war any more.

4. Every man shall dwell under his vine and under his fig tree without fear: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5. For every nation shall walk in the name of its God: but we shall walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6. In that day, saith the LORD, I will gather together the lame, and will gather together the rejecters, and them that I have afflicted.

7. And I will make the lame to have heirs, and the outcast to be a great nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth even for ever.

8. And thou tower of Eder, a stronghold of the daughter of Zion, thy golden rose shall come, the former dominion, the kingdom of the daughter of Jerusalem.

9. Why then dost thou now cleave unto other friends? Is not the king with thee, and are all thy counsellors gone, that woe is come upon thee as one in childish distress?

10. Suffer thou this affliction, O daughter of Zion, and croak as one in childbearing: for thou shalt go out of the city, and dwell in the field, and come to Babylon. For thou shalt go out of the city, and dwell in the field, and come to Babylon: but thou shalt be delivered from thence.

There the LORD will deliver you from your enemies.

11. For many nations shall be gathered together against thee, and shall say, She is banished: we will see our delight in Zion.

12. But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither perceive his counsel, because he hath gathered them together like sheaves in the threshingfloor.

13. Arise therefore, and thresh, thou daughter of Zion. For I will make thee horns of iron, and claws of brass; and thou shalt break in pieces many nations: and I will utterly destroy their goods unto the LORD, and their substance unto the ruler of the whole earth.

14. But now, thou warriors, prepare thyself. For they shall besiege us, and smite the judge of Israel with the rod upon the beacons.

(Micah)

Chapter 5

From Christ's birthplace.

1. And thou, Bethlehem Ephrathah, which art little among the thousands of Judah, out of thee shall he come unto me that is Lord in Israel, which is from the beginning and from everlasting.

2. But he shall afflict them until the time that she that is to bear shall bear. Then shall the remnant of his brethren return unto the children of Israel.

3. And he shall appear and feed in the power of the LORD, and in the victory of the name of his God. And they shall dwell: for he shall be glorified in that day, as far as the world is.

4. For this also shall we have peace from Assyria, which is now fallen in our land, and hath trodden down our houses. For seven shepherds and eight princes shall be raised up against him,

5. Who destroy the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their bare weapons. So shall we be saved from Assyria, which hath fallen into our land, and hath trodden down our border.

6. The remnant also of Jacob shall be among many nations as the dew of the LORD, and as the droplets of the grass, waiting for no man, nor for men.

7. Yea, the remnant of Jacob shall be among the heathen of many nations, as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among a flock of sheep, which no man can withstand, when he goeth through, treading and tearing.

8. For thine hand shall prevail against all thine enemies, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.

9. In that day, saith the LORD, will I put away thy horses from thee, and destroy thy chariots; 10. And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and break down all thy strongholds; 11. And I will cut off sorcerers from among thee, and there shall no diviner abide with thee.

12. I will cut off thy images and thy idols from thee, and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands,

13. And I will break up thy groves, and destroy thy cities.

14. And I will execute vengeance with fury and wrath upon all the heathen that will not obey.

(Micah)

Chapter 6

Of the sacrifices that please God.

1. Hear therefore what the LORD saith, Arise, and rebuke the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2. Hear, ye mountains, how the LORD will punish, and the strong foundations of the earth. For the LORD will rebuke his people, and will punish Israel.

3. What have I done unto thee, my people, and wherewith have I offended thee? Tell me.

4. For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of bondage, and sent before thee Moses, and Aaron, and Miriam.

5. Now remember, my people, what Balak king of Moab purposed to do, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him, from Shittim even unto Gilgal: whereupon ye shall know how the LORD hath done you all good.

6. Wherewith shall I make atonement unto the LORD? With bowing down before the high God?

Shall I make atonement for him with burnt offerings and calves of the year?

7. Thinkest thou that the LORD hath pleasure in many thousands of rams, or in oil, though it were innumerable rivers full? Or shall I give my first son for my transgression, or the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

8. It is told thee, O man, what is good, and what the LORD requireth of thee, to keep the word of God, and to love, and to be humble before thy God.

9. The voice of the LORD shall call upon the city: but he that feareth thy name shall prosper.

Hear, ye tribes, what is preached.

10. There remaineth yet unrighteousness in the house of the wicked, and the lowly and hostile ephah.

11. Or shall I approve the unjust scales, and the false weight in the bag?

12. By whom their rich do much wrong? And their inhabitants deal in lies, and have false tongues in their throats.

13. Therefore will I also begin to afflict thee, and to make thee desolate for thy sin.

14. Thou shalt not have enough to eat, neither shalt thou faint. And that which thou hast received shall not pass away: and that which passeth away will I deliver to the sword.

15. Thou shalt sow, and not reap: thou shalt press oil, and not anoint thyself with it; and thou shalt press wine, and not drink wine.

16. For they have kept the way of Amri, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and have followed their counsel. Therefore will I make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof, to be whistled at: and ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

(Micah)

Chapter 7

Few pious people are to be found.

1. Alas, I am as one that lieth down in the vineyard, when there are no grapes to eat, and yet would gladly have the best of the fruit.

2. The righteous are gone out of this land, and the just are no more among the people. They all lie in wait for blood: every one hunteth after another to destroy him, 3. And think they do well when they do evil. What the prince wills, the judge saith, that he may do him service again. The mighty counsel according to their wantonness to do harm, and turn it as they will.

4. The best of them is as a thorn, and the most upright as a hedge. But when the day of thy preachers shall come, when thou shalt be visited, then shall they not know from whence.
5. No one believes his neighbor, no one relies on princes! Keep the door of your mouth from her who sleeps in your arms!
6. For the son despiseth his father, the daughter setteth herself against her mother, the cord is against her husband's wife: and a man's enemies are his own household.
7. But I will look unto the LORD, and wait upon the God of my salvation: my God shall hear me.
8. Rejoice not, O mine enemy, that I am fallen down. I shall arise again. Though I sit in darkness, yet the LORD is my light.
9. I will bear the LORD'S wrath, because I have sinned against him, until he execute my cause, and do me justice. He shall bring me to the light, that I may see my delight in his mercy.
10. My enemy shall see it, and shall stand in all her shame, which saith unto me now, Where is the LORD thy God? My eyes shall see, and she shall be trodden down as dung in the street.
11. In that day thy walls shall be built, and the word of God shall go forth far.
12. And in that day shall they come unto thee from Assyria, and from strong cities, from strong cities unto the sea, from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.
13. For the land shall be desolate for the inhabitants thereof, for the fruit of their works.
14. And thou shalt feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine inheritance, which dwell in the forest by themselves, and in the field: let them feed in Bashan and in Gilead, as of old.
15. I will make them see wonders, as when they came out of the land of Egypt, 16. That the heathen may see, and all their mighty men be ashamed, and lay their hand upon their mouth, and stop their ears.
17. They shall lick dust like serpents, and tremble in their holes like the creeping things of the earth. They shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall be terrified of thee.
18. Where is such a God as thou art? who forgiveth sin, and remitteth iniquity unto the remnant of his inheritance; who keepeth not his wrath for ever: for he is merciful.

19. he will have mercy on us again, and will subdue our iniquity, and cast all our sins into the depth of the sea.

20. Thou wilt keep faith with Jacob, and grace with Abraham, as thou swarest unto our fathers before.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Nahum ^

Chapter 1

God's majesty against tyrants.

1. This is the burden of Nineveh, and the book of the prophecy of Nahum of Elkos.

2. The LORD is a zealous God, and a revenger; yea, a revenger is the LORD, and angry: the LORD is a revenger against his adversaries, and he will not forget his enemies.

3. The LORD is patient, and of great strength, before whom no man is innocent: he is the LORD whose ways are in the weather and in the storm, and under whose feet is thick dust, 4. Who hath chastened the sea, and made it dry, and dried up all the waters. Bashan and Carmel languish, and that which flourisheth in mount Lebanon languisheth.

5. The mountains shall tremble at his presence, and the hills shall melt: the earth shall shake at his presence, and the world, and all that dwell therein.

6. Who can stand before his wrath, and who can abide before his fury? His wrath burneth as fire, and the rocks cleave before him.

7. The LORD is good, and a strong hold in time of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in him.

8. When the flood overflows, he putteth an end to it: but his enemies he pursueeth with darkness.

9. What think ye against the LORD? He will make an end of it; the calamity will not come twice.

10. For as when the thorns, which are yet growing together, and are in the best of sap, are burned as dry straw,

11. So shall be the counsel that cometh from thee, and thinketh evil against the LORD.

12. Thus saith the LORD; They come armed and mighty as they will, but they shall be cut down, and go away. I have humbled thee; but I will not humble thee again.

13. Then will I break his yoke that thou bearest, and rend thy bands.

14. But against thee hath the LORD commanded, that the seed of thy name should no more remain. From the house of thy God will I cut thee off; the idols and graven images will I make thy grave: for thou art destroyed.

Behold, upon the mountains come the feet of a good messenger preaching peace: Keep thy feast days, Judah, and pay thy vows. For the mischief shall no more come upon thee; it is utterly cut off.

(Nahum)

Chapter 2

Destruction of the city of Nineveh.

2. The destroyer shall come up against thee, and shall besiege the stronghold. But, yea, make ready the road, and nest thyself in the best, and strengthen thyself in the most mighty.

3. For the LORD will recompense the pride of Jacob, as he recompensed the pride of Israel: for the reckoners shall count them out, and the reckoners shall destroy them.

4. The shields of his mighty men are red; his host looketh like purple; his chariots shine like fire when he striketh; their spears quake.

5. The chariots roll in the streets, and rattle in the highways; they look like torches, and pass among themselves like lightnings.

6. And he shall remember his mighty men: but they shall fall where they go out, and shall haste to the wall, and to the screen, where they shall be safe.

7. But the gates of the waters shall be opened, and the palace shall go down.

8. The queen shall be led away captive: and her virgins shall groan as doves, and beat upon her breast.

9. For Nineveh is like a pool of water; but the same shall flow away. Stand, stand! (they will shout), but no one will turn back.

10. Rob ye now silver, rob ye gold. For here is no end of treasures, and the multitude of all precious gems.

11. But now she shall be purely picked and plundered, and her heart shall be troubled, and her knees shall shake, and her loins shall tremble, and her face shall look as pale as a pot.

12. Where then is the dwelling place of the lions, and the pasture of the young lions, when the lion and the lioness walked with the young lions, and no man was permitted to drive them out?

13. But the lion robbed enough for his young, and choked his lionesses; he filled his dens with spoil, and his habitation with that which he had torn.

14. Behold, I will be with thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and will burn thy chariots with smoke; and the sword shall devour thy young lions; and I will make an end of thy spoilings upon the earth, and thy messengers' voices shall be heard no more.

(Nahum)

Chapter 3

Sins of the City of Nineveh.

Woe to the murderous city, which is full of lies and robbery, and will not cease from its robbery!

2. For then shall the scourges be heard to clatter, and the wheels to rattle, and the horses to cry, and the chariots to roll.

3. He bringeth up horsemen with shining swords, and with shining spears. There lie many slain, and great heaps of dead bodies, so that there is no number of them, and one must fall over their dead bodies.

4. All this for the sake of the great whoredom of the beautiful whore of love, which dealeth in sorcery, which by her whoredom hath bought the heathen, and by her sorcery the land and the people.

5. Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts. I will uncover thy righteousness under thy face; and I will shew thy nakedness unto the heathen, and thy shame unto the kingdoms.

6. I will make thee all abominable, and will ravish thee, and make thee an abomination, 7. That all they which see thee should flee from thee, and say: Nineveh is desolate: who shall have compassion on her? and where shall I seek comfort for thee?

8. Thinkest thou that thou art better than the city of No of the rulers, which was by the waters, and had waters round about, whose walls and strong holds were the sea?

9. Moors and Egypt was their innumerable power, Put and Libya were thy help.

10. And she was driven out, and went away captive, and her children were slain in every street; and the lot was cast for her nobles, and all her mighty men were put in chains and fetters.

11. So shalt thou also be drunken, and hide thyself, and seek a stronghold from the enemy.

12. All thy strong cities are as fig trees with ripe figs, when they are shaken to fall into the mouth of him that will eat them.

13. Behold, thy people shall become women within thee, and the gates of thy land shall be opened unto thine enemies; and the fire shall devour thy bars.

14. Draw thee water, for thou shalt be besieged; improve thy strongholds; go into the clay, and tread the glue, and make strong bricks.

15. But the fire shall devour thee, and the sword shall slay thee: it shall devour thee as the beetle, it shall overtake thee as the beetle, it shall attack thee as the locust; 16. Thou hast more merchants than there are stars in heaven: but now they shall spread themselves out like beetles, and fly away.

17. Thy lords are as grasshoppers, and thy captains as beetles, which lie down by the fence in the cold days: but when the sun riseth, they are lifted up, and it is not known where they abide.

18. Thy shepherds shall sleep, O king of Assyria; thy mighty men shall lie down; thy people shall be scattered upon the mountains, and none shall gather them together.

19. No man shall mourn for thy hurt, nor be grieved for thy plague: but all they that hear these things of thee shall clap their hands at thee. For upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed without ceasing?

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Habakkuk (Habakkuk) ^

Chapter 1

Invasion of the Chaldeans against Judah.

1. This is the burden which the prophet Habakkuk saw.

2. O LORD, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear? How long shall I cry unto thee for iniquity, and thou wilt not help?

3. Why hast thou made me to see toil and labour? Why showest thou me robbery and iniquity?

There is violence above justice.

4. Wherefore things go not at all but right, and no right thing can be gained: for the wicked overreaches the righteous, and therefore wrong judgments go.

5. Look ye among the heathen, and see, and marvel: for I will do a thing in your days, which ye shall not believe, when it shall be spoken of.

6. For, behold, I will raise up the Chaldeans, a bitter and quick people, which shall go as far as the land, to possess dwellings that are not theirs,

7. And shall be cruel and terrible, which shall command and compel as it pleaseth.

8. Their horses are swifter than the horses of the parade; and they are more biting than the wolves of the evening. Their horsemen go forth from afar in great multitudes, as if they flew, as the eagles hasten to the carrion.

9. They come all of them to do harm: whithersoever they go they tear through like an east wind, and shall gather captives together like the sand.

10. They shall mock at kings, and laugh at princes. All fortresses shall be a jest unto them: for they shall make rubble, and yet gain them.

11. Then shall they take courage again, and shall go on and sin: then must their victory be of their God.

12. But thou, O LORD my God, my Holy One, who art from everlasting, let us not die, but let them be to us, O LORD, only a punishment, and let them, O our refuge, only chasten us!

13. Thine eyes are pure, that thou canst not see evil; and thou canst not look upon the affliction.

Why then dost thou look upon the scornful, and holdest thy peace? for the wicked devoureth him that is more pious than he,

14. And let men go as fishes in the sea, as creeping things that have no master?

15. They draw it all with their hempen, and haul it with their net, and gather it with their yarn: they rejoice and are glad.

16. Therefore they sacrifice unto their nets, and burn incense unto their yarn; because by them their portion is made fat, and their meat is made whole.

17. Therefore they cast their net still, and will not cease to strangle men.

(Habakkuk)

Chapter 2

God's promises and truth. Faith makes righteous.

1. Here I stand upon my guard, and tread upon my stronghold, and watch and see what shall be said unto me, and what I shall answer him that reproacheth me.

2. But the LORD answereth me, and saith, Write the vision, and paint it upon a tablet, that whosoever passeth by may read it:

3. The prophecy shall yet be fulfilled in his time; and it shall come to pass, and shall not be left without. But if it be consumed, wait for it: it shall surely come, and shall not fail.

4. Behold, he that is stiffnecked shall have no rest in his heart: for the righteous liveth by faith.

(Habakkuk)

Chapter 3

Of the fall of the Babylonians.

5. But wine deceiveth the proud man, that he cannot abide, which openeth his soul like hell, and is even as death, which cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto himself all nations, and gathereth unto himself all people.

6. But what is the matter? All these shall make a saying of him, and a fable, and a proverb, saying, Woe to him that multiplieth his substance with other men's substance! How long shall it last? and he shall bring much mire upon himself.

7. O how suddenly they that bite thee shall awake, and they that push thee away shall awake!

And thou must come to them.

8. For thou hast spoiled many nations; and all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee again for the blood of men, and for the iniquity of the land, and of the city, and of all that dwell therein.

9. Woe unto him that maketh his house a calamity, that he may set his nest on high, that he may escape calamity!

10. But thy counsel shall be unto the reproach of thine house: for thou hast broken down too many nations, and hast sinned with all wilfulness.
11. For even the stones of the wall shall cry out, and the beams of the bars shall answer them.
12. Woe unto him that buildeth the city with blood, and that destroyeth the city with iniquity!
13. Is it not so, that it shall come to pass from the LORD of hosts? That which the nations have wrought for thee shall be burned with fire, and that which the people are weary of shall be lost.
14. For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters that cover the sea.
15. Woe unto thee, that pour out thy cup unto thy neighbour, and mix thine anger therewith, and make him drunken, that thou mayest see his shame!
16. Thou shalt also be filled with shame for glory. Now therefore drink thou also, that thou mayest stagger: for the cup that is in the right hand of the LORD shall compass thee about, and thou shalt spit shamefully for thy glory.
17. For the iniquity that is committed in Lebanon shall overtake thee, and the beasts that are destroyed shall terrify thee, because of the blood of men, and because of the iniquity that is committed in the land, and in the city, and against all that dwell therein.
18. What then shall the image profit, which his master hath formed, and the false cast image, wherein his master trusted, that he made dumb idols?
19. Woe unto him that saith unto the wood, Awake! and unto the dumb stone, Arise! How shall it teach? Behold, it is overlaid with gold and silver, and there is no breath in it.
20. But the LORD is in his holy temple. Let all the earth be silent before him!

(Habakkuk)

Chapter 4

Prayer to God for the preservation of His people.

Ch. 3, v. 1. This is the prayer of the prophet Habakkuk for the innocent:

2. O Lord, I have heard thy rumour, and am astonished. O Lord, thou makest thy work alive in the midst of the years, and makest it known in the midst of the years. When tribulation cometh, thou rememberest mercy.

3. God came from the midday, and the Holy One from Mount Paran. Sela. The heavens were full of His praise, and the earth was full of His glory.

4. His brightness was as light; shinings were from his hands; there was his power secretly.

5. Before him went pestilence, and plague went out whithersoever he went.

6. He stood and measured the land, and looked, and divided the nations: and the mountains of the world were broken in pieces, and the hills of the world stooped down, when he walked in the world.

7. I saw the tents of the Moors in trouble, and the tents of the Midianites in distress.

8. Were not thou wroth, O LORD, in the flood, and thy wrath in the waters, and thy anger in the sea, when thou rodeest upon thy horses, and thy chariots prevailed?

9. Thou hast drawn forth the bow, as thou swarest unto the tribes, Shelah, and hast divided the rivers into the land.

10. The mountains saw thee, and they were afraid: the river went down, the deep was heard, the high places lifted up their hands.

11. The sun and the moon stood still. Thine arrows passed with shining, and thy spears with glances of lightning.

12. Thou hast trodden down the land in wrath, and thou hast crushed the heathen in fury.

13. Thou wentest forth to help thy people, to help thine anointed. Thou didst bruise the head of the house of the wicked; Thou didst uncover the foundation unto the neck. Sela.

14. Thou wouldest curse the sceptre of the head, and the spots thereof, which come as the weather to scatter me, and rejoice as they devour the wretched in hiding.

15. your horses walk in the sea, in the mud of great water.

16. When I hear these things, my belly is troubled, my lips tremble with the cry; pus cometh into my bones; I am troubled with myself. O that I might rest in the time of trouble, When we go up to the people that dispute with us!

17. For the fig tree shall not flourish, neither shall there be any increase in the vines; the work of the olive tree shall fail, and the fields shall yield no food; and the sheep shall be plucked out of the folds, and there shall be no oxen in the stalls.

18. But I will rejoice in the LORD, and be glad in GOD my salvation.

19. For the LORD GOD is my strength, and shall make my feet as the feet of a deer, and shall lead me on high to sing with my strings.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Prophet Zephaniah (Zephaniah) ^

Chapter 1

Of the fall of the kingdom of Judah.

1. This is the word of the LORD, which came unto Zephaniah the son of Chushiah, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hezekiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah:

2. I will take all out of the land, saith the LORD.

3. And I will take away both man and beast, both the fowls of the air, and the fishes of the sea, and the offenders, and the wicked: yea, I will purge the people out of the land, saith the LORD.

4. I will stretch out my hand upon Judah, and upon all that dwell in Jerusalem; and I will purge out the remnant of Baal, and the name of the camarim, and the priests of this place.

5. And they that worship the host on the housetops of heaven, who worship it, and swear by the LORD, and by Malchom,

6. And they that fall away from the LORD, and ask nothing of the LORD, and esteem him not.

7. Be still before the LORD GOD: for the day of the LORD is at hand. For the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, and hath invited his guests unto it.

8. And in the day of the LORD'S sacrifice I will visit the princes, and the king's children, and all that ask a strange garment.

9. And in that day will I punish them that leap over the threshold, that fill their masters' houses with spoil and deceit.

10. In that day, saith the LORD, there shall be a shout from the fish gate, and a howling from the other gate, and a great lamentation in the hills.

11. Hay ye that dwell in the mill. For all the merchants are gone, and all that gather money are cut off.

12. In that day will I search Jerusalem with lanterns, and will visit the people that lie on their heels, and say in their hearts, The LORD will do neither good nor evil.

13. And their goods shall become a spoil, and their houses a desolation. They shall build houses, and not dwell therein: they shall plant vineyards, and not drink wine of them.

14. For the great day of the LORD is at hand; it is near, and hasteth greatly. When the cry of the day of the LORD shall come, then shall the mighty cry bitterly.

15. For this day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and anguish, a day of weather and tempest, a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and fog,

16. A day of trumpets and trumpets against the strong cities and high castles.

17. I will make men afraid, that they may go about as the blind, because they have sinned against the LORD. Their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their bodies as dung.

18. Their silver and their gold shall not deliver them in the day of the LORD'S wrath: but all the land shall be consumed in the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make a sudden end of all them that dwell in the land.

(Zephaniah)

Chapter 2

Exhortation to repentance. Punishment of the neighboring nations.

1. Gather yourselves together, and come hither, ye hostile people, 2. Before the judgment go forth, that ye perish as the chaff of the day, before the fierce wrath of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD'S wrath come upon you.

Seek ye the LORD, all ye wretched of the earth, that keep his statutes. Seek righteousness, seek humility, that ye may be hid in the day of the LORD'S wrath.

4. For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ascalon shall be desolate; Ashdod shall be driven out in the south, and Acaron shall be rooted up.

5. Woe to them that dwell by the sea, to the warriors! The word of the LORD shall come upon you. Thou, Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will destroy thee, and none shall dwell there.
 6. There shall be shepherds' houses and flocks of sheep by the sea.
 7. And the same shall be to the remnant of the house of Judah, that they may feed thereon. And in the evening they shall lie down in the houses of Ascalon, when the LORD their God hath visited them again, and turned their captivity.
 8. I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the blasphemy of the children of Ammon, to reproach my people, and to boast in their borders.
 9. Therefore, as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Moab shall become as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrha; yea, as a nettle bush, and a salt pit, and a perpetual desolation. The remnant of my people shall rob them, and the remnant of my people shall inherit them.
 10. This shall be a reward unto them for their pride, because they have reproached the people of the LORD of hosts, and have boasted.
 11. Terrible shall the LORD be upon them: for he shall destroy all the gods of the earth. And all the isles of the Gentiles shall worship him, every one in his place.
 12. Ye also shall be slain with my sword;
 13. And he shall stretch out his hand upon the north, and destroy Assyria. Nineveh shall he make desolate, barren as a wilderness,
 14. And in it shall lodge all manner of beasts among the heathen: bitterns also and hedgehogs shall dwell in their towers, and shall sing in the windows, and the ravens in the beams: for the cedar boards shall be taken down.
 15. This is the joyful city, which dwelt so securely, saying in her heart, It is I, and none more!
- How is it become desolate, that beasts dwell therein! And they that pass by whistle at it, and wave their hand over it.

(Zephaniah)

Chapter 3

Lament and threat against the disobedient Jerusalem. Comfort of the faithful in the Messiah.

1. woe to the vile, foul, tyrannical city!

2. She will not obey, nor be disciplined; she will not trust in the LORD, nor cleave unto her God.
3. Their princes are lions roaring among them, and their judges are wolves in the evening, leaving nothing until the morning.
4. Their prophets are reckless and scornful. Their priests profane the sanctuary and interpret the law sacrilegiously.
5. But the LORD that is among them teacheth right, and doeth no evil. He teacheth all the mornings his statutes openly, and desisteth not: but the wicked men will not learn to be ashamed.
6. Therefore will I cut off these people, and will make their castles desolate, and will make their streets empty, that no man shall walk therein: and their cities shall be destroyed, and there shall be no man there.
7. And I said unto thee, Fear me, and be thou chastened; and their habitation shall not be cut off, neither shall it come to pass, that I may visit them. But they are diligent to do all manner of wickedness.
8. Therefore again, saith the LORD, ye also must wait upon me, until I arise in his day, when I also will judge, and gather the nations together, and bring the kingdoms in multitude, to pour out my wrath upon them, even all the wrath of my fury. For all the earth shall be consumed by the fire of my zeal.
9. Then will I preach otherwise unto the nations with kind lips, that they all may call upon the name of the LORD, and serve him with one accord.
10. They shall bring me my worshippers, even the scattered ones from beyond the waters of the land of the Moors, for a present.
11. In that day thou shalt no more be ashamed of all thy doings, because thou hast transgressed against me: for I will put away the proud saints from thee, and thou shalt no more exalt thyself because of my holy mountain.
12. I will leave in thee a poor and few people: they shall trust in the name of the LORD.
13. The remnant of Israel shall do no evil, nor speak falsely; neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: but they shall feed and rest, without all fear.
14. Rejoice, O daughter of Zion! Shout, Israel! Rejoice and be glad with all your heart, O daughter of Jerusalem!

15. For the LORD hath taken away thy punishment, and hath turned away thine enemies. The LORD king of Israel is with thee, that thou shalt fear no evil.

16. And it shall be said in that day unto Jerusalem, Fear not: and unto Zion, Let not thine hands be loosed.

17. For the LORD thy God is with thee, a strong Saviour: he will rejoice over thee, and be kind unto thee, and forgive thee, and will be glad over thee with sound.

18. I will remove them that were oppressed with statutes, and they shall come out of thee, whose statutes were their burden, whereof they were reproached.

19. Behold, I will deal with all them that offend thee in that day; and I will help the limping, and gather the outcast; and I will make them to be praised and honoured in all countries where they are despised.

20. In that day will I bring you in, and gather you together in that day. For I will make you to be praised and honoured among all the nations of the earth, when I shall turn away your prison from before your eyes, saith the LORD.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Haggai ^

Chapter 1

Sermon against the negligence in the promotion of the temple building:

1. In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, prince of Judah, and unto Joshua the son of Jehozadak, high priest, saying: 2.

Thus saith the LORD of hosts; This people saith, The time is not yet come to build the house of the LORD.

3. And the word of the LORD came by the prophet Haggai:

4. But your days are come, that ye should dwell in houses of wood, and this house should stand desolate?

5. Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; See how ye fare.

6. Ye sow much, and bring in little; ye eat, and are not satisfied; ye drink, and are not drunken; ye clothe yourselves, and cannot warm yourselves; and he that earneth money putteth it into a bag full of holes.

7. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; See how ye fare.

8. Go up into the mountains, and cut wood, and build the house: it shall be acceptable unto me, and I will shew mine honour, saith the LORD.

9. For ye wait for much, and, behold, it is little: and though ye bring it home, yet will I destroy it.

Wherefore saith the LORD of hosts? Because my house is desolate, and every man hasteth to his own house.

10. Therefore the heaven hath restrained the dew upon you, and the earth her increase.

11. And I have called for drought, both upon land, and upon mountains, and upon corn, and upon wine, and upon oil, and upon all that cometh out of the earth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the work of the hands.

12. Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him: and the people feared the LORD.

13. Then said Haggai the angel of the LORD, which had the message of the LORD unto the people, I am with you, saith the LORD.

14. And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, ruler of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Jehozadak the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people, that they should come and work in the house of the LORD of hosts their God.

(Haggai)

Chapter 2

Prophecy of the glory of the other temple because of the future of the Messiah.

1. On the twenty-fourth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king, 2. On the twenty-first day of the seventh month came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying:

3. Speak unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, the prince of Judah, and unto Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and unto the remnant of the people, saying: 4. Who is left among you that hath seen this house in the former glory? And how look ye now upon it? Is it not so, that ye think it to be nothing?

5. And now, Zerubbabel, be of good cheer, saith the LORD; be of good cheer, Joshua, thou son of Jehozadak, thou high priest; be of good cheer, all the people of the land, saith the LORD, and work. For I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts.

6. According to the word that I made a covenant with you, when ye came out of Egypt, my spirit shall dwell among you. Fear not!

7. For thus saith the LORD of hosts; There is yet a little while, that I will move heaven and earth, and the sea and the dry land.

8. Yea, I will move all nations. Then shall come the consolation of all the nations. And I will make this house full of glory, saith the LORD of hosts.

9. For mine is both silver and gold, saith the LORD of hosts.

10. The glory of this latter house shall be greater than that of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and I will give peace in this place, saith the LORD of hosts.

11. And it came to pass on the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the year of Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Haggai the prophet, saying:

12. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Ask the priests of the law, and say:

13. If a man bear holy flesh in the sheath of his garment, and afterward touch with his sheath bread, or vegetables, or wine, or oil, or any manner of meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said: No.

14. And Haggai said, If a man that is unclean touch any of the touched of these, shall it also be unclean? And the priests answered and said: It shall be unclean.

15. And Haggai answered and said, So are this people, and so are these men before me, saith the LORD; and all the work of their dogs, and that which they offer, is unclean.

16. And now behold how it hath been unto you from this day forward, and before that stone was laid upon stone in the temple of the LORD:

17. That when a man came to the heap of corn, which should have had twenty measures, there were scarce ten: and when he came to the winepress, and thought to draw fifty pails, there were scarcely twenty.

18. For I have afflicted you with drought, and with burning corn, and with hail, in all your labour: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

19. Watch ye therefore from this day and before, even from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month even unto the day that the temple of the LORD is founded, watch ye.
20. For the seed is yet in the barn, and beareth not yet any thing, neither vines, nor fig trees, nor pomegranates, nor olive trees: but from this day I will give blessing.
21. And the word of the LORD came again unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying:
22. Speak unto Zerubbabel the prince of Judah, saying, I will move heaven and earth.
23. And I will turn back the stalls of the kingdoms, and destroy the mighty kingdoms of the heathen, and will turn back both chariots with their riders; and both horse and man shall fall down, every man by his sword.
24. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, thou son of Shealtiel, my servant, saith the LORD; and I will keep thee as a signet ring: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Prophet Zechariah (Zechariah) ^

Chapter 1

Exhortation to repentance and godliness, confirmed with two faces.

1. In the eighth month of the second year of Darius the king, came this word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah the son of Iddo the prophet, saying: 2. The LORD was wroth with your fathers.
3. And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Turn ye unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.
4. Be not ye as your fathers, to whom the former prophets preached, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Turn ye from your wicked ways, and from your evil doings. But they hearkened not, neither hearkened unto me, saith the LORD.
5. Where then are your fathers, and the prophets? Are they still alive?
6. Is it not so, that my words and my judgments, which I commanded by my servants the prophets, came upon your fathers, that they turned and said, As the LORD of hosts purposed to do unto us, after that we went and did, so hath he done unto us?

7. In the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the moon of Zebath, in the second year of Darius the king, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah the son of Berechiah the son of Iddo the prophet, saying:

8. I looked by night, and, behold, a man sat upon a red horse, and he stopped among the myrtles in the meadow; and behind him were red horses, and brown horses, and white horses.

9. And I said, My lord, who are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee who these are.

10. And the man that kept among the myrtles answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to pass through the land.

11. And they answered the angel of the LORD that kept among the myrtles, and said: We have passed through the land; and, behold, all the countries sit still.

12. And the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem, and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast been wroth these seventy years?

13. And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with words of kindness and comfort.

14. And the angel that talked with me said unto me, Preach, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I have been very jealous over Jerusalem and over Zion;

15. But I am very wroth with the proud Gentiles: for I was but a little wroth, but they help to destruction.

16. Therefore thus saith the LORD; I will return unto Jerusalem with mercy, and my house shall be built therein, saith the LORD of hosts; and the cord shall be drawn in Jerusalem.

17. And preach again, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; It shall be well with my cities again; and the LORD will comfort Zion again, and will choose Jerusalem again.

18. And I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there were four horns.

19. And I spake unto the angel that talked with me: Who are these?
And he said unto me, They are the horns which have scattered Judah with Israel and Jerusalem.

20. And the LORD showed me many smiths.

21. And I said, What will they do? And he said, The horns that scattered Judah, that no man might lift up his head to scatter them, are these come to cast off the horns of the heathen, which have lifted up the horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 2

Of the protection of the spiritual Jerusalem and of the calling of the Gentiles.

1. And I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, a man had a measuring line in his hand.

2. And I said, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, That I may measure Jerusalem, and see how long and how broad she shall be.

3. And, behold, the angel that talked with me went out. And another angel went out to meet him 4. And said unto him, Run, tell this lad, and say, Jerusalem shall be inhabited without walls, because of the multitude of men and cattle that shall be therein.

5. And I will be, saith the LORD, a wall of fire round about, and will be within, and will be glorious within.

6. Whoo! whoo! Flee from the midnight land, saith the LORD; for I have scattered you to the four winds under heaven, saith the LORD.

7. Hie, Zion, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon, escape!

8. For thus saith the LORD of hosts; He hath sent me for glory unto the heathen that spoiled you: their power is ended. He that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye.

9. For, behold, I will weave my hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to them that served them; and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.

10. Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Zion. For, behold, I come, and will dwell with thee, saith the LORD.

11. And in that day shall many nations be brought unto the LORD, and shall be my people: and I will dwell with thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12. And the LORD shall inherit Judah for his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.

13. Let all flesh be still before the LORD: for he is come up out of his holy place.

Chapter 3

Christ's priestly ministry to Joshua prefigured.

1. And Joshua the high priest was shewed me, standing before the angel of the LORD: and Satan stood on his right hand to oppose him.

2. And the LORD said unto Satan, The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan: yea, the LORD rebuke thee, which hath chosen Jerusalem. Is not this a burning that is delivered out of the fire?

3. And Joshua had unclean raiment, and stood before the angel,

4. Which answered and said unto them that stood before him: Put away the unclean garments from him. And he said unto him, Behold, I have taken away thy sin from thee, and have clothed thee with garments of feasting.

5. And he said, Put a clean hat upon his head. And they put a clean hat upon his head, and clothed him with raiment: and the angel of the LORD stood there.

6. And the angel of the LORD bare witness unto Joshua, saying:

7. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and wait upon my guard, then thou shalt rule my house, and keep my courts: and I will give thee of these that stand here, that they may guide thee.

8. Give ear, O Joshua, thou high priest, thou and thy friends that dwell before thee: for they are wondrous. For, behold, I will send for Zemah my servant.

9. For, behold, upon the one stone, which I have laid before Joshua, shall be seven eyes. But, behold, I will hew it out, saith the LORD of hosts; and I will take away the sin of that land in one day.

10. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall one invite another under the vine, and under the fig tree.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 4

Preservation of the church by God's power.

1. And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as one is waked from sleep, 2. And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said: And, behold, there stood a candlestick all of gold, with a vase upon it, and seven lamps thereon, and seven wedges to each lamp, 3. And two olive trees with them, one on the right hand of the bowl, and the other on the left.

4. And I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, My lord, what is this?

5. And the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these things are? And I said, No, my lord.

6. And he answered and said unto me, This is the word of the LORD of Zerubbabel, saying, It shall not be by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.

7. Who art thou, O great mountain, which must be a plain before Zerubbabel? And he shall bring up the first stone, and they shall cry: Good fortune, good fortune!

8. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

9. The hands of Zerubbabel have founded this house; his hands also shall finish it, that ye may know that the LORD hath sent me unto you.

10. For who shall despise these few days, when they shall rejoice, and see the measure of brass in Zerubbabel's hand, with the seven, which are the eyes of the LORD, which run through all the land?

11. And I answered and said unto him, What are the two olive trees on the right hand and on the left hand of the candlestick?

12. And I answered the second time, and said unto him, What are the two olive branches which are by the two golden branches of the golden candlestick, to break off the top of the golden candlestick?

13. And he said unto me, Knowest thou not what these are? And I said, No, my lord.

14. And he said, These are the two children of oil, which stand by the ruler of all the land.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 5

Story of the flying letter and a woman sitting in the ephah.

1. And I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and, behold, it was a flying letter.

2. And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I said: I see a flying letter twenty cubits long and ten cubits broad.

3. And he said unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth upon all the land: for all thieves shall be accounted righteous according to this letter, and all perjurers shall be accounted righteous according to this letter.

4. But I will bring it forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall come upon the house of the thief, and upon the house of them that swear falsely by my name; and it shall abide in their house, and consume it with the timber thereof, and with the stones thereof.

5. And the angel that talked with me came out, and said unto me, Lift up thine eyes, and behold, what cometh out?

6. And I said, What is it? And he said, An ephah cometh out, and said, This is her form throughout all the land.

7. And, behold, there floated a talent of lead; and there was a woman sitting in the ephah.

8. And he said, This is the ungodly doctrine. And he cast them into the ephah, and cast the lump of lead upon the top of the hole.

9. And I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, two women came out, having wings which the wind drove: and they had wings like the wings of a stork, and they led the ephah between the earth and heaven.

10. And I said unto the angel that talked with me: Where do they lead the ephah?

11. And he said unto me, Let an house be built for him in the land of Shinar, and let it be prepared, and let it be set there upon his ground. (Zechariah)

Chapter 6

Of the protection of the holy angels over the pious. Christ's office and kingdom.

1. And I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and, behold, there were four chariots going out from between two mountains: and the mountains were brass.

2. There were red horses in the first chariot, and black horses in the second chariot; 3. On the third chariot were white horses; on the fourth chariot were strong horses.

4. And I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, My lord, who are these?

5. And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four winds which blow under heaven, which come forth to stand before the ruler of all the earth.

6. In which were the black horses, which went forth toward the north, and the white went after them: but the shekels went forth toward the south.

7. And the mighty went and removed, and compassed all the countries. And he said, Go ye, and pass through the land. And they went through the land.

8. And he called me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, they that go forth toward the north make my spirit to rest in the land toward the north.

9. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:

10. Take of the captives, that is, of Heldai, and of Tobiah, and of Jedaiah, and come thou the same day, and enter into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah, which are come from Babylon.

11. And take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the high priest, the son of Jehozadak.

12. And say unto him, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, there is a man whose name is Zemah; for it shall grow under him; and he shall build the temple of the LORD.

13. Yea, he shall build the temple of the LORD, and shall bear the ornament, and shall sit and reign upon his throne, and shall be priest also upon his throne: and there shall be peace between them.

14. And the crowns shall be for a memorial unto Helem, and Tobiah, and Jedaiah, and Hen the son of Zephaniah, in the temple of the LORD.

15. And they shall come from afar, which shall build the temple of the LORD. Then ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And it shall come to pass, if ye will obey the voice of the LORD your God.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 7

Of fasting and works of mercy.

1. And it came to pass in the fourth year of Darius the king, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, which is called Chisleu, 2. When Sarezzer and Regem-melech and their men sent into the house of God to pray before the LORD, 3. And they told the priests that were about the house of the LORD of hosts, and the prophets: Must I also weep in the fifth month, and abstain, as I have done these things many years?

4. And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying:
 5. Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh month these seventy years, have ye fasted unto me thus?
 6. Or when ye did eat and drink, did ye not eat and drink for yourselves?
 7. Is not this that the LORD preached by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited, and had abundance, and her cities round about, and men dwelt both in the south, and in the valley?
 8. And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying:
 9. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Judge ye aright, and shew kindness and mercy every man to his brother;
 10. And do not wrong the widows, the fatherless, the stranger, or the poor; and let no man think evil in his heart against his brother.
 11. But they would not hearken, and turned their backs unto me, and hardened their ears, that they heard not,
 12. And set their hearts like unto a diamond, that they should not hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts sent in his spirit by the former prophets; wherefore great wrath came from the LORD of hosts.
 13. And it came to pass thus: As they preached, and heard not; neither would I hear when they called, saith the LORD of hosts.
 14. So I have scattered them among all the nations which know them not, and the land is left desolate behind them, that no man walketh therein, nor dwelleth therein: and the noble land is made desolate.
- (Zechariah)

Chapter 8

Of the future of the Messiah and his kingdom:

1. And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying:
2. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; I have been almost very jealous over Zion, and have been jealous over her in great wrath.
3. Thus saith the LORD; I will return unto Zion, and will dwell at Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth, and the mountain of the LORD of hosts a mountain of holiness.
4. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; There shall yet dwell in the streets of Jerusalem old men and old women, and they that walk by sticks of great age.

5. And the streets of the city shall be full of little children and maidens playing in the streets thereof.
6. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Do they think it impossible in the sight of the rest of the people at this time? Shall it therefore also be impossible in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.
7. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, I will redeem my people from the land of the rising, and from the land of the going down of the sun.
8. And I will bring them to dwell in Jerusalem: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and righteousness.
9. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Strengthen ye your hands, which hear these words at this time by the mouth of the prophets, in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts is laid, that the temple may be built.
10. For before those days the labour of men was vain, and the labour of beasts was nothing; neither was there peace from trouble to them that went out and to them that came in: but I sent all men away, every man against his neighbour.
11. But now will I not go with the remnant of this people, as in the days of old, saith the LORD of hosts,
12. But they shall be seeds of peace. The vine shall yield her fruit, and the land shall yield her increase, and heaven shall yield her dew: and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.
13. And it shall come to pass, as ye of the house of Judah and of the house of Israel have been a curse among the heathen, so will I redeem you, and ye shall be a blessing. Only fear not, and strengthen your hands.
14. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; As I thought to afflict you, when your fathers provoked me to anger, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not,
15. So now again in these days I intend to do good to Jerusalem and to the house of Judah. Fear nothing at all.
16. And this is the thing which ye ought to do, speaking truth one to another, and judging rightly, and making peace in your gates;
17. And think no evil in his heart against his neighbour, neither take false oaths: for all these things I hate, saith the LORD.
18. And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying:

19. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; The fasts of the fourth, and of the fifth, and of the seventh, and of the tenth months, shall be unto the house of Judah joy and gladness, and joyful feasts of years. Only love truth and peace.

20. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; There shall yet come many nations, and the inhabitants of many cities,

21. And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, and say, Let us go to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: we will go with you also.

22. And many nations and multitudes of the Gentiles shall come to seek the LORD of hosts at Jerusalem, to pray before the LORD.

23. Thus saith the LORD of hosts; In that day shall ten men of all tongues of the Gentiles take a Jewish man by the tail, and say, We will go with you: for we hear that GOD is with you.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 9

Promise of the good deeds of God. Prophecy of the calling of the Gentiles.

1. This is the burden of which the LORD spake concerning the land of Hadrach, and concerning Damascus, upon which it trusted: for the LORD looketh upon men, and upon all the tribes of Israel,

2. And also concerning Hamath, which bordereth with her, concerning Tyre and Zidon also, which are almost wise.

3. For Tyre buildeth strong, and gathereth silver as the sand, and gold as the dung of the street.

4. But, behold, the LORD will destroy her, and will smite her power that she hath upon the sea, and she shall be as one burnt with fire.

5. And when Asklon shall see it, she shall be afraid, and Gaza shall be sore afraid: and Ekron shall be grieved when she seeth it. For the king of Gasea shall be finished, and there shall be no dwelling in Asklon.

6. In Ashdod shall strangers dwell, and I will cut off the glory of the Philistines: 7. And I will put their blood out of their mouth, and their abominations out of their teeth; and they also shall be left unto our God, and shall become as princes in Judah, and Ekron as the Jebusites.

8. And I myself will encamp round about mine house, that it be not permitted to stand, or to go about, that the beater pass over them no more: for I have now looked upon it with mine eyes.

9. But thou, daughter of Zion, rejoice greatly; and thou, daughter of Jerusalem, exult. Behold, thy king cometh unto thee, a righteous man, and a helper, poor, riding upon an ass, and upon a young colt of the ass!

10. For I will put away the chariots from Ephraim, and the horses from Jerusalem; and the battle bow shall be broken. For he shall teach peace among the nations; and his dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the waters even unto the end of the world.

11. Thou also by the blood of thy covenant dost bring forth thy prisoners out of the pit, because there is no water in it.

12. Return ye therefore unto the stronghold, ye that are captives of hope: for this day also will I declare, and repay thee double.

13. For I have set Judah for a bow, and I have armed Ephraim; and I will raise up thy children, O

Zion, over thy children, O Greece; and I will set thee as a sword of giants.

14. And the LORD shall appear upon them, and his arrows shall go forth as the lightning. And the LORD HEART shall blow a trumpet, and shall come in as the weather at noonday.

15. The LORD of hosts shall preserve them, that they may devour, and bring them under themselves with sling stones, that they may drink, and boil as of wine, and be filled as the laver, and as the corners of the altar.

16. And the LORD their God shall help them in that day, as he helpeth a flock of his people: for holy stones shall be set up in his land.

17. For what good thing have they before others, and what good thing have they before others?

Corn that beareth young men, and must that beareth virgins.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 10

Of the good things to be enjoyed in the kingdom of Christ.

1. Ask ye therefore of the LORD the rain of the sparrows, and the LORD will make clouds, and give you rain sufficient for all the increase of the field.

2. For the idols speak vain things, and the diviners see vain lies, and speak vain dreams, and their comfort is nothing: therefore they go astray like a flock, and faint, because there is no shepherd.

3. My wrath is kindled against the shepherds, and I will punish the goats: for the LORD of hosts will punish his flock, even the house of Judah, and will make them as a horse of war.
4. The corners, and the nails, and the bows, and the beaters, shall all come away from them.
5. And yet they shall be as the giants that tread the mire in the street in the battle, and shall fight: for the LORD will be with them, that the horsemen shall be put to shame.
6. And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and deliver the house of Joseph, and will restore them; for I have mercy upon them: and they shall be as they were, when I had not cast them off. For I the LORD their God will hear them.
7. And Ephraim shall be as a giant, and her heart shall be glad as of wine: and her children shall see it, and rejoice that her heart is glad in the LORD.
8. I will blow unto them, and gather them: for I will redeem them, and they shall multiply as they have multiplied before.
9. And I will sow them among the nations, and they shall remember me in far countries: and they shall live with their children, and return.
10. For I will bring them again out of the land of Egypt, and will gather them out of Assyria, and will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, that there shall not be room for them.
11. And he shall pass through the sea of fear, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the depths of the waters shall dry up. Then shall the glory of Assyria be cut off, and the sceptre of Egypt shall cease.
12. I will strengthen them in the LORD, and they shall walk in his name, saith the LORD.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 11

Of the desolation of the Jewish land, caused by contempt of Christ, the true Shepherd.

1. Open thy door, O Lebanon, that the fire may consume thy cedars.
2. Make hay, ye fir trees: for the cedars are fallen, and the glorious building is destroyed. Hay, ye oaks of Bashan; for the strong forest is hewn down.

3. They hear the shepherds howling, because their glorious building is destroyed: they hear the young lions roaring, because the glory of Jordan is destroyed.

4. Thus saith the LORD my God, Beware of the sheep of the slaughter.

5. For their lords slay them, and think it no sin, and sell them, and say: Blessed be the LORD, I am rich: and their shepherds spare them not.

6. Therefore will I not spare the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD. And, behold, I will leave the people every man in the hand of another, and in the hand of his king, to destroy the land; and I will not deliver them out of their hand.

7. And I tended the lambs for the slaughter, because of the sheep that were in misery: and I took unto me two staves, the one I called Gentle, and the other I called Woe: and I tended the sheep.

8. And I destroyed three shepherds in one month: for I liked not them, neither would they like mine.

9. And I said: I will not take heed to you. That which dieth, let it die; that which languisheth, let it languish; and the remnant eat every man his flesh.

10. And I took my rod softly, and brake it, to keep my covenant which I had made with all nations.

11. And he was taken up that day. And the wretched sheep that hearkened unto me perceived that it was the word of the LORD.

12. And I said unto them: If it please you, bring how much I am worth; but if not, let it stand.

And they weighed how much I was worth, thirty pieces of silver.

13. And the LORD said unto me, Cast it, that it may be given to the potter. A very good sum of money, which they have esteemed me worthy of. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them into the house of the LORD, to be given to the potter.

14. And I brake my other staff, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.

15. And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee again the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16. For, behold, I will raise up shepherds in the land, who shall not visit the faint, nor seek the broken, nor heal the broken, nor feed the sound; but the flesh of the fat shall they eat, and rend their hoofs.

17. O idolatrous shepherds who leave the flock! Let the sword come upon her arm and upon her right eye! Let their arm wither and their right eye grow dark!

(Zechariah)

Chapter 12

Church is unconquerable in the midst of tribulation in Christ crucified by the Spirit of grace and prayer.

1. This is the burden of the word of the LORD upon Israel, saith the LORD that stretched out the heavens, and founded the earth, and made the breath of man in him.

2. Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of stumbling for all the nations that are round about: for it shall be for Judah also, when Jerusalem is besieged.

3. Nevertheless in that day will I make Jerusalem a stone of burden unto all nations. And all that lift it up shall be cut in pieces: for all the nations of the earth shall be gathered together against it.

4. In that day, saith the LORD, I will make all horses afraid, and their riders afraid: but over Jerusalem will I have mine eyes open, and will afflict all the horses of the nations with blindness.

5. And the princes of Judah shall say in their heart, Let the inhabitants of Jerusalem be confident in the LORD of hosts their God.

6. In that day will I make the princes of Judah a fiery furnace in the wood, and a torch in the straw; and they shall consume both on the right hand, and on the left hand, all nations round about. And Jerusalem shall remain in her place at Jerusalem.

7. And the LORD shall save the tabernacles of Judah as of old, lest the house of David glory, or the inhabitants of Jerusalem, against Judah.

8. In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and it shall come to pass, that he that is weak among them in that day shall be as David; and the house of David shall be as the house of God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9. And in that day will I remember to destroy all the heathen that are come against Jerusalem.

10. But upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, will I pour out the spirit of grace and of prayer: for they shall look upon me whom they have bruised, and shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for an infant; and shall be grieved for him, as one is grieved for a first child.

11. In that day there shall be a great lamentation in Jerusalem, as there was in Hadad-rimon in the field of Megiddo.

12. And the land shall mourn, every family specially: the family of the house of David specially, and their wives specially; the family of the house of Nathan specially, and their wives specially,

13. The family of the house of Levi specially, and their wives specially; the family of Shimei specially, and their wives specially;

14. So all the rest of the generations, every one specially, and their wives also specially.

(Zechariah)

Chapter 13

From the inexhaustible fountain of God's grace.

1. In that day shall the house of David and the inhabitants of Jerusalem have a free open fountain against sin and uncleanness.

2. In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, I will cut off the names of idols out of the land, and they shall be remembered no more: and I will drive out of the land the prophets and unclean spirits,

3. And it shall come to pass, that if a man prophesy any more, his father and his mother which begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest falsely in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother which begat him shall bruise him, if he prophesy.

4. For it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall stand with shame in their visions, when they prophesy thereof; and they shall no more put on a smoking cloak, that they may deceive,

5. But shall say, I am no prophet, but a husbandman: for I have served men from my youth.

6. And if it be said unto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? he shall say, So am I smitten in the house of them that love me.

7. Sword, arise upon my shepherd, and upon the man that is nigh unto me, saith the LORD of hosts. Smite the shepherd, and the flock shall be scattered: then will I turn mine hand unto the little ones.

8. And it shall come to pass, that in the land, saith the LORD, there shall be two parts: they shall be cut off, and perish; and the third part shall be left in.

9. And I will bring that third part through the fire, and purify it as silver is purified, and sweep it as gold is swept. And they shall call upon my name, and I will hear them. I will say, It is my people; and they shall say: O LORD my God!

(Zechariah)

Chapter 14

Christ King and Patron of His Church.

1. Behold, the time cometh unto the LORD, that they shall divide thy spoil within thee.
2. For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle. And the city shall be taken, and the houses spoiled, and the women ravished: and half of the city shall be carried away captive, and the remnant of the people shall not be cut off out of the city.
3. But the LORD will go forth, and fight against these nations, as he is wont to fight in the time of war.
4. And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem eastward. And the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst from the going up even unto the going down, very far apart: and the half of the mount shall be about the north, and the half of the mount shall be about the south.
5. And ye shall flee from that valley between my mountains: for the valley between the mountains shall be high unto Azal: and ye shall flee, as ye fled before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah. Then shall the LORD my God come, and all the saints with thee.
6. In those days there shall be no light, but cold and frost.
7. And there shall be a day known unto the LORD, neither day nor night. And the evening shall be light.
8. In that day shall fresh waters flow out of Jerusalem, half of them toward the sea eastward, and half of them toward the uttermost part of the sea: and they shall continue both summer and winter.
9. And the LORD shall be king over all the earth. In that day shall the LORD be one, and his name one.
10. And they shall go round about all the land, as upon a plain, from Gibeah to Rimon, toward Jerusalem southward. For it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in the place thereof, from the gate of Benjamin unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepress.

11. And they shall dwell within, and there shall be no more banishment: for Jerusalem shall dwell in safety.

12. And this shall be the plague, that the LORD shall afflict all nations which have fought against Jerusalem: Their flesh shall rot, and they shall stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall rot in their holes, and their tongue shall rot in their mouths.

13. In that day shall the LORD make a great tumult among them, and one shall take another by the hand, and lay his hand upon another's hand.

14. For Judah also shall fight against Jerusalem, and the goods of all the nations that are round about shall be gathered together: Gold, and silver, and garments exceeding abundant.

15. And this plague shall come upon horses, and upon mouths, and upon camels, and upon asses, and upon all manner of beasts that are in the same host with them which are plagued.

16. And all the remnant of all the nations that went against Jerusalem shall come up yearly to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.

17. But what generation on earth shall not come up to Jerusalem to worship the King of hosts, the LORD of hosts, it shall not rain upon them.

18. And if the generation of the Egyptians come not up, neither shall it rain upon them. This shall be the plague, that the LORD may afflict all the heathen, which come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19. For this shall be the sin of the Egyptians, and of all the heathen, which come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20. In that day shall the armour of the horses be holy unto the LORD: and the caldrons of the house of the LORD shall be as the laver before the altar.

21. For all the caldrons, both of Jerusalem and of Judah, shall be holy unto the LORD of hosts: and all that offer shall come and take them, and boil in them. And there shall be no more Canaanites in the house of the LORD of hosts in that day.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The prophet Malachi (Malachi) ^

Chapter 1

Punishment of ingratitude against God's love.

1. This is the burden which the LORD speaketh against Israel by Malachi.

2. I love you, saith the LORD. Say ye, Wherewith lovest thou us? Is not Esau Jacob's brother?

saith the LORD; neither have I loved Jacob.

3. And hated Esau, and made his mountains desolate, and his inheritance a desolation to the dragon.

4. And if Edom shall say: We are ruined, but we will build again the wilderness: thus saith the LORD of hosts; If they build, I will destroy: and it shall be called the condemned border, and a people against whom the LORD is wroth for ever.

5. This shall your eyes see, and shall say, The LORD is glorious in the borders of Israel.

6. A son shall honour his father, and a servant his lord. Am I then father, where is my honour?

Am I lord, where do men fear me? saith the LORD of hosts unto you priests that despise my name. Say ye, Wherewithal do we despise thy name?

7. In that ye offer unclean bread upon mine altar. Then say ye, Wherewithal do we offer unclean things unto thee? With this ye say, The LORD'S table is despised.

8. And if ye offer the blind, it shall not be called evil: neither if ye offer the lame, or the sick, it shall not be called evil. Bring it to your prince. What matter if thou please him, or if he regard thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.

9. Pray ye therefore God that he may be gracious unto us. For these things are done of you.

Think ye that he will look upon your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.

10. Who is there among you that shutteth a door? Ye kindle no fire upon mine altar in vain. I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts; and the meat offering of your hands is not acceptable unto me.

11. But from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be magnified among the heathen: and in every place incense shall be burned unto my name, and a pure meat offering offered: for my name shall be magnified among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.

12. But ye profane it, saying, The LORD'S table is unholy, and his sacrifice is despised with his meat.

13. And ye say, Behold, it is but trouble; and ye cast it to the winds, saith the LORD of hosts.

And ye offer the spoiled, and the lame, and the sick, and then offer meat offerings. Shall these things please me at your hand? saith the LORD.

14. Cursed be the man of advantage that hath a male in his flock, and when he voweth a vow, he offereth an unprofitable one unto the LORD. For I am a great king, saith the LORD of hosts; and my name is terrible among the heathen.

(Malachi)

Chapter 2

Sermon against the sins of the priests and the people.

1. And now, ye priests, this commandment is for you.

2. If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, then will I send a curse upon you, and curse your blessing; yea, I will curse it, because ye will not lay it to heart.

3. Behold, I will rebuke you with the seed, and will cast the dung of your feasts in your faces, and it shall cleave unto you.

4. Then ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that it should be my covenant with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5. For my covenant was with him for life and peace: and I gave him the fear, that he might fear me, and put my name in awe.

6. The law of truth was in his mouth, and no evil was found in his lips. He walked peaceably and uprightly before me, and converted many from sin.

7. For the lips of the priest shall keep the doctrine, to seek the law out of his mouth: for he is an angel of the LORD of hosts.

8. But ye are gone out of the way, and have offended many in the law, and have broken the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9. Therefore have I also made you to be despised and worthless before all the people, because ye have not kept my ways, and have looked upon persons in the law.

10. For have we not all one Father? Did not one God create us? Why then do we despise one another, and profane the covenant made with our fathers?

11. For Judah is become a despiser, and abominations are done in Israel and in Jerusalem. For Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD, which he loveth, and hath trifled with the daughter of a strange god.

12. But the LORD shall cut off him that doeth these things out of the tabernacle of Jacob, both master and pupil, and him that offereth meat offerings unto the LORD of hosts.

13. And ye also do this, that before the altar of the LORD there is weeping and weeping and groaning, that I cannot look upon the meat offering, nor receive any good thing at your hands.

14. And ye say, Wherefore is this? Because the LORD hath put between thee and the wife of thy youth, whom thou despisest, when she is thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15. So the one did not, and yet was of a great spirit. But what did the one do? He sought the seed of God. Therefore beware of your spirit, and let no man despise the wife of his youth.

16. But let him that hateth her depart, saith the LORD God of Israel, and let him give her a covering of iniquity out of his garment, saith the LORD of hosts. Therefore beware of your spirit, and despise her not.

17. Ye make the LORD displeased by your words. Say ye, Wherewith shall we make him displeased? By this ye say, He that doeth evil pleaseth the LORD, and delighteth in him: or, Where is the LORD that punisheth?

(Malachi)

Chapter 3

Prophecy of John and Christ and of both ministries.

(Epistle on the day of Mary's purification.)

1. Behold, I will send my angel, which shall prepare the way before me. And soon shall come to his temple the LORD whom ye seek, and the angel of the covenant whom ye desire. Behold, he cometh, saith the LORD of hosts.

2. But who shall endure the day of his coming, and who shall stand when he shall appear? For he is as the fire of a goldsmith, and as the soap of washers.

3. He shall sit and melt, and purify the silver: he shall purify the children of Levi, and purify them as gold and silver. Then shall they bring meat offerings unto the LORD in righteousness,

4. And the meat offering of Judah and Jerusalem shall be acceptable unto the LORD, as it was before, and as it was many years ago.

5. And I will come unto you, and will punish you, and be a swift witness against sorcerers, and adulterers, and perjurers, and against them that do violence and wrong to the hireling, and to the widow, and to the fatherless, and that oppress the stranger, and fear me not, saith the LORD of hosts.

6. For I am the LORD that lieth not. And it shall not be utterly finished with you children of Jacob.

7. Ye have departed from my commandments from your fathers' days, and have not kept them: Turn ye therefore unto me, and I will turn unto you also, saith the LORD of hosts. Say ye, Wherein shall we return?

8. Is it lawful for a man to deceive God, as ye deceive me? Say ye, Wherewith do we deceive thee? In tithes and heave offerings.

9. Therefore are ye also cursed, that all things should pass out of your hands: for ye all deceive me.

10. But bring ye all the tithes into my storehouse, that there may be meat in my house: and try me in this, saith the LORD of hosts, whether I will not open unto you the windows of heaven, and pour down blessings in abundance.

11. And I will rebuke the devourer for you, that he destroy not the fruit of the field, and that the vine of the field be not unfruitful unto you, saith the LORD of hosts, 12. That all nations may call you blessed: for ye shall be a goodly land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13. Ye speak hard against me, saith the LORD. Say ye, Why speak we against thee?

14. That ye should say, It is vain to serve God; and, What profit is it to keep his commandment?

What profit is it that we keep his commandment, and live hard before the LORD of hosts?

15. Therefore we praise the rejecters, because the wicked increase; they tempt God, and all things go well out of them.

16. But the godly comfort one another, saying, The LORD heareth and heareth: and before him is a memorial written for them that fear the LORD, and remember his name.

17. They shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in the day that I make them; and I will spare them, as a man spareth his son that serveth him.

18. And again ye shall see what manner of difference there is between the righteous and the wicked, and between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

(Malachi)

Chapter 4

Of Christo and John the Baptist.

1. For, behold, a day cometh, which shall burn as an oven; and all the rejecters and the wicked shall be straw, and the day that is to come shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, and shall leave them neither root nor branch.

2. But unto you that fear my name shall the sun of righteousness arise, and salvation under the wings thereof; and ye shall go forth and come in, and wax as fatlings.

3. Ye shall tread down the wicked: for they shall be ashes under your feet in the day that I will make, saith the LORD of hosts.

4. Remember the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded him in mount Horeb unto all Israel, with the commandments and the statutes.

5. Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet, before the great and terrible day of the LORD come.

6. Who shall turn the heart of the fathers unto the children, and the heart of the children unto their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

Gospel of Matthew ^

The Holy Scriptures

New Testament

Chapter 1

1. This is the book of the birth of Jesus Christ, who is the son of David, the son of Abraham.
2. Abraham begat Isaac. Isaac begat Jacob. Jacob begat Judah and his brethren.
3. Judah begat Pharez and Saram of Tamar. Pharez begat Hezron. Hezron begat Ram.
4. Ram begat Aminadab. Aminadab begat Nahasson. Nahasson begat Salma.
5. Salma begat Boaz of Rahab. Boaz begat Obed of Ruth. Obed begat Jesse.
6. Jesse begat king David. And king David begat Solomon of the wife of Uriah.
7. Solomon begat Roboam. Roboam begat Abia. Abia begat Assa.
8. Assa begat Jehoshaphat. Jehoshaphat begat Joram. Joram begat Osiah.
9. And Osiah begat Jotham. Jotham begat Achaz. Achaz begat Ezechia.
10. Ezechiah begat Manasseh. Manasseh begat Amon. Amon begat Josiah.
11. Josiah witnessed to Jechonia and his brethren about the time of the Babylonian captivity.
12. After the Babylonian captivity Jechonia begat Sealthiel. Sealthiel begat Zorobabel.
13. And Zorobabel begat Abiud. Abiud begat Eliachim. Eliachim begat Asor.
14. asor begat zadoch. Zadoch begat Achin. Achin begat Eliud.
15. Eliud begat Eleazar. Eleazar begat Matthan. Matthan begat Jacob.
16. Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.
17. All the members from Abraham even unto David are fourteen members. From David unto the Babylonish captivity are fourteen members. From the Babylonian captivity unto Christ are fourteen members.
18. Now the birth of Christ was thus done. And it came to pass, when Mary his mother had trusted Joseph, before he took her home, that she was with child of the Holy Ghost.
19. And Joseph her husband was pious, and would not reprove her, but purposed to leave her secretly.

20. And as he thought upon these things, behold, an angel of the LORD appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy spouse: for that which is born in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21. And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins.

22. And all these things were done, that it might be fulfilled which the LORD spake by the prophet, saying:

23. Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which is interpreted, God with us.

24. And when Joseph was awake from sleep, he did as the angel of the LORD commanded him, and took his spouse unto him.

25. And knew her not till she bare her first son, and called his name Jesus.

(Matthew)

Chapter 2

1. When Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea, in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying:

2. Where is the newborn King of the Jews? We have seen his star in the east, and have come to worship him.

3. And when Herod the king heard it, he was afraid, and all Jerusalem with him.

4. And he gathered together all the chief priests and scribes of the people, and inquired of them where Christ should be born.

5. And they said unto him, At Bethlehem in the land of Judah. For thus it is written by the prophet, saying.

6. And thou Bethlehem, which art in the land of Judah, art by no means the least of the princes of Judah: for out of thee shall come a duke unto me, which shall be a lord over my people Israel.

7. Then Herod called the wise men secretly, and learned diligently of them when the star appeared,

8. And he directed them to Bethlehem, saying, Go and search diligently for the young child; and if ye find him, tell me again, that I also may come and worship him.

9. And when they had heard the king, they went their way. And, behold, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, until it came and stood over the top of the young child.

10. When they saw the star, they were glad.

11. And they went into the house, and found the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him, and opened their treasures, and gave him gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12. And God commanded them in a dream, that they should not turn again to Herod. And they departed by another way into their own land.

13. And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the LORD appeared unto Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into the land of Egypt, and tarry there until I tell thee: for it is present that Herod seeketh to destroy the young child.

14. And he arose, and took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into the land of Egypt.

15. And he abode there until after the death of Herod, that it might be fulfilled which the LORD spake by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.

16. And when Herod saw that he was deceived of the wise men, he was very wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and all their borders, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently learned of the wise men.

17. Then is fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying: 18. There was a cry in the mountains, and much wailing, and weeping, and weeping: Rachel wept for her children, and would not be comforted; for they were consumed.

19. And when Herod was dead, behold, the angel of the LORD appeared unto Joseph in a dream in the land of Egypt.

20. And said. Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21. And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22. And when he heard that Archelaus was king in the land of Judaea instead of Herod his father, he feared to come thither. And in a dream he received commandment from God, and went into the places of the land of Galilee.

23. And he came and dwelt in the city that is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets: He shall be called Nazarene.

(Matthew)

Chapter 3

1. at that time John the Baptist came and preached in the wilderness of the land of Judah 2. Saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3. And he is he of whom the prophet Isaiah spake, saying: There is a voice of a preacher in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, and make his paths straight.

4. And he, John, had a garment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was locusts and wild honey.

5. And there went out unto him the city of Jerusalem, and all the land of Judah, and all the countries of Jordan.

6. And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

7. And when he saw many Pharisees and Sadducees coming to his baptism, he said unto them: Ye vipers, who hath shewed you that ye shall escape the wrath to come?

8. Take heed, do righteous fruits of repentance.

9. Think not that ye will say among yourselves, We have Abraham for a father. I say to you: God is able to raise up children for Abraham from these stones.

10. The axe is laid unto the root of the trees. Therefore every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11. I baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is stronger than I, to whom neither am I sufficient to bear his shoes: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire.

12. And he hath his shovel in his hand; he shall sweep his threshingfloor, and gather the wheat into his barn: but the chaff shall he burn with everlasting fire.

13. At that time came JEsus from Galilee unto John by Jordan, to be baptized of him.

14. But John rebuked him, saying: I have need that I should be baptized of thee, and thou comest to me?

15. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Let it be so now: so it behoveth us to fulfil all righteousness. And he suffered him to do it.

16. And when JESus was baptized, he came up straightway out of the water; and, behold, the heaven was opened upon him. And John saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and coming upon him.

17. And, behold, a voice from heaven said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

(Matthew)

Chapter 4

1. Then was JESus led of the Spirit into the wilderness, that he might be tempted of the devil.

2. And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he hungered.

3. And the tempter came unto him, and said, If thou be the Son of God, let these stones be made bread.

4. And he answered and said, It is written: Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5. And the devil brought him with him into the holy city, and set him upon the pinnacle of the temple.

6. And said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, let thee down: for it is written: He shall command his angels concerning thee, and they shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7. Then said JESus unto him, Again, it is also written: Thou shalt not tempt thy Lord God.

8. Again the devil led him up into a very high mountain, and showed him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them.

9. And said unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10. Then said JESus unto him, Remove thyself from me, Satan. For it is written: Thou shalt worship God thy Lord, and him only shalt thou serve.

11. And the devil left him: and, behold, the angels came and ministered unto him.

12. When therefore Jesus heard that John was delivered up, he departed into Galilee.

13. And he left the city of Nazareth, and came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim,

14. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying: 15. The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, on the other side Jordan, and Gentile Galilee, 16. The people that sat in darkness have seen a great light; and they that sat in the place and shadow of death, unto them hath a light dawned. 17. From that time forth began JEsus to preach, saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. 18. And as JEsus went by the sea of Galilee, he saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting their nets into the sea: for they were fishers. 19. And he said unto them: Follow me; I will make you fishers of men. 20. And soon they left their nets, and followed him. 21. And as he passed on from thence, he saw two other brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them. 22. Soon they left the ship and their father and followed him. 23. And JE went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. 24. And the fame of him went throughout all Syria. And they brought unto him all manner of sick persons, afflicted with divers diseases and torments, the possessed, the moonstruck, and the palsied: and he healed them all. 25. And there followed him a great multitude out of Galilee, and out of the ten cities, and out of Jerusalem, and out of the land of Judaea, and beyond Jordan.

(Matthew)

Chapter 5

1. And when he saw the people, he went up into a mountain, and sat down; and his disciples came unto him. 2. And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying: 3. Blessed are they which are poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. 4. Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted. 5. Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.

6. Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.
7. Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.
8. Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.
9. Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.
10. Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
11. Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you, when they lie against you, because of me.
12. Be glad and of good cheer: ye shall be well rewarded in heaven. For so they persecuted the prophets that were before you.
13. Ye are the salt of the earth. Wherefore if salt be made foolish, wherewith shall it be made salty? It is good for nothing henceforth, except that men cast it out, and tread it down.
14. ye are the light of the world. It may not be hidden the city that is on a mountain.
15. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but upon a candlestick; and it shall shine unto all that are in the house.
16. Let your light therefore shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.
17. Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets. I have not come to abolish, but to fulfill.
18. For I say unto you: Verily, till heaven and earth pass away, not the least letter, nor tittle, of the law shall pass away, till all be done.
19. Whosoever therefore shall destroy one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.
20. For I say unto you, Except your righteousness be better than that of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.
21. Ye have heard that it was said unto the ancients, Thou shalt not kill: but whosoever killeth shall be liable to judgment.

22. But I say unto you: He that is angry with his brother is guilty of judgment; but he that saith unto his brother, Racha; is guilty of counsel; but he that saith, Thou fool, is guilty of hellish fire.

23. Therefore when thou offerest thy gift upon the altar, and shalt think there that thy brother hath aught against thee,

24. Leave thy gift there before the altar, and go first and make reconciliation with thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25. Be ready unto thine adversary quickly, while thou art yet with him in the way, lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the servant, and thou be cast into prison.

26. I say unto thee, Verily thou shalt not come out thence, till thou pay the last farthing.

27. Ye have heard that it was said unto the ancients, Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28. But I say unto you: He that looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her in his heart.

29. But if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that the whole body should be cast into hell.

30. If thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee that one of thy members perish, and not that the whole body be cast into hell.

31. It is also said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a bill of divorcement.

32. But I say unto you: Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for adultery, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry a woman that is put away committeth adultery.

33. Ye have heard further, that it was said unto the ancients, Thou shalt not take a false oath, and shalt keep thine oath unto GOD.

34. But I say unto you, that ye swear not by any thing, neither by heaven, for it is the throne of God;

35. Nor by the earth, for it is the footstool of his feet; nor by Jerusalem, for it is the city of a great king.

36. Neither shalt thou swear by thy head: for thou canst not make a single hair white or black.

37. But let your speech be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay; whatsoever is above is of evil.

38. Ye have heard that it is said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.
39. But I say unto you, resist not evil: but if any man smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.
40. And if any man will come to thee in righteousness, and take thy skirt, let him have thy coat also.
41. And if any man compel thee a mile, go with him two.
42. Give to him that asketh thee, and turn not away from him that would borrow from thee.
43. Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.
44. But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you, 45. That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.
46. For if ye love them that love you, what reward have ye? Do not the publicans do the same?
47. And if ye only do kindly unto your brethren, what do ye strangely? Do not the publicans also so?
48. Therefore be ye perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

(Matthew)

Chapter 6

1. Take heed to your alms, that ye give them not before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.
2. When therefore thou doest alms, thou shalt not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may be praised of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.
3. But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth, 4. That thine alms may be hid: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.
5. And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites, which love to stand and pray in the synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, they have their reward there.

6. And when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and shut thy door, and pray unto thy Father in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7. And when ye pray, ye shall not babble much, as the heathen do: for they think they shall be heard if they speak much.

8. Therefore ye shall not be like them. Your Father knows what you need before you ask him.

9. Therefore pray ye therefore: Our Father in heaven! May your name be hallowed.

10. Thy kingdom come. Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

11. Give us this day our daily bread.

12. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

14. For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

15. But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16. When ye fast, look not sore, as the hypocrites do: for they disguise their faces, that they may appear before men with their fasting. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17. And when thou fastest, anoint thy head, and wash thy face,

18. That thou appear not unto men with thy fasting, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

19. Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon the earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal.

20. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves neither dig nor steal.

21. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22. The eye is the light of the body. If thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be light.

23. But if thine eye be darkness, thy whole body shall be darkness. But if the light that is in thee be darkness, how great shall be the darkness itself!

24. No man can serve two masters. Either he will hate one and love the other, or he will cling to one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon.

25. Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; neither for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26. Behold the birds of the air: they sow not, neither do they reap, neither do they gather into barns: yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much more than they?

27. Who is there among you that will add haste to his length, though he be anxious for it?

28. And why do ye care for raiment? Look at the lilies of the field, how they grow! They work not, neither do they spin.

29. I tell you that even Solomon in all his glory was not clothed as one.

30. If God so clothe the grass of the field, which standeth to day, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more do it unto you, O ye of little faith?

31. Therefore shall ye not be anxious, saying, What shall we eat, what shall we drink, wherewith shall we be clothed?

32. After all these things do the heathen seek. For your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33. Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you.

34. Therefore take no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for itself. It is enough for every day to have its own plague.

(Matthew)

Chapter 7

(Of some obstacles to bliss)

1. Judge not, that ye be not judged.

2. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye measure, it shall be measured unto you.

3. But why seest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, and perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4. Or how mayest thou say unto thy brother, Hold, I will pluck out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, there is a beam in thine eye?

5. Thou hypocrite, first pluck out the beam out of thine own eye; afterward consider how thou pluckest the mote out of thy brother's eye.
6. Ye shall not give the sanctuary unto the dogs, neither shall ye cast your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn and rend you.
7. Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.
8. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.
9. Which of you men, if his son ask him for bread, shall offer him a stone?
10. Or if he ask him for a fish, that he may offer him a serpent?
11. If ye then, being evil, be able to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things unto them that ask him!
12. Whatsoever therefore ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: this is the law and the prophets.
13. Enter ye in at the strait gate. For the gate is wide, and the way is broad, that leadeth to destruction; and they are many that go in thereat.
14. And the gate is strait, and the way is narrow, that leadeth unto life; and few there be which find it.
15. Beware of false prophets, which come unto you in sheep's clothing. But inwardly they are ravening wolves.
16. By their fruits ye shall know them. Can you also gather grapes from thorns, or figs from thistles?
17. Every good tree therefore bringeth forth good fruit: but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.
18. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.
19. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
20. Therefore by their fruits ye shall know them.
21. Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22. Many shall say unto me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name, have we not cast out devils in thy name, have we not done many works in thy name?

23. Then I will confess to them: I have never known you; depart from me, all you evildoers!

24. Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock.

25. And when the rain fell, and the waters came, and the winds blew, and beat upon the house, it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

26. And whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, is like unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand.

27. And when the rain fell, and the waters came, and the winds blew, and beat upon the house, it fell, and made a great falling down.

28. And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished this discourse, the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29. For he preached mightily, and not as the scribes.

(Matthew)

Chapter 8

1. And when he was come down from the mountain, much people followed him.

2. And, behold, a leper came and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, and said: I will do it; be cleansed. And straightway he was cleansed from his leprosy.

4. And Jesus said unto him, See thou tell no man; but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift which Moses commanded, for a testimony against them.

5. And when Jesus was come into Capernaum, a centurion came unto him, beseeching him 6. And said, Lord, my servant lieth at home, and is sick of the palsy, and is in great pain.

7. And Jesus said unto him, I will come and heal him.

8. And the centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof; but speak but one word, and my servant shall be healed.

9. For I am a man, and subject unto authority, and have under me servants of war: yet if I say to one, Go, he goeth; and to another, Come, he cometh: Come hither, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10. When JESUS heard it, he marvelled, and said unto them that followed him: Verily I say unto you, I have not found such faith in Israel.

11. But I say unto you, That many shall come from the morning and from the evening, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.

12. But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13. And JESUS said unto the centurion, Go thy way: as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed that very hour.

14. And JESUS came into Peter's house, and saw that his wife lay sick of the fever.

15. And he took hold of her hand, and the fever left her. And she arose, and ministered unto them.

16. And in the evening they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with words, and healed all that were diseased,

17. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying, He hath taken upon him our infirmities, and he hath borne our plague.

18. And when JE saw much people about him, he commanded to pass over beyond the sea.

19. And there came unto him a scribe, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20. And JESUS said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21. And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me that I go and bury my father first.

22. But JESUS said unto him, Follow me, and let the dead bury their dead.

23. And he entered into the ship, and his disciples followed him.

24. And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, so that the little ship also was covered with waves: and he slept.

25. And the disciples came unto him, and awaked him, and said: Lord, help us; we are perishing.

26. Then said he unto them: Ye of little faith, why are ye so fearful? And he arose, and troubled the wind and the sea; and there was silence.

27. And the people marvelled, and said: What manner of man is this, that the wind and the sea obey him?

28. And he came beyond the sea unto the country of the Gergesenes. And there met him two possessed with devils, which came out of the grave-diggers, and were very fierce; so that no man could go by that way.

29. And, behold, they cried out, saying: Ah JESUS, thou Son of GOD, what have we to do with thee? Art thou come to torment us before the time?

30. And there was far from them a great herd of swine feeding.

31. Then the devils besought him, saying: If thou wilt cast us out, let us go into the herd of swine.

32. And he said, Go your way. So they went out, and entered into the herd of swine. And, behold, all the herd of swine rushed with a tempest into the sea, and were drowned in the water.

33. And the shepherds fled, and went into the city, and told all these things, and how it had been with them that were possessed with devils.

34. And, behold, the whole city went out to meet JESUS. And when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart from their border.

(Matthew)

Chapter 9

1. And he entered into the ship, and passed over again, and came into his own city.

2. And, behold, they brought unto him a sick of the palsy, lying on a bed. When therefore Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Be of good cheer, my son: thy sins be forgiven thee.

3. And, behold, some of the scribes said within themselves: This one blasphemeth GOD.

4. And when JE saw their thoughts, he said, Why think ye evil in your hearts?

5. Which is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise and walk?

6. But that ye might know that the Son of man hath power on earth, hath power on earth to forgive sins, he saith unto the sick of the palsy, Arise, take up thy bed, and go home.

7. And he arose, and went home.
8. And when the people saw it, they marvelled, and praised GOD, who hath given such power unto men.
9. And as JEsus departed thence, he saw a man sitting at the receipt of custom, whose name was Matthew; and he said unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.
10. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat at meat with JEsu and his disciples.
11. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?
12. When JEsus heard it, he saith unto them: The strong have no need of a physician, but the sick.
13. But go ye, and learn what these things are; I delight in mercy, and not in sacrifice. I am come to call sinners to repentance, and not the pious.
14. And the disciples of John came unto him, saying: Why do we and the Pharisees fast so much, and thy disciples fast not?
15. And JEsus said unto them: How can the bridal party bear sorrow while the bridegroom is with them? But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them, and then they will fast.
16. No man mendeth an old garment with a rag of new cloth: for the rag is rent again from the garment, and the rent is made worse.
17. Neither put must into old wineskins: otherwise the wineskins are broken, and the must is spilled, and the wineskins perish. But put must into new wineskins, and they shall be kept together.
18. And as he spake these things unto them, behold, one of the princes came and fell down before him, and said, Lord, my daughter is now dead; but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.
19. And JEsus arose, and followed him, and his disciples.
20. And, behold, a woman which had bled twelve years came up behind him, and touched the hem of his garment.
21. For she said within herself: If I but touch his garment, I shall be whole.
22. And Jesus turned, and saw her, and said, Be of good cheer, my daughter: thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was healed that very hour.

23. And when he was come into the chief captain's house, he saw the pipers and the tumult of the people,
24. And he said unto them: Go away; for the maiden is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.
25. And when the people were cast out, he went in, and took her by the hand. And the damsel arose.
26. And the rumour went out into all that land.
27. And as JEsus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying out, and saying: O Son of David, have mercy on us!
28. And when he was come home, the blind came unto him. And JEsus said unto them: Do ye believe that I can do these things unto you? And they said unto him, Lord, yea.
29. Then touched he their eyes, and said, Be it done unto you according to your faith.
30. And their eyes were opened. And JEsus afflicted them, saying, See that no man know it.
31. And they went out, and made him famous throughout all that country.
32. And when they were come out, behold, they brought unto him a man dumb and possessed.
33. And when the devil was cast out, the dumb man spake. And the people marvelled, saying, Such things were never seen in Israel.
34. But the Pharisees said: He casteth out devils by the chief of the devils.
35. And JE went about into all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.
36. And when he saw the people, he was sorry for them: for they were faint, and scattered as sheep that have no shepherd.
37. And he said unto his disciples, The harvest is plentiful, but the labourers are few.
38. Therefore pray ye the LORD of the harvest, that he will send forth laborers into his harvest.

(Matthew)

Chapter 10

Of the twelve disciples of Christ.

1. And he called unto him his twelve disciples, and gave them power over unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.
2. Now the names of the twelve apostles are these: The first Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother;. James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother;
3. Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew the publican; James the son of Alphaeus; Lebbeus surnamed Thaddaeus;
4. Simon of Cana and Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.
5. These twelve JEsus sent, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, nor go into the cities of the Samaritans,
6. But go ye to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.
7. But go and preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.
8. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils. For free ye have received, for free ye give.
9. Ye shall not have gold, nor silver, nor brass, in your girdles, 10. Neither shall there be a bag to carry away, nor two coats, nor shoes, nor a staff. For a labourer is worthy of his meat.
11. And when ye go into any city or market, inquire whether there be any worthy therein, and abide with him until ye depart thence.
12. And where ye enter into any house, salute the same.
13. And if that house be worthy, your peace shall come upon it. But if it be not worthy, your peace shall return unto you.
14. And if any man will not receive you, nor hear your words, come out of that house or city, and shake off the dust of your feet.
15. Verily I say unto you, That the land of Sodom and Gomorr will be more tolerable in the last judgment than that city.
16. Behold, I send you as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and without guile as doves.
17. But beware of men. For they will deliver you up before their town halls, and scourge you in their synagogues.
18. And ye shall be brought before princes and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them, and against the heathen.
19. When therefore they shall deliver you up, be not anxious how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that hour what ye shall speak.

20. For it is not ye that speak, but your Father's Spirit which speaketh by you.

21. And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the son: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to die.

22. And must be hated by everyone for my name's sake. But he who perseveres to the end will be saved.

23. But if they persecute you in one city, flee into another. Verily I say unto you, Ye shall not align the cities of Israel, till the Son of man come.

24. The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25. It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the father of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call his household!

26. Therefore fear them not. There is nothing hidden that will not be revealed, and there is nothing secret that will not be known.

27. What I say unto you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops.

28. And fear not them which kill the body, neither kill the soul. But rather fear him who may destroy both body and soul into hell.

29. Is not two sparrows bought for a penny? Not one of them will fall to the earth without your father.

30. But now are all the hairs of your head numbered.

31. Fear not therefore: ye are better than many sparrows.

32. Therefore whosoever shall confess me before men, him will I confess before my heavenly Father.

33. But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my heavenly Father.

34. Think not that I am come to send peace on earth. I am not come to send peace, but the sword.

35. For I am come to provoke a man against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the cord against her inlaws.

36. And man's enemies shall be his own household.

37. He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.

38. And whosoever shall not take up his cross, and follow me, is not worthy of me.

39. He that findeth his life shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

40. He that receiveth you receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

41. He that receiveth a prophet in a prophet's name shall receive a prophet's reward. He that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive the reward of a righteous man.

42. And whosoever shall water one of these little ones with a cup of cold water in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, it shall not go unrewarded unto him.

(Matthew)

Chapter 11

John's message. Christ's earnest threat and friendly invitation.

1. And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.

2. And when John heard the works of Christ in prison, he sent two of his disciples.

3. And said unto him, Art thou he that is to come, or shall we wait for another?

4. Jesus answered and said unto them: Go and tell John again what you see and hear: 5. The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk; the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear; the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them; 6. And blessed is he that is not offended in me.

7. And as they went, Jesus began to say unto John's people, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? Did ye desire to see a reed which the wind wove to and fro?

8. Or what went ye out to see? Wilt thou see a man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that wear soft garments are in the houses of kings.

9. Or what went ye out to see? Did ye desire to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, he also is more than a prophet.

10. For this is he of whom it is written, Behold, I send my angel before thee, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11. Verily I say unto you, Among all them that are born of virgins there hath not arisen one greater than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.

12. But from the days of John the Baptist unto this time the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and they that do violence snatch it away.

13. For all the prophets and the law have taught until John.

14. And (if ye will accept it) he is Elias, which shall be for the future.

15. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16. But to whom shall I liken this generation? It is like the little children that sit in the marketplace, and cry out against their fellows.

17. And say: We whistled unto you, and ye would not dance; we mourned unto you, and ye would not weep.

18. John came, neither eating nor drinking: so they say, He hath the devil.

19. The Son of man is come, eat and drink: and they say, Behold, man is a glutton, and a winebibber, a publican, and a sinner's companion. And wisdom must be justified by her children.

20. Then began he to reproach the cities wherein most of his deeds were done, and yet had not reformed:

21. Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe to you, Bethsaida! If such deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon as have been done among you, they would have repented in sackcloth and ashes before the time.

22. But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the day of judgment, than for you.

23. And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be cast down to hell. For if the deeds that were done in thee had been done in Sodom, they were yet this day.

24. But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25. At that time Jesus answered and said: I praise thee, O Father and Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.

26. Yea, Father, for it hath been well pleasing in thy sight.

27. All things are delivered unto me of my Father. And no man knoweth the Son, but the Father; and no man knoweth the Father, but the Son; and to whom the Son will shew it.

28. Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.

29. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am gentle and lowly in heart; and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

(Matthew)

Chapter 12

Christ's speech with the Pharisees.

1. At that time JEsus went through the seed on the sabbath day: and his disciples being hungry began to pluck up ears of corn, and to eat.

2. And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not fitting to be done on the sabbath day.

3. And he said unto them: Have ye not read what David did, when he and they that were with him hungered?

4. As he went into the house of God, and did eat the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them that were with him, but for the priests only?

5. Or have ye not read in the law, how the priests break the sabbath in the temple on the sabbath day, and yet are guiltless?

6. But I say unto you, that here is he which is greater than the temple.

7. But if ye knew what' this is, I delight in mercy, and not in sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the innocent.

8. The Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

9. And he departed thence, and came into their synagogue.

10. And, behold, there was a man which had a withered hand. And they asked him, saying: Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day? that they might have a cause against him.

11. And he said unto them: What man is there among you, if he have a sheep which shall fall into a pit on the sabbath day, that shall not take hold of it, and lift it up?

12. How much better therefore is a man than a sheep! Therefore do good on the sabbath day.

13. And he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it out, and it was restored unto him like unto the other.

14. Then the Pharisees went out, and took counsel against him, how they might destroy him.

15. But when JESUS knew it, he departed thence. And much people followed him, and he healed them all.

16. And afflicted them, because they reported him not,

17. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Isaiah the prophet, saying: 18. Behold, this is my servant, whom I have chosen, and my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall declare judgment unto the heathen.

19. He shall not wrangle, nor cry out, neither shall his cry be heard in the streets.

20. He will not break the bruised reed, nor quench the smoldering wick, until he execute judgment unto victory.

21. And the heathen shall hope in his name.

22. And there was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind and dumb: and he healed him so that the blind and dumb man both spake and saw.

23. And all the people were amazed, and said: Is not this David's son?

24. But the Pharisees, when they heard it, said, He casteth out devils no other way than by Beelzebub, the chief of the devils.

25. And Jesus heard their thoughts, and said unto them: Every kingdom divided against itself shall be desolate; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand.

26. If then one Satan cast out another, he must be at variance with himself: how then can his kingdom stand?

27. But if I cast out devils by Beelzebub, by whom do they cast out your children? Therefore they shall be your judges.

28. But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, the kingdom of God is come unto you. Or how can a man enter into a strong man's house, and rob him of his goods, except he first bind the strong man, and then rob him of his house?

30. He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.

31. Therefore I say unto you: All sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven men, but blasphemy against the Spirit shall not be forgiven men.

32. And whosoever shall speak against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever shall speak against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, nor in the next.

33. Either plant a good tree, and the fruit shall be good; or plant a corrupt tree, and the fruit shall be corrupt: for by the fruit shall the tree be known.

34. Ye vipers, how can ye speak good, being evil? Whose heart is full, his mouth overflows.

35. A good man bringeth forth good things out of the good treasure of his heart; and an evil man bringeth forth evil things out of his evil treasure.

36. But I say unto you, That men shall give account at the last judgment of every vain word that they have spoken.

37. By thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38. Then answered some of the scribes and Pharisees, and said: Master, we would gladly see a sign from thee.

39. And he answered and said unto them: The wicked and adulterous kind seeketh a sign, and there shall no sign be given unto it, save the sign of Jonas the prophet.

40. For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the midst of the earth.

41. The people of Nineveh shall stand with this generation at the judgment, and shall condemn them: for they repented after the preaching of Jonah. And, behold, here is more than Jonah.

42. The queen of the south shall appear at the last judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the end of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon. And, behold, here is more than Solomon.

43. When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh in dry places, seeking rest, and findeth it not.

44. Then saith he: I will return to my house from whence I came. And when he cometh, he findeth it idle, and clean, and adorned.

45. And he goeth, and taketh unto him seven other spirits worse than himself: and when they are come in, they dwell there; and the same man is worse afterward than he was before. So it will be with this evil generation.

46. While he yet spake thus unto the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47. And one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48. And he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother, and who are my brethren?

49. And stretching forth his hand over his disciples, he said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

50. For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

(Matthew)

Chapter 13

1. That same day JEsus went out of the house, and sat by the sea.

2. And great multitudes were gathered unto him, so that he entered into the ship, and sat down.

And all the people stood on the shore.

3 And he spake unto them many things in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow.

.

4. And as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the birds came and devoured them.

5. Some things fell into the stony places, because they had not much earth; and they rose up quickly, because they had not deep earth.

6. And when the sun was up, it withered, and because it had no root, it became dry.

7. Some fell among thorns; and the thorns grew up, and choked it.

8. Some fell on good ground, and bare fruit; some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10. And the disciples came unto him, saying: Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11. And he answered and said, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of heaven: but unto these it is not given.

12. For unto him that hath shall be given, that he may have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that he hath.

13. Therefore speak I unto them in parables. For with seeing eyes they see not, and with hearing ears they hear not; for they understand not.

14. And upon them shall be fulfilled the prophecy of Isaiah, saying, With the ears ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and with seeing eyes ye shall see, and shall not hear.

15. For this people's heart is hardened, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes are dim, lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

16. But blessed are your eyes, that they see; and your ears, that they hear.

17. Verily I say unto you, Many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18. Hear ye therefore this parable of the sower.

19. If any man hear the word of the kingdom, and understand it not, the wicked man cometh, and taketh away that which is sown in his heart: and he it is that soweth in the way.

20. But he that is sown on stony ground is he that heareth the word, and soon receiveth it with joy.

21. But he hath not root in him, but he is fickle: when tribulation and persecution arise because of the word, he is soon vexed.

22. But he that is sown among thorns, if any man hear the word, and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and bring not forth fruit.

23. But he that is sown in the good land, if any man hear the word, and understand it, and bring forth fruit; and some bear an hundredfold, and some sixty, and some thirty.

24. And he set before them another parable, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a man which sowed good seed in his field.

25. And while the people slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and departed.

26. And when the herb grew, and brought forth fruit, then were the tares also found.

27. And the servants came unto the father of the house, and said: Lord, hast thou not sown good seed in thy field? Whence then did he sow the tares?

28. And he said unto them: This hath the enemy done. Then said the servants: Wilt thou then that we go and weed it out?

29. And he said, Nay, lest, when ye pluck up the tares, ye pluck up the wheat with them.

30. Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say unto the reapers, Gather first the tares, and bind them in bundles to be burned: but gather the wheat into my barns.

31. And he set another parable before them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field,

32. Which is the least of all seeds: but when it groweth up, it is the greatest of cabbages, and becometh a tree, that the fowls of the air may come and dwell under the branches thereof.

33. And he spake another parable unto them: The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and mingled with three measures of flour, until it was leavened through.

34. All these things spake JEsus unto the people by parables; and without parables spake he not unto them,

35. That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables, and will utter the mysteries from the foundation of the world.

36. And JEsus sent the people away, and came home. And his disciples came to him, saying: Interpret unto us this parable of the tares of the field.

37. And he answered and said unto them: The Son of man is he that soweth good seed.

The field is the world. The good seed are the children of the kingdom. The tares are the children of wickedness.

39. The enemy who sows them is the devil. The harvest is the end of the world. The cuts are the angels.

40. As the tares are weeded out, and burned with fire, so shall it be in the end of this world.

41. And the Son of man shall send his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all that offend, and them which do iniquity,

42. And they shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

43. Then the righteous shall shine as the sun in their Father's kingdom. He who has ears to hear, let him hear!

44. But sometimes the kingdom of heaven is like unto a treasure hid in the field, which a man found, and hid, and went away rejoicing over the same, and sold all that he had, and bought the field.

45. But once the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant seeking goodly pearls.

46. And when he found a pearl of great price, he went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47. But once the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net cast into the sea, to catch every kind.

48. But when it is full, they draw it out to the shore, and sit down, and gather the good into a vessel; but the rotten they cast away.

49. So shall it be at the end of the world. The angels will go out and separate the wicked from the righteous

50. And they shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

51. And JEsus said unto them: Have ye understood all these things? They said: Yea, Lord.

22. Then said he, Therefore every scribe, being instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.

53. And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed from thence.

54. And he came into his own country, and taught them in their synagogues, and they were astonished, and said: Whence came this man such wisdom and deeds?

55. Is he not the son of a carpenter? Is not his mother's name Mary, and his brethren Jacob, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?

56. And his sisters, are they not all with us? Where did all this come from for him?

57. And were offended at him. And Jesus said unto them: A prophet is not counted less than in his own country, and in his own house.

58. And there he did not many signs because of their unbelief.

(Matthew)

Chapter 14

1. At that time came the rumour of JEsu before Herod the tetrarch.

2. And he said unto his servants: This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead, therefore he doeth such deeds.

3. For Herod had taken John, and bound him, and put him in prison, because of Herodias his brother Philip's wife.

4. For John had said unto him, It is not right for thee to have them.

5. And he would gladly have killed him, but was afraid of the people: for they took him for a prophet.

6. And it came to pass, when Herod was celebrating his anniversary, that the daughter of Herodias danced before them. This pleased Herod well.

7. Therefore he promised her with an oath, that he would give her what she would ask.

8. And when she had been prepared before by her mother, she said, Give me here on a dish the head of John the Baptist.

9. And the king was grieved: but for the oath's sake, and for the sake of them that sat at meat with him, he commanded it to be given her.

10. And sent and beheaded John in prison.

11. And his head was brought in a dish, and given unto the damsel; and she brought it unto her mother.

12. Then came his disciples, and took his body, and buried it, and came and preached JEsu.

13. And when Jesus heard it, he departed thence in a ship into a wilderness by himself. And when the people heard it, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14. And JEsus went forth, and saw the great multitude; and he mourned for them, and healed their sick.

15. And in the evening his disciples came unto him, saying: This is a wilderness, and the night is fallen: send the people away from thee, that they may go into the markets, and buy them meat.

16. But Jesus saith unto them: There is no need that they should go; give ye them to eat.

17. And they said: We have nothing here but five loaves and two fishes.

18. And he said, Bring them hither unto me.

19. And he commanded the people to lie down on the grass, and took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks, and brake, and gave the loaves to the disciples; and the disciples gave to the people.

20. And they did all eat, and were filled, and took up that which remained of the bread, twelve baskets full. -

21. And they that did eat were about five thousand men without wives and children.

22. And straightway JEsus constrained his disciples to enter into the ship, and to go before him, until he should send the people away.

23. And when he had sent away the people, he went up into a mountain by himself to pray. And in the evening he was there alone.

24. And the ship was already in the midst of the sea, and was troubled with the waves: for the wind was contrary unto them.

25. But in the fourth watch of the night JEsus came unto them, walking on the sea.

26. And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were afraid, saying: It is a ghost! and cried out for fear.

27. And straightway JEsus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer; it is I; fear not.

28. And Peter answered him, and said, Lord, if it be thou, let me come unto thee on the water.

29. And he said, Come hither. And Peter came out of the ship, and walked on the water, that he might come unto Jesus.

30. And he saw a strong wind. And he was afraid, and began to sink, and cried out, saying, Lord, help me.

31. And Jesus straightway put forth his hand, and took him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, why didst thou doubt?

32. And they entered into the ship, and the wind ceased.

33. And they that were in the ship came and fell down before him, and said: Truly you are the Son of God.

34. And they sailed over, and came into the land of Galilee.

35. And when the men of the same place knew that he was there, they sent out into all the country round about, and brought unto him all manner of uncleanness.

36. And besought him that they might touch the hem of his garment. And all they that touched it were made whole.

(Matthew)

Chapter 15

Of the statutes of men, the Canaanite woman, and other wondrous works of Christ.

1. Then came unto him the scribes and Pharisees of Jerusalem, saying:

2. Why transgressest thou the disciples of the elders? They wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3. And he answered and said unto them: Why then do ye transgress the commandment of God for yourselves?

4. God has commanded: You shall honor your father and mother; but he who curses his father and mother shall surely be put to death.

5. But ye teach, Whosoever saith to his father or to his mother, If I offer it, it is more profitable for thee; he doeth well.

6. Thus it is that no man honoureth his father or his mother henceforth: and ye have therefore done away with the commandment of God for your own sakes.

7. Ye hypocrites, Isaiah hath prophesied of you, saying:

8. This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is far from me.

9. But they serve me in vain, because they teach such doctrines as are not the commandments of men.

10. And he called the people unto him, and said unto them: Listen and hear.

11. That which goeth into the mouth defileth not a man: but that which cometh out of the mouth defileth a man.

12. Then came his disciples unto him, and said: Knowest thou also that the Pharisees were angry, when they heard the word?

13. But he answered and said, All plants which my heavenly Father hath not planted shall be rooted up.

14. Let them go! They are blind, and they lead the blind. But if one blind man lead another, they both fall into the pit.

15. Then Peter answered and said unto him, Interpret this parable unto us.

16. And JESUS said unto them, Are ye yet without understanding?

17. Do ye not yet perceive that whatsoever cometh into the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out by the natural course?

18. But that which goeth out of the mouth cometh out of the heart, and defileth the man.

19. For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts: murder, adultery, fornication, thievery, false witness, blasphemy.

20. These are the things that defile a man. But eating with unwashed hands does not defile a man.

21. And JEsus departed thence, and went into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

22. And, behold, a Canaanitish woman went out of that border, and cried after him, saying, Lord, thou son of David, have mercy on me. My daughter is afflicted with the devil.

23. And he answered her not a word. Then came his disciples unto him, and besought him, saying: Let her go from thee: for she cried after us.

24. And he answered and said: I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

25. And she came and fell down before him, and said, Lord, help me.

26. But he answered and said, It is not good to take the children's bread, and to cast it to the dogs.

27. And she said, Yea, Lord; but yet the little dogs eat of the crumbs that fall from their masters' table.

28. And Jesus answered and said unto her, O Woman, thy faith is great: be it done unto thee according to thy will. And her daughter was healed that very hour.

29. And JEsus departed thence, and came unto the sea of Galilee, and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30. And there came unto him great multitudes, having with them the lame, and the blind, and the mute, and the crippled, and many others, and casting them before JEsu's feet, he healed them, 31. And the people marvelled, when they saw that the dumb spake, and the crippled were healed, and that the lame walked, and that the blind saw; and they praised the God of Israel.

32. And JESUS called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the people: for now they tarry with me three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away from me without meat, lest they faint in the way.

33. And his disciples said unto him, Whence shall we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so many people?

34. And JESUS said unto them: How much bread have ye? And they said, Seven, and a little fish.

35. And he commanded the people to pitch on the ground.

36. And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples; and the disciples gave to the people.

37. And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up that which remained of the bread, seven baskets full.

38. And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.

39. And when he had sent away the people, he entered into a ship, and came into the border of Magdala.

(Matthew)

Chapter 16

1. Then came the Pharisees and Sadducees unto him, tempting him, and demanding that he would let them see a sign from heaven.

2. But he answered and said, In the evening ye say, It shall be a good day: for the sky is red; 3. And in the morning ye say, There shall be a tempest this day: for the sky is red and cloudy. Ye hypocrites! Ye can judge the form of heaven; can ye not also judge the signs of this time?

4. This wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, save the sign of Jonas the prophet. And he left them, and went away.

5. And when his disciples were gone over, they had forgotten to take bread with them.

6. And JESUS said unto them, Take heed, and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

7. And they reasoned with themselves, and said: This is it, that we have not taken bread with us.

8. When JESUS heard it, he saith unto them: Ye of little faith, why are ye troubled, because ye took not bread with you?

9. Have ye not yet heard? Remember ye not the five loaves among the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10. Nor of the seven loaves among the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11. How is it that ye understand not that I tell you of bread, when I say, Beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees?

12. Then they understood that he had not said that they should beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and Sadducees.

13. Then came JESUS into the region of the city Caesarea Philippi, and asked his disciples, saying, Who do men say that the Son of man is?

14. They said: Some say that thou art John the Baptist; others, that thou art Elijah; others, that thou art Jeremiah, or one of the prophets.

15. And he said unto them: Who do ye say that I am?

16. Then Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17. And JESUS answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon the son of Jonas: for flesh and blood hath not revealed this unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18. And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19. And I will give thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven. Whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20. Then commanded he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was JESUS the Christian.

21. From that time began JESUS to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go to Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders, and chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and rise again the third day.

22. And Peter took him, and addressed him, saying, Lord, spare thyself; let it not happen unto thee.

23. But he turned, and said unto Peter, Remove thee, Satan, from me. Thou art vexed with me:

for thou meanest not what is godly, but what is human.

24. Then said JESUS unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26. What would it profit a man, if he should gain the whole world, and yet lose his soul? Or what can man give that he may redeem his soul?

27. For it shall come to pass, that the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels: and then shall he reward every man according to his works.

28. Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

(Matthew)

Chapter 17

1. And after six days Jesus took Peter, and James, and John his brother, and led them aside into a high mountain.

2. And was glorified before them; and his face shone as the sun, and his raiment became white as the light.

3. And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4. And Peter answered and said unto JESUS, Lord, here is good: if thou wilt, we will make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5. While he yet spake thus, behold, a cloud of light overshadowed them. And, behold, a voice out of the cloud said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased; him shall ye hear.

6. And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their faces, and were sore afraid.

7. And JESUS came to them, and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8. And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.

9. And when they were come down from the mount, JESUS commanded them, saying: Ye shall tell no man this vision, until the Son of man be risen from the dead.

10. And his disciples asked him, saying: What then say the scribes, that Elias must come before?

11. And JESUS answered and said unto them: Elijah shall come first, and set all things right.

12. But I say unto you, Elias is come already, and they have not known him, but have done unto him as they would. So shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13. Then the disciples understood that he had spoken unto them of John the Baptist.

14. And when they were come unto the people, a man stood by him, and fell at his feet.

15. And said, Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is moonstruck, and hath a grievous affliction; he falleth often into the fire, and often into the water.

16. And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not help him.

17. And JESUS answered and said, O thou faithless and perverse kind, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I suffer you? Bring him hither unto me.

18. And JEsus afflicted him; and the devil departed from him, and the child was healed in that hour.

19. And his disciples came unto him specially, and said: Why could we not cast him out?

20. But JEsus answered and said unto them: Because of your unbelief. For I say unto you: Verily if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence unto it; and it shall be removed, and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21. But this kind goeth not out except by prayer and fasting.

22. And when they were in Galilee, Jesus saith unto them: It is come to pass, that the Son of man should be delivered into the hands of men.

23. And they shall kill him; and the third day he shall rise again. And they were greatly grieved.

24. And when they were come to Capernaum, they went to Peter, which took the groschen of interest, and said, Is not your master wont to give the groschen of interest?

25. And he said, Yea. And when he was come home, Jesus came before him, and said, What thinkest thou, Simon? From whom do the kings of the earth take toll or interest, from their children or from strangers?

26. Then saith Peter unto him, Of the strangers. And Jesus said unto him, So are the children free.

27. But lest we offend them, go to the sea, and cast a line, and take the first fish that cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a stave. Take the same and give it to me and to you.

(Matthew)

Chapter 18

1. At that hour came the disciples unto Jesus, saying: Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2. Jesus called a child unto him, and set him in the midst of them.

3. And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye repent and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.
4. He therefore that bringeth himself low, as this child, is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven.
5. And whosoever shall receive one such child in my name receiveth me.
6. But whosoever shall offend one of these least ones that believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the deepest part of the sea.
7. Woe to the world of trouble! Trouble must come, but woe to the man through whom trouble comes!
8. But if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee to enter into life lame, or crippled, than to have two hands or two feet, and be cast into everlasting fire.
9. And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee. It is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, than to have two eyes, and be cast into the infernal fire.
10. Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones. For I say unto you: Your angels in heaven always see the face of my Father in heaven.
11. For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.
12. What think ye? If any man have an hundred sheep, and one of them go astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine upon the mountains, and go and seek that which is strayed?
13. And if he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more than the ninety and nine which are not lost.
14. Neither is it the will of your Father which is in heaven, that any of these little ones should perish.
15. But if thy brother sin against thee, go and punish him between thee and him only. If he hear thee, thou hast won thy brother.
16. If he hear thee not, take thee another, or two, that all may stand upon the mouth of two or three witnesses.
17. If he hear not them, let the congregation know it. If he hear not the congregation, let him be accounted a heathen and a publican.
18. Verily I say unto you: Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19. Further I say unto you: If two of you shall become one on the earth, why it is that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20. For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21. Then Peter came to him, and said, Lord, how often must I forgive my brother that sinneth against me? Is it enough seven times?

22. And JEsus said unto him, I tell thee, not seven times, but seventy times seven.

23. Therefore the kingdom of heaven is like unto a king that would reckon with his servants.

24. And when he began to reckon, there came before him one that owed him ten thousand pounds.

25. And when he had not money to pay, the LORD commanded to sell him, and his wife, and his children, and all that he had, and to pay.

26. And the servant fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me. I will pay thee all.

27. And the lord of that servant was grieved, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28. And the same servant went out, and found one of his fellowservants, which owed him an hundred pence. And he took hold of him, and choked him, saying, Pay me that thou owest me.

29. And his fellow servant fell down, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me. I will pay you for everything.

30. But he would not, but went and cast him into prison, until he should pay that which he owed.

31. And when his fellowservants saw these things, they were very sorrowful, and came and brought before their lord all that had happened.

32. And his lord brought him before him, and said unto him, O thou servant of the wicked! I have forgiven thee all this debt, because thou hast besought me; 33. Shouldest thou not also have mercy on thy fellow servant, as I have had mercy on thee?

34. And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the smiters, until he should pay all that he owed him.

35. So shall my heavenly Father do unto you, if ye forgive not your brother his trespasses from your hearts.

(Matthew)

Chapter 19

1. And it came to pass, when JESus had finished this saying, he arose out of Galilee, and came into the borders of the land of Judaea beyond Jordan.

2. And much people followed him, and he healed them there.

3. And the Pharisees came unto him, and tried him, and said unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for any cause?

4. And he answered and said unto them: Have ye not read, that he which made man in the beginning made male and female,

5. And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and shall the two be one flesh?

6. They are not therefore two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7. And they said: Why then hath Moses commanded to give a bill of divorcement, and to separate himself from her?

8. And he said unto them: Moses allowed you to separate from your wives because of the hardness of your hearts; but from the beginning it was not so.

9. But I say unto you: Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery. And whosoever shall put away her that is put away, committeth adultery.

10. Then said the disciples unto him, If the case of a man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11. And he said unto them: The word is not for everyone, but for those to whom it is given.

12. For there are some that are cut off, that are born of the womb; and there are some that are cut off, that are cut off from men; and there are some that are cut off for their own sakes, for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that can grasp it, let him grasp it.

13. And little children were brought unto him, and he laid his hands upon them, and prayed. And the disciples began to look upon them.

14. But Jesus said, "Let the little children go, and do not hinder them from coming to me, for these are the riches of heaven.

15. And laid his hands upon them, and departed thence.

16. And, behold, one came to him, and said, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17. And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? There is none good but one God. But if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18. And he said unto him, What? And Jesus said, Thou shalt not kill; thou shalt not commit adultery; thou shalt not steal; thou shalt not bear false witness; 19. Honor thy father and mother, and: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.

20. And the young man said unto him, I have kept all these things from my youth: what lack I yet?

21. And JESUS said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22. When the young man heard the word, he departed grieved: for he had much goods.

23. And JESUS said unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24. And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25. When his disciples heard it, they were sore amazed, and said: Who then can be saved?

26. And JE looked upon them, and said unto them: With men it is impossible, but with God all things are possible.

27. Then Peter answered and said unto him, Behold, we have left all, and followed thee: what shall we have for it?

28. And Jesus said unto them: Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me in the regeneration, when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve stools, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29. And whosoever shall leave house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, the same shall take it an hundredfold, and shall inherit life eternal.

30. But many that are first shall be last, and the last shall be first.

(Matthew)

Chapter 20

laborer in the vineyard of Christ

Suffering. The disciples' ambition. Two blind men healed.

1. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a householder, which went out in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2. And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3. And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace: 4. And he said unto them: Go ye also into the vineyard; and I will give you that which is right.

5. And they went their way. And again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6. And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and said unto them: Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7. And they said unto him, There hath no man done unto us. And he said unto them: Go ye also into the vineyard, and that which is right shall be done unto you.

8. And when evening was come, the lord of the vineyard said unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, and lift up the last unto the first.

9. Then came they that were come about the eleventh hour, and received every man his penny.

10. And when the first came, they thought they would receive more: and they received every man his penny.

11. And when they had received it, they murmured against the father of the house.

12. And said: These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them like unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.

13. And he answered and said unto one of them: My friend, I do thee no wrong. Art thou not become one with me for a penny?

14. Take that which is thine, and go thy way. And I will give unto this last, as unto thee.

15. Or have I not power to do what I will with mine own? Dost thou therefore look askance, because I am so kind?

16. So the last shall be first, and the first last. For many are called, but few are chosen.

17. And he went up to Jerusalem, and took unto him the twelve disciples specially in the way, and said unto them:

18. Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death.

19. And they shall deliver him up to the Gentiles to be mocked, and scourged, and crucified. And on the third day he will rise again.

20. And the mother of Zebedee's children came to him with her sons, and fell down before him, and asked something of him.

21. And he said unto her, What wilt thou? And she said unto him, Let these my two sons sit in thy kingdom, the one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left.

22. But JESUS answered and said: Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink the cup that I drink, and be baptized with baptism, as I am baptized with it? And they said unto him, Yea.

23. And he said unto them: My cup indeed ye shall drink, and with baptism, when I am baptized withal, ye shall be baptized: but to sit on my right hand and on my left is not mine to give, but to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24. And when the ten heard it, they were displeased with the two brethren.

25. But JESUS called them unto him, and said: Ye know that the rulers of the world reign, and the overlords have power.

26. It shall not be so among you: but if any man will be mighty among you, let him be your servant;

27. And whosoever will be chief, let him be your servant,

28. As the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life for a redemption of many.

29. And when they departed from Jericho, much people followed him.

30. And, behold, two blind men sat by the way side: and when they heard that Jesus passed by, they cried out, saying: O Lord, thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

31. But the people afflicted them, that they should hold their peace.

But they cried out much more, saying: O Lord, thou Son of David, have mercy on us.

32. But JESus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I should do unto you?

33. And they said unto him, Lord, that our eyes might be opened. And JESus was sorry, and touched their eyes. And straightway their eyes were restored, and they followed him.

(Matthew)

Chapter 21

Christ's entry into Jerusalem. Purification of the temple Cursing of the fig tree and punitive sermon.

1. Now when they were come nigh unto Jerusalem to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, Jesus sent of his disciples two

2. And he said unto them: Go ye into the place which is before you, and soon ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her. Untie her, and bring her unto me.

3. And if any man shall say any thing unto you, say, The LORD hath need of them; and as soon as he hath done so, he will let you have them.

4. And all these things were done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet that saith:

5. Say ye unto the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy king cometh unto thee meekly, riding upon an ass, and upon a colt of the burthen ass.

6. And the disciples went and did as JESus commanded them,

7. And they brought the ass and the colt, and laid their garments thereon, and set him thereon.

8. But many of the people spread their garments in the way, and others cut branches from the trees, and scattered them in the way.

9. And the people that went before and followed cried out, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD. Hosanna in the highest!

10. And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was stirred up, saying, Who is this?

11. And the people said, This is JESus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

12. And Jesus went in unto the temple of God, and cast out all the sellers and buyers that were in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the changers, and the seats of the sellers of doves.

13. And said unto them: It is written: My house shall be called a house of prayer. But ye have made it a den of thieves.

14. And the blind and the lame went unto him in the temple, and he healed them.
15. And when the chief priests and scribes saw the miracles which he did, and the children crying in the temple, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David, they were moved with indignation.
16. And said unto him, Hearest thou also what these say? JEsus saith unto them: Yes! Have ye never read: Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou praised?
17. And he left them, and went out of the city to Bethany, and abode there.
18. And when he was come again into the city in the morning, he hungered.
19. And he saw a fig tree by the way, and went and found nothing thereon, save leaves only. And he said unto him, Now therefore let no fruit grow upon thee henceforth. And straightway the fig tree withered away.
20. And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, and said: How is the fig tree withered as soon as?
21. And Jesus answered and said unto them: Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this thing unto the fig tree, but if ye shall say unto this mountain, Take thee up, and cast thee into the sea; it shall be done.
22. And whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, if ye believe, ye shall receive it.
23. And when he came into the temple, as he was teaching, the chief priests and the elders of the people came up to him and said: By what authority doest thou these things, and who gave thee authority?
24. And Jesus answered and said unto them: I also will ask you one word; and if ye tell me, I will tell you also by what authority I do these things.
25. Whence was the baptism of John? Was it from heaven, or from men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we say that it was from heaven, he will say unto us, Why then believed ye him not?
26. But if we say that it was of men, we must be afraid of the people: for they all took John for a prophet.
27. And they answered JEsu, and said: We know it not. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28. But what think ye? A man had two sons, and he went to the first and said, "Son, go and work in my vineyard today.

29. But he answered and said: I will not do it. And after that he repented, and went away.

30. And he went to the other, and spake the same. And he answered and said: Lord, yes! and did not go.

31. Which of the two did the will of the Father? They said unto him: The first. JESus said unto them: Verily I say unto you, that the publicans and the harlots may well enter into the kingdom of heaven sooner than ye.

32. John came unto you, teaching you the right way, and ye believed him not: but the publicans and the harlots believed him. And though ye saw it, yet repented ye not, that ye believed him afterward.

33. Hear another parable. There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and made a fence round about it, and digged a winepress therein, and built a tower, and put it out to the husbandmen, and went over the country.

34. And when the time of fruit was come, he sent his servants unto the husbandmen, that they might receive his fruit.

35. And the husbandmen took his servants, and beheaded the one, and killed the other, and stoned the third.

36. And again he sent other servants more than the first: and they did so unto them.

37. And afterward he sent his son unto them, saying, They shall shun my son.

38. And when the husbandmen saw the son, they said one to another, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and let us take his inheritance.

39. And they took him, and thrust him out into the vineyard, and slew him.

40. When therefore the Lord of the vineyard shall come, what shall he do to these husbandmen?

41. And they said unto him, He shall destroy the wicked, and shall give his vineyard to other husbandmen, which shall give him the fruit in due season.

42. And JESus said unto them: Have ye never read in the scriptures: The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner: this is of the LORD, and it is marvellous in our sight?

43. Therefore I say to you: The kingdom of God shall be taken from you and given to the Gentiles who bear its fruit.

44. And whosoever shall fall upon this stone shall be broken to pieces; but upon whomsoever it shall fall, it shall crush him.

45. And when the chief priests and Pharisees heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46. And they sought how they might lay hold on him: but they feared the people, because they took him for a prophet.

(Matthew)

Chapter 22

Of the royal marriage, the groschen of interest, the resurrection, the most noble commandment, and the person of Christ.

1. And JEsus answering spake unto them again in parables, saying: 2. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a king that made a marriage for his son.

3. And sent his servants to call the guests to the marriage: and they would not come.

4. And again he sent out other servants, saying, Tell the guests, Behold, my supper is prepared, my oxen and my fatlings are slain, and all things are ready: come ye to the marriage.

5. But they despised it, and went away, the one to his field, and the other to his husbandry.

6. And some took his servants, and mocked them, and slew them.

7. And when the king heard it, he was wroth, and sent forth his armies, and slew those murderers, and burned their city.

8. Then said he unto his servants: The wedding is ready, but the guests were not worthy.

9. Go ye therefore into the highways, and invite to the marriage whom ye find.

10. And the servants went out into the streets, and gathered together whom they found, both evil and good. And the tables were all filled.

11. And the king went in to see the guests, and saw a man there that had no wedding garment on, 12. And said unto him, Friend, how camest thou in, and hast no wedding garment on? And he held his peace.

13. And the king said unto his servants, Bind his hands and his feet, and cast him out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth;

14. For many are called, but few are chosen.

15. Then the Pharisees went and held a council, as they caught him in his speech.

16. And they sent unto him their disciples with Herod's servants, saying: Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God aright, and askest after no man: for thou regardest not the reputation of men.

17. Therefore tell us, what thinkest thou? Is it right to give interest to the emperor, or not?

18. And when JEsus perceived their wickedness, he said, Ye hypocrites, why tempt ye me?

19. Give me the coin of interest. And they offered him a penny.

20. And he said unto them: Whose is the image and the superscription?

21. And they said unto him, The emperor's. And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto GOD the things that are GOD's.

22. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went away.

23. And the same day there came unto him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him

24. And they said: Master, Moses said, If a man die, and have not children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25. Now there were with us seven brethren. The first one married and died, and because he had no seed, he left his wife to his brother.

26. The like of the second, and of the third, unto the seventh.

27. Last of all, after all, the woman also died.

28. Now in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be among the seven? You have had them all.

29. And Jesus answered and said unto them: Ye err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30. In the resurrection they will neither be free nor allowed to be free, but they will be like the angels of God in heaven.

31. But have ye not read of the resurrection of the dead, which is told you of God, saying: 32. I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? But God is not a God of the dead, but of the living.

33. And when the people heard these things, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34. And when the Pharisees heard that he had shut up the Sadducees, they gathered themselves together.

35. And one of them, a scribe, tempted him, saying:

36. Master, which is the noblest commandment in the law?

37. And JESUS said unto him, Thou shalt love GOD thy LORD with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38. This is the noblest and greatest commandment.

39. And the other is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40. In these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41. Now when the Pharisees were together, JEsus asked them

42. And said, How think ye of Christ? Whose son is he? They said: Davids.

43. And he said unto them: How then doth David in spirit call him a LORD, saying: 44. The LORD hath said unto my LORD, Sit thou on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

45. If therefore David call him a lord, how is he his son?

46. And no man was able to answer him a word, neither was it lawful for any man to ask him from that day forward.

(Matthew)

Chapter 22

Of the royal marriage, the groschen of interest, the resurrection, the most noble commandment, and the person of Christ.

1. And JEsus answering spake unto them again in parables, saying: 2. The kingdom of heaven is like unto a king that made a marriage for his son.

3. And he sent his servants to call the guests to the marriage: and they would not come.

4. And again he sent out other servants, saying, Tell the guests, Behold, my supper is prepared, my oxen and my fatlings are slain, and all things are ready: come ye to the marriage.

5. But they despised it, and went away, the one to his field, and the other to his husbandry.

6. And some took his servants, and mocked them, and slew them.

7. And when the king heard it, he was wroth, and sent forth his armies, and slew those murderers, and burned their city.

8. Then said he unto his servants: The wedding is ready, but the guests were not worthy.

9. Go ye therefore into the highways, and invite to the marriage whom ye find.

10. And the servants went out into the streets, and gathered together whom they found, both evil and good. And the tables were all filled.

11. And the king went in to see the guests, and saw a man there that had no wedding garment on, 12. And said unto him, Friend, how camest thou in, and hast no wedding garment on? And he held his peace.

13. And the king said unto his servants, Bind his hands and his feet, and cast him out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth;

14. For many are called, but few are chosen.

15. Then the Pharisees went and held a council, as they caught him in his speech.

16. And they sent unto him their disciples with Herod's servants, saying: Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God aright, and askest after no man: for thou regardest not the reputation of men.

17. Therefore tell us, what thinkest thou? Is it right to give interest to the emperor, or not?

18. And when JEsus perceived their wickedness, he said, Ye hypocrites, why tempt ye me?

19. Give me the coin of interest. And they offered him a penny.

20. And he said unto them: Whose is the image and the superscription?

21. And they said unto him, The emperor's. And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto GOD the things that are GOD's.

22. And when they heard it, they marvelled, and left him, and went away.

23. And the same day there came unto him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him

24. And they said: Master, Moses said, If a man die, and have not children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25. Now there were with us seven brethren. The first one married and died, and because he had no seed, he left his wife to his brother.

26. The like of the second, and of the third, unto the seventh.

27. Last of all, after all, the woman also died.

28. Now in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be among the seven? You have had them all.

29. And Jesus answered and said unto them: Ye err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30. In the resurrection they will neither be free nor allowed to be free, but they will be like the angels of God in heaven.

31. But have ye not read of the resurrection of the dead, which is told you of GOD, saying: 32. I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? But God is not a God of the dead, but of the living.

33. And when the people heard these things, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34. And when the Pharisees heard that he had shut up the Sadducees, they gathered themselves together.

35. And one of them, a scribe, tempted him, saying:

36. Master, which is the noblest commandment in the law?

37. And JESUS said unto him, Thou shalt love GOD thy LORD with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38. This is the noblest and greatest commandment.

39. And the other is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40. In these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41. Now when the Pharisees were together, JESUS asked them

42. And said, How think ye of Christ? Whose son is he? They said: David's.

43. And he said unto them: How then doth David in spirit call him a LORD, saying: 44. The LORD hath said unto my LORD, Sit thou on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

45. If therefore David call him a lord, how is he his son?

46. And no man was able to answer him a word, neither was it lawful for any man to ask him from that day forward.

(Matthew)

Chapter 23

Jesus warning against the scribes and Pharisees.

1. Then spake JEsus unto the people, and unto his disciples

2. And said, In Moses' seat sit the scribes and Pharisees.

3. All things therefore whatsoever they say unto you, that ye ought to observe, observe, and do; but after their works do ye not. They say it, and do it not.

4. But they bind heavy and intolerable burdens, and lay them upon men's necks; but they will not lift them with a finger.

5. And all their works do they that they may be seen of men. They make their slips wide, and the hems of their garments great.

6. they like to sit on top over the table and in the schools

7. And they delight to be saluted in the market, and to be called of men Rabbi.

8. But ye shall not be called Rabbi: for one is your Master, Christ: but ye are all brethren.

9. And call no man your father upon earth: for one is your Father which is in heaven.

10. And ye shall not be called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11. The greatest among you shall be your servant.

12. For he that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that abaseth himself shall be exalted.

13. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, which shut up the kingdom of heaven from men! Ye enter not in, neither let them that would enter in.

14. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that eat widows' houses, and turn aside long prayers! Therefore ye shall receive the more condemnation.

15. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, which go about by land and sea, to make a fellow Jew! And when he is made, ye make him a child of hell, twofold more than ye are.

16. Woe unto you, ye blind leaders, that say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing: but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is guilty.
17. Ye fools and blind men, which is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?
18. Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing: but whosoever shall swear by the sacrifice that is above, he is guilty.
19. Ye fools and blind men, which is greater, the sacrifice, or the altar that sanctifieth the sacrifice?
20. He that sweareth by the altar sweareth by it, and by all that is above.
21. And whosoever shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.
22. And whosoever shall swear by heaven shall swear by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.
23. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye tithe the mint, and the dill, and the caraway, and leave behind the most grievous things of the law, judgment, and mercy, and faith. This ought ye to do, and that ought ye not to do.
24. Ye blind leaders, which behold gnats, and swallow camels!
25. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye keep the vessels and the vials clean outwardly, but inwardly they are full of spoil and filth.
26. Thou blind Pharisee, first cleanse the inward parts of the cup and dish, that the outward parts also may be clean.
27. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which outwardly appear beautiful, but inwardly are full of dead men's bones and all manner of filthiness.
28. So likewise ye; outwardly ye appear righteous before men, but inwardly ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.
29. Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, which build the sepulchres of the prophets, and adorn the graves of the righteous.
30. Saying, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them of the blood of the prophets.
31. Ye bear witness of yourselves, that ye are the children of them that slew the prophets.
32. Come, ye also, fulfill the measure of your fathers.

33. Ye serpents, ye vipers, how shall ye escape the damnation of hell?
34. Therefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and of them ye shall kill and crucify some, and some ye shall scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city,
35. That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias the son of Barachiah, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.
36. Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.
37. Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings; and ye would not!
38. Behold, your house shall be left unto you desolate.
39. For I say unto you: Ye shall not see me from henceforth, till ye say, Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD.

(Matthew)

Chapter 24

Of the destruction of the city of Jerusalem and the end of the world.

1. And JESUS departed from the temple, and his disciples came unto him, to shew him the buildings of the temple.
2. And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? Verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be broken.
3. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, his disciples came unto him specially, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?
4. And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.
5. For many shall come under my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.
6. Ye shall hear wars, and the noise of wars: watch, and be not dismayed. All these things must first come to pass; but the end is not yet.
7. For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there shall be pestilences, and grievous times, and earthquakes in divers places.

8. there will be first of all the need.

9. Then shall they deliver you up into tribulation, and shall kill you. And ye shall be hated for my name's sake of all nations.

10. Then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11. And many false prophets shall arise, and shall deceive many.

12. And because iniquity shall abound, love shall wax cold in many.

13. But he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

14. And the gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations: and then shall the end come.

15. When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the prophet, that it shall stand in the holy place, let him that readeth take heed, 16. Then let him that is in the land of the Jews flee to the mountains; 17. And he that is on the housetop, let him not come down to take any thing out of his house; 18. And he that is in the field, let him not return to take up his garments.

19. But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

20. But pray that your flight be not in the winter, or on the sabbath day,

21. For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the world began, neither ever shall be.

22. And if those days were not shortened, no man should be saved: but for the elect's sake the days are shortened.

23. Then if any man shall say unto you, Behold, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

24. For false Christs and false prophets shall arise, and shall shew great signs and wonders, to deceive (where it is possible) even the elect.

25. Behold, I told you before!

26. Therefore when they shall say unto you: Behold, he is in the wilderness; go not forth: behold, he is in the chamber; believe it not.

27. For as the lightning goeth forth from the rising, and shineth even unto the going down; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28. But where there is a carcase, there the eagles gather together.

29. But soon after the tribulation of those days the sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken.

30. And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven. And then shall all kindreds of the earth howl, and shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31. And he shall send his angels with a great trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32. Learn a parable of the fig tree. When its branch becomes sapient and produces leaves, you know that summer is near.

33. So also, when ye see all these things, know that it is at the door.

34. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

35. Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will not pass away.

36. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not even the angels which are in heaven, but my Father only.

37. But as it was in the days of Noah, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38. For as they were in the days that were before the flood, they did eat, and they drank, and they did relieve themselves, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, 39. And they regarded it not, till the flood came, and took them all away: so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40. Then shall two be in the field; one shall be accepted, and the other left.

41. Two shall grind at the mill; the one shall be accepted, and the other shall be left.

42. Therefore watch. For ye know not what hour your Lord shall come.

43. But this ye ought to know: If a householder knew the hour of the thief's coming, he would keep watch and not let him break into his house.

44. Therefore be ye also ready: for the Son of man shall come in an hour when ye think not.

45. Which then is a faithful and prudent servant, whom his lord hath set over his servants, to give them meat in due season?

46. Blessed is the servant when his lord comes and finds him doing thus!

47. Verily I say unto you, He shall set him over all his goods.

48. But that wicked servant shall say in his heart, My lord is not yet come, 49. And he began to smite his fellowservants, and to eat and to drink with the drunken: 50. Then shall the lord of that servant come in the day of which he is not minded, and in the hour which he is not minded,

51. And shall break him down, and shall give him his reward with the hypocrites. There shall be his weeping and gnashing of teeth.

(Matthew)

Chapter 25

Of ten virgins, the familiar hundredweight, and the Last Judgment.

1. Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went out to meet the bridegroom.

2. But five of them were foolish, and five were wise.

3. The foolish took their lamps, but they took not oil with them.

4. But the prudent took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5. And when the bridegroom departed, they were all drowsy, and fell asleep.

6. And at midnight there was a cry, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; come out to meet him.

7. Then all these virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8. And the foolish said unto the prudent, Give us of your oil: for our lamps are gone out.

9. And the wise answered and said: Not so, lest there be a breach between us and you. But go ye to the merchants, and buy for yourselves.

10. And as they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage. And the door was shut.

11. And last of all the other virgins came and said: Lord, Lord, open to us!

12. And he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know not yours.

13. Watch therefore. For ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man shall come.

14. As a man going over the country called his servants, and put his goods in their hands.

15. And to one he gave five talents, and to another two, and to a third one, to every man according to his ability: and he departed quickly.

16. And he that had received five talents went and traded with the same, and gained other five talents.

17. Likewise also he that had received two talents gained also two others.

18. And he that had received one went and made a pit in the ground, and hid his lord's money.

19. For a long time the lord of these servants came and kept account with them.

20. And he that had received five talents came near, and presented other five talents, and said, Lord, thou hast given me five talents: behold, I have gained therewith other five talents.

21. And his lord said unto him, O thou faithful and true servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things: I will set thee over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

22. And he also that had received two talents came near, and said, Lord, thou hast given me two talents: behold, I have gained with them two others.

23. And his lord said unto him, O thou faithful and true servant, thou hast been faithful over a few things: I will set thee over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24. And he also that had received a talent came near, and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art a hard man: thou reapest where thou hast not sown, and gatherest where thou hast not strawed.

25. And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth. Behold, thou hast thine own.

26. But his master answered and said unto him, Thou mischievous and slothful servant! Did you know that I reap when I have not sown, and gather when I have not strewed?, 27. Then shalt thou have put my money to the moneychangers, and if I had come, I would have taken mine with usury.

28. Take therefore of him the talent, and give it to him that hath ten talents.

29. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

30. And cast out the worthless servant into the outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31. But when the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory.

32. And all nations shall be gathered together before him. And he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth the sheep from the goats.

33. And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, and the goats on his left.

34. Then shall the king say unto them that are on his right hand: Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

35. For I was hungry, and ye fed me. I have been thirsty, and ye have given me drink. I have been a guest, and ye have lodged me.

36. I was naked, and ye clothed me. I have been sick, and ye have visited me. I have been a prisoner, and ye have come unto me.

37. Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee hungry, and fed thee?
or thirsty, and gave thee drink?

38. When saw we thee a sojourner, and lodged, or naked, and clothed thee?

39. When have we seen thee sick, or taken captive, and come unto thee?

40. And the king shall answer and say unto them: Verily I say unto you: Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

41. Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.

42. I have been hungry, and ye have not fed me. I have been thirsty, and ye have not given me drink.

43. I have been a sojourner, and ye have not lodged me. I have been naked, and ye have not clothed me. I have been sick and a prisoner, and ye have not visited me.

44. Then shall they also answer him, and say, Lord, when saw we thee hungry, or thirsty, or a sojourner, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not serve thee?

45. Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you: Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of the least of these, ye did it not unto me.

46. And they shall go into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into everlasting life.

(Matthew)

Chapter 26

Christ anointed; fights in the garden after instituting Holy Communion; is betrayed, captured, and brought before spiritual judgment.

1. And it came to pass, when JEsus had finished all these sayings, he saith unto his disciples: 2. Ye know that after two days shall be the passover, and the Son of man shall be delivered up to be crucified.

3. And the chief priests and the scribes and the elders of the people were gathered together in the palace of the high priest, whose name was Caiaphas,

4. And took counsel how they might take JEsus with guile, and kill him.

5. And they said, Yea, not at the feast, lest there be a tumult among the people.

6. Now when JEsus was in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, 7. And there came unto him a woman having a jar of choice water, and poured it upon his head, as he sat at meat.

8. And when his disciples saw it, they were displeased, and said: What is the use of this rubbish?

9. This water might have been sold dearly, and given to the poor.

10. When JEsus perceived it, he saith unto them: Why trouble ye the woman? she hath done a good work for me.

11. Ye have always the poor with you: but me ye have not always.

12. Because she hath poured this water upon my body, she hath done that I should be buried.

13. Verily I say unto you, That wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in all the world, it shall also be spoken in remembrance of her, what she hath done.

14. And one of the twelve, named Judas Iscariot, went to the chief priests.

15. And said, What will ye give me? I will betray him unto you. And they offered him thirty pieces of silver.

16. And from that time he sought occasion to betray him.

17. But on the first day of sweet bread the disciples came to JEsu, and said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18. And he said, Go into the city to one, and say unto him, The Master saith unto thee, My time is here: I will keep the passover with thee with my disciples.

19. And the disciples did as JESUS commanded them, and prepared the passover.

20. And in the evening he sat down to meat with the twelve.

21. And as they were eating, he said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me.

22. And they were very sorrowful, and lifted up every one of them, and said unto him, Lord, is it I?

23. And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish shall betray me.

24. The Son of man passeth away, as it is written of him: but woe unto that man, by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It were better for him that the same man were never yet born.

25. Then answered Judas that betrayed him, and said, Is it I, Rabbi? And he said unto him, Thou sayest it.

26. And as they were eating, JESUS took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, saying, Take, eat; this is my body.

27. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it.

28. This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.

29. I say unto you: From henceforth I will drink no more of this fruit of the vine until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30. And when they had sung the hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.

31. Then said JESUS unto them: This night ye shall all be offended in me: for it is written: I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered.

32. But when I rise again, I will go before you into Galilee.

33. And Peter answered and said unto him, Though they all be offended at thee, yet will I never be offended.

34. And JESUS said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35. Peter saith unto him, And if I should die with thee, I will not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36. Then came JE with them unto a court which was called Gethsemane, and said unto his disciples, Sit ye here, until I go and pray.

37. And he took Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to mourn and to tremble.

38. Then said JEsus unto them: My soul is troubled even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.

39. And he went a little, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40. And he came to his disciples, and found them sleeping, and said unto Peter, Can ye not watch with me one hour?

40. Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42. And again he went and prayed, saying, My Father, is it not possible that this cup should pass from me, and I drink it? so let thy will be done.

43. And he came, and found them sleeping again, and their eyes were full of sleep.

44. And he left them, and went again, and prayed the third time, and spake the same words.

45. Then came he to his disciples, and said unto them: Ah, will ye now sleep and rest? Behold, the hour is here, that the Son of man should be delivered into the hands of sinners.

46. Arise, let us go! Behold, he is here who betrays me!

47. And while he yet spake, behold, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48. And the traitor had given them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; seize him.

49. And straightway he came to JEsu, and said, Hail, Rabbi; and kissed him.

50. And JEsus said unto him, My friend, why art thou come? And they came and laid hands on JEsus, and took him.

51. And, behold, one of them that were with JEsu put forth his hand, and drew out his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

52. Then said JESUS unto him, Put up thy sword into his place: for he that taketh the sword shall perish by the sword.

53. Or thinkest thou that I cannot pray my Father, that he would send me more than twelve legions of angels?

54. But how shall the scripture be fulfilled? It must go thus.

55. At that hour said JESUS unto the multitudes: Ye are come out as against a murderer with swords and staves to seize me: for I sat daily with you, and taught in the temple, and ye took me not.

56. But all these things came to pass, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples left him and fled.

57. And they that had taken JESUM brought him unto Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and elders were gathered together.

58. And Peter followed him afar off unto the palace of the high priest, and went in, and sat with the servants, that he might see whither it went out.

29. And the chief priests, and the elders, and all the council, sought to bear false witness against JESUM, that they might put him to death,

60. And found none. And though many false witnesses came forward, yet they found none. And at the last there came two false witnesses

61. And they said: He hath said, I can break down the temple of God, and build the same in three days.

62. And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing to the things which these witness against thee?

63. But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

64. And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest it. But I say unto you, That from henceforth ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

65. And the high priest rent his clothes, and said, He hath blasphemed God: what need have we any further testimony? Behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66. what think ye? They answered and said: He is guilty of death.

67. And they spat in his face, and smote him with their fists. And some of them smote him in the face

68. And they said: Prophecy unto us, O Christ, who is it that smote thee?

69. And Peter sat without in the palace. And there came a maid unto him, and said, And thou also wast with JESU of Galilee.
70. But he denied before them all, saying: I know not what thou sayest.
71. And as he went out at the door, another saw him, and said unto them that were there: This also was with JESU of Nazareth.
72. And he denied again, and sware unto it: I know not man.
73. And after a little while they that sat by came and said unto Peter, Verily thou also art one of these: for thy speech betrayeth thee.
74. then began he to curse himself, and to swear: I know not man. And straightway the cock crowed.
75. Then Peter remembered the words of JESUS, saying unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

(Matthew)

Chapter 27

Christ's suffering before the temporal court, crucifixion, death entrusted with miracles, and burial.

1. And it came to pass in the morning, that all the chief priests and the elders of the people took counsel against JESUM, to put him to death.
2. And they bound him, and led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.
3. And when Judas, which had betrayed him, saw that he was condemned to death, he repented, and brought again the thirty shekels of silver unto the chief priests and to the elders.
4. And said: I have done evil in that I have betrayed innocent blood.
5. And they said: What is that to us? Then watch thou! And he cast the pieces of silver into the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.
6. But the chief priests took the pieces of silver, and said: It is not fit that we should put them into the treasury: for it is blood money.
7. And they took counsel, and bought a potter's field for it, for the burying of the pilgrims.
8. Therefore the same field is called the field of blood unto this day.
9. Then is fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, saying, They have taken thirty shekels of silver, to pay for him that was sold, whom they bought of the children of Israel,

10. And have given them for a potter's sack, when the LORD commanded me.

11. And Jesus stood before the governor. And the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jews? And JEsus said unto him, Thou sayest it.

12. And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13. And Pilate said unto him, Hearest thou not how hard they accuse thee?

14: And he answered him not a word: so that even the governor marvelled greatly.

15. And it was the custom of the governor at the feast to release unto the people one prisoner whom they would.

16. And he had at that time a prisoner, a peculiar one above others, whose name was Barabbas.

17. And when they were gathered together, Pilate saith unto them: Which will ye that I release unto you, Barabbas, or Jesus, which is said to be Christ?

18. For he knew well that they had delivered him up out of envy.

19. And when he sat in the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with this righteous man: I have suffered much this day in a dream on his account.

20. But the chief priests and the elders persuaded the people, that they should ask for Barabbas, and kill JEsus.

21. And the governor answered and said unto them: Which of these two will ye that I should release unto you? They said: Barabbas.

22. Pilate saith unto them: What then shall I do with JEsu, who is said to be Christ? They all said, Let him be crucified.

23. And the governor said, What evil hath he done? But they cried out still more, saying: Let him be crucified!

24. And when Pilate saw that he made nothing, but that there was a much greater tumult, he took water and washed his hands before the people, and said: I am innocent of the blood of this righteous man: see ye to it!

25. And all the people answered and said, His blood be upon us, and upon our children.

26. Then he delivered Barabbas unto them; but he scourged JESUM, and delivered him to be crucified.

27. Then the soldiers of the governor took JESUM unto them into the judgment house, and gathered the whole multitude about him.

28. And they stripped him, and put a purple robe upon him.

29. And they fenced a crown of thorns, and put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand, and bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying: Hail, King of the Jews!

30. And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote his head therewith.

31. And when they had mocked him, they stripped him of his robe, and put on his garments, and led him away to crucify him.

32. And going out, they found a man of Cyrene named Simon, whom they compelled to bear his cross.

33. And when they were come to the place called Golgotha, which is the place of the skull, 34. And they gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he tasted it, he would not drink.

35. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and cast lots thereon, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet: They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture they cast lots.

36. And they sat there tending his.

37. And on the top of his head they wrote the cause of his death, saying, This is Jesus king of the Jews.

38. And there were two murderers crucified with him, one on the right hand, and one on the left.

39. And they that passed by blasphemed him, and shook their heads.

40. And they said: Thou that breakest down the temple of God, and buildest it in three days, help thyself! If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41. Likewise also the chief priests mocked him, and the scribes, and the elders, saying: 42. He hath helped others, and cannot help himself. If he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43. He hath trusted in God; now deliver him, lure him: for he hath said, I am the son of God.

44. Likewise also the murderers that were crucified with him reviled him.

45. And from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

46. And about the ninth hour JEsus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama asabthani? that is, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47. And some of them, when they heard it, said: He calleth Elias.

48. And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it upon a reed, and watered it.

49. And the rest said: Wait, let us see if Elijah will come and help him.

50. But JEsus cried out again with a loud voice, and died.

51. And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

52. And the earth shook, and the rocks were rent, and the graves were opened, and many bodies of the saints that slept arose,

53. And went out of the tombs after his resurrection, and came into the Holy City, and appeared unto many.

54. But the centurion, and they that were with him, and kept JEsu, when they saw the earthquake, and the things that were done, were sore afraid, and said: Verily, this was the Son of God!

55. And there were many women watching afar off, which followed JEsu out of Galilee, and served him,

56. Among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of the children of Zebedee.

57. And in the evening there came a rich man from Arimathea, whose name was Joseph, who also was a disciple of JEsu.

58. And he went unto Pilate, and asked him for the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded that it should be given him.

59. And Joseph took the body, and wrought it in clean linen.

60. And he laid him in his own new sepulchre, which he had hewn out of a rock, and rolled a great stone before the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61. And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62. The next day, which followed the preparation day, the chief priests and Pharisees came all to Pilate.

63. and said: Lord, we thought that this deceiver spake while he yet lived: I will rise again after three days.

64. Therefore command that the sepulchre be kept until the third day, lest his disciples come and steal him away, saying unto the people, He is risen from the dead: and let the last deceit be worse than the first.

65. Pilate saith unto them: There ye have the keepers; go and keep as ye know.

66. And they went and covered the sepulchre with keepers, and sealed the stone.

(Matthew)

Chapter 28

Christ's resurrection and command to his disciples.

1. Now in the evening of the sabbath, which began in the morning of the first solemnity of the sabbaths, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.

2. And, behold, there was a great earthquake. For the angel of the LORD came down from heaven, and stood by, and rolled away the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3. And his form was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4. And the keepers were terrified with fear, and became as though they were dead.

5. But the angel answered and said unto the consecrators: Fear not: I know that ye seek Jesus crucified.

6. He is not here: he is risen, as he said. Come and see the place where the Lord has lain.

7. And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead. And, behold, he shall go before you into Galilee; and there shall ye see him. Behold, I have told you.

8. And they went out quickly unto the sepulchre with fear and great joy, and ran to tell his disciples. And as they went, they told his disciples,

9. And, behold, JESUS met them, and said, Hail! And they came unto him, and took hold of his feet, and fell down before him.

10. Then said JESUS unto them: Fear not. Go and tell my brethren, that they may go into Galilee; and there they shall see me.

11. And as they went, behold, some of the keepers came into the city, and told the chief priests all things that were done.
12. And they came together with the elders, and held a council, and gave money enough to the soldiers.
13. And said, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.
14. And if it come to pass with the governor, we will quiet him, and make you safe.
15. And they took the money, and did as they were taught. This hath been a common saying among the Jews unto this day.
16. And the eleven disciples went up into Galilee into a mountain, whither Jesus had appointed them.
17. And when they saw him, they fell down before him: but some doubted.
18. And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.
19. Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost.
20. And teach them to observe all that I have commanded you. And, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

Gospel of Mark ^

Chapter 1

Christ baptized by John, is tempted, preaches, calls disciples and today the sick.

1. This is the beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, 2. As it is written in the prophets: Behold, I send my angel before thee, which shall prepare thy way before thee.
3. It is the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, make his paths straight.
4. John, being in the wilderness, baptized, and preached of the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.
5. And there went out unto him all the country of Judaea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

6. And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a leathern girdle about his loins, and did eat locusts and wild honey.

7. And he preached, saying, There cometh one after me stronger than I, to whom I am not sufficient to stoop down before him, and to loose the thongs of his shoes.

8. I baptize you with water; but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.

9. And it came to pass at that time, that JESUS came from Galilee of Nazareth, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

10. And straightway he came up out of the water, and saw heaven opened, and the Spirit descending upon him like a dove.

11. And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12. And soon the spirit drove him into the wilderness.

13. And was there in the wilderness forty days tempted of Satan, and was with the beasts, and the angels ministered unto him.

14. And after that John was delivered, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God.

15. And said, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is come. Repent, and believe in the gospel.

16. And as he went by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting their nets into the sea: for they were fishermen.

17. And JESUS said unto them: Follow me. I will make you fishers of men.

18. And straightway they left their nets, and followed him.

19. And as he passed a little way thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, mending the nets in the ship: and straightway he called them.

20. And they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hirelings, and followed him.

21. And they went to Capernaum: and straightway on the sabbaths he went into the synagogue, and taught.

22. And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught mightily, and not as the scribes.

23. And there was in their synagogue a man possessed with an unclean spirit, crying out 24. And said, Hold, what have we to do with thee,

Jesus of Nazareth? Thou art come to destroy us. I know who you are, the Holy One of God.

25. And Jesus afflicted him, saying, Be silent, and depart from him.

26. And the unclean spirit tore him, and cried with a loud voice, and went out of him.

27. And they were all amazed, and asked one another, saying: What is this? What new doctrine is this? He giveth power unto unclean spirits, and they obey him.

28. And soon his tidings went abroad into the borders of Galilee.

29. And they went out of the synagogue quickly, and came into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30. And Simon's wife lay sick of the fever: and straightway they told him of her.

31. And he came unto her, and lifted her up, and held her by the hand: and the fever soon left her, and she ministered unto them.

32. And in the evening, when the sun was down, they brought unto him all manner of sick and possessed.

33. And all the city was gathered together at the door.

34. And he helped many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many devils, and suffered not the devils to speak: for they knew him.

35. And in the morning before day he arose, and went out. And Jesus went into a desert place, and prayed there.

36. And Peter with them that were with him hasted after him.

37. And when they found him, they said unto him, Every man seeketh thee.

38. And he said unto them: Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for to this end am I come.

39. And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, casting out devils.

40. And there came unto him a leper, and besought him, and kneeled down before him, and said unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41. And it grieved Jesus, and put forth his hand, and touched him, and said: I will do it; be purified!

42. And when he thus spake, the leprosy departed from him straightway, and he was clean.

43. And JEsus afflicted him, and straightway cast him away.
44. And said unto him, See thou say nothing unto any man, but go and shew thyself unto the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Moses commanded, for a testimony against them.
45. And when he was come out, he began to speak of it much, and to make the story known; so that he could no more go into the city openly, but was without in the desolate places. And they came to him from every quarter.

(Mark)

Chapter 2

Of the gouty man, Matthew's calling, and Christ's responsibility against the Pharisees.

1. And after some days he went again to Capernaum: and it was known that he was in the house.
2. And straightway many were gathered together, so that there was no room for them, even without the door. And he spake unto them the word.
3. And there came unto him certain, bringing a man sick of the palsy, borne of four.
4. And when they could not come to him before the people, they uncovered the roof where he was, and digged it up, and let down the bed where the sick of the palsy lay within.
5. And when JEsus saw their faith, he saith unto the sick of the palsy: My son, thy sins are forgiven thee.
6. And there were certain scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts:
7. How speaketh this blasphemy? Who can forgive sin but God alone?
8. And soon perceiving in his spirit that they reasoned so within themselves, JEsus saith unto them: Why think ye these things in your hearts?
9. Which is easier, to say unto the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?
10. But that ye might know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, he saith unto the sick of the palsy:
11. I tell you, get up, take up your bed and go home!

12. And straightway he arose, and took up his bed, and went out before all: so that they were all amazed, and praised God, and said: We have never seen such things.

13. And he went out again by the sea; and all the people came unto him, and he taught them.

14. And as JEsus passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custom, and saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

15. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat at meat with JEsu and his disciples. For there were many of them following him.

16. And the scribes and Pharisees, when they saw that he did eat with publicans and sinners, said unto his disciples, Why eateth he and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17. When JEsus heard it, he saith unto them: The strong have no need of a physician, but the sick. I am come to call sinners to repentance, and not the righteous.

18. And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fasted much; and there came some that said unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, and thy disciples fast not?

19. And JEsus said unto them: How can the bridegrooms fast, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as the bridegroom is with them, they cannot fast.

20. But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them; then they will fast.

21. No man putteth a rag of new cloth upon an old garment: for the new rag is rent from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22. And no man putteth must into old wineskins: otherwise the must breaketh the wineskins, and the wine is spilled, and the wineskins perish. But they shall put must into new wineskins.

23. And it came to pass, as he walked through the seed on the sabbath day, his disciples began, as they went, to pluck up ears of corn.

24. And the Pharisees said unto him: Behold, what do thy disciples on the sabbath day that is not right?

25. And he said unto them: Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was hungry, and they that were with him?

26. How he entered into the house of GOD in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which none but the priests were permitted to eat; and he gave it also unto them that were with him?

27. And he said unto them: The Sabbath was made for man's sake, and not man for the Sabbath's sake.

28. So the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

(Mark)

Chapter 3

Of the withered hand, Christ's flight, apostles' election, scribes' blasphemy, God's friends.

1. And he went again to the school. And there was a man there who had a withered hand.

2. And they watched him, whether he would heal him even on the sabbath day, that they might have a cause against him.

3. And he said unto the man with the withered hand, Come forth.

4. And he said unto them, Shall one do good on the sabbath day, or do evil, preserve life, or kill?

But they held their peace.

5. And he looked round about on them with wrath, and was grieved at their hardened hearts, and said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he stretched it out, and his hand was healed like the other.

6. And the Pharisees went out, and straightway took counsel with Herod's servants concerning him, how they might destroy him.

7. But JEsus departed with his disciples unto the sea. And much people followed him out of Galilee, and out of Judea.

8. And from Jerusalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan, and them that dwell about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude that heard his deeds, and came unto him.

9. And he spake unto his disciples, that they should keep him a little ship for the people's sake, that they should not press him.

10. For he healed many of them, so that they came upon him, all that were afflicted, that they might touch him.

11. And when the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him, and cried, saying: You are the Son of God!

12. And he afflicted them sore, that they made him not known.

13. And he went up into a mountain, and called unto him those whom he would, and they went unto him.

14. And he ordained the twelve to be with him, and to send them forth to preach, 15. And that they had power to heal diseases, and to cast out devils, 16. and gave Simon the name Peter;

17. And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James, and gave them the name of Bnehargem, which is said, Children of thunder; 18. And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon of Cana.

19. And Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.

20. And they came home, and there the people came together again, so that they had not room to eat.

21. And when they that were about him heard it, they went out, and would have held him: for they said: He shall come out of his senses.

22. And the scribes that were come down from Jerusalem said: He hath Beelzebub, and by the chief of the devils he casteth out devils.

23. And he called them together, and spake unto them in parables: How can one Satan cast out another?

24. If a kingdom be divided among itself, it may not stand.

25. And if a house be divided among itself, it may not stand.

26. If Satan therefore set himself against himself, and be at variance with himself, he cannot stand, but is finished.

27. No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man, and then spoil his house.

28. Verily I say unto you, All sins are forgiven the children of men, even blasphemy, that they may blaspheme against GOD;

29. But he that blasphemeth the Holy Ghost hath no remission for ever, but is guilty of everlasting judgment.

30. For they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31. And his mother and his brethren came and stood without, and sent for him, and called him.

32. And the people sat about him. And they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without ask for thee.

33. And he answered them, and said: Who is my mother and my brothers?

34. And looking round about on the disciples that sat about him in a circle, he said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35. For whoever does the will of God is my brother and sister and mother.

(Mark)

Chapter 4

Many a parable. Stilling of the turbulent sea.

1. And he began again to teach by the sea. And much people gathered unto him, so that he entered into a ship, and sat upon the face of the waters. And all the people stood upon the land by the sea.

2. And he preached unto them a long time by parables. And in his preaching he spake unto them: 3. Hearken! Behold, a sower went forth to sow.

4. And it came to pass, as he sowed, that some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured them.

5. Some things fell into the stony places, because they had not much earth; and they rose up quickly, because they had not deep earth.

6. And when the sun was risen, it withered, and because it had no root, it withered.

7. And some fell among the thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it brought forth no fruit:

8. And some fell on good ground, and brought forth fruit, which increased and grew; and some bore thirtyfold, and some sixtyfold, and some an hundredfold.

9. And he said unto them: He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10. And when he was alone, they that were about him, and the twelve, asked him this parable.

11. And he said unto them: It is given unto you to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without it all is revealed in parables,

12. That they may see with their eyes, and not know; and that they may hear with their ears, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13. And he said unto them: If ye understand not this parable, how shall ye understand all the rest?

14. the sower sows the word.

15. And these are they which are in the way where the word is sown, and they have heard it: and Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16. So are they also which are sown on stony ground: when they have heard the word, they soon receive it with joy.

17. And have no root in them, but are fickle: when tribulation or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are vexed.

18. And these are they which are sown among thorns, which hear the word, 19. And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and many other lusts, enter in, and choke the word, and remain without fruit.

20. And these are they which are sown in a good land, which hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit; some thirtyfold, and some sixty, and some an hundred.

21. And he said unto them: Do men also kindle a light to put it under a bushel, or under a table?

Not at all; but set it upon a candlestick.

22. For there is nothing hid, that shall not be revealed; neither is there anything secret, that shall not come forth.

23. he who has ears to hear, let him hear!

24. And said unto them, Take heed what ye hear. With what measure ye measure, they shall measure you again: and it shall be added unto you that hear these things.

25. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

26. And he said, The kingdom of God is as when a man casteth seed upon the land.

27. And he sleepeth, and riseth up night and day, and the seed riseth and groweth, that he knoweth it not.

28. For the earth bringeth forth of itself first the grass, and after that the ears of corn, and after that the full wheat in the ears.

29. But when it hath brought forth the fruit, he sendeth forth the sickle quickly: for the harvest is come.

30. And he said, To whom will we liken the kingdom of God, and by what likeness will we model it?

31. As a grain of mustard seed, when it is sown in the field, it is the least of all the seeds of the earth.

32. And when it is sown, it increaseth, and becometh greater than all cabbages, and getteth forth great branches; so that the fowls of the air dwell under the shadow thereof.
33. And by many such parables spake he the word unto them, after that they heard it.
34. And without a parable spake he nothing unto them: but in particular he expounded all things unto his disciples.
35. And the same day in the evening he said unto them: Let us pass over.
36. And they sent the people away, and took him as he was in the ship: and there were more ships with him.
37. And there arose a great whirlwind, and cast the waves into the ship, so that the ship was filled.
38. And he was in the back of the ship, sleeping on a pillow. And they awaked him, and said unto him, Master, askest thou nothing after this, that we perish?
39. And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, and be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.
40. And he said unto them: How are ye fearful? How that ye have no faith?
41. And they feared greatly, and said one to another, Who is this? For the wind and the sea are obedient to him.

(Mark)

Chapter 5

Of the possessed, the bloody woman, and Jairus' little daughter.

1. And they came beyond the sea, into the coasts of the Gadarenes.
2. And when he was come out of the ship, there ran upon him And straightway there came out of the grave a man possessed with an unclean spirit, 3. Who had his dwelling in the tombs. And no man could bind him, neither with chains.
4. For he had often been bound with fetters and chains, and had broken off the chains, and broken in pieces the fetters; and no man was able to tame him.
5. And he was always day and night in the mountains and in the tombs, crying out and striking himself with stones.
6. And when he saw JEsus afar off, he ran and fell down before him, and cried with a loud voice, saying:

7. What have I to do with thee, O JEsu, thou Son of GOD, the Most High? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not!

8. And he said unto him, Depart, thou unclean spirit, from man.

9. And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered and said, Legion is my name: for ours is much.

10. And he besought him greatly that he would not drive them out of the same region.

11. And there was there by the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.

12. And the devils all besought him, saying: Let us go into the swine!

13. And immediately Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine; and the flock rushed with a tempest into the sea, (but their number was about two thousand,) and were drowned in the sea.

14. And the swineherds fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what was done.

15. And they came to JEsu, and saw him that was possessed with devils sitting, clothed, and in his right mind; and they were afraid.

16. And they that had seen it told them what had befallen him that was possessed with the devil, and of the swine.

17. And they began and besought him to depart out of their coasts.

18. And when he was come into the ship, he that was possessed with the devil besought him to be with him.

19. But JEsus would not suffer him, but said unto him, Go into thine house, and unto thine own, and tell them how great good the LORD hath done thee, and hath had mercy on thee.

20. And he went and began to proclaim in the ten cities how great good JEsus had done him.

And every man marvelled.

21. And when JEsus was come over again in the ship, much people gathered unto him, and were by the sea.

22. And, behold, there came one of the rulers of the synagogue, named Jairus. And when he saw him, he fell down at his feet.

23. And besought him greatly, saying, My daughter is in her last days: come, lay thine hand upon her, that she may be healed, and live.

24. And he went with him. And there followed him much people, and they pressed him.

25. And there was a woman which had had the issue of blood twelve years.

26. And she had suffered many things of many physicians, and had consumed all her goods: and she was not helped, but rather was made worse.

27. When she heard of JEsu, she came up behind the people, and touched his garment.

28. For she said, If I but touch his garment, I shall be healed.

29. And straightway the fountain of her blood dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of her plague.

30. And JEsus immediately perceived in himself the power that went out of him, and turned to the people, and said, Who hath touched my garments?

31. And the disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, saying, Who touched me?

32. And he looked round about for her that had done this thing.

33. And the woman was afraid, and trembled (for she knew what was done to her), and came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34. And he said unto her, My daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole. Go in peace, and be well from thy plague.

35. While he was still talking, some of the servants of the head of the school came and said: Your daughter has died, why do you continue to trouble the master?

36. And Jesus soon heard the words which were spoken, and said unto the ruler of the synagogue, Fear not: only believe.

37. And left none to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38. And he came into the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and saw the tumult; and they that were there greatly weeping and wailing

39. And he went in, and said unto them: Why do ye gambol and weep? The child is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

40. And he drove them all out, and took with him the father of the child, and the mother, and they that were with him, and went in, where the child lay.

41. And he took the child by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha, kumi; that is interpreted, Maid, I say unto thee, arise.

42. And straightway the damsel arose, and walked: and she was twelve years old. And they were exceedingly amazed.

43. And he forbade them sternly, that no man should know it, and said that they should feed her.

(Mark)

Chapter 6

Christ's scorn, sending of the apostles, John's beheading, miraculous feeding and help.

1. And he departed thence, and went into his own country: and his disciples followed him.

2. And when the sabbath was come, he began to teach in their synagogue: and many that heard it marvelled at his doctrine, and said: Whence cometh this? and: What wisdom is this that is given unto him, and such works as are done by his hands?

3. Is he not the carpenter, the son of mamma, and the brother of James, and Joses, and Judas, and Simon? Are not his sisters also all here with us? And they were offended at him.

4. And Jesus said unto them: A prophet is not counted less than in his own country, and at home with his own.

5. And he could not do a single deed there; without a little infirmity he laid his hands on them, and healed them.

6. And he marvelled at their unbelief. And he went about into the spots in the circle, and taught.

7. And he called the twelve, and began to send them two by two, and gave them power over the unclean spirits.

8. And commanded them that they should carry nothing with them by the way, save only a staff, and no bag, and no bread, and no money in their girdles,

9. But were shod, and that they put not on two coats.

10. And he said unto them: Wherever ye enter into an house, there abide within, until ye depart thence.

11. And they that receive you not, nor hear you, come out from thence, and shake off the dust of your feet for a testimony against them. I say unto you: Verily Sodom and Gomorrah shall be more tolerable in the day of judgment than that city.

12. And they went out preaching that men should repent.

13. And cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and made them whole.

14. And it came to pass before Herod the king, (for his name was now known,) that he said, John the Baptist is risen from the dead; therefore doth he these things.

15. And some said: He is Elijah: but some said, He is a prophet, or one of the prophets.

16. And when Herod heard it, he said, It is John whom I have beheaded; he is risen from the dead.

17. And Herod sent and took John, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: for he had delivered her.

18. And John said unto Herod: It is not right for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19. And Herodias pursued after him, and would have killed him, but could not.

20. And Herod feared John; for he knew that he was a devout and holy man; and kept him, and obeyed him in many things, and heard him gladly.

21. And it came to pass on a convenient day, that Herod gave a supper in his yearly feast unto the rulers and captains and chief men of Galilee.

22. And the daughter of Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat at meat. Then said the king unto the damsel, Ask of me what thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23. And he sware unto her an oath: What thou shalt ask of me, I will give thee, even unto the half of my kingdom.

24. And she went out, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? She said: The head of John the Baptist.

25. And she went in quickly with haste unto the king, and besought, saying: I will that thou give me now immediately upon a dish the head of John the Baptist.

26. The king was grieved; but for the oath's sake, and for the sake of them that sat at the table, he would not suffer them to do a wrong.

27. And straightway the king sent the executioner, and commanded his head to be brought. And he went and beheaded him in the prison.

28. And he bare his head upon a dish, and gave it unto the maid, and the maid gave it unto her mother.

29. And when his disciples heard it, they came and took up his body, and laid it in a sepulchre.

30. And the apostles came together unto JEsu, and told him all these things, and what they had done and taught.

31. And he said unto them: Let us go particularly into a wilderness, and rest a little. For there were many of them that went from time to time, and had not time enough to eat.

32. And he went in a ship unto a wilderness in particular.

33. And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran there together on foot out of all the cities, and preceded them, and came unto him.

34. And JEsus went out, and saw the great multitude; and he was grieved of them, because they were as sheep having no shepherd: and he began a long sermon.

35. And when the day was almost expired, his disciples came unto him, saying: It is desolate here, and the day is now gone.

36. Send them away from thee, that they may go into the villages and villages round about, and buy themselves bread: for they have not food.

37. But JEsus answered and said unto them: Pray ye them to eat. And they said unto him, Shall we then go and buy bread worth two hundred pennies, and give them to eat?

38. And he said unto them: How many loaves have ye? Go and see. And when they had found out, they said: Five and two fish.

39. And he commanded them that they should all lie down by tables full upon the green grass.

40. And they sat down by strata, an hundred and an hundred, fifty and fifty.

41. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks, and brake the loaves, and gave them to the disciples to set before them; and the two fishes he divided among them all.

42. And they did all eat, and were filled.

43. And they took up the fragments, twelve baskets full, and of the fishes.

44. And they that did eat were five thousand men.

45. And straightway he drove his disciples to enter into the ship, and to go before him to Bethsaida, until he should send the people away.

46. And when he had put them away, he went up into a mountain to pray.

47. And at even the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone upon the land.

48. And he saw that they were troubled in rowing, because the wind was against them. And about the fourth watch of the night he came unto them, and walked upon the sea.

49. And he would pass over before them. And when they saw him walking on the sea, they thought it was a ghost, and cried out.

50. For they all saw him, and were afraid. But straightway he spake unto them, and said unto them, Be of good cheer; it is I, fear not.

51. And he stood by them in the ship, and the wind ceased. And they were astonished, and wondered exceedingly.

52. For they had no understanding of the loaves, and their hearts were hardened.

53. And when they were passed over, they came into the land of Galilee, and departed.

54. And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him.

55. And they all ran into the countries round about, and began to carry about the sick in beds, where they heard that he was.

56. And when he entered into the markets, or cities, or villages, they laid the sick in the market, and besought him that they would touch the hem of his garment only. And all who touched him were healed.

(Mark)

Chapter 7

Of the Pharisee's hypocrisy, the heathen woman's little daughter, a deaf and dumb man.

1. And there came unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes which were come from Jerusalem.
2. And when they saw some of his disciples eating bread with unclean hands, that is, with unwashen hands, they promised.
3. For the Pharisees and all the Jews eat not, but wash their hands sometimes: so they keep the statutes of the ancients.

4. And when they come from the market, they eat not, but wash themselves. And the thing is much that they have accepted to keep, to wash of drinking vessels, and pitchers, and vessels of brass, and tables.

5. Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him: Why do not thy disciples walk in the statutes of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

6. And he answered and said unto them: Well hath Isaiah prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written: This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7. But it is in vain that they minister unto me, because they teach such doctrine as is not the commandment of men.

8. Ye forsake the commandment of God, and keep the ordinances of men, to wash of pitchers and vessels of drink: and ye do much of the same.

9. And he said unto them: Well have ye kept the commandment of God, that ye may keep your statutes.

10. For Moses said, Thou shalt honour thy father and thy mother: and: He that curseth father or mother shall surely be put to death:

11. And ye teach, If a man say unto his father, or to his mother, Korban, that is, If I offer it, it is much more profitable for thee; he doeth well.

12. And henceforth ye shall not let him do anything to his father or to his mother.

13. And lift up the word of God by your statutes which ye have set up: and ye do much of the same.

14. And he called all the people unto him, and said unto them: Listen to me, all of you, and hear.

15. There is nothing beside man, if it enter into him, to make him vile: but that which proceedeth out of him, the same is it that maketh man vile.

16. If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17. And when he was come into the house from among the people, his disciples asked him this parable

18. And he said unto them, Are ye also so foolish? Do ye not yet understand that all things which are without, and which enter into a man, cannot make him mean?

19. For it entereth not into his heart, but into his belly, and goeth out by the natural process, which eateth all meat.

20. And he said, That which cometh out of a man maketh a man common.
21. For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,
22. thievery, avarice, roguishness; cunning, fornication, roguishness, blasphemy, arrogance, unreasonableness.
23. all these evil pieces go out from within and make man mean.
24. And he arose, and went from thence into the border of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would not let any man know it, and yet could not be hid.
25. For a certain woman had heard of him, whose little daughter had an unclean spirit. And she came and fell down at his feet.
26. (and she was a Greek woman of Syro-Phoenicia); and she besought him that he would cast out devils from her daughter.
27. And JESUS said unto her, Let the children first be filled. It is not good to take the children's bread, and cast it to the dogs.
28. And she answered and said unto him, Yea, Lord; but yet the little dogs eat under the table of the children's crumbs.
29. And he said unto her, For the word's sake go thy way: the devil is departed from thy daughter.
30. And she went into her house, and found the devil gone out, and her daughter lying in her bed.
31. And when he was gone out again from the borders of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, into the midst of the border of the ten cities.
32. And they brought unto him a dove that was dumb: and they besought him to lay his hand upon him.
33. And he took him specially from among the people, and put his fingers in his ears, and spit upon his tongue, and stirred it.
34. And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and said unto him, Hephatha; that is, Arise.
35. And straightway his ears were opened, and the band of his tongue was loosed, and he spake right.
36. And he forbade them, that they should tell no man. But the more he forbade, the more they spread it abroad.
37. And they marvelled exceedingly, and said: He hath made all things well: the deaf he maketh to hear, and the speechless to speak].

(Mark)

Chapter 8

Seven loaves, sign and leaven of the Pharisees, healing of the blind man, confession of Christ, Jesus suffering.

1. At that time, when there was a great multitude, and they had nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said unto them:
2. I am grieved for the people: for they have tarried with me three days, and have nothing to eat; 3. And if I sent them home uneaten, they would faint in the way. For some had come from afar.
4. His disciples answered him, Whence take we bread here in the wilderness, that we may satisfy them?
5. And he asked them: How many have ye loaves? And they said, Seven.
6. And he commanded the people to lie down on the ground. And he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples to set before them: and they set them before the people.
7. And they had a few little fishes: and he gave thanks, and commanded the same to be brought forth.
8. And they did eat, and were filled, and took up the rest of the fragments, seven baskets.
9. And there were about four thousand of them that had eaten: and he sent them away].
10. And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the region of Dalmanuthah.
11. And the Pharisees came out, and began to question with him, and tempted him, and desired of him a sign from heaven.
12. And he groaned in his spirit, and said, Why seeketh this generation for signs? Verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.
13. And he left them, and entered into the ship again, and passed over.
14. And they had forgotten to take bread with them, and had no more with them in the ship but one loaf.
15. And he commanded them, saying, Watch, and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.
16. And they considered from time to time, and said one to another, This is it, that we have no bread.

17. And when JESUS heard it, he saith unto them: Why do ye trouble yourselves that ye have not bread? Do ye not yet understand, and are not yet wise? Have ye yet a stiffnecked heart within you?

18. Have ye eyes, and see not; and have ye ears, and hear not, and think not, 19. When I brake five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments did ye take up? They said: Twelve.

20. And when I had broken the seven among the four thousand, how many baskets of bread did ye take up? And they said, Seven.

21. And he said unto them: How then hear ye nothing?

22. And he came to Bethsaida. And they brought unto him a blind man, and besought him that he would touch him.

23. And he took the blind man by the hand, and brought him forth before the stain, and spit upon his eyes, and laid his hands upon him, and asked him if he saw anything.

24. And he looked up, and said: I see men walking as I see trees.

25. And afterward he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him see again: and he was restored, and saw all things clearly.

26. And he sent him home, saying, Go not into the village, neither tell any man within.

27. And Jesus went out, and his disciples into the markets of the city Caesarea Philippi. And on the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them: Who do men say that I am?

28. They answered: They say that thou art John the Baptist; some say that thou art Elijah; some say that thou art one of the prophets.

29. And he said unto them: But ye, who say ye that I am? Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Thou art Christ.

30. And he charged them that they should say nothing of him.

31. And began to teach them: The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and of the scribes, and be killed, and rise again after three days.

32. And he spake the word freely. And Peter took him, and began to resist him.

33. And he turned, and looked upon his disciples, and rebuked Peter, and said, Get thee behind me, thou Satan. For thou meanest not what is divine, but what is human.

34. And he called unto him the people with his disciples, and said unto them: If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

35. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.

36. What would it profit a man, if he should gain the whole world, and lose his soul?

37. Or what can man give that he may redeem his soul?

38. But whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

Ch. 9, v. 1: And he said unto them: Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God come with power.

(Mark)

Chapter 9

History of Christ's transfiguration and the moonstruck son. Doctrine of humility and vexation.

2. And after six days Jesus took Peter, James, and John, and led them up into a high mountain by themselves, and glorified himself before them.

3. And his garments became bright, and very white as the snow, so that no dyer on earth could make them so white.

4. And there appeared unto them Elijah with Moses, and they spake with JEsu.

5. And Peter answered and said unto JEsu, Rabbi, here is good: let us make thee three tabernacles, and Moses one, and Elias one.

6. But he knew not what he spake: for they were amazed.

7. And there came a cloud overshadowing them. And a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son; him shall ye hear.

8. And soon after they looked round about, and saw no man, save JEsu alone with them.

9. And when they were come down from the mountain, Jesus charged them that they should tell no man what they had seen, until the Son of man should rise from the dead.

10. And they kept the word, and asked one another, What is the rising from the dead?

11. And they asked him, saying, Do not the scribes say that Elias must come before them?

12. And he answered and said unto them: Elijah shall come first, and restore all things: and the Son of man shall suffer many things, and be despised, as it is written.

13. But I say unto you, That Elias is come, and they have done unto him as they would, according as it is written of him.

14. And, coming to his disciples, he saw much people about them, and scribes consulting with them.

15. And straightway, when all the people saw him, they were amazed, and ran and greeted him.

16. And he asked the scribes: What do ye inquire of them?

17. But one of the people answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, who hath a speechless spirit;

18. And when he catcheth him, he plucketh him, and foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and withereth. I spake unto thy disciples, that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19. And he answered him, and said, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? How long shall I suffer with you? Bring him hither unto me!

20. And they brought him hither unto him. And immediately when the spirit saw him, he rent him, and fell to the earth, and rolled, and foamed.

21. And he said unto his father, How long is it that this hath befallen him? And he said, From his infancy.

22. And oftentimes he hath cast him into fire and into water, to destroy him. But if thou canst, have mercy on us, and help us.

23. And JESUS said unto him, If thou couldst believe! All things are possible to him that believeth.

24. And immediately the father of the child cried with tears, saying: I believe, O Lord; help my unbelief.

25. And when JE saw that the people were running, he rebuked the unclean spirit, and said unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I command thee that thou depart from him, and go not into him henceforth.

26. And he cried out, and rent him very sore, and went out. And he was as though he were dead: and many said, He is dead.

27. And JEsus took him by the hand, and lifted him up; and he arose.

28. And when he was come home, his disciples asked him specially, Why could we not cast him out?

29. And he said, This kind cannot go out except by prayer and fasting.

30. And they departed thence, and walked through Galilee: and he would not that any man should know it.

31. And he taught his disciples, and said unto them: The Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men. And they shall kill him; and when he is slain, he shall rise again the third day.

32. But they heard not the word, and feared to ask him.

33. And he came to Capernaum. And when he was at home, he asked them: What did ye do together in the way?

34. But they held their peace: for they had dealt with one another in the way which was greatest.

35. And he sat down, and called unto the twelve, and said unto them, If any man will be first, he shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36. And he took a little child, and set him in the midst of them, and brought him near, and said unto them:

37. Whosoever shall receive one of these little children in my name receiveth me: and he that receiveth me receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38. And John answered and said unto him, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, which followed us not: and we forbade him therefore, that he should not follow us.

39. And Jesus said: Ye shall not forbid him. For there is no man that doeth a deed in my name, and may soon speak evil of me.

40. He that is not against us is for us.

41. But whosoever shall drink unto you a cup of water in my name, because ye are Christ's, verily I say unto you, it shall not be vouchsafed unto him.

42. And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe on me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were cast into the sea.

43. But if thy hand offend thee, cut it off. It is better for thee to enter into life as a cripple, than to have two hands, and go into hell, into everlasting fire,
44. For their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched.
45. If thy foot offend thee, cut it off. It is better for you to enter life lame than to have two feet and be thrown into hell, into eternal fire,
46. For their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched.
47. If thine eye offend thee, cast it from thee. It is better for thee to enter the kingdom of God with one eye, than to have two eyes and be cast into the hellish fire, 48. For their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched.
49. All things must be salted with fire, and all sacrifices must be salted with salt.
50. Salt is good: but if the salt become foolish, wherewith shall they season? Have salt with you, and be at peace one with another.

(Mark)

Chapter 10

Of divorce, little children, the rich of the world, the suffering of Christ, the ambition of the disciples and the blind Bartimaeus.

1. And he arose, and came from thence into the coasts of the land of Judaea beyond Jordan. And the people came unto him again with multitudes: and as his custom was, he taught them again and again.
2. And the Pharisees came unto him, and asked him if a man might divorce his wife; and they tempted him therewith.
3. And he answered and said, What commanded Moses?
4. And they said: Moses allowed to write a letter of divorce and to divorce.
5. And JEsus answered and said unto them: For the hardness of your hearts he hath written you such a commandment.
6. But from the beginning of the creation God created them male and female.
7. Therefore shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave unto his wife, 8. And the two shall be one flesh. So now they are not two, but one flesh.
9. What God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.
10. And again at home his disciples asked him these things.

11. And he said unto them: Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.
12. And if a woman put away her husband, and marry another, she committeth adultery.
13. And they brought little children unto him, that he might touch them. And the disciples began to touch them that bare them.
14. And when Jesus saw it, he was displeased, and said unto them: Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for such is the kingdom of God.
15. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall not enter therein.
16. And he drew near unto them, and laid his hands upon them, and blessed them.
17. And when he was gone out into the way, one ran forward, and kneeled before him, and said unto him, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?
18. But JESUS said unto him, Why callest thou me good? No one is good but the one God.
19. Thou knowest the commandments, Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill. Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness. Thou shalt not deceive anyone. Honor thy father and mother.
20. And he answered and said unto him, Master, these things have I kept from my youth.
21. And JEsus looked on him, and loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest. Go thy way, sell all that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me, and take up the cross.
22. And he was displeased at the saying, and went away sorrowful: for he had many goods.
23. And JE looked round about, and said unto his disciples, How hardly shall the rich enter into the kingdom of GOD!
24. And the disciples were astonished at his saying. But Jesus answered again, and said unto them: Dear children, how hard it is for those who put their trust in riches to enter the kingdom of God!
25. It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.

26. And they were much more astonished, saying one to another, Who then can be saved?

27. And JE looked upon them, and said, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for all things are possible with GOD.

28. Then Peter said unto him, Behold, we have left all, and followed thee.

29. Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that forsaketh house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and for the gospel's sake,

30. Who shall not receive an hundredfold now in this time houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands of persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life.

31. But many shall be last which are first, and first which are last.

32. And they were in the way, and went up to Jerusalem. And JEsus went before them: and they were amazed, and followed him, and were afraid. And JEsus took the twelve again, and told them what should befall him:

33. Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him unto the Gentiles.

34. They shall mock him, and scourge him, and spit upon him, and kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.

35. And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, came unto him, saying: Master, we desire thee to do unto us whatsoever we shall ask of thee.

36. And he said unto them: What would ye that I should do unto you?

37. And they said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and one on thy left, in thy glory.

38. And JEsus said unto them: Ye know not what ye ask. Can ye drink the cup that I drink, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

39. And they said unto him, Yea, we can. And Jesus said unto them: Ye shall drink the cup that I drink, and be baptized with baptism, as I am baptized withal;

40. But to sit on my right hand, and on my left, it is not for me to give you, but to whom it is prepared.

41. And when the ten heard it, they were displeased with James and John.

42. But JESUS called them, and said unto them: Ye know that the worldly princes rule, and the mighty among them have power.
43. But it shall not be so among you: but he that will be great among you, let him be your servant.
44. And whosoever of you will be chief, he shall be servant of all.
45. For even the Son of man came not to be served, but to serve, and to give his life for a price for many.
46. And they came to Jericho. And as he went out of Jericho, he, and his disciples, and a great multitude, there sat a blind man, Bartimaeus the son of Timaeus, by the way begging.
47. And when he heard that it was JESU of Nazareth, he began to cry out, saying, JESU, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.
48. And many afflicted him, that he should hold his peace. But he cried much more, Son of David, have mercy on me.
49. And JESUS stood still, and called him. And they called the blind man, and said unto him, Be of good cheer, arise. He calleth thee.
50. And he cast off his garment, and arose, and came to JESU.
51. And JESUS answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And the blind man said unto him, Rabuni, that I may see.
52. And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way: thy faith hath helped thee. And straightway he saw, and followed him in the way.

(Mark)

Chapter 11

Christ's entry, cursing of the fig tree, cleansing of the temple.

1. And when they were come nigh to Jerusalem, to Bethphage and Bethany, to the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples.
2. And said unto them: Go into the place which is before you, and straightway; when ye are come in, ye shall find a colt tied, on which no man hath ever sat. Untie it, and bring it hither.
3. And if any man shall say unto you, Why do ye this? Why do ye this? say, The LORD hath need; and he will send it quickly.
4. And they went and found the colt bound at the door, out of the way, and loosed it.
5. And some of them that stood by said unto them: What do ye to redeem the filling?
6. And they said unto them, as JESUS commanded them: and they suffered it to be done.

7. And they brought the stuffing unto JESu, and laid their garments thereon, and he sat upon it.

8. And many spread their garments in the way. And some cut down branches from the trees, and scattered them in the way.

9. And they that went before, and they that followed after, cried out, saying: Hosanna! Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the LORD.

10. Blessed be the kingdom of David our father, which cometh in the name of the LORD.

Hosanna in the highest!

11. And the LORD entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple. And he looked upon all things; and in the evening he went out to Bethany with the twelve.

12. And the next day, as they departed from Bethany, he hungered.

13. And he saw a fig tree afar off, having leaves. And he went near to see if he could find anything thereon. And when he came near, he found nothing but leaves: for it was not yet time for figs to be.

14. And JESUS answered and said unto him, Now eat no fruit of thee for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15. And they came to Jerusalem. And JESus entered into the temple, and began, and cast out the sellers and buyers of the temple; and the tables of the changers, and the seats of the sellers of doves, he overthrew.

16. And would not suffer any man to carry any thing through the temple.

17. And he taught, and said unto them, Is it not written, I pray thee? My house shall be called a house of prayer unto all people? But ye have made it a den of thieves.

18. And he came before the scribes and chief priests, and they sought how they might destroy him. And they feared him: for all the people marvelled at his doctrine.

19. And in the evening he went out of the city.

20. And in the morning they passed by, and saw the fig tree withered to the root.

21. And Peter remembered it, and said unto him, Rabbi, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered.

22. And JESus answered and said unto them: Have faith in GOD!

23. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Lift up thyself, and cast thee into the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that what he saith shall be done, so shall it be done unto him.

24. Therefore I say unto you: Whatsoever ye shall ask in your prayers, believe that ye shall receive it, and it shall be done unto you.

25. And when ye stand praying, if ye have anything against any man, forgive him; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

26. But if ye forgive not, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

27. And they came again to Jerusalem. And when he was entered into the temple, the chief priests and the scribes and the elders came unto him.

28. And they said unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee authority to do them?

29. But JESUS answered and said unto them: I also will ask you one word; answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things:

30. John's baptism, was it from heaven or from men? Answer me!

31. And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we say that she was from heaven, he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

32. But if we say that it was of men, we are afraid of the people. For they all thought that John was a true prophet.

33. And they answered and said unto JESU, We know it not. And JESU answered and said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

(Mark)

Chapter 12

Of the vineyard, the interest, the resurrection, the most noble commandment, the Messiah, the scribes and the poor widow.

1. And he began to speak unto them by parables, saying, A man planted a vineyard, and put a fence round about it, and digged a winepress, and built a tower, and put it out of the vineyards, and went over the country.

2. And when the time was come, he sent a servant unto the husbandmen, to take of the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3. And they took him, and thrust him, and sent him away empty.
4. And again he sent unto them another servant, and they smote him on the head with stones, and put him to shame.
5. And once he sent another, and they slew him; and many others: some they overthrew, and some they slew.
6. And he had an only son, which was dear unto him: him also he sent unto them at the last, saying, They shall be afraid of my son.
7. But the same husbandmen said one to another, This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.
8. And they took him, and slew him, and cast him out before the vineyard.
9. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do? He will come and kill the vine-growers and give the vineyard to others.
10. Neither have ye read this scripture: The stone which the builders rejected became the corner stone;
11. This is done of the LORD, and it is marvellous in our sight?
12. And they sought how they might lay hold on him, and yet were afraid of the people: for they heard that he had spoken this parable unto them. And they left him, and went away.
13. And they sent unto him certain of the Pharisees, and of Herod's servants, to take him in words.
14. And they came and said unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and askest after no man: for thou regardest not the reputation of men, but teachest the way of God aright. Is it right to give interest to Caesar, or not? Shall we give it, or shall we not give it?
15. And he perceived their hypocrisy, and said unto them: Why tempt ye me? Bring me a penny, that I may see it.
16. And they brought him. And he said, Whose is the image and superscription? And they said unto him, The emperor's.
17. Then answered JEsus, and said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto GOD the things that are GOD's. And they were astonished.
18. Then came the Sadducees unto him, which say that there is no resurrection: and they asked him, saying:
19. Master, Moses wrote unto us: If any man's brother die, and leave a wife, and have no children, his brother shall take his brother's wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20. Now there were seven brethren. The first took a wife; he died, and left no seed.

21. And the other took them, and died, and left no seed. The third of the same kind.

22. And they took all seven, and left no seed. And at the last the woman died after them all.

23. Now in the resurrection, when they rise again, whose wife shall she be among them? For seven have they had for wives.

24. Then answered JESUS, and said unto them: Is it not so? Ye err therefore, because ye know not the scriptures, nor the power of God.

25. When they shall rise from the dead, they shall not be free, neither shall they be given liberty; but they shall be as the angels which are in heaven.

26. But of the dead, that they should rise again, have ye not read in the book of Moses by the bush, How God said unto him, saying: I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27. But God is not God of the dead, but God of the living. Therefore ye greatly err.

28. And there came unto him one of the scribes, which had heard them as they consulted one with another, and saw that he had answered them well, and asked him, Which is the chiefest commandment above all?

29. And JESUS said unto him, The chiefest commandment above all commandments is this, Hear, O Israel; the LORD our God is one God.

30. And, Thou shalt love God thy Lord with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength. This is the most noble commandment.

31. And the other is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: there is no other commandment greater than these.

32. And the scribe said unto him, Master, thou hast indeed spoken rightly: for there is one God, and there is none else beside him.

33. And to love him with all the heart, and with all the mind, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than burnt offering and sacrifice.

34. And when JE saw that he answered reasonably, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of GOD. And no one was allowed to ask him any further questions.

35. And JESUS answered and said, as he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the Son of David?

36. And he, David, saith by the Holy Ghost: The LORD hath said unto my LORD, Sit thou on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37. And David called him his lord: whence then is he his son? And much people heard him gladly.

38. And he taught them, and said unto them, Beware of the scribes, which walk in long robes, and love to be saluted in the marketplace.

39. and like to sit on top in the schools and over table in the Lord's Supper; 40. They devour widows' houses, and make long prayers: they shall receive the more damnation.

41. And JESUS sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people put money into the treasury. And many rich men put in much.

42. And there came a poor widow, and put in two mites, which make a farthing.

43. And he called his disciples unto him, and said unto them: Verily I say unto you, This poor widow hath put more into the treasury than all they that have put in.

44. For they have all put away of the rest of their substance: but this woman of her poverty hath put away all that she had, all her food.

(Mark)

Chapter 13

Of the destruction of the city of Jerusalem and the end of the world.

1. And as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples said unto him, Master, behold, what manner of stones and what building is this!

2. And Jesus answered and said unto him, Seest thou all this great building? Not one stone shall be left upon another, that shall not be broken.

3. And as he sat upon the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew in particular asked him:

4. Tell us, when shall all these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be accomplished?

5. Jesus answered them, and began to say, Take heed that no man deceive you.

6. For many shall come under my name, saying, I am Christ, and shall deceive many.

7. But when ye shall hear of wars, and of the cry of wars, fear not: for it must so come to pass.

But the end is not yet.

8. And the people shall rise against the people, and the kingdom against the kingdom. And there shall be earthquakes from time to time; and there shall be a grievous time and a terror. This is the beginning of trouble.

9. But ye, beware! For they shall deliver you up into the courts, and into the synagogues: and ye shall be beaten, and brought before princes and kings, for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10. And the gospel must first be preached among all nations.

11. When therefore they shall lead you, and deliver you up, be not anxious what ye shall speak, neither consider beforehand: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak. For it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.

12. And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the son: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and shall help to kill them.

13. And shall be hated of all men for my name's sake. But he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

14. And when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, that it shall stand when it ought not (let him that readeth hear it), then let him that is in Judea flee to the mountains;

15. And whosoever is upon the housetop, let him not go down into the house, neither let him come in to take any thing out of his house;

16. And he that is in the field, let him not turn back to take up his garments.

17. But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

18. But pray that your flight be not in the winter.

19. For in those days shall be such tribulations as never were before from the beginning of the creatures which God created, neither shall be.

20. And if the LORD had not shortened those days, no man would be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened those days.

21. If any man therefore shall say unto you in that day, Behold, here is Christ; behold, he is here; believe it not.
22. For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, working signs and wonders, to deceive even the elect, if it were possible.
23. But ye, beware! Behold, I have told you all before.
24. But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun and the moon shall lose their light.
25. And the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be moved.
26. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with power and great glory.
27. And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the end of the earth even to the end of the heavens.
28. Learn a parable of the fig tree. When its branches become sapient and produce leaves, you know that summer is near.
29. So also, when ye see these things come to pass, know that it is at the door.
30. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.
31. Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.
32. But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father only.
33. Watch ye, watch ye, and pray: for ye know not when the time is.
34. Like unto a man that went over the land, and left his house, and gave power unto his servants, every man his work, and commanded the doorkeeper to watch.
35. Watch therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, whether he cometh at even, or at midnight, or at cockcrow, or in the morning,
36. Lest he come quickly, and find you asleep.
37. But what I say unto you, that say I unto all: Watch!

(Mark)

Chapter 14

Christ's anointing, institution of the holy supper, fight in the garden, imprisonment, confession before Caiaphas, Peter's fall into sin.

1. And after two days was Easter, and the days of sweet bread. And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might take him with guile, and kill him.
2. And they said, Yea, not at the feast, lest there be a tumult among the people.
3. And when he was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper, sitting at meat, there came a woman having a jar of unadulterated and precious water of nard: and she brake the jar, and poured it upon his head.
4. And there were some that were displeased, and said: What is this filth?
5. They might have sold the water for more than three hundred pence, and have given it to the poor. And murmured over them.
6. And Jesus said, Let them alone. Why do ye trouble her? She hath done a good work for me.
7. Ye have the poor always with you; and when ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.
8. She hath done that which she was able; she hath come forward to anoint my body for my burial.
9. Verily I say unto you, That wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in all the world, the things which she hath now done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.
10. And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests to betray him.
11. And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him the money. And he sought how he might easily betray him.
12. And on the first day of sweet bread, when they offered the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare to eat the passover?
13. And he sent two of his disciples, and said unto them: Go into the city, and a man shall meet you bearing a pitcher of water; follow him.
14. And when he was come in, say unto the goodman of the house, The master saith unto thee, Where is the inn where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?
15. And he shall show you a great hall, paved and ready; there make ready for us.

16. And the disciples went out, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them, and prepared the passover.

17. And in the evening he came with the twelve.

18. And as they sat at meat, and did eat, JESUS said, Verily I say unto you, That one of you which eateth with me shall betray me.

19. And they were grieved, and said unto him one by one: Is it I? and the other: Is it I?

20. And he answered and said unto them: One of the twelve, which dippeth with me in the dish.

21. The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! It were better for that man that he had never been born.

22. And as they were eating, JESUS took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave it unto them, saying, Take, eat; this is my body.

23. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it unto them: and they drank all of them of it.

24. And he said unto them: This is my blood of the New Testament, which is shed for many.

25. Verily I say unto you, That I will not drink of the fruit of the vine until the day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26. And when they had sung the hymn, they went out unto the mount of Olives.

27. And JESUS said unto them: Ye shall all be offended in me this night. For it is written: I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28. But after I rise again, I will go before you into Galilee.

29. And Peter said unto him, Though they were all angry, yet would not I be angry.

30. And JESUS said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, This night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31. And he said still further, Yea, though I should die with thee, I would not deny thee. They all said the same thing.

32. And they came to the court which is called Gethsemane. And he saith unto his disciples, Sit ye here until I go and pray.

33. And took unto him Peter, and James, and John, and began to tremble and to shake.

34. And said unto them: My soul is troubled even unto death: stay ye here, and watch.

35. And he went down a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass,

36. And said, Abba, my Father, all things are possible unto thee; deliver me up this cup: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37. And when he was come, he found them asleep, and said unto Peter, Simon, art thou asleep?
Canst thou not watch one hour?

38. Watch and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak.

39. And he went again, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40. And he returned, and found them sleeping again: for their eyes were full of sleep, and they knew not what they answered him.

41. And he came the third time, and said unto them: Ah, will ye now sleep and rest? It is enough; the hour is come. Behold, the Son of man is delivered into the hands of sinners.

42. Arise, let us go; behold, he that betrayeth me is near!

43. And straightway, while he yet spake, came Judas, one of the twelve, and a great multitude with him, with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders.

44. And the traitor had given them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that is he; take him, and lead him surely.

45. And when he was come, he came to him straightway, and said unto him, Rabbi, Rabbi; and kissed him.

46. And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47. And one of them that stood by drew his sword, and smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48. And JEsus answered and said unto them: Ye are come out as unto a murderer with swords and with staves to take me.

49. I have been daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye have not taken hold of me: but that the scripture might be fulfilled.

50. And the disciples all forsook him, and fled.

51. And there was a young man following him, clothed in linen on the bare skin: and the young men laid hold on him.

52. And he let go the canvas, and fled from them naked.

53. And they brought JEsu unto the high priest, where all the chief priests, and the elders, and the scribes, were gathered together.

54. And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and there he sat with the servants, warming himself by the light.

55. But the chief priests and all the council sought to testify against JEsu, that they might put him to death, and found nothing.

56. Many bare false witness against him, but their testimony did not agree.

57. And some arose, and bare false witness against him, and said: 58. We have heard that he said, I will break down the temple that is made with hands, and in three days will I build another that is not made with hands.

59. But their testimony did not yet agree.

60. And the high priest stood up among them, and asked JEsu, saying, Answerest thou nothing to the things which these witness against thee?

61. And he held his peace, and answered nothing. Then the high priest asked him again, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the most blessed?

62. And JEsu said: It is I. And ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming with the clouds of heaven.

63. And the high priest rent his skirt, and said, What need we any more witnesses?

64. Ye have heard them, and what think ye? And they all condemned him, that he was guilty of death.

65. Then began some to spit upon him, and to cover his face, and to smite him with their fists, and to say unto him, Prophecy unto us. And the servants smote him in the face.

66. And Peter was in the palace, and one of the maidservants of the high priest came.

67. And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with JEsu of Nazareth.

68. But he denied it, saying: I know him not, neither know I what thou sayest. And he went out into the court: and the cock crowed.

69. And the maid saw him, and began again to say unto them that sat by: This is the one.

70. and he denied it again. And after a little while they that stood by said again unto Peter: Verily thou art one; for thou art a Galilaean, and thy language is like unto this.

71. And he began to curse himself, and to swear: I know not the man of whom ye say.

72. And the cock crowed the second time. Then Peter remembered the word which Jesus spake unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he began to weep.

(Mark)

Chapter 15

Christ's Passion before Pilate, Coronation, Crucifixion, Death and Burial

1. And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a council with the elders and scribes, and with all the council, and bound Jesus, and led him away, and delivered him to Pilate.

2. And Pilate asked him, Art thou a king of the Jews? And he answered and said unto him, Thou sayest it.

3. And the chief priests accused him severely.

4. And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? Behold, how hard they accuse thee!

5. But Jesus answered no more; so that Pilate also marvelled.

6. And he used to release unto them at the feast of the passover a prisoner, whom they desired.

7. And there was one called Barabbas, which was taken with the rebels, which had committed murder in the riot.

8. And the people went up, and besought him that he would do as he did.

9. And Pilate answered them: Will ye that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

10. For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him up out of envy.

11. But the chief priests provoked the people, that he would rather deliver Barabbas unto them.

12. And Pilate answered again, and said unto them: What will ye then that I should do to him whom ye accuse to be a king of the Jews?

13. And they cried again, Crucify him.

14. And Pilate said unto them: What evil hath he done? But they cried out much more, Crucify him.

15. But Pilate, thinking to do enough for the people, released Barabbas to them and delivered Jesus to be scourged and crucified.

16. And the soldiers brought him into the judgment house, and called the whole company together;

17. And they clothed him in purple, and wove for him a crown of thorns, and put it upon him; 18. And they began to salute him, Hail, king of the Jews.

19. And they smote him on the head with a reed, and spit upon him, and fell on their knees, and worshipped him.

20. And when they had mocked him, they stripped him of his purple, and put on him his own clothes, and led him out to crucify him.

21. And they compelled one that passed by, named Simon of Cyrene, which came from the field, (who was a father to Alexander and Rufus,) to bear him the cross.

22. And they brought him to the place called Golgotha, which is interpreted, The place of the skull.

23. And they gave him myrrh in wine to drink: and he took it not.

24. And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, and cast lots to see which should come first.

25. And it was about the third hour that they crucified him.

26. And it was written above concerning him, what they blamed him for, saying, A king of the Jews.

27. And they crucified with him two murderers, one on his right hand, and one on his left.

28. And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, He is numbered with the transgressors.

29. And they that passed by blasphemed him, and shook their heads, saying, Fie on thee, how thou breakest down the temple, and buildest it in three days.

30. Help thyself therefore, and come down from the cross.

31. And likewise the chief priests mocked him among themselves, and the scribes, saying: He hath helped others, and cannot help himself.

32. If he be Christ, and King in Israel, let him now come down from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they also that were crucified with him reviled him.

33. And after the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

34. And about the ninth hour JESUS cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama asabthani? that is interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35. And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36. And one ran, and filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon a reed, and watered it, and said, Hold, let me see if Elijah will come and take it down.

37. But JESUS cried aloud, and passed away.

38. And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

39. And the centurion that stood by, and saw him die with such a cry, said he, Verily this man was the Son of God.

40. And there were also women beholding these things afar off; among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of little James, and of Joses, and Salome, 41. Who also followed him when he was in Galilee, and ministered, and many others that went up with him to Jerusalem.

42. And in the evening, because it was the preparation day, which is the day before the sabbath, 43. Joseph of Arimathea, an honourable counsellor, who also waited for the kingdom of God, came and dared to go in to Pilate, and asked for the body of JESU.

44. And Pilate marvelled that he was already dead, and called the centurion, and asked him if he were long dead.

45. And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave Joseph the body.

46. And he bought a linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre that was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone at the door of the sepulchre.

47. But Mary Magdalene and Mary Joses watched where he was laid.

(Mark)

Chapter 16

Of Christ's resurrection and ascension.

1. And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary of James, and Salome, bought spices, that they might come and anoint him.
2. And they came unto the sepulchre on a sabbath day very early, when the sun was risen.

3. And they said one to another, Who shall roll us the stone from the door of the sepulchre?
4. And they looked there, and perceived that the stone was rolled away; for it was very great.
5. And they entered into the sepulchre, and saw a young man sitting on the right hand, clothed in a long white garment. And they were amazed.
6. And he said unto them: Be not dismayed. Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen, and is not here. Behold the place where they laid him.
7. But go and tell his disciples and Peter, that he will go before you into Galilee; and there ye shall see him, as he hath said unto you.
8. And they came out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre: for trembling and terror had come upon them. And said nothing to any man: for they were afraid.
9. And Jesus, being risen early in the morning on the first day of the sabbath, appeared the first to Mary Magdalene, from whom he had cast out seven devils.
10. And she went and told them that had been with him, which mourned and wept.
11. And they, when they heard that he was alive, and that he appeared unto her, believed them not.
12. And after that, as two of them walked, he manifested himself in another form, as they went into the field.
13. And they also went and told it unto the rest: neither believed they them.
14. Last of all, as the eleven sat at meat, he manifested himself, and rebuked their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him risen.
15. And said unto them: Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.
16. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.
17. And the signs which shall follow them that believe are these: In my name shall they cast out devils, and shall speak with new tongues,

18. They shall drive out serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them: they shall lay their hands on the sick, and they shall be better.

19. And the LORD, after he had spoken unto them, was taken up into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of GOD.

20. And they went out, and preached in every place. And the LORD wrought with them, confirming the word with signs following].

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

Gospel of Luke ^

Chapter 1

John's birth and childhood.

1. For many have refrained from speaking of the stories that have passed among us, 2. as have given us this, which have seen it themselves from the beginning, and have been ministers of the word:

3. I have also thought it good, after I have explored it all from the beginning, that I write it to you, my good Theophilus, with diligence properly,

4. that thou mayest know certain ground of doctrine. The reason for the teaching in which you are instructed.

5. In the days of Herod king of Judea there was a priest of the order of Abia, whose name was Zacharias, and his wife of the daughters of Aaron, whose name was Elizabeth.

6. And they were both pious before God, and walked blamelessly in all the commandments and statutes of the LORD.

7. And they had no child, because Elizabeth was barren: and they were both of them of a good age.

8. And it came to pass, when he was in the priest's office before God in the time of his ordinance 9. According to the custom of the priesthood, and it was upon him to burn incense, he entered into the temple of the LORD.

10. And all the multitude of the people were without, praying under the hour of incense.

11. And the angel of the LORD appeared unto him, and stood on his right hand at the altar of incense.

12. And when Zacharias saw him, he was afraid, and fear came upon him.
13. And the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, whose name thou shalt call John.
14. And thou shalt have joy and gladness, and many shall rejoice at his birth.
15. For he shall be great in the sight of the LORD. He shall not drink wine or strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost while yet in his mother's womb.
16. And he shall turn many of the children of Israel unto GOD their LORD.
17. And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elijah, to turn the hearts of the fathers unto the children, and the unbelievers unto the prudence of the righteous, to prepare a people ready unto the LORD.
18. And Zacharias said unto the angel, How shall I know this? For I am old, and my wife is aged.
19. And the angel answered and said unto him, I am Gabriel, which stand before God, and am sent to speak unto thee, to shew thee these things.
20. And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be able to speak until the day that this shall come to pass, because thou hast not believed my words, which shall be fulfilled in their time.
21. And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.
22. And when he was come out, he could not speak unto them. And they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple. And he beckoned unto them, and was silent.
23. And it came to pass, when the time of his ministry was expired, that he went home to his house.
24. And after those days Elisabeth his wife conceived, and hid herself five months, and said: 25. Thus hath the LORD done unto me in the days that he looked upon me, to take away my reproach from among men.
26. And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee, which is called Nazareth,

27. To a virgin, which was trusted unto a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David: and the name of the virgin was Ma.

28. And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, blessed art thou! The LORD is with thee, thou that givest gift among women.

29. And when she saw him, she was afraid at his speech, and thought: What greeting is this?

30. And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: thou hast found grace with God.

31. Behold, thou shalt conceive in the womb, and bear a son, and shalt call his name Jesus.

32. He shall be called great and a son of the Most High, and God the Lord will give him the throne of his father David.

33. And he shall be king over the house of Jacob for ever: and there shall be no end of his kingdom.

34. Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know of no man?

35. And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.

36. And, behold, Elizabeth thy friend is also with child with a son in her old age, and is now in the sixth moon, who is in a cry that she is barren.

37. For with God no thing is impossible.

38. And Mary said, Behold, I am the handmaid of the LORD; let it be done unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her]

39. And Mary arose in those days, and went up into the mountains in haste unto the city of Judah.

40. And came into the house of Zacharias, and greeted Elisabeth.

41. And it came to pass, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of her mother, that the child leaped in her womb. And Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Spirit

42. And cried with a loud voice, saying, Thou art blessed among women, and the fruit of thy womb is blessed.

43. And whence cometh it unto me, that the mother of my Lord cometh unto me?

44. Behold, when I heard the voice of thy salutation, the child leaped with joy in my womb.

45. And blessed art thou that hast believed. For that which is spoken unto thee of the LORD shall be accomplished.

46. And Mary said, My soul exalteth the LORD,

47. And my spirit rejoices in God my Saviour.

48. For he hath regarded the lowliness of his handmaid. Behold, from henceforth all the children's children shall call me blessed.

49. For he hath done great things for me, who is mighty, and whose name is holy.

50. And his mercy endureth for ever unto them that fear him.

51. He maketh violence with his arm, and scattereth them that are foolish in their heart.

52. He pusheth down the mighty from their seats, and lifteth up the lowly.

53. He filleth the hungry with good things, and maketh the rich empty.

54. He remembereth mercy, and helpeth up his servant Israel.

55. As he spake unto our fathers, unto Abraham, and to his seed for ever.

56. And Mary abode with her three months; after that she returned again].

57. And. Elizabeth's time came for her to give birth, and she gave birth to a son.

58. And her neighbours and her friends heard that the LORD had shewed her great mercy, and rejoiced with her.

59. And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the young child, and called his name Zacharias after his father.

60. But his mother answered and said, Not at all, but he shall be called John.

61. And they said unto her: Is there no man in thy friendship whose name is so?

62. And they beckoned unto his father, as he would have him called.

63. And he called for a little tablet, and wrote, and said, His name is John. And they were all amazed.

64. And immediately his mouth and his tongue were opened, and he spake, and praised God.

65. And there came a fear upon all the neighbours, and this story was spread abroad throughout all the mountains of Judah.

66. And all that heard it took it to heart, and said: What thinkest thou that this child shall become? For the hand of the Lord was with him.
67. And Zacharias his father was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying: 68. Blessed be the LORD God of Israel: for he hath visited and redeemed his people; 69. And hath raised up for us a horn of salvation in the house of his servant David.
70. Ancient of days hath he spoken by the mouth of his holy prophets:
71. That he might deliver us from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us, 72. And shewed mercy unto our fathers, and remembered his holy covenant.
73. And to the oath which he sware unto Abraham our father to give us, 74. That we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might serve him without fear all our days.
75. In holiness and righteousness, which is pleasing in his sight.
76. and thou, O child, shalt be called a prophet of the Most High: thou shalt go before the LORD, to prepare his way.
77. And give knowledge of salvation unto his people, which is in the remission of their sins, 78. through the tender mercy of our God, by which the rising from on high has visited us, 79. That he may appear to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, and direct our feet into the way of peace.
80. And the young child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the wilderness, until he should stand forth before the people of Israel].
(Luke)

Chapter 2

Christ's birth, circumcision and presentation, parley in the temple.

1. Now it came to pass in those days, that there went out a commandment from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be esteemed.
2. And this estimation was the first of all, and was made in the time that Cyrenius was governor in Syria.
3. And every man went to be appraised, every man to his own city.
4. Then Joseph also arose out of Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, into the land of Judah, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; because he was of the house and family of David.
5. That he might be esteemed with Mary his familiar wife, which was with child.

6. And when they were there, the time came that she should be delivered.

7. And she bare her first son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger: for they had no other room in the inn.

8. And there were shepherds in the same region in the field by the hurdles, keeping watch over their flock by night.

9. And, behold, the angel of the LORD came unto them, and the glory of the LORD shone round about them, and they were sore afraid.

10: And the angel said unto them: Fear not! Behold, I proclaim great joy to you, which shall be to all the people;

11. For unto you is born this day a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord, in the city of David.

12. And this have for a sign: You will find the child wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.

13. And straightway there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising GOD, and saying:

14. Glory to God in the highest, and peace on earth, and goodwill toward men.

15. And when the angels were departed from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us go now unto Bethlehem, and see the things which are come to pass, which the LORD hath made known unto us.

16. And they came in haste, and found both Mary and Joseph, and the young child lying in the manger.

17. And when they had seen it, they spread abroad the word which was spoken unto them of this child.

18. And all they that heard it marvelled at the words which the shepherds had spoken unto them.

19. But Mary kept all these words, and moved them in her heart.

20. And the shepherds returned again, praising and glorifying GOD for all that they had heard and seen, as it was said unto them].

21. And when eight days were expired for circumcising the child, his name was called Jesus, which was named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb].

22. And when the days of their purification came according to the law. And when the days of Moses' purification were come, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him unto the LORD.

23. For as it is written in the law of the LORD, Every male that first breaketh the mother shall be called holy unto the LORD,

24. And that they should offer the sacrifice, according as it is written in the law of the LORD, a pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

25. And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon; and the same man was devout, and feared God, and waited for the consolation of Israel; and the Holy Ghost was in him.

26. And an answer was given him of the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, because he had seen the Christ of the Lord before.

27. And came into the temple by inspiration of the Spirit. And when the parents had brought the child Jesus into the temple, to do for him according to the law, 28. And he took him upon his anne, and praised GOD, and said:

29. Now therefore, O LORD, let thy servant depart in peace, as thou hast said; 30. For mine eyes have seen thy Saviour,

31. Which thou hast prepared before all nations,

32. A light to enlighten the heathen, and for the praise of thy people Israel.

33. And his father and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34. And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this man is set for a fall and a rising of many in Israel, and for a sign which shall be contradicted.

35. And a sword shall pierce through thy soul, that the thoughts of many hearts may be made manifest.

36. And there was a prophetess, Hannah, the daughter of Phanuel, of the family of Asher, which was well bedded, and had lived seven years with her husband after her virginity.

37. And there was a widow of fourscore and four years old, which never came out of the temple, but served God with fasting and prayer day and night:

38. The same came also at that hour, and glorified the LORD, and spake of him unto all them that waited for salvation at Jerusalem.

39. And when they had finished all things according to the law of the LORD, they returned into Galilee unto their city Nazareth.

40. But the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, full of wisdom; and the grace of God was with him.

41. And his parents went every year to Jerusalem for the feast of the passover.

42. And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem according to the custom of the feast.

43. And when the days were fulfilled, and they returned home, the child JEsus abode at Jerusalem: and his parents knew it not.

44. And thinking that he was among the companions, they came a day's journey, and sought him among their friends and acquaintances.

45. And when they found him not, they went again to Jerusalem, seeking him.

46. And it came to pass, that, after three days, they found him sitting in the temple in the midst of the teachers, listening unto them, and asking them.

47. And all that heard him marvelled at his understanding and his answer.

48. And when they saw him, they were amazed. And his mother said unto him: My son, why hast thou done this unto us? Behold, your father and I have sought you with pain.

49. And he said unto them: What is it that ye have sought me? Know ye not that I must be in that which is my Father's?

50. And they understood not the word which he spake unto them.

51. And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them. And his mother kept all these words in her heart.

52. And JEsus increased in wisdom, age, and grace with GOD and men].

(Luke)

Chapter 3

John's sermon on repentance and testimony of Christ. Baptism and the Liaison of the Nativity.

1. In the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius the emperor, when Pontius Pilate was governor of Judea, and Herod tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother tetrarch of Ituraea, and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilene,

2. When Annas and Caiaphas were high priests, the commandment of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.
3. And he came into all the region round about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.
4. As it is written in the book of the sayings of Isaiah the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, and make his paths straight.
5. Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be humbled; and that which is crooked shall be made right, and that which is rough shall be made crooked.
6. And all flesh shall see the Saviour of God.
7. And he said unto the people that went out to be baptized of him, Ye sons of vipers, who hath shewed you that ye shall escape the wrath to come?
8. Take heed, do righteous fruits of repentance, and presume not to say, We have Abraham for a father. For I say unto you, God is able to raise up children unto Abraham out of these stones.
9. The axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.
10. And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do?
11. And he answered and said unto them: He that hath two coats, let him give to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.
12. And the publicans came also to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?
13. And he said unto them: Ask no more than is set.
14. Then asked they him also the men of war, saying: What then shall we do? And he said unto them: Do neither violence nor injustice to any man, and be content with your garments.
15. And when the people were in a delusion, and all thought in their hearts of John, whether he might be Christ
16. John answered and said unto all: I baptize you with water: but there cometh after me a stronger, to whom I am not sufficient to loose the thongs of his shoes: who shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire.

17. In his hand is the shovel of the word: and he shall sweep his threshingfloor, and gather the wheat into his barn, and the chaff shall he burn with everlasting fire.
18. And much, much more did he exhort and proclaim unto the people.
19. And Herod the tetrarch, when he was punished of him because of Herodias his brother's wife, and because of all the evil that Herod had done
20. Over all this he put John captive.
21. And it came to pass, when all the people were baptized, and Jesus also was baptized, and prayed, that heaven was opened.
22. And the Holy Ghost descended upon him in the flesh as a dove: and there came a voice out of heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
23. And JESUS entered into the thirtieth year, and was accounted the son of Joseph, which was the son of Eli,
24. Which was the son of Mattath, which was the son of Levi, which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Jannah, which was the son of Joseph,
25. Which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Amos, which was the son of Nahum, which was the son of Esli, which was the son of Nange,
26. Which was the son of Maath, which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Shemei, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Judah,
27. Who was the son of Johanna, who was the son of Resiah, who was the son of Zorobabel, who was the son of Salathiel, who was the son of Neri,
28. Which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Addi, which was the son of Coma, which was the son of Elmodam, which was the son of Hers,
29. Which was the son of Joses, which was the son of Eliezer, which was the son of Jorem, which was the son of Mattah, which was the son of Levi,
30. Who was the son of Simeon, who was the son of Judah, who was the son of Joseph, who was the son of Jonam, who was the son of Eliakim,

31. Which was the son of Meleah, which was the son of Menam, which was the son of Mattathan, which was the son of Nathan, which was the son of David, 32. Who was the son of Jesse, who was the son of Obed, who was the son of Boaz, who was the son of Salmon, who was the son of Nahasson,
33. Which was the son of Amminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Judah,
34. He was the son of Jacob, he was the son of Isaac, he was the son of Abraham. The son of Abraham, the son of Tara, the son of Nahor,
35. Which was the son of Saruch, which was the son of Ragahu, which was the son of Phaleg, which was the son of Eber, which was the son of Salah,
36. (Who was a son of Cainan,) who was a son of Arphachad, who was a son of Shem, who was a son of Noah, who was a son of Lamech,
37. Which was the son of Mathushalah, which was the son of Enoch, which was the son of Jared, which was the son of Maleleel, which was the son of Cainan,
38. Who was a son of Enos, who was a son of Seth, who was a son of Adam, who was God.

(Luke)

Chapter 4

Jesus is tempted, preaches and does miracles.

1. And Jesus, full of the Holy Ghost, came again from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness.
2. And was tempted of the devil forty days. And he ate nothing in those days. And when they were ended, he hungered after them.
3. And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, speak unto the stone, that it may become bread.
4. And JEsus answered and said unto him, It is written: Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.
5. And the devil led him up into a high mountain, and shewed him all the kingdoms of the whole world in a moment.
6. And said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory thereof: for it is delivered unto me, and I will give it to whom I will.
7. If therefore thou wilt worship me, all shall be thine.

8. Jesus answered him, and said, Take thee away from me, Satan. It is written: Thou shalt worship God thy Lord, and serve him only.

9. And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him upon the pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the son of God, let thee go down from hence;

10. For it is written: He shall command his angels concerning thee, that they may keep thee.

11. And carry on thine hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12. And JEsus answered and said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt thy Lord GOD.

13. And when the devil had ended all temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14. And JEsus came again in the power of the Spirit into Galilee; and the rumor of him went out through all the surrounding places.

15. And he taught in their synagogues, and was praised of all.

16. And he came to Nazareth, being brought up, and went into the synagogue according to his custom on the sabbath day, and stood up to read.

17. And the book of Isaiah the prophet was handed unto him. And when he had turned the book about, he found the place where it was written:

18. The Spirit of the Lord is with me, because he hath anointed me, and sent me to preach the gospel to the poor, and to heal the brokenhearted, and to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, and liberty to the brokenhearted, 19. And to preach the acceptable year of the Lord.

20. And when he had made ready the book, he gave it to the servant, and sat down. And all the eyes that were in the synagogue looked upon him.

21. And he began to say unto them: Today this scripture is fulfilled in your hearing.

22. And they all bore witness of him, and marvelled at the sweet words that proceeded out of his mouth, and said: Is not this Joseph's son?

23. And he said unto them: Ye will certainly say unto me this saying, Physician, help thyself. For how great things have we heard done in Capernaum? Do likewise here in thy country.

24. And he said, Verily I say unto you, There is no prophet pleasant in his own country.

25. But in truth I say unto you, There were many widows in Israel in the days of Elijah, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when there was a great famine throughout all the land;

26. And unto none was Elijah sent, but unto Sarepta of the Sidonians only, unto a widow.

27. And there were many lepers in Israel in the days of Elisha the prophet: and none was cleansed, save Naaman only of Syria.

28. And they were filled with wrath, all they that were in the synagogue, when they heard it.

29. And they arose, and thrust him out of the city, and brought him up into a hill of the mountain whereon their city was built, to cast him down.

30. But he passed through the midst of them.

31. And came to Capernaum, the city of Galilee, and taught them the sabbaths.

32. And they marvelled at his doctrine: for his speech was mighty.

33. And there was a man in the synagogue possessed with an unclean devil. And he cried aloud

34. And said, Hold, what have we to do with thee, JESUS of Nazareth? Thou art come to destroy us. I know who thou art, even the Holy One of God.

35. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Cease, and come out of him. And the devil cast him into the midst of them, and departed from him, and did him no hurt.

36. And fear came upon them all, and they spake one to another, saying: What is this thing? He giveth power and authority unto unclean spirits, and they go forth.

37. And his cry went forth into all the villages of the country round about.

38. And he arose out of the synagogue, and came into Simon's house. And Simon's sister in law was sore sick of a fever: and they besought him for her.

39. And he came unto her, and commanded the fever, and it left her. And straightway she arose, and ministered unto them.

40. And when the sun was down, all they that were sick with divers diseases brought them unto him. And he laid his hands on every one, and healed them.

41. And the devils came out of many, crying out, and saying: Thou art the Christ, the Son of God. And he afflicted them, and suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

42. And when it was day, he went out into a desolate place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he departed not from them.

43. And he said unto them: I must preach the gospel of the kingdom of God also unto other cities: for to this end am I sent.

44. And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

(Luke)

Chapter 5

Peter's fishing, a leper and a gout-ridden man, Matthew's calling and the disciples' fasting.

1. And it came to pass, when the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, that he stood by the sea of Galilee.

2. And saw two ships standing by the sea; and the fishermen were gone out, and were washing their nets;

3. And he stood in the ship of one that was Simon's, and besought him that he would lead it a little way from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.

4. And when he had ceased speaking, he said unto Simon, Go up into the high place, and let down your nets, that ye may make a draught.

5. And Simon answered and said unto him, Master, we have wrought all night, and have caught nothing: but at thy word I will let down the net.

6. And when they had done this, they decided a great multitude of fishes; and their net brake.

7. And they beckoned unto their fellows that were in the other ship, that they should come and help them to draw. And they came, and filled both the ships, and they sank.

8. And when Simon Peter saw it, he fell on his knees unto JESUS, and said, Lord, depart from me: I am a sinful man.

9. For there was a terror come upon him, and upon all that were with him, because of this fishing which they had done together;

10. The same also James and John the sons of Zebedee, Simon's companions. And JEsus said unto Simon, Fear not: for henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11. And they led the ships to land, and left all, and followed him].

12. And it came to pass, as he was in a certain city, behold, there was a man full of leprosy. And when he saw JEsus, he fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst cleanse me.

13. And he put forth his hand, and touched him, and said: I will do it; be cleansed. And straightway the leprosy departed from him.

14. And he commanded him that he should tell no man: but go and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15. And the fame of him spread abroad, and many people came together, that they might hear, and be healed of their sicknesses by him.

16. And he departed into the wilderness, and prayed.

17. And it came to pass in one day, that he taught, and there sat the Pharisees and scribes, which were come out of all the villages of Galilee, and of Judea, and of Jerusalem. And the power of the Lord went out from him, and helped every man.

18. And, behold, certain men brought a man on a bed, sick of the palsy; and they sought how they might bring him in, and lay him before him.

19. And when they could not find a place in the sight of the people to bring him in, they went up to the roof, and let him down through the tiles with the little bed in the midst of them before JEsus.

20. And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins be forgiven thee.

21. And the scribes and Pharisees began to think, saying: Who is he that speaketh blasphemy?
Who can forgive sins but God alone?

22. And when Jesus knew their thoughts, he answered and said unto them: What think ye in your hearts?

23. Which is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee? or to say, Arise, and walk?

24. And that ye might know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, he saith unto the sick of the palsy: I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go home.

25. And straightway he arose before their eyes, and took up the little bed whereon he had lain, and went home praising God.
26. And they were all amazed, and glorified God, and were filled with fear, and said: We have seen strange things this day.
27. And afterward he went out, and saw a publican named Levi sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me.
28. And he left all, and arose, and followed him.
29. And Levi made him a great supper in his house: and many publicans and others sat at meat with him.
30. And the scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying: Why eat ye and drink ye with publicans and sinners?
31. And JEsus answered and said unto them: The healthy have no need of a physician, but the sick.
32. I am come to call sinners to repentance, and not the righteous.
33. And they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John fast so often, and pray so much, as the disciples of the Pharisees, but thy disciples eat and drink?
34. And he said unto them: Ye shall not make the wedding people fast, while the bridegroom is with them.
35. But the time will come when the bridegroom will be taken from them; then they will fast.
36. And he spake unto them a parable: No man putteth a rag of a new garment upon an old garment; but if any other, the new is rent, and the rag of the new is not rhymed with the old.
37. And no man putteth must into old wineskins: otherwise the must breaketh the wineskins, and is spilled, and the wineskins perish.
38. But the must shall be put into new bottles, and they shall keep them both.
39. And there is none that drinketh of the old, and desireth soon of the new: for he saith, The old is meeker.

(Luke)

Chapter 6

Of ears of corn plucked up, withered hand, the apostle calling and Christ's Field Sermon.

1. And it came to pass on a sabbath day, that he went through the corn; and his disciples plucked up ears of corn, and did eat, and rubbed them with their hands.

2. And some of the Pharisees said unto them: Why do ye that which ought not to be done on the sabbaths?

3. And JESus answered and said unto them: Have ye not read the things which David did, when he hungered, and they that were with him?

4. How he entered into the house of God, and took the shewbread, and did eat, and gave also to them that were with him, whom none might eat save the priests only?

5. And said unto them: The Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

6. And it came to pass on another sabbath, that he went into the synagogue, and taught. And there was a man whose right hand was withered.

7. But the scribes and Pharisees kept watch against him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day, that they might find a cause against him.

8. And he perceived their thoughts, and said unto the man with the withered hand, Arise, and stand forth. And he arose, and went forth.

9. Then said JESus unto them, I ask you: What is it meet to do on the sabbaths, to do good, or to do evil, to preserve life, or to destroy it?

10. And he looked on them all round about, and said unto the man, Remove thy hand. And he did so. And his hand was restored unto him sound as the other.

11. And they became quite senseless, and reasoned with one another what they would do to him.

12. And it came to pass in those days, that he went up into a mountain to pray; and he tarried overnight in prayer unto GOD.

13. And when it was day, he called his disciples, and chose their twelve, whom also he called apostles:

14. Simon, whom he called Peter, and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,

15. Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, Simon; called Zelotes, 16. Judas the son of James, and Judas Iscariot the traitor.

17. And he went down with them, and stood in a place in the field, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of the people of all the country of Judaea, and Jerusalem, and Tyre and Sidon, which are by the sea,

18. They that came to hear him, and to be healed of their infirmities, and that were driven about with unclean spirits, were healed.

19. And all the people longed to touch him, because power was gone out of him: and he healed them all.

20. And he lifted up his eyes upon his disciples, and said, Blessed are ye poor: for the kingdom of God is yours.

21. Blessed are ye that hunger here: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep here: for ye shall laugh.

22. Blessed are ye, if men hate you, and separate you, and reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, because of the Son of man.

23. Rejoice then, and leap: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven. Likewise also did their fathers unto the prophets.

24. But woe unto you that are rich: for ye have lost your comfort.

25. Woe unto you that are full; for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh here! for ye shall weep and wail.

26. Woe unto you, if any man speak well unto you! So did their fathers to the false prophets: 27. But I say unto you that hear: Love your enemies; do good to those who hate you; 28. Bless them that curse you; pray for them that offend you.

29. And whosoever smiteth thee on one beam, offer the other also: and whosoever taketh away thy coat, refuse him not thy skirt also.

30. Whosoever shall ask of thee, give him; and whosoever shall take from thee thine own, ask it not again.

31. And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.

32. And ye that love you, what thanks have ye? For sinners also love their lovers.

33. And if ye do well to your benefactors, what thanks have ye? For sinners also do the same.

34. And if ye lend of them which ye hope to take, what thanks have ye of them? For sinners also lend to sinners, that they may receive in like manner.

35. But love your enemies; do well, and lend, hoping for nothing in return; and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Most High. For he is kind to the ungrateful and the wicked.

36. Therefore be merciful, even as your Father is merciful.

37. Judge not, and ye shall not be judged. Condemn not, neither be ye condemned. Forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.

38. Give, and it shall be given unto you. A full measure, pressed down, shaken, and superfluous, shall be given into your bosom: for even with the measure that ye measure with shall ye be measured again.

39. And he told them a parable: May a blind man show a blind man the way? Will they not both fall into the pit?

40. The disciple is not above his master: if he be younger than his master, he is perfect.

41. And why seest thou a mote in thy brother's eye, and seest not the beam in thine own eye?

42. Or how canst thou say unto thy brother, Hold thy peace, brother? I will pull the mote out of thine eye; and thou thyself seest not the beam in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite! Pull first the beam out of thine eye, and then besiege thou to pull the mote out of thy brother's eye].

43. For there is no good tree that bringeth forth corrupt fruit, neither is there a corrupt tree that bringeth forth good fruit.

44. Every tree is known by his own fruit. For figs are not gathered from thorns, neither are grapes gathered from hedges.

45. A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth good things: and a wicked man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth evil things. For whose heart is full, his mouth overflows.

46. But why call ye me, O Lord, and do not those things which I say unto you?

47. Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my words, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like.

48. He is like a man that built a house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation upon the rock.

And when the waters came, the river ran to the house, and could not move it: for it was founded upon the rock.

49. But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that buildeth an house upon the earth without a foundation: and the river ran to it, and it fell down quickly, and the house was broken in pieces.

(Luke)

Chapter 7

Of the centurion's servant, the young man of Nain, John and his disciples, and the great sinner.

1. And after he had spoken before the people, he went to Capernaum.

2. And a centurion's servant lay sick of death, whom he held worthy.

3. And when he heard of JEsu, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.
4. And when they were come to JEsu, they besought him diligently, saying: He is worthy that thou shouldest shew it him;
5. For he loveth our people, and he hath built us a school.
6. And Jesus went with them. And when they were not far from the house, the centurion sent friends unto him, saying, Lord, trouble not thyself. I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof;
7. For this cause also have I not counted myself worthy to come unto thee: but speak a word, and my child shall be healed.
8. For I also am a man subject unto authority, and have servants of war under me; and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh: Come hither, and he shall come; and to my servant, Do this, and he shall do it.
9. And when JEsus heard it, he marvelled at him, and turned, and said unto the people that followed him: I tell you, I have not found such faith in Israel.
10. And when the messengers returned home, they found the sick servant well.
11. And it came to pass after this, that he went into a city called Nain; and his disciples went with him much, and much people.
12. And when he was come nigh unto the gate of the city, behold, a dead man was carried out, which was an only son of his mother; and she was a widow. And many people of the city went with her.
13. And when the LORD saw her, he was sorry for her, and said unto her, Weep not.
14. And he came and touched the coffin. And the bearers stood. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, arise.
15. And the dead man arose, and began to speak. And he gave him to his mother.
16. And fear came upon them all, and they praised God, and said: There is a great prophet risen up among us, and: GOD hath afflicted his people.
17. And this saying of his went out into all the land of Judah, and into all the countries round about].

18: And John's disciples told him all these things. And he called unto him of his disciples two 19. And sent them unto JEsu, saying, Art thou he that is to come, or shall we wait for another?

20. And when the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come, or shall we wait for another?

21. And in that same hour he healed many from pestilence, and from plagues, and from evil spirits, and gave sight to many that were blind.

23. And blessed is he that taketh no offense at me.

24. And when John's messengers were gone, Jesus began to say unto John's people, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? Did ye desire to see a reed moved by the wind?

25. Or what went ye out to see? Would ye see a man in soft apparel? Behold, they that live in glorious apparel and lusts are in the royal courts.

26. Or what went ye out to see? Did ye desire to see a prophet? Yea, I say unto you, he that is more than a prophet.

27. He of whom it is written, Behold, I send my angel before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28. For I say unto you, That among them which are born of women there is no greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is less in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

29. And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, and were baptized with the baptism of John.

30. But the Pharisees and scribes despised God's counsel against themselves, and would not be baptized of Him.

31. But the LORD said, To whom shall I liken the men of this generation, and to whom are they like?

32. They are like the children that sit in the market, and call one against another, and say: We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not wept.

33. For John the Baptist came, and did neither eat bread, nor drink wine; so ye say, He hath the devil.

34. The Son of man is come, eat ye, and drink ye, saying, Behold, man is a glutton, and a winebibber, a publican's and a sinner's friend.

35. And wisdom must be justified by all her children.

36. And one of the Pharisees asked him to eat with him: and he entered into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat.

37. And, behold, there was a woman in the city, a sinner. When she heard that he sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, she brought a jar of ointments.

38. And stood behind at his feet, and wept, and began to wet his feet with tears, and to wipe them with the hair of their head; and kissed his feet, and anointed them with ointments.

39. And when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, If this man were a prophet, he would know who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40. And JEsus answered and said unto him, Simon, I have a word to say unto thee. And he said, Master, tell me.

41. A certain usurer had two debtors. One owed five hundred pennies, the other fifty.

42. And when they had not money to pay, he gave it to both of them. Tell me, which of them will love him the most?

43. Simon answered and said: I respect him to whom he hath given the most. And he said unto him, Thou hast judged rightly.

44. And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I came into thine house, and thou gavest me no water for my feet: but this woman hath wetted my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hair of her head.

45. Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman, when she was come in, she ceased not from kissing my feet.

46. Thou hast not anointed my head with oil; but she hath anointed my feet with ointments.

47. Therefore I say unto thee: Her sins are forgiven much, because she loved much. But to whom little is forgiven, he loveth little.

48. And he said unto her, Thy sins be forgiven thee.

49. And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves: Who is this that forgiveth sins?

50. And he said unto the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee: go in peace:]

(Luke)

Chapter 8

Of the seed of the word of God, of the impetuosity of the sea, of the possessed, of the sick woman, and of the little daughter of Jairus.

1. And it came to pass after this, that he travelled through cities and towns, preaching and shewing the gospel of the kingdom of God; and the twelve with him, 2. And certain women which he had healed of evil spirits and diseases, even Mary Magdalene, from whom seven devils departed,

3. And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's keeper, and Susanna, and many others, which gave him of their substance.

4. And when much people were gathered together, and were hastened unto him out of the cities, he spake by a parable:

5. And there went out a sower to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and were substituted, and the fowls of the air devoured them.

6. And some fell upon the rock; and when it arose, it withered, because it had no sap.

7. And some fell among the thorns; and the thorns came up with it, and choked it.

8. And some fell upon a good land, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he had said this, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9. And his disciples asked him, saying, What is this parable?

10. And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God; but unto others in parables, that they should not see, though they see it already; neither understand, though they hear it already.

11. Now this is the parable: The seed is the word of God.

12. But they that are in the way are they which hear; afterward cometh the devil, and taketh away the word from their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13. But they that are on the rock are they: when they hear it, they receive the word with joy. And they have not root: For a time they believe, and in time of disputation they fall away.

14. And that which fell among thorns are they which hear it, and go down to the sorrows, and riches, and lusts of this life, and are choked, and bring no fruit.

15. But those that are in the good land are they which hear the word, and keep it in a fine good heart, and bring forth fruit in patience].

16. But no man kindleth a light, and covereth it with a vessel, or setteth it under a bench; but setteth it upon a candlestick, that whosoever entereth in may see the light.

17. For there is nothing hid, that shall not be revealed; neither is there anything secret, that shall not be known and come to light.

18. Take heed therefore how ye hearken. For whosoever hath, to him shall be given; but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away, even that which he thinketh he hath.

19. And his mother and his brethren went their way, and could not come unto him before the people.

20. And it was told him, saying, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21. And he answered and said unto them: My mother and my brothers are these who hear God's word and do it.

22. And it came to pass in those days, that he entered into a ship with his disciples. And he said unto them: Let us go over the lake. And they came up from the land.

23. And as they sailed, he fell asleep. And there came a whirlwind upon the sea, and the waves overtook them, and they were in great peril.

24. And they came unto him, and awoke him, and said: Master, master, we perish! And he arose, and rebuked the wind and the flood; and the wind ceased, and there was silence.

25. And he said unto them: Where is your faith? And they feared, and wondered, and said one to another, Who is this? For he believeth the wind and the water, and they obey him.

26. And they departed into the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.

27. And as he went out into the country, there met him a man of the city. And he had devils from of old, and put on no raiment, and abode in no house, but in the tombs.

28. And when he saw JEsu, he cried out, and fell down before him, and cried with a loud voice, saying, What have I to do with thee, O JEsu, thou Son of GOD most high? I pray thee, torment me not.

29. For he commanded the unclean spirit to depart from the man: for he had long afflicted him.

And he was bound with chains, and bound with fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wildernesses.

30. And JEsus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion. For many devils were entered into him.

31. And they besought him that he would not let them go down into the deep.

32. And there was there a great herd of swine feeding in the pasture of the mountain. And they besought him that he would give them leave to go into them. And he gave them permission.

33. And the devils departed out of man, and lead in swine. And the flock plunged with a tempest into the lake, and were drowned.

34. And when the shepherds saw what was done, they fled, and told it in the city and in the villages.

35. And they went out to see what was done, and came to JEsu, and found the man, from whom the devils were gone out, sitting at the feet of JEsu, clothed and in his right mind; and they were afraid.

36. And they that saw it told them, how that he that was possessed with devils was healed.

37. And all the multitude of the country round about of the Gadarenes besought him that he would depart from them. For great fear had come upon them. And he entered into the ship, and turned again.

38. But the man from whom the devils had gone out begged him to be with him. But Jesus sent him away and said:

39. Return home, and tell how great things God hath done unto thee.

And he went and preached throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done for him.

40. And it came to pass, when JEsus was come again, that the people received him: for they were all waiting for him.

41. And, behold, there came a man named Jairus, which was a ruler of the synagogue, and fell at JEsu's feet, and besought him to come into his house:

42. For he had a certain daughter about twelve years old, which was in her last days. And as he went, the people pressed upon him.

43. And a certain woman had had the issue of blood twelve years: she had turned all her food unto physicians, and could be healed of none.

44. And she came up behind him, and touched the hem of his garment; and straightway the issue of blood came upon her.

45. And Jesus said, Who touched me? And when they all denied it, Peter said, and they that were with him: Master, the people press and press thee, and thou sayest, Who touched me?

46. And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I feel that a power is gone out of me.

47. And when the woman saw that it was not hid, she came with trembling, and fell down before him, and declared before all the people for what cause she had touched him, and how she was healed straightway.

48. And he said unto her, Be of good cheer, my daughter; thy faith hath saved thee: go in peace.

49. While he yet spake, one of the servants of the ruler of the synagogue came and said unto him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the master.

50. And when Jesus heard it, he answered and said unto him, Fear not. Only believe, and she shall be healed.

51. And when he was come into the house, he suffered no man to enter in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and mother of the child.

22. And they wept all, and lamented for them. But he said, Weep not. She is not dead, but sleepeth.

53. And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.

54. And he drove them all out, and took them by the hand, and cried, saying, Child, arise.

55. And her spirit returned, and she arose straightway. And he commanded that they should feed her.

56. And their parents were astonished. And he commanded them that they should tell no man what was done.

(Luke)

Chapter 9

Of the twelve apostles, five loaves, Christ's transfiguration and passion, the disciples' ambition and zeal.

1. And he called the twelve together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and that they might heal pestilences.

2. And sent them forth to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick. The sick.

3. And he said unto them: Ye shall take nothing for your journey, neither staff, nor bag, nor bread, nor money; neither shall any man have two coats.
4. And whither ye go into one house, there abide till ye depart from thence.
5. And they that receive you not, come out of the same city, and shake off the dust of your feet for a testimony against them.
6. And they went out, and went through the markets, preaching the gospel, and healing in every place.
7. And it came to pass before Herod the tetrarch, that all things were done by him: and he was troubled, because it was said of some, John is risen from the dead; 8. And of some, Elias hath appeared; and of some, One of the old prophets is risen.
9. And Herod said, John, him have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear these things? And desired to see him.
10. And the apostles came again, and told him how great things they had done: and he took them, and departed specially into a wilderness near the city which is called Bethsaida.
11. And when the people perceived it, they followed him. And he sent for them, and told them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that needed it. But the day began to draw near.
12. And the twelve came unto him, and said unto him, Send the people away from thee, that they may go into the villages round about, and find lodging and meat: for we are here in the wilderness.
13. And he said unto them: Give ye them to eat. And they said: We have not more than five loaves and two fishes: except we go and buy meat for so great a multitude.
14. (For there were about five thousand men.) And he said unto his disciples, Let them sit down by strata, fifty by fifty.
15. And they did so, and sat down all of them.
16. And he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he gave thanks, and brake them, and gave them to the disciples to set before the people.
17. And they did eat, and were all filled: and they took up that which was left them of the fragments, twelve baskets.
18. And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, and his disciples with him, he asked them, saying, Who do men say that I am?

19. And they answered and said, They say that thou art John the Baptist; and some that thou art Elias; and some that one of the old prophets is risen.

20. And he said unto them: But who do ye say that I am? Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ of God.

21. And he afflicted them, and commanded that they should tell no man, 22. And said, For the Son of man must yet suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be put to death, and rise again the third day.

23. Then said he unto them all: If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake shall save it.

25. And what profit would a man have if he gained the whole world and lost himself or damaged himself?

26. But whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed also, when he cometh in his glory, and of his Father, and of the holy angels.

27. But verily I say unto you, That there be some of them which stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28. And it came to pass about eight days after these sayings, that he took Peter, and John, and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29. And as he prayed, the form of his countenance was changed, and his raiment became white and shining.

30. And, behold, two men talked with him, which were Moses and Elias.

31. Which appeared in plainness, and spake of the end which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32. And Peter, and they that were with him, were full of sleep. And when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men standing by him.

33. And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto JESUS, Master, here is good: let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias. And he knew not what he spake.

34. And as he spake these things, a cloud came and overshadowed them. And they were afraid, because the cloud overshadowed them.

35. and there fell a voice from the

Cloud which said, This is my beloved Son, him shall ye hear.

36. And when this voice was heard, they found Jesus alone. And they kept silence, and told no man any thing in those days which they had seen.

37. And it came to pass on the morrow, as they came down from the mountain, much people met them.

38. And, behold, a man of the people cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, possess my son: for he is mine only son.

39. Behold, the spirit taketh hold upon him, and straightway he crieth out, and teareth him, and he foameth; and with distress he departeth from him, when he hath torn him.

40. And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41. Then answered JESUS, and said, O faithless and perverse kind! How long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42. And when he was come unto him, the devil rent him, and tore him asunder. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and restored him unto his father.

43. And they were all astonished at the glory of GOD. And when they were all astonished at all that he did, he said unto his disciples:

44. Take ye in your ears these sayings. For the Son of Man must be delivered into the hands of men.

45. But they heard not the word, and it was hid from them, that they understood it not: and they feared to ask him the same word.

46. There came also a thought among them, which of them would be the greatest.

47. And when JESUS saw the thought of their heart, he took hold of a child, and set him by his side.

48. And said unto them: He that receiveth the child in my name receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. But he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49. Then John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and we rebuked him: for he followed not thee with us.

50. And JESUS said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.

51. And it came to pass, when the time was fulfilled for him to be taken away, that he turned his face to go straightway to Jerusalem.

52. And he sent messengers before him; and they went, and came into a market of the Samaritans, to give him lodging.

53. And they received him not, because he had turned his face to walk toward Jerusalem.

54. And when his disciples James and John saw it, they said: Lord, if thou wilt, let us say, Fire shall fall from heaven, and consume them, as Elias did.

55. But JESUS turned and afflicted them, and said, Know ye not of what manner of spirit ye are the children?

56. The Son of man is not come to destroy men's souls, but to preserve them.

57. And they went into another market. And it came to pass, when they were in the way, that one said unto him, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58. And JESUS said unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59. And he said unto another: Follow me. And he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60. But JESUS said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou, preach the kingdom of GOD.

61. And another said, Lord, I will come after thee: but let me first make a parting with them that are in my house.

62. And JESUS said unto him, Whosoever putteth his hand to the plough, and looketh back, is not sent into the kingdom of GOD.

(Luke)

Chapter 10

Seventy disciples. Parable of the Good Samaritan. Mary at Jesus' feet.

1. Afterward the LORD separated other seventy, and sent them two and two before him into all the cities and places where he would come.

2. And said unto them: The harvest is great, but the labourer is few: pray the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

3. Go ye your way. Behold, I send you as lambs in the midst of wolves.

4. No bag, nor pocket, nor shoes, and greet no man in the street.

5. Whithersoever ye enter into any house, speak ye first, saying, Peace be in this house.

6. And if there be a child of peace there, your peace shall be upon him: but if not, your peace shall return unto you.

7. But abide in the same house, eating and drinking what they have: for a labourer is worthy of his hire. Ye shall not go from house to house.

8. And when ye come into a city, and they receive you, then eat that which is set before you, 9. And heal the sick which are there, and say unto them: The kingdom of God has come near to you.

10. But if ye enter into any city, and they receive you not, go out into the streets thereof, and say: 11. Even the dust that clave unto us out of your city, we will smite upon you: but ye shall know that the kingdom of God is nigh unto you.

12. I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom in that day than for that city.

13. Woe to you, Chorazin! Woe unto thee, Bethsaida! For if such deeds had been done in Tyre and Sidon as have been done among you, they would have sat in sackcloth and ashes and repented in time past.

14. But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon in the judgment, than for you.

15. And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be cast down to hell.

16. He that heareth you heareth me; and he that despiseth you despiseth me: and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

17. And the seventy came again with joy, and said: Lord, even the devils are subject unto us in thy name.

18. And he said unto them: I saw Satan fall from heaven as lightning.

19. Behold, I have given you power to tread upon serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall hurt you.

20. But in this rejoice not that the spirits are subject unto you, but rejoice that your names are written in heaven.

21. At that hour rejoiced JESUS in spirit, and said: I praise thee, Father and Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: Yea, Father, it was well pleasing in thy sight.

22. All things are delivered unto me of my Father. And no one knows who the Son is but the Father, nor who the Father is but the Son, and to whom the Son will reveal it.

23. And he turned to his disciples, and said in particular, Blessed are the eyes which see those things which ye see.

24. For I say unto you, That many prophets and kings would see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25. And, behold, a certain scribe arose, and tempted him, saying, Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?

26. And he said unto him, How is it written in the law? How readest thou?

27. And he answered and said, Thou shalt love GOD thy LORD with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thyself.

28. And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: do this, and thou shalt live.

29. But he, desiring to justify himself, said unto JEsu, Who then is my neighbour?

30. Then answered JEsus, and said, There was a certain man which went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among the murderers: and they stripped him, and smote him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31. And it came to pass about this time, that a priest went down that street: and when he saw him, he passed by.

32. And likewise a Levite: when he came to the place, and saw him, he passed by.

33. And a certain Samaritan journeyed, and came thither: and when he saw him, his lamentation was upon him,

34. And went unto him, and bound up his wounds, and poured oil and wine therein, and lifted him up upon his beast, and brought him to the inn, and nursed him.

35. And the next day he journeyed, and drew out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care; and if thou shalt show any more, I will pay thee when I come again.

36. Which of these three thinkest thou to be next unto him that fell among the murderers?

37. And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said JEsus unto him, Go thy way, and do likewise].

38. And it came to pass, as they walked, he went into a market, and there was a woman named Martha, which received him into her house.

39. And she had a sister named Mary, which sat down at JEsu's feet, and heard his sayings.

40. And Martha made much effort to minister unto him. And she came near, and said, Lord, dost thou not ask that my sister should let me serve alone? Tell her, I pray thee, that she also may attack it.

41. And JEsus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou hast much care and trouble.

42. But one thing is needful: for Mary hath purchased the good part; it shall not be taken away from her.

(Luke)

Chapter 11

Formula and power of prayer, casting out of Satan, demand for signs, guest - and punitive sermon of Christ.

1. And it came to pass, that he was in a certain place praying. And when he had ceased, one of his disciples saith unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2. And he said unto them: When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven.

3. Give us our daily bread for evermore.

4. And forgive us our sins: for we also forgive all that are indebted unto us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

5. And he said unto them: What man is there among you that hath a friend, and goeth unto him at midnight, and saith unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves?

6. for it is my friend come to me from the street, and I have not what I set before him;

7. And he within would answer and say: Trouble me not: for the door is shut, and my children are with me in the chamber; I cannot rise up to give thee.

8. I say unto you, Though he rise not up, and give him, because he is his friend, yet will he rise up, and give him as much as he hath need, for the sake of his unseemly lust.

9. And I say also unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10. For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.
11. Where shall a son ask bread of his father, and he shall offer him a stone for it? and shall he ask a fish, and he shall offer him a serpent for the fish?
12. or so he asks for an egg, who offers him a scorpion for it?.
13. If ye then, being evil, are able to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall the Father which is in heaven give the Holy Ghost to them that ask him?
14. And he cast out a devil that was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, that the dumb man spake. And the people marvelled.
15. And some of them said: He casteth out devils by Beelzebub, the chief of the devils.
16. And the rest tempted him, and desired a sign of him from heaven.
17. And he heard their thoughts, and said unto them: Every kingdom, if it be divided against itself, shall be desolate; and one house shall fall upon another.
18. If Satan also be at variance with himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say, I cast out devils by Beelzebub.
19. But if I cast out devils by Beelzebub, by whom do they cast out your children? Therefore they shall be your judges.
20. But if I by the fingers of God cast out devils, the kingdom of God will ever come to you.
21. If a strong man keep his palace, his own shall be in peace.
22. And if a stronger man come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh away his armour, whereon he trusted, and divideth the spoil.
23. He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.
24. When the unclean spirit departeth from a man, it walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth it not: so saith it: I will return to my house from whence I came.
25. And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and decked with besomes.
26. Then he goeth and seeth seven spirits worse than himself, and when they are come in, they dwell there: and afterward he is worse with the same man than before.

27. And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the people lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the breasts which thou hast sucked.

28. And he said, Yea, blessed are they that hear the word of GOD, and keep it].

29. And the people pressed in. And he began to say, This is a wicked kind; it desireth a sign, and no sign is given unto it, save the sign of Jonas the prophet.

30. For as Jonah was a sign to the Ninevites, so shall the Son of man be to this generation.

31. The queen of the south shall appear before the judgment with the men of this generation, and shall condemn them: for she came from the ends of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon.

And, behold, here is more than Solomon.

32; The people of Nineveh shall appear before the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn them: for they repented after the preaching of Jonah. And, behold, here is more than Jonah.

33. No man kindleth a light, and putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but upon a candlestick, that whosoever entereth in may see the light.

34. The eye is the light of the body. If therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body is light. But if thine eye be evil, thy body also is dark.

35. Take heed therefore, lest the light in thee be darkness.

36. If therefore thy body be altogether light, that it have no part of darkness; it shall be altogether light, and shall lighten thee as the brightness of a flash.

37. And while he was speaking, one of the Pharisees besought him that he would eat the noon supper with him all. And he went in, and sat down to meat.

38. And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not washed before he did eat.

39. And the LORD said unto him, Ye Pharisees keep the vessels and the bowls clean by heart; but your inward parts are full of robbery and wickedness.

40. Ye fools, think ye that the inward parts are clean, when the outward parts are clean?

41. But give alms of that which is, behold, all is clean unto you.

42.. But woe unto you Pharisees, that ye should despise mint, and rue, and all manner of cabbage, and pass by the judgment and love of God! You should do this and not leave that.

43. Woe unto you Pharisees, because ye love to sit up in the synagogues, and to be saluted in the marketplace!

44. Woe unto you scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites, that ye are as the hidden grave-diggers, over which men walk, and know them not!

45. And one of the scribes answered and said unto him, Master, with these words thou also revileest us.

46. And he said, And woe also unto you scribes! For ye load men with burdens unbearable, and ye touch them not with a finger.

47. Woe unto you! For ye build the graves of the prophets: but your fathers slew them.

48. Ye do indeed bear witness, and give your consent of the work of your fathers: for they slew them, and ye build their graves.

49. Therefore thus saith the wisdom of God; I will send prophets and apostles unto them, and they shall kill and persecute some of them,

50. That the blood of this generation of all the prophets might be required, which is shed since the foundation of the world,

51. From the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple. Yea, I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation.

52. Woe unto you scribes! for ye have the key of knowledge. Ye shall not enter in, and ye shall hinder them that enter in.

53. And when he had said these things unto them, the scribes and Pharisees began to press hard upon him, and to stop his mouth with many questions,

54. And lay wait for him, seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might have a cause against him.

(Luke)

Chapter 12

The qualities and obstacles of faith

1. And the people ran, and gathered together many thousands, so that they stood one among another. Then began he, and said unto his disciples, First, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.

2. But there is nothing hid, that shall not be made manifest; neither is there anything secret, that shall not be known.
3. Therefore whatsoever ye shall say in darkness shall be heard in light; and whatsoever ye shall speak in the ears of the chambers shall be preached upon the housetops.
4. But I say unto you, my friends: Fear not them which kill the body, and after that can do no more.
5. But I will shew you of whom ye shall be afraid: fear him, who after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell. Yea, I say unto you, of him be ye afraid.
6. Are not five sparrows sold for two pennies? Not one of them is yet forgotten in the sight of God.
7. And the hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: for ye are better than many sparrows.
8. But I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man confess before the angels of God.
9. But whosoever shall deny me before men, the same shall be denied before the angels of GOD.
10. And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him.
11. And when they shall bring you into their synagogues, and before the authorities, and before the mighty, be not anxious how or what ye shall answer, or what ye shall say.
12. For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in that hour what ye ought to say.
13. And one of the people said unto him, Master, tell my brother that he may divide the inheritance with me.
14. And he said unto him, Man, who hath made me a judge or a hereditary judge over you?
15. And said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness. For no man liveth by having much goods.
16. And he spake a parable unto them, saying, There was a certain rich man, whose field was well borne.
17. And he thought upon himself, and said, What shall I do? I have not, as I gather my fruits.

18. And he said, This will I do; I will break down my barns, and build greater, and gather therein all that I have grown, and my goods.
19. And I will say unto my soul, Good soul, thou hast a great store for many years: now have thou rest, and drink, and be of good courage.
20. But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee; and what shall it be that thou hast prepared?
21. So it is with him that layeth up for himself treasures, and is not rich in God.
22. And he said unto his disciples: Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for your body, what ye shall do.
23. The life is more than meat, and the body than raiment.
24. Behold the ravens: they sow not, neither do they reap, neither have they a cellar or a barn: yet God feedeth them. But how much better are ye than the birds!
25. Which of you, though he be anxious, is there among you that might add to his greatness in haste?
26. If then ye be not able to do the least thing, why take ye care of the other?
27. Observe the lilies of the field, how they grow: they work not, neither do they spin. But I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not clothed as one.
28. If the grass which is in the field to day, and to morrow is cast into the oven, thus doth God clothe, how much more shall he clothe you, O ye of little faith!
29. Therefore ye also, ask not what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, and go not up. here!
30. These things the heathen of the world seek after: but your Father knoweth that ye have need of them.
31. But seek the kingdom of God, and all these things shall be added to you.
32. Fear not, little flock: for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.
33. Sell that ye have, and give alms. Make for yourselves coffers that do not grow old, a treasure that never diminishes in heaven, where no thief comes, and which moths do not devour.
34. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35. Let your loins be girded, and your lights be burning

36. And be ye like unto men that wait for their lord, when he shall depart from the marriage: that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may soon open unto him.

37. Blessed are the servants whom the LORD find watching when he comes. Verily I say unto you, He shall array himself, and shall set them at meat, and go before them, and minister unto them.

38. And if he come in the second watch, and in the third watch, and find it so, blessed are these servants.

39. But this ye ought to know: If a householder knew the hour of the thief's coming, he would keep watch and not let anyone break into his house.

40. Therefore be ye also ready. For the Son of man shall come in the hour when ye think not.

41. And Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or also unto all?

42. And the LORD said, What a great thing is a faithful and prudent steward, whom the LORD hath set over his servants, to give them their hire in due season.

43. Blessed is the servant whom his lord findeth doing so when he cometh.

44. Verily I say unto you, He shall set him over all his goods.

45. And if that servant say in his heart, My lord goeth away, and beginneth to smite the menservants and maidservants: My lord draweth nigh, and beginneth to smite the menservants and maidservants, and to eat and to drink, and to be drunken,

46. Then shall the lord of that servant come in the day that he knoweth not, and in the hour that he knoweth not, and shall destroy him, and shall give him his reward with the unbelievers.

47. But the servant that knoweth his master's will, and hath not prepared himself, neither done according to his will, shall suffer many stripes.

48. But he that knoweth not, having done that which is worthy of strokes, shall suffer few strokes. For to whom much is given, much shall be sought; and to whom much is commanded, much shall be required.

49. I am come to kindle a fire upon the earth: what would I rather, for it was already burning?

50. But I must first be baptized with a baptism: and how fearful am I until it be accomplished!
51. Think ye that I am come to bring peace on earth? I say no, but discord.
52. For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.
53. The father shall be against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the inlaw against the cord, and the cord against the inlaw.
54. And he said unto the people, When ye see a cloud rising from the west, then ye shall soon say, The rain cometh; and it shall come to pass.
55. And when ye see the south wind blowing, ye say, It shall be hot: and it is so.
56. Ye hypocrites, the form of the earth and of the heaven ye can test, but how do ye not test this time?
57. But why judge ye not yourselves what is right?
58. But if thou goest before the prince with thine adversary, be diligent in the way to be rid of him, lest he bring thee before the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the keeper of the stocks, and the keeper of the stocks cast thee into prison.
59. I tell thee, thou shalt not come out thence, till thou pay the very last shekel.

(Luke)

Chapter 13

Sermon of repentance from the fall of the Galileans. Of the fig tree, the sick woman, the kingdom of God, the narrow gate and the destruction of Jerusalem.

1. And there were some with him at that time, which told him of the Galilaeans, whose blood Pilate had with him.
2. And JESus answered and said unto them: Think ye that these Galilaeans were sinners before all the Galilaeans, who because they suffered these things?
3. I say, Nay; but if ye amend not, ye shall perish also.
4. Or think ye that the eighteen, on whom the tower of Shiloh fell, and slew them, were guilty before all the people that dwell at Jerusalem?
5. I say, Nay; but if ye amend not, ye shall all likewise perish.

6. And he told them this parable: A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came seeking fruit thereon, and found it not.

7. And he said unto the husbandman, Behold, I have now come every year for three years, and have sought fruit upon this fig tree, and find it not. Cut it down; what doth it hinder the land?

8. And he answered and said unto him, Lord, let him tarry yet this year, until I dig for him, and fertilize him,

9. Whether he will bring forth fruit, or not, cut him off afterward.

10. And he taught in a synagogue on the sabbath day.

11. And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of sickness eighteen years; and she was crooked, and could not well look up.

12. And when JEsus saw her, he called her unto him, and said unto her, Woman, be loosed from thy sickness.

13. And he laid his hands upon her; and immediately she arose, and praised GOD.

14. And the ruler of the synagogue answered and was unwilling that JEsus should heal on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which to work: in the same come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.

15. And the LORD answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, dost not every one of you unhitch his ox or his ass from the manger on the sabbath day, and lead it to water?

16. Shall this woman, who is the daughter of Abraham, be delivered from this bond, which Satan hath bound, eighteen years?

17. And when he had spoken these things, all they that had been against him were ashamed. And all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18. And he said, To whom is the kingdom of God like, and to whom shall I liken it?

19. It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and became a great tree, and the fowls of the air dwelt under the branches thereof: 20. And again he said, To whom shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21. It is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid it under three measures of flour, until it was sour.

22. And he passed through cities and towns, teaching, and took his way to Jerusalem.

23. And one said unto him, Lord, thinkest thou that few shall be saved? And he said unto them: 24. Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25. From that time, when the master of the house is risen, and hath shut the door, then shall ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us. And he shall answer and say unto you, I know not where ye are from.

26. Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk before thee, and in the streets thou hast taught us.

27. And he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are: depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

28. There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdom of God, and ye shall be cast out.

29. And there shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, to sit at meat in the kingdom of God.

30. And, behold, they are last; they shall be first; and are first, they shall be last.

31. That same day came certain of the Pharisees, and said unto him, Take thee up, and depart hence: for Herod is about to kill thee.

32. And he said unto you: Go ye, and tell the same fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and make whole to day, and to morrow, and the third day I will make an end.

33. But I must walk to day, and to morrow, and in the day following: for it is not good that a prophet should perish out of Jerusalem.

34. O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee, how oft have I desired to gather thy children together, as a hen gathereth her nest under her wings; and ye would not!

35. Behold, your house shall be left unto you desolate. For I say unto you: Ye shall not see me, till it come to pass, that ye shall say: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the LORD.

(Luke)

Chapter 14

Of the water addict, Christ's guest preaching, great supper, and his true discipleship.

1. And it came to pass, that he came into the house of one of the rulers of the Pharisees on a sabbath day to eat bread.

2. And, behold, there was a man before him, which had an addiction to water.

3. And JEsus answered and said unto the scribes and Pharisees, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?

4. But they held their peace. And he attacked him, and healed him, and let him go.

5. And he answered and said unto them: What man is there among you whose ox or ass falls into the well, and he does not immediately pull it out on the Sabbath day?

6. And they could not answer him thereon again.

7. And he spake a parable unto the guests, when he perceived how they chose to sit on high, and said unto them:

8. If thou be invited by any man to a marriage, set not thyself first, lest a more honest man than thou be invited by him,

9. And when he that hath charged thee and him shall come, say unto thee, Depart from this: and thou shalt sit down with shame.

10. But when thou art bidden, go and sit down at the bottom, that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up. Then thou shalt have honour in the sight of them that sit at meat with thee.

11. For he that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that abaseth himself shall be exalted.]

12. And he said also unto him that bade him, When thou makest a banquet, or a supper, invite not thy friends, nor thy brethren, nor thy kinsmen, nor thy neighbours that are rich; lest they invite thee again, and recompense thee.

13. But when thou makest a feast, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind, 14. and thou shalt be blessed: for they shall not repay thee: but it shall be recompensed thee in the resurrection of the righteous.

15. And when one of them which sat at meat heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that eateth bread in the kingdom of God.

16. And he said unto him, There was a man that made a great supper, and invited many to it.

17. And sent forth his servant at the hour of supper, to say unto them that were bidden: Come, for all things are ready.

18. And they began to excuse themselves one by one. The first said unto him, I have bought a field, and must go out and see it: I pray thee, excuse me.

19. And the other said: I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go now to look at them; I pray thee, excuse me.

20. And the third said: I have taken a wife, therefore I cannot come.

21. And the servant came and told his master again. And the master of the house was wroth, and said unto his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in the poor, and the crippled, and the lame, and the blind.

22. And the servant said, Lord, that which thou hast commanded is done; but there is yet room.

23. And the LORD said unto the servant, Go out into the highways, and unto the fences, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24. But I say unto you, that none of the men which are bidden shall taste of my supper].

25. And there went with him much people. And he turned and said unto them: 26. If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27. And whosoever shall not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28. And who is there of you that would build a tower, and sitteth not down first, and considereth the cost, whether he may carry it out?

29. Lest, when he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to bring it forth, all they that see it begin to mock him.

30. Saying, This man beginneth to build, and cannot bring it forth.

31. Or what king will go out to battle against another king, and not sit down first to consider whether he may meet him that cometh upon him with ten thousand and twenty thousand?

32. If not, he sends a message when it is still far away and asks for peace.

33. So also every one of you that renounces not all that he hath cannot be my disciple.

34. Salt is a good thing: but when salt is made foolish, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

35. It is not profitable for the land, nor for the dunghill, but shall be cast away. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

(Luke)

Chapter 15

Prize of divine mercy through parables.

1. And there came near unto him all publicans and sinners to hear him.

2. And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying: This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.

3. And he spake unto them this parable, saying:

4. What man is there among you that hath an hundred sheep, and if he lose one, will not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5. And when he hath found it, he layeth it upon his shoulder with joy.

6. And when he is come home, he calleth his friends and neighbours, and saith unto them: Rejoice with me: for I have found my sheep which was lost.

7. I say unto you: So also there will be joy in heaven over one sinner who repents, over ninety-nine righteous who have no need of repentance.

8. Or what woman hath ten pence, if she lose one, that lighteth not a light, and turneth the house, and searcheth diligently, until she find him?

9. And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours, and saith, Rejoice with me: for I have found my penny, which I had lost.

10. So also, I say unto you, there shall be joy in the sight of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth].

11. And he said, A man had two sons.

12. And the youngest of them said unto his father, Give me, father, that part of the goods which is mine. And he divided the goods unto them.

13. And it was not long after that the youngest son gathered all things together. And not long after, the youngest son gathered up all his goods, and went far away into the country; and there he destroyed his goods with plunder.

14. And when he had eaten up all that was his, there was a great famine throughout all that land, and he began to be in want.

15. And he went and hanged himself on a citizen of the same country, and he sent him into his field to feed the swine.

16. And he desired to fill his belly with grains, which the swine did eat: and no man gave them him.

17. And he smote himself, and said, How many hired servants hath my father, which have bread in abundance, and I perish with hunger!

18. I will arise, and go unto my father, and say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee.

19. And I am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me one of thy hired servants.

20. And he arose, and came to his father. And when he was yet afar off, his father saw him, and lamented him, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21. And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee; I am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22. But the father said unto his servants: Bring forth the best robe, and put it upon him; and put a ring of fingers upon his hand, and shoes upon his feet;

23. And bring a fatted calf, and slay it: let us eat, and be merry.

24. For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And began to be glad.

25. But the eldest son was in the field, and when he was come nigh to the house, he heard the singing and the round dance.

26. And called unto him one of the. Servants one and asked what that was.

27. And he said unto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath slain a fatted calf, that he may recover him.

28. And he was wroth, and would not go in. Then his father went out, and besought him.

29. And he answered and said unto his father, Behold, so many years have I served thee, and have never transgressed thy commandment, neither hast thou ever given me a goat, that I might rejoice with my friends.

30. But now that this thy son is come, which hath devoured his substance with harlots, thou hast slain him a fatted calf.

31. And he said unto him, My son, thou art always with me, and all that is mine is thine.

32. And thou shalt be glad and of good cheer: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found.

(Luke)

Chapter 16

Abuse of Wealth.

1. And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and he was reproached before him, as if he had destroyed his goods.

2. And he demanded of him, and said unto him:

How can I hear this from thee? Give account of thy stewardship: for thou canst not henceforth be a steward.

3. the steward spoke within himself: What shall I do? My lord taketh the office from me: I dig not, I am ashamed to beg.

4. I know well what I will do, when I am now set apart from the ministry; that they may take me into their houses.

5. And he called unto him all his lord's debtors, and said unto the first, How much owest thou my lord?

6. And he said, An hundred tons of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy letter, and sit down, and write fifty.

7. And afterward he said unto the other: But thou, how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy letter, and write eighty.

8. And the LORD praised the unjust steward, because he had done wisely. For the children of this world are wiser than the children of light in their generation.

9. And I say also unto you, Make ye friends with unrighteous Mammon, that, when ye now offer, they may receive you into the everlasting tabernacles].

10. He that is faithful in the least is faithful also in the greatest: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in the greatest.

11. If ye then be not faithful in unrighteous mammon, who will trust you in that which is true?

12. And if ye be not faithful in the stranger, who will give you that which is yours?

13. No manservant can serve two masters: either he will hate one, and love another; or else he will cleave to one, and despise another. Ye cannot serve God with mammon.

14. And the Pharisees also heard all these things; and they were covetous, and mocked him.

15. And he said unto them: Ye are they which justify yourselves before men: but God knoweth your hearts. For that which is high among men is abomination in the sight of God.

16. The law and the prophets prophesy unto John: and from that time forth the kingdom of God is preached by the gospel, and every man presseth into it by force.

17. But it is easier for heaven and earth to pass away, than for one tittle to fall from the law.

18. Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery: and whosoever shall put away his wife from her husband committeth adultery.

19. Now there was a certain rich man, which clothed himself in purple and fine linen, and lived all his days gloriously and joyfully.

20. And there was a poor man named Lazarus, which lay at his door full of sores.

21. And he desired to be satisfied with the crumbs that fell from the rich man's table. But the dogs came and licked his sores.

22. And it came to pass, that the poor man died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom. And the rich man died also, and was buried.

23. And when he was in hell and in torment, he lifted up his eyes, and saw Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom,

24. Cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the uttermost part of his finger in the water, and cool my tongue: for I suffer torment in this flame.

25. And Abraham said, Remember, son, that thou hast received thy good things in thy life, and Lazarus hath received evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26. And over all this there is a great gulf fixed between us and you: so that they which would go down from hence unto you cannot, neither can they pass over from thence unto us.

27. And he said, I pray thee, O father, that thou wouldest send him into my father's house; 28. For I have yet five brethren, that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29. And Abraham said unto him, They have Moses and the prophets: let them hear the same.

30. And he said, Nay, father Abraham; but if one of the dead would go unto them, they would repent.

31. And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they believe, if any man rise from the dead].

(Luke)

Chapter 17

Of vexation, propitiation, faith and works, ten lepers, and the future of the kingdom of God.

1. And he said unto his disciples, It is impossible that trouble should not come: but woe unto him by whom it cometh!

2. It were more profitable for him that a millstone should be hanged about his neck, and that he should be cast into the sea, than that he should offend these little ones.

3. Beware! If thy brother sin against thee, punish him; and if he amend, forgive him.

4. And if he sin against thee seven times in a day, and come again unto thee seven times in a day, and say, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5. And the apostles said unto the Lord, Strengthen us in the faith.

6. And the LORD said, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, and say unto this mulberry tree, Pluck thee up, and put thee into the sea, it will be obedient unto you.

7. What man is there of you that hath a servant to plow for him, or to feed his cattle, when he cometh home from the field, to say unto him, Go quickly, and sit down to meat?

8. Is it not so, that he saith unto him: Make ready that I may eat supper; apron thyself, and serve me, until I eat and drink: afterward shalt thou also eat and drink?

9. Doth he also thank the same servant, because he hath done that which he was commanded? I do not mean it.

10. So likewise ye, when ye have done all that is commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants; we have done that which we were bound to do.

11. And it came to pass, as he journeyed to Jerusalem, he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.

12. And when he was come into a market, there met him ten leproous men sitting afar off.

13. And they lifted up their voice, and said: JEsu, dear Master, have mercy on us!

14. And when he saw them, he said unto them: Go and show yourselves to the priests. And it came to pass, as they went, they were clean.

15. And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned again, and praised God with a loud voice.

16. And fell on his face at his feet, and gave him thanks. And this was a Samaritan.

17. And JEsus answered and said: Were not ten of them pure? But where are the nine?

18. Is there none else found that will turn again, and give glory to God, but this stranger?

19. And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way. Thy faith hath helped thee].

20. And when he was asked of the Pharisees, When cometh the kingdom of God? he answered and said unto them: The kingdom of God does not come with outward gestures.

21. They won't say: here or there it is! For behold, the kingdom of God is within you.

22. And he said unto the disciples, The time shall come, when ye shall desire to see the day of the Son of man, and shall not see it,

23. And they shall say unto you, Behold here, behold there. Go not, neither follow.

24. For as the lightning flasheth from heaven above, and shineth upon all that is under heaven; so shall the Son of man be in his day.

25. But first he must suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26. And as it was in the days of Noah, so shall it be in the days of the Son of man: 27. And they did eat, and they drank, and they let themselves go, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28. The same as it was in the days of Lot: they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they built.

And it rained on the day that Lot went out of So-dom. Fire and brimstone rained down from heaven and killed them all.

30. In like manner shall it be in that day, when the Son of man shall be revealed.

31. In the same day, he that is on the housetop, and his household goods in the house, let him not go down to fetch them. In the same day, let him who is in the field not turn back to that which is behind him.

32. Remember the wife of Lot.

33. He that seeketh to preserve his soul shall lose it; and he that shall lose it shall save it to life.

34. I say unto you: In that night two shall lie on one couch: one shall be accepted, and the other forsaken.

35. Two shall grind together: the one shall be accepted, and the other forsaken.

36. Two shall be in the field; one shall be accepted, and the other forsaken.

37. And they answered and said unto him, Lord, where then? And he said unto them: Where the carcase is, there do the eagles gather.

(Luke)

Chapter 18

Prayer and repentance, cross and suffering.

1. And he spake unto them a parable, that men ought always to pray, and not to cease, 2. And said, There was a judge in a city, which feared not God, neither was afraid of any man.

3. And there was a widow in the same city, which came unto him, saying, Deliver me from mine adversary.

4. And he would not for a long time: but afterward he thought within himself: - Whether I fear not God, neither am I afraid of any man,

5. But because this widow troubleth me so much, I will save her, lest she come at the last, and overpower me.

6. Then said the LORD, Hear ye here what the unjust judge saith.

7. But shall not God also save his elect, who cry unto him day and night, and shall have patience over them?

8. I say unto you, He shall save them in a little while. But when the Son of man shall come, thinkest thou that he also shall find faith on the earth?

9. And he spake a parable of this kind unto some that presumed themselves to be righteous, and despised others:

10. And there went up two men into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, the other a publican.

11. And the Pharisee stood and prayed with himself thus: I thank thee, O God, that I am not as other men, robbers, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. -

12. I fast twice a week, and give tithes of all that I have.

13. And the publican stood afar off, and would not lift up his eyes to heaven, but smote upon his breast, and said, God, be merciful to me a sinner.

14. I say unto you: This man went down justified into his house before him. For he that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that abaseth himself shall be exalted].

15. They also brought unto him young children, that he might touch them. And when the disciples saw it, they afflicted them.

16. But JESUS called them unto him, and said, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for such is the kingdom of GOD.

17. Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a child shall not enter therein.

18. And a certain chief asked him, saying, Good Master, what must I do to inherit eternal life?

19. And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? No one is good but the one God.

20. Thou knowest well the commandments, Thou shalt not commit adultery. Thou shalt not kill.

Thou shalt not steal. Thou shalt not bear false witness. Thou shalt honor thy father and thy mother.

21. And he said, All these things have I kept from my youth.

22. When JESUS heard it, he said unto him, Thou lackest yet one thing. Sell all that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

23. And when he heard it, he was sad: for he was very rich.

24. And when JE saw that he was grieved, he said, How hardly shall the rich enter into the kingdom of GOD! -

25. It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God.

26. Then said they that heard it. Who then can be saved?

27. And he said, What is impossible with men is possible with God.

28. Then said Peter, Behold, we have left all, and followed thee.

29. And he said unto them: Verily I say unto you, There is no man that shall leave house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake, 30. Who shall not receive again manifold in this time, and in the world to come, eternal life.

31. And he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be fulfilled.

32. For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles; and he shall be mocked, and reviled, and spit upon;

33. And they shall scourge him, and kill him. And the third day he shall rise again.

34. But they heard none of these things, and the words were hid from them, and knew not what they were spoken.

35. And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Jericho, that a blind man sat by the way side begging.

36. And when he heard the people passing through, he inquired what these things were.

37. And they told him that Jesus of Nazareth was passing by.

38. And he cried and said, JEsu, thou son of David, have mercy on me.

39. And they that went before afflicted him, that he should hold his peace. But he cried much more, Son of David, have mercy on me.

40. But JEsus stood still, and commanded him to be brought unto him. And when they were brought nigh unto him, he asked him

41. And said, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may see.

42. And JEsus said unto him, Be thou sighted. Thy faith hath helped thee.

43. And straightway he saw, and followed him, and praised GOD. And all the people that saw such things praised GOD].

(Luke)

Chapter 19

Of Zacchaeus, familiar pounds, Christ's entry into Jerusalem, sad prophecy, and earnest reformation.

1. And he went in, and passed through Jericho;
2. And, behold, there was a man called Zacchaeus, which was a ruler of publicans, and was rich.
3. And desired to see JEsus, who he was, and could not before the people: for he was small in person.
4. And he ran before, and climbed up a mulberry tree, that he might see it: for there he should pass through.
5. And when JEsus was come to the same place, he looked up, and perceived him, and said unto him, Zacchaeus, come down quickly: for I must return to thy house this day.
6. And he came down in haste, and received him with joy.
7. And when they saw it, they all murmured that he had entered into the house of a sinner.
8. And Zacchaeus stood and said unto the LORD, Behold, LORD, half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have defrauded any man, I restore fourfold.
9. And JESUS said unto him, Salvation is come unto this house this day, because he also is the son of Abraham;
10. For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost].
11. And as they were listening, he continued to speak a parable, because he was near Jerusalem, and they thought that the kingdom of God was about to be revealed, 12. And said, A nobleman went afar off into a country, to possess a kingdom, and then to return.
13. And he called for ten of his servants, and gave them ten pounds, and said unto them: Act until I come again.
14. And his citizens were hostile unto him, and sent messengers after him, saying, We would not have this man to reign over us.
15. And it came to pass, when he was come again after he had taken the kingdom, that he called for the same servants to whom he had given the money, that he might know what every man had done.
16. And the first came near, and said, Lord, thy pound hath earned ten pounds.

17. And he said unto him, O thou faithful servant! Because thou hast been faithful in the least, thou shalt have power over ten cities.

18. And the other came also, and said, Lord, thy pound hath borne five pounds.

19. To whom also he said, And thou shalt be over five cities.

20. And the third came and said, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept in the facecloth.

21. I was afraid of thee, because thou art a hard man: thou takest up that which thou hast not laid, and reapest that which thou hast not sown hard.

22. And he said unto him, Out of thy mouth do I judge thee, thou wicked man. Didst thou know that I am a hard man, taking that which I have not laid, and reaping that which I have not sown?

23. Why then didst thou not give my money into the exchange bank? and if I had come, I would have required it with usury.

24. And he said unto them that stood by: Take the pound of him, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25. And they said unto him, Lord, hath he ten pounds.

26. But I say unto you, That whosoever hath, to him shall be given: but from him that hath not, even that which he hath shall be taken away.

27. But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring them, and slay them before me.

28. And when he had said these things, he departed, and went up to Jerusalem.

29. And it came to pass, as he drew near to Bethphage and Bethany, and came to the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples.

30. And said, Go into the market which is over against thee; and when ye are come in, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon no man hath sat. Untie it, and bring it.

31. And if any man ask you why ye redeem it, say unto him, The LORD hath need of him.

32. And the messengers went and found as he had said unto them.

33. And when they had redeemed the stuffing, his lords said unto them: Why do ye redeem the stuffing?

34. And they said: The LORD needeth to be.

35. And they brought it to JEsu, and cast their garments upon the filling, and set JEsu thereon.

36. And as he went, they spread their garments in the way.
37. And as he drew nigh, and went down the mount of Olives, all the company of his disciples began to praise GOD with joy in a loud voice for all the deeds which they had seen, 38. And they said: Blessed be he that cometh, a king, in the name of the LORD! Peace in heaven, and glory in the highest!
39. And some of the Pharisees among the people said unto him, Master, punish thy disciples.
40. And he answered and said unto them: I say unto you: Where these shall hold their peace, the stones shall cry out.
41. And when he was come nigh, he looked upon the city, and wept over it.
42. And said, If thou knewest, thou wouldest consider in this thy time what is for thy peace. But now it is hid from thine eyes.
43. For the time shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall make a siege against thee, and thy children against thee, and shall besiege thee, and make thee afraid in every place.
44. And they shall drag thee, and shall not leave thee one stone upon another, because thou knewest not the time wherein thou wast afflicted.
45. And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought therein, 46. And said unto them: It is written: My house is a house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.
47. And taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests, and the scribes, and the chief of the people, sought after him, that they might destroy him,
48. and found not how to do unto him: for all the people clave unto him, and heard him].

(Luke)

Chapter 20

Christ's conversation of his person and office. Of the interest and resurrection of the dead.

1. And it came to pass one day, when he was teaching the people in the temple, and preaching the gospel, that the chief priests and scribes came unto him with the elders.
2. And they said unto him, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who gave thee authority?

3. And he answered and said unto them: I also will ask you one word; tell me: 4. the baptism of John, was it from heaven or from men?

5. And they reasoned with themselves, saying, Let us say from heaven, Why then did ye not believe him?

6. But if we say of men, all the people will stone us, because they insist that John is a prophet.

7. And they answered that they knew not whence she was.

8. And JEsus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9. And he began to tell the people this parable: A man planted a vineyard, and put it out to the husbandmen, and went over the land for a good season.

10. And in his season he sent a servant unto the husbandmen, that they might give him of the fruit of the vineyard. And the husbandmen overthrew him, and sent him away empty.

11. And over this he sent another servant: and they also overthrew him, and mocked him, and sent him away empty.

12. And upon this he sent the third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13. Then said the lord of the vineyard: What shall I do? I will send my dear Son; perhaps when they see him they will shun him.

14. And when the husbandmen saw the son, they reasoned with themselves, saying: This is the heir; come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15. And they thrust him out of the vineyard, and slew him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16. And he shall come and kill these husbandmen, and shall pluck up his vineyard. And when they heard it, they said: Be it far from me!

17. And he looked upon them, and said, What then is this that is written, The stone which the builders rejected is become the corner stone?

18. Whosoever shall fall upon this stone shall be broken: but upon whomsoever it shall fall, it shall break him in pieces.

19. And the chief priests and scribes sought to lay hands on him at that hour, and were afraid of the people: for they heard that he had spoken this parable unto them.

20. And they laid hold on him, and sent out lurkers to stand as if they were pious, that they might catch him in speech, that they might deliver him up to the authority and power of the governor.

21. And they asked him, saying: Master, we know that thou speakest sincerely, and teachest, and regardest no man's reputation, but teachest the way of God aright.

22. Is it right that we should give the Emperor our laps or not?

23. And he perceived their deceit, and said unto them: Why tempt ye me?

24. Show me the penny; whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said: The emperor's.

25. And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and unto God the things that are God's.

26. And they could not reprove his word before the people, and marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27. Then came there unto him certain of the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him

28. And they said: Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die that hath a wife, and die heirless, his brother shall take the wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29. Now there were seven brethren. The first took a wife and died heirless.

30. And the other took the woman, and died also without eyes.

31. And the third took them. Likewise all the seven, and left no children, and died.

32. Last of all, after all, the woman also died.

33. Now in the resurrection, whose wife shall she be among them? For all seven have had her to wife.

34. And JEsus answered and said unto them: The children of this world free, and let themselves be free;

35. But they that shall be worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, shall neither go free, nor be given free.

36. For they cannot die henceforth: for they are like unto the angels, and the children of God, because they are the children of the resurrection.

37. And that the dead should rise, Moses also signified at the bush, when he called the LORD

God of Abraham, and God of Isaac, and God of Jacob.

38. But God is not God of the dead, but of the living; for they all live unto him.

39. Then answered some of the scribes, and said: Master, thou hast spoken rightly.

40. And they were not to ask him any more questions.

41. And he said unto them: How say they that Christ is the Son of David?

42. And he himself, David, saith in the book of Psalms, The LORD hath said unto my LORD, Sit thou at my right hand,

43. Until I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44. David called him a lord: how then is he his son?

45. And when all the people were listening, he said to his disciples: 46. Beware of the scribes, which come in long robes, and love to be saluted in the market, and love to sit in the synagogues, and over the table.

47. They devour widows' houses, and make long prayers: they shall receive the more grievous damnation.

(Luke)

Chapter 21

Of the widows' tax, the destruction of Jerusalem and the end of the world 1. And he looked up, and behold the rich men putting their offerings into the treasury.

2. And he saw also a poor widow, which put in two mites.

3. And he said, Verily I say unto you, This poor widow hath put in more than they all.

4. For all these out of their abundance have laid up for the sacrifice of God: but she out of her poverty hath laid up all the food which she had.

5. And when some said of the temple that it was adorned with fine stones and jewels, he said: 6. The time shall come, when of all that ye see there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be broken.

7. And they asked him, saying: Master, when shall this be? and what is the sign when this shall be?

8. And he said, Take heed, be not deceived. For many shall come in my name, saying that I am he, and: The time is at hand. Follow them not.

9. But when ye shall hear of wars and uprisings, be not dismayed. For these things must first come to pass: but the end is not yet at hand.

10. Then said he unto them: One nation shall rise above another, and one kingdom above another.

11. And there shall be great earthquakes to and fro, and grievous days, and pestilences. And there shall be terrors, and great signs from heaven.

12. But before all this they shall lay hands on you, and persecute you, and shall deliver you up into their synagogues and prisons, and shall bring you before kings and princes for my name's sake.

13. And it shall come to pass unto you for a testimony.

14. Take it to heart therefore, that ye be not anxious how ye shall answer.

15. For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which shall not speak against, nor resist all your adversaries.

16. And ye shall be delivered of parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and they shall kill some of you.

17. And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.

18. And one hair of your head shall not perish.

Nineteen: Take hold of your souls with patience!

20. And when ye shall see Jerusalem besieged with an army, then know that their desolation is come.

21. Then let him that is in Judea flee to the mountains; and let him that is in the midst of them go out: and let not him that is in the country come in.

22. For these are the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23. But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days! For there shall be great distress upon the earth, and wrath upon this people.

24. And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be carried away captive among all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

25. And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars: and upon the earth men shall be afraid, and shall tremble; and the sea and the waves of waters shall roar.

26. And men shall faint for fear, and for waiting of things to come upon the earth: for the powers of heaven also shall be shaken.
27. And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.
28. But when these things begin to come to pass, look up, and lift up your heads, because your redemption draweth nigh.
29. And he spake unto them a parable: Behold the fig tree and all the trees!
30. When they now shoot forth, ye see it in them, and know that summer is now at hand.
31. Ye also, when ye see all these things, know that the kingdom of God is at hand.
32. Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all be done.
33. and earth will pass away, but my words do not pass.
34. But take heed lest your hearts be troubled with eating and drinking, and with cares of food, and that day come upon you quickly;
35. For as a snare shall it come upon all them that dwell upon the earth.
36. Be ye therefore always valiant, and pray that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man].
37. And he taught in the temple by day, and went out by night, and lodged in the mount of Olives by night.
38. And all the people rose up early to hear him in the temple.

(Luke)

Chapter 22

Judas, the traitor. Paschal Lamb and the Lord's Supper. The ambition of the disciples. Christ's suffering in the garden and before Caiaphas. Peter's fall from grace.

1. And the feast of sweet bread, which is called Easter, was at hand.
2. And the chief priests and scribes sought how to kill him, and feared the people.
3. And Satan was come into Judas, called Iscariot, which was of the number of the twelve.
4. And he went and spake unto the chief priests and unto the captains, how he would deliver him up unto them.
5. And they were glad, and vowed to give him money.

6. And he promised, and sought opportunity, that he might deliver him up without a tumult.

7. And now came the day of sweet bread, upon which the passover was to be offered.

8. And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go, prepare us the passover, that we may eat it.

9. And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10. And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, a man shall meet you, bearing a pitcher of water: follow him into the house where he entereth in, 11. And say unto the master of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the inn wherein I may eat the passover with my disciples?

12. And he shall show you a great paved hall; there prepare it.

13. And they went and found as he had said unto them, and prepared the passover.

14. And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15. And he said unto them: I was heartily desirous to eat this passover with you before I suffer.

16. For I say unto you, that I will henceforth eat no more of it until it is fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17. And he took the cup, and gave thanks, saying, Take the same, and divide it among you.

18. For I say unto you: I will not drink of the fruit of the vine until the kingdom of God comes.

19. And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave to them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.

20. And likewise the cup after supper, saying, This is the cup, the new testament in my blood, which is poured out for you.

21. But, behold, the hand of my betrayer is with me over tables!

22. And the Son of man goeth according to the decree: but woe unto that same man by whom he is betrayed!

23. And they began to ask among themselves, which of them it was that would do this thing.

24. There was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25. And he said unto them: The worldly kings reign, and the mighty are called gracious lords.

26. And ye shall not be so: but the greatest among you shall be as the youngest, and the chiefest as a servant.

27. For which is the greatest, he that sitteth at meat, or he that ministereth? Is it not so, that he that sitteth at meat? But I am among you as a servant.

28. But ye are they which have persevered with me in my temptations.

29. And I will appoint unto you the kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me, 30. That ye may eat and drink above my table in my kingdom, and sit upon seats, and judge the twelve tribes of Israel:]

31. And the LORD said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired you, that he may sift you as wheat.

32. But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not. And if thou be converted in time to come, strengthen thy brethren.

33. And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee into prison and to death.

34. And he said, Peter, I tell thee, the cock shall not crow this day, till thou hast thrice denied that thou knowest me.

35. And he said unto them, As often as I have sent you without bag, and without purse, and without shoes, have ye ever lacked? They said: Never none.

36. Then said he unto them: But now, he that hath a bag, let him take it, and of the same also the bag: but he that hath not, let him sell his garment, and buy a sword.

37. For I say unto you, That which is written of me, He is numbered with the transgressors, must yet be finished. For that which is written of me hath an end.

38. And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them: It is enough.

39. And he went out according to his custom unto the mount of Olives. And his disciples followed him into the same place.

40. And when he was come thither, he said unto them: Pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

41. And he tore himself from them at the casting of a stone, and kneeled down, praying 42. And said, Father, if thou wilt, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

43. And there appeared unto him an angel from heaven, strengthening him.

44. And it came to pass, that he wrestled with death, and prayed more earnestly. And his sweat was as drops of blood falling to the ground. came to his disciples and found them asleep with sadness.

46. And said unto them: Why sleep ye? Arise, and pray, that ye enter not into temptation.

47. And while he yet spake, behold, the multitude, and one of the twelve, called Judas, went before them, and drew nigh to JEsu to kiss him.

48. And JESUS said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49. And when they that were about him saw what was to come, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50. And one of them smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear.

51. And JEsus answered and said, Let them be made so far off. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

22. And JEsus said unto the chief priests, and to the captains of the temple, and to the elders that were come upon him: Ye went out, as unto a murderer, with swords and with staves.

53. I have been daily with you in the temple, and ye have laid no hand upon me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54. And they took him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Peter followed afar off.

55. Then they kindled a fire in the midst of the palace, and sat down together: and Peter sat down among them.

56. And when a certain maid saw him sitting by the light, she looked straight upon him, and said unto him, This man also was with him.

57. And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58. And about a little while another saw him, and said, Thou also art one. And Peter said, Man, I am not he.

59. And about an hour, another confirmed it, saying, Verily this man also was with him; for he is a Galilaean.

25. And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And straightway, while he yet spake, the cock crowed.

11. And the LORD turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, which he spake unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.
22. And Peter went out, weeping bitterly.
33. But the men that kept JEsu mocked him, and smote him,
64. And they covered him, and smote him in the face, and asked him, saying: Prophecy, who is it that smote thee?
65. And many other blasphemies said they against him.
66. And when it was day, the elders of the people, the chief priests, and the scribes, gathered themselves together, and brought him up before their council.
67. And said: Art thou Christ? Tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe; 68. But if I ask, ye answer not, yet let me not go.
69. Therefore from henceforth shall the Son of man sit at the right hand of the power of God.
70. And they all said, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them: Ye say so, for I am he.
11. And they said: What need we any further testimony? We have heard it ourselves out of his mouth.

(Luke)

Chapter 23

Christ's suffering before Pilate, his crucifixion, death, and Funeral.

1. And the whole company arose, and brought him before Pilate.
2. And began to accuse him, saying: This one we find turning away the people, and forbidding to give the bosom to Caesar, saying that he is Christ a king.
3. And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou king of the Jews? And he answered him, and said, Thou sayest it.
4. Pilate said unto the chief priests and to the people, I find no cause in this man.
5. And they stopped, and said: He hath stirred up the people by teaching to and fro throughout all the land of Judaea, beginning at Galilee even unto this place.
6. And when Pilate heard Galilee, he asked if he were of Galilee, 7. And when he knew that he was under Herod's authority, he sent him to Herod, which in those days was also at Jerusalem.

8. And when Herod saw JESum, he was very glad; for he would gladly have seen him long since: for he had heard much of him, and hoped to see a sign from him.

9. And he asked him many things; but he answered him nothing.

10. But the chief priests and scribes tarried, and accused him severely.

11. But Herod with his court despised and mocked him, and put white raiment upon him, and sent him again to Pilate.

12. And that day Pilate and Herod became friends together: for before they were enemies one to another.

13. And Pilate called together the chief priests, and the rulers, and the people.

14. And said unto them: Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that turneth away the people.

And, behold, I have questioned him before you, and find none in the man of the things whereof ye accuse him.

15. Neither did Herod: for I sent you unto him, and, behold, nothing was brought upon him worthy of death.

16. Therefore will I chasten him, and let him go.

17. For he had to release unto them one according to the custom of the feast.

18. And the whole multitude cried out, saying, Away with this man, and deliver us Barabbas.

19. Who was cast into prison for a riot that was committed in the city, and for murder.

20. And Pilate called unto them again, and would have let JESum go.

21. And they cried out, saying: Crucify, crucify him!

22. And he said unto them the third time: What evil hath this man done? I find no cause of death in him: therefore will I chasten him, and let him go.

23. And they lay before him with a great cry, demanding that he should be crucified. And the cry of them and of the chief priests increased.

24. And Pilate judged that their request was granted,

25. And let him go that was cast into prison for sedition and murder, whom they besought: but he delivered JESum to their will.

26. And as they led him away, they took hold of one, Simon of Cyrene, which came out of the field, and laid the cross upon him, that he might bear it after Jesus.

27. And there followed him a great company of people and women, mourning and weeping over him.

28. And JESUS turned unto them, and said: Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29. For, behold, the time cometh, in the which it shall be said: Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that have not borne, and the breasts that have not suckled.

30. Then shall they begin to say unto the mountains, Fall on us; and unto the hills, Cover us: Cover us!

31. For this is done in the green wood, what shall be done in the dry?

32. And there were brought also two other malefactors, that they might be put away with him.

33. And when they were come to the place which is called the place of the skull, there they crucified him, and the transgressors with him, one on the right hand, and one on the left.

34. And Jesus said, Father, forgive them: for they know not what they do. And they parted his garments, and cast lots for them.

35. And the people stood and watched. And the rulers with them mocked him, saying: He hath helped others, let him help himself: for he is a Christian, the elect of God.

36. And the soldiers also mocked him, and came to him, and brought him vinegar.

37. And they said: If thou be king of the Jews, save thyself.

38. There was also written above it the superscription in Greek and Latin and Ebrew letters: This is the king of the Jews.

39. But the malefactor of one of them that were hanged blasphemed him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself, and us.

40. And the other answered and rebuked him, and said, And thou also art not afraid of God, who art in like condemnation?

41. And we are just in this: for we receive the worth of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing unadvisedly.

42. And said unto JESU, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43. And JESUS said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44. And it was about the sixth hour. And there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour.

45. And the sun departed out of his light, and the veil of the temple was rent in twain.

46. And JEsus cried with a loud voice, saying, Father, I commend my spirit into thy hands. And when he had said this, he passed away.

47. And when the centurion saw what was done, he praised God, and said, Verily this man hath been a righteous man.

48. And all the people that were present, when they saw what was done, smote their breasts, and turned again.

49. And all his kinsmen stood afar off, and the women that followed him out of Galilee, and saw all these things.

50. And, behold, a man named Joseph, an alderman, was a good and devout man; 51. Who had not consented to their counsel and trade; who was of Arimathea, the city of the Jews, who also waited for the kingdom of God:

52. Who went to Pilate, and asked for the body of JEsu.

53. And he took him down, and wrapped him in linen, and laid him in a hewn grave, wherein no man had ever lain.

54. And it was the preparation day, and the sabbath day began.

55. And the women which came with him out of Galilee followed, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56. And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments. And for the sabbath day they kept silence according to the law.

(Luke)

Chapter 24

Christ's resurrection and ascension.

1. But on the sabbath day very early they came to the sepulchre, bearing the spices which they had prepared, and some with them.

2. And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3. And they went in, and found not the body of HErm JEsu.

4. And when they were troubled, behold, there came unto them two men clothed in shining garments.

5. And they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth. And they said unto them: Why seek ye the living among the dead?

6. He is not here: he is risen. Remember how he told you while he was still in Galilee, 7. Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinners, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8. And they remembered his words.

9. And they departed again from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10. And there was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and others with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11. And they interpreted their words as if they were fables, and believed them not.

12. And Peter arose, and ran unto the sepulchre, and stooped down, and saw the linen clothes lying by themselves, and departed; and he wondered how it was done.

13. And, behold, two of them went that same day unto a place sixty leagues from Jerusalem, whose name is Emmaus.

14. And they spake one to another of all these tales.

15. And it came to pass, as they thus spake and consulted one another, that JEsus drew nigh unto them, and walked with them.

16. But their eyes were kept from knowing him.

17. And he said unto them: What manner of words are these which ye traffick among yourselves in the way, and are grieved?

18. Then answered one named Cleophas, and said unto him, Art thou alone among the strangers that are at Jerusalem, that knowest not what is done in these days within?

19. And he said unto them: Which? And they said unto him, That of JEsu of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people; 20. As our chief priests and our rulers delivered him up to be condemned to death, and crucified.

21. And we hoped that he would redeem Israel: and this day is the third day of all this, that it is come to pass.

22. And some of our wives, which were early at the sepulchre, have frightened us, 23. Not having found his body, come and say they have seen a vision of angels, which say he liveth.

24. And some of us went unto the sepulchre, and found it so, as the women said; but they found him not.

25. And he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken!

26. Did not Christ suffer these things, and enter into his glory?

27. And began from Moses and all the prophets, and expounded unto them all the scriptures which were spoken by him.

28. And they came nigh unto the place where they went. And he stood as though he would go on.

29. And they compelled him, saying: Abide with us: for it will be evening, and the day is come.

And he went in to abide with them.

30. And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave to them.

31. And their eyes were opened, and they knew him. And he disappeared before them.

32. And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, when he spake unto us in the way, when he opened unto us the scriptures?

33. And they arose at that hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them,

34. Which said: The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared unto Simon.

35. And they told them the things that were done in the way, and how he was known of them in the day that he brake bread].

36. And as they spake of it, he himself, Jesus, stood in the midst of them, and said unto them: Peace be unto you!

37. And they were afraid, and were astonished, and thought they saw a spirit.

38. And he said unto them: Why are ye so terrified, and why do such thoughts come into your hearts?

39. Behold my hands and my feet; it is I myself: feel me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see that I have.

40. And when he had said this, he showed them his hands and feet.

41. And when they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he saith unto them: Have ye here anything to eat?

42. And they set before him a piece of broiled fish and honeycomb.

43. And he took it, and did eat before them.

44. And he said unto them: These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you: for all things must be fulfilled which are written of me in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms.

45. Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scripture.

46. And said unto them: Thus it is written, and thus Christ must suffer, and rise from the dead the third day.

47. and preach repentance and remission of sins in his name among all nations, and lift up Jerusalem].

48. But ye are witnesses of all these things.

49. And, behold, I will send upon you the promise of my Father. And ye shall dwell in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be clothed with power from on high.

50. And he led them out to Bethany, and lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51. And it came to pass, when he had blessed them, that he departed from them, and ascended into heaven.

52. And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy.

53. And were in the temple all the way, praising and glorifying God.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

Gospel of John ^

Chapter 1

Of Christ's person and office Of Andrew, Peter, Philip, and Nathanael, his disciples.

1. In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with GOD, and GOD was the Word.

2. The same was in the beginning with God.

3. All things are made by them; and without them is not any thing made that is made.

4. In him was life, and the life was the light of men.

5. And the light shineth in the darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not.

6. There was a man sent of God, whose name was John.

7. The same came for a testimony, that he might bear witness of the light, that they all might believe through him.
8. He was not the light, but that he should bear witness of the light.
9. that was the true light which enlightens all men who come into this world.
10. It was in the world, and the world was made by it, and the world knew it not.
11. He came into his own, and his own received him not.
12. But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the children of God, who believe on his name.
13. Which are born, not of the blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.
14. And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld his glory, a glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth].
15. John beareth witness of him, and crieth out, saying, This was he of whom I said, After me shall come he that was before me: for he was before me.
16. And of his fulness have we all taken grace for grace.
17. For the law was given by Moses: but grace and truth were given by Jesus Christ.
18. No one has ever seen God. The only begotten Son, who is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared it unto us.
19. And this is the testimony of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem, to ask him, Who art thou?
20. And he confessed, and denied not: and he confessed: I am not Christ.
21. And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elijah? And he said: I am not. Art thou a prophet?
And he answered, No.
22. And they said unto him, What art thou then? that we may give answer to them that sent us.
What sayest thou of thyself?
23. And he said: I am a voice of a preacher in the wilderness: Direct the way of the LORD! as the prophet Isaiah said.
24. And they that were sent were of the Pharisees.

25. And they asked him, saying unto him, Why baptizest thou then, seeing thou art not Christ, nor Elias, nor a prophet?

26. John answered them, and said: I baptize with water: but he is come into the midst of you, whom ye know not.

27. He that shall come after me, which was before me, that I am not worthy to loose his shoe laces.

28. This was done at Bethabara, on the other side Jordan, when John was baptizing].

29. And the next day John saw Jesus coming to him, and saying, Behold, this is the Lamb of God, which bare the sin of the world.

30. This is he of whom I said: After me cometh a man that was before me: for he was before me.

31. And I knew him not; but that he might be made manifest in Israel, therefore am I come to baptize with water.

32. And John bare witness, saying: I saw the Spirit descend like a dove from heaven, and remain upon him.

33. And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining upon him, the same is he that baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.

34. And I saw, and bare witness that this is the Son of God.

35. And the next day John stood again with two of his disciples.

36. And when he saw JEsu walking, he said, Behold, this is the Lamb of God!

37. And two of his disciples heard him speak, and followed JEsu?

38. And JEsus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them: What seek ye? And they said unto him, Rabbi (that is interpreted, Master), where art thou to the inn?

39. And he said unto them: Come and see. And they came and saw it, and abode with him that day. And it was about the tenth hour.

40. One of the two that heard of John, and followed JEsu, was Andrew the brother of Simon Peter.

41. And he found his brother Simon first, and said unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is interpreted, The Anointed.

42. And brought him unto JEsu. And when JEsus saw him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jonas: thou shalt be called Cephas.

43. And the next day Jesus was going again into Galilee, and finds Philip, and says unto him, Follow me.
44. And Philip was of Bethsaida, of the city of Andrew and Peter.
45. Philip finding Nathanael saith unto him, We have found him of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, JEsu the son of Joseph, of Nazareth.
46. And Nathanael said unto him, What good thing can come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.
47. Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold a righteous Israelite, in whom is no deceit.
48. Nathanael saith unto him, How knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.
49. And Nathanael answered and said unto him, Rabbi, thou art the son of God, thou art the king of Israel.
50. And JEsus answered and said unto him, Thou hast believed, because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree: thou shalt see greater things than these.
51. And saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, From henceforth ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

(John)

Chapter 2

Of the wedding at Cana and the cleansing of the temple.

)

1. And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee; and the mother of JEsu was there.
2. And JEsus and his disciples were also bidden to the marriage.
3. And when there was no wine, the mother of JEsu saith unto him, They have no wine.
4. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? My hour is not yet come.
5. His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.
6. And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the Jews' cleansing, and two or three measures went into each.

7. Jesus saith unto them: Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them to the top.
8. And he saith unto them, Pour out now, and bring it unto the master of the feast. And they brought it.
9. And when the master of the feast had tasted the wine that was water, and knew not whence it came (but the servants knew, who had drawn the water), the master of the feast called the bridegroom, saying
10. And saith unto him, Every man giveth good wine at the first, and when they are drunken, then the less: thou hast kept the good wine until now.
11. This is the first sign that JEsus did, which was in Cana of Galilee, manifesting his glory. And his disciples believed on him].
12. And afterward he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and abode not long there.
13. And the Jews' feast was at hand. And JEsus went up to Jerusalem
14. And found them sitting in the temple hawking oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers.
15. And he made a scourge of cords, and drove them all out of the temple, with the sheep and the oxen, and spilled the money of the changers, and overturned the tables.
16. And he said unto them that sold the doves, Take this hence, and make not my father's house a house of sale.
17. And his disciples remembered that it is written, Zeal for thine house hath eaten me up.
18. And the Jews answered and said unto him, What sign showest thou unto us, that thou mayest do this thing?
19. And JEsus answered and said unto them: Break down this temple, and the third day I will raise it up.
20. And the Jews said, This temple was built in forty and six years, and thou wilt build it in three days?
21. And he spake of the temple of his body.
22. And when he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had spoken these things, and believed the scripture, and the words which Jesus spake.
23. And when he was in Jerusalem at the feast of the passover, many believed on his name, because they saw the signs which he did.
24. But JEsus trusted not in them: for he knew them all.

25. And needed not that any should bear witness of man: for he knew well what was in man.

(John)

Chapter 3

Conversation of Christ with Nicodemus about the way to eternal life.

John testifies of Christ.

1. Now there was a man among the Pharisees named Nicodemus, a chief of the Jews.

2. Who came to JEsu by night, and said unto him, Master, we know that thou art a teacher come from GOD: for no man can do the signs which thou doest, except GOD be with him.

3. And JEsus answered and said unto him: Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4. Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? Can he also again go into his mother's womb, and be born?

5. Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7. Marvel not that I said unto thee: Ye must be born again.

8. The wind bloweth whithersoever it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof; but knowest not whence it cometh, nor whither it goeth. So is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9. Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10. JEsus answered and said unto him: Are you a master in Israel and don't know it?

11. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, we speak that which we know, and testify that which we have seen; and ye receive not our testimony.

12. If I tell you about earthly things, how would you believe if I told you about heavenly things?

13. And no man goeth up to heaven, but he that descended from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14. And as Moses lifted up a serpent in the wilderness, so must the Son of man be lifted up, 15. That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life].

16. God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17. For God sent not his Son into the world to judge the world, but that the world through him might be saved. He that believeth on him

18. Is not judged; but he that believeth not is already judged, because he believeth not on the name of the only begotten Son of God.

19. Now this is the judgment, that the light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light; because their works were evil.

20. He that doeth evil hateth the light, and cometh not to the light, lest his works should be punished.

21. But he that doeth the truth cometh to the light, that his works may be made manifest: for they are done in God].

22. After these things came JEsus and his disciples into the land of Judaea, and had there his being with them, baptizing.

23. And John also baptized at Enon, which is nigh unto Salim: for there was much water there.

And they came thither, and were baptized.

24. For John was not yet laid in prison.

25. Then a question arose among the disciples of John, and among the Jews, concerning the cleansing.

26. And they came to John, and said unto him, Master, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, of whom thou testifiedst, behold, he baptizeth, and every man cometh to him.

27. John answered and said, A man can take nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28. Ye yourselves are my witnesses, that I said I was not Christ, but sent before him.

29. He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the bridegroom's friend standeth and hearkeneth unto him, and rejoiceth greatly at the bridegroom's voice. My joy is now fulfilled.

30. He must grow, but I must decrease.

31. He that cometh from above is above all. He that is of the earth is of the earth, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all 32.. And he beareth witness of those things which he hath seen and heard; and his testimony receiveth no man.

33. But he that receiveth it sealeth it, that GOD is true.

34. For whomsoever God hath sent, he speaketh the word of God; for God does not give the Spirit according to measure.

35. The Father loves the Son and has given all things into his hand.

36. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: he that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him.

(John)

Chapter 4

Conversion of the Samaritan woman. Recovery of the son of the royal.

1. When therefore the LORD knew that the Pharisees were come before, how that Jesus made and baptized disciples more than John

2. (although JEsus himself did not baptize, but his disciples),

3. He left the land of Judea and went back to Galilee.

4. But he had to pass through Samaria.

5. And he came to a city of Samaria, which is called Shechar, near unto the little village which Jacob gave to Joseph his son.

6. And there was Jacob's well. And when Jesus was weary with his journey, he sat down upon the well: and it was about the sixth hour.

7. Then cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water. Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8. For his disciples had gone into the city to buy meat.

9. Then saith the Samaritan woman unto him, How askest thou of me to drink, seeing thou art a Jew, and I a Samaritan woman? (For the Jews have no fellowship with the Samaritans.) 10. And JESUS answering said unto her, If thou knowest the gift of GOD, and who he is that saith unto thee, Give me to drink, ask of him, and he will give thee living water.

11. The woman saith unto him, Lord, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: whence then hast thou living water?

12. Art thou more than our father Jacob, which gave us this well, and he drank thereof, and his children, and his cattle?

13. And JEsus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again: 14. But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him shall become in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15. The woman saith unto him, Lord, give me the same water, that I thirst not, that I come not to draw.

16. And JEsus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17. And the woman answered and said unto him, I have no husband.
Jesus saith unto her, Thou hast said rightly, I have no husband.

18. Five husbands thou hast had, and he whom thou hast now is not thy husband. You said it right.

19. And the woman saith unto him, Lord, I see that thou art a prophet.

20. Our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and ye say that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the time cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, worship the Father.

22. Ye know not what ye worship: but we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.

23. But the time cometh, and is now, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father will have them also that worship him so.

24. God is a spirit, and those who worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth.

25. And the woman saith unto him, I know that the Messiah cometh, which is called Christ.
When he cometh, he shall tell us all things.

26. Jesus saith unto her: I am he that speaketh unto thee.

27. And upon him came his disciples, and they marvelled that he spake unto the woman? But no man said, What askest thou? or, What speakest thou unto her?

28. And the woman left her pitcher, and went into the city, and spake unto the people: 29. Come, behold a man, which hath told me all things that I have done, whether he be not Christ.

30. And they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31. And meanwhile the disciples exhorted him, saying: Rabbi, eat!

32. But he said to them: I have food to eat, but you do not know it.

33. Then said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him meat?

34. Jesus saith unto them: My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

35. Say ye not yourselves, There are yet four months, and the harvest shall come? Behold, I say unto you: Lift up your eyes, and look into the field: for it is white already for harvest; 36. And he that reapeth receiveth reward, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37. For here is the saying true, This man soweth, and that man reapeth.

38. I have sent you to cut that which ye have not wrought: others have wrought, and ye are come into their work.

39. And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him because of the woman's words, which testified, saying, He hath told me all that I have done.

40. And when the Samaritans came unto him, they besought him to tarry with them. And he abode there two days.

41. And many more believed because of his word.

42. And they said unto the woman: We believe not henceforth because of thy saying: for we have heard and known that this is truly Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43. And after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.

44. For he himself, JESUS, bare witness that a prophet is of no account at home.

45. And when he was come into Galilee, the Galilaeans received him, which had seen all that he did in Jerusalem at the feast. For they also were come to the feast.

46. And JESUS came again to Cana of Galilee, having made the water wine.

47. And there was a certain king whose son was sick at Capernaum. And when he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea of Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down and heal his son: for he was sick unto death.

48. And JESUS said unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.

49. And the king said unto him, Lord, come down before my child dieth.

55. And JESUS saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that JESUS spake unto him, and went.

51. And as he went down, his servants met him, and told him, saying: Thy child liveth.

22. And he inquired of them the hour when he was better. And they said unto him, Yesterday about the seventh hour. The fever left him.

53. And the father perceived that it was about the hour in the which Jesus had said unto him, Thy son liveth. And he believed with all his house.

54. Now this is the other sign which JESus did, when he came out of Judaea into Galilee].

(John)

Chapter 5

Christ's protective speech about His miraculous work on the man who had been sick for thirty-eight years.

1. After this there was a feast of the Jews, and JESus went up to Jerusalem.

2. Now there is a pool in Jerusalem by the sheepecote, which is called Bethesda in the Ezraic language, and hath five halls,

3. in which lay many sick, blind, lame, arid; who waited when the waters moved.

4. For an angel came down at his season into the pool, and troubled the waters. And he that went in first, after the water was moved, was healed of every disease that was in him.

5. And there was a man there that was sick thirty and eight years.

6. And when JE saw him lying, and perceived that he had lain so long, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be healed?

7. And the sick man said unto him, Lord, I have no man, when the waters are moved, to let me into the pool: and when I come, another shall go in before me.

8. And JESus saith unto him, Arise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9. And immediately the man was healed, and took up his bed, and went his way. And it was the sabbath day the same day.

10. Then said the Jews unto him that was healed: It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to bear the bed.

11. And he answered them: He that made me whole said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12. And they said unto him, Who is this man that said unto thee? Take up thy bed, and go thy way?

13. And he that was healed knew not who he was: for Jesus was departed, because there was so much people in the place.

14. And afterward Jesus found him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing befall thee.
15. And the man went and told the Jews, saying, It is JEsus which hath made him whole.
16. Therefore the Jews persecuted JEsus, and sought to kill him, because he had done this thing on the sabbath day.
17. And Jesus answered them: My Father worketh hitherto, and I also work.
18. Therefore the Jews sought after him much more to kill him, that he should not only break the sabbath, but also say that GOD was his father, and make himself equal with GOD.
19. Then answered JEsus, and said unto them: Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son.
20. But the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that he doeth, and will shew him greater works, that ye may marvel.
21. For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them: so also the Son quickeneth whom he will.
22. For the Father judgeth no man, but hath given all judgment unto the Son, 23. That they all may honor the Son, as they honor the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which sent him.
24. Verily, verily, I say unto you: He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life.
25. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, that the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that hear shall live.
26. For as the Father hath life in himself, even so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself.
27. And hath given him power to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.
28. Marvel not at this: for the hour cometh, in the which all they that are in the graves shall hear his voice.

29. And they shall come forth that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; but they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of judgment.

30. I can do nothing of myself. As I hear, so I judge, and my judgment is right; for I seek not my will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31. If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32. Another is he that testifieth of me: and I know that the testimony which he testifieth of me is true.

33. Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness of the truth.

34. But I take not witness from men, but these things say I, that ye may be saved.

35. He was a burning and a shining light: but ye would be glad a little while of his light.

36. But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me that the Father hath sent me.

37. and the Father who sent me, the same hath begotten of me. Ye have never heard his voice, nor seen his form.

38. And his word ye have not abiding in you: for ye believe not him whom he hath sent.

39. Search the scriptures: for ye think that therein ye have eternal life: and it is they which testify of me.

40. And ye will not come unto me, that ye might have life.

41. I do not take honor from men.

42.. But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43. I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not. If another shall come in his own name, him will ye receive.

44. How can you believe, you who take honor from one another? And the glory that is of God alone ye seek not.

45. Think not that I will accuse you before the Father. There is one that accuseth you, Moses, in whom ye hope.

46. If ye believed Moses, ye believed me also: for he wrote of me.

47. But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

(John)

Chapter 6

Christ's miraculous feeding. Walk on the sea and preaching of the spiritual enjoyment of his flesh and blood.

1. After this JEsus departed over the sea at the city of Tiberias in Galilee.
2. And much people followed him, because they saw the miracles which he did on them that were sick.
3. And JEsus went up into a mountain, and sat there with his disciples.
4. And it was near the feast of Easter, the feast of the Jews.
5. Then lifted up Jesus' eyes, and beholding a great multitude coming unto him, he saith unto Philip, Where shall we buy bread, that these may eat?
6. (But this he said to tempt him: for he knew well what he would do.)
7. Philip answered him, For two hundred penceworth of bread there is not enough among them, that every one of them may take a little.
8. Then saith one of his disciples unto him, Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter: 9. There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two fishes: but what is that among so many?
10. And Jesus said, Make the people lie down. And there was much grass in the place. And about five thousand men encamped there.
11. And Jesus took the loaves, and gave thanks, and gave them to the disciples; and the disciples to them that lay down; and likewise of the fishes, as much as he would.
12. And when they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing perish.
13. And they gathered, and filled twelve baskets with fragments of the five barley loaves which remained for them that were fed.
14. When therefore men saw the sign which Jesus did, they said: Truly this is the prophet who is to come into the world!
15. When therefore Jesus perceived that they would come and take him, that they might make him king, he departed again into the mountain by himself].
16. And when even was come, the disciples went down unto the sea.
17. And they entered into the ship, and came over the sea to Capernaum. And it was already dark, and Jesus was not come unto them.
18. And the sea rose up with a great wind.

19. And when they had rowed about twenty and five or thirty furlongs, they saw Jesus walking on the sea, and coming nigh unto the ship; and they were afraid.

20. And he said unto them: It is I; do not be afraid.

21. And they would have taken him into the ship: and straightway the ship was at the land whither they went.

22: And the next day the people which stood on this side the sea saw that there was no other ship there but the one into which his disciples were entered, and that Jesus was not entered into the ship with his disciples, but that his disciples only were departed.

23. And there came other ships from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they had eaten bread, through the thanksgiving of the LORD.

24. When therefore the people saw that JEsus was not there, neither his disciples, they also entered into the ships, and came to Capernaum, seeking JEsus.

25. And when they found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26. Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me not because ye have seen signs, but because ye have eaten of the bread, and are filled.

27. Work out meat, not which perisheth, but which endureth unto life eternal, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.

28. And they said unto him, What shall we do, that we may work the works of God?

29. And JEsus answered and said unto them: This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30. And they said unto him, What sign doest thou, that we may see and believe thee? What doest thou work?

31. Our fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32. Then said JEsus unto them: Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you true bread from heaven.

33. For this is the bread of God, which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34. And they said unto him, Lord, give us bread like this continually.

35. And Jesus said unto them: I am the bread of life. He that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36. But I have told you, that ye have seen me, and yet believe not.

37. All that my Father giveth me shall come to me; and him that cometh to me I will not cast out.

38. For I am come down from heaven, not to do my will, but that of him that sent me.

39. But this is the will of the Father which hath sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he hath given me, but that I should raise it up at the last day.

40. And this is the will of him that sent me, that whosoever seeth the Son, and believeth on him, should have everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

41. And the Jews murmured because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven, 42. And they said: Is not this JESUS the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? How then saith he: I am come down from heaven?

43. And JESUS answered and said unto them: Murmur not among yourselves.

44. No man can come unto me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him; and I will raise him up at the last day.

45. It is written in the prophets: They shall all be taught of God. He therefore that heareth it of the Father, and learneth it, cometh unto me.

46. Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he that is of the Father, he hath seen the Father.

47. Verily, verily, I say unto you: He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48. I am the bread of life.

49. Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and died.

50. This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that whosoever eateth thereof should not die.

51. I am the living bread, come from heaven. Whoever eats of this bread will live forever. And the bread which I shall give is my flesh, which I shall give for the life of the world.

22. And the men that were bidden quarreled among themselves, saying: How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53. And JESus said unto them: Verily, verily, I say unto you: If ye eat not the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54. He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath everlasting life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55. For my flesh is meat, and my blood is drink.

56. He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, abideth in me, and I in him.

57. As the living Father hath sent me, and I live because of the Father: so he that eateth me shall live also because of me.

58. This is the bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and die.

He that eateth this bread shall live for ever.

59. These things said he in the synagogue, when he taught in Capernaum.

60. Many therefore of his disciples, when they heard it, said: This is a hard saying, who can hear it?

61. And when JESus perceived in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he saith unto them: Doth this offend you?

62. How then, when ye shall see the Son of man ascending thither, where he was before?

63. It is the Spirit that quickeneth: the flesh is of no profit. The words that I speak are spirit, and are life.

64. But there be some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning which believed not, and which would betray him.

65. And he said, Therefore I said unto you, No man can come unto me, except it be given him of my Father.

66. From that time his disciples went much behind him, and walked no more with him.

67. Then said JESus unto the twelve: Will ye also go away?

68. Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, whither shall we go? Thou hast words of eternal life; 69. And we have believed and known that thou art Christ, the Son of the living God.

70. Jesus answered him, Did I not mention you twelve? and one of you is a devil.

71. And he spake of Judas the son of Simon, Iscariot; who afterward betrayed him, and was one of the twelve.

(John)

Chapter 7

Christ's sermons in the temple.

1. After these things Jesus went about in Galilee: for he would not go about in Judea, because the Jews sought his life.
2. And the feast of the Jews was nigh, the feast of leaves.
3. Then said his brethren unto him, Arise thou from thence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.
4. No man doeth a thing in secret, and yet desireth to be made manifest freely. If thou do these things, manifest thyself before the world.
5. For neither did his brethren believe on him.
6. Then saith JEsus unto them: My time is not yet here; but your time is always.
7. The world cannot hate you; but hate me: for I bear witness of it, that the works thereof are evil.
8. Go ye up unto this feast. I will not yet go up unto this feast: for my time is not yet fulfilled.
9. And when he had said these things unto them, he abode in Galilee.
10. And when his brethren were gone up, he also went up to the feast, not openly, but secretly.
11. And the Jews sought him at the feast, and said: Where is he?
12. And there was a great murmuring of him among the people. Some said: He is righteous. But the rest said: No, but he seduces the people.
13. And no man spake freely of him for the fear of the Jews.
14. But in the midst of the feast JEsus went up into the temple, and taught.
15. And the Jews marvelled, and said: How can this man know the scriptures, seeing he hath not learned them?
16. JEsus answered them, and said: My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.
17. If any man will do the will of God, he shall know whether this doctrine be of God, or whether I speak of myself.
18. He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh the glory of him that sent him is true, and there is no unrighteousness in him.
19. Did not Moses give you the law? And there is none among you that doeth the law. Why seek ye to kill me?

20. And the people answered and said, Thou hast the devil; who seeketh to kill thee?
21. Jesus answered and said, I have done a certain work, and ye all marvel at it.
22. Moses therefore gave you circumcision, not that it came of Moses, but that it came of the fathers: neither circumcise ye a man on the sabbath day.
23. If a man receive circumcision on the sabbath day, that the law of Moses be not broken, are ye angry with me, because I have made all man whole on the sabbath day?
24. Judge not according to reputation, but judge righteously.
25. Then said some of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they sought to kill?
26. And, behold, he speaketh freely, and they say nothing unto him. Do our rulers then know for certain that he is Christ?
27. But we know from whence this is: but when Christ shall come, no man shall know from whence he is.
28. Then cried JEsus in the temple, teaching, and saying, Ye know me, and from whence I am: and of myself I am not come, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.
29. But I know him; for I am of him, and he hath sent me.
30. And they sought to lay hold on him. But no one laid a hand on him, for his hour had not yet come.
31. But many of the people believed on him, and said: When Christ shall come, will he also do more signs than this man do?
32. And it came to pass before the Pharisees, that the people murmured these things concerning him. Then the Pharisees and chief priests sent out servants to seize him.
33. Then said JEsus unto them: I am with you yet a little while, and then I go unto him that sent me.
34. Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come.
35. And the Jews said one to another, Whither will this man go, that we shall not find him? Will he go among the Greeks, which are scattered abroad, and teach the Greeks?

36. What manner of speech is this, that he saith, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, ye cannot come? Where I am, there ye cannot come?

37. But on the last day of the feast, which was most glorious, JESUS stood up, and said, Whosoever thirsteth, let him come unto me, and drink.

38. He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his body shall flow rivers of living water.

39. And this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believed on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet, because JESUS was not yet glorified.

40. And many of the people, when they heard this saying, said: This is a true prophet.

41. The others said: He is Christ. And some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

42. Doth not the scripture say, Of the seed of David, and out of the place of Bethlehem, where David was, should Christ come?

43. So there was dissension among the people against him.

44. And some sought to lay hold on him, but no man laid a hand on him.

45. And the servants came to the chief priests and Pharisees. And they said unto them: Why have ye not brought him?

46. The servants answered: No man ever spoke like this man.

47. And the Pharisees answered them, Are ye also deceived?

48. Doth any ruler or Pharisee believe in him?

49. But the people that know not the law are accursed.

50. Nicodemus saith unto them, which came to him by night, which was one of them: 11. Doth our law judge a man before he is heard, and before he knoweth what he doeth?

22. And they answered and said unto him, Art thou also a Galilaean? Search, and, behold, there ariseth not a prophet out of Galilee.

53. And every man went home.

(John)

Chapter 8

Of an adulteress, Christ's person and office, His disciples' attributes.

1. And JESUS went unto the mount of Olives.

2. And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him.
And he sat down, and taught them.

3. And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman in adultery, and set her in the midst of them.

4. And said unto him, Master, this woman is caught in the very act of adultery.

5. But Moses commanded us in the law to stone such as these: what sayest thou?

6. And this they said to tempt him, that they might have a cause against him. But Jesus stooped down, and wrote with his finger on the ground.

7. When therefore they stopped to ask him, he arose, and said unto them: He that is without sin among you, let him cast the first stone at her.

8. And stooping down again, he wrote upon the ground.

9. And when they heard it, they went out, persuaded by their consciences, one by one, from the elders even to the least. And Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10. And JEsus arose, and seeing no man but the woman, saith unto her, Woman, where are thy accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11. And she said, Lord, no man. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.

12. Then spake JEsus unto them again, saying: I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13. Then said the Pharisees unto him, Thou bearest witness of thyself; thy witness is not true.

14. Jesus answered and said unto them, If I bear witness of myself, my witness is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but ye know not whence I come, and whither I go.

15. Ye judge according to the flesh; I judge no man.

16. But if I judge, my judgment is right: for I am not alone, but I and the Father which sent me.

17. It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18. I am he that testifieth of myself: and the Father which sent me testifieth of me also.

19. And they said unto him, Where is thy father? JEsus answered: Ye know neither me, nor my Father: if ye knew me, ye knew my Father also.
20. These words spake JEsus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple; and no man laid hold on him: for his hour was not yet come.
21. Then said JEsus unto them again: I go away, and ye shall seek me, and die in your sins: whither I go ye cannot come.
- 22: Then said the Jews, Will he then kill himself, saying, Whither I go, ye cannot come?
23. And he said unto them: Ye are from beneath, I am from above; ye are of this world, I am not of this world.
24. Thus I said unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.
25. And they said unto him, Who art thou? And JEsus said unto them: First, he that speaketh unto you.
26. I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true, and those things which I have heard of him I speak before the world.
27. But they heard not that he told them of the father.
28. Then said JEsus unto them: When ye shall exalt the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself; but as my Father hath taught me, so speak I.
29. And he that sent me is with me. The Father leaves me not alone: for I do always those things that please him.
30. When he spake these things, many believed on him.
31. Then said JESUS unto the Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my sayings, ye are my disciples indeed.
32. And ye shall know the truth; and the truth shall make you free.
33. And they said unto him, We are Abraham's seed, and have never been any man's servants: how sayest thou then? Ye shall go free?
34. JEsus answered them, and said: Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that committeth sin is the servant of sin.
35. But the servant abideth not in the house for ever: the son abideth for ever.
36. If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37. I know that ye are Abraham's seed, but ye seek to kill me: for my words are not found among you.

38. I speak that which I have seen of my Father: so do ye that which ye have seen of your Father.

39. And they answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Saith JEsus unto them: If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do Abraham's works.

40. But now ye seek to kill me, such a man as I have told you the truth, which I have heard of GOD; which Abraham did not do.

41. Ye do the works of your father. Then said they unto him, We are not born out of wedlock; we have one Father, GOD.

42. And JEsus said unto them: If GOD were your Father, ye would love me: for I am come forth, and am come from GOD: for I am not come of myself, but he hath sent me.

43. Why then know ye not my language? for ye cannot hear my word.

44. Ye are of the father the devil, and after your father's pleasure will ye do. The same is a murderer from the beginning, and is not established in the truth; for the truth is not in him.

When he speaketh lies, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of them.

45. But I, because I speak the truth, believe ye me not.

46. Which of you can accuse me of sin? But if I tell you the truth, why do you not believe me?

47. He who is of God hears the word of God. Therefore you do not hear, for you are not of God.

48. And the Jews answered and said unto him, Say we not rightly that thou art a Samaritan, and hast the devil.

49. JEsus answered: I have no devil, but I honour my Father, and ye dishonour me.

50. I seek not mine own glory: but there is one that seeketh it, and judgeth it.

51. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If any man keep my word, he shall not see death for ever.

22. And the Jews said unto him, Now we know that thou hast the devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If any man keep my word, he shall not taste death for ever.

53. Art thou more than our father Abraham, which died? And the prophets are dead. What do you make of yourself?

54. Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing. But it is my Father that honoureth me, of whom ye say that he is your God,

55. and know him not. But I know him. And if I should say, I know him not, I should be a liar, as ye are. But I know him, and keep his word.

56. Abraham your father was glad that he should see my day: and he saw it, and rejoiced.

57. And the Jews said unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast seen Abraham?

58. And Jesus said unto them: Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

29. Then they heaped up stones to cast at him. But JEsus hid himself, and went out unto the temple, passing through the midst of them].

(John)

Chapter 9

He that is born blind is made sane by Christ.

1. And JEsus passed by, and saw one that was born blind.

2. And his disciples asked him, saying: Master, who sinned, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3. Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God might be made manifest in him.

4. I must work the works of him that sent me while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5. While I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

6. And when he had said these things, he spit upon the ground, and made a dung of the spittle, and put the dung upon the eyes of the blind.

7. And said unto him, Go unto the pool of Siloam, and wash. So he went and washed, and came to see.

8. The neighbours, and they that had seen him before, that he was a beggar, said: Is not this he that sat begging?

9. Some said: It is he: but some said, He is like him. But he himself said: It is I.

10. And they said unto him, How are thine eyes opened?

11. And he answered and said, The man whose name is JEsus made a dung, and put it upon mine eyes, and said, Go unto the pool of Siloam, and wash. And I went and washed, and received my sight.

12. And they said unto him, Where is he? He said: I know not.

13. And they brought him unto the Pharisees, who was blind.

14. (Now it was the sabbath day, when JEsus made the dung, and opened his eyes.) 15. Then asked they him again, even the Pharisees, how he had received his sight. And he said unto them: He put dung on my eyes, and I washed, and now I see.

16. Then said some of the Pharisees, Man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath. But the others said: How can a sinful man do such signs? And there was dissension among them.

17. And they said again unto the blind man: What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? And he said, He is a prophet. -

18. The Jews believed not of him that he had been blind, and had received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight,

19. And they asked, saying: Is this your son, whom ye say was born blind? How then is he that hath sight?

20. And his parents answered them, and said: We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind.

21. Now how he hath sight, we know not; neither know we who hath opened his eyes. He is old enough, ask him; let him speak for himself.

22. These things said his parents: for they were afraid of the Jews. For the Jews were already united, if any man confessed him to be a Christian, that he should be put under ban.

23. Therefore said his parents, He is old enough; ask him.

24. Then called they the second time the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give glory to God. We know that this man is a sinner.

25. And he answered and said: Is he a sinner, I know not: one thing I know, that I was blind, and now I see.

26. And they said unto him again, What did he unto thee? How did he open thine eyes?

27. And he answered them: I have told you now; have ye not heard? Why do you want to hear it again? will ye also become his disciples?

28. And they cursed him, and said: Thou art his disciple; but we are Moses' disciples.

29. We know that God spake unto Moses: but this we know not from whence he is.

30. And the man answered and said unto them: This is a strange thing, that ye know not whence he is: and he hath opened mine eyes.

31. Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man fear God, and do his will, he heareth him.

32. From the beginning of the world it hath not been heard that any man hath opened the eyes of a born blind man.

33. If this one were not from GOD, he could do nothing.

34. And they answered and said unto him, Thou art all born in sins, and teachest us? And cast him out.

35. And it came to pass before JESum, that they had cast him out. And when he found him, he said unto him, Believest thou on the Son of God?

36. And he answered and said, Lord, which is he, that I may believe on him?

37. And JESum said unto him, Thou hast seen him, and he that speaketh with thee is he.

38. And he said, Lord, I believe; and worshipped him.

39. And Jesus said: I am come to judgment into this world, that they which see not might see, and they which see might be blind.

40. And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these things, and said unto him, Are we blind also? -

41. And Jesus said unto them: If ye were blind, ye would have no sin: but now ye say, We have sight; abide in your sin.

(John)

Chapter 10

Of Christ the good shepherd and his sheep. Item, whether he is the Messiah.

1. Verily, verily, I say unto you: He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but goeth in by other means, the same is a thief and a murderer.

2. But he that goeth in at the door is a shepherd of the sheep.

3. To him the doorkeeper openeth, and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4. And when he hath let his sheep go, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.

5. But they follow not a stranger, but flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.
6. This saying said JESus unto them: but they heard not what it was that he spake unto them.
7. Then said JESus unto them again: Verily, verily, I say unto you: I am the door to the sheep.
8. All that came before me were thieves and murderers, but the sheep hearkened not unto them.
9. I am the door: if any man enter in by me, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.
10. A thief cometh not, but to steal, and to choke, and to kill.
11. I am come that they may have life and full sufficiency].
12. I am a good shepherd: a good shepherd layeth down his life for the sheep. But a hireling that is not a shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth the sheep, and scattereth them.
13. But the hireling fleeth: for he is an hireling, and regardeth not the sheep.
14. I am a good shepherd, and know mine own, and am known unto mine own, 15. As I know my Father, and I know the Father. And I lay down my life for the sheep.
16. And I have other sheep, which are not of this fold. And these I must bring, and they shall hear my voice, and shall become one fold, and one shepherd].
17. Wherefore my fathers love me, that I lay down my life, that I may take it again.
18. No one takes it from me, but I take it from myself. I have power to leave it, and I have power to take it again. Such a commandment have I received of my Father.
19. And there was dissension among the Jews concerning these words.
20. Many of them said: He hath the devil, and is foolish: why hear ye him?
21. And the rest said: These are not the words of one possessed; can the devil open the eyes of the blind?
22. And it was the feast of Jerusalem, and winter.
23. And JESus walked in the temple, in the hall of Solomon.

24. And the Jews compassed him about, and said unto him, How long wilt thou keep our souls?
If thou be Christ, tell us freely.

25. Jesus answered them: I have told you, and ye believe not. The works that I do in my Father's name bear witness of me.

26. But ye believe not: for ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27. For my sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me.

28. And I will give them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of mine hand.

29. The Father that gave them me is greater than all; and no man can pluck them out of my Father's hand.

30. I and the Father are one.

31. And the Jews again heaped up stones, that they might stone him.

32. Jesus answered them: Many good works have I shewed you of my Father: for what work among these do ye stone me?

33. And the Jews answered him, and said: For the good work we stone thee not, but for blasphemy, and that thou art a man, and makest thyself a god.

34. And JEsus said unto them, Is it not written in your law? I said, Ye are gods?

35. If he name the gods, unto whom the word of God was spoken (and the scripture cannot be broken),

36. Say ye then unto him whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world: Thou blasphemest God, because I say that I am the Son of God?

37. If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.

38. But if I do them, believe the works; if ye will not believe me, that ye may know and believe that the Father is in me, and I in him.

39. And they sought again to take him, but he escaped out of their hands.

40. And he went again beyond Jordan unto the place where John had baptized before, and abode there.

41. And many came unto him, and said: John did no sign: but all that John hath said of this is true.

42. And there believed many in him.

(John)

Chapter 11

Raising of the deceased Lazarus.

1. And there was one sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, in the town of Mary and her sister Martha.
2. Now Mary was she that anointed the Lord with ointments, and wiped his feet with her hair: and Lazarus his brother was sick. -
3. And his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.
4. And when JEsus heard it, he said, The sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of GOD, that the Son of GOD might be honoured thereby.
5. And Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.
6. And when he heard that he was sick, he tarried two days in the place where he was.
7. And afterward he saith unto his disciples, Let us return into Judaea.
8. And his disciples said unto him, Master, that time the Jews wished to stone thee, and thou wilt go thither again?
9. Jesus answered, Are not the day twelve hours? He that walketh by day stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.
10. But he that walketh by night stumbleth, because there is no light in him.
11. These things said he, and afterward saith he unto them: Lazarus, our friend, sleepeth; but I go to wake him up.
12. Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, it shall be better with him.
13. And Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he spake of sleep in the flesh.
14. Then said JEsus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.
15. And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, that ye might believe. But let us go unto him.
16. Then said Thomas, which is called a twin, unto the disciples, Let us go with him, that we may die with him.
17. Then came JEsus, and found him that he had been four days in the grave.
18. And Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, by fifteen highways.
19. And many Jews were come to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.
20. And when Martha heard that Jesus was coming, she went out to meet him: but Mary sat at home.

21. And Martha said unto JESUS, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died; 22. But I also know that whatever you ask of God, God will give you.

23. And JESUS saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24. Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25. Jesus saith unto her: I am the resurrection, and the life. He that believeth on me, though he were dead, yet shall he live;

26. And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Do you believe that?

27. And she saith unto him, Lord, yea, I believe that thou art Christ, the Son of God, which is come into the world.

28. And when she had said this, she went and called her sister Mary secretly, saying, The Master is here, and calleth thee.

29. The same, when she heard it, arose in haste, and came unto him.

30. For JESUS was not yet come into the village, but was yet in the place where Martha met him.

31. And the Jews which were with her in the house, when they comforted her, seeing Mary arise in haste, and go out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the sepulchre to weep there.

32. And when Mary was come where JESUS was, and saw him, she fell at his feet, and said unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33. When JESUS saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he was moved in spirit, and grieved himself.

34. And said, Where have ye laid him? And they said unto him, Lord, come and see.

35. And JESU's eyes went out.

36. And the Jews said, Behold, how he loved him!

37. And some of them said: Could not he that opened the eyes of the blind cause him also not to die?

38. And again Jesus was moved with rage within himself, and came to the sepulchre. And there was a cleft, and a stone laid thereon.

39. And Jesus said, Take away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him: Lord, he stinketh already: for he hath lain four days.

40. Jesus saith unto her, Did not I say unto thee, if thou shouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?

41. And they took down the stone where the dead man lay. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42. Yet I know that thou hearest me always: but for the sake of the people that stand round about, I say it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43. When he had said this, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.

44. And he that was dead came forth bound with graveclothes upon his feet and hands, and his face covered with a facecloth. JESUS saith unto them: Unbind him, and let him go.

45. Many therefore of the Jews which came to Mary, and saw what JEsus did, believed on him.

46. And some of them went unto the Pharisees, and told them what JEsus had done.

47. Then the chief priests and the Pharisees assembled a council, and said: What are we doing?

This person does a lot of sign.

48. So let us leave him, and they shall all believe in him. Then the Romans will come and take our land and people.

49. And one of them, Caiaphas, who was high priest that year, said unto them: Ye know nothing, 50. Consider nothing: it is better for us that one man should die for the people, than that the whole people should perish.

51. And these things spake he not of himself; but, being high priest that year, he prophesied. For Jesus was to die for the people,

52. And not for the people only, but that he might gather together the children of God which were scattered.

53. From that day they took counsel, how they killed him.

54. And Jesus walked no more freely among the Jews, but went from thence into a region near the wilderness into a city called Ephrem, and had his being there with his disciples.

55. And the passover of the Jews was at hand: and many went up to Jerusalem out of the region before the passover, to be purified.

56. And they asked after JESU, and said one to another in the temple,
Why think ye that he cometh not at the feast?

57. And the chief priests and Pharisees had sent forth a commandment, if any man knew where he was, to shew it, that they should take him.

(John)

Chapter 12

Anointing of Christ. Entry into Jerusalem. Sermon of the fruit of his death, even of faith and unbelief.

1. Six days before Easter came Jesus to Bethany, where Lazarus was, the dead man, whom Jesus had raised from the dead.

2. And there they made him supper, and Martha ministered: and Lazarus was one of them that sat at meat with him.

3. And Mary took a pound of ointment of unbleached precious nard, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair. And the house was filled with the smell of the ointment.

4. Then spake one of his disciples, Judas the son of Simon, Iscariot, who betrayed him afterward: 5. Why is not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6. And this he said not, that he asked for the poor: but he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare that which was given.

7. Then said JESUS, Let her alone. This she kept unto the day of my burial.

8. For ye have the poor always with you; but me ye have not always.

9. And when many of the Jews heard that he was there, they came not for JESUS' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.

10. But the chief priests sought to kill Lazarus also.

11. For because of him many Jews went and believed on Jesus.

12. And the next day, when much people were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was come to Jerusalem,

13. And they took palm branches, and went out to meet him, crying out: Hosanna! Blessed is he who comes in the name of the LORD, a king of Israel!

14. And Jesus overcame a little donkey, and rode upon it, as it is written: 15. Fear not, O daughter of Zion: behold, thy king cometh riding upon an ass's colt.

16. But these things his disciples did not understand before: but when Jesus was glorified, they remembered that these things were written of him, and that they had done them unto him.

17. And the people which were with him, when he called Lazarus out of the sepulchre, and raised him from the dead, glorified the deed.

18. Wherefore also the people went out to meet him, when they heard that he had done this sign.

19. And the Pharisees said one to another, Ye see that ye do nothing: behold, all the world followeth after him.

20. And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast.

21. And they came to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and besought him, saying: Lord, we would gladly see Jesus.

22. Philip cometh and telleth Andrew, and Philip and Andrew told Jesus further.

23. And Jesus answered and said unto them, The time is come that the Son of man should be glorified.

24. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25. He that loveth his life shall lose it: and he that hateth his life in this world shall have it unto life eternal.

26. Whosoever will serve me, let him follow me: and where I am, there shall my servant be also.

And he that will serve me, him shall my Father honour].

27. Now is my soul troubled. And what shall I say? Father, help me out of this hour! But this is why I have come to this hour.

28. Father, glorify thy name. Then came a voice from heaven, saying, I have glorified him, and will glorify him again.

29. And the people which stood by and heard said, There was thunder. And the rest said: An angel spake unto him.

30. Jesus answered and said, This voice is not for my sake, but for your sakes.

31. Now is the judgment come upon the world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.

32. And I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw them all unto me.

33. And this said he, to signify what death he should die.

34. And the people answered him, We have heard in the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou then that the Son of man must be exalted? Who is this Son of man?

35. Then said JEsus unto them: The light is yet a little while with you. While ye have the light, walk, that darkness overtake you not. He that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36. Believe in the light while ye have it, that ye may be the children of light.

37. These things spake JEsus, and went away, and hid himself from them. And though he did these signs before them, yet believed they not on him,

38. That the saying of Isaiah the prophet might be fulfilled, which he saith, Lord, who shall believe our preaching, and to whom shall the arm of the Lord be revealed?

39. Wherefore they could not believe: for again Isaiah saith:

40. He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart, that they should not see with their eyes, nor hear with their heart, and be converted, and I should save them.

41. These things said Isaiah, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42. But many of the rulers believed in him; but for the Pharisees' sakes they confessed it not, lest they should be put under the ban;

43. For they had rather glory with men than glory with GOD.

44. And Jesus cried out, saying, He that believeth on me believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45. And he that beholdeth me beholdeth him that sent me.

46. I am come into the world a light, that whosoever believeth in me should not abide in darkness.

47. And whosoever heareth my words, and believeth not, him will I not judge: for I am not come to judge the world, but to save the world.

48. He that despiseth me, and receiveth not my words, hath he that judgeth him: the word which I have spoken shall judge him in the last day.

49. For I have not spoken of myself, but the Father which sent me hath given me a commandment what I should do and what I should say:

50. And I know that his commandment is life eternal. Therefore whatsoever I speak, that speak I even as the Father hath given me.

(John)

Chapter 13

Foot washing. Commandment of love. Judas' betrayal. Transfiguration of Christ. Peter's fall.

1. Now before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his time was come to depart out of this world unto the Father, as he loved his own which were in the world, even so loved he them unto the end.
2. And after supper, when already the devil had put into the heart of Judas the son of Simon Iscariot, to betray him,
3. JEsus knew that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he had come from GOD and was going to GOD:
4. And he arose from supper, and put off his garments, and took an apron, and girded himself.
5. And afterward he poured water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to dry them with his apron, that he might be girded about.
6. And he came to Simon Peter; and he said unto him, Lord, wilt thou wash my feet?
7. And JEsus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; but thou shalt know hereafter.
8. Then said Peter unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. And Jesus said unto him, If I wash thee not, thou shalt have no part with me.
9. Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not the feet only, but the hands also, and the head.
10. Jesus saith unto him, He that is washed needeth not but to wash his feet, but is clean altogether. And ye are clean, but not all of you.
11. For he knew his betrayer well: therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.
12. And when he had washed their feet, he took up his garments, and sat down again, and spake unto them again: Know ye what I have done unto you?
13. Ye call me Master, and Lord; and ye say rightly unto it: for I also am.
14. If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet, ye shall wash one another's feet also.
15. An example have I given you, that ye should do as I have done unto you].

16. Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord, neither the apostle greater than he that sent him.

17. If ye know these things, blessed are ye if ye do them.

18. I say not of you all, (I know which I have mentioned,) but that the scripture may be fulfilled: He that eateth my bread treadeth me under foot.

19. Now I tell you before it come to pass, that, when it is done, ye may believe that I am he.

20. Verily, verily, I say unto you: He that receiveth, if I send any, receiveth me: but he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21. When JE Jesus had said these things, he was grieved in spirit, and testified, saying: Verily, verily, I say unto you, one of you shall betray me.

22. Then the disciples looked one to another, and were afraid of him of whom he spake.

23. And there was one of his disciples that sat at meat at the breast of JESUS, whom JESUS loved.

24. To whom Simon Peter beckoned to inquire who it was of whom he spake.

25. For he lay on the breast of JESUS, and said unto him, Lord, who is it?

26. And JEsus answered, He it is to whom I dip the morsel, and give it. And he dipped the morsel, and gave it to Judas, Simon's son, Iscariot.

27. And after the morsel Satan entered into him. Then said JEsus unto him, Whatsoever thou doest, do at once.

28. But the same knew no man above the table, whereunto he told him.

29. Some thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus said unto him, Buy that which we have need of at the feast; or that he should give to the poor.

30. And when he had taken the morsel, he went out immediately. And it was night.

31. And when he was departed, JESUS saith, Now is the Son of man glorified, and GOD is glorified in him.

32. If God be glorified in him, God also shall glorify him in himself, and shall glorify him shortly.

33. Little children, I am with you yet a little while. You will seek me; and as I said to the Jews, Where I go, you cannot come.

34. And now I say unto you, A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another, as I have loved you; that ye also love one another.

35. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36. Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, As I go, thou canst not follow me this time; but thou shalt follow me hereafter.

37. Peter saith unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee this time? I will lay down my life for thee.

38. Jesus answered him, Shouldest thou lay down thy life for me? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

(John)

Chapter 14

Of Christ's useful entrance. Of faith and love, prayer, the Holy Spirit and right peace.

1. And he said unto his disciples, Let not your heart be troubled. If ye believe in God, ye believe also in me.

2. In my father's house are many mansions. If it were not so, I would say unto you, I will go and prepare a place for you.

3. Though I go to prepare a place for you, yet will I come again, and receive you unto myself, that ye may be where I am.

4. And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know also.

5. Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6. Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, and the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7. If ye knew me, ye knew my Father also. And from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8. Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it shall be sufficient for us.

9. Jesus saith unto him, How long am I with you, and thou knowest me not? Philip, he that seeth me seeth the Father. How sayest thou then: Show us the Father?

10. Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? The words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself. But the Father that dwelleth in me, the same doeth the works.
11. Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: if not, believe me for the works.
12. Verily, verily, I say unto you: He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also, and shall do greater works than these: for I go unto the Father.
13. And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be honoured in the Son.
14. Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do].
15. If ye love me, keep my commandments.
16. And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever,
17. The Spirit of truth, which the world cannot receive: for it beholdeth him not, neither knoweth him. But ye know him; for he abideth with you, and shall be in you.
18. I will not leave you orphans: I will come unto you.
19. It is yet a little, and the world shall see me no more: but ye shall see me: for I live, and ye shall live also.
20. In that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.
21. He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me. But he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself unto him.
22. saith Judas, not Iscariot, unto him, Lord, what is this that thou wilt shew thyself unto us, and not unto the world?
23. And JEsus answered and said unto him, He that loveth me shall keep my word; and my Father shall love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.
24. But he that loveth me not keepeth not my words. And the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.
25. These things have I spoken unto you, because I have been with you.
26. But the Comforter, the Holy Ghost, whom my Father shall send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, which I have spoken unto you.

27. Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you. I do not give to you as the world gives. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28. Ye have heard that I said unto you: I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice that I said this: I go unto the Father: for the Father is greater than I.

29. And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe.

30. I will not henceforth speak much unto you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31. But that the world may know that I love the Father, and that I do even as the Father hath commanded me, arise, and let us depart].

(John)

Chapter 15

Exhortation to constancy in faith, love and patience.

1. I am a true vine, and my father a husbandman.

2. Every branch of mine that bringeth not forth fruit will he take away; and every branch that bringeth forth fruit will he cleanse, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3. Ye are now clean because of the word which I have spoken unto you.

4. Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bring forth fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; so neither can ye, except ye abide in me.

5. I am the vine; ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.

6. He that abideth not in me is cast away as a branch, and withered: and they gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7. If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8. In this my Father is honoured, that ye bear much fruit, and become my disciples.

9. As my Father loveth me, even so love I you. Abide in my love!

10. If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love, even as I keep my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11. These things speak I unto you, that my joy may abide in you, and that your joy may be full.

12. This is my commandment, that ye love one another, even as I love you.

13. Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends.

14. Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15. I say not henceforth, Ye are servants: for a servant knoweth not what his lord doeth. But unto you have I said, Ye are friends: for all things whatsoever I have heard of my Father have I made known unto you.

16. Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and have appointed that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that if ye pray the Father in my name, he may give it you in the day of Simon, and that he may give it you.

17. These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18. If the world hate you, know that it hated me before you.

19. If ye were of the world, the world would have loved their own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20. Remember my word, which I said unto you: The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you: if they have kept my word, they will also keep yours.

21. But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake: for they know not him that sent me.]

22. If I had not come and told them, they would have had no sin: but now they have nothing to excuse their sin.

23. He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

24. If I had not done among them the works which no other man had done, they had not sinned: but now they have seen, and yet they hate both me and my Father.

25. But that the saying might be fulfilled which is written in their law, They hate me without a cause.

26. But when the Comforter shall come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, the Spirit of truth which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me.

27. And ye also shall bear witness: for ye have been with me from the beginning.

(John)

Chapter 16

Of future persecution. Christ's Ascent to the Father. The ministry of the Holy Spirit. The happy end of the tribulation. Answer to prayer. The disciples' flight.

1. These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.
2. And they shall put you under a ban. But the time will come when he who kills you will think he is doing God a service.
3. And these things shall they do unto you, that they know not my Father, nor me.
4. But these things have I spoken unto you, that, when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you. But these things have I not told you from the beginning; for I was with you].
5. But now I go unto him that sent me; and none of you ask me, Whither goest thou?
6. But because I have spoken these things unto you, your heart is filled with sorrow.
7. But I tell you the truth, it is good for you that I go. For if I go not, the Comforter will not come unto you: but if I go, I will send him unto you.
8. And when he shall come, he shall punish the world for sin, and for righteousness, and for judgment:
9. For sin, that they believe not on me;
10. But for righteousness, that I should go unto the Father, and ye should not see me henceforth; 11. For the judgment that the prince of this world is judged.
12. I have yet much to say unto you; but ye cannot bear it now.
13. But when he, the Spirit of truth, shall come, he shall guide you into all truth. For he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak; and whatsoever is to come, that shall he declare unto you.
14. The same shall transfigure me: for of mine own shall he take, and declare it unto you.
15. All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, He shall take of mine, and shall declare it unto you].
16. Over a little one ye shall not see me; but over a little one ye shall see me: for I go unto the Father.

17. Then said some of his disciples one to another, What is this that he saith unto us, Over one ye shall not see me, but over a little ye shall see me, and that I go unto the Father?

18. Then said they: What is this that he saith, About a little one? We know not what he speaketh.

19. Then perceiving that they were desirous to ask him, Jesus saith unto them: Of these things ask ye one another, that I have said: Over a little one, ye shall not see me; but over a little one, ye shall see me.

20. Verily, verily, I say unto you: Ye shall weep and wail; but the world shall rejoice. But ye shall be sorrowful: but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21. A woman, when she beareth, hath sorrow: for her hour is come. But when she hath brought forth the child, she thinketh no more of sorrow for the joy that a man is born into the world.

22. And ye also now have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man shall take from you.

23. And in that day ye shall ask me nothing].

23. Verily, verily, I say unto you, If ye shall ask anything of the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24. Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name. Ask, and you shall receive, that your joy may be complete.

25. These things have I spoken unto you by proverbs. But the time cometh, that I will no more speak unto you by proverbs, but will freely declare unto you of my Father.

26. In that day ye shall ask in my name. And I do not tell you that I will ask the Father for you; 27. For he himself, the Father, loveth you, because ye love me, and believe that I came forth from God.

28. I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again I leave the world, and go unto the Father.

29. His disciples say unto him, Behold, now speakest thou freely, and sayest no proverb.

30. Now we know that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man ask thee. Therefore we believe that thou hast gone forth before God].

31. JEsus answered them: Now believe ye.

32. Behold, the hour cometh, and is come, that ye should be scattered every man to his own, and leave me alone. But I am not alone; for the Father is with me.

33. These things have I spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye are afraid: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

(John)

Chapter 17

Christ's prayer for Himself, His disciples, church and community.

1. These things spake JESUS, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is here, that thou shouldest glorify thy Son, that thy Son also should glorify thee, 2. As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he might give eternal life to all whom thou hast given him.

3. And this is life eternal, that they may know thee, that thou only art true God, and whom thou hast sent, Jesus Christ.

4. I have glorified thee upon the earth, and Thou hast finished the work which thou gavest me to do.

5. And now thou, Father, glorify me with thine own self with the clearness which I had with thee before the world was.

6. I have manifested thy name unto men, whom thou gavest me out of the world. They were thine, and thou gavest them unto me; and they have kept thy word.

7. Now they know that all things which thou hast given me are of thee.

8. For the words which thou gavest me I have given them: and they have received them, and have known truly that I came forth from thee, and have believed that thou didst send me.

9. I pray for them, and pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me: for they are thine.

10. And all that is mine is thine, And that which is thine is mine; and I am glorified in them.

11. And I am no more in the world: but they are in the world, and I come unto thee. Holy Father, keep them in thy name, which thou hast given me, that they may be one like us.

12. While I was with them in the world, I preserved them in thy name. Those whom thou gavest me I have preserved: and there is not one of them lost, save the child that is lost, that the scripture may be fulfilled.

13. But now I come unto thee, and speak these things in the world, that they may have my joy made perfect in them.

14. I have given them thy word, and the world hateth them: for they are not of the world, as I also am not of the world.

15. I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from evil.

16. They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17. Sanctify them in thy truth: thy word is truth.

18. As thou hast sent me into the world, even so send I them into the world.

19. I sanctify myself for them, that they also may be sanctified in the truth.

20. But I pray not for them only, but also for them which shall believe on me through their word, 21. That they all may be one, as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee; that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22. And I have given them the glory which thou gavest me, that they may be one, even as we are one,

23. I in them, and thou in me, that they may be perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, even as thou hast loved me.

24. Father, I will that where I am, they also which thou hast given me may be with me, that they may behold my glory which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25. Righteous Father, the world knoweth not thee: but I know thee, and these know that thou hast sent me.

26. And I have made known unto them thy name, and will make known unto them, that love, that thou mayest love me, may be in them, and I in them.

(John)

Chapter 18

Christ's suffering before Caiaphas and Pilate.

1. When JEsus had spoken these things, he went out with his disciples over the brook Kidron.

And there was a garden, into which went JEsus and his disciples.

2. And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for JEsus was often gathered together there with his disciples.

3. Judas therefore, having taken with him the multitude, and the officers of the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with torches and lamps and weapons.

4. When therefore Jesus knew all things that should befall him, he went out, and said unto them: Whom seek ye?

5. They answered him, JEsus of Nazareth. JEsus saith unto them: I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them.

6. And when JEsus said unto them: It is I, they drew back, and fell to the ground.

7. And he asked them again, Whom seek ye? And they said: Jesus of Nazareth.

8. Jesus answered: I told you that it was I. If ye then seek me, let these go 9. That the word might be fulfilled which he said, I have lost none that thou gavest me.

10. And Simon Peter had a sword, and drew it, and smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear: and the servant's name was Malchus.

11. Then said JEsus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath. Shall I not drink the cup which my Father hath given me?

12. And the multitude, and the chief captain, and the servants of the Jews, took JEsus, and bound him.

13. And they brought him first to Annas, which was the brother in law of Caiaphas, which was the high priest of that year.

14. And it was Caiaphas that counselled the Jews, saying, It is good that a man should be put to death for the people.

15. And Simon Peter followed JEsu, and another disciple. The same disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with JEsu into the palace of the high priest.

16. And Peter stood without the door. And the other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, went out, and spake unto the doorkeeper, and brought Peter in.

17. Then said the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of these men's disciples? And he said: I am not.

18. And the servants and menservants stood by, having made a fire of coals (for it was cold), and warming themselves. And Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19. But the high priest asked JESUM for his disciples, and for his doctrine.
20. Jesus answered him, I have spoken openly before the world. I have taught always in the synagogue, and in the temple, where all the Jews are gathered together, and have spoken nothing in secret.
21. Why askest thou me this? Ask them therefore which have heard what I have spoken unto them. Behold, they know what I have said.
22. And as he spake these things, the servant gave JESU a blow on the cheek to one of them that stood by, saying, Answerest thou the high priest thus?
23. Jesus answered, If I have spoken evil, let it be proved that it is evil: but if I have spoken right, why smitest thou me?
24. And Annas sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.
25. And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. And they said unto him, Art not thou one of his disciples? But he denied it, saying: I am not.
26. One of the servants of the high priest, a friend of him whose ear Peter had cut off, saith, Did I not see thee in the garden with him?
27. Then Peter denied again; and straightway the cock crowed.
28. And they brought JESUM from Caiaphas unto the judgment house. And it was early. And they entered not into the judgment house, lest they should be defiled, and eat the passover.
29. And Pilate went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?
30. And they answered and said unto him, If this man were not an evildoer, we would not have delivered him unto thee.
31. Pilate therefore said unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. Then said the Jews unto him: We mustn't kill anyone
32. That the word of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake when he foretold what death he should die.
33. Then Pilate went again into the judgment house, and called JESU, and said unto him, Art thou king of the Jews?
34. Jesus answered, Speakest thou this of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?
35. Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thy people and the chief priests delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?

36. Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world. If my kingdom were of this world, my servants would fight that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37. Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou then a king? Jesus answered, Thou sayest, I am a king. For this cause was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. He that is of the truth heareth my voice.

38. Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again to the Jews, and saith unto them: I find no fault in him.

39. But ye have a custom, that I should release one unto you at the passover: will ye now that I release unto you the king of the Jews?

40. Then cried they all again, saying: Not this man, but Barabbas. But Barabbas was a murderer.

(John)

Chapter 19

Christ's flagellation, coronation, crucifixion, death and burial.

1. Then Pilate took JEsus, and scourged him.

2. And the soldiers wove a crown of thorns, and put it upon his head, and put a purple robe upon him.

3. And they said, Hail, king of the Jews! and they smote him with their cheeks.

4. Then Pilate went out again, and said unto them, Behold, I bring him forth unto you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5. So JEsus went forth, wearing a crown of thorns and a purple robe. And he saith unto them, Behold, what manner of man!

6. And when the chief priests and the servants saw him, they cried out, saying: Crucify, crucify!

Pilate saith unto them: Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7. The Jews answered him, We have a law, and by the law he shall die: for he hath made himself the Son of GOD.

8. And when Pilate heard the word, he feared the more.

9. And went again into the judgment house, and saith unto JEsu, Whence art thou? But JEsus gave him no answer.

10. And Pilate said unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? Knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11. Jesus answered, Thou wouldest have no power over me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12. From that time Pilate sought how he might release him. And the Jews cried out, saying: If thou release this man, thou art not Caesar's friend: for he that maketh himself king is against Caesar.

13. And when Pilate heard the word, he brought forth JESUM, and sat in the judgment seat in the place which is called the high place, and in the language of the Jews Gabbatha.

14. And it was the preparation for Easter about the sixth hour. And he saith unto the Jews, Behold, this is your king!

15. And they cried, Away, away with him, crucify him. Said Pilate unto them, Shall I crucify your king? The chief priests answered: We have no king but Caesar.

16. Then delivered he him unto them to be crucified. And they took JESUM, and led him away.

17. And he bare his cross, and went out unto the place which is called the place of the skull, which is called Golgotha in the language of the Jews.

18. And there they crucified him, and with him two others on either side, and Jesus in the midst.

19. And Pilate wrote a superscription, and set it upon the cross; and it was written: JESUS of Nazareth, King of the Jews.

20. This superscription was read by many of the Jews: for the place was nigh unto the city where Jesus was crucified. And it was written in the Ebrew, and in the Greek, and in the Latin languages.

21. Then said the chief priests of the Jews unto Pilate, Write not, I am king of the Jews; but that he hath said: I am the king of the Jews.

22. Pilate answered, What I have written, that have I written.

23. And the soldiers, when they had crucified JESUS, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part, and the skirt also. And the skirt was unstitched, and was sewn from the top through and through.

24. And they said one to another, Let us not divide him, but let us cast lots for him whose he shall be, that the scripture may be fulfilled which saith, They have divided my garments among them.

And have cast lots upon my skirt). This is what the soldiers did.

25. And by the cross of JESUS stood his mother, and his mother's sister Mary, the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

26. And when JE saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son.

27. After this he saith unto the disciple, Behold, this is thy mother. And from that hour the disciple took her unto him.

28. After this, when JEsus knew that all things were finished, that the scripture should be fulfilled, he saith, I thirst.

29. And there was a vessel full of vinegar. And they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it about hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30. And when JEsus had taken the vinegar, he said, It is finished. And bowing his head, he passed away.

31. And the Jews, because it was the preparation day, that the dead bodies should not remain upon the cross through the sabbath, (for the sabbath day was great,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken down.

32. And the soldiers came, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other that was crossed with him.

33. And when they came to JEsu, seeing that he was already dead, they broke not his legs, 34. But one of the soldiers opened his side with a spear, and immediately there came out blood and water.

35. And he that hath seen it hath borne witness, and his witness is true; and he knoweth that he speaketh the truth, that ye also may believe.

36. For these things were done, that the scripture might be fulfilled: Ye shall not break his bones.

37. And again another scripture saith, They shall see which they have pricked.

38. After these things Pilate was asked of Joseph of Arimathea, which was a disciple of JESUS, yet secretly, for fear of the Jews, to take away the body of JEsu. And Pilate permitted it. And he came and took down the body of JEsu.

39. And there came also Nicodemus, which came before by night unto JEsu, bringing myrrh and aloes among them for an hundred pounds.

40. Then took they the body of JESUS, and bound it in linen cloths with spices, as the Jews are wont to bury.

41. And there was in the place where he was crucified a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein no man was ever laid.

42. And there they laid JESus for the Jews' preparation, because the sepulchre was near.

(John)

Chapter 20

Christ's resurrection revealed and confirmed in Judea.

1. Now on the sabbath day Mary Magdalene came early, while it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and saw that the stone was removed from the sepulchre.

2. And she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3. Then Peter and the other disciple went out, and came to the sepulchre.

4. And the two ran together, and the other disciple ran first, more quickly than Peter, and came first to the sepulchre,

5. And he looked in, and saw the lines laid: but he went not in.

6. Then Simon Peter came after him, and entered into the sepulchre, and saw the linen laid.

7. And the face-cloth, which was bound about Jesus' head, was not laid with the linen, but was wrapped up by itself in a special place.

8. And the other disciple also, which came first to the sepulchre, went in, and saw, and believed.

9. For they knew not yet the scripture, that he should rise from the dead.

10. Then the disciples went together again.

11. And Mary stood before the sepulchre weeping without. And as she wept, she looked into the sepulchre.

12. And behold, two angels in white robes sitting, one at the head, and the other at the feet, when they had laid the body of JESUS.

13. And they said unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? And she saith unto them, They have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14. And when she had said this, she turned back, and saw JESum standing, and knew not that it was JESus.

15. Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? Whom seekest thou? She thinketh it is the gardener, and saith unto him, Lord, if thou hast carried him away, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will fetch him.

16. Jesus saith unto her, Mary. Then she turned and said unto him, Rabbuni, that is, Master.

17. Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not: for I am not yet ascended unto my Father. But go thy way to my brothers and say to them: I ascend to my Father and to your Father, to my God and to your God.

18 Mary Magdalene cometh, and saith unto the disciples: I have seen the Lord, and these things he said unto me.

19. And it came to pass in the evening of the same sabbath, when the disciples were gathered together, and the doors were shut for fear of the Jews, that JEsus came and stood in the midst, and saith unto them: Peace be unto you.

20. And when he had said this, he shewed them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, because they saw the Lord.

21. Then said JEsus unto them again: Peace be unto you. As the Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22. And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them: Receive ye the Holy Ghost.

23. Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them: and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24. But Thomas, one of the twelve, which is called the twin, was not with them when Jesus came.

25. Then said the other disciples unto him, We have seen the Lord. And he said unto them: Except I see in his hands the marks of the nails, and put my finger into the marks of the nails, and put my hand into his side, I will not believe it.

26. And again his disciples were there eight days, and Thomas with them. Then cometh Jesus, when the doors were shut, and entereth in the midst, and saith, Peace be unto you.

27. After this he saith unto Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and put it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.

28. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.

29. Jesus saith unto him, Because thou hast seen me, Thomas, thou hast believed. Blessed are they that see not, and yet believe.

30. And many other signs did JEsus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book.

31. Now these things are written, that ye might believe that JEsus is the Christ, the Son of God; and that believing ye might have life in his name].

(John)

Chapter 21

Christ's resurrection revealed in Galilee.

1. After these things Jesus manifested himself again unto the disciples by the sea of Tiberias. But he revealed himself thus.

2. There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Twin, and Nathanael of Cana Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and other two of his disciples.

3. Simon Peter saith unto them: I will go fishing. And they said unto him, We will go with thee.

And they went out, and entered into the ship straightway: and that night they caught nothing.

4. And when it was now morning, JEsus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was JEsus.

5. Jesus saith unto them: Children, have ye nothing to eat? They answered him, No.

6. And he said unto them: Cast the net to the right hand of the ship, and ye shall find. And they cast, and could not draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7. Then saith the disciple whom Jesus loved unto Peter, It is the LORD. And when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girded his shirt about him (for he was naked), and cast himself into the sea.

8. And the other disciples came in the ship, (for they were not far from the land, but about two hundred cubits,) and drew the net with the fishes.

9. And when they went out into the country, they saw coals laid, and fish laid up, and bread.

10. Say ye unto them, Jesus: Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11. And Simon Peter went in, and drew the net upon the land full of great fishes, an hundred and fifty and three. And though they were so many, yet the net brake not.

12. Jesus saith unto them: Come and keep the supper. But none of the disciples might ask him, Who art thou? For they knew that it was the Lord.

13. Then cometh JESUS, and taketh the bread, and giveth them, and likewise the fishes.

14. Now this is the third time that JESUS was manifested unto his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15. And when they had made supper, Jesus saith unto Simon Peter, Simon Joanna, lovest thou me better than these have me? And he saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. saith he unto him, Feed my lambs.

16. And he saith unto him the second time, Simon Joanna, lovest thou me? And he saith unto him, Yea, Lord, thou knowest that I love thee. And he saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17. And he saith unto him the third time, Simon Joanna, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved, because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? and said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18. Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast younger, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and lead thee whither thou wouldest not.

19. And this said he, to signify with what death he would praise God. And when he had said this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20. And Peter turned, and saw the disciple whom JESUS loved following, who also lay at his breast at supper, and said, Lord, who is he that betrayeth thee?

21. And when Peter saw it, he saith unto JESUS, Lord, what is this?

22. Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? Thou shalt follow me.

23. And there went out a saying among the brethren: This disciple dieth not. And Jesus said not unto him, He dieth not: but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what dost thou care?

24. This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and hath written these things: and we know that his testimony is true].

25. There are also many other things which Jesus did, which, if they should be written one by one, I fear the world would not understand the books to be written.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Acts of Luke (Acts of the Apostles) ^

Chapter 1

Ascension of Christ. Calling of Matthias to the apostleship.

(Epistle on Ascension Day.)

1. The first discourse I have indeed done, dear Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and to teach,
2. Until the day that he was taken up, after that he had given commandment by the Holy Ghost unto the apostles, whom he had chosen,
3. To whom, after his affliction, he shewed himself alive in many things: and he was seen of them forty days, and talked with them of the kingdom of God.
4. And when he had gathered them together, he commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which ye have heard (saith he) of me.
5. For John baptized with water: but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.
6. And they that were gathered together asked him, saying: Lord, wilt thou at this time restore the kingdom to Israel?
7. And he said unto them: It is not lawful for you to know the time or the hour which the Father hath reserved for his power,
8. But ye shall receive power from the Holy Ghost, which shall come upon you: and ye shall be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and unto the ends of the earth.
9. And when he had spoken these things, he was visibly taken up, and a cloud received him away from before their eyes.
10. And as they looked on him going up to heaven, behold, there stood by them two men clothed in white,
11. Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing into heaven? This Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall come as ye have seen him go into heaven].

12. And they turned again to Jerusalem from the mountain which is called the mount of Olives, which is nigh unto Jerusalem, and lieth by the way of the sabbath.

13. And when they were come in, they went up into the upper chamber, where Peter and James, and John and Andrew, and Philip and Thomas, and Bartholomew and Matthew, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the son of James, were.

14. All these were always together with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of JESU, and his brethren.

(Epistle on St. Matthew's Day.)

15. And in those days Peter stood up among the disciples, and said, (and the multitude of the names was about an hundred and twenty,)

16. Men and brethren, the scripture must be fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost spake before by the mouth of David of Judas, who was a forerunner of them that caught Jesus.

17. For he was numbered with us, and had this ministry with us.

18. This man hath purchased the field for an unjust reward, and hath been hanged, and hath broken in pieces, and poured out all his bowels.

19. And it was known unto all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that the same field was called in their language Hakeldama, that is, a field of blood.

20. For it is written in the book of Psalms: Let their habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein; and let another receive his bishopric.

21. Now therefore one of these men, which have been with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went out and came in among us, must be with us,

22. From the baptism of John until the day he is taken from us, to be a witness of his resurrection with us.

23. And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, whose surname was Just, and Matthias, 24. And prayed, and said: O LORD, the rebuke of all hearts, shew us which of these two thou hast chosen,

25. That one might receive this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas departed, to go into his own place.

26. And they cast lots upon them: and the lot fell upon Matthias. And he was assigned to the eleven apostles].

(Acts)

Chapter 2

Outpouring of the Holy Spirit, defended by Peter with a useful sermon.
(Epistle on the holy feast of Pentecost.)

1. And when the day of Pentecost was fulfilled, they were all with one accord together.
2. And there came quickly a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they sat.
3. And there were seen in them tongues parted, as though they were fiery. And he sat upon every one of them.
4. And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to preach with other tongues, when the Spirit had given them utterance.
5. Now there were Jews dwelling at Jerusalem, which were godly men of all people that are under heaven.
6. And when this voice was heard, the multitude came together, and were troubled: for every man heard that they spake with his own language.
7. And they were all amazed, and marvelled, and said one to another, Behold, are not all these that speak of Galilee?
8. How then hear we every man his own language, wherein we are born?
9. Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and them that dwell in Mesopotamia, and in Judea, and in Cappadocia, and in Pontus, and in Asia.
10. Phrygia and Pamphylia, Egypt, and the ends of Libya at Cyrene, and foreigners from Rome, 11. Jews and fellow Jews, Cretans and Arabs: we hear them speaking with our tongues the great deeds of GOD.
12. They were all amazed, and went astray, and said one to another: What will this be?
13. And the rest had their mocking, and said, They are full of sweet wine].
14. Then Peter stood up with the eleven, and lifted up his voice, and spake unto them: Ye Jews, men, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, let this be known unto you; and let my words come into your ears.
15. For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, because it is the third hour of the day.

16. But this is that which was spoken before by the prophet Joel: 17. And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith GOD, that I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your elders shall dream dreams.

18. And upon my servants and upon my handmaids will I pour out of my spirit in those days, and they shall prophesy.

19. And I will do wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath: Blood, and fire, and vapor of smoke.

20. The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and appearing day of the LORD come.

21. And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call upon the name of the LORD shall be saved.

22. Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jehovah of Nazareth, the man of God, proving among you deeds and wonders and signs, which God did by him among you, as ye yourselves also know,

23. The same (after he had yielded to the counsel and providence of God) ye have taken by the hands of the unrighteous, and have hanged him, and slain him.

24. Him hath God raised up, and loosed the pains of death, when it was impossible that he should be kept by him.

25. For David saith of him, I have set the LORD always before me: for he is at my right hand, that I should not be moved.

26. Therefore my heart is glad, and my tongue rejoiceth: for my flesh also shall rest in hope.

27. For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thy saint to see corruption.

28. Thou hast made known unto me the ways of life: thou wilt fill me with joy in thy sight.

(Epistle on Pentecost Tuesday.)

29. Men, brethren, let me speak freely unto you of David the arch-father: he is dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30. And when he was a prophet, and knew that God had promised him by an oath, that the fruit of his loins should sit upon his throne,

11. He hath seen it before, and hath spoken of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul is not left in hell, neither hath his flesh seen corruption.

32. This JEsu^m hath God raised up; of whom we are all witnesses.
33. Having been raised up by the right hand of God, and having received the promise of the Holy Spirit from the Father, he poured out these things which ye see and hear.
34. For David went not up to heaven. But he saith, The LORD hath said unto my LORD, Sit thou at my right hand,
35. Until I make thine enemies thy footstool.
36. Know therefore all the house of Israel assuredly, that God hath made this Jesus, whom ye crucified, both Lord and Christ.
37. And when they heard it, they were troubled in their hearts, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles: Men, brethren, what shall we do?
38. Peter saith unto them: Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.
39. For to you and to your children is this promise, and to all who are afar off, whom God our Lord will call.
40. And with many other words he testified, and exhorted, saying, Let these naughty men help you.
41. And they that gladly received his word were baptized, and were added that day unto three thousand souls.
42. But they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine, and in fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.
43. Fear also came upon all souls, and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.
44. And all that believed were together, and held all things in common.
45. And they sold their goods and chattels, and divided them among all, according to the need of every man.
46. And they were daily and always together with one accord in the temple, and broke bread to and fro in houses,
47. And they took the meat, and praised God with gladness and singleness of heart, and had favour with all the people. And the LORD added unto the church daily them that were saved.

(Acts)

Chapter 3

Peter's miraculous work on the lame man and the preaching of Christ for repentance.

1. And Peter and John went up together into the temple about the ninth hour, when they were wont to pray.
2. And there was a man lame from his mother's womb, which was carried. And they set him daily at the door of the temple, which is called the beautiful door, to beg alms of them that came into the temple.
3. When therefore he saw Peter and John about to enter into the temple, he asked an alms.
4. And Peter looked on him with John, and said, Behold us.
5. And he looked upon them, waiting to receive of them.
6. And Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but that which I have I give thee: in the name of JESUS Christ of Nazareth arise, and walk.
7. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up. And immediately his thighs and his ankles were sore;
8. leaped up, able to walk and stand, and went with them into the temple, walking and leaping and praising GOD.
9. And all the people saw him walking, and praising GOD.
10. They knew him also, that it was he which sat at the door of the temple for alms: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at what had befallen him.
11. And when this lame man, which was now healed, stood by Peter and John, all the people ran unto them into the hall which is called Solomon's, and marvelled.
12. And when Peter saw it, he said unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this, or why look ye on us, as if we had made this walk by our own power or merit?
13. The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his child Jesus, whom ye delivered up and denied before Pilate, when he judged to let him go.
14. But ye denied the holy and righteous, and asked to be given the murderer; 15. But ye have killed the prince of life. Him hath God raised from the dead; of this we are witnesses.
16. And by faith in his name he hath confirmed his name in this man, whom ye see and know: and faith through him hath given this health in your sight.
17. Now, brethren, I know that ye have done it through ignorance, as also your rulers.

18. And God, which he declared beforehand by the mouth of all his prophets, how that Christ should suffer, hath fulfilled it.

19. Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, 20. That the time of refreshing may come from the presence of the Lord, when he shall send him that is now preached unto you, Jesus Christ,

21. Which must occupy heaven until the time that all that God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets from the world began to be brought again.

22. For Moses said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the LORD your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23. And it shall come to pass, that every soul which shall not hear the same prophet shall be cut off from among the people.

24: And all the prophets from Samuel and after, as many as have spoken of them, have proclaimed of those days.

25. Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with your fathers, saying unto Abraham, In thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed.

26. God hath first raised up his child Jesus from the dead, and hath sent him unto you to bless you, that every man might repent of his wickedness.

(Acts)

Chapter 4

Persecution of the apostles. The believers common prayer, walk and condition.

1. And as they spake unto the people, the priests and the captain of the temple and the Sadducees came unto them.

2. Who were grieved because they taught the people, and preached in JEsu the resurrection from the dead.

3. And they laid hands on them, and put them in till the morning: for it was now evening.

4. But many of them that heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5. And it came to pass, when the morning was come, that their rulers and elders and scribes gathered themselves together unto Jerusalem:

6. Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the family of the high priests,

7. And set them before them, and asked them: By what authority or in what name have ye done this?

8. Peter, full of the Holy Ghost, saith unto them: Ye rulers of the people, and ye elders of Israel, 9. If we be judged this day of this benefit of the sick man, by which he is made whole, 10. Be it known unto you, and to all the people of Israel, that in the name of JESUS CHRIST of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom GOD raised from the dead, he standeth before you whole.

11. This is the stone rejected of you builders, which became the corner stone.

12. And there is salvation in no other, neither is there any other name given unto men, whereby we must be saved.

13. And when they saw the joyfulness of Peter and John, they marvelled: for they knew that they were unlearned men and laymen, and that they had been with Jesus.

14. And when they saw the man which was made whole standing with them, they had nothing to say against it.

15. Then they commanded them to go out of the council, and they traded with one another, saying:

16. What shall we do unto these men? For the sign which was done by them is known, and is manifest unto all them that dwell at Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it.

17. But lest there should be any further breach among the people, let us earnestly rebuke them, that they speak not henceforth of this name to any man.

18. And called them, and commanded them that they should neither hear nor teach in the name of JESUS.

19. And Peter and John answered and said unto them: Judge ye yourselves whether it be right in the sight of God, that we should obey you rather than God.

20. For we cannot refrain from speaking the things which we have seen and heard.

21. But they afflicted them, and let them go, and found not how they afflicted them, because of the people: for they all praised GOD above that which was done.

22. For the man was above forty years old, in whom this sign of health was done.

23. And when they were let go, they came to their own, and told them what the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24. And when they heard it, they lifted up their voice with one accord unto God, and said: O LORD, thou art the God that made heaven and earth, and the sea, and all that is therein; 25. Who said by the mouth of David thy servant: Why do the heathen revolt, and the nations take that which is in vain?

26. The kings of the earth are gathered together, and the princes are assembled together against the LORD, and against his Christ:

27. Yea, verily they are gathered together concerning thy holy child JEsu, whom thou hast anointed, Herod and Pontius Pilate with the Gentiles and the people of Israel, 28. To do that which thy hand and thy counsel hath before considered, that should come to pass.

29. And now, O LORD, behold their beseeching, and give thy servants to speak thy word with all gladness,

30. And stretch forth thine hand, that health, and signs, and wonders, may be done by the name of thy holy child JEsu.

31. And when they had prayed, the place was moved, when they were gathered together: and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and spake the word of God with gladness.

32. And the multitude of the faithful were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any man of his goods that they were his, but all things were common unto them.

33. And with great power did the apostles bear witness of the resurrection of the LORD JEsu, and great grace was with them all.

34. Neither was there any of them that lacked: for as many as were of them that had fields, or houses, they sold them, and brought the money of the goods that were sold.

35. And they laid it at the apostles' feet, and gave to every man his due.

36. And Joses, surnamed of the apostles Barnabas (that is, a son of comfort), of the family of a Levite of Cyprus,

37. Who had a field, and sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

(Acts)

Chapter 5

The quick death of Ananias and Sapphira. Capture and deliverance of the apostles.

1. And a man named Ananias, and Sapphira his wife, sold their goods.

2. And took away some of the money, with the knowledge of his wife, and brought a part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3. And Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart, that thou hast lied to the Holy Ghost, and stolen some of the money of the field?

4. If thou hadst had him, thou mightest have kept him; and when he was sold, it was in thy power. Why then didst thou make such a thing in thine heart? Thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5. And when Ananias heard these words, he fell down, and gave up the ghost. And great fear came upon all them that heard these things.

6. And the young men arose, and laid him aside, and carried him out, and buried him.

7. And it came to pass about three hours, that his wife came in, and knew not what was done.

8. But Peter said unto her, Tell me, sold ye the field so dear? And she said, Yea, so dearly.

9. And Peter said unto her, Why then are ye become one to tempt the Spirit of the LORD?

Behold, the feet of them that buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10. And straightway she fell at his feet, and gave up the ghost. And the young men came, and found her dead, and carried her out, and buried her with her husband.

11. And great fear came upon all the congregation, and upon all them that heard these things.

12. And there were many signs and wonders done among the people by the hands of the apostles, and they were all with one accord in the hall of Solomon.

13. And the rest were not to be joined unto them: but the people thought much of them.

14. And the more were added that believed on the LORD, both men and women, 15. So that they carried out the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and stretchers, that, when Peter came, his shadow might overshadow some of them.

16. There came also many from the surrounding cities to Jerusalem, bringing the sick, and those that were tormented with unclean spirits: and they were all healed.

17. And the high priest stood up, and all that were with him, which is the sect of the Sadducees, and were filled with zeal.

18. And laid hands on the apostles, and cast them into the common prison.

19. And the angel of the LORD opened the door of the prison in the night, and brought them forth, and said:

20. Go ye, stand, and speak in the temple unto the people all the words of this life.

21. And when they had heard it, they went early into the temple, and taught. And the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them.

22. And the servants came, and found them not in prison, and came again, and preached 23. And they said: We found the prison shut up with all diligence, and the keepers without standing before the doors: but when we opened, we found none within.

24. And when the high priest, and the captain of the temple, and the other chief priests, heard this saying, they were troubled at what it was to be.

25. And one came and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye cast into prison are in the temple, standing and teaching the people.

26. Then the centurion went with the servants, and took them, not by force: for they feared the people, lest they should be stoned.

27. And when they had brought them, they set them before the council. And the high priest asked them

28. And said, Have we not earnestly commanded you that ye should not teach in this name? And, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and will bring this man's blood upon us.

29. And Peter answered and the apostles, and said: One must obey God more than men.

30. The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on the wood.

31. Whom God hath exalted by his right hand to be a prince and a saviour, to give repentance and remission of sins unto Israel.

32. And we are his witnesses concerning these words, and the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33. And when they heard it, it went through their hearts, and they thought to kill them.

34. And there arose in the council a Pharisee named Gamaliel, a scribe, well kept in the sight of all the people, and bade the apostles go forth a little

35. And said unto them: Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves of these men, what ye ought to do.

36. Before these days Theudas stood pretending to be something, and there were hanging upon him a number of men about four hundred: he is slain, and all that fell to him are scattered and destroyed.

37. After these things arose Judas of Galilee in the days of the reckoning, and made much people reproach him: and he also perished, and all that fell to him were scattered.

38. And now I say unto you, Depart from these men, and let them go. If the counsel or the work be of men, it shall perish;

39. But if it be of God, ye cannot restrain it, lest ye be found fighting against God.

40. And they fell upon him, and called unto the apostles, and nudged them, and commanded them that they should not speak in the name of JEsu, and sent them away.

41. And they departed gladly from the presence of the council, because they had been worthy to suffer reproach for his name's sake;

42. And ceased not all the days in the temple, and in every house, to teach and to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ.

(Acts)

Chapter 6

Order of the almoners. The charge of Stephen.

1. Now in the days when the disciples were many, there arose a murmuring among the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were overlooked in the daily ministration.

2. Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples together, and said: It is not fit that we should forbear the word of God, and serve at meat.

3. Wherefore, brethren, look ye among you for seven men of good report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint unto this need.

4. But let us continue in prayer, and in the ministry of the word.

5. And the speech pleased all the multitude well, and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolaus the Jew of Antioch.

6. These they set before the apostles, and prayed, and laid their hands on them.

7. And the word of God increased, and the number of the disciples became very great in Jerusalem. And many priests also became obedient to the faith.

(Epistle on the second day of Christmas, or the day of Stephen the martyr.) 8. And Stephen, being full of faith and power, did wonders and great signs among the people.

9. Then arose certain of the school called the Libertines, and the Cyrenians, and the Alexanderians, and those that were of Cilicia and Asia, and consulted with Stephen.

10. And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit whereby he spake.

11. Then judged they certain men, saying: We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses and against God.

12. And moved the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came and took him, and brought him before the council;

13. And they set up false witnesses, saying: This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and against the law.

14. For we have heard him say, Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and change the customs which Moses gave us.

15. And they looked upon him, all they that sat in the council, and saw his face as the face of an angel.

(Acts)

Chapter 7

Stephen's sermon, torture and death.

1. And the high priest said, Is it so?
2. And he said, Brethren and fathers, hear me. God of glory appeared unto Abraham our father, while he was yet in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Haran,
3. And he said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy friendship, and go into a land which I will shew thee.
4. And he went out of the country of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Haran. And from thence, when his father was dead, he brought him over into this land, wherein ye now dwell.
5. And he gave him no inheritance in it, neither a foot wide: and he promised him that he would give it to him to possess, and to his seed after him, when he had no child.
6. But God said thus, Thy seed shall be a stranger in a strange land, and they shall make him servant, and do evil four hundred years.
7. And the people whom they shall serve will I judge, said God; and afterward they shall go forth and serve me in this place.
8. And gave him the covenant of circumcision. And he begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day, and Isaac Jacob, and Jacob the twelve archfathers.
9. And the fathers envied Joseph, and sold him into Egypt. But God was with him
10. And delivered him out of all his affliction, and gave him grace and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt: and he made him ruler over Egypt, and over all his house.
11. And there came a time of trouble upon all the land of Egypt, and upon Canaan, and a great tribulation; and our fathers found no meat.
12. And Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, and sent forth our fathers the first time.
13. And the second time Joseph was known of his brethren, and Pharaoh Joseph's family was made manifest.
14. And Joseph sent and fetched Jacob his father, and all his company, seventy and five souls.
15. And Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he and our fathers.
16. And they were brought over to Shechem, and laid in the sepulchre which Abraham bought for money of the children of Hemor in Shechem.

17. And it came to pass, when the time of the promise which God swore unto Abraham was at hand, that the people increased and multiplied in Egypt,

18. Till another king arose, who knew nothing of Joseph.

19. This man deceived our kindred, and did evil to our fathers, and caused the young children to be cast down, that they should not live.

20. And Moses was born at that time, and was a goodly child in the sight of God, and was nourished in his father's house three months.

21. And when he was cast down, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and brought him up to be a son.

22. And Moses was instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was mighty in works and words.

23. And when he was forty years old, he considered to see his brethren the children of Israel, 24. And he saw one wronged. And he prevailed, and avenged him that was wronged, and slew the Egyptian.

25. And he thought that his brethren should hear, that by his hand God would give them salvation: but they heard it not.

26. And the next day he came to them, when they were at strife one with another, and dealt with them, that they might have peace, saying, Men, ye are brethren; why doth one wrong another?

27. And he that wronged his neighbour cast him away, saying, Who made thee ruler and judge over us?

28. Wilt thou kill me also, as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday?

29. And Moses fled at this saying, and became a stranger in the land of Midian. And there he begat two sons.

30. And for forty years the angel of the LORD appeared unto him in the wilderness in mount Sinai in a flame of fire in a bush.

31. And when Moses saw it, he marvelled at the vision. And when he went to look, the voice of the LORD came unto him:

32. I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses trembled, and could not look.

33. And the LORD said unto him, Put off thy shoes from off thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34. I have seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. Now therefore come hither, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35. This Moses, whom they denied, saying: Who made you a ruler and a judge? God sent him to be a ruler and a redeemer by the hand of the angel who appeared to him in the bush.

36. And he led them out, and did wonders and signs in Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.

37. This is Moses, which said unto the children of Israel: A prophet shall the LORD your God raise up unto you of your brethren like unto me, and ye shall hear him.

38. This is he that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel that talked with him in mount Sinai, and with our fathers; who received the living word to give unto us; 39. Whom your fathers would not obey, but cast him away, and turned back their hearts into Egypt.

40. And they said unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for we know not what hath befallen this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt.

41. And they made a calf at that time, and offered sacrifices unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their hands.

42. But God turned, and gave them to serve the host of heaven: as it is written in the book of the prophet: Did ye of the house of Israel offer me sacrifices and cattle in the wilderness forty years?

43. And ye approached unto the tabernacle of Moloch, and unto the star of Remphan your god, even unto the images which ye had made to worship them: and I will cast you away beyond Babylon.

44. Our fathers had the tabernacle of the testimony in the wilderness, as he commanded them, when he spake unto Moses, that he should make it after the pattern which he had seen, 45. Which our fathers also received, and brought them with Joshua into the land which the heathen possessed, whom God cast out from before the face of our fathers unto the days of David.

46. And he found grace in the sight of God, and asked that he might find a tabernacle unto the God of Jacob.

47. But built him an house.

48. But the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands, as the prophet saith: 49. Heaven is my throne, and the earth my footstool:

what house will ye build me, saith the LORD, or what is the place of my rest?

50. Did not my hand do all this?

51. Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye always resist the Holy Ghost, as your fathers did, so do ye.

22. Which prophet did not your fathers persecute, and slay them that proclaimed beforehand the future of that righteous man, whose betrayer and murderer ye are now become?

53. Ye have received the law by the business of angels, and have not kept it.

54. And when they heard these things, they were sore troubled, and gnashed their teeth at him.

55. And when he was full of the Holy Ghost, he looked up to heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God, and said, Behold, I see heaven open, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

56. And they cried with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and rushed in with one accord unto him, and thrust him out of the city, and stoned him.

57. And the witnesses laid down their garments at the feet of a young man whose name was Saul.

58. And they stoned Stephen, who cried out, saying, Lord JEsu, receive my spirit.

59. And he kneeled down, and cried aloud: Lord, do not keep this sin from them! And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

(Acts)

Chapter 8

The persecution of Saul. Conversion of the Samaritans. The trickery of Simon the sorcerer. Conversion of the chamberlain of Mohrenland.

1. And Saul was pleased with his death. And at that time there arose a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and they were all scattered abroad in Judea and Samaria without the apostles.

2. And there buried Stephen, men that feared God, and made great lamentation over him.

3. And Saul destroyed the church, and went to and fro into the houses, and brought out men and women, and delivered them into prison.

4. They therefore which were scattered abroad went about preaching the word.

5. And Philip came down into a city of Samaria, and preached unto them of Christ.

6. And the people with one accord diligently heard what Philip said, and saw the signs which he did.

7. For the unclean spirits came out of many that were possessed with a great cry; and many that were sick of the palsy and lame were made whole.

8. And there was great joy in that city.

9. Now there was a man named Simon, which did sorcery before in the same city, and bewitched the Samaritan people, pretending that he was something great.

10. And they all looked upon him, both small and great, and said: This is the power of God, which is great.

11. And they looked upon him because he had long bewitched them with his magic.

12. And when they believed the preaching of Philip concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of JESUS Christ, both men and women were baptized.

13. Then Simon also believed, and was baptized, and stood by Philip. And when he saw the signs and the deeds that were done, he marvelled.

(Epistle on Pentecost Tuesday.)

14. And when the apostles heard at Jerusalem that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John.

15. Which when they were come down, they prayed over them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost.

16. (For he was not yet fallen on any, but were baptized alone in the name of Christ JEsu.) 17. Then they laid hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost:]

18. And when Simon saw that the Holy Ghost was given when the apostles laid their hands on him, he offered them money.

19. Saying, Give me also power, that if I lay hands on any man, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20. And Peter said unto him, That thou shouldest be condemned with thy money, that thou shouldest think that the gift of God is obtained by money.

21. Thou shalt not have any part nor any pleasure in this word: for thy heart is not righteous in the sight of God.

22. Therefore repent of this thy wickedness, and ask God whether the wickedness of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23. For I see that thou art full of bitter gall, and bound up in iniquity.

24. And Simon answered and said, Pray ye the LORD for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken of come upon me.

25. And they, when they had testified and spoken the word of the LORD, returned again to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel to many Samaritan villages.

26. And the angel of the LORD spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south into the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desolate.

27. And he arose, and went his way. And, behold, a man of the land of Moor, an officer and ruler of the queen Candaze in the land of Moor, which was over all her treasures, came to Jerusalem to worship,

28. And he returned home, and sat in his chariot, and read the prophet Isaiah.

29. And the Spirit said unto Philip, Go thy way, and stand by this chariot.

30. Then Philip ran and heard him reading Isaiah the prophet, and said, Understandest thou also what thou readest?

31. And he said, How can I, except some man lead me? And exhorted Philip to stand, and sat with him.

32. And the content of the scripture which he read was this, He is as a sheep led to the slaughter, and is as a lamb before his shearer: so he hath not opened his mouth.

33. In his lowliness his judgment is taken away: but who shall speak out the length of his life?

For his life is taken away from the earth.

34. Then Philip the eunuch answered and said: I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet these things, of himself, or of some other?

35. And Philip opened his mouth, and began from this scripture, and preached unto him the gospel of JEsu.

36. And as they went along by the way, they came to a water. And the eunuch said, Behold, there is water; what hindereth me to be baptized?

37. And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, it may be so.

And he answered and said: I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.

38. And he commanded the chariot to stand still, and they went down into the water, both Philip and the eunuch: and he baptized him.

39. And when they were come up out of the water, the spirit of the LORD departed from Philip, and the eunuch saw him no more: but he went on his way rejoicing.

40. And Philip was found in Ashdod, and went about preaching the gospel in all the cities, until he came.

(Acts)

Chapter 9

The conversion of Paul. The miraculous work of Peter, performed on Aneas and Tabea.

(Epistle on the day of Paul's conversion.)

1. And Saul, while he yet spake against the disciples of the LORD, with threats and murders, went to the high priest.

2. And besought him to send letters to Damascus unto the synagogues, that, if he found any that way, both men and women, he might bring them bound to Jerusalem.

3. And when he was in the way, and was come nigh unto Damascus, suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven.

4. And he fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

5. And he said, Lord, who art thou? And the LORD said: I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest. It shall be hard for thee to lick against the sting.

6. And he said with trembling and with fear, Lord, what wilt thou that I should do? And the LORD said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and they shall tell thee what thou shalt do.

7. And the men that were his companions stood still, and were troubled: for they heard a voice, and saw no man.

8. And Saul arose from the earth, and when he had opened his eyes, he saw no man. And they took him by the hand, and led him to Damascus.

9. And was three days without sight, and did neither eat nor drink.

10. And there was a disciple in Damascus named Ananias, to whom the LORD said in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Here am I, O Lord.

11. And the LORD said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called the right way, and inquire in the house of Judas for Saul, whose name is Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth.

12. And he saw in a vision a man named Ananias come in unto him, and lay his hand upon him to restore his sight.

13. And Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard of many concerning this man, how much evil he hath done unto thy saints at Jerusalem.

14. And he hath power here from among the chief priests to bind all them that call upon thy name.

15. And the LORD said unto him, Go thy way: for this is my chosen armour, to bear my name before the heathen, and before kings, and before the children of Israel.

16. I will show him how much he must suffer for my name's sake.

17. And Ananias went and came into the house, and laid his hands upon him, and said, Brother Saul, the LORD hath sent me, which appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18. And straightway it fell from his eyes like scales, and he recovered his sight.

19. And arose, and was baptized, and took meat, and strengthened himself. And Saul was some days with the disciples at Damascus.

20. And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he was the Son of God.

21. And they were all amazed when they heard it, and said: Is not this he that destroyeth all them at Jerusalem which call upon this name, and cometh hither to bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22. And Saul waxed stronger and stronger, and drove the Jews that dwelt at Damascus into a strait, and proved that this is the Christ].

23. And after many days the Jews held a council together, that they might kill him.

24. But it was known unto Saul, that they pursued after him. And they watched at the gates day and night, that they might kill him.

25. Then the disciples took him by night, and put him through the wall, and let him down in a basket.

26. And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he sought to join himself to the disciples: and they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27. And Barnabas took him, and brought him unto the apostles, and told them how he had seen the Lord in the street, and how he had talked with him, and how he had preached the name of Jesus freely at Damascus.

28. And he was with them, going out and coming in at Jerusalem, and preaching the name of the LORD JESU freely.

29. He also spake and consulted with the Greeks: but they pursued after him, that they slew him.

30. And when the brethren heard of it, they led him to Caesarea, and sent him to Tarsus.

31. So the church had peace throughout all Judea, and Galilee, and Samaria, and was edified, and walked in the fear of the LORD, and was filled with the consolation of the Holy Ghost.

32. And it came to pass, as Peter passed through every place, that he came also unto the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33. And there he found a man named Aeneas, which had been eight years in the bed, and was sick of the palsy.

34. And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and pray for thyself.

And straightway he arose.

35. And all they that dwelt in Lydda and in Saron saw him, and turned unto the LORD.

36. Now in Joppa there was a disciple named Tabea, which is interpreted, She was full of good works and alms which she did.

37. And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died. So they washed her, and laid her in the upper room.

38. Now Lydda being near Joppa, when the disciples heard that Peter was there, they sent two men unto him, exhorting him that he would not neglect to come unto them.

39. And Peter arose, and came with them. And when he was come, they led him up into the upper chamber, and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing him the robes and garments which the dear made, when she was with them.

40. And when Peter had driven them all out, he kneeled down, and prayed, and turned to the body, and said, Tabea, arise. And she opened her eyes; and when she saw Peter, she sat down again.

41. And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and called the saints and widows, and presented them alive.

42. And it was made known throughout all Joppa, and many believed on the LORD.

43. And it came to pass, that he abode a long time in Joppa with one Simon, which was a tanner.

(Acts)

Chapter 10

Peter's sermon in the house of the centurion Cornelius.

1. Now there was a man in Caesarea named Cornelius, a centurion of the band which is called the Guelph,

2. Godly and fearing God with all his house, and giving much alms to the people, and praying always to GOD.

3. And he saw in a vision, as it were, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in unto him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4. And he looked upon him, and was afraid, and said, Lord, what is it? And he said unto him, Thy prayer and thine alms are come up in remembrance before God.

5. And now send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter, 6. Which is lodged with Simon the tanner, whose house is by the sea; and he shall tell thee what thou shalt do.

7. And when the angel that talked with Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a godly soldier of them that waited upon him,

8. And he told them all, and sent them to Joppa.

9. And the next day, when they were in the way, and were come nigh unto the city, Peter went up into the high place to pray about the sixth hour.

10. And when he was hungry, he would have eaten. And when they had prepared for him, he was glad.

11. And he saw heaven opened, and a vessel descending unto him, as it were a large linen cloth, bound with four corners, and let down to the earth.

12. In them were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13. And there came a voice unto him, saying, Arise, Peter, slay, and eat.

14. And Peter said, O no, Lord: for I have never eaten any thing common or unclean.

15. And the voice said unto him again, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common.

16. And this was done three times: and the vessel was taken up again into heaven.

17. And when Peter had inquired within himself what the vision was that he had seen, behold, the men which were sent by Cornelius inquired of Simon's house, and stood at the door, 18. And called and inquired whether Simon, whose surname was Peter, was there to lodging.

19. And when Peter had considered the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20. But arise, go down, and go with them, and doubt nothing: for I have sent them.

21. Then Peter went down unto the men which were sent unto him by Cornelius, and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the matter wherefore ye are here?

22. And they said: Cornelius the centurion, a devout and godly man, and of good report among all the people of the Jews, hath received a commandment of the holy angel, that he should require thee to come into his house, and hear words of thee.

23. Then he called them in, and lodged them. And the next day Peter went out with them; and certain brethren of Joppa went with him.

24. And the next day they came to Caesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and called together his kinsmen and his friends.

25. And when Peter was come in, Cornelius went out to meet him, and fell at his feet, and worshipped him.

26. And Peter lifted him up, and said, Arise; I also am a man.

27. And when he had consulted with him, he went in, and found them many that were come together.

28. And he said unto them: Ye know how unusual a thing it is for a Jewish man to do, or to come to a stranger; but God hath shewed me not to call any man common or unclean.

29. Wherefore I refused not to come when I was called. Now therefore I ask you, why ye sent for me?

30. Cornelius said: I fasted four days until this hour, and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house.

And, behold, a man stood before me in a bright garment.

31. And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are remembered before God.

32. Send therefore to Joppa, and call for a Simon, whose surname is Peter, which is lodged in the house of Simon the tanner by the sea; and he shall tell thee, when he cometh.

33. And I sent unto thee from that hour. And you have done well that you came. Now we are all here present before God, to hear all that is commanded you by God.

(Epistle on Easter Monday.)

34. And Peter opened his mouth, and said, Now I know with a truth that God regardeth not the person,

35. But in all people, he that feareth him, and doeth righteousness, is acceptable unto him.

36. Ye know well the preaching which God sent unto the children of Israel, proclaiming peace through JESUS CHRIST (who is Lord over all),

37. Which was done throughout all the land of Judaea, beginning at Galilee, after the baptism which John preached:

38. As God anointed the same Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil: for God was with him.

39. And we are witnesses of all that he did in the land of Judah, and in Jerusalem. They have killed him, and hanged him on a tree.

40. The same God raised up the third day, and made him manifest, 41. not to all the people, but to us, the chosen witnesses of GOD, who ate and drank with him after he rose from the dead].

(Epistle on Pentecost Monday.)

42. And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that he is ordained of GOD a judge of the quick and the dead.

43. Of whom all the prophets testify, that through his name all who believe in him shall receive forgiveness of sins.

44. While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell upon all them that heard the word.

45. And the believers of the circumcision, which were come with Peter, were astonished, because the gift of the Holy Ghost was poured out upon the Gentiles also.

46. For they heard that they spake with tongues, and glorified God. Then Peter answered: 47. Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost, as we also have? 48. And commanded to baptize them in the name of the LORD]. And they besought him to tarry there some days.

(Acts)

Chapter 11

Peter's protective speech. Conversion of the Gentiles. Planting of the church at Antioch.

1. Now it came to pass, that the apostles and brethren which were in the land of Judaea, that the Gentiles also received the word of God.
2. And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision quarreled with him,
3. And said: Thou wentest in unto the men that had foreskin, and didst eat with them.
4. And Peter began to tell them one by one, saying:
5. I was in the city of Joppa praying, and was delighted, and saw a vision, even a vessel descending like a great linen cloth with four corners, and coming down from heaven unto me.
6. And I looked therein, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.
7. And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter, slay, and eat.
8. And I said, O no, O Lord: for there hath never entered into my mouth any foul or unclean thing.
9. But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, make not thou common.
10. And this was done three times; and all were drawn up again into heaven.
11. And, behold, from that hour there stood three men before the house where I was, sent unto me from Caesarea.
12. And the Spirit said unto me, I should go with them, and not doubt. And there came with me these six brethren, and we went into the man's house.
13. And he told us how he had seen an angel standing in his house, saying unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter;

14. He shall speak words unto thee, that thou mayest be saved, and all thy house.

15. And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell upon them, as upon us at the first.

16. Then remembered I the word of the LORD, when he said, John baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17. If therefore God hath given them the same gifts as He hath given us, who believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, who was I that I could gainsay God?

18. And when they heard it, they held their peace, and praised God, saying, Thus hath God also given repentance unto the Gentiles unto life.

19. And they that were scattered abroad in the tribulation that arose against Stephen went about as far as Phoenicia, and Cyprus, and Antioch, speaking the word to none but to the Jews only.

20. And there were certain of them, men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which came to Antioch, and spake also unto the Greeks, preaching the gospel of the LORD JESU.

21. And the hand of the LORD was with them, and a great number believed, and turned unto the LORD.

22. And these sayings of theirs came to the ears of the church which was at Jerusalem: and they sent Barnabas to go as far as Antioch,

23. Which when he was come, and saw the grace of God, he rejoiced, and exhorted them all to cleave unto the LORD with a steadfast heart.

24. For he was a devout man, full of the Holy Ghost and of faith. And there was a great people devoted unto the LORD.

25. And Barnabas went out to Tarsus to seek Saul again.

26. And when he had found him, he led him to Antioch. And they abode with the church a whole year, teaching much people: wherefore the disciples were called Christians at the first in Antioch.

27. In those days there came prophets from Jerusalem to Antioch.

28. And one of them, named Agabus, arose and foretold by the Spirit a great plague which was to come upon the whole world, which took place in the reign of Claudius the emperor.

29. But among the disciples every man, as soon as he was able, determined to send a hand to the brethren which dwelt in Judaea;

30. As they did, and sent it to the elders by the hand of Barnabas and Saul.

(Acts)

Chapter 12

The martyrdom of James. Deliverance of Peter: Herod's downfall.

(Epistle to the days of Peter and Paul.)

1. About the same time Herod the king laid hands on some of the congregation to chastise them.

2. And he slew James the brother of John with the sword.

3. And when he saw that it pleased the Jews, he went on, and caught Peter also. Now these were the days of sweet bread.

4. And when he had taken him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quarters of soldiers to keep him, intending to present him to the people after the feast.

5. And Peter was kept in prison, but the church prayed to God for him without ceasing.

6. And when Herod was about to present him, that night Peter slept between two soldiers bound with two chains; and the keepers of the door kept the prison.

7. And, behold, the angel of the LORD came, and a light shined in the chamber, and smote Peter on the side, and awoke him, saying, Arise quickly. And the chains fell from his hands.

8. And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and put on thy shoes. And he did so. And he said unto him, Cast thy cloak about thee, and follow me.

9. And he went out, and followed him, and knew not that these things were truly done unto him by the angel; but it seemed unto him that he saw a vision.

10. And they passed through the first and second ward, and came to the iron door that leadeth into the city, which opened of itself unto them. And they went out, and walked along the street: and straightway the angel departed from him.

11. And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now verily I know that the LORD hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the waiting of the people of the Jews].

12. And when he had considered, he came into the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark, where many were gathered together praying.

13. And when Peter knocked at the door of the gate, there came forth a maid to hear, named Rhode.

14. And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for joy, but ran in, and told them that Peter stood at the gate.

15. And they said unto her, Thou art foolish. But she insisted it was so. They said: It is his angel.

16. And Peter knocked again. And when they opened, they saw him, and were amazed.

17. And he beckoned them with his hand to hold their peace, and told them how the LORD had brought him out of prison, saying, Declare this unto James and the brethren. And he went out, and departed into another place.

18. And when it was day, there was not the least anxiety among the soldiers, how Peter might have fared.

19. And Herod, when he had required him, and found him not, justified the keepers, and commanded them to be carried away, and went down from Judaea to Caesarea, and kept his company there.

20. For he was minded to war against the men of Tyre and Sidon. And they came unto him with one accord, and persuaded the king's chamberlain Blastus, and asked peace, that their lands might feed upon the king's land.

21. But on a certain day Herod put on the royal robe, and sat on the judgment seat, and made a speech to them.

22. And the people cried out, saying, This is the voice of God, and not of man.

23. Immediately the angel of the LORD smote him, because he gave not the glory to God; and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24. But the word of God increased and multiplied.

25. And Barnabas and Saul came again to Jerusalem, and delivered up the hand, taking with them John, whose surname was Mark.

(Acts)

Chapter 13

Paul's first journey to the Gentiles, and what he did among them.

1. Now there were in Antioch prophets and teachers in the church, namely, Barnabas, and Simon called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen, brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.
2. And as they were ministering unto the Lord, and fasting, the Holy Ghost said, Send me forth Barnabas and Saul unto the work whereunto I have called them.
3. Then they fasted, and prayed, and laid hands on them, and let them go.
4. And when they were sent forth by the Holy Ghost, they came to Seleucia, and from thence they toiled to Cyprus.
5. And when they were come into the city of Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had John also to minister unto them.
6. And as they passed through the island unto the city of Paphos, they found a sorcerer and a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jehu.
7. He was with Sergius Paul the governor, a man of understanding. The same called Barnabas and Saul unto him, and desired to hear the word of God.
8. Then Elymas the sorcerer (for so his name is interpreted) stood against them, and sought to turn the governor from the faith.
9. And Saul, who is also called Paul, full of the Holy Ghost, looked upon him.
10. And said, O thou child of the devil, full of all guile and cunning, and enemy to all righteousness! Thou ceasest not to turn aside the right ways of the LORD.
11. And now, behold, the hand of the LORD cometh upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, and shalt not see the sun for a season. And from that hour darkness and gloom fell upon him: and he went about seeking the ladder of hands.
12. When the governor saw the story, he believed, and marvelled at the doctrine of the LORD.
13. And when Paul and they that were about him were shipped from Paphos, they came to Perge in the land of Pamphylia. But John departed from them, and went again to Jerusalem.

14. And they passed through from Perge, and came to Antioch in the land of Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

15. And after the lesson of the law and of the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Brethren, if ye will speak any thing, and exhort the people, tell them 16. Then Paul stood up, and beckoned with his hand, and said: Ye men of Israel, and ye that fear God, hear me.

17. The God of this people hath chosen our fathers, and hath lifted up the people, when they were strangers in the land of Egypt; and with a high arm brought them out of the same.

18. And for forty years he tolerated their ways in the wilderness.

19. And he destroyed seven nations in the land of Canaan, and divided among them according to the lot of those countries.

20. And after that he gave them judges four hundred and fifty years, except Samuel the prophet.

21. And from that time they asked for a king. And God gave them Saul the son of Kish, a man of the family of Benjamin, forty years.

22. And when he had put him away, he raised up David king over them, of whom he testified: I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after my own heart, who shall do all my will.

23. Of this seed hath God, as he promised, begotten JESUS a Saviour unto the people of Israel, 24. When John before began to preach the baptism of repentance unto the people of Israel.

25. And when John had run his course, he said, I am not he whom ye think me to be: but, behold, he cometh after me, of whom I am not worthy to loose the shoes of his feet.

(Epistle on Easter Tuesday.)

26. Ye men, brethren, children of the seed of Abraham, and them that fear God among you, unto you is sent the word of this salvation.

27. For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, not knowing this, nor the voice of the prophets (which are read every sabbath day), have filled them with their judgment.

28. And though they found no cause of death in him, yet they besought Pilate to put him to death.

29. And when they had finished all that was written of him, they took him down from the wood, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30. But God raised him from the dead.
31. And he appeared many days unto them that went up with him from Galilee unto Jerusalem, which are his witnesses unto the people.
32. And we also declare unto you the promise which was made unto our fathers, 33. That the same God hath fulfilled us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus;] as it is written in another psalm, Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee.
34. And when he hath raised him from the dead, that he should no more perish, thus saith he: I will faithfully keep the grace promised to David.
35. Therefore saith he also in the other place, Thou wilt not suffer thy saint to see corruption.
36. For David, when he had served the will of God in his days, fell asleep, and joined his fathers, and saw corruption.
37. But whom God hath raised up, he hath not seen corruption.
38. Be it known unto you therefore, brethren, that there is preached unto you remission of sins by this, and of all things, whereby ye could not be justified in the law of Moses.
39. But he that believeth on him is righteous.
40. Take heed therefore that those things which are spoken in the prophets come not upon you: 41. Behold, ye despisers, and marvel, and be confounded: for I do a work in your days, which ye shall not believe, if any man tell you.
42. And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought them to speak unto them between the sabbaths.
43. And when the church of the synagogue was departed from one another, there followed after Paul and Barnabas many Jews, and the godly of the Jews. And they saw them, and exhorted them to abide in the grace of God.
44. And on the next sabbath almost the whole city came together to hear the word of God.
45. And when the Jews saw the people, they were filled with envy, and contradicted the things which were spoken by Paul, and contradicted and blasphemed.
46. And Paul and Barnabas said openly, Ye had first to be told the word of God: but now ye cast it from you, and consider yourselves not worthy of eternal life, behold, we turn unto the Gentiles.

47. For thus hath the LORD commanded us: I have set thee for a light unto the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48. And when the Gentiles heard it, they were glad, and glorified the word of the LORD, and believed how many were ordained unto eternal life.

49. And the word of the LORD was spread abroad through all that region.

50. But the Jews moved the devout and honourable women, and the rulers of the city, and stirred up persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and cast them out of their borders.

51. And they shook the dust off their feet upon them, and came to Iconium.

52. And the disciples were filled with joy and with the Holy Ghost.

(Acts)

Chapter 14

Paul's return to Antioch, and what happened on the way.

1. And it came to pass in Iconium, that they came together, and preached in the synagogue of the Jews; so that a great multitude of the Jews and of the Greeks believed.

2. And the unbelieving Jews stirred up and provoked the souls of the Gentiles against the brethren.

3. So then they had their being there a long time, and taught freely in the LORD, who testified of the word of his grace, and wrought signs and wonders by their hands.

4. And the multitude of the city was divided, some with the Jews, and some with the apostles.

5. And when there arose a tempest of the Gentiles, and of the Jews, and of their rulers, to revile them, and to stone them,

6. And they perceived it, and fled into the cities of the land of Lycaonia, to Lystra and Derbe, and into the country round about.

7. And preached the gospel there.

8. And there was a man in Lystra, which had to sit: for he had evil feet, and was lame from his mother's womb, and had never walked.

9. And he heard Paul speak. And when he looked at him, and saw that he thought he was to be helped,

10. And he said with a loud voice, Arise uprightly upon thy feet. And he sprang up, and walked.

11. And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voice, and said in Lycaon, The gods are become like unto men, and are come down unto us.

12. And they called Barnabas Jupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because he spake the word.

13. And the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gate, and would have sacrificed with the people.

14. And when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard it, they rent their clothes, and leaped among the people, crying out

15. And said: Ye men, what do ye? We also are mortal men like unto you, and preach unto you the gospel, that ye should be converted from that which is false unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that is therein;

16. Who in times past made all the heathen walk in their own ways.

17. For he hath not left himself unproved, hath done us much good, hath given us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, hath filled our hearts with food and gladness.

18. And when they had said these things, they hardly quieted the people, that they sacrificed not unto them.

19. And there came Jews from Antioch and Iconium, and persuaded the people, and stoned Paul, and dragged him out of the city, thinking that he was dead.

20. And when the disciples compassed him about, he arose, and went into the city. And the next day he went out with Barnabas to Derbe.

21. And preached the gospel to that city, and instructed them much, and went again to Lystra, and Iconium, and Antioch,

22. Strengthened the souls of the disciples, exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that through much tribulation we must enter into the kingdom of God.

23. And they ordained them elders in the churches, praying and fasting, and commending them unto the LORD, in whom they believed.

24. And they passed through Pisidia, and came into Pamphylia.

25. And they spake the word in Perge, and went down to Attalia.

26. And from thence they toiled to Antioch, from whence they were ordained by the grace of God to the work which they had set forth.

27. And when they were come, they gathered the church together, and declared how much God had done for them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.

28. But they had not their being there a little while with the disciples.
(Acts)

Chapter 15

Council of the Apostles concerning circumcision and justification.

1. And certain came down from Judea, and taught the brethren, saying, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.

2. And when there was a tumult, and Paul and Barnabas had no small quarrel with them, they commanded that Paul and Barnabas, and certain others of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders for this question.

3. And they were led by the church, and went through Phoenicia and Samaria, and told the manner of the Gentiles, and made all the brethren great joy.

4. And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles, and of the elders. And they declared how much God had done for them.

5. And there arose certain of the sect of the Pharisees that believed, and said: They must be circumcised, and commanded to keep the law of Moses.

6. But the apostles and elders came together to consider this speech.

7. And when they had long contended, Peter arose, and said unto them: Men, brethren, ye know that God hath long before this time shewed among us that by my mouth the Gentiles heard the word of the gospel, and believed.

8. And God, the Saviour of hearts, testified against them, and gave them the Holy Spirit, even as He gave us.

9. And made no distinction between us and them, and purified their hearts by faith.

10. Why then do ye tempt God by putting a yoke upon the necks of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we have been able to bear?

11. But we believe that by the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved even as they.

12. Then all the multitude held their peace, and hearkened unto Paul and Barnabas, which told how great signs and wonders God had done by them among the Gentiles.

13. After this, when they had held their peace, James answered and said: Ye men, brethren, hear me.

14. Simon hath told how at the first God visited and accepted a people out of the Gentiles unto his name.

15. And the words of the prophets are according to that which is written: 16. And afterward I will come again, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is broken down, and the breaches thereof will I build again, and will raise it up.

17. That whatsoever is left of men may inquire of the LORD, and of all the heathen concerning whom my name is called, saith the LORD that doeth all these things.

18. God is aware of all His works from the world.

19. Therefore I decree that they which turn unto God from among the heathen be not troubled, 20. But write unto them, that they abstain from uncleanness of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.

21. For Moses hath of old time been preached in all the cities that preach him, and is read every sabbath day in the synagogues:

22. And it seemed good unto the apostles and elders, and to all the church, to choose of them men, and to send them to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas, even Judas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Silas, which men were teachers among the brethren.

23. And they gave writing in their hand, saying, We the apostles, and elders, and brethren, wish salvation unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles, which are in Antioch, and Syria, and Cilicia.

24. Because we have heard that some of our own have gone out, and have deceived you with doctrines, and have destroyed your souls, saying that ye ought to be circumcised, and to keep the law, which we have not commanded.

25. It hath seemed good unto us, gathered together with one accord, to choose men, and to send them unto you with our beloved; Barnabas and Paul,

26. Which men have offered up their souls for the name of our Lord Jesu Christ.

27. Thus have we sent Judas and Silas, who also shall declare the same things with words.

28. For it pleaseth the Holy Ghost, and us, to lay no more burden upon you, but these necessary things,

29. That ye abstain from things sacrificed unto idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which, if ye abstain, ye do well. Fare ye well.

30. And when these were finished, they came to Antioch, and gathered the multitude together, and delivered the letter.

31. And when they read it, they were glad of comfort.

32. And Judas and Silas, which were also prophets, exhorted the brethren with many sayings, and strengthened them.

33. And when they had passed away for a season, they were sent away in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34. And it pleased Silas to tarry there.

35. And Paul and Barnabas had their being at Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the LORD with many others.

36. And after some days Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again, and see our brethren through all the cities wherein we have preached the word of the LORD, how they keep themselves.

37. And Barnabas gave counsel that they should take with them John, whose surname was Mark.

38. But Paul saw fit that they should not take with them such a one as departed from them in Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.

39. And they came together sharply, so that they departed from one another: and Barnabas took Mark, and sailed to Cyprus.

40. And Paul chose Silas, and went, commanded of the brethren by the grace of God.

41. And he went through Syria and Cilicia, and strengthened the churches.

(Acts)

Chapter 16

Paul's execution and suffering in Lystra, Asia and Bithynia, Troas and Philippi.

1. And he came to Derbe and Lystra: and, behold, there was there a disciple named Timotheus, the son of a Jewess, which believed, but of a Greek father.
2. Who had a good report among the brethren of the Lystrans, and of Iconium.
3. And Paul, willing to let him go with him, took him, and circumcised him, for the Jews' sakes, which were in the same place: for they all knew that his father was a Greek.
4. And as they passed through the cities, they charged them to keep the sentence which was decreed by the apostles and elders at Jerusalem.
5. Then the churches were strengthened in the faith, and increased in number daily.
6. And as they passed through Phrygia and the country of Galatia, they were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to speak the word in Asia.
7. And when they were come to Mysia, they sought to pass through Bithynia; and the Spirit suffered them not.
8. And when they were passed by Mysia, they came down to Troas.
9. And there appeared unto Paul a vision by night, a man of Macedonia standing, and beseeching him, saying, Come down into Macedonia, and help us.
10. And when he had seen the vision, we sought immediately to go into Macedonia, assuredly that the Lord had called us thither to preach the gospel unto them.
11. So we departed from Troas, and straightway we came to Samothrace, and the next day to Neapolis.
12. And thence to Philippi, which is the capital of the land of Macedonia, and a free city. And we dwelt in that city some days.
13. And it came to pass on the sabbath day, that we went out of the city unto the waters where they worshipped, and sat down, and spake unto the women that were gathered together.
14. And a godly woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, was listening; to whom the Lord opened her heart, that she might give heed to the things which were spoken of Paul.
15. And when she and her house were baptized, she exhorted us, saying, If ye esteem me a believer in the LORD, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.

16. And it came to pass, as we went to the prayer, that a certain maid met us, which had a spirit of divination, and did much pleasure to her masters in divination.

17. These followed Paul and us everywhere, crying out and saying, These men are servants of GOD, the Most High, who proclaim to you the way of salvation.

18. And she did so many days. But Paul was pained at this, and turned and said unto the spirit: I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ, that thou depart from her. And he departed at that very hour.

19. And when their lords saw that the hope of their enjoyment was gone, they took Paul and Silas, and brought them into the market before the rulers.

20. And they brought them unto the captains, and said: These men make our city mad, and are Jews

21. Proclaiming a manner which it behooveth us not to receive nor to do, because we are Romans.

22. And the people were aroused against them. And the captains rent them their clothes, and beat them.

23. And when they had beheaded them, they cast them into prison, and commanded the keeper of the prison that he should keep them safe.

24. And he accepted such a commandment, and cast them into the innermost prison, and put their feet into the stocks.

25. And about midnight Paul and Silas prayed, praising God. And they heard the prisoners.

26. And quickly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken.

And from that time all the doors were opened, and all the bands were loosed.

27. And when the jailer arose out of sleep, and saw the doors of the prison opened, he drew out his sword, and would have slain himself: for he thought that the prisoners had escaped.

28. And Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thee no harm: for we are all here.

29. And he asked for a light, and leaped in, and trembled, and fell at the feet of Paul and Silas.

30. And brought them forth, and said, Sirs, what shall I do to be saved?

31. And they said. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, thou and thy house.

32. And they told him the word of the LORD, and all that were in his house.

33. And he took them unto him in that hour of the night, and washed their sores; and he was baptized, and all his own immediately.

34. And he brought them into his house, and set them a table, and rejoiced with all his house that he had believed in GOD.

35. And when it was day, the captains of the cities sent servants, saying: Let the people go.

36. And the keeper of the prison declared these words unto Paul, saying, The captains have sent to loose you. Now therefore go forth, and depart in peace.

37. And Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly without judgment, being Romans, and have cast us into prison, and now shall they cast us out privily? Not so; but let them come themselves, and bring us out.

38. And the servants of the city told these words unto the captains: and they were afraid, because they heard that they were Romans,

39. And came and exhorted them, and brought them out, and besought them to go out of the city.

40. And they went out of the prison, and went to Lydia. And when they had seen the brethren, and were comforted, they departed.

(Acts)

Chapter 17

Paul's execution and repugnance in Thessalonica, Berea and Athens.

1. And as they journeyed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica. There was a school of the Jews.

2. After Paul therefore was accustomed, he went in unto them, and spake unto them of the scriptures three sabbaths,

3. And opened it unto them, and set it before them, that Christ must suffer, and rise again from the dead: and that this JEsus, whom I declare unto you, is the Christ.

4. And some of them fell to him, and joined themselves to Paul and Silas, and to the godly Greeks a great multitude, and to the chief women not a few.

5. But the stiff-necked Jews envied, and took unto themselves certain wicked men of the rabble, and made a mob, and made a disturbance in the city, and came before the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out among the common people.

6. And when they found them not, they dragged Jason and certain brethren before the rulers of the city, crying out, These also that stir up the whole world are come hither; 7. Whom Jason hath sent for: and all these do contrary to Caesar's commandment, saying that another is king, even Jesus.

8. And they moved the people, and the rulers of the city, which heard these things.

9. And when they had received account from Jason and the rest, they let them go.

10. And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea. And when they were come thither, they entered into the synagogue of the Jews.

11. For they were the noblest of them that were in Thessalonica, which received the word very willingly, and searched the scriptures daily, whether it were so.

12. So then many of them believed, even of the respectable women and men of Greece not a few.

13. And when the Jews which were in Thessalonica heard that the word of God was preached of Paul also in Berea, they came and stirred up the people there also.

14. And the brethren immediately sent Paul away, that he might go unto the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there.

15. And they that led Paul led him as far as Athens. And when they had received commandment unto Silas and Timotheus, that they should come to him at the earliest, they departed.

16. And as Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was enraged within him, when he saw the city so utterly idolatrous.

17. And he spake unto the Jews and to the godly in the synagogue, and also in the market every day unto them that came near.

18. And some of the Epicureans and Stoic philosophers quarreled with him; and some said: What meaneth this fool? But some said, It seemeth as if he would preach new gods. So he had preached the gospel of Jesus and the resurrection to them.

19. And they took him, and led him into the judgment seat, and said: Can we also know what is this new doctrine which thou teachest?

20. For thou bringest a new thing before our ears: we would gladly know what it is.

21. But all the Athenians, even the foreigners and the sojourners, were intent on nothing else, but to say or to hear something new.

22. And Paul stood in the midst of the judgment seat, and said: Ye men of Athens, I see that ye are in all things too superstitious.

23. I passed through, and saw your worship, and found an altar written thereon: To the unknown God. Now I declare unto you the same, whom ye worship ignorantly.

24. God, which made the world, and all that is in it, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands.

25. Neither is he cared for by the hands of men, as needing any man, when he himself giveth life and breath to all men everywhere.

26. And hath made of one blood of all people kindreds to dwell upon all the face of the earth, and hath appointed a purpose beforehand, how long and how far they shall dwell, 27. That they should seek the Lord, if they might feel him, and find him. And he is not far from any of us;

28. For in him we live, and weave, and are; as also some poets have said among you: We are of his seed.

29. If we then be of the divine generation, let us not think that the Godhead is like unto graven images, and silver images, and images of stone, made with the thoughts of men.

30. And indeed God overlooked the time of ignorance; but now He gives all men in all places to repent,

31. Because he hath appointed a day in the which he will judge the world with righteousness by one man, in whom he hath ordained it, holding forth faith to every man, when he hath raised him from the dead.

32. When they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some had it in derision: but some said: We will hear thee further of it.

33. So Paul departed from them.

34. And certain men adhered to him, and believed: among whom was Dionysius, one of the council, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

(Acts)

Chapter 18

Paul at Corinth and on the journey to Antioch. Apollos to Ephesus.

1. After this Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth.

2. And found a certain Jew named Aquila, a native of Pontus, who had lately come from the Welsh country, with his wife Priscilla; because Claudius the emperor had commanded all the Jews to depart out of Rome.

3. And he went in unto them; and being of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: but they were carpetmakers of the same craft.

4. And he taught in the synagogue all the sabbaths, and communed both Jews and Greeks.

5. And when Silas and Timotheus were come out of Macedonia, the Spirit pressed upon Paul to testify unto the Jews that he was the Christ.

6. And when they had rebelled and blasphemed, he shook off their garments, and said unto them: Your blood be upon your head! I go henceforth pure unto the Gentiles.

7. And he departed from thence, and came to a house of one named Just, which feared God: and the house of that man was first at the synagogue.

8. And Crispus, the chief of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house: and many of the Corinthians which heard believed, and were baptized.

9. And the LORD said unto Paul by a vision in the night, Fear not; but speak not, neither hold thy peace.

10. For I am with thee, and no man shall think to hurt thee: for I have a great people in this city.

11. And he sat there a year and six months, and taught them the word of God.

12. And when Gallion was governor in Achaia, the Jews rose up with one accord against Paul, and brought him before the judgment seat.

13. and said: This one persuades people to serve God contrary to the law.

14. And when Paul was about to open his mouth, Gallion said unto the Jews, If it be an outrage or a mischief, O Jews, I hear you aright;
15. But because it is a question of doctrine, and of words, and of law among you, ye see for yourselves: I will not be a judge of it.
16. And drove them from the judgment seat.
17. Then all the Greeks took hold of Sostenes, the chief of the school, and smote him before the judgment seat: and Gallion took not.
18. And Paul tarried there a long time. And afterward he took his leave with the brethren, and would have sailed into Syria, and Priscilla and Aquila with him. And he shaved his head at Kenchrea: for he had a vow.
19. And came down to Ephesus, and left them there. And he went into the synagogue, and talked with the Jews.
20. And they besought him that he would tarry with them a longer time. And he consented not, 21. But made his departure with them, and said: I must keep the feast that is to come at Jerusalem; if God wills it, I will come to you again. And he departed from Ephesus.
22. And came to Caesarea, and went up, and greeted the church, and went down to Antioch.
23. And he tarried some time, and journeyed, and went through Galatia and Phrygia one after another, strengthening all the disciples.
24. And there came to Ephesus a certain Jew named Apollos, of the birth of Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures.
25. This man was instructed in the way of the LORD, and spake with a fervent spirit, and taught diligently of the LORD, knowing only the baptism of John.
26. And he began to preach freely in the synagogue. But when Aquila and Priscilla heard him, they took him and taught him the way of God even more diligently.
27. And when he was about to go to Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him. And when he was come, he helped them much that believed by grace.
28. For he overcame the Jews continually, and proved publicly by the scriptures that JESUS was the Christ.

(Acts)

Chapter 19

Paul's execution at Ephesus.

1. And it came to pass, while Apollos was at Corinth, that Paul went through the upper countries, and came to Ephesus, and found some disciples.
2. To whom said he, Have ye received the Holy Ghost, when ye believed? And they said unto him, Neither have we heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.
3. And he said unto them: Into what then were ye baptized? They said: In the baptism of John.
4. And Paul said, John baptized with the baptism of repentance, and told the people that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on JESUS, that he was the Christ.
5. And when they heard it, they were baptized in the name of the LORD JEsu.
6. And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came upon them, speaking with tongues, and prophesying.
7. And all the men were about twelve.
8. And he went into the synagogue, and preached freely three months, teaching and persuading them of the kingdom of God.
9. And when some were hardened, and believed not, and spake evil of the way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, and spake daily in the synagogue of one called Tyrannus.
10. And these things were two years: so that all they that dwelt in Asia heard the word of JESUS the LORD, both Jews and Greeks.
11. And God wrought no small deeds by the hands of Paul,
12. So that of his skin also they put sweatcloths and boils upon the sick, and the pestilences departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.
13. And certain of the Jews that were about, being conjurors, refrained from calling the name of JESUS the LORD upon them that had evil spirits, saying: We adjure you by Jesus, whom Paul preacheth.
14. And there were seven sons of a certain Jew, Skeva the high priest, which did these things.
15. But the evil spirit answered and said, I know JEsu, and I know Paul: but who are ye?

16. And the man in whom was the evil spirit leaped upon them, and had power over them, and cast them under him: so that they fled out of the same house naked and wounded.

17. And these things were made known unto all them that dwelt at Ephesus, both Jews and Greeks: and fear fell upon them all, and the name of the LORD JEsu was magnified.

18. There came also many of them that believed, and confessed and declared the things which they had wrought.

19. And many of them that had wrought a rash art gathered the books together, and burned them publicly, and reckoned the value thereof, and found fifty thousand pennies.

20. So mightily grew the word of the LORD, and prevailed.

21. When this was accomplished, Paul purposed in his mind to go through Macedonia and Achaia, and to walk toward Jerusalem, saying, After that, when I have been there, I must see Rome also.

22. And sent two to minister unto him, Timotheus and Erastus. Timotheus and Erastus, into Macedonia: but he tarried a while in Asia.

23. But about the same time there arose a not small movement over this way.

24. For one named Demetrius, a goldsmith, made temples of silver unto Diana, and made no small gain for them of the craft.

25. These he gathered together, and the assistants of the same craft, and said, Men, ye know that we have great access of this trade.

26. And ye see and hear, that not only in Ephesus, but also almost throughout all Asia, this Paul maketh many people foolish, persuading, saying, There are no gods made with hands.

27. Not only will our commerce come to nothing, but also the temple of the great goddess Diana will be esteemed as nothing, and her majesty will perish, to whom all Asia and the world worship.

28. And when they heard it, they were filled with wrath, and cried out, saying: Great is the Diana of the Ephesians!

29. And the whole city was filled with tumult. And they rushed with one accord to the scene, and seized Gaius and Aristarchus of Macedonia, Paul's companions.

30. But when Paul desired to go among the people, the disciples would not suffer him.

31. Some also of the rulers of Asia, which were good friends to Paul, sent unto him, exhorting him that he go not into the scene.
32. Some cried out so, and some another; and the church was astray, and most of them knew not why they were gathered together.
33. And some of the people drew Alexander forth, when the Jews thrust him out. But Alexander waved his hand, and would answer for himself before the people.
34. And when they knew that he was a Jew, there arose a voice from all, and cried out at two hours: Great is Diana of the Ephesians!
35. And when the chancellor had quieted the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not that the city of Ephesus is the nurse of the great goddess Diana, and of the heavenly image?
36. Forasmuch then as these things are irrefragable, ye shall be quiet, and do nothing rash.
37. you have brought these people here who are neither robbers of the church nor blasphemers of your goddess.
38. And if Demetrius, and they that are with him of the craft, have any claim against any man, then there shall be judgment, and there shall be governors: let them sue one another.
39. But if ye would do otherwise, it may be done in a proper church.
40. For we are in danger of being accused for this present outrage, and yet there is no cause to excuse us for this outrage. And when he had said these things, he sent the congregation away.

(Acts)

Chapter 20

Paul's journey to Troas and Miletus, and what he did there.

1. When the uproar was ceased, Paul called the disciples unto him, and blessed them, and departed to go into Macedonia.
2. And when he had passed through these countries, and had exhorted them with many words, he came into Greece, and tarried there three months.
3. And when the Jews pursued him, as he was going into Syria, he was advised to turn again by the way of Macedonia.
4. And there went with him into Asia Sopater of Berea; and of Thessalonica Aristarchus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus; and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus.

5. These went on before, and harried us at Troas.
6. And we sailed from Philippi after the days of the passover unto the fifth day, and came unto them to Troas, and had our being there seven days.
7. Now on a sabbath day, when the disciples were come together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, and would have departed the next day, delaying the word until midnight.
8. And there were many torches in the upper chamber, when they were gathered together.
9. And there sat a certain young man named Eutychus in a window, and fell into a deep sleep, because Paul spake so long: and he was overcome with sleep, and fell down from the third storey, and was taken up dead.
10. And Paul went down, and fell upon him, and compassed him about, saying, Make no tumult: for his soul is in him.
11. And he went up, and brake bread, and did eat, and talked much with them, until the day dawned: and so he departed.
12. And they brought the lad alive, and were not a little comforted.
13. And we went forward in the ship, and sailed to Assos, and there would take Paul with us: for he had so commanded, and would go on foot.
14. And when he smote us at Assos, we took him, and came to Mitylene.
15. And from thence we sailed, and came the next day to Chios; and the next day we came to Samos, and stayed at Trogyllion; and the next day we came to Miletus.
16. For Paul had determined to pass by Ephesus, that he should not spend time in Asia: for he hasted to be at Jerusalem for the day of Pentecost, if it were possible for him.
17. And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, calling for the elders of the church.
18. And when they were come to him, he said unto them. Ye have known since the first day that I came into Asia, how that I have always been with you.
19. And served the LORD with all humility, and with many tears and temptations, which happened unto me of the Jews that followed me;

20. As I have not behaved any thing that is profitable, except I have preached unto you, and have taught you publicly and specially.

21. And have testified both to the Jews and to the Greeks of repentance toward God, and of faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.

22. And now, behold, I, being bound in the spirit, go unto Jerusalem, not knowing what shall befall me there,

23. Without the Holy Ghost testifying in every city, saying, Trouble and anguish wait for me there.

24. But I regard none: neither do I count my life dear unto myself, that I may finish my course with joy, and the ministry which I have received of the LORD JESU, to testify of the gospel of the grace of GOD.

25. And now, behold, I know that ye shall see my face no more, all they through whom I passed, preaching the kingdom of God.

26. Therefore I testify unto you this day, that I am clean from all blood;

27. For I have not behaved unto you, that I have not declared all the counsel of God.

28. Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and unto all the flock, among whom the Holy Ghost hath made you bishops, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased by his own blood.

29. For this I know, that after my departure there shall come among you grievous wolves, which shall not spare the flock.

30. Even from among yourselves shall arise men speaking perverse doctrines, to draw the disciples unto themselves.

31. Wherefore be ye valiant, and remember that I have not ceased three years to warn every man with tears day and night.

32. And now, brethren, I commend you to GOD, and to the word of his grace, which is mighty to establish you, and to give you an inheritance among all them that are sanctified.

33. I have not desired your silver, nor your gold, nor your raiment.

34. For ye yourselves know that these hands have ministered unto me for my need, and for them that were with me.

35. I have shewed you all things, that it is necessary to work, and to receive the weak, and to remember the word of JESUS the LORD, which he spake: It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36. And when he had said these things, he kneeled down and prayed with them all.

37. And there was much weeping among them all, and they fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him, 38. Most grieved at the word which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And escorted him into the ship.

(Acts)

Chapter 21

Paul's journey from Miletus to Jerusalem, and what he did and endured there.

1. And it came to pass, when we were turned from them, that we came running straightway to Kos, and the next day to Rhodus, and thence to Patara.

2. And when we found a ship going to Phoenicia, we got into it, and went.

3. And when we saw Cyprus, we left her on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and arrived at Tyre: for there the ship was to lay up the merchandise.

4. And when we had found disciples, we abode there seven days. And they told Paul by the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.

5. And it came to pass, when we had spent the days, that we went out and walked. And they escorted us all, with wives and children, unto the uttermost part of the city, and kneeled down by the riverside, and prayed.

6. And when we had blessed one another, we entered into the ship: but they turned again to their own.

7. And we took ship from Tyre, and came to Ptolemais, and greeted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8. And the next day we that were about Paul departed, and came to Caesarea, and entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven, and abode with him.

9. The same had four daughters, which were virgins, and prophesied.

10. And it came to pass, as we tarried more days, that a prophet came down from Judaea, named Agabus, and came unto us.

11. And he took Paul's girdle, and bound his hands and his feet, and said, These things saith the Holy Ghost: The man whose girdle is this shall the Jews bind at Jerusalem, and deliver into the hands of the Gentiles.

12. And when we heard these things, we besought him, and they that were of the same place, that he would not go up to Jerusalem.

13. And Paul answered, Why do ye weep, and break my heart? For I am ready not only to be bound, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.

14. But when he would not be persuaded, we held our peace, and said: The will of the LORD be done.

15. And after those days we removed, and went up to Jerusalem.

16. And there came with us also certain disciples from Caesarea, and brought us unto one named Mnason, of Cyprus, which was an old disciple, with whom we lodged.

17. And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.

18. And the next day Paul went in with us unto James, and the elders all came thither.

19. And when he had greeted them, he told them one by one what God had done among the Gentiles by his ministry.

20. And when they heard it, they praised the LORD, and said unto him, Brother, thou seest how many thousands of the Jews there are which have believed, and are all zealous for the law.

21. And they were reported against thee, because thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to fall away from Moses, and sayest that they should not circumcise their children, neither walk after the same manner.

22. What is it then? The multitude must come together: for it shall come to pass before them, that thou art come.

23. Do therefore what we say unto thee:

24. We have four men, which have a vow upon them: take the same unto thee, and be cleansed with them, and bear the charge upon them, that they may give their head, and that they all may know that it is not what they have reported against thee, but that thou also wentest, and hadst the law.

25. For unto the Gentile believers we have written, and ordained that they should keep none of these things, but that they should keep themselves from things sacrificed unto idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication.

26. Then Paul took the men, and was cleansed the next day with them, and went into the temple, and was seen how he endured the days of cleansing, until the sacrifice was offered for every one of them.

27. And when the seven days should be fulfilled, the Jews which were of Asia saw him in the temple, and stirred up all the people, and laid their hands on him, and cried out: 28. Ye men of Israel, help. This is the man that teacheth all men in every place against this people, against the law, and against this place: for this cause also hath he brought the Grecians into the temple, and hath made this holy place common.

29. For they had seen Trophimus the Ephesian with him in the city; whom they thought Paul had led into the temple.

30. And the whole city was moved, and there was a multitude of people. And they took Paul, and drew him out unto the temple: and straightway the doors were shut.

31. And when they were about to kill him, the cry went up before the chief captain of the host, as all Jerusalem was moved with indignation.

32. And from that time he took the soldiers and captains, and ran among them. When they saw the captain and the soldiers, they stopped beating Paul.

33. And when the centurion came near, he took him, and bound him with two chains, and asked who he was, and what he had done.

34. And one called this, and another called that among the people. But since he could learn nothing certain because of the tumult, he ordered him to be led into the camp.

35. And when he was come to the steps, the soldiers bare him before the violence of the people.

36. For much people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37. And when Paul was brought into the camp, he said unto the centurion, May I speak unto thee? And he said, Dost thou know Greek?

38. Art thou not the Egyptian, which before these days made a rebellion, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand assassins?

39. And Paul said: I am a Jewish man of Tarsus, a citizen of a notable city of Cilicia; I beseech thee, allow me to speak unto the people.

40. And when he had given him leave, Paul stood upon the stairs, and beckoned unto the people with his hand. And when there was a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue:

(Acts)

Chapter 22

Paul's responsibility and protestation.

1. Ye men, brethren and fathers, hear my answer unto you.
2. And when they heard that he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, they were still more silent. And he spake:
3. I am a Jewish man, born at Tarsus in Cilicia, and brought up in that city at the feet of Gamaliel, taught with all diligence in the law of my father, and was zealous for God, as ye all are this day.
4. And I have pursued this way unto death. And I bound them, and delivered them into prison, both man and woman,
5. As also the high priest and all the elders testify unto me, from whom I took letters unto the brethren, and journeyed to Damascus, to bring them that were there bound to Jerusalem to be tormented.
6. And it came to pass, as I was going, and came nigh unto Damascus about noon, that there looked upon me quickly a great light from heaven.
7. And I fell to the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?
8. And I said unto him, Lord, who art thou? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.
9. And they that were with me saw the light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voice of him that talked with me.
10. And I said, Lord, what shall I do? And the LORD said unto me, Arise, and go to Damascus: there shall they tell thee of all that thou art commanded to do.
11. And when I could not see for the brightness of this light, I was led by the hand of them that were with me, and came to Damascus.
12. Now there was a man that feared God according to the law, Ananias, which had a good report among all the Jews that dwelt there.
13. And he came and stood before me, and said unto me, Saul, brother, look up. And I looked upon him that very hour.
14. And he said, The God of our fathers hath ordained thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see the righteous, and hear the voice of his mouth.
15. For thou shalt be a witness unto all men of the things which thou hast seen and heard.

16. And now, what wilt thou forgive? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, and call upon the name of the LORD.

17. And it came to pass, when I was come again to Jerusalem, and worshipped in the temple, that I was amazed, and saw him.

18. And he said unto me, Haste thee, and get thee out of Jerusalem with speed: for they will not receive thy testimony of me.

19. And I said, Lord, they themselves know that I have taken captives, and have overthrown them that believe on thee in the synagogues from time to time.

20. And when the blood of Stephen thy witness was shed, I also stood by, and had pleasure in his death, and laid up the garments of them that slew him.

21. And he said unto me, Go thy way: for I will send thee far off among the heathen.

22. And they hearkened unto him unto this word, and lifted up their voice, and said: Away with such a one from the earth; for it is not right that he should live!

23. And when they cried out, and cast off their garments, and threw the dust into the air, 24. And the centurion commanded him to be brought into the camp, and said, That he should be pushed, and that he should bear it, that he might know for what cause they cried thus against him.

25. And when he had bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful among you to scourge a Roman man without judgment and justice?

26. And when the sub-chief heard it, he went to the chief captain, and told him, saying, What wilt thou do? This man is a Roman.

27. And the chief captain came unto him, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And he said, Yea.

28. And the chief captain answered: I have brought this citizenship to pass with great sum. But Paul said: But I also was born a Roman.

29. And straightway they that were to question him departed from him. And the chief captain was afraid, when he heard that he was a Roman, and that he had bound him.

30. And the next day, desiring certainly to know why he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from the bands, and called the chief priests and all their council to come, and brought Paul forth, and set him among them.

(Acts)

Chapter 23

Paul is beaten on his responsibility before the council at Jerusalem, comforted by the Lord, and settled out of danger.

1. And Paul looked upon the council, and said: Men, brethren, I have walked in all good conscience before God unto this day.
2. And Ananias the high priest commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth.
3. Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whitewashed wall. Seest thou and judgest me according to the law, and dost smitest me against the law?
4. And they that sat by said, Dost thou rebuke the high priest of God?
5. And Paul said, Brethren, I knew not that he was the high priest. For it is written: Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.
6. And when Paul knew that one part was Sadducee, and the other Pharisee, he cried out in council, Men, brethren, I am a Pharisee, and the son of a Pharisee: I am accused for the hope and resurrection of the dead.
7. And when he had said this, there was a tumult among the Pharisees and Sadducees, and the multitude was divided.
8. For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.
9. And there was a great cry. And the scribes, the Pharisees' part, arose, and contended, saying: We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken with him, we cannot dispute with God.
10. And when the tumult was great, the chief captain was afraid lest they should break Paul, and commanded the people of war to go down, and take him from them, and bring him into the camp.
11. And the next day in the night the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou testify also in Rome.
12. And when it was day, certain of the Jews gathered themselves together, and forbade themselves neither to eat nor to drink, until they had killed Paul.
13. And there were more than forty of them that made this covenant.
14. And they came unto the chief priests and elders, and said: We have hard forbidden us nothing to eat, until we have killed Paul.

15. Now therefore make known unto the chief captain and to the council, that they bring him unto you to morrow, as if ye would question him better: but we are ready to slay him before he cometh before you.

16. And when Paul's sister's son heard the report, he went and came into the camp, and told Paul.

17. And Paul called unto him one of the rulers, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a thing to say unto him.

18. And he received him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul being bound called unto me, and besought me to bring unto thee this young man, which hath aught to say unto thee.

19. And the chief captain took him by the hand, and went into a certain place, and said unto him, What is it that thou hast to tell me?

20. And he said, The Jews are come to entreat thee, that thou wouldest cause Paul to be brought before the council to morrow, as if they would better question him.

21. But thou trustest them not: for there hold upon him more than forty men of them, which have forbidden themselves neither to eat nor to drink until they kill Paul; and are now ready and waiting for thy promise.

22. Then the chief captain sent the young man away, and commanded him that he should tell no man that he had told him these things.

23. And he called unto him two captains, and said, Prepare two hundred soldiers to go to Caesarea, and seventy horsemen, and two hundred archers, at the third hour of the night.

24. And they prepared the beasts to set Paul upon them, and brought him in custody to Felix the governor.

25. And wrote a letter, saying thus:

26. Claudius Lysias the dear governor Felix joy before!

27. This man the Jews had taken, and would have killed him. Then I came with the people of war, and tore him from them, and learned that he was a Roman.

28. And when I had inquired of them the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him into their council.

29. Then found I that he was accused of the questions of their law, but had no accusation worthy of death or of bonds.

30. And it came to pass, when it was brought before me, that some of the Jews laid hold on him, that I sent him unto thee from that hour, and commanded the plaintiffs also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell!

31. The soldiers, as they were commanded, took Paul, and led him by night to Antipatris.

32. And the next day they sent the horsemen with him, and turned again to the camp.

33. And when they were come to Caesarea, they delivered the letter to the governor, and presented Paul also unto him.

34. And when the governor read the letter, he asked of what country he was. And when he found out that he was from Cilicia, he said:

35. I will question thee, when thine accusers are come. And commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment hall.

(Acts)

Chapter 24

Paulos accused before the governor Felix of the Jews.

1. For five days Ananias the high priest went down with the elders, and with Tertullus the orator, which appeared before the governor against Paul.

2. And when he was called, he began to accuse Tertullus, and said: 3. That we live in great peace under thee, and that many good deeds are done to this people by thy prudence, most dear Felix, we accept with all thankfulness in every way and in every place.

4. But lest I detain thee too long, I beseech thee, that thou wouldest hear us lately after thy kindness.

5. We have found this man injurious, and the sedition aroused all the Jews throughout the whole earth, and a chief of the sect of the Nazarenes,

6. Who also hath sought to profane the temple; whom also we took, and would have judged according to our law.

7. But Lysias the captain of the guard met it, and brought him out of our hands with great violence.

8. And called his accusers unto thee, of whom thou mayest inquire, if thou wilt inquire, of all that we accuse him.

9. And the Jews also spake unto them, saying, It is so.

10. And Paul, when the governor beckoned him to speak, answered, Because I know that thou hast been a judge among this people many years, I will answer fearlessly.

11. For thou canst know that there are not more than twelve days since I came up to Jerusalem to worship.

12. Neither have they found me speaking with any in the temple, or making a disturbance among the people, or in the synagogues, or in the cities:

13. you can't teach me what they're suing me for either.

14. But this I confess unto thee, that after this way, which they call a sect, I serve the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets.

15. And have hope in God, which they themselves also wait for, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16. But in the same I exercise myself to have an unharmed conscience in all things, both toward God and toward men.

17. But after many years I came, and brought alms unto my people, and sacrifices.

18. And they found me purifying myself in the temple without all tumult and tumultuousness.

19. Now there were certain Jews of Asia, which should be here before thee, and should accuse me, if they had any thing against me.

20. Or let these say themselves, whether they have found any thing wrong in me, while I stand before the council,

21. Without one word, when I stood among them, and cried: For the resurrection of the dead am I accused of you this day.

22. And when Felix heard these things, he brought them up: for he knew this way almost well, and said, When Lysias the centurion cometh down, I will inquire of your thing.

23. And he commanded the governor to keep Paul, and to let him have rest, and to forbid any of his own to minister unto him, or to come unto him.

24. And after some days Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, and demanded Paul, and heard him of the faith of Christ.

25. And when Paul spake of righteousness, and of chastity, and of the judgment to come, Felix was afraid, and answered, Go thy way this time; when I have convenient time, I will send for thee.

26. And he hoped that money should be given him of Paul, that he should let him go; wherefore he sent for him often, and consulted with him.

27. And when two years were expired, Portius Festus came in Felix's stead. But Felix, wishing to do the Jews a kindness, left Paul captive behind him.

(Acts)

Chapter 25

Paul appeals to the emperor before Festus.

1. Now when Festus was come into the country, he went up from Caesarea to Jerusalem about three days.

2. Then the chief priests and the chief of the Jews appeared before him against Paul, and exhorted him

3. And they besought favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem: and they pursued after him, and slew him in the way.

4. Then answered Festus, Paul would keep Caesarea, but he would go thither again shortly.

5. Now therefore whichever of you (said he) are able, let them go down with me, and accuse the man, if there be any thing in him.

6. And when he had been with them more than ten days, he went down to Caesarea: and the next day he sat in the judgment seat, and sent for Paul.

7. And when he was come before him, the Jews that were come down from Jerusalem stood about, and brought up many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove,

8. While he answered for himself: I have not sinned against the law of the Jews, nor against the temple, nor against Caesar.

9. And Festus, desiring to show favor to the Jews, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of this before me?

10. And Paul said: I stand before Caesar to be judged: I have done no hurt to the Jews, as thou also knowest well.

11. But if I have hurt any man, and if I have done death, I refuse not to die: but if it be not that they accuse me, no man can deliver me up unto them. I appeal to the emperor.

12. Then Festus consulted with the council, and answered, Thou hast appealed to Caesar, thou shalt go to Caesar.

13. And after some days king Agrippa and Bernice came to Caesarea to receive Festus.

14. And when they had been there many days, Festus laid before the king the bargain of Paul, saying, There is a man taken captive, left by Felix,

15. For which cause the chief priests and elders of the Jews appeared unto me when I was at Jerusalem, and besought me to have him judged;

16. To whom I answered, It is not the manner of Romans that a man should be put to death devotedly, before the accused have received his accusers presently, and room to answer the charge.

17. And when they were come together, I tarried not, and the next day held court, and brought the man forward.

18. From which time the accusers arose, they brought up none of the causes that I have cared for.

19. And they had some questions against him of their superstition, and of one JEsus dead, whom Paul said was alive.

20. And when I understood not the question, I said, Would he go to Jerusalem, and be judged there?

21. But when Paul pleaded that he should be kept by the knowledge of Caesar, I commanded him to be kept, until I should send him to Caesar.

22. And Agrippa said unto Festus, I also would gladly hear the man. And he said, To morrow thou shalt hear him.

23. And the next day Agrippa and Bernice came with great pomp, and entered into the judgment house with the captains and chief men of the city: and when it was called Festus, Paul was brought.

24. And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all ye men that are with us here, behold, he for whom all the multitude of the Jews have enquired of me, both at Jerusalem, and here also, crying out that he should not live any longer.

25. But when I heard that he had done nothing worthy of death, and that he himself had appealed to Caesar, I determined to send him,

26. Of which I have nothing certain to write unto the LORD. Wherefore I have brought it forth before you, and most of all before thee, O king Agrippa, that after I have searched it I may have what I write;

27. For it seemeth to me to be an unadvised thing to send a prisoner, and to show no cause against him.

(Acts)

Chapter 26

Paul receives testimony of innocence from Agrippa on his responsibility.

1. And Agrippa said unto Paul, It is lawful for thee to speak for thyself. Then Paul answered and put forth his hand:

2. It is very dear unto me, O king Agrippa, that I should answer before thee this day for all that the Jews accuse me of,

3. Mostly because thou knowest all the customs and questions of the Jews. Therefore I pray thee, hear me patiently.

4. Though my life from my youth, as it hath been from the beginning among this people at Jerusalem, all the Jews know,

5. Who knew me before, if they would testify. For I was a Pharisee, which is the strictest sect of our worship.

6. And now I stand accused of the hope of the promise which was made of God unto our fathers.

7. To which the twelve generations of ours hope to come, diligently worshipping day and night.

Because of this hope I, dear King Agrippa, am accused by the Jews.

8. Why is this judged incredible among you, that God raises the dead?

9. Though I thought also in myself, that I ought to do much to the name of JESUS of Nazareth, 10. As I did at Jerusalem, when I shut up many saints in prison, whereof I received power from the chief priests: and when they were slain, I helped to pronounce judgment.

11. And through all the synagogues I tormented them oftentimes, and compelled them to blaspheme, and was exceedingly senseless against them, persecuting them even unto strange cities.

12. Over which also I journeyed to Damascus with power and commandment from the chief priests,

13. In the midst of the day, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, brighter than the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them that journeyed with me.

14. And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speak unto me, saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? It shall be hard for thee to kick against the sting.

15. And I said, Lord, who art thou? And he said: I am Jesus, whom thou persecutest: but arise, and stand upon thy feet.

16. For to this end have I appeared unto thee, to appoint thee a minister and a witness of those things which thou hast seen, and which I will yet make to appear unto thee.

17. And I will deliver thee from the people, and from the heathen, among whom I send thee now, 18. Open their eyes, that they may turn from darkness unto light, and from the power of Satan unto God, to receive forgiveness of sins, and an inheritance with them which are sanctified by faith toward me.

19. Therefore, dear King Agrippa, I was not incredulous of the heavenly appearance, 20. But preached first to them that were in Damascus, and in Jerusalem, and in all the coasts of Judaea, and also to the Gentiles, that they should repent, and turn unto God, and do righteous works of repentance.

21. For this cause the Jews took me in the temple, and subjected me to death.

22. But by the help of GOD I have succeeded, and stand to this day witnessing to both small and great, and saying nothing save that which the prophets said should come to pass, and Moses: 23. That Christ should suffer, and be first in the resurrection from the dead, and should preach a light unto the people and to the Gentiles.

24. And when he had given this charge, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art mad; the great art maketh thee mad.

25. And he said, My dear Festus, I do not run, but I speak true and reasonable words.

26. For the king knoweth these things, to whom I speak gladly: for I know that it is not hid from him, because it is not done in the corner.

27. Dost thou believe, O king Agrippa, the prophet? I know that thou believest.

28. And Agrippa said unto Paul, It lacketh not much, that thou persuadest me to become a Christian.

29. And Paul said: I desired before God, lacking much or little, that not thou alone,. but all they which hear me this day, should become such as I am, except these bands.

30. And when he had said this, the king arose, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them,

31. And they departed, and talked together, and said: This man hath done nothing worthy of death or bondage.

32. And Agrippa said unto Festus, This man might have been let go, if he had not appealed to Caesar.

(Acts)

Chapter 27

Paul's dangerous and wonderful voyage.

1. But when it was determined that we should ship for Guelph, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners to the sub-chief, whose name was Julius, of the imperial host.

2. And when we were entered into an Adramyttian ship to go to Asia, we departed from the land: and with us was Aristarchus of Macedonia, of Thessalonica.

3. And arrived at Sidon the next day. And Julius kept kindly toward Paul, and suffered him to go to his good friends, and to take care of him:

4. And from thence we turned aside, and sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were against us.

5. And they sailed by sea from Cilicia and Pamphylia, and came to Myra in Lycia.

6. And there the centurion found a ship from Alexandria, which sailed to the Welsh country, and loaded us thereon.

7. But as we sailed slowly, and in many days came scarcely against Knidus (for the wind rebuked us), we sailed under Crete to the city of Salmone.

8. And as we passed by, we came to a place called Good-ford, which was near unto the city of Lasea.

9. Now when much time had passed, and it was now dangerous to ship, because the fast was already over, Paul exhorted them

10. And said unto them: Men, I see that the navigation will go with insult and great harm, not only to the burden and the ship, but also to our lives.

11. But the sub-chief believed the master of the ship and the ship's man more than what Paul said.

12. And when the ford was not convenient for wintering, several of them took counsel to depart thence, if they might come to winter at Phoenix, which is a ford of Crete, against the wind southwest and northwest.

13. And it came to pass, when the south wind blew, and they thought that they now had their preeminence, that they rose up to Assos, and passed over to Crete.

14. But not long after this there arose against her nobles a wind-bride, which is called the north-east.

15. And when the ship was taken, and could not turn herself against the wind, we gave her up, and so floated.

16. But we came to an island called Klauda, where we could hardly take hold of a boat.

17. And we lifted it up, and needed help, and tied it to the bottom of the ship; for we feared lest it should fall into the sea; and we let down the vessel, and went thus.

18. And when we had suffered great tempests, the next day they made an issue.

19. And on the third day we cast out with our hands the readiness in the ship.

20. But since neither sun nor star appeared in many days, and not a little storm was against us, all hope of our life was gone.

21. And when they had not eaten for a long time, Paul stood in the midst of them, and said, Men, let me be obeyed, and not have departed from Crete, and put us to this grief and hurt.

22. And now I exhort you to be of good courage: for there shall not perish a living thing of us without the ship.

23. For this night the angel of God stood with me, whom I am, and whom I serve, 24. And said, Fear not, Paul: thou must be brought before Caesar: and, behold, God hath given thee all them that ship with thee.

25. Therefore, men, be of good courage: for I believe God, and it shall come to pass, as I have been told.

26. We're gonna have to pull over to an island.

27. And it came to pass, when the fourteenth night was come, and we were in the Adriatic sea about midnight, that the shipmen thought that they were about to come to land.

28. And they lowered the lead, and found twenty fathoms deep. And about a little from thence they lowered again, and found fifteen fathoms.

29. And they feared lest they should run into hard places, and cast four anchors from the back of the ship, and desired that it might be day.

30. And when the shipmen sought to escape out of the ship, and let down the boat into the sea, pretending that they would let down the anchors out of the front of the ship, 31. Paul saith unto the centurion and to the soldiers: If these abide not in the ship, ye cannot abide in life.

32. And the soldiers cut off the ropes of the barge, and let it fall.

33. And when it began to be light, Paul exhorted them all to take meat, saying, It is this day, that ye have waited, and have not eaten, and have taken nothing.

34. Wherefore I exhort you to take meat, to refresh yourselves: for there shall not an hair of your head fall from off your head.

35. And when he had said this, he took bread, and gave thanks unto God before them all, and brake it, and began to eat.

36. Then were they all of good cheer, and took meat also.

37. And ours were all together in the ship two hundred seventy and six souls.

38. And when they were filled, they lightened the ship, and cast the corn into the sea.

39. And when it was day, they knew not the land. But they perceived a ford, which had a shore: thither they would have driven the ship, if it were possible.

40. And when they had weighed anchor, they let themselves go to the sea, and loosed the oars, and set sail to the wind, and sought the shore.

41. And when we were come to a place which had the sea on both sides, the ship was buffeted, and the fore part stood fast immovable; but the hind part was broken by the violence of the waves.

42. And the soldiers had counsel to slay the captives, lest any that fled should escape.

43. But the centurion, desiring to preserve Paul, rebuked their pretensions, and commanded them that could swim to let themselves first into the sea, and escape unto the land, 44. And the rest, some on the boards, and some on the things which were of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they all obtained land.

(Acts)

Chapter 28

Paul's miracle work on the island of Melite. Arrival in Rome.

1. And when we were come out, we learned that the name of the island was Melite.

2. And the people showed us no small kindness, and kindled a fire, and took us all in because of the rain that was come upon us, and because of the cold.

3. And when Paul had gathered together a heap of sticks, and laid them upon the fire, an adder came from the heat, and took Paul's hand.

4. And when the people saw the beast hanging on his hand, they said one to another, This man is a murderer, whom vengeance will not let live, though he hath escaped the sea.

5. And he turned the beast into the fire, and no evil happened unto him.

6. And they waited, when he would swell, or fall down dead. And when they had waited a long time, and saw that no evil happened unto him, they turned, and said that he was a god.

7. And in the same place the chief of the island, whose name was Publius, had an estate; and he received us, and lodged us three days with kindness.

8. And it came to pass, that Publius' father was sick of a fever and dysentery. And Paul went in unto him, and prayed, and laid his hand upon him, and healed him.

9. And when this was done, the rest of the people that were sick in the island came and were healed.

10. And they did us great honour: and when we went out, they loaded up the things that were needful for us.

11. And after three moons we sailed from Alexandria in a ship which had wintered at the island, and had a banner of the twins.

12. And when we were come to Syracuse, we tarried there three days.

13. And when we were compassed about, we came to Rhegium: and after a day, when the south wind rose, we came the next day to Puteolj.

14. And we found brethren, and were requested of them that we should tarry there seven days.

And so we came to Rome.

15. And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they went out to meet us unto Appifor and Tretabern. When Paul saw them, he gave thanks to God and gained confidence.

16. And when we were come to Rome, the sub-captain delivered the prisoners unto the chief captain. But Paul was permitted to remain where he would, with a soldier guarding his.

17. And it came to pass after three days, that Paul called together the chief of the Jews. And when they were come together, he said unto them: Men, brethren, I have done nothing against our people, nor against the customs of my father, and yet am delivered captive out of Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans,

18. Which, when they had heard me, would have loosed me, because there was no cause of death in me.

19. And when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to plead with Caesar; not as though I had a cause of action against my people.

20. For this cause have I asked of you, that I might see you, and speak unto you: for for the hope of Israel I am compassed about with this chain.

21. And they said unto him, We have received no writing out of Judea for thy sake, neither hath there come any brother that hath spoken or said any evil of thee.

22. But we will hear from thee what thou thinkest. For of this sect we know that it is contradicted at every end.

23. And when they had appointed him a day, many came unto him into the inn, whom he interpreted, and testified of the kingdom of God, and preached unto them of Jesus out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from the early morning until the evening.

24. And some fell to the things which he spake; but some believed not.

25. And when they were displeased among themselves, they departed, when Paul spake a word, which the Holy Ghost spake by the prophet Isaiah unto our fathers.

26. And said: Go unto this people, and say, With your ears ye shall hear, and not understand; and with your eyes ye shall see, and not know.

27. For the heart of this people is hardened, and they hardly hear with their ears, and slumber with their eyes; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand in their heart, and be converted, and I should help them.

28. Let it be known unto you, that this salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles; and they shall hear it.

29. And when he spake these things, the Jews went and had much questioning among themselves.

30. And Paul abode two years in his own house, and received all them that came unto him, 31. Preached the kingdom of GOD, and taught of the LORD JESU with all gladness unbidden.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The letter of Paul to the Romans ^

Chapter 1

Righteousness does not come from the law of nature and its works, for all Gentiles are sinners and unrighteous.

1. Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, set apart to preach the gospel of God, 2. Which he promised beforehand by his prophets in the holy scriptures,

3. Of his son, born of the seed of David according to the flesh.

4. and powerfully demonstrated by a Son of God according to the Spirit, who sanctifies since the time he rose from the dead, even JESUS CHRIST our Lord.

5. (By whom we have received grace and apostleship, to establish among all nations the obedience of faith under his name,

6. of whom ye also are in part, which are called of JESUS CHRIST:) 7. to all who are in Rome, the beloved of God and called saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8. First of all, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of in all the world.

9. For God is my witness, whom I serve in my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that I remember you without ceasing.

10. Praying always in my prayers, if it may come to pass, that I may come unto you by the will of God.

11. For I desire to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift to strengthen you, 12. This is that I might be comforted together with you by your faith, and by mine which we have one of another.

13. But I will not restrain you, brethren, that I have often purposed to come unto you, (but am hitherto prevented,) that I may bring forth fruit among you also, as among other Gentiles.

14. I am a debtor both to the Greek and to the un-Greek, both to the wise and to the unwise.

15. Therefore, as much as there is in me, I am inclined to preach the gospel also unto you at Rome.

16. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God, which saveth all them that believe it, both Jews first, and Greeks also,

17. For therein is manifested the righteousness that is established before God, which cometh by faith through faith: as it is written, The righteous shall live by faith.

18. For the wrath of God from heaven is revealed against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold up the truth in unrighteousness.

19. For it is manifest unto them that God is known: for God hath revealed it unto them.

20. That the invisible nature of God, that is, his eternal power and Godhead, may be seen when it is perceived in works, that is, in the creation of the world, so that they have no excuse, 21. Knowing that there is a God, they have not praised him as a God, nor thought of him, but have become vain in their imaginations, and their understanding heart is darkened.

22. Thinking they were wise, they became fools.

23. and have changed the glory of the incorruptible God into an image like unto corruptible man, and the birds, and the fourfooted beasts, and the creeping things.

24. Therefore God also hath given them over to the lusts of their hearts, in uncleanness, to defile their own bodies against themselves.

25. Who have turned the truth of God into a lie, and have honored and served the creature rather than the Creator, who is blessed for ever and ever. Amen.

26. Therefore God also hath given them up to shameful lusts. For their wives have changed the natural custom into an unnatural one.

27. Likewise also the men have forsaken the natural custom of the woman, and are heated one with another in their lusts, and have wrought shame man with man, and have received the reward of their error (as it should be) in themselves.

28. And as they took no heed that they knew God, so God gave them over to a perverse mind, to do that which was not good,

29. Full of all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, malice, full of hatred, murder, hatred, cunning, poisonous, ear-blowing,

30. slanderers, despisers of God, sacrilegious, proud, harmful, disobedient to parents, 31. unreasonable, faithless, stubborn, unforgiving, unmerciful

32. Knowing God's righteousness (that those who do such things are worthy of death), they not only do it, but have pleasure in those who do it.

(Romans)

Chapter 2

The Jews are as much sinners as the Gentiles, though they boast of the law of Moses and of circumcision.

1. Therefore, O man, thou canst not excuse thyself, who thou art that judgest: for in that thou judgest another thou condemnest thyself, because thou doest the very thing which thou judgest.

2. For we know that the judgment of God is right against them that do these things.

3. But thinkest thou, O man, that judgest them which do these things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4. Or do you despise the riches of His goodness, patience and forbearance? Do you not know that God's goodness leads you to repentance?

5. But thou, according to thine own hardened and impenitent heart, heapest up wrath unto thyself for the day of wrath, and for the revelation of the righteous judgment of God.

6. Who shall give to every man according to his works,

7. That is, glory and honour, and incorruptible things, to them who with patience in good works seek eternal life,

8. But to them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey the unrighteous, unkindness and wrath;

9. Tribulation and anguish upon all the souls of men that do evil, especially of the Jews, and also of the Greeks;.

10. But praise, and honour, and peace, unto all them that do good, to the Jews chiefly, and also to the Greeks.

11. For there is no respect of person before God.

12. They that have sinned without the law shall perish without the law: and they that have sinned against the law shall be condemned by the law,

13. For not those who hear the law are righteous in the sight of God, but those who do the law will be righteous.

14. For the Gentiles, which have not the law, and yet by nature do the work of the law; these, because they have not the law, are a law unto themselves.

15. That they may prove that the work of the law is written in their hearts, as their consciences bear witness, and their minds also, which accuse or excuse one another, 16. To the day that God shall judge the hidden things of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel.

17. And, behold, thou art called a Jew, and hast trusted in the law, and hast glorified God.

18. Knowing his will, and being instructed in the law, consider what is best to be done, 19. and miss thee to be a guide of the blind, a light of them that are in darkness, 20. A reprover of the foolish, a teacher of the simple, having the form of knowing what is right in the law.

21. Now thou teachest others, and teachest not thyself. You preach that one should not steal, and you steal.

22. Thou sayest not to commit adultery, and thou committest adultery. Thou dost abhor idols, and rob God of what is his.

23. Thou boastest of the law, and defileest GOD by transgression of the law.

24. For the name of God is blasphemed among the heathen, as it is written.

25. Circumcision is profitable if thou keep the law: but if thou keep not the law, thy circumcision is become foreskin.

26. If therefore the foreskin keep the law, thinkest thou not that his foreskin be counted for circumcision?

27. And so that which is by nature a foreskin, and fulfilleth the law, shall judge thee, who art under the letter and circumcision, and transgresseth the law.

28. For this is not a Jew by heart, neither is it circumcision by heart in the flesh,

29. But this is a Jew who is inwardly hidden, and circumcision of the heart is a circumcision made in the spirit and not in the letter, which praise is not of men but of GOD.

(Romans)

Chapter 3

Righteousness comes from faith.

1. What advantage have the Jews, or what is the use of circumcision?

2. Though almost much. First, they are trusted in what God has spoken.

3. But if some believe not in these things, what is the matter? Should their unbelief nullify the faith of God?

4. Let this be far off. But let it remain that God is true, and all men false; as it is written: That thou mayest be just in thy words, and overcome when thou art judged.

5. But if our unrighteousness praiseth God's righteousness, what shall we say? Is God also unjust, that He is angry about it? (So I speak in the manner of men.) 6. be far from this! How else could God judge the world?

7. For if the truth of God be made more glorious to his praise by my lying, why should I be judged as a sinner any more?

8. And do not rather as we are blasphemed, and as some say, that we should say: Let us do evil, that good may come of it? Which condemnation is quite right.

9. What do we say? Do we have an advantage? None at all. For we have proved above that both Jews and Greeks are all under sin,

10. As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one;

11. There is none that hath understanding; there is none that seeketh after God.

12. They are all gone astray, and have all become unfit: there is none that doeth good, not one.

13. Their mouth is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they deal deceitfully; viper's poison is under their lips;

14. Their mouth is full of cursing and bitterness;

15. Their feet are hastening to shed blood;

16. In their ways is all mischief and heartache.

17. And the way of peace they know not;

18. There is no fear of God before their eyes.
19. But we know that whatsoever the law saith, that saith it unto them which are under the law; that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may owe unto God.
20. Because by the works of the law no flesh shall be justified in his sight: for by the law cometh the knowledge of sin.
21. But now without the law the righteousness that is before God is revealed and testified by the law and the prophets.
22. But I say of this righteousness in the sight of God, which cometh by faith in JESUS Christ unto all, and upon all them that believe.
23. For there is no difference here: they are all sinners, and lack the glory which they ought to have in God,
24. And are justified without merit by his grace through the redemption that came by Christ Jesus,
25. Whom God set forth to be a mercy seat through faith in his blood, that he might present the righteousness that is before him, in that he forgiveth sins which until now have remained under divine patience,
26. That he might at these times present the righteousness that is before him, that he alone might be righteous, and justify him that believeth in JESUS.
27. Where's the glory now? It is gone. By what law? By the law of works? Not therefore, but by the law of faith.
28. We hold therefore that a man is justified without works of the law, but by faith alone.
29. Or is God the God of the Jews alone? Is he not also the God of the Gentiles? Yes, indeed, also the God of the Gentiles.
30. For there is one God, who justifies circumcision by faith, and the foreskin by faith.
31. How then do we abolish the law by faith? Far be it from that; but we establish the law.

(Romans)

Chapter 4

The righteousness of faith is explained by the example of Abraham.

1. What say we then of Abraham our father, that he was found according to the flesh?
2. This is what we say: If Abraham is righteous by works, he has glory, but not before God.

3. What then saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and this was counted to him for righteousness.
4. But to him that worketh the reward is not by grace, but by duty.
5. But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.
6. According to which David also saith, that salvation is of man only, to whom God imputeth righteousness without works, saying:
7. Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.
8. Blessed is the man to whom God does not impute sin.
9. Now this blessedness, is it by circumcision, or by foreskin? We must ever say that Abraham's faith was counted for righteousness.
10. How then is he imputed to him, in circumcision, or in the foreskin? Without doubt, not in circumcision, but in the foreskin.
11. And the sign of circumcision he received for a seal of the righteousness of the faith which was in the foreskin, that he might be made a father of all them which believe in the foreskin, that they also might be counted for righteousness.
12. And would also be a father of the circumcision, not only of them that are of the circumcision, but also of them that walk in the footsteps of faith, which was in the foreskin of Abraham our father.
13. For the promise that he should be the heir of the world was not made to Abraham, nor to his seed, by the law, but by the righteousness of faith.
14. For where they that are of the law are heirs, faith is nothing, and the promise is taken away.
15. For the law worketh wrath: for where the law is not, there is no transgression.
16. Therefore righteousness must come by faith, that it may be by grace; and that the promise may stand fast unto all seed, not to him only who is under the law, but also to him who is of the faith of Abraham, who is the father of us all,
17. As it is written, I have made thee the father of many nations before God, whom thou hast believed, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth him that is not, that he should be.
18. And he believed in hope, when there was no hope; that he might be a father of many nations: as it was said unto him, So shall thy seed be.

19. And he was not weak in faith, neither did he look upon his own body, which was dead, being almost an hundred years old, nor upon the dead body of Sarah.
20. For he doubted not the promise of God through unbelief, but waxed strong in faith, and gave glory to God.
21. Knowing most assuredly that what God promised he was able to do.
22. Therefore it is counted unto him for righteousness.
23. But this is not written for his sake only, that it should be imputed unto him, 24. But also for our sakes, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up our Lord Jesus from the dead.
25. Who for our sins was given up, and for our righteousness was raised from the dead.

(Romans)

Chapter 5

Of some fruits of the righteousness of faith? Contrasting Christ and Adam.

1. Forasmuch then as we have been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.
2. by whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and boast of the hope of the glory to come, which God shall give.
3. Not only so, but we also glory in tribulation, knowing that tribulation bringeth patience.
4. But patience bringeth experience, and experience bringeth hope, 5. But hope maketh not ashamed. For the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.
6. For Christ also, when we were yet weak after the time, died for us that were ungodly.
7. Now scarcely any die for the sake of righteousness; for the sake of some good perhaps some may die.
8. Therefore praise God for his love toward us, that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us.
9. So shall we ever more be kept from wrath through him, having been justified by his blood.
10. For if we have been reconciled to God by the death of his Son, while we were yet enemies, much more shall we be saved by his life, if we have now been reconciled.

11. Not only this, but we also glory in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have received the atonement.

12. Therefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, because they were all sinners;

13. For sin was in the world until the law: but where there is no law, there is no respect of sin, 14. But death reigned from Adam even unto Moses, even over them that sinned not with the like transgression as Adam, which is the image of him that was to come.

15. But the gift is not as the sin. For if many died in one sin, much more the grace and gift of God abounded to many through the grace of the one man, Jesus Christ.

16. And the gift is not for one sin only, as through one sinner's sin all things perish. For the sentence is from one sin unto condemnation: but the gift is also from many sins unto righteousness.

17. For if death reigned through one for the sin of one, much more shall they that receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through one, Jesus Christ:) 18. As therefore by one man's sin came condemnation upon all men, even so by one man's righteousness came justification of life upon all men.

19. For as by one man's disobedience many sinners were made, so also by one man's obedience many righteous are made.

20. But the law came in beside, that sin might be made more powerful. But where sin was made mighty, grace was made much mightier,

21. That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so may grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

(Romans)

Chapter 6

Of sanctification and new obedience as a fruit of the righteousness of faith.

1. What shall we say to this? Shall we then persevere in sin, that grace may be the more powerful?

2. Far be it from us! How shall we live in sin, to which we are dead?

3. Know ye not that all which are baptized into Jesus Christ are baptized into his death?

4. Therefore are we ever buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5. But if we be planted together with him unto like death, we shall be also like unto the resurrection,
6. Knowing that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be put away, that we should not henceforth serve sin.
7. For he that is dead is justified from sin.
8. But if we have died with Christ, we believe that we shall live with him: 9. Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth not henceforth, neither shall death have dominion over him.
10. For that he died, he died unto sin once: but that he liveth, he liveth unto God.
11. Ye also, take ye heed that ye are dead to sins, and live unto God in Christ our Lord.
12. Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, to render him obedience in his lusts.
13. Neither commit your members to sin for weapons of unrighteousness; but commit yourselves to God, as those who are alive from the dead, and your members to God for weapons of righteousness,
14. For sin shall not have dominion over you, because ye are not under the law, but under grace.
15. How then shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? Be it far from me!
16. Know ye not, to whom ye yield yourselves servants in obedience, of whom ye are servants, to whom ye are obedient, whether to sin unto death, or to obedience unto righteousness?
17. But God be remembered, that ye were the servants of sin, but are now obedient in heart to the pattern of doctrine, to which ye are devoted.
18. Forasmuch then as ye were made free from sin, ye became servants of righteousness.
19. I must speak of it humanly because of the weakness of your flesh. As ye have given your members to the service of uncleanness, and from one unrighteousness to another; even so now give your members to the service of righteousness, that they may be sanctified.
20. For when ye were the servants of sin, then were ye free from righteousness.

21. What fruit therefore had ye in those days? Of which ye are now ashamed: for the end thereof is death.

22. But now that ye are freed from sin, and have become the servants of God, ye have your fruit, that ye may be sanctified; and the end is life everlasting.

23. For death is the wages of sin: but the gift of God is eternal life in Christ our Lord.

(Romans)

Chapter 7

Of freedom from the law, the use and effect of the law, and the struggle of the inner and outer man,

1. Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak unto them that know the law,) that the law hath dominion over man all the days of his life?

2. For a woman that is under a man, while the man liveth, she is bound by the law: but if the man die, she is loosed from the law concerning the man.

3. Now if she be with another man, because the man liveth, she is called an adulteress: but if the man die, she is free from the law, that she be not an adulteress, if she be with another man.

4. So also, my brethren, ye are put to death by the law through the body of Christ, that ye should be with another, even with him which is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto GOD.

5. For when we were in the flesh, the lusts of sin, which were stirred up by the law, were strong in our members to bring forth fruit unto death.

6. But now are we loosed from the law, and are dead unto it which held us captive; that we should serve in the newness of the Spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7. What shall we say then? Is the law sin? Be it far from me! But I knew not sin without the law.

For I knew nothing of lust, where the law had not said, Be not lascivious.

8. And sin took occasion in the commandment, and provoked me to all manner of lusts. For without the law sin was dead.

9. But I lived about without the law. But when the commandment came, sin was alive again.

10. And I died, and it came to pass that the commandment which was given me for life was unto death.

11. For sin took occasion by the commandment, and deceived me, and slew me by that same commandment.
12. The law is ever holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.
13. Is then that which is good become a death unto me? Be it far from me! But sin, that it might appear to be sin, hath by that which is good wrought death for me, that sin might become exceeding sinful by the commandment.
14. For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin.
15. For I know not what I do: for I do not what I will, but what I hate, that do I.
16. But if I do that which I would not, I consent that the law be good.
17. I do not therefore these things, but sin which dwelleth in me.
18. For I know that in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing. I can will, but I cannot do what is good,
19. For the good that I would, that do I not: but the evil that I would not, that do I.
20. But if I do that which I would not, I do not that thing, but sin which dwelleth in me.
21. Now therefore find me a law, that I may do good, that I may do evil.
22. For I delight in the law of God after the inward man.
23. But I see another law in my members, which is contrary to the law in my mind, and taketh me captive to the law of sin, which is in my limbs.
24. I wretched man, who shall deliver me from the body of this death?
25. I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then I serve the law of God with my mind, but the law of sin with my flesh.

(Romans)

Chapter 8

The believer's freedom from condemnation. Walk according to the spirit, comfort against suffering,

1. There is therefore nothing condemnable in them which are in Christ JESU, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.
2. For the law of the Spirit which quickeneth in Christ JESU hath made me free from the law of sin and death.
3. For that which was impossible for the law (because it was weakened by the flesh) God did, and sent his Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and condemned sin in the flesh by sin, 4. That the righteousness required by the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5. For they that are carnal are carnally minded: but they that are spiritual are spiritual minded.

6. But to be carnally minded is death, and to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

7. For to be carnally minded is enmity against God, because it is not subject to the law of God; neither is it able.

8. But they that are carnal may not please God.

9. But ye are not carnal, but spiritual; otherwise the Spirit of God dwelleth in you. But he that hath not the Spirit of Christ is not his.

10. But if Christ be in you, the body is dead indeed because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11. If therefore the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he also that raised up Christ from the dead shall quicken your mortal bodies, because his Spirit dwelleth in you.

(Epistle on the eighth Sunday after Trinity.)

12. Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13. For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye kill business by the spirit of the flesh, ye shall live.

14. For whom the Spirit of God causeth to walk, they are the children of God.

15. For ye have not received a servile spirit, that ye should fear again; but ye have received a childlike spirit, by which we cry: Abba, dear Father!

16. The same Spirit bears witness to our spirit that we are the children of God.

17. If we then be children, we are heirs also, heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ; if we suffer otherwise, that we may also be exalted with them unto glory.

18. For I consider that this time of suffering is not worthy of the glory that shall be revealed in us.

19. For the anxious waiting of the creature awaits the revelation of the children of God, 20. Because the creature is subjected to vanity not of his own will, but of him that subjected it unto hope.

21. For the creature also shall be set free from the service of corruptible things unto the glorious liberty of the children of GOD.
22. For we know that every creature longs with us, and is still in anguish.
23. And not only they, but we also, who have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves long to be born children, waiting for the redemption of our bodies.
24. For we are saved, but in hope. But the hope that is seen is not hope: for how can a man hope for that which is seen?
25. But if we hope for that which we see not, we wait for it by patience.
26. Likewise also the Spirit helpeth our weakness. For we know not what we ought to pray for, as it is fitting: but the Spirit himself filleth for us in the best manner, with groanings that cannot be uttered.
27. But he that searcheth the hearts knoweth the mind of the Spirit: for he representeth the saints according to that which is pleasing in the sight of God.
28. But we know that to those who love GOD all things are for the best, who are called according to the purpose.
29. For whom he did provide before, he also ordained that they should be conformed to the image of his Son, that he should be the firstborn among many brethren.
30. And whom he hath ordained, them hath he also called: whom he hath called, them hath he also justified: whom he hath justified, them hath he also glorified.
31. What shall we say to this? If God is for us, who can be against us?
32. Who spared not his own Son, but gave him up for us all: how shall he not with him give us all things?
33. Who will accuse the elect of God? God is here, who makes righteous.
34. Who shall condemn? Christ is here, who died; yea, rather, who also was raised from the dead, who is at the right hand of God, representing us.
35. Who will separate us from the love of God? Tribulation or fear or persecution or hunger or nakedness or peril or sword?
36. As it is written, For thy sake we are slain all the day long: we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37. But in all these things we overcome far because of him that loved us.

38. For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39. Neither high nor low, nor any other creature, shall separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ our Lord.

(Romans)

Chapter 9

Election does not depend on external merit, but on God's grace.

1. I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not: to whom my conscience beareth witness in the Holy Ghost,

2. That I have great sadness and pain without ceasing in my heart.

3. I have desired to be cut off from Christ for my brethren, who are my friends according to the flesh,

4. Which are of Israel, to whom belongeth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenant, and the law, and the service, and the promise;

5. Which also are the fathers, from whom Christ came in the flesh, who is God over all, blessed for ever and ever. Amen. But I do not say this, that the word of God is therefore finished. For not all Israelites are of Israel;

7. Neither are all they that are Abraham's seed therefore children: but: In Isaac shall the seed be called unto thee.

8. That is, they are not the children of God according to the flesh, but the children of the promise are counted for seed.

9. For this is a word of promise, saying, At this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son.

10. And not only so, but also because Rebekah conceived by one Isaac our father;

11. Before the children were born, and had done neither good nor evil, that the purpose of God might be according to election, it was said unto her,

12. Not by merit of works, but by grace of profession: that is, Let the greater be made servants to the lesser,

13. As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

14. What are we saying here? Is God unjust? Be far from it!

15. For he saith unto Moses, Whomsoever I have mercy upon, I will have mercy upon; and whomsoever I have mercy upon, I will have mercy upon.

16. So then it is not up to anyone to will or to run, but up to God's mercy.

17. For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, For this very cause have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, that my name might be declared in all the earth.

18. Now therefore he hath mercy on whom he will, and hath cast out whom he will.

19. Then sayest thou unto me, What oweth he to us? Who can resist his will?

20. Yea, dear man, who art thou that thou wouldest be right with God? Says also a work to its master: Why do you make me thus?

21. Hath not a potter power to make of one lump one barrel for honour, and the other for dishonour?

22. For this cause, when God would shew his wrath, and make known his power, he hath borne with great patience the vessels of wrath prepared for condemnation, 23. That he might shew the riches of his glory in the vessels of mercy, which he hath prepared for glory,

24. Whom he hath called, even us, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles.

25. As he saith also by Hosea, I will call this my people, which was not my people; and my love, which was not love.

26. And it shall come to pass, in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, that they shall be called children of the living God.

27. And Isaiah cried unto Israel, Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet shall the remnant be saved;

28. For there shall be destruction and taxes for righteousness: and the LORD will do the same taxes upon the earth.

29. And as Isaiah saith before, If the LORD of hosts had not left us seed, we should have been like Sodom, and like Gomorrah.

30. What then shall we say here? This we will say, The Gentiles, which stood not after righteousness, have obtained righteousness: but I say of the righteousness that cometh by faith.

31. But Israel hath been after the law of righteousness, and hath not passed over the law of righteousness.

32. Why is this? Because they seek it not by faith, but by the works of the law. For they have stumbled at the stumbling stone,

33. As it is written, Behold, I lay in Zion a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not fall to pieces.

(Romans)

Chapter 10

The knowledge of election is not found in the law, but in the gospel.

1. Brethren, it is the desire of my heart, and I also beseech God for Israel, that they may be saved.

2. For I bear them witness, that they strive for God, but with ignorance.

3. For they know not the righteousness that is before God, and seek to establish their own righteousness, and so are not subject to the righteousness that is before God.

4. For Christ is the end of the law: he that believeth on him is justified.

5. Moses writes about the righteousness that comes from the law:

"Whoever does this will live in it.

6. But righteousness by faith saith thus; Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven?

(This is nothing else, but to bring Christ down.)

7. Or, Who shall go down into the deep? (This is nothing else than bringing Christ from the dead).

8. but what saith it? The word is near you, that is, in your mouth and in your heart.

(Epistle on St. Andrew's Day.)

This is the word of faith that we preach.

9. For if thou shalt confess with thy mouth that Jesus is the Lord, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10. For if a man believe with his heart, he is justified; and if he confess with his mouth, he is saved.

11. For the scripture saith, He that believeth on him shall not be put to shame.

12. There is no difference here between Jews and Greeks: for there is one Lord, rich above all them that call upon him.

13. For whosoever shall call upon the name of the LORD shall be saved.

14. But how shall they call on him in whom they have not believed?

And how shall they believe, of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?

15. But how shall they preach, if they be not sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach peace, that preach goodness!

16. But they are not all obedient to the gospel. For Isaiah saith, Lord, who shall believe our preaching?

17. So faith comes from preaching, and preaching by the word of God.

18. But I say, Have they not heard? For the sound thereof is gone out into all lands, and the words thereof into all the world.

19. But I say, Hath not Israel known it? The first Moses saith, I will make you jealous over him that is not my people, and over a foolish people will I make you angry.

20. But Isaiah may well say thus, I am invented of them that sought me not, and am appeared unto them that asked not for me.

21. And unto Israel saith he, All day long have I stretched out my hands unto the people, which will not be told, and will not answer.

(Romans)

Chapter 11

The election is immutable.

1. I say therefore, Has God cast off His people? Be it far from me! For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the lineage of Benjamin.

2. God hath not cast off his people, whom he provided before. Or know ye not what the scripture saith of Elijah, how he stood before God against Israel, and said: 3. O LORD, they have slain thy prophets, and have digged up thine altars; and I am left alone, and they are after my life?

4. But what is the answer of God unto him? I have left me seven thousand men, which have not bowed the knee to Baal.

5. So it is also at this time with these that are left, according to the election of graces.

6. But if it be by grace, it is not by merit of works: otherwise grace is not grace. But if it be by merit of works, grace is nothing; otherwise merit would not be merit.

7. How then? That which Israel seeketh, it obtaineth not: but the choice it obtaineth. The rest are hardened,

8. As it is written, God hath given them a fierce spirit, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this day.

9. And David saith, Let their table be a snare, and a ravishment, and a vexation, and a recompence unto them.

10. Blind their eyes, that they see not; and bend their backs always.

11. I say therefore, Did they run for this cause, that they should fall? Far be it from them. But out of their fall salvation came unto the Gentiles, that they might emulate them.

12. For if their fall be the riches of the world, and their loss the riches of the Gentiles, how much more, if their number be full?

13. With you Gentiles I speak: for because I am an apostle to the Gentiles, I will magnify my ministry,

14. Whether I will stir up them that are my flesh to jealousy, and save some of them.

15. For if their loss is the reconciliation of the world, what is it but to take life from the dead?

16. If the beginning be holy, the dough also is holy: and if the root be holy, the branches also are holy.

17. But if some of the branches be broken, and thou, being a wild olive tree, be grafted in among them, and be partaker of the root and of the sap of the olive tree; 18. Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast against them, know that thou bearest not the root, but the root beareth thee.

19. Thus speakest thou: The branches are broken, that I might be grafted in.

20. It is well said. They are broken because of their unbelief, but you stand by faith. Be not proud, but fear'...

21. If God hath not spared the natural branches, perhaps he will not spare thine also.

22. Therefore behold the goodness and the earnestness of God: the earnestness in them that are fallen, and the goodness in thee, if thou abide in the goodness; otherwise thou shalt be cut off also.

23. And if they continue not in unbelief, they shall be grafted in: God is able to graft them in again.

24. For if thou be cut out of the olive tree, which was wild by nature, and be grafted contrary to nature into the good olive tree, how much more shall the natural be grafted into their own olive tree?

25. I will not keep this secret from you, brethren, lest ye be proud. Blindness happened to Israel on the one hand, until the fullness of the Gentiles came in,
26. And so all Israel shall be saved, as it is written, There shall come out of Zion a deliverer, and a remover of the wicked from Jacob.
27. And this is my testament with them, when I shall take away their sins.
28. According to the gospel I count them enemies for your sakes: but according to election I love them for the fathers' sakes.
29. May God's gifts and calling not make him regretful.
30. For even as ye believed not in God, yet now have ye mercy on their unbelief, 31. So that even they will not now believe in the mercy which is done unto you, that they also may obtain mercy.
32. For God hath decreed all things among unbelievers, that He might have mercy upon all.
(Epistle on the Feast of Trinity.)
33. O What a depth of riches, both of wisdom and knowledge of God! How utterly incomprehensible are His judgments and inscrutable His ways!
34. For who hath known the mind of the LORD? Or who hath been his counsellor?
35. Or who hath given him aught before, that he should be recompensed?
36. For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things. To him be glory forever and ever!

Amen]

(Romans)

Chapter 12

Christian Rules of Life.

(Epistle on the first Sunday after Epiphany.)

1. I exhort you, brethren, by the mercy of God, to offer your bodies for sacrifice, living, holy, and acceptable to God, which is your reasonable worship.
2. And be not conformed to this world, but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove which is the good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.

3. For I say by the grace that is given unto me unto every one of you, that no man think more of himself than he ought to think; but that he think moderately of himself, every man after God hath dealt out the measure of faith.

4. For even as in one body we have many members, but all the members have not one business, 5. So then we many are one body in Christ: but one is another's member.

6. And have many gifts according to the grace that is given unto us.
(Epistle on the second Sunday after Epiphany.)

7. If any man have prophecy, let it be like unto faith. If any man have an office, let him wait for the office. If any man teach, let him wait for the teaching.

8. If any man exhort, let him wait for exhortation. If any man give, let him give plainly. If anyone governs, let him be diligent. If any man show mercy, let him do it with pleasure.

(Epistle on the day of the Visitation.)

9. Let not love be false. Hate what is bad, cling to what is good.

10. Let brotherly love be cordial one to another. Let one precede the other with reverence.

11. Be not slothful in the things which ye shall do. Be fervent in spirit. Send yourselves into the time.

12. Be joyful in hope; patient in tribulation, persevering in prayer.

13. Attend ye to the needs of the saints. Be glad to give hospitality.

14. Bless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not.

15. Rejoice with them that rejoice, and weep with them that weep.

16. Have one mind among yourselves. Do not seek after high things, but hold yourselves down to the lowly.

(Epistle on the third Sunday after Epiphany.)

17. Think not thyself wise. Do not repay evil with evil. Be diligent to be respectable to everyone.

18. If it be possible, as much as is in you, be at peace with all men.

19. Avenge not yourselves, my beloved, but give place unto wrath: for it is written: Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the LORD.

20. If therefore thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink. If thou do this, thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head.

21. Let not evil overcome thee, but overcome evil with good].

(Romans)

Chapter 13

How to behave against the authorities, your neighbour and yourself.

1. Let every man be subject unto the authority that hath power over him. For there is no authority without from God; but where there is authority, it is ordained by God.
2. Whosoever therefore shall set himself in opposition to the authorities, opposeth the ordinance of God: but they that oppose shall receive judgment of themselves.
3. For the mighty are not to be feared for good works, but for evil. But if thou wilt not fear the authorities, do good, and thou shalt have praise of them;
4. For she is God's servant, too good for thee. But if thou do evil, fear: for she beareth not the sword in vain: she is the servant of God, an avenger of punishment upon him that doeth evil.
5. Be subject therefore for necessity, not for punishment only, but also for conscience' sake.
6. For this cause ye must also give them wombs: for they are the servants of God, who shall have such protection.
7. Render therefore to every man his due: to the womb his due, to the toll his due, to the fear his due, to the honour his due.

Honour is due.

(Epistle on the fourth Sunday after Epiphany.)

8. Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.
9. For that which is said, Thou shalt not commit adultery; thou shalt not kill; thou shalt not steal; thou shalt not bear false witness; thou shalt not lust after any other commandment, is written in this word, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself:
10. Love does no harm to its neighbour. So then, love is the fulfillment of the law.

(Epistle on the first Sunday of Advent.)

11. And because we know these things, that the time is come for us to awake out of sleep, because our salvation is now nearer than when we believed,
12. The night is past, and the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.

13. Let us walk uprightly as in the day, not in eating and drinking, not in chambering and fornication, not in strife and envying.

14. But draw ye near unto the Lord Jehovah Christ, and wait for the body, but that it be not made lustful].

(Romans)

Chapter 14

How to act against the weak believers.

1. Receive him that is weak in faith, and confound not your consciences.

2. One thinketh he may eat all things: but he that is weak eateth herbs.

3. He that eateth, let him not despise him that eateth not: and he that eateth not, let him not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4. Who art thou that judgest a strange servant? He standeth or falleth before his lord. But he may be raised up: for God is able to raise him up.

5. One keepeth one day before another: but another keepeth all days alike. Every man is sure of his own mind.

6. He that keepeth the days doeth it unto the LORD: and he that keepeth nothing doeth it unto the LORD. He that eateth, eateth unto the LORD: for he giveth thanks unto God. He that eateth not eateth not unto the LORD, and giveth thanks unto God.

7. For ours is not a living unto itself, neither is it a dying unto itself.

8. If we live, we live unto the LORD: if we die, we die unto the LORD. Dam we live, or die, we are the Lord's.

9. For to this end Christ also died, and rose again, and came to life, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.

10. But thou, why judgest thou thy brother? Or you, why do you despise your brother? We shall all be presented before the judgment seat of Christ,

11. Forasmuch as it is written, As I live, saith the LORD, every knee shall bow unto me, and every tongue shall confess unto GOD.

12. Every man therefore shall give account unto God for himself.

13. Therefore let us no more judge one another, but rather let us judge, that no man give offence or offense to his brother.

14. I know and am persuaded in the Lord JESUS, that nothing is common in itself: unless he reckon it common, to him it is common.

15. But if thy brother be grieved for thy meat, then thou walkest not after love. Dearly beloved, spoil not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.
16. Therefore see that your treasure be not blasphemed.
17. For the kingdom of God is not eating and drinking, but righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.
18. Whosoever serveth Christ therein is acceptable unto God, and worthy of men.
19. Let us therefore strive after those things which make for peace, and for the betterment of one another. Let us therefore pursue that which is for peace, and that which is for the betterment of one another.
20. Dearly beloved, do not for the food's sake destroy the work of God. All things are pure, but it is not good for him who eats it with the stumbling of his conscience.
21. It is better that thou eat no flesh, and drink no wine, or that at which thy brother offendeth, or is vexed, or fainteth.
22. If thou hast faith, have it with thyself before God. Blessed is he who has no conscience in what he accepts.
23. But whosoever doubteth, and eateth, is condemned: for it is not of faith. But that which is not of faith is sin.

(Romans)

Chapter 15

Why the weak in faith are to be borne with patience, and how to come to the Christian life.

1. But we which are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to have pleasure in ourselves.
2. But let every one of us so set himself to please his neighbour for good, for correction.
3. For even Christ had no pleasure in himself, but as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproach thee are fallen upon me.
(Epistle on the Second Sunday of Advent.)
4. But those things which are written aforetime are written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.
5. But God of patience and comfort grant you to be of one mind with one another according to JESUS CHRIST,

6. That ye may with one accord praise God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7. Receive ye one another, even as Christ received you unto the praise of God.

8. But I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promise made to the fathers,

9. And that the heathen should praise God for mercy, as it is written, Therefore will I praise thee among the heathen, and sing unto thy name.

10. And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11. And again, Praise ye the LORD, all ye nations; and glorify him, all ye peoples.

12. And again saith Isaiah, It shall be the root of Jesse, and he that shall rise again to rule over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles hope.

13. But may God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing that you may have full hope through the power of the Holy Spirit].

14. But I know almost well of you, brethren, that ye yourselves are full of knowledge, filled with all understanding, that ye may admonish one another.

15. Nevertheless I have dared to write something to you, brethren, to remind you, for the grace which is given me of God,

16. That I should be a minister of Christ among the Gentiles, to offer the gospel of God, that the Gentiles might become a sacrifice acceptable unto God, sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17. Therefore I can boast in Jesus Christ, that I serve God.

18. For I ought not to speak any thing, except the same Christ work through me to bring the Gentiles to obedience by word and work,

19. By the power of signs and wonders, and by the power of the Spirit of God, so that from Jerusalem, and round about, even unto Illyria, I have filled everything with the gospel of Christ,

20. And made me particularly zealous to preach the gospel where Christ's name was not known, lest I should build upon a strange foundation.

21. But as it is written, To whomsoever he hath not spoken, they shall see; and they that have not heard, they shall understand.

22. This also is the cause why I am often prevented from coming unto you.
23. But now I have no more room in these lands, but have longed to come unto you from many years:
24. When I go into Spain, I will come unto you. For I hope to pass through there, and to see you, and to be led thither by you, but first to enjoy myself a little with you.
25. But now I am going to Jerusalem to minister to the saints.
26. For they of Macedonia and Achaia have willingly laid a common tax together for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.
27. They have done it willingly, and are also their debtors. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual goods, it is right that they should give them prove service also in bodily goods.
28. When therefore I have performed these things, and have sealed unto them this fruit, I will go through you into Spain.
29. But I know, when I come unto you, that I shall come with the full blessing of the gospel of Christ.
30. Now I beseech you, brethren, by our Lord Jesus Christ, and by the love of the Spirit, that ye help me to fight, praying for me unto God,
31. That I may be saved from the unbelievers that are in Judea, and that my service which I do toward Jerusalem may be acceptable unto the saints,
32. That I may come to you with joy by the will of God, and be refreshed with you.
33. But the GOD of peace be with you all! Amen.

(Romans)

Chapter 16

Recommendation of Phoebe. Closing greetings, warning and thanks.

1. But I commend unto you our sister Phoebe, which is at the service of the church in Kenchreah, 2. That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh the saints, and assist her in all her business wherein she hath need of you. For she also hath assisted many, even myself.
3. Salute Priscilla and Aquila, my helpers in Christ JESU,
4. Which have laid down their necks for my life; to whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches among the Gentiles.
5. Hail also the church in her house. Salute Ephrenethum, my beloved, which is the firstfruits of Achaia in Christ.

6. greet Mary, who has had much trouble and work with us.
7. Salute Andronicus and Junias, my friends, and my fellow prisoners, which are famous apostles, and were before me in Christ.
8. Salute Amplias, my beloved in the Lord.
9. Salute Urban, our helper in Christ, and Stachys, my beloved.
10. Salute Apelles the approved in Christ. Salute them that are of the company of Aristobulus.
11. Salute Herodionus, my friend. Salute them that are of the company of Narcissus in the Lord.
12. Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who have labored in the Lord. Salute Persida, my beloved, who has labored much in the Lord.
13. Salute Rufus, the elect in the Lord, and his mother and mine.
14. Salute Asyncritus and Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren with them.
15. Salute Philologus and Julia, Nereus and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints with them.
16. Greet one another with the holy kiss. The churches of Christ greet you.
17. Now I beseech you, brethren, that ye take heed of them which cause divisions and offences beside the doctrine which ye have learned, and depart from them.
18. For such serve not the Lord JESUS Christ, but their own bellies: and with sweet words and fair speech they deceive the innocent heart.
19. For your obedience is sufficient among all men. Therefore I rejoyce over you. But I will that ye be wise in good, but simple in evil.
20. But the God of peace tread Satan under your feet in a little while! The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you!
21. Timotheus my assistant, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my friends, salute you.
22. I, Tertius, salute you, who have written this epistle, in the Lord.
23. Gaius, my host, and the host of the whole congregation, saluteth you. Greetings to you from Erastus, the town's steward, and Quartus, the brother.
24. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Jesus Christ be with you all! Amen.
25. But to him that is able to strengthen you according to my gospel, and the preaching of JESUS CHRIST, by which is made manifest the mystery that was hid from the world, 26. But now it is revealed, and made known by the scriptures of the prophets, by the commandment of the eternal God, to establish the obedience of faith among all nations: 27. To the same God, who alone is wise, be glory through Jesus Christ forever and ever. Amen.

Sent to the Romans from Corinth through Phoebe, who was ministering to the church at Kenchrea.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The first letter of Paul to the Corinthians (1 Corinthians) ^

Chapter 1

1. Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and brother Sosthenes: 2. To the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ JESU, to the saints which are called, and to all them that call upon the name of our Lord JESU Christ in all their places, and in ours.

3. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. I thank my God always for the grace of God which is given unto you in Christ Jesus, 5. That through him ye might be enriched in all things, in all doctrine, and in all knowledge.

6. How then the preaching of Christ was strengthened in you,

7. So that ye have no lack of any gift, waiting only for the revelation of our Lord JESU Christ.

8. Who also shall keep you steadfast unto the end, that ye should be blameless unto the day of our Lord JESU Christ.

9. For God is faithful, by whom ye are called unto the fellowship of his Son JESU Christ our Lord.

10. Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord JESUS CHRIST, that ye all speak one word, and that ye be not divided among yourselves, but hold fast one to another in one mind and in one opinion.

11. For it is come to me, brethren, by them that are of Chloe's company among you, that there is strife among you.

12. But I say of this, that one of you saith, I am Pauline; another, I am Apollonian: I am Apollian; the third: I am Cephish; the fourth: I am Christian.

13. How then is Christ divided? Is Paul crucified unto you, or are ye baptized in Paul's name?

14. I thank GOD that I baptized none of you save Crispus and Gaius, 15. Lest any man say that I have baptized in my name.

16. And I also baptized the household of Stephen: after that I know not whether I baptized some others.

17. For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel, not with wise words, lest the cross of Christ should be made void.

18. For the word of the cross is foolishness to them that perish: but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.

19. For it is written: I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and I will reject the understanding of the prudent.

20. Where are the wise? Where are the scribes? Where are the worldly wise? Has not God made the wisdom of this world foolishness?

21. For because the world by its wisdom knew not God in his wisdom, it pleased God by foolish preaching to save them that believe,

22. For the Jews ask for signs, and the Greeks for wisdom.

23. But we preach Christ crucified, a stumblingblock to the Jews, and foolishness to the Greeks: 24. But to them that are called, both Jews and Greeks, we preach Christ divine power and wisdom.

25. For godly foolishness is wiser than men are, and godly weakness is stronger than men are.

26. Consider, brethren, your calling: not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called.

27. But whatsoever is foolish in the sight of the world, that hath God chosen to destroy the wise: and whatsoever is weak in the sight of the world, that hath God chosen to destroy that which is strong;

28. And that which was base before the world, and that which was despised, hath God chosen, and that which is not, to destroy that which is,

29. That no flesh should glory before him.

30. From whom also ye come in Christ JESUS, who is made unto us of GOD unto wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption,

31. That whosoever shall boast may boast of the Lord, as it is written.
(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 2

1. And I, brethren, when I came unto you, came not with high words or wisdom to preach unto you the divine preaching.

2. For I thought not that I knew any thing among you, save Jesus Christ crucified.

3. And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in great trembling.

4. And my word and my preaching was not in reasoning discourses of human wisdom, but in moving of the Spirit and of power,

5. That your faith may not be in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.

6. But what we speak of is wisdom in the perfect; not the wisdom of this world, nor of the rulers of this world, which perish;

7. but We speak of the secret, hidden wisdom of God, which God ordained before the world for our glory,

8. Which none of the rulers of this world knew: for if they had known them, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory;

9. But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10. But unto us God hath revealed it by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, even the depths of the Godhead.

11. For what man knoweth that which is in man, without the spirit of man which is in him? So also no one knows what is in God without the Spirit of God.

12. Now we have not received the spirit of the world, but the Spirit from God, that we might know the things which are given us of God.

13. Which also we speak, not with words which man's wisdom can teach, but with words which the Holy Ghost teacheth, judging spiritual things spiritually.

14. But the natural man heareth not of the Spirit of God: it is foolishness unto him, and he cannot know it: for it must be spiritually directed.

15. But the minister judgeth all things, and is judged of none.

16. For who hath known the mind of the LORD, or who will instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 3

Teachers are servants, Tillers and builders. The Lord and basis of salvation is Christ.

1. And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ.
2. Milk have I given you to drink, and not meat: for ye could not yet; neither can ye yet, 3. While ye are yet carnal. For since there is zeal and strife and dissension among you, are ye not carnal, and walk after the manner of men?
4. For if one saith, I am Paul, and another saith, I am Apollos, are ye not carnal?
5. Who then is Paul? Who is Apollo? Servants are they by whom ye believed, and the same as the Lord hath given to every one.
6. I planted, Apollo watered, but God gave the flourishing.
7. Now therefore neither he that planteth, nor he that watereth, is any thing, but GOD that giveth prosperity.
8. But he that planteth, and he that watereth, is one like another. But every man shall receive his reward according to his work.
9. for we are God's co-workers; you are God's field and God's building.
10. I of the grace of God, which am given unto me, have laid the foundation, as a wise master builder; and another buildeth thereon. But let every man see how he buildeth thereon.
11. For no other foundation can any man lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ.
12. But if any man build upon this foundation gold, or silver, or precious stones, or wood, or hay, or stubble,
13. Then shall every man's work be made manifest: the day shall make it plain. For it shall be revealed by fire: and whatsoever work any man doeth, the fire shall prove it.
14. If any man's work remain, which he hath built upon it, he shall receive reward.
15. But if any man's work be burned, he shall suffer loss; but he himself shall be saved, as by fire.
16. Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17. If any man destroy the temple of God, God will destroy him: for the temple of God is holy: ye are the temple of God.

18. Let no man deceive himself. Whosoever among you shall think himself wise, let him be a fool in this world, that he may be wise.

19. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written: He exalteth the wise in their prudence.

20. And again, The LORD knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21. Therefore let no man boast! It is all yours,

22. Whether it be Paul or Apollos, whether it be Cephas or the world, whether it be life or death, whether it be things present or things to come: all things are yours.

23. But ye are Christ's; but Christ is God's.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 4

1. For this reason let everyone consider us, namely, Christ's servants and stewards of God's mysteries.

2. Now seek no more in the stewards, but that they be found faithful.

3. But it is nothing to me that I should be judged of you, or that I should be judged of any man's day: neither do I judge myself.

4. I am conscious of nothing, but in this I am not justified: but it is the LORD that judgeth me.

5. Therefore judge not before the time, until the LORD come, who also shall bring to light that which is hid in darkness, and shall make manifest the counsel of the heart: and then shall praise be to every one from GOD.

6. Now these things, brethren, I have signified unto myself and unto Apollos for your sakes, that ye may learn of us, that no man thinketh more highly of himself than is now written, lest one puff himself up against another for any man's sake.

7. For who hath preferred thee? And what hast thou that thou hast not received? But if thou hast received it, why dost thou glory in it, as if thou hadst not received it?

8. Ye have been filled already; ye have been made rich already; ye reign without us. And God would have you reign, that we also might reign with you.

9. But I hold that God hath presented us apostles as the very least, delivered unto death. For we have become a spectacle to the world, and to angels, and to men.
10. We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ: we are weak, but ye are strong: ye are glorious, but we are despised.
11. Unto this hour we hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are beaten, and have no certain place.
12. And we work and labour with our own hands. We are reproached, but we bless; we are persecuted, but we endure; we are blasphemed, but we beseech.
13. we are always as a curse of the world and a fegopfer of all people.
14. I write not these things to reproach you, but to exhort you as my dear children.
15. For though ye have ten thousand taskmasters in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers. For I have begotten you in Christ Jesus through the gospel.
16. Therefore I exhort you, Be ye followers of me.
17. For the same cause have I sent unto you Timothy, who is my dear and faithful son in the Lord, that he should remind you of my ways which are in Christ, even as I teach in all places in all churches.
18. There are some that puff themselves up, as if I would not come unto you.
19. But I will come unto you very lately, if the LORD will; and learn not the words of the puffed-up, but the power.
20. For the kingdom of God is not in words, but in power.
21. What do you want? Shall I come to you with the rod, or with love and a gentle spirit?

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 5

1. There is a common cry that fornication is among you, and such fornication as the heathen know not how to say, that one hath his father's wife.
2. And ye are puffed up, and have not rather borne affliction, that he that did the work might be done by you.
3. I indeed, being absent in body, but present in spirit, have already decided as present concerning him whom these things have done:

4. in the name of our Lord JEsu Christ, in your assembly with my Spirit and with the power of our Lord JEsu Christ.

5. To deliver him up unto Satan to the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit might be saved in the day of JESUS the LORD.

6. your glory is not fine. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7. Therefore purge out the old leaven, that ye may be a new dough, even as ye are unleavened.

For we also have a paschal lamb, which is Christ, sacrificed for us.

8. Let us therefore keep the passover, not in the old leaven, neither in the leaven of malice and wickedness, but in the sweet dough of sincerity and truth.

9. I wrote unto you in the epistle, that ye should have nothing to do with harlots.

10. This I mean not at all of the harlots of this world, or of the covetous, or of the robbers, or of the idolaters; otherwise ye must leave the world.

11. But now I have written unto you, that ye should have nothing to do with them: for if any man be called a brother, and be a whoremonger, or a covetous man, or an idolater, or a profane man, or a drunkard, or a robber, with him ye shall not eat.

12. For what have I to do with them that are without, that I should judge them? Judge ye not them that are within?

13. But God shall judge them that are without. Put out from yourselves those who are evil!

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 6

1. How is it that any of you, if he hath a bargain with another, should grieve before the unrighteous, and not before the saints?

2. Know ye not that the saints shall judge the world? If then the world be judged of you, are ye not good enough to judge lesser things?

3. Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more temporal goods!

4. But ye, when ye have matters of temporal goods, take them that are despised of the congregation, and set them for judges.

5. To your shame I must say this. Is there no wise man among you, or is there not one who can judge between brother and brother?

6. But one brother contendeth with another, and before the unbelievers.
7. It is already a fault among you, that ye reason one with another. Why would ye not rather be wronged? Why do ye not rather take advantage of one another?
8. But ye do wrong, and take advantage, and that to the brethren.
9. Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither the harlots, nor the idolaters, nor the adulterers, nor the wimps, nor the abusers of children.
10. Nor the thieves, nor the covetous, nor the drunkards, nor the blasphemers, nor the robbers, shall inherit the kingdom of GOD.
11. And such were some of you: but ye are washed, ye are sanctified, ye are justified by the name of JESUS the LORD, and by the Spirit of our GOD.
12. I have all power; but all is not good. I have all the power, but nothing shall take me captive.
13. The meat of the incense, and the belly of the meat: but God shall put to death both such and such. And the body not to fornication, but to the LORD; and the LORD to the body.
14. But God hath raised up the Lord, and will also raise us up by his power.
15. Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? Shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them whores' members? Far be it from me!
16. Or know ye not, that he that cleaveth to the harlot is one body with her? For they shall be two in one flesh, saith he.
17. But he that believeth in the LORD is one spirit with him.
18. Flee fornication. All sins that a man doeth are without his body: but he that committeth fornication sinneth against his own body.
19. Or know ye not that your body is a temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of GOD, and are not yourselves?
20. For ye are dearly purchased. Therefore praise God in your body and in your spirit, which are God's.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 7

1. But of whom ye wrote unto me, I answer, It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2. But for fornication let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.
3. Let the husband render unto the wife the friendship due, and likewise the wife unto the husband.
4. The woman is not mighty in her womb, but the man. In the same way, the man is not powerful in his body, but the woman is.
5. Withdraw not one from another, except it be by the consent of both for a season, that ye may have leisure for fasting and prayer: and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your unchastity.
6. But I say these things out of favour, and not out of commandment.
7. But I would rather all men were as I am: but every man hath his own gift from God, one so, and another so.
8. Though I say unto the single, and to widows, It is good for them, if they also abide as I abide.
9. But if they abstain not, let them be free: it is better to be free, than to be in heat.
10. Now unto the married, I command not, but the LORD, that the wife put not away her husband.
11. But if she separate, that she be left without marriage, or be reconciled to her husband, and that the husband put not away the wife.
12. But unto the rest I say, not unto the Lord, If a brother have an unbelieving wife, and she please to dwell with him, let him not put her away.
13. And if a woman have an unbelieving husband, and he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not put her away from him.
14. For the unbelieving man is sanctified through the woman, and the unbelieving woman is sanctified through the man. Otherwise your children would be unclean, but now they are holy.
15. But if the unbeliever divorce himself, let him divorce himself. The brother or sister is not caught in such cases. But in peace God has called us.
16. But what knowest thou, O woman, whether thou wilt save the man? Or what knowest thou, O man, whether thou wilt save the woman?

17. But as God hath dealt to every man. Every man as the Lord hath called him, so let him walk.

And so I do in all the churches.

18. If any man be called circumcised, let him not be circumcised. If any man be called in the foreskin, let him not be circumcised.

19. Circumcision is nothing, and the foreskin is nothing, but keeping God's commandments; 20. Let every man continue in the profession wherein he is called.

21. If thou art called a servant, be not anxious: but if thou canst be free, much more need it.

22. For he that is called a servant in the LORD is a soldier of the LORD: likewise he that is called a freeman is a servant of Christ.

23. Ye are dearly bought; become not the servants of men.

24. Every man, brethren, in that wherein he is called, let him abide with God.

25. But of virgins I have no commandment from the LORD: but I speak my mind, when I have obtained mercy of the LORD, to be faithful.

26. I think therefore that it is good for the present necessity, that it should be good for a man to be so.

27. If thou be bound unto a wife, seek not to be loosed: but if thou be loosed from a wife, seek no wife.

28. But if thou freest, thou sinest not: and if a virgin freeth, she sinneth not: but such shall have tribulation of the flesh. But I spare you gladly.

29. But this I say, brethren, that the time is short. And this is the opinion: They that have wives are as though they had none, and they that weep are as though they wept not, 30. And they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not,

31. And they that use this world, that they abuse it not: for the nature of this world passeth away.

32. But I would that ye were without care. He that is free, let him take heed to the things that belong unto the LORD, how he may please the LORD.

33. But he that is free careth for the things of the world, how he may please the woman. There is a difference between a woman and a virgin.

34. She that is not free careth for the things that pertain unto the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is free careth for the things that pertain unto the world, that she may please the man.

35. But these things say I for your profit; not that I cast a snare upon you, but that it may be fine, and that ye may serve the LORD always and freely.

36. But if any man think that it is not right with his virgin, because she is manly, and will not be otherwise, let him do what he will: he sinneth not, but letteth her go free.

37. But if any man, being at liberty, and having his own will, resolves in his heart to keep his virgin, he doeth well.

38. Finally, he that is married doeth well; but he that is not married doeth better.

39. A woman is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth: but if her husband die, she is free to marry whom she will; only that it be done in the LORD.

40. But it is more blessed where it abideth, according to my opinion. But I hold, I also have the Spirit of God.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 8

1. But of the sacrifice made to idols we know: for we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up; but love mendeth.

2. But if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth not yet how he ought to know.

3. But if any man love God, he is known of him.

4. We know therefore of the meat of the sacrifice made to idols, that there is no idol in the world, neither is there any other God without some.

5. And though they be called gods, whether in heaven, or in earth, yet there be many gods, and many lords:

6. We have one God the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him; and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7. But not every man hath knowledge. For some still make a conscience over the idol, and eat it for sacrifices made to idols: so their conscience, being so weak, is tainted.

8. But food doth not profit us in the sight of God. If we eat, we shall not be better for it; if we do not eat, we shall not be less for it.

9. But take heed that this liberty of yours be not an offence to the weak.

10. For if thou, which hast knowledge, seest any man sitting at meat in the house of idols, shall not his conscience, because he is weak, cause him to eat things sacrificed unto idols?

11. And so over thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died.

12. But if ye thus sin against the brethren, and smite their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13. Therefore if the meat offended my brother, I would eat no more meat, lest I should offend my brother.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 9

1. Am I not an apostle? Am I not free? Have I not seen our Lord Jesus Christ? Are ye not my workmanship in the Lord?

2. Though I be not an apostle to others, yet am I your apostle: for the seal of my apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3. Thus, when I am asked, I answer:

4. have we not power to eat and drink?

5. Have we not power to take a sister to wife with us, as the rest of the apostles, and the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?

6. Or have not I and Barnaba alone power to do this?

7. What man ever goeth to war out of his own pay? Who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8. But do I speak these things in the manner of men? Does not the law also say these things?

9. For in the law of Moses it is written: Thou shalt not bind up the mouth of the bullock that treadeth therein. Does God take care of the oxen?

10. Or saith he not all for our sakes? For it is written for our sakes. For he that ploweth shall plow for hope; and he that thresheth shall thresh for hope, that he may be partaker of his hope.

11. If we sow you spiritual things, is it a great matter whether we reap your bodily things?

12. But if others are partakers of this power in you, why not much more we? But we have not used such power, but have endured all things, that we should not be a hindrance to the gospel of Christ.

13. Know ye not that they which sacrifice eat of the sacrifice, and they which keep the altar eat of the altar?

14. So also the LORD commanded that they which preach the gospel should feed on the gospel.

15. But I have not needed any of these. I also do not write about it so that it should be kept with me. I would rather die than that no one should destroy my fame.

16. For that I preach the gospel, I cannot boast; for I must do it. And woe is me, if I preach not the gospel!

17. If I do it gladly, I shall be rewarded: but if I do it unwillingly, yet the office is commanded me.

18. What then is my reward? To preach the gospel of Christ, and to do it freely, that I may not abuse my liberty in the gospel.

19. For though I am free from all men, yet have I made myself the servant of all men, that I may gain them much.

20. To the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might win the Jews. To them that are under the law have I become as under the law, that I might win them that are under the law.

21. To them that are without law have I become as without law (though I am not without law before God, but am in the law of Christ), that I might win them that are without law.

22. To the weak I became as a weak man, that I might win the weak. I am become all things to all men, that I might save some in all places.

23. But these things do I for the gospel's sake, that I may be partaker of it.

24. Know ye not that they which run in the stocks run all, but one getteth the jewel? Run therefore, that ye may take it.

25. But every one that fighteth abstaineth from all things: so that they receive a corruptible crown, but we an incorruptible.

26. But I run thus, not as into the unknown; I fence thus, not as he that sweepeth into the air, 27. But I stupefy my body, and tame it, lest I preach to others, and become reprobate myself.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 10

1. But I will not, brethren, forbid you, that our fathers were all under the cloud, and 1-were all passed through the sea.
2. And were all baptized under Moses with the cloud, and with the sea;
3. And they have all eaten the same spiritual meat.
4. And they all drank of the same spiritual drink: but they drank of the spiritual rock which followed, which was Christ.
5. But in their many God was not pleased; for they are cast down in the wilderness.
6. And this is done for an ensample unto us, that we should not lust after evil, as they lusted.
7. Neither be ye idolaters, as some were, when it was written, The people sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to play.
8. Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed fornication, and fell in one day twenty and three thousand.
9. Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them tempted him, and were killed of serpents.
10. Neither murmur, as some murmured, and were destroyed by the destroyer.
11. All these things happened unto them for an ensample: but it is written for a warning unto us, that the end of the world is come.
12. Therefore whosoever shall think that he standeth, let him take heed that he fall not.
13. None but man's temptation hath yet entered upon you: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above your ability, but will make the temptation to cease, that ye may be able to bear it.
14. Therefore, my. Beloved, flee from idolatry!
15. As with the wise I speak; judge ye what I say.
16. The blessed cup which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?
17. For one bread it is: so are we many one body, in that we are all partakers of one bread.
18. Consider Israel after the flesh. Which eat the sacrifices, are they not in the fellowship of the altar?
19. What then shall I say? Shall I say that the idol is something, or that the sacrifice to the idol is something?

20. But I say, that what the heathen sacrifice, they sacrifice unto devils, and not unto God. Now I would not that ye should be in the company of devils.

21. Ye cannot both drink the cup of the LORD, and the cup of devils: ye cannot both partake of the table of the LORD, and of the table of devils.

22. Or shall we defy the LORD? Are we stronger than he?

23. I have all power, but all is not well. I have it all power; but it mendeth not all things.

24. Let no man seek his own, but let every man seek his own.

25. Whatsoever is found in the market of meats, eat it not, neither search it out; that ye may spare your consciences.

26. For the earth is the LORD'S, and the things that are therein.

27. But if any of the unbelievers invite you, and ye will go, eat all that is set before you, and search nothing, that ye may be spared of conscience.

28. But if any man say unto you, This is an offering made unto idols; eat it not, because he shewed it; that ye may be spared in conscience. The earth is the LORD's, and all that is therein.

29. But I say of conscience, not thine own, but another's. For why should I let my liberty be judged by another man's conscience?

30. For if I enjoy it with thanksgiving, what shall I be blasphemed above that for which I give thanks?

31. Ye eat therefore, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do it all to the glory of God.

32. Be not angry neither with the Jews nor with the Greeks nor with the church of God, 33. Even as I please every man in all things, seeking not that which is good for me, but that which is good for many, that they may be saved.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 11

1. be my followers, as I am of Christ!

2. I commend you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the manner which I have given you. .

3. But I would have you know that Christ is the head of every man, and the man is the head of the woman: but God is the head of Christ.

4. Every man that prayeth or prophesieth, having any thing upon his head, defileth his head.

5. But a woman praying or prophesying with her head uncovered defileth her head: for it is as much as if she were shaven.

6. If she will not cover herself, cut off her hair also. But if it be evil for a woman to have her hair cut, or to be shaven, let her cover her head.

7. But the man shall not cover his head, because he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8. For the man is not of the woman, but the woman is of the man.

9. And the man was not created for the woman's sake: but the woman for the man's sake.

10. Therefore the woman shall have power upon her head for the angels' sakes.

11. But neither is the man without the woman, nor the woman without the man in the LORD.

12. For as the woman cometh of the man, so also the man cometh. Man comes through woman, but everything comes from God.

13. Judge for yourselves whether it is right for a woman to pray before God uncovered.

14. Or doth not nature teach you, that it is an dishonour to a man to beget long hair, 15. and an honour to a woman to beget long hair? The hair is given her for a covering.

16. But if there be any among you that desire to quarrel, let him know that we have no such manner, neither have the churches of God.

17. But this I must command: I cannot commend it, that ye come together, not in a better way, but in a worse.

18. First, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you; and in part I believe it.

19. For there must be divisions among you, that they which are righteous \nexists may be manifest among you.

20. When ye therefore come together, they keep not the supper of the Lord.

21. For when they take supper, every man taketh his own before, and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22. Have ye not houses where ye may eat and drink? Or do ye despise the congregation of God, and put to shame them that have nothing? What shall I say unto you? Shall I praise you? In this I praise you not.

23. I have received of the LORD that which I gave you. For the Lord Jesus, in the night that he was betrayed, took bread,

24. And gave thanks, and brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body which is broken for you.

This do in remembrance of me.

25. And likewise the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood. This do, as often as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26. For as often as ye eat of this bread, and drink of this cup, ye shall proclaim the death of the LORD, until he come.

27. Whosoever therefore shall eat of this bread, or drink of the cup of the LORD, unworthily, is guilty of the body and blood of the LORD.

28. But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of this bread, and drink of this cup.

29. For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily eateth and drinketh judgment to himself, because he distinguisheth not the body of the LORD.

30. For this cause also there are many among you that are sick and weak, and a good part sleep.

31. For if we judge ourselves, we shall not be judged.

32. But when we are judged, we are chastened of the LORD, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33. Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, wait one for another.

34. But if any man hunger, let him eat at home, lest ye come together for judgment. The rest will I set in order when I come.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 12

1. But of spiritual gifts I will not restrain you, brethren.

2. Ye know that ye were Gentiles, and that ye went unto dumb idols, as ye were led.

3. Therefore I make known unto you, that no man curseth Jesus which speaketh by the Spirit of God: neither can any man call Jesus Lord, except it be by the Holy Ghost.

4. There are many gifts, but there is one Spirit.

5. And there are divers ministries, but there is one LORD.

6. And there are divers powers, but there is one God, which worketh all in all.

7. In every one the gifts of the Spirit are manifested for the common good.
8. To one is given by the Spirit to speak wisdom, and to another to speak knowledge, according to the same Spirit;
9. To another, faith in the same Spirit; to another, the gift of healing in the same Spirit; 10. To another to do miracles; to another to prophesy; to another to discern spirits; to another to discern divers tongues; to another to interpret tongues.
11. And all these things worketh the same one Spirit, dividing to every man his own according to his will.
12. For as one body is, and hath many members; and all the members of one body, though they be many, are one body: so also is Christ.
13. For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Greeks, whether we be bond or free; and are all made to drink into one Spirit.
14. For even the body is not one member, but many.
15. But if the foot should say, I am not a hand, therefore I am not a member of the body; shall it not for this cause be a member of the body?
16. And if the ear should say, I am not an eye; therefore am I not of the body; shall it not for this cause be of the body?
17. If the whole body were the eye, where would the hearing be? If it were all hearing, where would the smell be?
18. But now God hath set the members apart in the body, as he would have them.
19. But if all the members were one member, where would the body be?
20. Now the members are many, but the body is one.
21. The eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee; or again the head unto the feet: I have no need of you;
22. But rather, the members of the body, which seem to us to be the weakest, are the most necessary,
23. And they that seem to us to be the most unrighteous we do most honour to them: and they that seem to us to be evil we adorn most.

24. For they that are well disposed toward us have no need. But God hath thus mixed the body, and hath given the most honour unto the poorest part,
25. That there be no division in the body, but that the members care for one another alike.
26. And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it: and if one member be kept glorious, all the members rejoice with it.
27. But ye are the body of Christ, and members every one according to his part.
28. And. God has placed in the church first the apostles, then the prophets, then the teachers, then the miracle workers, then the gifts to heal, the helpers, the governors, the various languages.
29. Are they all apostles? Are they all prophets? Are they all teachers? Are they all miracle workers? 3
30. Have they all gifts to make well? Do they all speak with divers tongues? Can they all interpret?
31. But strive for the best gifts. And I will show you yet a more delicious way.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 13

1. If I speak with the tongues of men, and with the tongues of angels, and have not love, I am sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.
2. And if I could prophesy, and know all mysteries, and all knowledge, and have all faith, so as to remove mountains, and have not love, I am nothing.
3. And if I give all my goods to the poor, and let my body burn, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.
4. Love is longsuffering and kind; love is not jealous; love is not wanton; it is not puffed up; 5. She is not unruly; she seeks not her own; she is not provoked; she seeks not harm; 6. She rejoiceth not in iniquity; but rejoiceth in the truth;
7. she tolerates all things, she believes all things, she hopes all things, she endures all things.
8. Love never ceaseth, but prophecy shall cease, and tongues shall cease, and knowledge shall cease.
9. For our knowledge is fragmentary, and our prophesying is fragmentary.

10. But when that which is perfect shall come, then shall that which is in part cease.

11. When I was a child, I spake as a child, and was wise as a child, and had childish thoughts: but when I became a man, I put away those things which were childish.

12. We see now by a mirror in a dark word, but then face to face. Now I see in bits, but then I shall know even as I am known.

13. Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but love is the greatest of these.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 14

1. Strive after love. Diligence yourselves to spiritual gifts, but most of all to prophesy.

2. For he that speaketh with the tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God. For no man heareth unto him: but in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3. But he that knoweth speaketh unto men for correction, and for exhortation, and for comfort.

4. He that speaketh with tongues correcteth himself: but he that knoweth correcteth the church.

5. I would that ye all spake with tongues, but much more that ye prophesied. For he that prophesieth is greater than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may be edified thereby.

6. But now, brethren, if I came unto you speaking with tongues, what profit was I to you, if I spake not unto you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecy, or by teaching?

7. Even so in those things which sound, and live not, whether it be a whistle or a harp; if they utter not divers voices, how can we know what is whistled, or what is harped?

8. And if the trumpet sound an uncertain note, who will make ready for the battle?

9. So likewise ye, if ye speak with tongues, if ye give not plain speech, how shall it be known what is spoken? For ye shall speak into the wind.

10. Though there be divers kinds of voices in the world, yet none of them is uncertain.

11. If therefore I know not the interpretation of the voice, I shall be un-German unto him that speaketh, and he that speaketh shall be un-German unto me.

12. So likewise ye, being diligent for spiritual gifts, seek to improve the church, that ye may have all things abundantly.

13. Therefore let him that speaketh with tongues pray that he may interpret.

14. And if I pray with tongues, my spirit prayeth: but my mind bringeth forth no fruit.

Fifteen. But how should it be? Namely, thus: I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray also with the mind: I will sing psalms with the spirit, and I will sing psalms with the mind.

16. But if thou bless in the spirit, how shall he that standeth instead of the laity say 'Amen' unto thy thanksgiving, seeing he knoweth not what thou sayest?

17. Thou hast given thanks well, but the other is not made better.

18. I thank my God that I speak with tongues more than ye all.

19. But I will rather speak five words with my mind in the church, that I may teach others also, than ten thousand words with tongues.

20. Brethren, be not children in understanding, but in wickedness be children: but in understanding be ye perfect.

21. It is written in the law: With other tongues and with other lips will I speak unto this people, and they shall not hear me," saith the LORD.

22. Therefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not; and prophecy, not to them that believe, but to them that believe.

23. If therefore the whole church were gathered together in one place, and all spake with tongues, and there came in laymen or unbelievers, would they not say that ye were senseless?

24. And if they all prophesy, and an unbeliever or a layman come in, he shall be punished of them all, and judged of them all.

25. And so the secret of his heart would be revealed, and he would fall on his face and worship God and confess that God is truly in you.

26. How is it then, brethren? When ye come together, every one hath psalms, he hath doctrine, he hath tongues, he hath revelation, he hath interpretation. Let it all be done for the better!

27. If any man speak with the tongue, or two, or three, one by one; let one lay it out.
28. But if he be not an interpreter, let him hold his peace among the congregation, and speak unto himself, and unto God:
29. But let the prophets speak, two or three, and let the rest judge.
30. But if one revelation be to another that sitteth, let the first hold his peace.
31. Ye may all prophesy one by one, that they may all learn, and that they may all be instructed.
32. And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.
33. for God is not a God of disorder, but of peace, as in all the churches of the saints.
34. Let your wives keep silence among the congregation: for it shall not be lawful for them to speak, but to be subject, as also saith the law.
35. But if they would learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home. It is evil for women to speak among the congregation.
36. Or is the word of God come out from you, or is it come to you alone?
37. If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him know what I write unto you: for they are the commandments of the LORD.
38. But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.
39. Wherefore, brethren, be diligent to prophesy, and forbear not to speak with tongues.
40. Let everything be done honestly and properly!

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 15

1. But I remind you, brethren, of the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye received, in the which also ye stand,
2. By which also ye are saved, which form I preached unto you, if ye have kept it, except ye have believed it in vain.
3. For I have given you first of all that which I also received, that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures,
4. And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures, 5. And that he was seen of Cephas, and afterward of the twelve.
6. After this he was seen of more than five hundred brethren at one time, many of whom are yet alive, but some have fallen asleep.

7. After that he was seen of James, and after that of all the apostles.
8. At the last after all he was also seen of me, as of an untimely birth; 9.
For I am the least of the apostles, as I am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.
10. But by the grace of God am I that I am; and his grace toward me was not in vain, but I labored much more than they all: not I, but the grace of God which is with me.
11. Whether it be I or they, so preach we, and so have ye believed.
12. But if Christ be preached that he is risen from the dead, how say some of you that the resurrection of the dead is nothing?
13. But if the resurrection of the dead be nothing, neither is Christ risen.
14. But if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and so is your faith.
15. And we also are found false witnesses unto God, that we have testified against God, that he hath raised up Christ, whom he hath not raised up, because the dead rise not.
16. For if the dead rise not, neither is Christ risen.
17. But if Christ be not risen, your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins,
18. So they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are lost.
19. If we hope in Christ alone in this life, we are the most miserable of all men.
20. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that sleep, 21. For by a man cometh death, and by a man the resurrection of the dead.
22. For as in Adam they all die, even so in Christ shall they all be made alive.
23. But every man in his own order. The firstfruits Christ, after that they which are Christ's, when he shall come.
24. After this the end, when he shall deliver up the kingdom to God and to the Father, when he shall abolish all rule and all authority and power.
25. But he must reign, until he put all his enemies under his feet.
26. The last enemy to be lifted up is death.
27. For he hath put all things under his feet. And when he saith that all things are put under him, it is evident that he is excepted that put all things under him.

28. And when all things shall be subject unto him, then shall the Son himself also be subject unto him that put all things under him, that GOD may be all in all.
29. What else do they that are baptized above the dead, if the dead rise not? Why are they baptized over the dead?
30. and what are we all hour in danger?
31. By the glory that I have in Christ our Lord, I die daily.
32. If I have fought with the wild beasts at Ephesus in the opinion of men, what shall it profit me if the dead rise not? Let us eat and drink; for tomorrow we shall be dead.
33. Be not deceived! Evil gossip corrupts good morals.
34. Be ye yet once right sober, and sin not: for some know not of GOD, that I say unto you to shame.
35. But will any man say, How shall the dead rise, and with what kind of body shall they come?
36. Thou fool, what thou sowest shall not live, except it die.
37. And that which thou sowest is not the body which is to be, but a mere grain of wheat, or of another.
38. But God giveth him a body according to his will, and to every one of the seed his own body.
39. All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one flesh of man, and another of beast, and another of fish, and another of fowl.
40. And there are heavenly bodies and earthly bodies. But another glory have the heavenly, and another the earthly.
41. The sun hath another brightness, the moon another brightness, the stars another brightness: for one star excelleth another in brightness.
42. So also the resurrection of the dead. It is sown corruptible, and shall rise incorruptible.
43. It is sown in dishonour, and shall rise in glory. It is sown in weakness, and shall rise in power.
44. A natural body is sown, and a spiritual body is raised. If one has a natural body, he also has a spiritual body,
45. As it is written, The first man Adam was made into the natural life, and the last Adam into the spiritual life.
46. But the spiritual body is not first, but the natural, afterward the spiritual.

47. The first man is of the earth, and earthy: the other man is the LORD from heaven.

48. As the earthly is, so are the earthly; and as the heavenly is, so are the heavenly.

49. And as we have borne the image of the earthly, so shall we bear the image of the heavenly.

50. And of this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit. Nor shall that which is temporal inherit that which is incorruptible,

51. Behold, I tell you a mystery; we shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, 52. And the same suddenly, in a moment, at the time of the last trumpet. For the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53. For that which is corruptible must put on that which is incorruptible, and that which is mortal must put on immortality.

54. And when this corruptible shall put on incorruption, and this mortal shall put on immortality, then shall it be fulfilled. The word that is written:

55. Death is entwined in victory. Death, where is thy sting? Hell, where is your victory?

56. But the sting of death is sin: but the power of sin is the law.

57. But thanks be to God, who has given us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

58. Wherefore, my brethren, be ye steadfast, immovable, always increasing in the work of the LORD, knowing that your labour is not in vain in the LORD.

(1 Corinthians)

Chapter 16

1. But of the taxation which is done unto the saints, as I have ordained for the churches which are in Galatia, so do ye also.

2. On every sabbath day lay up for yourselves every one of you, and gather that which seemeth him good: lest, when I come, the first thing that is to be gathered is the tax.

3. But if I be darkened, whom ye shall see by letters. I will send them, and they shall bring your good deeds unto Jerusalem.

4. But if it be worth my while to go, let them go with me.

5. But I will come unto you when I pass through Macedonia: for through Macedonia will I pass.

6. But with you I may abide, or I may winter, that ye may guide me whither I go.
 7. I will not see you now as I pass by: for I hope to abide with you some time, if the LORD permit.
 8. But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
 9. For a great door is opened unto me, which bringeth forth much fruit; and there are many abominable ones.
 10. When Timothy cometh, see that he be with you without fear: for he also doeth the work of the Lord, as I do.
 11. Lest any man despise him now. But lead him in peace, that he may come unto me: for I wait for him with the brethren.
 12. Now concerning Apollos the brother, know that I exhorted him very much to come unto you with the brethren, and it was not his will at all that he should come now; but he will come when it shall be convenient for him.
 13. Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, be ye manly, and be ye strong.
 14. Let all your things be done in love.
 15. Now I beseech you, brethren, that ye know the house of Stephanas, that they are \nexists the firstfruits of Achaia, and have ordained themselves for the service of the saints, 16. That ye also may be subject unto them, and to all that work and labour.
 17. I rejoyce in the future of Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus: for where I have lacked of you, they have repaid.
 18. They have refreshed my spirit and yours. Know ye them that are such!
 19. The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla and the congregation in their house greet you greatly in the Lord.
 20. All the brothers greet you. Greet one another with the holy kiss.
 21. I, Paul, greet you with my hand.
 22. If any man love not the Lord Jehovah Christ, let him be anathema, Maharam Motha.
 23. The grace of the Lord JEsu Christ be with you.
 24. My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.
- The first epistle to the Corinthians, sent from Philippi, by Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus and Timotheus.
- Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The second letter to the Corinthians of Paul (2 Corinthians) ^

Chapter 1

Paul's patience in persecution.

1. Paul, an apostle of JESUS Christ by the will of GOD, and brother Timothy: To the church of GOD at Corinth, with all the saints throughout Achaia.

2. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercy and the God of all comfort, 4. Who comforteth us in all our afflictions, that we may comfort them also which are in all our afflictions with consolation, that we may be comforted of GOD.

5. For as we have much of the passion of Christ, even so we are abundantly comforted through Christ.

6. But if we have affliction or comfort, it is for your good. If it be affliction, it is for your comfort and salvation: which salvation is proved, if ye suffer with patience as we suffer. If it be comfort, it shall be unto you for comfort and salvation.

7. And let our hope stand firm for you, knowing that as ye are partakers of affliction, so shall ye also be partakers of consolation.

8. For we will not forbear you, brethren, our affliction, which was with us in Asia, when we were exceeding heavy, and exceeding mighty, so that we also despaired of life.

9. and had decided with ourselves that we must die. But this was because we did not put our trust in ourselves, but in God, who raises the dead,

10. Who hath delivered us from this death, and delivereth us every day: and we hope in him that he will deliver us also henceforth.

11. By the help of your intercession for us, that much thanksgiving may be given upon us for the gift that is given to us, through many persons.

12. For our glory is this, that our conscience bears witness, that we have walked in simplicity and godly integrity, not in carnal wisdom, but in the grace of God in the world, and most of all with you.

13. For we write no other things unto you, but what ye read and find. But I hope that ye will find us even unto the end, even as ye have found us in part.
14. For we are your glory, even as ye are our glory in the day of JESUS the LORD.
15. And in this confidence I thought to come unto you at that time, that ye might receive a benefit,
16. And I journeyed by you into Macedonia, and came again out of Macedonia unto you, and was led of you into Judaea.
17. But have I used levity in thinking these things, or are my judgments carnal? Not so; but with me yea is yea, and nay is nay.
18. But, O faithful God, that our word to you had not been yea and nay!
19. For the Son of God, JESUS Christ, which is preached among you by us, by me, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay; but yea was in him.
20. For all the promises of God are yea in him, and are amen in him, to the praise of God through us.
21. But it is God that hath established us together with you in Christ, and hath anointed us.
22. And sealed, and put in our hearts the pledge, the Spirit.
23. But I call God to witness upon my soul, that I have spared you in that I came not again to Corinth.
24. Not that we are lords over your faith, but that we are the helpers of your joy: for ye stand by faith.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 2

Readmission of the penitent sinner.

1. But I thought such things of myself, that I should not come again unto you in sadness.
2. For if I make you sad, who is he that maketh me glad, without he that is made sad by me?
3. And these things have I written unto you, lest, when I came, I should be sorrowful, whereof I should rejoice; for I promise this unto you all, that my joy shall be the joy of you all.
4. For I wrote unto you in great affliction and anguish of heart with many tears, not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have especially unto you.

5. But if any man hath caused any affliction, he hath not afflicted me without in part, lest I should afflict you all.
6. But it is enough that he is thus punished of many.
7. That ye henceforth more abundantly pardon and comfort him, lest he sink into too great sorrow.
8. Wherefore I exhort you to shew love toward him.
9. For this cause also have I written unto you, to know whether ye are righteous to be obedient in all things.
10. But whosoever ye forgive, I forgive him also. For I also, if I forgive any thing, forgive it for your sakes in Christ's stead,
11. That we be not taken in hand by Satan: for we are not ignorant of what he hath in mind.
12. And when I was come to Troas to preach the gospel of Christ, a door was opened unto me in the Lord,
13. I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but I made my departure with them, and went out into Macedonia.
14. But thanks be to God, which always giveth us the victory in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.
15. For we are unto God the good savour of Christ, both of them that are saved, and of them that are lost:
16. To these a smell of death unto death, and to those a smell of life unto life. And who is able to do this?
17. For we are not as some many, which pervert the word of God: but as of sincerity, and as of God, before God, speak we in Christ.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 3

Defending the evangelical preaching ministry.

1. Do we then begin again to praise ourselves? Or have we need, as some have, of letters of praise to you, or of letters of praise from you?
2. You are our letter, written in our hearts, to be known and read by all men,
3. Who have been made manifest that ye are the epistle of Christ, prepared by our preaching ministry, and written by us, not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God, not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.

(Epistle on the twelfth Sunday after Trinity.)

4. But we have such confidence in God through Christ.

5. Not that we are able of ourselves to think anything but of ourselves, but that we are able is of GOD,
6. Who also hath made us able to do the ministry of the new testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit. For the letter killeth, but the Spirit quickeneth.
7. And the ministry, which killeth by letters, and is formed in stones, had clearness; so that the children of Israel could not look upon the face of Moses, because of the clearness of his countenance, which ceaseth,
8. how should not much more the office that gives the Spirit have clarity?
9. For if the ministry which preacheth condemnation have glory, much more hath the ministry which preacheth righteousness exceeding glory.
10. For even that part which was glorified is not to be reckoned clear against this exceeding clear.
11. For if that which ceaseth hath clearness, much more shall that which continueth have clearness].
12. Forasmuch then as we have this hope, we have need of great joy.
13. And do not as Moses did, when he hanged the covering before his face, so that the children of Israel could not see the end of him that ceaseth.
14. But their minds are hardened: for unto this day the same covering remaineth uncovered over the Old Testament, when they read it, which ceaseth in Christ.
15. But to this day, when Moses is read, the ceiling hangs before their hearts.
16. But if he turn unto the LORD, the covering is taken away.
17. For the LORD is the Spirit. And where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.
18. But now in us all the glory of the Lord is reflected with unveiled face: and we are changed into the same image from glory to glory, as of the Spirit of the Lord.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 4

Fruitfulness of the gospel in believers struggling under the cross.

1. Wherefore, seeing we have such a ministry, after mercy hath been shown unto us, we are not weary

2. but also shun secret shame, and deal not with mischievousness, neither counterfeit the word of God, but with revelation of the truth, and prove ourselves well against all men's consciences before God.

3. If therefore our gospel be hid, it is hid in them that perish, 4. In whom the God of this world has blinded the minds of the unbelievers, so that they do not see the bright light of the gospel of the clarity of Christ, who is the image of God.

5. For we preach not ourselves, but JESUS Christ, that he is the LORD: and we your servants for JESUS' sake.

6. For God, who caused the light to shine out of darkness, hath given a bright light in our hearts, that there might be an illumination of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

(Epistle on St. Bartholomew's Day.)

7. But we have such treasure in earthly vessels, that the abundant power may be of God, and not of us.

8. We have tribulation in every place, but we are not afraid; we are afraid, but we do not despair; 9. We suffer persecution, but we are not forsaken; we are oppressed, but we do not perish.

10. And bear always the death of the LORD JESU in our bodies, that the life also of the LORD JESU may be manifested in our bodies].

11. For we which are alive are given unto death for ever for JESUS' sake, that the life of JESUS also might be manifested in our mortal flesh.

12. Therefore death is mighty in us, but life in you.

13. But because we have the same spirit of faith, (as it is written, I believe, therefore I speak;) we also believe, therefore we also speak.

14. Knowing that he which raised up JESUS the LORD will raise us up also by JESUS, and will present us together with you.

15. For all things are done for your sakes, that the abundance of grace through many thanksgivings may abundantly glorify God.

16. Wherefore we are not weary: but though our outward man be decayed, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17. For our affliction, which is temporal and light, creates an everlasting and exceeding glory.

18. We who do not look at the visible, but at the invisible; for what is visible is temporal, but what is invisible is eternal.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 5

Comfort of the believers against all tribulations. Power of the gospel.

1. But we know, if our earthly house of this tabernacle be broken down, that we have an edifice built of God, a house not made with hands, which is for ever in heaven.

2. And above the same we also long for our habitation, which is from heaven, and desire that we may be clothed therewith,

3. So then, where we are clothed, and not found bare.

4. For while we are in the tabernacle, we long and are heavy laden, because we would rather not be unclothed, but clothed, that mortal things might be swallowed up of life.

5. And he that prepareth us for the same is God, who hath given us the pledge, the Spirit.

6. But we are always confident, knowing that, as we dwell in the body, so we are pleasing to the Lord.

7. For we walk by faith, and not by sight.

8. But we are confident, and rather delight to walk apart from the body, and to be at home with the LORD.

9. Wherefore we also labour, whether we be at home, or whether we walk, to please him.

10. For we must all be made manifest before the judgment seat of Christ, that every man may receive according to his deeds in the life of the body, whether it be good or bad.

11. Knowing therefore that the LORD is to be feared, we deal well with men: but we are manifest unto God. But I hope that we are also manifest in your consciences.

12. That we glory not again, but give you a cause to glory of us, that ye may have glory against them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.

13. For if we do too much, we do it unto God: if we are moderate, we are moderate unto you.

14. For the love of Christ presseth us therefore, because we hold that if one died for all, then died they all.

15. And therefore died for them all, that they which live should not live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.
16. Henceforth therefore we know no man after the flesh: and though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet know we him no more.
17. Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.
18. But all this from God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given us the ministry of reconciliation.
19. For God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their sins unto them, and hath established among us the word of reconciliation.
20. We are therefore ambassadors in Christ's stead: for God doth exhort by us. So now we ask in the place of Christ: Be reconciled to GOD!
21. For he made him who knew no sin to be sin for us, that we might have in him the righteousness that is before God.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 6

Exhortation to worthy use of the grace of God.

(Epistle on Sunday Invocavit.)

1. But we exhort you as fellow-workers, that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.
2. For he saith, I have heard thee in the acceptable time, and have helped thee in the day of salvation. Behold, now is the acceptable time; now is the day of salvation.
3. But let us give no man any offence, lest our ministry be blasphemed;
4. But in all things let us prove ourselves servants of God: in great patience, in tribulations, in distresses, in anxieties,
5. in beatings, in prisons, in riots, in labor, in watches, in fasting, 6. in chastity, in knowledge, in longsuffering, in kindness, in the Holy Spirit, in uncontaminated love,
7. in the word of truth, in the power of GOD, by weapons of righteousness on the right hand and on the left;
8. By honour and dishonour, by evil rumour and good rumour; as the deceivers, and yet true; 9. as the unknown, and yet known; as the dying, and behold we live; as the chastened, and yet not slain;

10. as the sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as the poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing in possession, yet having all things].

11. O ye Corinthians, our mouth is opened unto you; our heart is confident.

12. For our sake ye shall not be afraid. But if ye be afraid, ye do it of a hearty mind.

13. I speak unto you as unto my children, that ye also bear with me, and be of good cheer.

14. Pull not the strange yoke with the unbelievers. For what enjoyment hath righteousness with unrighteousness? What fellowship hath light with darkness?

15. How does Christ agree with Belial? Or what part does the believer have with the unbeliever?

16. What likeness hath the temple of God unto idols? But ye are the temple of the living God, as God saith, I will dwell in them, and walk in them, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17. Come out therefore from among them, and be ye separate, saith the LORD, and touch no unclean thing, and I will receive you.

18. and be your father, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 7

Exhortation to sanctification.

1. Having therefore this promise, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, and let us continue in sanctification in the fear of God.

2. Take us! We have harmed no one; we have hurt no one; we have taken advantage of no one.

3. I say not these things to condemn you: for I said before that ye were in our hearts to die with us, and to live with us.

4. I speak unto you with great joy; I boast much of you; I am filled with consolation; I am exceeding glad in all our afflictions.

5. For when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled in every place: strife within, fear within.

6. But GOD, who comforts the lowly, comforted us by the coming of Titus.

7. And not only by his coming, but also by the consolation that he was comforted in you, and told us your desire, your weeping, your zeal for me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8. For that I have grieved you by this epistle, I am not sorry. And though it grieve me, yet if I see that the letter hath grieved you a while, I will not repent,

9. Now therefore I rejoice, not that ye were afflicted, but that ye were afflicted unto repentance.

For ye have been divinely afflicted, that ye take no hurt from us in any thing.

10. For the sorrow of God worketh repentance unto salvation, which no man repenteth of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11. Behold, that ye have been divinely afflicted, what diligence hath it wrought in you, and responsibility, and wrath, and fear, and desire, and zeal, and vengeance! In all things ye have proved yourselves to be pure in deed.

12. Wherefore, though I have written unto you, yet it is not for him that hath offended, neither for him that is offended, but that your diligence toward us might be made manifest unto you before God.

13. For this cause We were comforted, that ye were comforted. But we rejoiced more abundantly over the joy of Titus; for his spirit is refreshed in you all.

14. For whatsoever I have testified of you before him, I am not confounded: but as all things that I have spoken unto you are true, even so our testifying before Titus is true.

15. And he is exceedingly well pleased with you, when he remembereth all your obedience, how ye received him with fear and trembling.

16th I am glad that I may provide myself to you all.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 8

Exhortation to lenient tax for the poor.

1. I make known to you, brethren, the grace of GOD which is given in the churches of Macedonia.

2. For their joy was exceeding great, being poor through much affliction, yet they gave abundantly in all simplicity.

3. For according to all their ability (I testify), and above ability, they themselves were willing.

4. And besought us with many exhortations to receive the benefits and fellowship of the ministration which is done unto the saints.
5. And not as we hoped, but yielded themselves first unto the LORD, and afterward unto us, by the will of GOD,
6. That we should exhort Titus, that, as he had begun before, so he might also work such a good work among you.
7. But as ye abound in all things, in faith, and in the word, and in knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love toward us, see that ye abound also in this benefit.
8. Not that I say I command, but because others are diligent, I also try your love, whether it be right.
9. For ye know the grace of our Lord JESUS Christ, that though he were rich, yet for your sakes he was poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.
10. And my good will in this I give. For these things are profitable unto you that began before the year, not only to do, but also to will.
11. But now perform also the doing, that, as there is a mind inclined to will, so there may be also a mind inclined to do of that which ye have.
12. For if a man be willing, he is acceptable after he hath, not after he hath not.
13. Not that they think that others have rest, and that they have affliction; but that it may be the same.
14. Let your abundance minister to their want for this time, that their abundance also may minister to your want hereafter; and let it be done that which is like unto it.
15. As it is written, He that gathered much had not abundance; and he that gathered little had not want.
16. But thanks be to God, which hath put such diligence into the heart of Titus for you.
17. For he received the exhortation, but because he was so diligent, he journeyed unto you of his own accord.
18. But we have sent a brother with him; who hath the praise of the gospel through all the churches;
19. And not only so, but he also is ordained of the churches to be the companion of our journey in this good work, which is done by us for the glory of the Lord, and for the praise of your good will.

20. And take heed lest any man speak evil of us, because of the rich tax which is paid by us.

21. Seeing that it be done uprightly, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22. We have also sent with them our brother, whom we have often spued in many things, that he should be diligent, but now much more diligent.

23. And we are very confident of you, whether it be because of Titus, which is my companion and assistant among you, or because of our brethren, which are apostles of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24. Show therefore the evidence of your love and of our glory from you unto them, even publicly before the churches.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 9

Causes to carry the tax soon and properly.

1. For of such a tax as befalleth the saints I have no need to write unto you.

2. For I know your good will, whereof I boast of them of Macedonia, saying, Achaia was ready before the year. And your example hath provoked many.

3. But I have sent these brethren for this cause, that our glory might not be destroyed from you in the piece, and that ye might be ready, even as I said of you,

4. Lest, when they that are of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (not ye) be put to shame with such a boast.

5. But I have judged it necessary to exhort the brethren to go forward unto you, to prepare this aforetime promised blessing, that it may be prepared, that it may be a blessing, and not a covetousness.

(Epistle on St. Lawrence's Day.)

6. But this is what I mean: He that soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he that soweth in blessing shall reap also in blessing.

7. Every man according to his own will, not unwillingly, nor under compulsion: for God loveth a cheerful giver.

8. But God is able to make all grace abound among you, that ye may have full sufficiency in all things, and be rich in all good works,

9. As it is written, He hath strewed out and given to the poor; his righteousness endureth for ever.

10. But he that giveth seed to the sower shall also give bread for meat, and shall multiply your seed, and increase the increase of your righteousness:]

11. That ye may abound in all things with all simplicity, which worketh thanksgiving unto God through us.

12. For the giving of this tax satisfieth not only the want of the saints, but is also exceeding abundant in that many give thanks unto God for this our faithful service.

13. and praise God over your humble confession of the gospel of Christ and over your simple taxation of them and of everyone

14. and over their prayer for you, which desireth you, because of the abundant grace of GOD in you.

15. But thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift!

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 10

Warning against seduction by false apostles.

1. But I Paul exhort you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who am presently lowly among you, but in absentia am foolish toward you.

2. But I beseech you, let me not be foolish at this present time, neither let me be bold, which I am called to be, against some that esteem us to walk carnally.

3. For though we walk in the flesh, yet do we not contend carnally.

4. For the weapons of our knighthood are not carnal, but mighty in the sight of God, to destroy the fortifications,

5. That we may destroy the designs and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bring all understanding into captivity unto the obedience of Christ.

6. And are ready to avenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7. Do ye judge according to reputation? If any man think that he is Christ's, let him think that he is Christ's; and as he is Christ's, so are we also Christ's.

8. And if I boasted a little further of our power, which the LORD hath given us to amend you, and not to destroy you, I would not be put to shame.

9. But this I say, that ye think not that I will affright you with letters.

10. For the letters (speaking, they) are heavy and strong: but the presence of the body is weak, and the speech contemptible.
11. Let him that is such think that, as we are absent by word in the epistles, so we may well be present by deed.
12. For we ought not to number or count ourselves among them that commend themselves: but because they measure themselves by themselves, and think of themselves only, they understand nothing.
13. But we glory not in the goal, but only in the goal of the rule, that God hath measured out for us the goal, to reach even unto you.
14. For we go not too far, lest we should not have come unto you: for we came unto you with the gospel of Christ.
15. And we glory not in the work of others, and have hope, when your faith is increased in you, that we may advance according to our rule.
16. And preach the gospel also unto them that dwell beyond you, not boasting in those things which are prepared with strange rule.
17. But let him that boasteth boast of the LORD.
18. For therefore is no man proficient, that he should praise himself, but that the LORD should praise him.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 11

Paul's endured work and danger in planting the church.

1. Would to God ye had given me a little folly! But ye will keep it for me.
2. For I am jealous for you with godly zeal. For I have trusted you to a man, that I might bring a pure virgin unto Christ.
3. But I fear lest, as the serpent beguiled Eve with his craftiness, so your minds also be beguiled of the simplicity that is in Christ.
4. For if he that cometh unto you preacheth another Jesus, which we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not received, ye are forgiven.
5. For I respect that I am no less than the high apostles are.
6. Though I be foolish in speech, yet am I not foolish in knowledge. Yea, I am well known among you all.
7. Or have I sinned in humbling myself, that ye might be exalted? For I have preached the gospel unto you in vain.
8. And have robbed other churches, and taken pay of them, that I might preach unto you.

9. And when I was present with you, and was in want, I was not burdensome to any man: for my want was supplied by the brethren that came out of Macedonia: and in all things I have kept myself light unto you, and will keep myself so.
10. If the truth of Christ be in me, let not this glory be stopped from me in the countries of Achaia.
11. Why is that? That I should not love you? God knows.
12. But what I do, and what I will do, I do for this cause, to cut off the cause of them that seek causes, that they may boast that they are like us.
13. For such false apostles and deceitful workers pretend to be Christ's apostles.
14. And this is no marvel: for he himself, Satan, maketh himself an angel of light.
15. Therefore it is no great thing, if his ministers also disguise themselves as preachers of righteousness: which end shall be according to their works.
16. But I say again, lest any man think me foolish: but if not, receive me for a fool, that I may boast a little.
17. What I speak now, I speak not as in the Lord, but as in folly, because we are come to glory.
18. Forasmuch as many boast according to the flesh, I also will boast.
(Epistle on Sunday Sexagesimä.)
19. For ye gladly bear with fools, because ye are wise.
20. Ye shall bear with one that maketh you servants, and with one that oppresseth you, and with one that taketh you, and with one that defieth you, and with one that smote you in the face.
21. I say this after dishonour, as though we had become weak. Wherefore if any man be bold (I speak in folly), I am bold also.
22. They are Ebrews, and so am I. They are Israelites, so am I. They are Abraham's seed, so am I.
23. they are servants of Christ; (I speak foolishly) I am more, I suppose. I have worked more, I have suffered more blows, I have been imprisoned more often, often in mortal peril.
24. Of the Jews I have received five times forty strokes less one.
25. I have been beaten thrice, I have been stoned once, I have been shipwrecked thrice, I have spent day and night in the deep.

26. I have travelled often; I have been in danger by sea, in danger among murderers, in danger among the Jews, in danger among the Gentiles, in danger in the cities, in danger in the wilderness, in danger on the sea, in danger among false brethren, 27. In toil and labor, in much watching, in hunger and thirst, in much fasting, in frost and nakedness,

28. Without any other thing, that I am daily approached, and have the care of all the churches.

29. Who is weak, and I become not weak? Who is vexed, and I burn not?

30. If ever I should glory, I will glory in my infirmities.

31. God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who is blessed for ever and ever, knoweth that I lie not.

32. In Damascus, the governor of king Aretas kept the city of the Damascenes, and sought to take me;

33. And I was let down by the wall out of a basket at the window, and escaped out of his hands.

(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 12

Paul's glory and revelation, opposed to his repugnant ambition.

1. For boasting is of no profit unto me: but I will come unto the visions and revelations of the LORD.

2. I know a man in Christ fourteen years ago (if he was in the body, I know it not; or if he was out of the body, I know it not: God knoweth it), who was raptured unto the third heaven.

3. And I know the same man (whether he hath been in the body, or out of the body, I know not; God knoweth).

4. He was raptured into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which no man can utter.

5. Of this will I glory: but of myself will I not glory, except in my infirmities.

6. And if I would boast, I would not therefore do foolishly; for I would speak the truth. But I abstain from this, lest any man esteem me above that which he seeth in me, or heareth of me, 7. And lest I should overtake the high revelation, there is given me a stake in the flesh, even the angel of Satan to smite me with fists, lest I should overtake.

8. For which I cried thrice unto the LORD, that he would depart from me; 9. And he said unto me, Be thou content with my grace: for my power is mighty in the weak.

Therefore I will boast most gladly of my weakness, that the power of Christ may dwell with me].

10. Therefore I am of good courage in infirmities, in difficulties, in distresses, in persecutions, in anxieties for Christ's sake. For when I am weak, then am I strong.

11. I became a fool for boasting; ye made me so. For I ought to be praised of you, seeing I am nothing less than the high apostles; though I am nothing.

12. For the signs of an apostle were done among you with all patience; with signs, and with wonders, and with deeds.

13. What is this wherein ye are inferior to the rest of the churches, that I myself have not afflicted you? Forgive me this sin.

14. Behold, I am ready to come unto you the third time, and will not afflict you: for I seek not yours, but you. For children shall not lay up treasures for their parents, but parents for their children.

15. But I will almost gladly expound and be set forth for your souls; though I love you almost very much, yet am loved little.

16. But let it be, that I have not afflicted you; but because I have been deceitful, I have taken you by guile.

17. And have I taken advantage of any of them whom I have sent unto you?

18. I exhorted Titus, and sent a brother with him. Did Titus also take advantage of you? Have we not walked in one spirit? Have we not walked in the same footsteps?

19. But think ye that we answer for ourselves? We speak in Christ before God: but all this, my beloved, is for your correction.

20. For I fear, when I come, that I shall not find you as I will, neither shall ye find me as ye will: lest there be strife, and envying, and wrath, and strife, and talking after one another, and blowing out of your ears, and uproar;

21. Lest I come again, and humble myself before you, my God, and be grieved for many that sinned before, and repented not of the uncleanness, and fornication, and whoredoms, which they committed.
(2 Corinthians)

Chapter 13

Exhortation to repentance.

1. When I come unto you the third time, then in the mouth of two or three witnesses shall all these things stand.
2. I told you before, and I tell you now for the present, and I write it now in absentia unto them that sinned before, and to all the rest: But when I come again, I will not spare.
3. For ye seek to know him that speaketh in me, even Christ, who is not weak among you, but is mighty among you.
4. And though he be crucified in weakness, yet he liveth in the power of God. And though we be weak in him, yet live we with him in the power of God among you.
5. Try yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; try yourselves. Or know ye not yourselves that Jesus Christ is in you? Unless ye be unfit.
6. But I hope ye will see that we are not unfit.
7. But I beseech God that ye do no evil, not that we may be seen to do well, but that ye may do good, and that we may be as the unprofitable.
8. For we cannot do anything against the truth, but for the truth.
9. But we rejoice when we are weak, and ye are mighty. And we also desire the same, that is, your perfection.
10. Wherefore I also write these things absent, lest, when I am present, I should need sharpness according to the power which the LORD hath given me to amend, and not to destroy.
11. Finally, brethren, rejoice, be perfect, be comforted, be of one mind, be at peace, and God will be with you of love and peace.
12. Greet one another with the holy kiss. All the saints greet you.
13. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ and the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all. Amen.

The other epistle to the Corinthians, sent from Philippi in Macedonia by Titus and Luke.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Letter of Paul to the Galatians ^

Chapter 1

Of Galatians' inconstancy and Paul's apostleship.

1. Paul, an apostle (not of men, nor by men, but by JESUS Christ and GOD the Father, who raised him from the dead),
2. And all the brethren that are with me: To the churches of Galatia.
3. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God the Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ,
4. Who gave himself for our sins, that he might save us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father,
5. to whom be glory forever and ever! Amen.
6. I marvel that ye are so soon turned away from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel,
7. If there be none other, without that there be some that confound you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.
8. But if we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.
9. As we have said before, so say we again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.
10. Do I preach to men, or do I preach to God? Or do I intend to be pleasing to men? If I were still pleasing men, I would not be Christ's servant.
11. But I make known unto you, brethren, that the gospel which is preached of me is not human.
12. For I have neither received nor learned it of any man, but by the revelation of JESUS CHRIST.
13. For ye have heard my doings in the days of Judaism, how that I persecuted the congregation of God exceedingly, and cast them out.
14. And increased in Judaism above many of my kindred, and zealous exceedingly for the law of my father.
15. And it pleased God, who hath separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,
16. That he had manifested his Son in me, to preach him by the gospel among the Gentiles: immediately I departed, and talked not of it with flesh and blood,
17. Neither came he to Jerusalem unto them that were apostles before me, but went into Arabia, and returned to Damascus.
18. After these three years I came to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19. But I saw none of the other apostles, save James the brother of the Lord.

20. But what I write unto you, behold, God knoweth I lie not.

21. After that I came to the countries of Syria and Cilicia.

22. But I was unknown face to face unto the Christian churches which were in Judea.

23. But they only had heard that he which before persecuted us now preacheth the faith which he once rejected;

24. and praised God above me.

(Galatians)

Chapter 2

Paul's comparison with the apostles. Controversy with Peter. Preaching about the righteousness of faith.

1. After these fourteen years I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus also with me.

2. And I went up of a revelation, and communed with them concerning the gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, and especially with them that had the reputation, lest I should run or walk in vain.

3. Neither was Titus compelled to be circumcised, which was with me, though he were a Greek.

4. Forasmuch as some false brethren had entered in, and crept in beside, to make known our liberty which we have in Christ JESUS, that they might take us captive, 5. We have not shunned them one hour, that we might be subject unto them, that the truth of the gospel might stand with you.

6. But of them that had the honour of whatsoever they were, I care nothing: for God regardeth not the honour of men. But they that had reputation have taught me nothing else, 7. But again, when they saw that the gospel was committed unto me concerning the foreskin, as Peter had committed the gospel concerning the circumcision

8. For he that was strong with Peter in apostleship among the circumcision, the same is strong with me among the Gentiles,

9. And knowing the grace that was given unto me, James, and Cephas, and John, which were counted for pillars, they gave me and Barnabas their right hand, and became one with us, that we should preach among the Gentiles, and they among the circumcision; 10. Only that we may remember the poor, which also I have been diligent to do.

11. And when Peter was come to Antioch, I rebuked him in mine eyes: for there was a lamentation come upon him.
12. For before that some of James came, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they came, he withdrew himself, and separated himself, because he feared them that were of the circumcision.
13. And the rest of the Jews hypocritized with him: so that Barnabas also was deceived to hypocrisy with them.
14. But when I saw that they walked not aright after the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter in the presence of all openly, If thou, being a Jew, livest heathenish, and not Jewish, why then dost thou compel the Gentiles to live Jewish?
15. Though we be Jews by nature, and not sinners among the Gentiles,
16. Nevertheless, knowing that man is not justified by the works of the law, but by faith in JESUS Christ, we also believe in JESUS Christ, that we may be justified by faith in Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.
17. But if we ourselves, who seek to be justified by Christ, should also be found sinners, Christ would be a minister of sin. Let this be far off!
18. But if I build again that which I have broken, I make myself a transgressor.
19. But I died to the law by the law, that I might live unto God: I am crucified with Christ.
20. But I live, yet not I, but Christ liveth in me. For what I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me and gave himself up for me.
21. I do not cast away the grace of GOD: for by the law righteousness cometh, so Christ died in vain.

(Galatians)

Chapter 3

Righteousness of faith confirmed. The right use of the law shown.

1. O ye foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth? to whom Christ JESUS was painted before your eyes, and is now crucified among you!
2. This only will I learn of you, Whether ye have received the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the preaching of faith?
3. Are ye so foolish? Ye began in the spirit, but will ye finish in the flesh?

4. have ye suffered so much in vain? Is it otherwise in vain.
 5. He therefore that giveth you the Spirit, and doeth these things among you, doth he it by the works of the law, or by the preaching of the faith?
 6. As Abraham believed God, and was counted unto him for righteousness.
 7. Know ye therefore that they which are of faith are the children of Abraham.
 8. But the scripture hath before seen, that God justifieth the Gentiles by faith. Therefore it declared unto Abraham, In thee shall all the Gentiles be blessed.
 9. So then they that are of faith are blessed with Abraham the believer.
 10. For they that do the works of the law are under a curse: for it is written: Cursed be every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.
 11. But that by the law no man is justified in the sight of God is evident; for the just shall live by faith.
 12. Now the law is not of faith: but the man that doeth it shall live by it.
 13. But Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, when he became a curse for us (for it is written, Cursed be every man that hangeth on the wood),
 14. That the blessing of Abraham might come among the Gentiles in Christ JESUS, and that we might receive the promised Spirit through faith.
- (Epistle on the thirteenth Sunday after Trinity.)
15. Brethren, I will speak after the manner of men, saying, If a man's testament be confirmed, let it not be despised, neither let it be added unto.
 16. Now the promise was ever made to Abraham and his seed. He saith not, Through the seed, as through many; but as through one, through thy seed, which is Christ.
 17. But I say of this, That the testament which was confirmed of God before unto Christ shall not be revoked, that the promise of the law should cease, which was given four hundred and thirty years after.
 18. For if the inheritance were acquired by law, it would not be given by promise. But God gave it freely to Abraham by promise.

19. What then is the law? It was added for sin, until the seed should come to whom the promise was made, and was given by angels through the hand of the mediator.

20. But one mediator is not of one mediator; but God is one.

21. How? Is the law contrary to God's promises? Be it far from that! But if there were a law that could give life, then righteousness would truly come from the law.

22. But the scripture hath decreed it all under sin, that the promise might come through faith in JESUS Christ, given to them that believe]. (Epistle on New Year's Day.)

23. But before faith came, we were kept under the law, and shut up unto the faith that should be revealed.

24. Therefore the law was our taskmaster unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.

25. But now that faith is come, we are no more under the taskmaster.

26. For ye are all the children of God through faith in Christ.

27. For as many as are baptized of you have put on Christ.

28. Here is neither Jew nor Greek, here is neither bond nor free, here is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ JEsu.

29. But if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise].

(Galatians)

Chapter 4

More distant explanation of the justice of the law.

(Epistle on the Sunday after Christmas Day.)

1. But I say, As long as the heir is a child, there is no difference between him and a servant, though he be lord of all goods,

2. but he is under the guardians and custodians until the appointed time of the father.

3. So also we, being children, were captives under the outward statutes.

4. And when the time was fulfilled, God sent forth his Son, born of a woman, and put under the law,

5. That he might redeem them which were under the law, that we might receive the adoption.

6. because ye are children, God hath sent the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, dear Father!

7. So then here is no more a servant, but only children. But if they be children, they are also heirs of God through Christ].
8. But in the days when ye knew not God, ye served those who by nature are not gods.
9. But now that ye have known God, ye are rather known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and meager statutes, which ye serve anew?
10. Ye keep days, and moons, and feasts, and seasons.
11. I fear for you, lest perhaps I have wrought in you in vain.
12. Be ye like me, for I am like you. Dear brothers, I beg you, you have done me no harm.
13. For ye know that in weakness according to the flesh I preached the gospel unto you the first time.
14. And my temptations which I suffer according to the flesh ye have not despised, neither spurned: but as an angel of God ye receive me, even as Christ JESUS.
15. How blessed ye were in those days! I am your witness, that if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your eyes, and have given them unto me.
16. Am I then become your enemy, that I'm holding the truth up to you?
17. They are not jealous for you: but they would have you to be jealous for them.
18. Zeal is good, if it be always for good, and not only when I am present with you.
19. Little children, whom again I bring forth with fears, until Christ be formed in you.
20. But I would that I were now with you, and that my voice might walk with you: for I am astray against you.
(Epistle on Sunday Lätare.)
21. Tell me, ye that would be under the law: Have ye not heard the law?
22. For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by the maid, and the other by the free woman.
23. But he that was of the bondwoman was born according to the flesh: but he that was of the free woman was born through the promise.
24. The words signify something. For these are the two testaments, one from mount Sinai, which is born to bondage, which is Hagar.

25. For Hagar's name is Mount Sinai in Arabia, and it reacheth unto Jerusalem, which is at this time, and is servant with her children.
26. But the Jerusalem which is above is the free, the mother of us all.
27. For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not, and break forth and call, thou that conceivest not. For the lonely woman hath many more children than she that hath a husband.
28. But we, brethren, are Isaac's children according to the promise.
29. But as in those days he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, so it is now also.
30. But what saith the scripture? Cast out the maid with her son. For the son of the maid shall not inherit with the son of the free woman.
31. So then, brethren, we are not the children of the handmaid, but of the free].

(Galatians)

Chapter 5

Exhortation to the right use of Christian liberty and to good works.

1. Stand ye therefore in liberty, that Christ may set us free; and be not entangled again in the bondage of the yoke.
2. Behold, I Paul say unto you: If ye be circumcised, Christ is no profit to you.
3. But again I testify unto every one that is circumcised, that he is yet under obligation to do the whole law.
4. Ye have lost Christ, who would be justified by the law, and have fallen from grace.
5. But we wait in the Spirit by the faith of righteousness, which must be hoped for.
6. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor foreskin is of any value, but faith working through love.
7. Ye ran fine Who hath kept you from obeying the truth?
8. Such persuasion is not of him that called you.
9. a little sourdough acidifies the whole dough.
10. I promise you in the LORD, ye shall not be otherwise minded. But he that deceiveth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.
11. But I, brethren, if I preach circumcision, why suffer I persecution? Then the persecution of the cross would have ceased.
12. Would to God that they also were cut off who disturb you!

13. But ye, brethren, are called to liberty; but see that ye by liberty give no place to the flesh, but by charity serve one another.

14. For all the laws are fulfilled in one word, saying: Love thy neighbor as thyself.

15. But if ye bite and devour one another, see that ye be not consumed one of another.

(Epistle on the fourteenth Sunday after Trinity.)

16. But I say, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not carry out the lusts of the flesh.

17. For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh. These are contrary to one another, because ye do not do the things that ye would.

18. But if the Spirit rule you, ye are not under the law.

19. But the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these: Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, fornication,

20. idolatry, sorcery, enmity, strife, envy, wrath, strife, discord, factions, hatred, murder, 21. Drinking, devouring, and such like: of which I told you before, and say before, that they which do these things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22. And the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faith, gentleness, chastity.

23. Against such the law is not.

24. But they that are Christ's crucify their flesh with their lusts and desires].

(Galatians)

Chapter 6

To practice gentleness and goodness.

(Epistle on the fifteenth Sunday after Trinity.)

25. If we walk in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit, provoking one another to indignation and hatred.

Chapt. 6, v. 1. Brethren, if a man be overtaken in any fault, restore him with a gentle spirit, ye that are spiritual. And look to thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

2. Bear ye one another's burdens, and ye shall fulfil the law of Christ.

3. But if any man think himself to be anything, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4. But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he glory in himself, and not in another.
5. For every man shall bear his own burden.
6. But he that is instructed in the word, let him impart all good things unto him that instructeth him.
7. Be not deceived: God is not mocked. For whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.
8. He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption: but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life eternal.
9. But let us do good, and not be weary: for in his time we shall also reap without ceasing.
10. Now therefore, as we have time, let us do good to every man, but most of all to the companions of faith].
11. Behold, with how many words have I written unto you with mine own hand!
12. They that would make themselves acceptable after the flesh compel you to be circumcised, only that they be not persecuted with the cross of Christ.
13. For even they themselves which are circumcised keep not the law, but desire that ye should be circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.
14. But let it be far from me to boast only of the cross of our Lord JESUS Christ, by whom the world is crucified to me, and I to the world.
15. For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision nor foreskin signifies anything, but a new creature.
16. And how many shall walk according to this rule, upon them be peace and mercy, and upon the Israel of God!
17. Henceforth trouble me no more: for I bear in my body the marks of the LORD JESU.
18. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brethren. Amen.

Sent to the Galatians from Rome.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The letter of Paul to the Ephesians ^

Chapter 1

Thanksgiving for the spiritual benefits of God. Prayer for the increase of faith.

1. Paul, an apostle of JESU Christ by the will of GOD: To the saints at Ephesus and believers in Christ JESU.

2. Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

(Epistle on St. Thomas' Day.)

3. Blessed be God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly things through Christ;

4. Forasmuch then as he hath chosen us through him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love;

5. And hath ordained us to filial adoption unto himself by JESUS Christ, according to the good pleasure of his will,

6. To the praise of his glorious grace, by which he hath made us acceptable in the Beloved, 7. In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace, 8. Which is abundantly given unto us in all wisdom and prudence.

9. And hath made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure, and hath brought it forth by him,

10. That it might be preached, when the time was fulfilled, that all things might be gathered together in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are also on earth, through him, 11. By whom also we are come to the inheritance, which were ordained beforehand according to the purpose of him that worketh all things after the counsel of his will, 12. That we may be something to the praise of his glory, who first hope in Christ; 13. By whom also ye have heard the word of truth, which is the gospel of your salvation: by whom also, when ye believed, ye were sealed with the Holy Ghost of promise, 14. Which is the pledge of our inheritance unto our redemption, that we should be his own unto the praise of his glory.

15. Wherefore I also, after I have heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and of your love to all the saints,

16. I will not cease to give thanks for you, and will remember you in my prayer, 17. That the God of our Lord JESUS Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation for the knowledge of him

18. And enlightened eyes: of your understanding, that ye may know which is the hope of your calling, and which is the riches of his glorious inheritance in his saints,
19. And which is the exceeding greatness of his power toward us, which we believe according to the working of his mighty strength,
20. Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his right hand in heaven.
21. over all principality, power, authority, dominion, and all that may be called, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come.
22. And hath put all things under his feet, and hath made him head of the church over all, 23. Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

(Ephesians)

Chapter 2

The misery of man apart from Christ and the blessed state in Christ.

1. And also unto you, being dead in trespasses and sins,
2. In whom ye have walked according to the course of this world, and according to the prince that ruleth in the air, even according to the spirit that worketh at this time in the children of unbelief,
3. Among whom also we all formerly walked in the lusts of our flesh, doing the will of the flesh and of the mind, and were also the children of wrath by nature, as were also the rest; 4. But God, who is rich in mercy, by his great love hath loved us: 5. Being dead in sins, he hath quickened us together with Christ: for by grace are ye saved.
6. And hath raised us up together with him, and hath seated us together with him in the heavenly estate in Christ JESUS,
7. That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace by his kindness toward us in Christ JESUS.
8. For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God; 9. Not of works, lest any man should boast.
10. For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, for which God hath prepared us beforehand, that we should walk therein.
11. Remember therefore, that ye which were once Gentiles after the flesh, and were called the foreskin of them which are called circumcision after the flesh, which is with the hand, 12. That ye were then without Christ, strangers, and aliens from the citizenship of Israel, and strangers from the testaments of promise: therefore ye had no hope, and were without God in the world.

13. But now ye which are in Christ JESu, and were once far off, are now made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14. For he is our peace, which hath made the two one, and hath broken down the fence that was between them, in that by his flesh he hath taken away the enmity, 15. To wit, the law which was given in commandments, that he might make of two a new man in himself, and make peace,

16. And that he might reconcile them both to God in one body by the cross, and put to death the enmity by himself.

17. And came preaching peace in the gospel unto you that were afar off, and to them that were nigh.

18. For by him we have access both in one Spirit unto the Father.
(Epistle on the day of Philip and James.)

19. So then you are no longer sojourners and strangers, but citizens with the saints and members of God's household,

20. Built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ being the cornerstone.

21. Upon which the whole building, being joined together, groweth unto a holy temple in the Lord,

22. Upon whom also ye are built for a dwelling place of God. in the Spirit].

(Ephesians)

Chapter 3

Price of preaching as a means of conversion.

1. Therefore I Paul, the prisoner of Christ JESu for you Gentiles, 2. after ye have heard of the ministration of the grace of God which is given unto me toward you, 3. That this mystery was made known unto me by revelation, as I have written in brief above, 4. That, when ye have read it, ye may know my mind by the mystery of Christ, 5. Which was not made known in times past unto the children of men, but is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit,

6. That the Gentiles should be heirs, and should be incorporated, and should be fellow partakers of his promise in Christ through the gospel,

7. that I have become a servant according to the gift of the grace of God, which is given me according to his mighty power:

8. To me, the least of all the saints, is given this grace, to proclaim among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.
9. And to make every man know the fellowship of the mystery which was hid from the world in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ,
10. That now the manifold wisdom of God might be made known to the principalities and dominions of heaven in the church.
11. According to the purpose of the world, which he hath shewed in Christ Jesus our Lord, 12. By whom we have joy and access in all confidence through faith in him.

(Epistle on the sixteenth Sunday after Trinity,)

13. Wherefore I pray you, that ye be not weary because of my afflictions which I suffer for you, which are an honour unto you.
14. Therefore I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,
15. Who is the true father of all that are called children in heaven and in earth, 16. That he would give you power according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened by his Spirit in the inner man,
17. and Christ to dwell in your hearts by faith, and to be rooted and established by love, 18. That ye may understand with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height, 19. Knowing also that to love Christ is far better than all knowledge, that ye may be filled with all the fulness of God.

or: the love of Christ, which surpasses all knowledge.

20. But to him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or understand, according to the power that is in us,
21. To whom be glory in the church which is in Christ JESU for ever and ever! Amen]

(Ephesians)

Chapter 4

Exhortation to godliness and unity. Warning against sins and burdens.

(Epistle to the seventeenth Sunday after Trinity.)

1. Now therefore I, a prisoner in the Lord, exhort you to walk according to your calling, wherein ye are called,
2. with all humility and meekness, with patience, bearing with one another in love 3. And be diligent to keep unity in the Spirit through the bond of peace.
4. One body and one Spirit, even as ye are called unto one hope of your calling.

5. one Lord, one faith, one baptism,
6. one God and Father (our) of all, who is over you all, and through you all, and in you all].
7. But to every one of us grace is given according to the measure of the gift of Christ.
8. Therefore saith he, He ascended up on high, and led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.
9. But that he hath ascended, what is it but that he went down first into the lowest parts of the earth?
10. He that descended is he that ascended above all heavens, that he might fill all things.
11. And he made some apostles, and some prophets, and some evangelists, and some pastors and teachers,
12. That the saints may be prepared for the work of the ministry, edifying the body of Christ, 13. Until we all come to the same faith, and to the same knowledge of the Son of God, and become a perfect man, according to the measure of the perfect age of Christ, 14. That we should be no more children, to be weighed, and to be lulled with every wind of doctrine, through the craftiness of men, and deceit, that they might deceive us.
15. But let us be righteous in love, and let us increase in all things in him who is the head, even Christ,
16. Of whom the whole body is joined together, and one member is joined to another through all the joints, giving one hand to another according to the work of each member in his measure, and causing the body to grow for its own good; and all this in love: 17. I say therefore, and bear witness in the Lord, that ye walk no more as the rest of the Gentiles walk, according to the vanity of their mind,
18. Whose minds are darkened, and are alienated from the life that is of God, through the ignorance that is in them, through the blindness of their hearts.
19. Which are profane, and give themselves up to fornication, and do all manner of uncleanness, and covetousness.
20. But ye have not so learned Christ,
21. If ye have heard otherwise of him, and have been taught in him, how that in JESUS there is a righteousness.
(Epistle on the nineteenth Sunday after

22. Put away from you therefore, according to the former manner of life, the old man, which through lusts is corrupted into error.
23. But renew yourselves in the spirit of your mind.
24. And put on the new man, created after God in righteousness and holiness.
25. Wherefore put away falsehood, and speak the truth, every man to his neighbour; for we are members one of another.
26. Be angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath. Neither pray ye room to the blasphemer.
28. Let him that hath stolen steal no more, but work, and with his hands create some good thing, that he may have to give to the needy].
29. Let no idle talk proceed out of your mouths, but that which is profitable for correction, when it is needful, that it may be pleasant to hear.
30. And grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, that ye may be sealed unto the day of redemption.
31. Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and blasphemy, and all malice, be put away from you.
32. But be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God forgave you in Christ.

(Ephesians)

Chapter 5

Distant exhortation to a holy walk. Lesson for the wives and husbands.
(Epistle on Sunday Oculi.)

1. Therefore, be followers of God as the dear children!
2. And walk in love, even as Christ loved us, and offered himself for us a gift and a sacrifice, unto God for a sweet savour.
3. But fornication, and all uncleanness, and covetousness, let it not be said of you, as it is lawful for the saints,
4. Even shameful words, and foolish defenses, or jestings, which befit you not, but rather thanksgivings.
5. For this ye shall know, that no fornicator, or unclean person, or covetous person (which is an idolater), hath inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.
6. Let no one deceive you with vain words! For because of these, the wrath of God comes upon the children of unbelief.
7. Therefore be not their fellows!

8. For ye were once darkness: but now are ye a light in the Lord.
9. Walk as the children of light! The fruit of the Spirit is all kindness and righteousness and truth].
10. And try that which is acceptable in the sight of the LORD.
11. And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness; but rather punish them.
12. For that which is done secretly of them is also shameful to say.
13. But all this is revealed when it is punished by the light. For everything that is revealed is light.
14. Therefore saith he, Awake thou that slept, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall enlighten thee.
(Epistle on the twentieth Sunday after Trinity.)
15. Take heed therefore how ye walk carefully, not as the unwise, but as the wise.
16. And send ye into the time: for it is an evil time.
17. Wherefore be not ignorant, but understanding of the will of the LORD.
18. And be not drunken with wine, whereof a disorderly manner ensues; but be full of the spirit.
19. And speak among yourselves of psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs; singing and playing unto the LORD in your hearts.
20. And give thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.
21. And be subject to one another in the fear of GOD].
22. Let the wives be subject unto their husbands, as unto the LORD.
23. For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church, and he is the saviour of his body.
24. But as the church is subject unto Christ, so also the wives are subject unto their husbands in all things.
25. Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for her, 26. That he might sanctify them, and cleanse them with the bath of water in the word, 27. That he might present them to himself as a church glorious, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and blameless.
28. So also let men love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29. For no man hateth his own flesh at any time: but he feedeth it, and cherisheth it, as the LORD hath also the church.

30. For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31. For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and two shall be one flesh.

32. The mystery is great; but I say of Christ and the church;

33. But ye also, let every man love his wife rather than himself: but let the wife fear the husband.

(Ephesians)

Chapter 6

Christian house tablet, spiritual weapons.

1. Ye children, be obedient to your parents in the LORD: for this is right.

2. Honour thy father and mother: this is the first commandment which hath promise: 3. That it may go well with thee, and that thou mayest live long upon the earth.

4. And ye fathers, provoke not your children to anger, but bring them up in discipline and admonition unto the LORD.

5. Ye servants, be obedient unto your masters in the flesh with fear and trembling, in singleness of heart, as unto Christ;

6. not with service only in view, as pleasing men, but as the servants of Christ, that ye do such will of God from the heart, with a good will.

7. Let it seem unto you, that ye serve the LORD, and not men;

8. And know that whatsoever good thing any man shall do, that shall he receive of the LORD, whether he be bondman or bondwoman.

9. And, ye lords, do the same against them, and forbear: and know that your Lord also is in heaven, and that with him there is no respect of persons.

(Epistle on the twenty-first Sunday after Trinity.)

10. Last of all, my brethren, be strong in the LORD, and in the power of his might.

11. Put on the armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12. For we have not to do battle with flesh and blood, but with princes and mighty men, even with the rulers of the world, which reign in the darkness of this world, with the evil spirits which are under heaven.

13. For this cause therefore take hold of the armour of God, that ye may resist in the evil day, and that ye may do well in all things, and keep the field.
14. Stand therefore girded about your loins with truth, and clothed with the cancer of righteousness.
15. and booted up by the legs, as ready to drive out the gospel of peace, that ye might be prepared.
16. But above all, take hold of the shield of faith, with which ye may quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one.
17. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God].
18. And pray always in all intentions with supplications and supplications in the spirit, and watch for it with all perseverance and supplication for all the saints.
19. And for me, that the word might be given me with the gladness of my mouth, that I might make known the mystery of the gospel,
20. Which messenger am I in the chain, that I may do therein joyfully, and speak as I ought.
21. But that ye also may know how I am, and what I do, all things shall be made known unto you by Tychicus, my dear brother and faithful servant in the Lord.
22. Whom I have sent unto you for this cause, that ye might know how I am, and that he might comfort your hearts.
23. peace to the brethren, and love with faith from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.
24. Grace be unto all them that love our Lord JESUS CHRIST unfeignedly. Amen.

Written from Rome to the Ephesians by Tychicus.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Letter of Paul to the Philippians ^

Chapter 1

The bound Paul's thanksgiving, prayer, and exhortation to the constant struggle of faith.

1. Paul and Timothy, servants of JESu Christ: To all the saints in Christ JESu at Philippi, with the bishops and ministers.

2. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

(Epistle on the twenty-second Sunday after Trinity).

3. I give thanks unto my God, as often as I remember you:

4. (which I do always in all my prayer for you all, and do the prayer with gladness), 5. About your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now.

6. And I am of this in good confidence, that he which began the good work in you will perform it until the day of JESUS CHRIST.

7. Forasmuch then as it is expedient for me to think so highly of you all, because I have you in my heart in this my prison, wherein I answer for and confirm the gospel, as ye all are partakers with me of grace.

8. For God is my witness, how that I long for you all from the bottom of my heart in Jesus Christ.

9. And therefore I pray that your love may abound more and more in all knowledge and experience,

10. That ye may prove what is best, that ye may be pure and without offence unto the day of Christ,

11. filled with fruits of righteousness, which are done (in you) through JESUS CHRIST, to the glory and praise of GOD].

12. But I let you know, brethren, that, as it is with me, this is but more advised for the furtherance of the gospel,

13. So that my bonds were made manifest in Christ throughout the whole judgment hall, and among all the rest,

14. And many brethren, being confident in the Lord out of my bonds, have been the more bold to speak the word without timidity.

15. Though some preach Christ for the sake of hatred and strife, yet some for the sake of good opinion.

16. They proclaim Christ out of contention, and not purely: for they think to turn away a tribulation unto my bands.

17. But these for love: for they know that I lie here for the account of the gospel.

18. But what is the matter with him? That Christ only may be preached in all manner of things, whether by chance or by right; yet I rejoyce therein, and will rejoyce also.

19. For I know that through your prayer, and the ministration of the Spirit of JESUS CHRIST, I have obtained the same things unto salvation.
20. How that at last I wait and hope that I shall not be destroyed in any part, but that with all joy, as at all other times, so now also, Christ may be highly praised in my body, whether by life or by death.
21. For Christ is my life, and to die is my gain.
22. But as the life of the flesh worketh to bring forth more fruit, I know not which to choose.
23. For both are hard for me: I desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which also would be much better:
24. But it is more necessary to abide in the flesh for your sakes.
25. And in good confidence I know that I will abide and be with you all for the encouragement and joy of the faith,
26. That ye may greatly glory in Christ JEsu in me by my coming again unto you.
27. Only walk worthily of the gospel of Christ, that, whether I come and see you, or be absent from you, I may hear you, that ye stand in one spirit and one soul, and fight together with us for the faith of the gospel.
28. And in no wise be ye dismayed of the adversaries, which is a sign unto them of damnation, but unto you of salvation, and the same of God.
29. For unto you it is given to do for Christ's sake, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake,
30. And have the same fight which ye have seen in me, and now hear of me.

(Philippians)

Chapter 2

The humiliation and exaltation of Christ is to move to unity, humility, and so on.

1. If therefore there be with you exhortation in Christ, comfort of love, fellowship of the Spirit, tender love and mercy,
2. Be filled with my joy, that ye be of one mind, having the same love, being of one accord and of one mind,
3. Do nothing by quarreling or vain glory, but by humility esteem one another better than yourselves.
4. And every man look not to his own, but to the things of others.

(Epistle on Palm Sunday.)

5. Let every man be of the same mind as Jesus Christ was,
6. Which, though he were in the form of God, yet did he not think it robbery to be equal with God,
7. But emptied himself, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made like unto another man, and was found in the likeness of men;
8. And humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.
9. Therefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name,
10. That at the name of JESU all the knees of them which are in heaven, and in earth, and under the earth, should bow,
11. and let every tongue confess that JESUS Christ is the LORD, to the glory of GOD the Father].
12. So then, my beloved, as ye have always been obedient, not only in my presence, but now much more in my absence: work out that ye may be saved with fear and trembling.
13. For it is God that worketh in you both to will and to do, according to his good pleasure.
14. do everything without murmuring and without doubt,
15. That ye may be blameless, pure, and children of God, blameless in the midst of the unrighteous and perverse generation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world.
16. That ye may keep the word of life, for a glory unto me in the day of Christ, as I have not walked in vain, nor labored in vain.
17. And if I be offered above the sacrifice and worship of your faith, I will rejoice and be glad with you all.
18. In the same ye shall rejoice, and be glad with me.
19. But I hope in JESUS the Lord, that I shall send Timothy unto you shortly, that I also may be refreshed, when I shall know how ye are.
20. For I have no man that is so much of my mind, that careth so earnestly for you.
21. For they all seek their own, not Christ's JESU.
22. But ye know that he is righteous: for as a child unto his father he hath served the gospel with me.
23. The same, I hope, will I send from this hour, when I have found out how I am.

24. But I trust in the LORD, that I myself also shall come shortly.
25. But I have thought it necessary to send unto you the brother Epaphroditus, who is my helpmate and companion, and your apostle, and the minister of my need, 26. Because he longed after you all, and was greatly grieved that ye had heard that he was sick.
27. And though he was sick unto death, yet God had mercy upon him, and not upon him only, but upon me also, that I might not have one sorrow upon another.
28. But I have sent him the more quickly, that ye may see him, and be glad again, and that I also may have less sorrow.
29. Receive ye him therefore in the LORD with all joy, and cherish it.
30. For because of the work of Christ he came so near to death, having little thought of his life, that he might serve me in your stead.

(Philippians)

Chapter 3

Of the righteousness of faith against false apostles.

1. Further, brethren, rejoice in the Lord. That I write unto you always one thing doth not grieve me, and maketh you the more sure.
2. Behold the dogs, behold the evil workers, behold the cutting in pieces!
3. For we are the circumcision, which serve God in the Spirit, and glory in Christ Jesus, and lean not on the flesh.
4. Though I also have a desire to glory in the flesh. If another man thinketh that he may glory in the flesh, I much more,
5. Circumcised on the eighth day, one of the people of Israel, of the family of Benjamin, an Ebraite of the Ebraites, and a Pharisee according to the law,
6. according to zeal a persecutor of the church, according to righteousness in the law having been blameless.
7. But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ's sake.
8. For I reckon all things as evil against the abundant knowledge of JESUS Christ my Lord, for which I have reckoned all things as evil, and reckon them as filth, that I might win Christ.
9. and be found in him, that I have not my righteousness which is of the law, but which is by faith in Christ, even the righteousness that is imputed of God unto faith, 10. To know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, that I might be made like unto his death,

11. That I may come forth to the resurrection of the dead.

12. Not that I have already apprehended it, or am already perfected: but I pursue after it, if I may apprehend it, after that I am apprehended of Christ JESUS.

13. My brethren, I count not myself yet to have apprehended it. But I say this: I forget what is behind and reach out to what is ahead,

14. and pursue after the set purpose, after the jewel which holds forth the heavenly calling of GOD in Christ JESU.

15. As many therefore as are perfect among us, let us be so minded. And if ye hold any other thing, let God reveal it unto you,

16. But so far that we walk after one rule, whereunto we are come, and are of the same mind.

(Epistle on the twenty-third Sunday after Trinity.)

17. Follow me, brethren, and observe them which walk so as ye have us for an example.

18. For many walk, of whom I have often told you, but now I say also with weeping: The enemies of the cross of Christ;

19. Which end is damnation, whose belly is their God, and their glory is put to shame, of them that are earthly minded.

20. But our walk is in heaven, from whence also we wait for the Saviour JESUS CHRIST the LORD,

21. Who shall transfigure our vile body, that it may be like unto his glorified body, according to the working, that he may also subdue all things unto him].

(Philippians)

Chapter 4

Of the steadfastness and spiritual joy of the Christian, of the Philippian good, Paul proved.

1. Therefore, my dear and beloved brethren, my joy and my crown, consist ye therefore in the Lord.

2. The Evodia I exhort, and the Syntyche I exhort, that they may be of one mind in the Lord.

3. Yea, I beseech thee also, my faithful companion, help them which have fought with me concerning the gospel, with Clement, and with the rest of my helpers, whose names are in the book of life.

(Epistle on the fourth Sunday of Advent.)

4. Rejoice in the LORD always: and again I say, Rejoice.

5. Let your wisdom be known unto all men. The Lord is near.

6. do not be anxious about anything, but in all things let your petition be made known before God in prayer and supplication with thanksgiving.

7. And the peace of God, which is above all understanding, keep your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus].

8. Further, brethren, whatsoever is true, whatsoever is honourable, whatsoever is just, whatsoever is chaste, whatsoever is lovely, whatsoever is good, whatsoever is virtue, whatsoever is praise, think on these things.

9. All things whatsoever ye have learned, and received, and heard, and seen of me, do; and the LORD of peace shall be with you.

10. But I am glad in the Lord, because ye have been able to take care of me again, though ye have taken care of me in every way: but the time hath not suffered.

11. I say not this because of want: for I have learned to be content with them with whom I am.

12. I can be low, and I can be high; I am skillful in all things, and in all things; both to be full, and to hunger; both to have left, and to lack.

13. I can do all things through him who makes me mighty, Christ.

14. But ye have done well that ye have taken heed to my affliction.

15. But ye of Philippi know that from the beginning of the gospel, when I went forth out of Macedonia, no church divided with me according to the account of the issue and the income, but ye only.

16. For unto Thessalonica ye sent for my need once, and afterward once.

17. Not that I seek the gift, but I seek the fruit, that it may be superfluous in your reckoning.

18. For I have all things, and have superfluous. I am fulfilled, because I received through Epaphroditus that which came from you, a sweet savour, a pleasing sacrifice, acceptable unto God.

19. But let my God satisfy all your need according to his riches in glory in Christ JESUS.

20. But unto God and unto our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21. Hail all the saints in Christ Jesus. The brothers who are with me greet you.

22. All the saints salute you, and especially those of the emperor's house.

23. the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Written from Rome by Epaphroditus.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The letter of Paul to the Colossians ^

Chapter 1

Salvation, obtained through Christ, is offered to men by the Word.

1. Paul, an apostle of JESU Christ by the will of GOD, and brother Timothy: 2. to the saints of Colosse and to the believing brethren in Christ. Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3. We give thanks to God and to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, and we pray for you always, 4. Having heard of your faith in Christ for JESUS' sake, and of your love for all the saints, 5. For the hope that is set before you in heaven, which ye heard before in the word of truth in the gospel,

6. Which is come unto you, as it was into all the world, and is fruitful, as it was in you, from the day that ye heard it, and knew the grace of God in truth.

7. As ye have learned of Epaphras our beloved fellow servant, which is a faithful minister of Christ unto you,

8. Who also opened to us your love in the Spirit.

(Epistle on the twenty-fourth Sunday after Trinity.)

9. Therefore we also, from the day that we heard it, cease not from praying and supplicating for you, that ye may be filled with the knowledge of his will in all spiritual wisdom and understanding,

10. That ye may walk worthy of the Lord in all pleasing, and be fruitful in all good works.

11. and grow in the knowledge of God, and be strengthened with all might according to his glorious power, in all patience and longsuffering with joy;

12. and give thanks to the Father, who hath made us fit for the inheritance of the saints in light, 13. Who hath delivered us from the dominion of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son,

14. in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins]

15. who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn before all creatures.

16. For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, both thrones, and dominions, and principalities, and authorities: all things were created by him, and for him.

17. And he is before all; and all things consist in him.

18. And he is the head of the body, which is the church; who is the beginning, and the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence.

19. For it was his good pleasure that in him should all fullness dwell, 20. And that all things through him might be reconciled to himself, whether on earth or in heaven, that he might make peace through himself by the blood of his cross.

21. And to you, who were once aliens and enemies by reason of evil works, 22. But now he hath reconciled you to the body of his flesh by death, that he might present you holy and without blame before himself,

23. If ye continue otherwise in the faith, being established, and firm, and immovable, in the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, which was preached among every creature that is under heaven, which I Paul have ministered.

24. Now rejoicing in my sufferings which I suffer for you, I make restitution in my flesh for the afflictions which are yet lacking in Christ for his body, which is the church, 25. To whom I have become a minister according to the divine office of preaching which is given me among you, that I should preach the word of God abundantly, 26. That is, the mystery which has been hidden from the world and from the ages, but is now revealed to his saints,

27. Which God hath purposed to make known, which is the glorious riches of this mystery among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, who is the hope of glory, 28. Whom we preach, and exhort all men, and teach all men with all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ JEsu,

29. I also labor and strive according to the working of him that worketh in me mightily.

(Colossians)

Chapter 2

Of the statutes of men, Christ, holy baptism, and the power of his death.

1. But I let you know what a struggle I have for you, and for them that are at Laodicea, and for all that have not seen my person in the flesh,

2. That their hearts may be admonished and gathered together in love to all the riches of the understanding, to the knowledge of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ, 3. In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4. But I say of this, that no man deceive you with reasoning.

5. For though I be not here according to the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing, and beholding your precious order, and your strong faith in Christ.

6. As ye have therefore received the Lord Christ Jesus, walk ye in him.

7. And be ye rooted and established in him, and be ye firm in the faith, as ye are taught, and be ye abundantly thankful in the same.

8. Take heed that no man deprive you through philosophy and loose enticement after the doctrine of men, and after the statutes of the world, and not after Christ.

9. For in him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily.

10. And ye are perfected in him, who is the head of all principality and authority, 11. In whom ye also are circumcised with the circumcision without hands, by the putting away of the sinful body in the flesh, even the circumcision of Christ,

12. In whom ye were buried with him by baptism; in whom also ye were raised from the dead by the faith which God wrought, who raised him from the dead.

13. And hath quickened you also with him, being dead in sins, and in the foreskin of your flesh, and hath forgiven us all our sins.

14. And hath blotted out the handwriting that was against us, which came forth by statutes, and was against us; and hath taken it out of the remedy, and nailed it to the cross.

15. And hath stripped the principalities and the mighty men, and hath made a public spectacle of them, and hath made a triumph of them by himself.

16. Let no man therefore make you conscience of meat, or of drink, or of certain feasts, or of new moons, or of sabbaths,

17. Which is the shadow of things to come; but the body itself is in Christ.

18. Let no man shift his aim, who walketh after his own choice in the humility and spirituality of angels, which he hath never seen, and is puffed up without matter in his carnal mind 19. And holdeth not to the head, out of which the whole body by joints and bands receiveth help, and cleaveth one to another, and so increaseth to the divine greatness.

20. If ye then be dead with Christ unto the statutes of the world, why are ye entangled with statutes, as though ye lived yet in the world?

21. Which say, Thou shalt not touch this, thou shalt not taste this, thou shalt not touch this, 22. Which are all consumed with hands, and are the commandment and doctrine of men; 23. Which have a semblance of wisdom through self-chosen spirituality and humility, and in that they spare not the body, neither do honor to the flesh for its need.

(Colossians)

Chapter 3

Exercise of godliness, especially of persons of the domestic estate.

1. If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ is, sitting at the right hand of God.

2. Seek those things which are above, and not those things which are on earth.

3. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4. But when Christ your life shall be manifested, then shall ye also be manifested with him in glory.

5. Put to death therefore your members which are upon the earth:

Fornication, uncleanness, shameful rutting, evil desire, and covetousness, which is idolatry, 6. For which the wrath of God comes upon the children of unbelief; 7. In which also ye used to walk, when ye lived therein.

8. But now put away from yourselves all wrath, anger, malice, blasphemy, and shameful words out of your mouth.

9. Lie not among yourselves. Put off the old man with his works.

10. And put on the new, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him, 11. For there is not Greek, Jew, circumcision, foreskin, unclean, scythe, bond, free, but all, and in all, Christ.

(Epistle on the fifth Sunday after Epiphany.)

12. Put on therefore, as the elect of God, saints and beloved, tender mercies, kindness, humility, gentleness, patience

13. And bear with one another, forgiving one another, if any man complain of another: as Christ forgave you, so forgive ye.

14. And above all things put on charity, which is the bond of perfection.

15. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to which also ye are called in one body: and be ye thankful.

16. Let the word of Christ dwell among you richly in all wisdom. Teach and admonish yourselves with psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing to the Lord in your hearts.

17. And whatsoever ye do in word or in deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks unto God and the Father by him.

(Epistle on the sixth Sunday after Epiphany.)

18. Wives, be subject to your husbands in the Lord, as is fitting.

19. Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.

20. Ye children, be obedient to your parents in all things: for this is acceptable unto the LORD.

21. Ye fathers, provoke not your children to bitterness, lest they be afraid.

22. Ye servants, be obedient in all things unto your fleshly masters, not with service before your eyes, but to please men.

but with simplicity of heart and fear of the Lord.

23. Whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as unto the LORD, and not unto men; 24. And know that ye shall receive of the LORD the recompence of the inheritance: for ye serve the LORD Christ.

25. But he that worketh iniquity shall receive that which he hath wronged: and no respect of persons shall be counted for him.

Chap. 4, v. 1: Lords, what is right and equal, prove to your servants, and know that you also have a Lord in heaven.

(Colossians)

Chapter 4

Of Christian prayer and careful walk.

2. Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving.
3. And at the same time pray also for us, that God may open unto us the door of the word, to speak the mystery of Christ, wherefore I also am bound,
4. that I may reveal the same, as I ought to speak.
5. Walk wisely toward them that are without, and send you into the time.
6. Let your speech always be sweet and seasoned with salt.
seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.
7. How I am, all things shall Tychicus, the dear brother, and faithful servant, and fellow servant in the Lord, make known unto you,
8. Whom I have sent unto you for this purpose, that he may know how it is with you, and that he may exhort your hearts,
9. Together with Onesimus, the faithful and dear brother, who is one of yours. They will tell you everything that is due here.
10. Aristarchus my fellow prisoner saluteth you, and Mark the nephew of Barnabas, from whom ye have received certain commands (if he come unto you, receive him); 11. And Jesus, who is called Just, which are of the circumcision. These alone are my helpers in the kingdom of God, who have become a comfort to me.
12. Epaphras saluteth you, which is of you, a servant of Christ; and always with prayers do ye contend for yourselves, that ye may be perfect, and fulfilled in all the will of God.
13. I bear him witness, that he hath great diligence for you, and for them which are at Laodicea and Hierapolis.
14. Greetings unto you, Luke the physician, the beloved, and Demas.
15. Salute the brethren that are at Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the church that is in his house.
16. And when the epistle is read among you, cause it to be read also in the church at Laodicea, and that ye read that of Laodicea.
17. And say unto Archippus, Behold the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou mayest execute the same.
18. My greeting with my hand, Paul's. Remember my bonds! Grace be with you! Amen.

Written from Rome by Tychicus and Onesimus.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The first letter of Paul to the Thessalonians (1 Thessalonians) ^

Chapter 1

Exhortation to the Thessalonians to persevere in Christianity.

1. Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, to the church at Thessalonica, in GOD the Father, and the Lord JESUS CHRIST. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.
2. We give thanks unto God always for you all, and remember you in our prayers without ceasing.
3. And remember your work of faith, and your labour of love, and your patience of hope, which is our Lord JESUS Christ in the sight of GOD and our Father.
4. For, brethren, beloved of God, we know how ye are chosen,
5. That our gospel was not with you in word only, but both in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in great assurance: as ye know what manner of things we were among you for your sakes.
6. And ye became our followers, and of the LORD, and received the word with joy in the Holy Ghost, through many tribulations,
7. So that ye became an example unto all the faithful of Macedonia and Achaia.
8. For the word of the LORD hath gone forth from you, not only into Macedonia and Achaia, but in every place your faith also in God is broken forth; so that there is no need to say anything unto you.
9. For they themselves declare of you what entrance we have had unto you, and how ye are converted unto God from idols, to serve the living and true God.
10. And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he hath raised from the dead, Jesus, who hath redeemed us from the wrath to come.

(1 Thessalonians)

Chapter 2

Eager listeners are a great joy to faithful teachers.

1. For ye also know, brethren, of our coming unto you, that it was not in vain,
2. But when we had suffered before, and were reproached at Philippi, as ye know, we were yet glad in our God to speak the gospel of God unto you with great strife.
3. For our exhortation was not to error, nor to uncleanness, nor to craftiness,
4. But as we are approved of God, that the gospel is entrusted unto us to preach, so speak we, not as seeking to please men, but God, who trieth our hearts.

5. For we have never dealt in flattery, as ye know, nor been given to covetousness; God is witness of it.

6. Neither have sought honour of men, either of you, or of others.

7. Though we had been heavy with you as Christ's apostles, yet we have been motherly with you, as a nurse carrieth for her children.

8. So we delighted in you, and were willing to impart unto you, not only the gospel of God, but also our lives; because we loved you.

9. Ye are well mindful, brethren, of our labour and our toil: for we laboured day and night, that we might be a burden to none of you, preaching the gospel of GOD among you.

10. Of this ye are witnesses, and unto God, how holy and righteous and blameless we have been with you that believed.

11. Knowing therefore, that we, as a father to his children, admonish and comfort every one of you.

12. And have testified that ye should walk worthily before God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and to his glory.

13. Wherefore we also thank God without ceasing, that, when ye receive from us the word of divine preaching, ye receive it not as the word of men, but (as it is indeed) as the word of God; which also worketh in you that believe.

14. For ye are followers, brethren, of the churches of GOD in Judea in Christ JESUS, in that ye have suffered the same of your blood friends, that they of the Jews, 15. Who also have killed the LORD JESUS, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us, and please not GOD, and are contrary to all men,

16. For we forbid to say unto the heathen, that they may be saved, that they may fulfil their sins alway: for wrath is already come upon them at last.

17. But we, brethren, having been a while deprived of you according to the face, and not according to the heart, have hastened the more, to see your face with great longing.

18. Therefore we desired to come unto you (I, Paul) twice; and Satan hindered us.

19. For who is our hope, or joy, or crown of glory? are ye not so in the sight of our Lord JESUS CHRIST for his future?

20. For ye are our glory and our joy.

(1 Thessalonians)

Chapter 3

Paul's care and prayer for the Thessalonians.

1. Wherefore we would not bear it further, and were pleased to be left alone at Athens, 2. And have sent Timothy, our brother and servant of God, and our helper in the gospel of Christ, to strengthen and exhort you in your faith,

3. Lest any man faint in these tribulations: for ye know that we are made for this purpose.

4. And when we were with you, we told you before that we should have tribulation: as it is, and ye know it.

5. For which cause I could no longer endure it, I sent forth to know your faith, lest peradventure temptation should try you, and our labour be in vain.

6. But now, Timothy having come to us from you, and having declared unto us your faith and love, and that ye always remember us for the best, and desire to see us, as we do to see you, 7. Then were we comforted in you, brethren, in all our affliction and distress, through your faith.

8. For now are we alive, because we stand in the LORD.

9. For what thanks may we render to God for you, for all this joy which we have from you before our God?

10. We pray almost night and day, that we may see your faces, and repay you for the lack of your faith.

11. But he, God our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, send our way unto you.

12. But let the LORD increase you, and let love be perfect among yourselves, and toward every man (as we also are toward you),

13. That your hearts, being strengthened, may be blameless in holiness before God and our Father, unto the coming of our Lord JESUS CHRIST, and of all his saints.

(1 Thessalonians)

Chapter 4

Exhortation to holy walk. Trust against sadness from the resurrection of the dead.

(Epistle on Sunday Reminiscere.)

1. Further, brethren, we beseech you and exhort you in the Lord Jesus (after you have received from us how you ought to walk and please God), that you may be more and more complete.
2. For ye know what commandments we have given you by the Lord Jesus.
3. For this is the will of God, your sanctification, that ye avoid fornication, 4. And let every one of you keep his barrel in sanctification and honour, 5. Not in the lust pestilence like the heathen, who know nothing of GOD; 6. And that no man go too far, nor take advantage of his brother in trade: for the LORD is the avenger of all these things, as we have said and testified unto you before.
7. For God has not called us to uncleanness, but to sanctification].
8. Whosoever therefore despiseth, despiseth not men, but God, who hath given his Holy Spirit within you.
9. But of brotherly love it is not necessary to write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.
10. And this do ye also unto all the brethren which are in all Macedonia. But we exhort you, brethren, that ye be yet more complete.
11. And run after it, that ye may be quiet, and do your own work, and work with your own hands, as we commanded you,
12. That ye may walk uprightly toward them that are without, and have no need of them.

(Epistle on the twenty-fifth Sunday after Trinity.)

13. But we would not, brethren, keep you from them that sleep, lest ye be sorrowful like unto them which have no hope.
14. For if we believe that JESUS died and rose again, God also will bring with him those who have fallen asleep through JESUS.
15. For this we say unto you by the word of the LORD, that we which are alive and remain unto the future of the LORD shall not precede them which are asleep.
16. For he himself, the LORD, shall come down from heaven with a shout, and with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first.

17. And we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.

18. Comfort yourselves therefore with these words one to another:]
(1 Thessalonians)

Chapter 5

Of the time of the last day, and how one should prepare oneself properly for it.

(Epistle on the twenty-seventh Sunday after Trinity.)

1. But of the times and hours, brethren, it is not necessary to write unto you.

2. For ye yourselves know that the day of the LORD shall come as a thief in the night.

3. For when they shall say, There is peace, there is no danger: then destruction shall quickly overtake them, as the sorrow of a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4. But ye, brethren, be not in darkness, that the day should seize you as a thief.

5. Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6. Let us not therefore sleep as others sleep, but let us watch and be sober.

7. For they that sleep sleep by night: and they that are drunken are drunken by night.

8. But we which are of the day must be sober, clothed with the cancer of faith and love, and with the helmet of hope unto salvation.

9. For God hath not set us to wrath, but to possess salvation through our Lord Jesus Christ, 10. Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live at the same time with him.

11. Wherefore exhort one another, and build one another up, as ye do].

12. But we beseech you, brethren, that ye know them which labour in you, and that preside over you in the Lord, and admonish you.

13. Have them the more gladly for their work's sake, and be at peace with them.

14. And we exhort you, brethren, admonish the unruly, comfort the fainthearted, bear with the weak, be patient with everyone.

15. Take heed that no man repay evil for evil, but pursue good always, both to one another, and to every man.
16. be joyful always!
17. Pray without ceasing!
18. Be thankful in all things: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus toward you.
19. do not dampen the spirit!
20. Despise not the prophecy.
21. But try all things, and keep that which is good.
22. shun all evil appearances!
23. But he, the God of peace, sanctify you through and through, and let your spirit be kept whole, with soul and body, blameless unto the future of our Lord JESU Christ.
24. Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.
25. Dear brothers, pray for us!
26. greet all the brothers with the holy kiss.
27. I adjure you by the Lord, that ye will cause this epistle to be read unto all the holy brethren.
28. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

To the Thessalonians, the first, written from Corinth.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The second letter of Paul to the Thessalonians (2 Thessalonians) ^

Chapter 1

Exhortation to persevere in persecution.

1. Paul and Silvanus and Timothy:

To the church of Thessalonica in GOD our Father, and to the LORD JESU Christo.

2. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

(Epistle on the twenty-sixth Sunday after Trinity.)

3. We ought always to give thanks unto God for you, brethren, as is right. For your faith is greatly increased, and the love of every one of you toward one another is increased, 4. So that we may boast of you among the churches of God from your patience and faith in all your persecutions and afflictions which you endure, -

5. Which signifieth that God will judge aright, and ye shall be worthy of the kingdom of God, above which ye also suffer,
6. For it is right with God to repay tribulation to those who put tribulation upon you, 7. But unto you that are afflicted, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with the angels of his power.
8. And with flames of fire to give vengeance upon them that know not God, And on them that are not obedient to the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ;
9. Which shall suffer torment, eternal destruction, from the presence of the LORD, and from his glorious power,
10. When he shall come, that he may appear glorious with his saints, and marvellous with all them that believe. For our testimony unto you of that day ye have believed].
11. And therefore we pray for you always, that our God may make you worthy of the calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of goodness, and the work of faith in power, 12. That the name of our Lord JESUS Christ may be praised in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord JESUS Christ.

(2 Thessalonians)

Chapter 2

Prophecy of the Antichrist before the last future of the Lord.

1. But for the future of our Lord JESU Christ, and of our assembling together unto him, we beseech you, brethren,
2. That ye be not soon moved of mind, nor troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letters, as sent from us, that the day of Christ should be at hand.
3. Let no man deceive you in any way. For he cometh not, except the apostasy come first, and the man of sin be revealed, and the child of perdition,
4. Who is an abominable man, and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or God's service; so that he setteth himself in the temple of God as a god, and pretendeth that he is God.
5. Remember ye not that, while I was yet with you, I told you these things?
6. And whatsoever it is that stoppeth, know ye that he shall be revealed in his time.

7. For wickedness is already stirring up secretly, and he that stoppeth it now must be put away.

8. And then shall that wicked man be revealed, whom the LORD shall destroy with the spirit of his mouth, and shall make an end of him by the appearing of his coming,

9. That which is to come after the working of Satan with all manner of lying powers, and signs, and wonders.

10. And with all deception of unrighteousness among them that perish, because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11. Therefore God will send them strong error,- that they may believe the lie, 12. That they all may be judged who believe not the truth, but have pleasure in unrighteousness.

13. And we ought always to give thanks unto God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation in sanctification of the Spirit, and in the faith of the truth,

14. Whereunto he hath called you by our gospel unto the glorious possession of our Lord JEsu Christ.

15. Stand ye therefore, brethren, and keep the statutes which ye are taught, whether by our word or by our epistle.

16. But he our Lord Jesus Christ, And God and our Father, who hath loved us, and given us an everlasting consolation and a good hope through grace,

17. Who shall admonish your hearts, and strengthen you in all doctrine and good works.

(2 Thessalonians)

Chapter 3

For the course of the gospel one should pray, shunning idleness and forwardness.

1. Further, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may run and be magnified, as it doth among you;

2. and that we may be delivered from evil and wicked men. For faith is not for every man.

3. But the LORD is faithful; he will strengthen you, and keep you from evil.

4. But we take care of you in the LORD, that ye do, and that ye will do, all that we command you.

5. But let the LORD direct your hearts unto the love of God, and unto the patience of Christ.
6. Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord JESUS Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the statutes which he received of us.
7. For ye know how ye ought to follow us. For we have not been disorderly among you, 8. Neither have we taken bread of any man in vain: but with labour and travail day and night have we wrought, that we should not be a burden to any of you;
9. Not that we have not power, but that we give ourselves for an ensample unto you to follow us.
10. And when we were with you, we commanded you these things, that if any man will not work, neither shall he eat.
11. For we hear that there are some of you that walk disorderly, and work nothing, but are froward.
12. But unto such we command and admonish them by our Lord Jesus Christ, that they work quietly, and eat their own bread.
13. But ye, brethren, be not weary in doing good.
14. But if any man obey not our word, mark him with a letter, and have nothing to do with him, that he may be ashamed.
15. Yet hold him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.
16. And may he, the LORD of peace, give you peace in every place and in every way. The LORD be with you all.
17. The salutation with mine hand, Paul's hand. This is the sign in all the epistles; so I write.
18. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

Written from Corinth.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The first letter of Paul to Timothy (1 Timothy) ^

Chapter 1

The doctrine of the law and the gospel explained by Paul's example.

1. Paul, an apostle of JESU Christ, according to the commandment of GOD our Saviour, and of the LORD JESU Christ, who is our hope:
2. Timothy, my righteous son in faith. Grace, mercy, peace from God our Father and our Lord Jesus Christ.

3. As I exhorted thee to tarry at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, and commanded some that they should not teach otherwise,
4. Neither heed the fables, and the genealogies, which have no end, and bring up questions, more than correction to God in faith.
5. For the chief sum of the commandment is love from a pure heart, and from a good conscience, and from unfeigned faith,
6. Of whom some have erred, and turned aside unto vain babblings, 7. Want to be masters of the Scriptures, and do not understand what they say or what they set.
8. But we know that the law is good, if any man use it aright,
9. Knowing this, that no law is given to the righteous, but to the unrighteous and rebellious, to the wicked and sinners, to the unholy and unspiritual, to murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, to slayers,
10. The fornicators, the rapists, the thieves, the liars, the perjurers, and so forth contrary to sound doctrine:
11. According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which is committed unto me.
12. And I thank our Lord JESUS Christ, which hath made me strong, and hath kept me faithful, and set me in the ministry,
13. Who before was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and a reproach. But mercy hath been shown me: for I did it ignorantly, in unbelief.
14. But the more abundant was the grace of our Lord, with faith and love, which is in Christ Jesus.
15. For this is certainly true, and your precious word, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am the chief.
16. But for this cause mercy was shewed me, that in me first of all Jesus Christ might shew all patience as an example unto them which should believe on him unto eternal life.
17. But to God, the eternal King, the incorruptible and invisible, and the only wise, be glory and honor forever and ever. Amen.
18. This commandment I command thee, my son Timotheus, according to the former prophecies concerning thee, that thou exercise good chivalry in the same.
19. And have faith and a good conscience, which some have cast off, and have been shipwrecked in the faith;

20. Among whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they should be chastened to blaspheme no more.

(1 Timothy)

Chapter 2

How and when prayer is to be offered by men and women in the church.

1. I exhort therefore, that before all things, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men,

2. For kings and for all authorities, that we may lead a quiet and tranquil life in all godliness and honourableness.

3. For these things are good, and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour, 4. Who desires all men to be helped, and to come to the knowledge of the truth.

5. For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, even the man Christ Jesus, 6. Who gave himself for salvation for all, that these things should be preached in his time; 7. For I am set apart to be a preacher and an apostle (speaking the truth in Christ, and not lying), a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and truth.

8. I will therefore that men pray in every place, and lift up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9. Likewise also the women, that they adorn themselves in dainty apparel with shame and modesty, not with braids, or gold, or pearls, or precious apparel, 10. But as it behoveth women to shew godliness by good works.

11. let a woman learn in silence with all submissiveness.

12. But I will not suffer a woman to teach, neither will I suffer her to be master over her husband, but to be quiet.

13. For Adam was made first, and Eve after him.

14. And Adam was not deceived: but the woman was deceived, and brought in transgression.

15. But they shall be saved through childbearing, if they continue in faith, and in love, and in sanctification, with chastening.

(1 Timothy)

Chapter 3

Of the nature of the church servants and their relatives, of the church, of the mystery of godliness.

1. This is certainly true, that if any man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a goodly work.
2. But let a bishop be blameless, a wife's husband, sober, temperate, sedentary, hospitable, doctrinal,
3. not a winebibber, not a throbber, not a dishonest handler, but mild, not vindictive, not stingy, 4. Who hath well presided over his own house, who hath obedient children with all respectability.
5. (But if a man know not to preside over his own house, how shall he provide for the church of God?),
6. Not a neophyte, lest he puff himself up, and fall into the judgment of the blasphemers.
7. But he must also have a good report of them that are without, lest he fall into the blasphemers' shame and snare.
8. Likewise the servants shall be honourable, not double-minded, not winebibbers, not dealing dishonestly.
9. Who have the mystery of faith in a pure conscience.
- 10: And let them be tried first, and then let them serve, if they be blameless.
11. Likewise their wives shall be honourable, not blasphemous, sober, faithful in all things.
12. Let every man's servants be the husband of one wife, and let them take heed to their children, and to their own houses.
13. But they that serve well obtain for themselves a good degree, and great joy in the faith which is in Christ JESUS.
14. These things write I unto thee, and hope to come unto thee most surely.
15. But if I delay, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to walk in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and foundation of the truth.
16. And great is the mystery of God: God is manifested in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, made manifest to angels, preached to the Gentiles, believed on by the world, received up into glory.

(1 Timothy)

Chapter 4

Warning against seduction of the last time. Exhortation to the practice of godliness.

1. But the Spirit saith clearly, that in the last times some shall depart from the faith, and shall cleave unto the seducing spirits and doctrines of devils.
2. by them that are liars in craftiness, and have brandings in their consciences
3. and forbid to marry and to shun the food which God has created, to take with thanksgiving, the believers and those who know the truth.
4. For all the creature of God is good, and nothing reprobate that is received with thanksgiving.
5. For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.
6. If thou reprove these things unto the brethren, thou shalt be a good minister of JESUS Christ, in the words of faith and good doctrine, whereunto thou hast always been.
7. But abstain from unspiritual things, and from fables of old. But exercise thyself in godliness.
8. For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness profiteth all things, and hath promise of this life, and of that which is to come.
9. This is ever certainly true, and a dear word.
10. For to this end we also labour, and are reproached, because we have hoped in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, and especially of them that believe.
11. Give and teach these things.
12. Let no man despise thy youth, but be thou an example to the faithful in word, in walk, in love, in spirit, in faith, in chastity.
13. stop reading, exhorting, teaching, until I come!
14. Forsake not the gift that is given thee by the prophecy with the laying on of the hands of the elders.
15. Wait for these things, that thy increase may be manifest in all things.
16. Take heed to thyself, and to the doctrine; persevere in these things. For where thou doest these things, thou shalt save thyself, and they that hear thee.

(1 Timothy)

Chapter 5

How a preacher should conduct himself against persons of different station and age, and against himself.

1. Rebuke not an old man, but admonish him as a father, the young as brethren, 2. the old women as the mothers, the young as the sisters with all chastity.
3. Honour widows that are widows indeed.
4. But if a widow have children, or nephews, let them first learn to rule their own houses godly, and repay their parents likewise: for this is well done, and acceptable in the sight of God.
5. Now this is a true widow, which is lonely, and putteth her hope in God, and continueth in prayer and supplication day and night.
6. But she that liveth in lusts is dead alive.
7. These things give, that they may be blameless.
8. But if any man provide not for his own, especially for the members of his household, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than a heathen.
9. Let no widow be mentioned that is under threescore years old, or that hath been a man's wife, 10. Who hath testified of good works, when she hath brought up children, when she hath been hospitable, when she hath washed the saints' feet, when she hath ministered to the afflicted, when she hath done all good works.
11. But abstain from the young widows: for when they have become lustful against Christ, they will be free.
12. And have their judgment, that they have broken the first faith.
13. Besides this, they are idle, and go about learning in the houses: not only are they idle, but they are also talkative, and forward, and speak that which ought not to be.
14. Now therefore will I that the young widows may be free, and bring forth children, and keep house, and give no cause of reproach to the adversary.
15. For some are already turned back after Satan.
16. And if a creditor have widows, let him provide for them, and let not the church be troubled; that they which are right widows may have enough.
17. The elders that preside well shall be counted worthy of double honour, especially they that labour in the word and in doctrine.
18. For the scripture saith: Thou shalt not bind up the mouth of the ox that thresheth, and: A labourer is worthy of his hire.
19. Against an elder take no complaint, save two or three witnesses.
20. Let them that sin be punished above all, that they also may fear.

21. I testify before God, and before the Lord Jehovah Christ, and before the elect angels, that thou keepest these things without discretion, and doest nothing according to pleasure.

22. Lay not thine hands soon on any man; neither be thou partaker of the sins of others. Keep thyself chaste.

23. Drink no more water, but need a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and that thou art often sick.

24. Some men's sins are manifest, that they may be judged before: but some are manifest afterward.

25. The same also of some good works are first made manifest; neither are the rest hid.

(1 Timothy)

Chapter 6

Of servants, seducers and rich people. Of the struggle of faith.

1. The servants that are under the yoke shall hold their masters in all honour, lest the name of God and the doctrine be blasphemed.

2. But they that have believing masters ought not to despise them, pretending that they are brethren, but rather to serve them, because they are believers, and beloved, and partakers of the good. Teach and exhort these things.

3. If any man teach otherwise, and abide not in the saving words of our Lord JESUS Christ, and in the doctrine of godliness,

4. He is darkened and knows nothing, but is addicted to questions and wars of words, from which springs envy, strife, blasphemy, evil suspicion,

5. The scholastic quarrels of such men, who are senseless and deprived of the truth, who think that godliness is a trade. Get thee from such!

6. But there is great profit to him that is godly, and is content.

7. For we have brought nothing into the world; therefore it is evident that we shall bring nothing out.

8. But if we have food and raiment, let us be content.

9. For they that desire to be rich fall into temptation and snares, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which sink men into destruction and perdition.

10. For covetousness is the root of all evil, which some have lusted after, and have erred from the faith, and cause themselves much pain,

11. But thou, O man of God, flee these things. But pursue righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.
12. Fight the good fight of faith; lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou also art called, and hast confessed a good confession before many witnesses.
13. I command thee in the sight of GOD, who quickeneth all things, and in the sight of Christ JEsu, who testified a good confession under Pontius Pilate,
14. That thou keep the commandment without spot, blameless, until the appearing of our Lord JEsu Christ,
15. Which the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords, shall shew in his days,
16. He only hath immortality; he that dwelleth in a light where no man can come; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to him be glory and everlasting kingdom. Amen.
17. Command the rich of this world that they be not proud, neither hope in riches uncertain, but in the living God, who giveth us abundantly to enjoy all things, 18. That they may do good, abound in good works, give gladly, be helpful, 19. To lay up for themselves treasures, a good foundation for the things to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.
20. O Timothy, keep that which is committed unto thee, and shun unspiritual idle talk, and the strife of false praise,
21. Which some pretend and lack faith. Grace be unto thee! Amen.

Written by Laodicea, which is a capital of the country Phrygia Pacatiana.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The second letter of Paul to Timothy (2 Timothy) ^

Chapter 1

Exhortation to persevere in pure doctrine when persecuted.

1. Paul, an apostle of JEsu Christ by the will of GOD according to the promise of life in Christ JEsu:
2. grace, mercy, and peace from God the Father and Christ our Lord to my dear son Timothy.
3. I thank GOD, whom I serve from my forefathers in a clear conscience, that I remember thee without ceasing in my prayer day and night.

4. And I long to see thee, when I remember thy tears, that I may be filled with joy.
5. And remember the undimmed faith in thee, which dwelt before in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, but am sure that in thee also.
6. For which cause I remind thee, that thou stirest up the gift of God which is in thee by the laying on of my hands.
7. for God has not given us the spirit of fear, but of power and of love and of discipline.
8. Therefore be not ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me, who am his bondman; but suffer thyself with the gospel, as I do, according to the power of God, 9. Who hath saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began,
10. But now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour JESU Christ, who hath taken away the power of death, and hath brought life and an incorruptible nature to light through the gospel,
11. To whom I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.
12. For what cause I suffer these things, but I am not ashamed: for I know in whom I believe, and am sure that he is able to keep my salvation unto that day.
13. Hold fast the example of the wholesome words which thou hast heard of me, concerning faith and love in Christ JESU.
14. This good supplement keep through the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.
15. This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia are turned away from me, among whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.
16. The LORD have mercy on the house of Onesiphorus: for he hath often refreshed me, and hath not been ashamed of my chains,
17. But when he was at Rome, he sought me most diligently, and found me.
18. The LORD grant that he may find mercy in the LORD in that day. And how much he hath ministered unto me in Ephesus, thou knowest best.

(2 Timothy)

Chapter 2

Faithful ministering of Timothy. Comfort in suffering. Avoidance of some vices.

1. Be strong therefore, my son, through grace in Christ JESUS.
2. And the things which thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, command faithful men, which are able, to teach others also.
3. suffer thyself to be a good soldier of JESUS CHRIST!
4. No man of war fighteth himself in the merchandise of food, that he may please him that hath accepted him.
5. And though a man fight, yet shall he not be crowned, if he fight aright.
6. But the husbandman that tilleth the field shall first enjoy the fruits thereof. Mark what I say!
7. But the LORD shall give thee understanding in all things.
8. Keep in remembrance Jesus Christ, who is risen from the dead, of the seed of David, according to my gospel,
9. Over which I suffer unto the bonds as an evildoer. But God's word is not bound.
10. Therefore I suffer all things for the elect's sake, that they also may obtain blessedness in Christ JESU with everlasting glory.
11. This is ever certainly true: if we die with them, we shall live with them; 12. If we forbear, we shall reign with him; if we deny, he also will deny us.
13. If we believe not, he abideth faithful: he cannot deny himself.
14. Remind them of this, and testify before the LORD that they do not quarrel about words, which is of no profit but to turn away them that hear.
15. Make every effort to present to God a righteous, blameless worker, who rightly divides the word of truth.
16. Forsake unspiritual and idle babblings: for they do much to an ungodly nature.
17. And their word devoureth as the canker, among which are Hymenaeus and Philetus, 18. Which have erred from the truth, saying that the resurrection is past, and have perverted the faith of some.
19. But the firm foundation of God standeth, and hath this seal: The LORD knoweth them that are his, and: Let him depart from unrighteousness that calleth the name of Christ.

20. Now in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and silver, but also vessels of wood and earth; and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21. If any man therefore purge himself from such men, he shall be a holy vessel unto honour, fit for the master of the house, and prepared for all good works.

22. Flee the lusts of youth. But pursue righteousness, faith, love, peace with the aged, who call upon the Lord with a pure heart.

23. But abstain from foolish and vain questions: for thou knowest that they bring forth strife.

24. But one of the LORD shall not be quarrelsome, but shall be kind to all, instructive, able to bear the wicked with meekness.

25. And punish the unruly, whether God will one day give them repentance to know the truth, 26. And be sober again from the snare of the devil, by whom they are bound to his will.

(2 Timothy)

Chapter 3

Of the dreadful last times. Of the glorious use of the Holy Scriptures.

1. But this thou shalt know, that in the last days there shall be terrible times.

2. For there shall be men that think evil of themselves, covetous, boastful, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unspiritual,

3. disruptive, unforgiving, abuser, unchaste, wild, unkind,

4. traitors, sacrilegious, puffed up, who love lust more than God, 5.

Who have the appearance of godliness, but deny his power. And such avoid!

6. Of the same are they that creep to and fro into the houses, and lead captive the women that are laden with sins, and that go about with divers lusts,

7. are always learning, and can never come to the knowledge of the truth.

8. But as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so these also withstood the truth: they are men of corrupt minds, unfit to believe.

9. But they shall not be long: for their folly shall be made manifest unto all men, even as he was.

10. But thou hast known my doctrine, my manner, my opinion, my faith, my longsuffering, my love, my patience,
11. My persecution, my sufferings, which happened unto me in Antioch, in Iconium, in Lystra, what persecutions I endured: and out of all these the LORD delivered me.
12. And all they that will live godly in Christ JESU must suffer persecution.
13. But with wicked men and seducers, the longer the worse, the more they seduce, and are seduced.
14. But continue thou in that which thou hast learned, and hast trusted in, knowing of whom thou hast learned.
15. And because thou hast known the scriptures from thy infancy, the same can instruct thee unto salvation through faith in Christ Jesus.
16. For all scripture, inspired of God, is profitable for doctrine, for judgment, for correction, for chastening in righteousness,
17. That a man of God may be perfect, fitted for all good works.

(2 Timothy)

Chapter 4

Good oversight needed in the preaching ministry. Paul's struggle and crown.

1. Now therefore I testify before God, and before the Lord JESUS CHRIST, who is to come to judge the quick and the dead, with his appearing and with his kingdom: 2. Preach the word; stop, whether in season or out of season; chasten, rebuke, exhort with all patience and doctrine.
3. For there shall be a time when they shall not suffer sound doctrine, but according to their own lusts shall they load themselves with teachers, after which their ears shall itch; 4. And shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall turn to fables.
5. But be thou sober in all things. Suffer thyself, do the work of an evangelical preacher, judge thy ministry honestly.
6. For I am already offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.
7. I have fought a good fight; I have finished the race; I have kept the faith.
8. Henceforth there is laid up for me the crown of righteousness, which the LORD the righteous judge shall give me in that day: and not unto me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9. Diligent thyself, that thou mayest come unto me quickly.
10. For Demas hath left me, and loved this world, and gone to Thessalonica; Crescens to Galatia; Titus to Dalmatia.
11. Luke is alone with me Mark take unto thee, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable unto me for the service.
12. Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.
13. The mantle which I left at Troas with Carpo, bring with thee when thou comest, and the books, and especially the parchment.
14. Alexander, the blacksmith hath shewed me much evil: let the LORD pay him according to his works.
15. From whom also beware: for he hath greatly withstood our words.
16. In my first responsibility no man stood with me, but they all forsook me. Let it not be imputed to them!
17. And the LORD stood by me, and strengthened me, that through me the preaching might be confirmed, and that all the Gentiles might hear. And I am delivered out of the lion's mouth.
18. But the LORD will deliver me from all evil, and will help me to his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.
19. greetings Priska and Aquila and the house Onesiphorus.
20. Erastus remained at Corinth; but Trophimus I left sick at Miletus.
21. Do diligently, that thou come before winter. Greetings to you from Eubulus and Pudens and Linus and Klaudia and all the brothers.
22. May the Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit! Grace be with you! Amen.

Written from Rome, the other epistle to Timothy, when Paul was presented for the second time before the emperor Nero.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The letter of Paul to Titus ^

Chapter 1

With what persons the office of preaching is to be appointed, and what the office of the preacher is.

1. Paul, a servant of GOD, but an apostle of JESu Christ according to the faith of the elect of GOD and the knowledge of the truth unto godliness,

2. In hope of eternal life, which he that lieth not, GOD, promised before the times of the world, 3. But hath in his time revealed his word by the preaching which is committed unto me, according to the commandment of God our Saviour:

4. Titus, my righteous son, according to the faith of both of us: Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5. For this cause I left thee in Crete, that thou shouldest make a full end of it, as I left it, and fill the cities to and fro with the elders, as I commanded thee;

6. If any man be blameless, the husband of a wife, having faithful children, not reproached for their revelry and disobedience.

7. For a bishop shall be blameless, as a steward of God, not self-willed, not angry, not a winebibber, not thumping, not dealing dishonestly,

8. but hospitable, kind, chaste, just, holy, chaste.

9. Holding fast the word that is sure and able to teach, that he may be mighty to exhort by sound doctrine, and to punish them that speak evil.

10. For there are many impudent and vain babblers and seducers, especially of the circumcision, 11. Whom it is necessary to shut up, who pervert whole houses, and teach that which is not good, for shameful gain.

12. One of them hath said, their own prophet, The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, and foul bellies.

13. This testimony is true. For this cause punish them severely, that they may be sound in the faith.

14. and pay no attention to the Jewish fables and commandments of men, which turn away from the truth.

15. All things are clean unto the pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing clean, but both their mind and conscience are defiled.

16. They say that they know God, but by their works they deny it, because they are those in whom God is abominable, and do not obey, and are unfit for any good work.

(Titus)

Chapter 2

Rules of life of different estates to observe for the sake of God's grace appeared.

1. But speak thou according to the sound doctrine:
2. To the aged, that they may be sober, honourable, chaste, sound in faith, in love, in patience;
3. To the old women of the same kind, that they should behave themselves according to the manner of the saints, not blasphemers, not winebibbers, but good teachers,
4. That they may teach the young women to be chaste, to love their husbands, to love children,
5. To be chaste, domestic, kind, subject to their husbands, lest the word of God be blasphemed.
6. In like manner exhort the young men to be chaste.
7. But in every place set thyself for an ensample of good works, with doctrine unadulterated, with uprightness,
8. With a wholesome and blameless word, that the wicked may be ashamed, and have nothing to say evil of us.
9. To the servants, that they may be subject unto their masters, to do them good in all things, not to bark against them,
10. not to betray, but to show all good faith, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

(Epistle on Christmas Day.)

11. For the saving grace of God hath appeared unto all men.
12. And discipline us, that we may deny ungodliness and worldly lusts, and live chastely, righteously, and godly, in this world.
13. and wait for the blessed hope and appearing of the glory of the great God and of our Saviour JEsu Christ,
14. Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all unrighteousness, and purify unto himself a people for a possession, diligent to do good works.
15. Speak these things, and exhort, and rebuke with all earnestness. Let no man despise thee.

(Titus)

Chapter 3

To honor authorities, to praise God's goodness, to avoid useless questions and heretics.

1. remind them to be subject and obedient to princes and authorities, ready for all good works,
2. not to blaspheme, not to quarrel, to be gentle, to show all meekness toward all men.

3. For we also in old time were unwise, disobedient, erring, serving the lusts and divers desires, walking in malice and envy, hating one another.

(Epistle on the second day of Christ.)

4. But the kindness and goodness of God our Saviour appeared,

5. Not because of the works of righteousness which we had done, but according to his mercy he made us blessed by the bath of regeneration and renewing of the Holy Ghost, 6. Which he hath abundantly poured out upon us through JESUS Christ our Saviour: 7. That by His grace we might be justified and inherit eternal life according to the hope.].

8. This is certainly true. These things I would have thee teach firmly, that they which have believed in God may be found in a state of good works. This is good and profitable for men.

9. But abstain from foolish questions, and from genealogies, and from disputings, and from strifes concerning the law: for they are vain and empty.

10. Avoid a heretical man, when he hath been admonished once and again, 11. And know that such a one is perverse, and sinneth, as he that hath condemned himself.

12. When I shall send unto thee Artemas, or Tychicus, come quickly unto me to Nicopolis: for there I have determined to dwell for the winter.

13. Finish Zenas the scribe and Apollos with diligence, that nothing be broken to them.

14. But let ours also learn to be found in the state of good works, where they are needed; that they be not unfruitful:

15. All who are with me greet you. Greetings to all who love us in faith. Grace be with you all!

Amen.

Written by Nikopolis in Macedonia.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The letter of Paul to Philemon ^

Paul's intercession for Onesimus the converted servant.

1. Paul, the bound of Christ JEsu, and Timotheus, the brother:
Philemon, the beloved, and our helper,

2. And Appian, the beloved, and Archippus, our contender, and the congregation of thy house.

3. Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

4. I thank my God and remember you always in my prayer,

5. Having heard of the love and faith which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all the saints,

6. That your faith, which we have one with another, may be strengthened in you by the knowledge of all the good things which ye have in Christ Jesus.

7. But we have great joy and comfort in thy love: for the hearts of the saints are refreshed through thee, dear brother. .

8. Therefore, though I have great joy in Christ, to command thee that which is right for thee, 9. But for love's sake I will only exhort, who am such a one, that is, an old Paul, but now also a bondman of JEsu Christ.

10. Thus I exhort thee for my son's sake, Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bands, 11. Which was useless unto thee, but is now profitable unto thee and me: him have I sent again.

12. But thou wilt receive him, that is, my own heart.

13. For I would keep him with me, to minister in thy stead in the bonds of the gospel; 14. But without thy will I would do nothing, that thy good might not be required, but willing.

15. But peradventure for this cause he came from thee for a season, that thou mightest have him again for ever,

16. Now not more than a servant, but more than a servant, a dear brother, especially to me: how much more to thee, both according to the flesh, and in the Lord?

17. If therefore thou thinkest me thy companion, receive him as thyself.

18. But if he hath wronged thee, or if he be guilty of any thing, impute it unto me.

19. I, Paul, have written it with mine hand; I will pay it. I hold my peace, that thou owest thyself unto me.

20. Yea, dear brother, grant that I may delight myself in thee in the LORD: quicken my heart in the LORD.

21. I have written unto thee out of confidence of thy obedience: for I know that thou wilt do more than I say.

22. Besides prepare me an inn: for I hope that by your prayer I shall be given unto you.

23. Epaphras saluteth thee, my fellow prisoner in Christ JEsu,

24. Mark, Aristarchus, Demas, Luke, my assistants.

25. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

Written by Rome through Onesimus.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Letter to the Hebrews ^

Chapter 1

Christ is the Son of God and higher than the angels and all creatures.

(Epistle on the third day of Christmas, or the day of John the Apostle.)

1. After the times of old God spake sometimes and divers manners unto the fathers by the prophets,

2. He hath spoken unto us in the last of these days by the Son, whom he hath made heir of all things, by whom also he made the world;

3. Who, being the brightness of his glory, and the image of his being, and bearing all things with his powerful word, and having made the purification of our sins by himself, is set on the right hand of the Majesty on high,

4. Being so much better than the angels, that he hath inherited so much of a higher name before them.

5. For to what angel did he ever say, Thou art my son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be his father, and he shall be my son?

6. And again, when he bringeth in the firstborn into the world, he saith, And all the angels of God shall worship him.

7. Of the angels indeed he saith: He maketh his angels spirits, and his servants flames of fire; 8. But of the Son, God, thy throne endureth for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a true sceptre.

9. Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity: therefore, O God, thy God hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows;

10. and: Thou, O LORD, hast founded the earth from the beginning, and the heavens are the work of thy hands.

11. These shall pass away, but thou shalt remain: and they shall all pass away as a garment, 12. And as a garment shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed. But thou art the same, and thy years shall not cease].

13. And to what angel did he ever say, Sit thou at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14. Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them that shall inherit blessedness?

(Hebrews)

Chapter 2

The doctrine of Christ is to be received and accepted.

1. Therefore we ought the more to hearken unto the word which we hear, that we go not away.

2. For if the word which was spoken by angels be established, and every transgression and disobedience receive their due reward:

3. How shall we escape, if we regard not such blessedness? which, after it was first preached by the Lord, it came upon us by them that heard it.

4. And God bore witness to them with signs and wonders and various powers, and with the dispensation of the Holy Spirit according to His will.

5. For he hath not put the angels in charge of the world to come, whereof we speak.

6. And there is one that testifieth in one place, saying, What is man, that thou rememberest him?

and the Son of man, that thou visitest him?

7. Thou hast made him lack a little time of angels: with glory and honour hast thou crowned him, and hast set him over the works of thy hands;

8. Thou hast put all things under his feet. In that he hath put all things under him, he hath left nothing that is not subject unto him: but now we see not yet that all things are subject unto him.

9. But the one who lacked a little time of angels, we see that it is JEsus, crowned with glory and honor through suffering of death, that by the grace of GOD he might taste death for all.

10. For it behoved him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, who hath brought many children unto glory, to make perfect the duke of their blessedness through sufferings.

11. For they all come of one, both he that sanctifieth, and they that are sanctified. Therefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

12. Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, and will sing praise unto thee in the midst of the congregation.

13. And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, I and the children which God hath given me.

14. Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he is likewise made partaker of them, that through death he might take away the power of him that had the power of death, that is, of the devil,

15. And redeemed them which through fear of death were servants all their days.

16. For nowhere doth he take the angels unto himself, but the seed of Abraham doth he take unto himself.

17. Therefore he had to become like his brethren in all things, that he might be merciful, and a faithful high priest before God, to make reconciliation for the sin of the people.

18. For in that he hath suffered, and is tempted, he is able to help them that are tempted.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 3

Let Christ, the excellent teacher of the New Testament, be heard.

1. Wherefore, holy brethren, which are called together with you by the heavenly calling, take heed to the apostle and high priest, whom we confess, Christ JEsu, 2. Who is faithful to him that made him (as also Moses) in all his house.

3. And this man is worthy of more honour than Moses: for he that prepareth the house hath more honour in it than the house.

4. For every house is prepared by one: but he that prepareth all things is God.

5. And Moses indeed was faithful in all his house as a servant for a testimony of that which should be spoken;

6. But Christ as a son over his house: which house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the glory of the hope firm unto the end.

7. Therefore, as the Holy Ghost saith, To day, if ye shall hear his voice,

8. Then harden not your hearts, as was done in the day of temptation in the wilderness, 9. When your fathers tried me, they tested me, and saw my works forty years; 10. Therefore was I indignant against this generation, and said: Their hearts do always err, but they knew not my ways,

11. That I also sware in mine anger, that they should not come into my rest.

12. Take heed, brethren, lest any of you have an evil and unbelieving heart, which depart from the living God,

13. But exhort yourselves every day, as long as it is called this day, lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14. For we are made partakers of Christ, if by any other means we hold fast the things which we have begun unto the end,

15. As long as it is said: Today, if ye shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as was done in bitterness.

16. For some of them, when they heard, did provoke to bitterness, but not all they that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17. But over whom was he indignant forty years? Is it not so, that over them which sinned their bodies perished in the wilderness?

18. And to whom sware he that they should not come to his rest, but to the unbelievers?

19. And we see that they cannot enter in because of unbelief.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 4

How to come to the rest of Christ.

1. Let us therefore fear, lest we neglect the promise of entering into his rest, and let none of us be left behind.

2. For it was preached unto us as well as unto them: but the word of preaching did not profit them, because they believed not when they heard it.

3. For we which believe enter into rest, as he saith, That I sware in mine anger, that they should not enter into my rest. And that is, since the works were made from the foundation of the world,

4. Thus spake he in one place of the seventh day, saying, And God rested on the seventh day from all his works.

5. And here in this place again, They shall not come into my rest.

6. Now after that it is yet present, that some should come unto the same: and they to whom it was first preached came not to it because of unbelief,

7. And again he appointed a day after that long time, and said by David, To day, as it is said, to day, if ye shall hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8. For if Joshua had put them to rest, he would not afterward have said of another day.

9. Therefore there is yet a rest unto the people of God.

10. For he that is come to his rest resteth also from his works, even as God from his.

11. Let us therefore be diligent to enter into this rest, lest any man fall into the same specimen of unbelief.

12. For the word of God is living, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of marrow and bone, and is a judge of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13. And no creature is invisible in his sight: but all things are naked and discovered in his sight: of whom we speak.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 5

Holding Christ and Aaron against each other.

14. Forasmuch then as we have a great high priest, Jesus the Son of God, which is gone up to heaven, let us hold fast the confession.

15. For we have not an high priest, which cannot have compassion on our infirmities; but is in all things tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

16. Let us therefore approach joyfully unto the mercy seat, that we may receive mercy, and find grace in time of need.

Ch.5. v. 1. For every high priest that is taken from among men is set apart for men against God, to offer gifts and sacrifices for sins,

2. Who could have compassion on them that are ignorant and err, being himself also compassed about with infirmity.

3. Therefore must he also, as for the people, so also for himself, sacrifice for sins.

4. And no man taketh glory to himself, but he also that is called of God, as Aaron.

5. So Christ also did not set himself in glory to be high priest, but he that said unto him: Thou art my Son: this day have I begotten thee.

6. As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.
7. And in the days of his flesh he offered up prayer and supplication with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to deliver him from death: and he was heard, because he honoured God.
8. And though he was the Son of God, yet by the things which he suffered he learned obedience.
9. And when he was finished, he became unto all them that obey him a cause of eternal salvation, 10. Called of GOD a high priest after the order of Melchizedek.
11. Of this we might have much to speak: but it is hard, because ye have so little understanding.
12. And when ye are long since masters, ye need again to be taught the first letters of the divine words, and to be given milk, and not strong meat.
13. For he that is yet to be given milk is inexperienced in the word of righteousness: for he is a young child.
14. But unto them that are perfect belongeth strong meat; and they that have a habit have exercised senses to discern good from evil.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 6

Warning against waste. Exhortation to constancy.

1. Therefore let us now leave the doctrine of the beginning of the Christian life, and let us go on to perfection, not again laying the foundation of repentance of dead works, of faith in God, 2. Of baptism, of doctrine, of the laying on of hands, of the resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.
3. And this we will do, if God will permit it otherwise.
4. For it is impossible for them that are once enlightened, and have tasted the heavenly gift, and are made partakers of the Holy Ghost
5. And have tasted the gracious word of GOD and the powers of the world to come, 6. Wherefore they fall away, and again crucify unto themselves the Son of God, and hold him in derision, that they should be renewed again unto repentance:
7. For the earth that drinketh the rain that cometh upon it oftentimes, and comfortably beareth herbage unto them that build it, receiveth blessing from God.

8. But she that beareth thorns and thistles is unfit, and nigh unto the curse, and shall be burned at the last.

9. But we have better things in store for you, O beloved, and that salvation may be nearer, though we speak thus.

10. For God is not unjust, that he should forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed in his name, in that ye have ministered unto the saints, and do minister unto them.

11. But we desire that every one of you show the same diligence to hold fast hope unto the end, 12. That ye be not slothful, but followers of them which through faith and patience inherit the promises.

13. For when God promised Abraham, seeing he had no greater to swear by, he sware by himself 14. And said, Verily I will bless thee, and multiply thee.

15. And so he bore patience, and obtained the promise.

16. Men swear by a greater than they: and the oath maketh an end of all strife, that it may stand fast among them.

17. But God, desiring to prove exceedingly unto the heirs of the promise, that his counsel wavereth not, hath added an oath unto it:

18. That we through two parts which waver not (for it is impossible for God to lie) might have strong consolation, which have refuge, and hold fast to the hope that is offered, 19. Which we have for a sure and steadfast anchor of our souls, which goeth even into the inward parts of the veil,

20. Whereunto the forerunner is passed over for us, Jesus, a high priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 7

Comparison of Christ with Melchizedek.

1. Now this Melchizedek was a king of Salem, a priest of God most high, which went out to meet Abraham, when he was returned from the battle of the kings, and blessed him, 2. To whom also Abraham gave tithes of all goods. In the first place he is interpreted a king of righteousness; but afterward he is also a king of Salem, that is, a king of peace; 3. Without father, without mother, without generation; having neither beginning of days, nor end of life. But he is likened unto the Son of God, and remaineth a priest for ever.

4. And, behold, how great is he, to whom also Abraham the patriarch giveth tithes of the spoil that he hath taken!
5. Though the children of Levi, when they receive the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people, that is, of their brethren, according to the law, though they also came out of the loins of Abraham.
6. But he whose family is not named among them took tithes from Abraham, and blessed him that had the promise.
7. Now therefore, without any gainsaying, the inferior is blessed by the superior.
8. And here the tithes are taken by men that die: but there he testifieth that he liveth.
9. And that I may say, It is also Levi, which taketh tithes, tithed by Abraham.
10. For he was ever yet in the loins of his father, when Melchizedek met him.
11. If therefore perfection was by the Levitical priesthood, (for under the same the people received the law,) what need is there to say that another priest should arise after the order of Melchizedek, and not after the order of Aaron?
12. For where the priesthood is changed, there must the law be changed also.
13. For of whom these things are spoken, he is of another generation, of whom none hath ever ministered unto the altar.
14. For it is evident that out of Judah our Lord is risen: to which generation Moses spake not of the priesthood.
15. And it is yet more clear, if after the manner of Melchizedek another priest arise, 16. Which is not made according to the law of carnal commandment, but according to the power of infinite life.
17. For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.
18. For the former law is abolished, because it was weak, and of no profit.
19. (For the law could not make anything perfect), and is introduced a better hope, by which we draw near to God;
20. And in addition, which is much, not without an oath. For those have been priests without oath;

21. And this with an oath by him that saith unto him, The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent of him, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

22. So then of so much better testament became JEsus.

23. And there are many that have become priests, because death hath not left them; 24. But this, because he abideth for ever, hath an everlasting priesthood; 25. Therefore he also is able to save forever them that come unto God by him, and live forever, and pray for them.

26. For we ought to have such a high priest, holy, innocent, without blemish, separate from sinners, and higher than the heavens,

27. Who had not need daily, as did those chief priests, to offer sacrifice first for his own sins, and then for the sins of the people: for this he did once, when he offered himself.

28. For the law maketh men high priests in weakness: but this word of the oath, which is spoken under the law, maketh the Son eternal and perfect.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 8

Comparison of the priesthood of Christ with the priesthood of the Levites.

1. Now this is the summa of which we speak: We have such a high priest sitting on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in heaven;

2. And is a keeper of the holy things, and of the true tabernacle, which God hath set up, and no man.

3. For every high priest is appointed to offer gifts and sacrifices.

Therefore he also must have something to offer.

4. Now if he were on the earth, he would not be a priest, because there are priests who offer the gifts according to the law,

5. Which serve for the pattern and shadow of heavenly things: as the divine answer spake unto Moses, when he finished the tabernacle: See thou, said he, that thou make all things after the image which is shewed thee in the mount.

6. But now he hath obtained a better office, as he that is the mediator of a better testament, which is also upon better promises.

7. For if that, the first, had been blameless, room would not have been sought for another.

8. For he reproved them, saying, Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new testament concerning the house of Israel, and concerning the house of Judah; 9. Not according to the testament which I made with their fathers in the day that I took their hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt. For they abode not in my testament: neither have I regarded them, saith the LORD.

10. For this is the testament which I will make unto the house of Israel after those days, saith the LORD; I will put my laws in their mind, and in their heart will I write them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

11. And let no man teach his neighbour, nor his brother, saying, Know the LORD. For they shall all know me, from the least even unto the greatest.

12. For I will be merciful to their iniquity and their sins, and their unrighteousness will I remember no more.

13. In saying, A new thing, he maketh the first old. But that which is old, and waxen old, is nigh unto his end.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 9

The tabernacle and the Levitical sacrifices a model of the high priestly office of Christ.

1. Though the first also had its rights of worship and outward holiness.

2. For there was set up the front of the tabernacle, and in it the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread: and these are called the holy things.

3. And behind the other curtain was the tabernacle which is called the holy of holies.

4. Which had the censer of gold, and the ark of the testament overlaid all over with gold, wherein was the gelt of gold, which had the bread of heaven, and the rod of Aaron, which had the foundation, and the tables of the testament.

5. And above were the cherubims of glory, overshadowing the mercy seat; of which it is not now to be said in particular.

6. When these things were thus prepared, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, and performed the service.

7. And into the other went the high priest only once in the year, not without blood, to offer for himself, and for the ignorance of the people.

8. That the Holy Ghost might signify, that as long as the first tabernacle stood, the way to holiness was not yet made manifest,

9. Which in those days was a pattern, in the which gifts and sacrifices were offered, and could not make him perfect in conscience that worshippeth.

10. With meat and drink only, and divers baptisms, and outward holiness, which are laid up until the time of correction.

(Epistle on Sunday Judica.)

11. But Christ is come to be an high priest of things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, which is not made with hands, that is, which is not so made; 12. Neither by the blood of goats, nor by the blood of calves: but by his own blood he entered into the holy things once, and made an everlasting redemption.

13. For the blood of bullocks and of goats, and the ashes sprinkled from the heifer, sanctifieth the unclean unto spotlessness of the flesh,

14. How much more shall the blood of Christ, who offered Himself without change to God through the Holy Spirit, cleanse our conscience from dead works to serve the living God!

15. And for this cause he is also a mediator of the new testament, that through the death which was wrought for redemption from the transgressions which were under the first testament they which are called might receive the promised eternal inheritance].

16. For where there is a will, there must be the death of him that made the will.

17. For a will is established by death; otherwise it hath no power yet, if he that made it be alive.

18. Therefore also the first was not made without blood.

19. For when Moses had spoken all the commandments of the law unto all the people, he took the blood of calves and of goats, and water, and purple wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled the book, and all the people.

20. And said, This is the blood of the testament which God hath commanded you.

21. And he sprinkled the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the service, with blood of the same kind.

22. And almost all things are purged with blood according to the law. And without shedding of blood there is no forgiveness.

23. So then the heavenly things had to be purified with such an offering; but they themselves, the heavenly things, must have better offerings than these were.

24. For Christ is not entered into the holy things which are made with hands (which is the antitype of the righteous), but into heaven itself, now to appear before the face of God for us.

25. Neither shall he offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with strange blood.

26. Otherwise he should have suffered many times from the beginning of the world. But now, at the end of the world, he has appeared once to put away sin by his own sacrifice.

27. And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment, 28. So Christ was once offered to take away many sins. But the second time he shall appear without sin unto them that wait for him unto salvation.

((Hebrews))

Chapter 10

The excellence of Christ's atoning sacrifice.

1. For the law hath the shadow of the good things to come, and not the nature of the good things themselves. Every year they offer the same sacrifice, and they that offer it cannot be made perfect;
2. Otherwise the sacrifice would have ceased, where those who are at the service would have no more conscience of sins, if they were once purified;
3. But by them only is there a remembrance of sins every year.
4. For it is impossible to take away sins by the blood of bulls and goats.
5. Therefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifices and offerings thou didst not desire; but the body thou hast prepared for me.
6. burnt offerings and sin offerings are not pleasing to you.
7. Then said I, Behold, I come; in the book it is chiefly written of me, that I should do thy will, O God.
8. When he had said, Sacrifices and offerings, burnt offerings and sin offerings, thou didst not desire them; neither did they please thee (which are offered according to the law), 9. And he said, Behold, I come to do thy will, O God. And he abolished the first, that he might establish the other.

10. In which will we are sanctified, being once made holy by the sacrifice of the body of JESUS CHRIST.

11. And every priest is ordained to minister every day, and oftentimes to offer the same sacrifice, which never taketh away sins.

12. But this man, having offered a sacrifice for sins which endureth for ever, sitteth now at the right hand of God.

13. And wait hence, till his enemies be made the footstool of his feet.

14. For with one offering hath he perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15. Now the Holy Ghost also testifieth unto us. For after he had said before: 16. This is the testament which I will make unto them after those days, saith the LORD; I will put my law in their hearts, and in their minds will I write it,

17. And their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

18. But where they are forgiven, there is no more offering for sin.

19. Therefore we have, brethren, the joy of entering into the holy things through the blood of JESUS,

20. Whom he hath prepared for us a new and living way through the veil, that is, through his flesh,

21. And have a high priest over the house of GOD:

22. Let us therefore go with a true heart, in full faith, having our hearts sprinkled, and being loosed from an evil conscience, and having our bodies washed with pure water; 23. And let us hold fast the confession of hope, and not waver: for he is faithful that promised it.

24. And let us take heed to ourselves one to another with charms of love and good works.

25. And not forsaking our assembling together, as some do, but exhorting one another, and that much more, as ye see the day approaching.

26. For if we sin wilfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth, we have no more sacrifice for sins,

27. But a dreadful waiting of judgment, and of fiery anger, which shall devour the abominable.

28. If any man break the law of Moses, he shall die without mercy by two or three witnesses.
29. How much more grievous punishment think ye that he shall deserve who treadeth under foot the Son of God, and dishonoureth the blood of the testament by which he was sanctified, and reproacheth the Spirit of grace?
30. For we know him that said, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the LORD. And again, The LORD will judge his people.
31. It is terrible to fall into the hands of the living God.
32. But remember the former days, in which ye, being enlightened, endured a great struggle of affliction,
33. partly to have been a spectacle himself through shame and affliction, partly to have had fellowship with those who are so afflicted.
34. For ye had compassion on my bonds, and endured the spoil of your goods with gladness, as knowing that with yourselves ye have a better and an enduring possession in heaven.
35. Throw not away your confidence, which hath great reward.
36. But patience is necessary for you, that ye may do the will of God, and receive the promise.
37. For yet a little while, and he that shall come shall come, and not be pardoned.
38. But the righteous shall live by faith. But he that shall depart, in him shall my soul have no pleasure.
39. But we are not of them that depart and are condemned, but of them that believe and save the soul.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 11

Of the saving faith.

1. Now faith is a certain assurance of that which is hoped for, and not doubting that which is not seen.
2. By whom the ancients received testimony.
3. By faith we know that the world is finished by the word of God, that all things which are seen are made of nothing.
4. By faith Abel offered unto God a greater sacrifice than Kam, by which he bare witness that he was righteous, when God testified of his offering: and by the same he speaketh yet, though he were dead.

5. By faith Enoch was taken away, that he should not see death; and was not found, because God took him away: for before he was taken away he had testimony that he pleased God.
6. but without faith it is impossible to please God; for he who would come to God must believe that he is and will be a recompense to those who seek him.
7. By faith Noah honoured God, and prepared the ark for the salvation of his house, when he received a divine commandment from him that was not yet seen; by which he condemned the world, and inherited the righteousness that cometh by faith.
8. By faith Abraham was obedient, when he was called to go forth into the land which he should inherit: and he went forth, and knew not whither he went.
9. By faith he was a stranger in the land of promise, as in a strange land, dwelling in tents with Isaac and Jacob, the joint-heirs of the same promise.
10. For he waited for a city that hath a foundation, whose builder and maker is GOD.
11. By faith also Sarah received strength, and conceived, and bare beyond the days of her old age: for she esteemed him faithful that had promised.
12. Therefore also of one, as though his body were dead, many are born, as the stars of heaven, and as the sand upon the brink of the sea, which is innumerable.
13. All these died in faith, and received not the promise, but saw it afar off, and were put off, and were well satisfied, and confessed that they were sojourners and strangers on the earth.
14. For they that say these things shew that they seek a fatherland.
15. And if they had meant that from which they departed, they had time to return.
16. But now they desire a better, even a heavenly. Therefore God is not ashamed to be called their God, for he has prepared a city for them.
17. By faith Abraham, when he was tempted, offered up Isaac, and gave the only begotten, when he had already received the promise,
18. Of whom it was said, In Isaac shall thy seed be called,
19. And thought, God also is able to raise from the dead: therefore he took him again for an example.

20. By faith Isaac blessed of things to come Jacob and Esau.
21. By faith Jacob, when he was dead, blessed both the sons of Joseph, and bowed himself to the head of his sceptre.
22. By faith Joseph spake of the going out of the children of Israel, when he died, and did commandment of his bones.
23. By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid from his parents three months: because they saw that he was a goodly child, and feared not the king's commandment.
24. By faith Moses, when he was grown up, would no more be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter.
25. and would rather suffer mischief with the people of God than have the temporal pleasure of sin,
26. And counted the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt: for he looked unto the reward.
27. By faith he left Egypt, and feared not the king's wrath: for he held fast to him whom he saw not, as though he saw him.
28. By faith he kept the passover, and the shedding of blood, that he that choked the firstborn might not choke them.
29. By faith they passed through the Red sea, as through dry land: which also the Egyptians tried, and were drowned.
30. By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, when they had compassed themselves about seven days.
31. By faith the harlot Rahab was not lost with the unbelievers, because she received the spies with kindness.
32. And what shall I say more? The time would be too short for me, if I should tell of Gideon, and Barak, and Samson, and Jephthah, and David, and Samuel, and the prophets, 33. Who by faith have overcome kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained the promise, stopped the mouths of lions,
34. have quenched the power of fire, have escaped the edge of the sword, have been strengthened out of weakness, have become strong in battle, have put down the army of the stranger.
35. The women have received again their dead from the resurrection: but the rest are bruised, and have received no redemption, that they might obtain the resurrection which is better.
36. Some have suffered scorn and scourging, and bondage and imprisonment.

37. They were stoned, they were cut in pieces, they were stabbed, they were slain by the sword; they went about in furs and in goats' skins, with want, with affliction, with trouble.

38. (Of whom the world was not worthy) and have walked in misery in the deserts, and in the mountains, and in the clefts and holes of the earth.

39. All these have testified by faith, and have not received the promise, 40. because God has provided something "better for us beforehand, so that they would not be completed without us.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 12

Exhortation to patience and godliness.

1. Therefore we also, having such a company of witnesses about us, let us put away the sin which always clings to us and makes us sluggish, and let us walk by patience in the fight which is appointed for us,

2. And looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of faith, who, when he might have had joy, endured the cross, and was not ashamed, and sat on the right hand of the throne of God.

3. Remember him that endured such contradiction of sinners against him, that ye faint not in your courage, and be not moved.

4. For ye have not yet withstood to the death the strife against sin.

5. And have already forgotten the comfort that speaketh unto you as unto children: My son, regard not the chastening of the LORD lightly, neither despair when thou art punished of him;

6. For whom the LORD loveth he chasteneth: but he chasteneth every son whom he receiveth.

7. If ye endure chastening, God beareth you children: for where is there a son whom the father chasteneth not?

8. But if ye be without chastening, which they all have had, then are ye bastards, and not children.

9. Even if we have had our fathers in the flesh to chasten us, and have shunned them, ought we not much more to be subject unto our spiritual father, that we may live?

10. And they chastened us a few days according to their pleasure, but he for our profit, that we might obtain his sanctification.

11. But all chastening, when it is, seemeth unto us not joy, but sorrow: but afterward it shall give peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them that are exercised thereby.

12. Wherefore straighten again the lazy hands and the weary knees 13. And do with your feet a certain tread, lest any man stumble like a lame man, but rather be healed.

14. Pursue peace toward all men, and sanctification; without which no man shall see the LORD.

15. And take heed lest any man neglect the grace of God, lest a "bitter root grow up, and cause mischief, and many be defiled by it;

16. Lest any man be a fornicator, or an ungodly man, as Esau, which sold his firstborn for meat.

17. But know that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he is rejected; For he found no room for repentance, though he sought it with tears.

18. For ye are not come unto the mountain that was touched, and burned with fire, nor unto darkness and gloom and tempest.

19. Nor to the sound of the trumpet, nor to the voice of the words, "Which they refused to hear, that the word should not be spoken unto them.

20. For they could not bear what was said. And if any beast touched the mountain, it should be stoned, or shot with a projectile.

21. And so the vision was terrible, that Moses said: I am afraid and tremble), 22. But ye are come unto mount Zion, and to the city of the living God, to the heavenly Jerusalem, and to the multitude of many thousands of angels.

23. And to the congregation of the firstborn who are written in heaven, and to GOD, the Judge of all, and to the spirits of the perfect righteous.

24. And to the mediator of the new testament, JESUS, and to the blood of sprinkling, which speaketh better than Abel.

25. Take heed that ye refuse not him which speaketh. For they that refused him when he spake on earth fled not; much less we, if we refuse him that speaketh from heaven, 26. Which voice at that time moved the earth. But now he hath promised, saying, Once more I will not only move the earth, but also heaven.

27. But such "once more" signifieth that the movable shall be changed, as that which is made, that there may remain the immovable.

28. Therefore, because we receive an immovable kingdom, we have grace, by which we ought to serve God, to please him with discipline and fear.

29. For our God is a consuming fire.

(Hebrews)

Chapter 13

Exhortation to Christian walk and pure doctrine.

1. Stand firm in brotherly love!

2. Forget not to be hospitable: for by this some have entertained angels without their knowledge.

3. Remember them that are bound with you, and them which are afflicted, even as ye also which are in the body.

4. Marriage shall be kept honest among all, and the marriage bed undefiled: but fornicators and adulterers God will judge.

5. Let your walk be without covetousness; and be content with that which is. For he hath said, I will not leave thee, nor forsake thee,

6. So that we may say, The LORD is my helper, and will not fear me: what shall any man do unto me?

7. Remember your teachers, which have told you the word of God, whose end look ye on, and follow their faith.

8. Jesus Christ yesterday and today, and the same forever.

9. Be not carried away with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a precious thing that the heart should be established; which is by grace, and not by meat; of which they that handle it profit nothing.

10. We have an altar, whereof they have no power to eat that keep the tabernacle.

11. For every beast whose blood is borne by the high priest into the holy place for sin, his body shall be burned without the camp.

12. Wherefore also Jesus, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

13. Let us go forth therefore unto him out of the camp, and bear his reproach.

14. For here we have no lasting city, but we seek the city that is to come.

15. Through him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to GOD always, that is, the fruit of the lips which confess his name.

16. To do good and to communicate forget not: for such sacrifices please God.

17. Obey your teachers, and follow them: for they watch over your souls, as they that should give an account of them; that they may do it with joy, and not with sighing: for that is not good for you.

18. Pray for us. Our consolation is that we may have a good conscience, and be diligent to do good in all.

19. But I exhort you abundantly to do these things, that I may come unto you again most surely.

20. But God of peace, who hath brought forth from the dead the great Shepherd of the sheep by the blood of the everlasting testament, our Lord Jesus,

21. Who hath made you perfect in every good work to do his will, and hath wrought in you that which is acceptable in his sight, through Jesus Christ: to whom be glory for ever and ever.

Amen.

22. But I exhort you, brethren, take heed to the word of exhortation: for I have written unto you briefly.

23. Know ye that the brother Timotheus is again single, with whom, if he come quickly, I will see you.

24. Greet all your teachers and all the saints. The brothers from Italy greet you.

25. May grace be with you all! Amen.

Written from Italy by Timothy.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Letter of James ^

Chapter 1

Of patience in the cross and suffering.

1. James, a servant of GOD, and of the LORD JEsu Christ, to the twelve generations which are to and fro: Rejoice ye first.

2. My brethren, count it joy when ye fall into many temptations, 3. And know that your faith, if it be righteous, worketh patience.

4. But patience shall stand firm unto the end, that ye may be perfect and entire, and not lacking.

5. But if any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who giveth to every man understandingly, and putteth it on none: and it shall be given him.
 6. But pray in faith, doubting not: for he that doubteth is like unto the wave of the sea, which is tossed and waved with the wind.
 7. Such a man thinketh not that he shall receive any thing of the LORD.
 8. A doubter is fickle in all his ways.
 9. But let a brother that is lowly glory in his high estate,
 10. And let him that is rich glory in his lowliness: for as a flower of grass he shall perish.
 11. The sun riseth with the heat, and the grass withereth, and the flower falleth, and his fair form is spoiled: so shall the rich man wither in his substance.
 12. Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for after he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which God hath promised to them that love him.
 13. Let no man say, when he is tempted, that he is tempted of God: for God is not a tempter of evil; he tempteth no man:
 14. But every man is tempted when he is provoked and enticed of his own lusts.
 15. After that, when lust hath conceived, it begetteth sin: but sin, when it is finished, beareth death.
- (Epistle on the fourth Sunday after Easter, Cantate.)
16. Be not deceived, brethren.
 17. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, even from the Father of lights, with whom is no variation, nor change of light and darkness.
 18. He begat us according to his will by the word of truth, that we should be the firstfruits of his creatures.
 19. Wherefore, brethren, let every man be quick to hear, slow to speak, and slow to wrath; 20. For the wrath of man does not do what is right in the sight of God.
 21. Therefore put away all filthiness and all wickedness, and receive with meekness the word which is planted in you, which is able to save your souls].
- (Epistle on the fifth Sunday after Easter, Rogate or Vocem Jucunditatis.)
22. But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, that ye may deceive yourselves.

23. For if any man be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like a man beholding his bodily face in a mirror;
24. For after he hath looked, he departeth from that hour, and forgetteth how he was fashioned.
25. But he that looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, and is not a forgetful hearer, but a doer, the same shall be blessed in his deed.
26. But if any man among you think that he serveeth God, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his heart, his service is vain.
27. a pure and undefiled service before GOD the Father is this: to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unspotted from the world].

(James)

Chapter 2

Of the prestige of the person and hypocrisy.

1. Brethren, think not that faith in Jesus Christ our Lord of glory suffereth any respect of person.
2. For if there come into your assembly a man with a ring of gold, and with a glorious garment; but there come also a poor man with an unclean garment,
3. And ye saw him that bare the glorious robe, and said unto him, Sit thou here in the best, and say unto the poor man: Stand thou there, or sit thou here at my feet,
4. And consider not rightly, but become judges, and make evil difference.
5. Listen, my dear brothers! Does not God have the poor in this world who are rich in faith and heirs of the kingdom which He has promised to those who love Him?
6. But ye have done dishonour to the poor. Are not the rich the ones who do violence to you and drag you into court?
7. Do they not blaspheme the good name whereof ye are called?
8. If ye perfect the royal law according to the scripture: Love thy neighbour as thyself, and ye shall do well.
9. But if ye look on the person, ye sin, and are punished of the law as transgressors.
10. For if any man keep the whole law, and sin in one, he is whole.

11. For he that said: Thou shalt not commit adultery, he also said, Thou shalt not kill. If therefore thou commit not adultery, but kill, thou art a transgressor of the law.

12. So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.

13. And there shall be an unmerciful judgment upon him that hath not shown mercy: and mercy shall boast itself against judgment.

14. What profit is it, brethren, if a man say that he hath faith, and have not works? Can faith also save him?

15. But if a brother or sister would be naked and in want of daily food,

16. And if any of you should say unto them: God shall counsel you, and warm you, and satisfy you: but if ye give them not the necessities of the body, what shall it profit them?

17. So also faith, if it have not works, is dead in itself.

18. But if any man say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith with thy works, and I will shew thee my faith with my works.

19. Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.

20. But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21. Was not Abraham our father justified by works, in that he sacrificed his son Isaac on the altar?

22. Then seest thou that faith was instrumental in his works, and by works faith was made perfect.

23. And the scripture is fulfilled, which saith, Abraham believed God, and was counted unto him for righteousness, and was called a friend of God.

24. Behold therefore, that a man is justified by works, and not by faith alone.

25. Likewise Rahab the harlot, was she not justified by works, when she received the messengers, and sent them out another way?

26. For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead.

(James)

Chapter 3

On the use and abuse of the tongue.

1. Brethren, forbear not every man to be a teacher: and know ye, that the more judgment we receive.

2. For we all lack in many ways. But he that lacketh not in any word is a perfect man, and is able to keep the whole body in check.
 3. Behold, we keep the horses in bridles, that they may obey us; and we direct the whole body.
 4. Behold, the ships, though they be great, and though they be driven by strong winds, yet are they steered with a small rudder whithersoever he that governeth them goeth.
 5. So also the tongue is a small member, and doeth great things. Behold, a little fire, what a forest it kindles!
 6. And the tongue also is a fire, a world of iniquity. So the tongue is among our members, and defileth the whole body, and kindleth upon all our conversation, when it is inflamed with hell.
 7. For all the nature of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of the wonders of the sea, are tamed, and are made tame by human nature;
 8. But the tongue no man can tame, the restless evil full of deadly poison.
 9. By them we praise God the Father, and by them we curse man, made in the image of God.
 10. Out of one mouth proceedeth praise and cursing. It shall not be so, brethren.
 11. quillet also a fountain from a hole sweet and bitter?
 12. Can a fig tree also, brethren, bear oil, or a vine figs? So also a well cannot give salty and sweet water.
 13. Who is wise and prudent among you? Let him show his works in meekness and wisdom with his good conduct.
 14. But if ye have bitter envy and strife in your heart, boast not, neither lie against the truth.
 15. For this is not the wisdom that cometh down from above, but earthly, human, and devilish.
 16. For where there is envy and strife, there is disorder and vile evil.
 17. But wisdom from above is at first chaste, then peaceable, gentle, may it be said, full of mercy and good fruits, impartial, without hypocrisy.
 18. But the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace to them that keep the peace.
- (James)

Chapter 4

Warning against sins.

1. Whence cometh strife and war among you? Cometh it not from your lusts, which strive in your members?
 2. Ye are covetous, and gain not thereby: ye hate, and envy, and gain not thereby: ye contend, and war. Ye have not, because ye ask not.
 3. Ye ask, and receive not; because ye ask evil, that is, to consume it with your lusts.
 4. Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is the enmity of God? He who wants to be the friend of the world will be the enemy of God.
 5. Or do ye suppose that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in you lusteth against hatred?
 6. And giveth abundant grace: for the scripture saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.
 7. Therefore be subject to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.
 8. Draw near to God, and He draws near to you. Cleanse your hands, you sinners, and make your hearts chaste, you fickle ones!
 9. Be ye wretched, and mourn, and weep. Let your laughter turn to weeping, and your joy to sadness.
 10. Humble yourselves before God, and He will exalt you.
 11. Speak not evil one to another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law. But if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.
 12. There is one lawgiver who can save and condemn. Who are you to judge another?
 13. Now therefore, ye that say, To day or tomorrow we will go into that city, or that city, and lie there a year, and work, and win,
 14. Ye know not what tomorrow shall be. For what is your life? It is a vapour that lasteth for a little season, and after that it vanisheth away.
 15. For which ye ought to say: If the LORD will, and we live, we will do this or that.
 16. But now ye glory in your pride. All such glory is evil.
 17. For he that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.
- (James)

Chapter 5

Of the vanity of riches, patient suffering and strong prayer.

1. Now therefore, ye rich, weep and wail for your miseries which shall come upon you.
2. Your riches are rotten; your garments have become moth-eaten.
3. Your gold and your silver are corroded, and their rust shall be a testimony unto you, and shall devour your flesh as it were fire. Ye have laid up for yourselves treasures in the last days.
4. Behold, the labourers' hire, which have reaped your land, and are broken off from you, cry: and the cry of the reapers is come into the ears of the LORD of hosts.
5. Ye have lived well on the earth, and have had your lusts, and have fed your hearts as on a day of slaughter.
6. Ye have condemned and slain the righteous, and he hath not withstood you.
7. Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the LORD. Behold, a husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and is patient for it, until he receive the morning rain and the evening rain.
8. Be ye also patient, and strengthen your hearts: for the future of the LORD is at hand.
9. Sigh not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned. Behold, the judge is at the door!
10. Take ye, my brethren, for an example of suffering and patience, the prophets which have spoken unto you in the name of the LORD.
11. Behold, blessed are they that endure. The patience of Job ye have heard, and the end of the LORD ye have seen: for the LORD is merciful and gracious.
12. But above all, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, nor by earth, nor by any other oath. But let your word be, Yea, which is yea; and, Nay, which is nay: Nay, which is nay; lest ye fall into hypocrisy.
13. If any man suffer among you, let him pray: if any man be of good cheer, let him sing psalms.
14. If any man be sick, let him call for the elders of the congregation, and let them pray over him, anointing them with oil in the name of the LORD.

15. And the prayer of faith shall help the sick, and the LORD shall raise him up: and if he have sinned, they shall be forgiven him.

16. Confess ye your sins one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The righteous man's prayer is powerful if it is earnest.

17. Elijah was a man like unto us, and he prayed a prayer that it should not rain; and it rained not on the earth three years and six months.

18. And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19. Brethren, if any man among you should err from the truth, and any man should convert him, 20. Who shall know that he that converteth a sinner from the error of his way hath saved a soul from death, and shall cover the multitude of sins.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The first letter of Peter (1 Peter) ^

Chapter 1

Of God's spiritual benefits and Christians' duties.

1. Peter, an apostle of JEsu Christ: To the elect strangers to and fro in Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2. According to the providence of GOD the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, to obedience and sprinkling of the blood of JEsu Christ. May God give you much grace and peace!

(Epistle on the day of Simon and Judas.)

3. praise be to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy has given us new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead.

4. to an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and unfading, which shall be kept in heaven 5. You who by the power of God are kept through faith unto salvation, which is prepared to be revealed in the last time,

6. In which ye shall rejoice, who now for a little season (where it shall be) are sorrowful in divers temptations,

7. That your faith may be found righteous, and much more precious than the gold that perisheth, which is tried by fire, to the praise, and honour, and glory, when Jesus Christ shall be revealed,

8. Whom ye have not seen, but love, and now believe on him, though ye see him not: and ye shall rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory,
9. And bring away the end of your faith, even the blessedness of souls].
10. For what blessedness the prophets sought and searched, who pointed unto you the grace that was to come,
11. And have searched to what and what time the Spirit of Christ which was in them pointed, testifying beforehand of the sufferings which are in Christ, and of the glory which is after, 12. To whom it was revealed. For they presented it not unto themselves, but unto us: which is now made known unto you by them which preached the gospel unto you, sent down from heaven by the Holy Ghost; which also the angels longed to behold.
13. Therefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and set your hope fully on the grace which is offered you by the revelation of JESUS CHRIST,
14. As obedient children; and be not as ye were before, living in ignorance after lusts, 15. But according to him that hath called you, and hath sanctified you, be ye also holy in all your doings.
16. For it is written: Ye shall be holy: for I am holy.
17. And as ye call upon him that is the Father, who judgeth without respect of persons according to every man's work, so conduct yourselves with fear all the days of your sojourning; 18. And know that ye are not redeemed with corruptible silver or gold from your vain walk after the manner of your fathers,
19. but with the precious blood of Christ, as of an innocent and unblemished lamb, 20. Who indeed was provided before the foundation of the world, but is manifested in the last times for your sakes,
21. Who through him believe in God, who raised him from the dead, and gave him glory, that ye might have faith and hope in God.
22. And chasten your souls in the obedience of the truth by the Spirit unto brotherly love unstained, and love one another fervently out of a pure heart,
23. As they that are born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, even of the living word of God, which abideth for ever.

24. For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of men as the flower of grass. The grass is withered, and the flower is fallen;

25. But the word of the LORD endureth for ever. This is the word which is preached among you.

(1 Peter)

Chapter 2

Of the duty of the born-again, as well as of subjects and servants.

1. Put away therefore all malice, and all deceit, and hypocrisy, and envy, and all speaking evil; 2. And be greedy for the sensible milk, as the little children that are now born, that ye may increase by the same,

3. If ye have tasted otherwise, that the Lord is good,

4. To whom ye are come as unto the living stone, which is rejected of men, but with God is chosen and precious.

5. And ye also, as the living stones, build yourselves up into a spiritual house, and into a holy priesthood, to offer sacrifices acceptable unto God through JESUS Christ.

6. Therefore it is written, Behold, I lay in Zion a choice and precious corner stone; and whosoever believeth in him shall not be put to shame.

7. To you therefore which believe it is precious; but to them which believe not it is the stone which the builders rejected, and became the corner stone,

8. A stone of stumbling and a rock of offence, which stumble at the word, and believe not in it, whereon they are set.

9. But ye are the chosen generation, the royal priesthood, the holy nation, the people of the possession, that ye should shew forth the virtues of him that hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light,

10. Who formerly were not a people, but are now the people of God; and formerly were not in grace, but are now in grace.

(Epistle on the third Sunday after Easter, Jubilate.)

11. Brethren, I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul,

12. And do good among the heathen, that they which speak evil of you, as of evildoers, may see your good works, and glorify God, when it shall come to pass.

13. Be subject unto all manner of men for the LORD'S sake, even to the king, as to the ruler, 14. or the captains, as the messengers from him for vengeance on the evildoers, and for 'praise to the pious. 15. For this is the will of God, that ye should stop up the ignorance of foolish men with well-doing, 16. as the free, and not as having liberty to the cover of wickedness, but as the servants of GOD. 17. Do honour to everyone. Love your brothers! Fear God! Honor the king! 18. Ye servants, be subject unto the lords with all fear, not only to the kind and gentle, but also to the whimsical. 19. For this is grace, if a man for conscience' sake endure evil unto God, and suffer iniquity. 20. For what glory is this, if ye suffer strokes for iniquity? But if you suffer and endure for the sake of good, that is grace with God. (Epistle on the Second Sunday after Easter, Misericordias Domini.) 21. For to this end were ye called, because Christ also suffered for us, and left us an example, that ye should follow in his footsteps; 22. Who hath committed no sin, neither is any deceit found in his mouth; 23. Who reproveth not when he was reproached, neither grieved when he suffered; but reproveth him that judgeth aright; 24. Who himself offered up our sins in his body upon the wood, that we, having died to sin, might live unto righteousness: by whose wounds ye were healed. 25. For ye were as sheep going astray: but now are ye converted unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.]

(1 Peter)

Chapter 3

Duties of the spouses. Patience and constancy in suffering. Baptismal covenant.

1. Likewise also the wives shall be subject unto their husbands, that they also which believe not the word may be won by the conversation of wives without the word, 2. When they behold your chaste walk in fear;

3. What ornament shall not be by heart with braiding of hair, and cloaking of gold, or putting on of garments?

4. but the hidden man of the heart unfeigned with a gentle and quiet spirit; this is delicious in the sight of God.

5. For so did the holy women of old adorn themselves, who put their hope in God, and were subject to their husbands,

6. As Sarah obeyed Abraham, and called him lord, whose daughters ye became, if ye did well, and were not timid.

7. the same, ye men, dwell with them with reason, and give honor to the female as the weakest instrument, as also joint heirs of the grace of life, that your prayers may not be hindered.

(Epistle on the fifth Sunday after Trinity.)

8. Finally, be ye all like-minded, compassionate, brotherly, merciful, kind.

9. Not evil with evil, or evil with evil: but bless ye, and know that ye are called to this, that ye may inherit the blessing.

10. He that would live and see good days, let his tongue hold his peace, that it speak no evil; and his lips, that they deceive not;

11. Turn from evil and do good; seek peace and pursue it.

12. For the eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears upon their prayer: but the face of the LORD is upon them that do evil.

13. And who is he that may hurt you, if ye do good?

14. Though ye suffer for righteousness' sake, yet are ye blessed. But fear not their defiance, and be not dismayed!

15. But sanctify the Lord GOD in your hearts.] But be ye always ready to answer to every man, which requireth the hope that is in you,

16. With meekness and fear: and have a good conscience, that they which speak evil of you, as of evildoers, may be put to shame, because they have reproached your good walk in Christ.

17. For it is better, if it be the will of God, that ye should suffer for good than for evil, 18. For Christ also hath once suffered for our sins, the just for the unjust, that he might offer us to God; being put to death according to the flesh, but made alive according to the Spirit.

19. And in the same he went and preached unto the spirits that were in prison, 20. Who believed not, because God waited and was patient in the days of Noah, when they prepared the ark, wherein were kept a few, that is, eight souls, by the water, 21. Which therefore also makes us blessed in baptism, which is signified by that, not the putting away of filthiness from the flesh, but the covenant of a good conscience with GOD through the resurrection of JESUS CHRIST,

22. Who is gone up to the right hand of God into heaven, and the angels and the mighty men and the powers are subject unto him.

(1 Peter)

Chapter 4

Of the use of the cross, and patience therein, and other virtues.

1. Forasmuch then as Christ suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves also with the same mind: for he that suffereth in the flesh ceaseth from sins,

2. That he henceforth, which is yet in the flesh, should not live unto the lusts of men, but unto the will of God.

3. For it is enough that we have spent the past time of life according to the will of the Gentiles, walking in fornication, lusts, drunkenness, gluttony, drunkenness, and abominable idolatries.

4. That they are displeased, lest ye run with them into the same desolate, disorderly manner, and blaspheme;

5. Which shall give account unto him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.

6. For to this end is the gospel preached also to the dead, that they might be judged according to the flesh, but live in the Spirit of God.

7. But the end of all things is at hand.

(Epistle on the Sunday after the Ascension of Christ, Exaudi.)

8. Be ye therefore temperate and sober in prayer. Above all, love one another fervently, for love covers the multitude of sins.

9. be hospitable to one another without marbles!

10. And serve one another, every one with the gift which he hath received, as the good stewards of the many mercies of God.

11. If any man speak, to speak it as the word of God; if any man have an office, to do it as of the ability which God hath set forth; that in all things God may be glorified through JESUS

CHRIST, to whom be glory and power for ever and ever. Amen]

(Epistle on the Sunday after New Year.)

12. Beloved, let not the heat that cometh upon you (which cometh upon you, that ye are tempted) be strange unto you, as if some strange thing happened unto you, 13. But rejoice that ye suffer with Christ, that ye may have joy and gladness at the revelation of his glory.

14. Blessed are ye when ye are reviled above the name of Christ: for the Spirit, which is the Spirit of glory and of God, resteth upon you. With them he is blasphemed, but with you he is glorified.
15. But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or a thief, or an evildoer, or as one that entereth into a strange office.
16. But if he suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him honour God in such a case.
17. For the time is come for judgment to begin against the house of God. But if it be so with us first, what end shall it be with them that believe not the gospel of God?
18. And if the righteous be hardly preserved, where will the wicked and the sinner appear?
19. Therefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commend their souls unto him, as unto the faithful Creator in good works].

(1 Peter)

Chapter 5

Of the office of the elders, the duty of the youth, and of all Christians in general.

1. The elders which are among you I exhort, being fellow elders, and witnesses of the sufferings which are in Christ, and partakers of the glory which shall be revealed: 2. Feed ye the flock of Christ, as ye are commanded, and watch carefully, not forcibly, but willingly; not for shameful gain, but of the heart,
3. Not as ruling over the people, but become examples to the flock; 4. So when the Arch Shepherd appears, you will receive the unfading crown of honors.
5. Likewise, ye young men, be subject unto the elders. All of you be subject to one another, and hold fast to humility; for God resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble.
- (Epistle on the third Sunday after Trinity.)
6. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in his time.
7. Cast all your care upon him: for he careth for you.
8. Be ye sober, and watch: for your adversary the devil walketh about as a roaring lion, seeking whom he may devour.

9. Resist them firmly in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are upon your brethren which are in the world.
10. But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory in Christ JESUS, the same shall make you full, and strengthen, and establish you, who suffer a little while.
11. To Him be glory and power forever and ever. Amen]
12. By your faithful brother Silvanus, as I eight, I have written unto you a little, to exhort and testify that this is the right grace of God, wherein ye stand.
13. Greetings unto you that are chosen together with you to Babylon, and unto my son Mark.
14. Greet one another with the kiss of love. Peace be to all who are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The second letter of Peter (2 Peter) ^

Chapter 1

The fruitfulness of faith in good works. Praise of the Holy Scriptures.

1. Simon Peter, a servant and apostle of JESUS CHRIST: To them that have just obtained with us the same dear faith in the righteousness which our GOD giveth, and the Saviour JESUS CHRIST.
2. May God give you much grace and peace through the knowledge of God and of Jesus Christ our Lord.
3. After all his divine power (which is for life and godliness) is given unto us, through the knowledge of him that hath called us by his glory and virtue,
4. By which are given unto us the most precious and exceeding great promises, that by these ye might be made partakers of the divine nature, if ye would flee the corruptible pleasures of the world:
5. then give all your diligence to it, and present virtue in your faith, and modesty in virtue.
6. And in modesty temperance, and in temperance patience, and in patience godliness.
7. And in godliness brotherly love, and in brotherly love common love.

8. For if these things abound among you, they shall not make you slothful nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord JESUS CHRIST.
9. But he that hath not these things is blind, and gropeth with his hand, and forgetteth the purification of his former sins.
10. Wherefore, brethren, be the more diligent to establish your calling and election. For where ye do these things, ye shall not stumble.
11. And so shall be abundantly presented unto you the entrance into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour JESU Christ.
12. Therefore will I not cease always to remind you of these things, though ye know them, and be strengthened in the present truth.
13. For I count it expedient, while I am in this tabernacle, to awake and remind you.
14. For I know that I must soon cast off my tabernacle, as our Lord Jesus Christ hath also declared unto me.
15. But I will be diligent, that after I am departed ye may keep these things in remembrance.

(Epistle on the sixth Sunday after Epiphany.)

16. For we have not followed wise fables, when we made known unto you the power and the coming of our Lord JESUS Christ: but we have seen his glory for ourselves, 17. When he received glory and honour from God the Father by a voice which came to him of great glory: This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
18. And this voice have we heard brought down from heaven, when we were with him in the holy mount.
19. We have a sure word of prophecy; and ye do well to hearken unto it, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the morning star arise in your hearts.
20. And this ye ought to know for the first, that no prophecy in the scripture is of your own interpretation;
21. For no prophecy has ever been produced by human will; but the holy men of God have spoken, impelled by the Holy Spirit].

(2 Peter)

Chapter 2

Of false teachers, their punishment, and seductive change.

1. And there were also false prophets among the people, as there shall be false teachers among you, which shall bring in corrupt sects, and shall deny the Lord that bought them, and shall bring upon themselves swift condemnation.

2. And many shall follow their destruction: by whom shall the way of truth be blasphemed.

3. And by covetousness with fancied words shall they deal with you: of whom the judgment of long time is not tardy, and their condemnation doth not sleep.

4. For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them out into hell with chains of darkness, and delivered them up to be judged;

5. And spared not the former world, but preserved Noah the preacher of righteousness, and delivered and brought the flood upon the world of the wicked;

6. And hath reduced the cities of Sodom and Gornorrah to ashes, and turned them back, and condemned them, to set an example unto the wicked that should come after; 7. And hath redeemed righteous Lot, to whom the wicked men did all the harm with their lewdness;

8. For while he was righteous, and dwelt among them, to see and to hear, they tormented the righteous soul from day to day with their unrighteous works.

9. The LORD knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, but to keep the unrighteous unto the day of judgment, to chastise them;

10. But most of all they that walk after the flesh in unclean lusts, and despise the kingdom, being foolish, stubborn, not trembling to blaspheme the majesties, 11. If the angels, which have greater strength and might, endure not the blasphemous judgment against them from the LORD.

12. But they are like the unreasoning beasts, which are born by nature to be caught and slain, blaspheming, knowing nothing of it, and shall perish in their corruptible nature 13. And bring away the reward of iniquity. They take pleasure in temporal pleasures; they are a disgrace and a vice; they eat of your alms, they eat of yours,

14. Have eyes full of adultery, do not let sin hinder them, lure to themselves the frivolous souls, have a heart cunning with avarice, accursed people,

15. Forsaking the right way, and going astray, and following in the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, to whom beloved is the reward of iniquity,

16. And he had a punishment of his transgression, because the dumb beast of burden spake with the voice of man, and rebuked the prophet's folly.

17. These are fountains without water, and clouds compassed about with the whirlwind: for whom to keep is darkness for ever.

18. For they speak proud words, when there is nothing behind, and provoke by fornication to carnal lusts them that were rightly escaped, and now walk in error, 19. Promising them liberty, if they themselves be servants of destruction. For of whom a man is overcome, of him is he become the servant.

20. For if they have escaped the filth of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour JESUS CHRIST, and are again plunged into it, and overcome, the latter things are worse with them than the former.

21. For it were better for them that they had not known the way of righteousness, than that they had known it, and turned away from the holy commandment which was given them.

22. There hath befallen them the true saying, The dog eateth again, what he has fed, and: The sow rolls again in the excrement after the glut.

(2 Peter)

Chapter 3

Of the last times, Christ's future, and worthy readiness for it.

1. This is the other epistle which I write unto you, beloved, in which I awake and remind you of your lukewarm mind,

2. That ye may remember the words which were spoken unto you of old by the holy prophets, and our commandment, which are the apostles of the Lord and Saviour.

(Epistle on the twenty-sixth Sunday after Trinitatis.)

3. And know this first, that in the last days there shall come scoffers, walking after their own lusts.

4. Saying, Where is the promise of his future? For after the fathers are passed away, all things remain as they were from the beginning of the creature.

5. But willingly they will not know that the heavens also were of old, and that the earth was of water, and that it consisted in water by the word of God.

6. Nevertheless at that time the world was destroyed by them with the flood. - ·

7. So also the heavens now and the earth are spared by his word, to be kept for fire in the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8. But be it known unto you, beloved, that in the sight of the LORD one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

9. The LORD delayeth not the promise, as some count a delay: but hath patience with us, not willing that any should perish, but that every man should repent.

10. And the day of the LORD shall come as a thief of the night, in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, and the earth shall melt with fervent heat. and the works that are inside will burn.

11. If then all these things shall pass away, how then shall ye be skillful in holy walk and godliness?

12. That ye wait and make haste for the future of the day of the LORD, in the which the heavens shall be dissolved with fire, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat.

13. But we wait for new heavens and a new earth, according to his promise, in which righteousness dwelleth.

14. Wherefore, beloved, as ye ought to wait for this, be diligent that ye may be found undefiled before him, and blameless in peace].

15. And the patience of our Lord respect unto your salvation: as also our dear brother Paul wrote unto you according to the wisdom that was given unto him.

16. As he also saith in all his epistles, wherein are some things hard to be understood, which confound the unlearned and the reckless, as also the other scriptures unto their own damnation.

17. But ye, beloved, knowing these things beforehand, take heed lest ye be deceived with them through the error of wicked men, and escape out of your own stronghold.

18. But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory now and for evermore. Amen.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The first letter of John (1 John) ^

Chapter 1

Of Christ's person, His revealed word, and true repentance.

(Epistle on the third day of Christmas.)

1. Which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have beheld, and our hands have touched, of the word of life.
2. (and the life appeared, and we have seen, and testify, and declare unto you the life that is eternal, which was with the Father, and appeared unto us);
3. What we have seen and heard we declare unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and that our fellowship may be with the Father, and with the Son, JESUS CHRIST.
4. And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.
5. And this is the proclamation which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that GOD is a light, and in him is no darkness.
6. If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, so we lie and do not do the truth.
7. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another: and the blood of JESU Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.
8. If we say, we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.
9. But if we confess our sin, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sin, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.
10. If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us:]

(1 John)

Chapter 2

Of Christianity's reason, characteristics, content, enemies, and preservation.

1. Little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, who is righteous.
2. And the same is the propitiation for our sin, and not for our sin only, but also for those of the whole world.

3. And by this we know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.
4. He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar; and in such there is no truth.
5. But he that keepeth his word, in him truly is the love of God made perfect. By this we know that we are in him.
6. He that saith he abideth in him shall walk even as he walked.
7. Brethren, I write not unto you a new commandment, but the old commandment, which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.
8. Again, a new commandment write I unto you, which is true of him, and of you: for the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.
9. He that saith he is in the light, and hate his brother, who is still in eclipse.
10. He that loveth his brother abideth in light, and is no offence to him.
11. But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth: for darkness hath blinded his eyes.
12. Little children, I write unto you, that sins may be forgiven you through his name.
13. I write unto you fathers: for ye know him that is from the beginning. I write unto you young men; for ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you children, because ye know the Father.
14. I have written unto you fathers, that ye might know him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you young men, that ye should be strong, and that the word of God should abide with you, and that ye should overcome the wicked.
15. Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, , the love of the Father is not in him.
16. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.
17. And the world perisheth with the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.
18. Children, it is the last hour: and as ye have heard that the antichrist is come, and now are become many antichrists; therefore we know that it is the last hour.

19. They came out from us, but they were not of us. For if they had been of us, they would have remained with us: but baptize them, that they be not all of us.
20. And ye have the anointing of him that is holy; and know all things.
21. I wrote not unto you, as though ye knew not the truth; but ye know it, and know that no lie cometh of the truth.
22. Who is a liar, except he deny that Jesus is the Christ? This is the antichrist, which denieth the Father and the Son.
23. He that denieth the Son hath not the Father.
24. That therefore which ye have heard from the beginning abide with you. If that which ye have heard from the beginning abide with you, ye shall abide with the Son and with the Father.
25. And this is the promise which he hath promised us: eternal life.
26. These things have I written unto you of them that deceive you.
27. And the anointing which ye have received of him abideth with you, and suffer not any man to teach you: but as the anointing teacheth you all things, it is true, and is no lie: and as it hath taught you, abide in the same.
28. And now, little children, abide with him, that, when he shall be revealed, we may have joy, and not to be ashamed before him in his coming.
29. If ye know that he is righteous, know ye also that he that doeth righteousness is born of him.

(1 John)

Chapter 3

Of true Christians glory, attributes, cross and consolation.

1. Behold, what manner of love the Father hath shewed unto us, that we should be called the children of God. Therefore the world knoweth you not, because it knoweth him not.
2. Beloved, we are now God's children, and what we shall be has not yet appeared. But we know, when it shall appear, that we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.
3. And every one that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.
4. Whosoever committeth sin committeth iniquity: and sin is iniquity.
5. And ye know that he hath appeared to take away our sins; and there is no sin in him.

6. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not; He that sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7. Little children, let no man deceive you. He that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8. He that committeth sin is of the devil: for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God appeared, that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9. Whosoever is born of GOD doth not sin: for his seed abideth with him, and cannot sin: for he is born of GOD.

10. By this it is evident which are the children of God, and which are the children of the devil.

He who does not do right is not of God, and he who does not love his brother.

11. For this is the message which ye have heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.

12. Not as Cain, which was of the wicked, and slew his brother. And why slew he him? Because his works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

(Epistle on the Second Sunday after Trinity)

13. Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

14. We know that we are passed from death unto life: for we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.

15. He that hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that a murderer hath not eternal life abiding with him.

16. By this we have known love, that he laid down his life for us: and we ought also to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17. But if a man have goods of this world, and see his brother brought low, and shut up his heart against him, how abideth the love of God in him?

18. My little children, let us not love in word, nor in tongue, but in deed and in truth].

19. By this we know that we are of the truth, and can still our hearts before him, 20. That if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21. Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, we have joy unto God;

22. And whatsoever we ask, we will take of him: for we keep his commandments, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

23. And this is his commandment, that we believe on the name of his Son JESUS Christ, and love one another, as he hath commanded us.

24. And he that keepeth his commandments abideth in him, and he in him. And by this we know that he abideth in us: in the spirit he has given us.

(1 John)

Chapter 4

Of testing false teachers and exercising love toward God and neighbor.

1. Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they be of God: for many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2. By this ye shall know the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God;

3. And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God. And this is the spirit of antichrist, of which ye have heard that it shall come, and is now already in the world.

4. Little children, ye are of God, and have overcome them: for he that is in you is greater than he that is in the world.

5. They are of the world: therefore they speak of the world, and the world heareth them.

6. We are of God, and he that knoweth God heareth us: he that is not of God heareth us not. By this we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7. Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God: and he that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8. He that loveth not knoweth not God: for God is love:

9. In this was manifested the love of God toward us, that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we should live through him.

10. In this is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

11. Beloved, if God so loved us, let us also love one another.

No one has ever seen God. If we love one another, God abides in us, and His love is fully in us.

13. By this we know that we abide in him, and he in us, that he hath given us of his Spirit.

14. And we have seen and do witness that the Father hath sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15. Whosoever therefore shall confess that JESUS is the Son of GOD, in him abideth GOD, and he in GOD.

16. And we have known and believed the love that God has for us.

(Epistle on the first Sunday after Trinity.)

God is love; and he who abides in love abides in God, and God in him.

17. Wherefore love is perfect with us, that we may have joy in the day of judgment: for as he is, so are we in this world.

18. Fear is not in love: but perfect love casteth out fear: for fear hath torment. But he that feareth is not perfect in love.

19. Let us love him: for he hath loved us first.

20. If any man say, I love God, and hate his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he beholdeth, how can he love God whom he beholdeth not?

21. And this commandment have we from him, that he that loveth God love his brother also].

(1 John)

Chapter 5

Of the right faith, the power thereof, the fruit thereof, and the quality thereof.

1. Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God. And whosoever loveth him that begat him loveth him also that is born of him.

2. By this we know that we love God's children when we love God and keep His commandments.

3. For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.

(Epistle on the first Sunday after Easter, Quasimodogeniti.)

4. For whatsoever is born of GOD overcometh the world: and our faith is the victory that overcometh the world.

5. But who is he that overcometh the world, except he believe that JESUS is the Son of GOD?

6. This is he that cometh with water and blood, Jesus Christ; not with water only, but with water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness that the Spirit is truth.

7. For there are three that beget in heaven; the Father, and the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.

8. And there are three that beget in the earth, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and the three are joined together.

9. If we receive the testimony of men, the testimony of God is greater: for the testimony of God is that which he hath begotten of his Son.

10. He that believeth on the Son of God hath such a testimony with him. He that believeth not God maketh him a liar: for he believeth not the testimony which God beareth of his Son].

11. And this is the testimony, that God hath given us eternal life; and such life is in his Son.

12. He who has the Son of God has life; he who does not have the Son of God does not have life.

13. These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14. And this is the joy that we have in him, that if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us.

15. And if we know that he heareth us what we ask, we know that we have the petitions which we asked of him.

16. If any man see his brother sin, a sin not unto death, let him ask; and he shall give life unto them that sin not unto death. It is a sin unto death: for this I say not, that any man pray.

17. All unrighteousness is sin: and some sin is not unto death.

18. We know that he that is born of God sinneth not: but he that is born of God keepeth himself, and the wicked shall not touch him.

19. We know that we are of GOD; and the whole world is in trouble.

20. But we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us a purpose, that we should know him that is true, and be in him that is true, even in his Son JESUS CHRIST. He is the true God and the eternal life.

21. Little children, beware of idols! Amen.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The second letter of John (2 John) ^

Mirror of a godly woman.

1. The elder: to the chosen woman and her children, whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all who have known the truth,
2. For the truth's sake, which abideth in us, and shall be with us for ever.
3. Grace, mercy, peace, from God the Father and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and in love, be with you.
4. I am very glad that I have found among thy children them that walk in the truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.
5. And now I beseech thee, woman (not as a new commandment I write unto thee, but which we have had from the beginning), that we love one another.
6. And this is love, that we walk after his commandment. This is the commandment, as ye have heard from the beginning, that ye should walk therein.
7. For many deceivers are come into the world, which confess not Jesus Christ, that he is come in the flesh. This is the deceiver and the antichrist.
8. Take heed that we lose not that which we have earned, but that we receive a full reward.
9. Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath no God: but he that abideth in the doctrine of Christ hath both the Father and the Son.
10. If any man come to you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not at home, neither salute him.
11. For he that saluteth him maketh himself partaker of his evil works.
12. I had much to write unto you, but I would not write with letters and ink, but I hope to come and speak unto you by word of mouth, that our joy may be full.
13. The children of your sister, the chosen one, greet you. Amen.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The third letter of John (3 John) ^

In Praise of Hospitality.

1. The elder: Gaius the beloved, whom I love in truth.
2. My beloved, I desire in all things that thou mayest prosper, and be in health, as thy soul prospereth.

3. And I am glad, because the brethren came and testified of thy truth, how that thou walkest in the truth.
4. I have no greater joy than to hear my children walk in the truth.
5. My beloved, you do faithfully what you do to the brothers and guests,
6. Which have testified of thy love before the congregation: and thou hast done well to present them worthy in the sight of God.
7. For his name's sake they went forth, and took nothing of the Gentiles.
8. Let us therefore receive such things, that we may be the helpers of the truth.
9. I have written unto the church: but Diotrophes, who would be exalted among them, receiveth us not.
10. Therefore when I come, I will remind him of his works which he doeth, and speaketh evil words against us, and is not satisfied with them. He himself receiveth not the brethren, and rejecteth them that would do it, and castteth them out of the church.
11. My beloved, do not follow after evil, but after good! He who does good is of God; he who does evil does not see God.
12. Demetrius hath testimony of every man, and of the truth itself: and we also testify, and ye know that our testimony is true.
13. I had much to write; but I didn't want to write to you in pen and ink.
14. But I hope to see you soon, so let us talk orally. Peace be with you! Friends greet you. Greet the friends by name.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Letter of Judas (Jude) ^

Exhortation to persevere in pure doctrine and life against deceivers.

1. Judas, a servant of JESUS Christ, but a brother to James: to them that are called, who are sanctified in GOD the Father, and kept in JESUS Christ.
2. may God grant you much mercy and peace and love!
3. Beloved, having intended to write unto you concerning the salvation of us all, I thought it necessary to exhort you with scriptures, that ye should contend for the faith which was once given unto the saints.

4. For there are some men crept in beside them, of whom it is written aforetime, to such a punishment; who are ungodly, and take the grace of our God in vain, and deny God, and our Lord JESUS CHRIST, the only Ruler.
5. But I will remind you, that ye know this at once, that the LORD, when he delivered the people out of Egypt, at the second time destroyed they which believed not.
6. Angels also, which kept not their principality, but left their habitation, he hath kept unto the judgment of the great day with everlasting bands of darkness.
7. As Sodom and Gomorrah, and the cities round about them, which went out after the same manner as these, and went after another flesh, are set for an ensample, and suffer everlasting punishment.
8. Of the same kind are these dreamers, who defile the flesh, but despise the rulers, and blaspheme the majesties.
9. But the archangel, when he had quarreled with the devil, and talked with him concerning the body of Moses, could not pronounce the sentence of blasphemy, but said, The LORD chastise thee.
10. But these blaspheme, because they know not any thing: but what they know naturally, therein they corrupt, as the unreasoning beasts.
11. Woe unto them! for they go in the way of Cain, and fall into the error of Balaam for the sake of pleasure, and perish in the rebellion of Korah.
12. These unfaithful ones pluck of your alms without timidity, feeding themselves; they are clouds without water, driven about by the wind, bare, barren trees, twice dead and rooted up, 13. wild waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame, erroneous stars, to whom is kept the darkness of darkness for ever.
14. And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, foretold of these, saying, Behold, the LORD cometh with many thousands of saints,
15. To execute judgment upon all, and to punish all their ungodly for all the works of their ungodly doings, that they have been ungodly, and for all the hard things which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16. These murmur and complain continually, they that walk after their lusts; and their mouth speaketh proud words, and esteemeth the person for gain.
17. But ye, beloved, remember the words which were spoken aforetime by the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ,
18. Saying unto you, That in the latter days there shall be scoffers, walking after their own lusts of ungodliness.
19. These are they that make the multitude, carnal, which have no spirit.
20. But ye, beloved, building up yourselves upon your most holy faith through the Holy Ghost, pray
21. And keep yourselves in the love of God, waiting for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto life eternal.
22. And keep this difference, that ye may have mercy on some,
23. But save some with fear, and bring them out of the fire; and hate the stained garment of the flesh.
24. But to him that is able to keep you without blemish, and to set you before the face of his glory blameless with joy;
25. To God, who alone is wise, our Savior, be glory and majesty and power and might, now and forever. Amen.

Text of the unrevised Luther Bible 1545:

DeepL English Translation

[Processed by BackToLuther. German text published here.]

The Revelation of John ^

Chapter 1

Mystery of the seven candlesticks and stars.

1. This is the revelation of JESUS Christ, which GOD gave him to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and hath interpreted it, and sent it by his angel unto his servant John,
2. Who hath testified of the word of GOD, and of the testimony of JESUS CHRIST, which he hath seen.
3. Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.
4. John unto the seven churches which are in Asia, Grace be unto you, and peace, from him that is, and that was, and that is to come, and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne, 5. And of JESUS Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the firstborn from the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth, who loved us, and washed us from sins in his blood.

6. And hath made us kings and priests before God and his Father: unto him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7. Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they that pricked him; and all kindreds of the earth shall wail. Yea, Amen.

8. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the LORD that is, and that was, and that is to come, the Almighty.

9. I John, who also am your brother and fellow-sufferer in the tribulation, and in the kingdom, and in the patience of JEsu Christ, was in the isle which is called Patmos, for the word of GOD, and for the testimony of JEsu Christ.

10. I was in the spirit in the day of the LORD, and heard behind me a great voice as of a trumpet, 11. Which said: I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last: and what thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the churches of Asia, to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.

12. And I turned to see the voice that talked with me. And when I turned, I saw seven candlesticks of gold.

13. And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the son of man, clothed in a vesture, and girded about the breast with a golden girdle.

14. And his head and his hair were white as white wool, as the snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire.

15. And his feet were as brass burning in a furnace, and his voice as the sound of great waters; 16. And he had seven stars in his right hand, and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword, and his face shone as the bright sun.

17. And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as one dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, and said unto me, Fear not. I am the first and the last

18. And the living. I was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, and have the keys of hell and of death.

19. Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall come to pass hereafter,

20. The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven candlesticks of gold. The seven stars are angels of the seven churches, and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are seven churches.

(Revelation)

Chapter 2

Four epistles warning against false teaching and exhorting to constancy.

1. And unto the angel of the church which is in Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven candlesticks of gold: 2. I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and that thou canst not bear the wicked, and hast tried them that say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars, 3. And bear, and have patience; and for my name's sake labour, and be not weary.

4. But I am against thee, because thou hast trusted in the first love.

5. Remember that from which thou hast fallen, and repent, and do the first works. But if not, I will come unto thee quickly, and will cast away thy candlestick out of his place, where thou hast not repented.

6. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.

7. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the wood of life which is in the paradise of God.

8. And unto the angel of the church which is in Smyrna write; These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive:

9. I know thy works, and thy afflictions, and thy poverty, (but thou art rich,) and the blasphemy of them that say they are Jews, and are not, but are the school of Satan.

10. Be not afraid of any that thou shalt suffer. Behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried: and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee the crown of life.

11. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh there shall be no hurt from another death.

12. And unto the angel of the church which is in Pergamos write; Say ye this, that he hath a sharp two-edged sword:

13. I know what thou doest, and where thou dwellest, where Satan's throne is, and holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in the days wherein Antipas my faithful witness is slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14. But I have a small matter against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, which taught Balak to make a nuisance in the sight of the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

15. So you also have those who hold to the doctrine of the Nicolaitans. I hate that.

16. Repent: but if not, I will come unto thee quickly, and will have war with them by the sword of my mouth.

17. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a good testimony; and with the testimony a new name written, which no man knoweth, save he that receiveth it.

18. And unto the angel of the church that is in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, which hath eyes like unto the flame of fire, and his feet like unto brass: 19. I know thy works, and thy love, and thy service, and thy faith, and thy patience, and that the longer thou doest the more.

20. But I have a small matter against thee, that thou sufferest the woman Jezebel, which saith she is a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants, and to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21. And I gave her time to repent of her fornication; and she repenteth not.

22. Behold, I cast her into a bed, and them that have committed adultery with her into great tribulation, where they repent not of their works.

23. And their children will I smite to death. And all the churches shall know that I am he that searcheth the kidneys and hearts, and will give to every one of you according to your works.

24. But unto you I say, and to the rest that are at Thyatira, which have not such doctrine, and have not known the depths of Satan, I will not cast upon you another burden.

25. But that which ye have, keep until I come.

26. And whosoever overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the heathen.

27. And he shall feed them with a rod of iron, and like a potter's vessel shall he break them, 28. As I have received of my Father, and will give him the morning star.

29. He who has ears, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches! (Revelation

Chapter 3

Three epistles that contain a warning against hypocrisy, indifference and carelessness concerning Christianity.

1. And unto the angel of the church which is in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works: for thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

2. Be valiant, and strengthen the other that will die: for I have not found thy works perfect in the sight of God.

3. Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and keep it, and repent. If thou wilt not watch, I will come upon thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4. Thou hast also few names in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments: and they shall walk with me in white raiment; for they are worthy.

5. He that overcometh shall be clothed in white raiment, and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6. he who has ears, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches!

7. And unto the angel of the church which is in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth, he that shutteth, and no man openeth:

8. I know thy works. Behold, I have given before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast small strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9. Behold, I will give out of the school of Satan them that say they are Jews, and are not, but lie.

Behold, I will make them to come and worship at thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I will also keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

11. Behold, I come quickly! Hold fast that which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.

12. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out. And I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the new Jerusalem, the city of my God, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and my name the new.

13. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14. And unto the angel of the church at Laodicea write; These things saith Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creature of God:

15. I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot. Oh that thou wert cold or hot!

16. But because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17. Thou sayest, I am rich, and full, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.

18. I counsel thee to buy of me gold refined with fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness be not revealed: and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

19. Whom I love I punish and chasten. Be diligent therefore, and do penance.

20. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock. If any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will make supper with him, and he with me.

21. To him that overcometh will I give to sit with me in my throne: as I overcame, and sat with my Father in his throne.

22. He who has ears, let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches!

(Revelation)

Chapter 4

The second vision: from the throne of the Father's majesty and glory.

1. After these things I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven; and the first voice which I heard speak unto me as a trumpet, saying, Come up hither; I will shew thee things which must come to pass after these things.
2. And immediately I was in the spirit. And, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and there sat one upon the throne.
3. And he that sat was like unto the stone of jasper and sardis: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, like unto an emerald.
4. And round about the throne were twenty and four chairs: and upon the chairs sat twenty and four elders clothed in white raiment, having on their heads crowns of gold.
5. And out of the throne proceeded lightnings, and thunderings, and voices: and seven lamps of fire burned before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.
6. And before the throne was a sea of glass like unto crystal, and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, four beasts full of eyes, before and behind.
7. And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face like a man, and the fourth beast like a flying eagle.
8. And every one of the four beasts had six wings round about, and were full of eyes within: and they had no rest day or night, saying: Holy, holy, holy is the LORD God Almighty, who was, and who is, and who is to come.
9. And when the beasts gave glory and honour and thanks unto him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,
10. And the four and twenty elders fell down before him that sat on the throne, and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, and said: 11. O LORD, thou art worthy to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and by thy will they have the being and are created.

(Revelation)

Chapter 5

Christ, the Lion and the Lamb, who opens the sealed book, is praised with a new song.

1. And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and without, sealed with seven seals.

2. And I saw a strong angel preach with a loud voice: Who is worthy to open the book and to break its seals?

3. And no man in heaven, nor in earth, nor under the earth, was able to open the book, and to look therein.

4. And I wept greatly, because no man was found worthy to open the book, nor to read, nor to look therein.

5. And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not. Behold, the lion that is of the seed of Judah, the root of David, hath overcome to open the book, and to break the seven seals thereof.

6. And I looked, and, behold, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent into all the earth.

7. And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat on the throne.

8. And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and the four and twenty elders fell before the Lamb, having every man harps and golden vials full of incense, which are the prayers of the saints,

9. And they sang a new song, and said: Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou art slain, and hast bought us of God with thy blood out of all kindreds, and tongues, and people, and nations.

10. And have made us kings and priests unto our God, and we shall be kings in the earth.

11. And I saw and heard a voice of many angels round about the throne, and round about the beasts, and round about the elders; and their number was many thousand times a thousand.

12. And they said with a loud voice: The Lamb that is slain is worthy to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and praise.

13. And I heard every creature that is in heaven, and that is in earth, and that is under the earth, and that is in the sea, and all that is within, saying unto him that sat upon the throne, and unto the Lamb, Praise, and honour, and glory, and power, for ever and ever.

14. And the four beasts said: Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down, and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

(Revelation)

Chapter 6

Opening six different seals.

1. And I saw the Lamb of the seals open one. And I heard one of the four beasts say, as with a voice of thunder, Come and see.

2. And I looked, and, behold, a white horse; and he that sat on him had a bow; and there was given unto him a crown: and he went forth to overcome, and to conquer.

3. And when he had opened the other seal, I heard the other beast say, Come and see.

4. And another horse came out, which was red: and it was given to him that sat on him to take peace from the earth, and to slay one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5. And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I looked, and, behold, a black horse; and he that sat on him had balances in his hand.

6. And I heard a voice among the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and do not harm the oil and the wine.

7. And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8. And, behold, I saw a pale horse, and he that sat on him, whose name was Death, and Hell followed after him. And power was given unto them to kill the fourth part of the earth with the sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

9. And when the fifth seal was opened, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of GOD, and for the testimony which they had.

10. And they cried with a loud voice, saying: O LORD, holy and true, how long wilt thou judge and not avenge our blood upon them that dwell upon the earth?

11. And to them was given every man a white robe: and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet a little season, until their fellowservants and their brethren should come in full, and be killed as they were.

12. And I saw the sixth seal opened; and, behold, there was a great earthquake, and the sun was black as sackcloth, and the moon was as blood.

13. And the stars of heaven fell to the earth, as a fig tree casteth her figs when she is moved by a great wind.

14. And the heaven departed as a wrapped book; and all the mountains and islands were moved out of their places.

15. And the kings of the earth, and the rulers, and the rich men, and the captains, and the mighty men, and all the bondmen, and all the free men, hid themselves in the clefts and in the rocks of the mountains.

16. And they said unto the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb;

17. For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?

(Revelation)

Chapter 7

Consolation of the church in her afflicted state.

1. And afterward I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that no wind should blow upon the earth, nor upon the sea, nor upon any tree.

(Epistle on the Day of All Saints.)

2. And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to destroy the earth and the sea.

3. And he said, Damage not the earth, nor the sea, nor the trees, until we seal the servants of our God in their foreheads].

4. And I heard the number of them that were sealed, an hundred and forty and four thousand, which were sealed of all the families of the children of Israel: 5. Of the family of Judah, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Turnab, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Gad, twelve thousand sealed;

6. Of the family of Asher, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Naphtali, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Manasseh, twelve thousand sealed;

7. Of the family of Simeon, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Levi, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Issachar, twelve thousand sealed;

8. Of the family of Zebulun, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Joseph, twelve thousand sealed; of the family of Benjamin, twelve thousand sealed.

9. After these things I looked, and, behold, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and people, and tongues, standing before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed in white robes, and palms in their hands,

10. Cried with a loud voice, saying: Hail to Him who sits on the throne, our God, and to the Lamb!

11. And all the angels stood round about the throne, and the elders, and the four beasts, and fell on their faces before the throne, and worshipped God.

12. And they said: Amen! Praise and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and praise and power and strength be to our God forever and ever! Amen.

13. And one of the elders answered and said unto me, Who are these that are clothed in white raiment, and whence came they?

14. And I said unto him, Lord, thou knowest. And he said unto me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15. Therefore they are before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple. And he that sitteth upon the throne shall dwell over them.

16. She shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun fall upon her, nor any heat.

17. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto the fountains of living waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

(Revelation)

Chapter 8

The third vision and opening of the seventh seal. The first, second, third and fourth trumpets.

1. And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.
2. And I saw seven angels which stood before God, and seven trumpets were given unto them.
3. And another angel came and stood by the altar, having a golden censer: and there was given unto him much incense, to offer for the prayer of all the saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.
4. And the smoke of the incense of the prayer of the saints went up from the hand of the angel before GOD.
5. And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire from the altar, and poured it upon the earth. And there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and earthquakes.
6. And the seven angels with the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.
7. And the first angel sounded. And there was hail and fire mingled with blood, and it fell upon the earth. And the third part of the trees was burned up, and all green grass was burned up.
8. And the other angel sounded. And it went down like a great mountain burning with fire into the sea. And the third part of the sea became blood,
9. And the third part of the living creatures of the sea died, and the third part of the ships were destroyed.
10. And the third angel sounded. And there fell a great star from heaven; and it burned as a torch, and fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters.
11. And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part was called Wormwood.
And many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.
12. And the fourth angel sounded. And the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars: and the third part of them was darkened, and the day the third part shone not, and the night the same.
13. And I saw and heard an angel fly in the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice: Woe, woe, woe to them that dwell on the earth, before the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels which are yet to sound!

(Revelation)

Chapter 9

The fifth and sixth trombones.

1. And the fifth angel sounded. And I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth; and there was given unto him the key of the bottomless pit.

2. And he opened the bottomless pit. And there arose a smoke out of the well, as the smoke of a great furnace: and the sun was darkened, and the air with the smoke of the well.

3. And out of the smoke came locusts upon the earth. And power was given unto them, as the scorpions have power upon the earth.

4. And it was said unto them, that they should not offend the grass of the earth, nor any green thing, nor any tree; but only men, which have not the seal of God upon their foreheads.

5. And it was given them not to kill, but to torment for five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when it smote a man.

6. And in those days men shall seek death, and shall not find it: they shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7. And the locusts are like unto horses ready for war; and upon their heads like crowns of gold, and their faces like the faces of men.

8. And they had hair like the hair of a woman, and their teeth were like the teeth of lions.

9. And had armour like unto armour of iron; and the rattle of their wings like unto the rattle of the chariots of many horses that run to war.

10. And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were thorns in their tails: and their power was to offend men five months.

11. And they had over them a king, an angel out of the bottomless pit, whose name is Abaddon in the ibraean language, and in the greek language his name is Apollyon.

12. One woe is past; behold, there come two woes after.

13. And the sixth angel sounded. And I heard a voice from the four corners of the golden altar before God,

14. Which said unto the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound at the great river Euphrates.

15. And the four angels were loosed, prepared for an hour, and for a day, and for a month, and for a year, to slay the third part of men.

16. And the number of the brave men was many thousand times a thousand: and I heard the number of them.

17. And so I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of yellow, and of brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouth proceeded fire, and smoke, and brimstone.

18. Of these three the third part of men was killed by fire, and by smoke, and by brimstone, which proceeded out of their mouths.

19. For their power was in their mouth, and their tails were like unto serpents, and they had heads, and with the same they did hurt.

20. And there remained yet men that were not slain of these plagues, neither Repenting of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and wood, which can neither see, nor hear, nor walk, 21. Neither repented they of their murders, and of their sorceries, and of their fornications, and of their thievery.

(Revelation)

Chapter 10

John is devouring a book.

1. And I saw another strong angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud, and a rainbow upon his head, and his face as the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire.

2. And he had a little book opened in his hand; and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot upon the earth.

3. And he cried with a loud voice, as a lion roareth: and as he cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.

4. And when the seven thunders had spoken their voices, I would have written them. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up the things which the seven thunders have spoken: write them not.

5. And the angel which I saw standing on the sea and on the earth lifted up his hand to heaven.

6. And swore by him that liveth for ever and ever, which created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things that therein are, that there should be no more time,

7. But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall sound, the mystery of God shall be finished, as he hath declared to his servants and prophets.

8. And again I heard a voice from heaven speaking unto me, saying, Go, take the open book of the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9. And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take thee up, and swallow it: and it shall be bitter in thy belly, but in thy mouth it shall be sweet as honey;

10. And I took the little book from the angel's hand, and swallowed it: and it was sweet in my mouth as honey: and when I had eaten it, it grieved me in my belly.

11. And he said unto me, Prophesy again unto the nations, and to the Gentiles, and to the tongues, and to many kings.

Ch. 11, v. 1: And there was given me a reed like unto a rod, saying, Arise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2. But the inner choir of the temple cast out, and miss it not: for it is given unto the heathen: and they shall tread down the holy city forty and two months.

(Revelation)

Chapter 11

Of two witnesses, their office and condition.

3. And I will give my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed with sackcloth.

4. These are two olive trees, and two torches, standing before the God of the earth.

5. And if any man offend them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man offend them, he shall be put to death.

6. These have power to shut up the heavens, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy; and have power over the waters to walk in blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7. And when they have finished their testimony, the beast that cometh up out of the bottomless pit shall make war with them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8. And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which is spiritually called Sodom, and Egypt, where our Lord is crucified.

9. And some of the nations, and kindreds, and tongues, shall see their dead bodies three days and an half: and they shall not leave their dead bodies in graves.

10. And they that dwell on the earth shall rejoice over them, and be glad, and send gifts one to another: for these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11. And after three days and an half there came into them the Spirit of life from God, and they stood upon their feet. And great fear fell upon them when they saw.

12. And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up into heaven in a cloud: and they saw their enemies.

13. And in that hour there was a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and seven thousand names of men were killed in the earthquake: and the rest were afraid, and gave glory unto the God of heaven.

14. The second woe is past; behold, the third woe cometh quickly!
(Revelation)

Chapter 12

The seventh trumpet. The fourth vision: of the battle. Michael against the dragon.

15. And the seventh angel sounded. And there were great voices in heaven, saying: The kingdoms of the world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ: and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16. And the four and twenty elders that sat in their seats before GOD fell upon their faces, and worshipped GOD.

17. And they said: We thank thee, O LORD God Almighty, which art, and hast been, and ever shall be, that thou hast received thy great power, and hast reigned.

18. And the heathen were wroth, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, to judge, and to give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and to them that fear thy name, small and great, and to destroy them which destroy the earth.

19. And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and the ark of his testament was seen in his temple: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and earthquakes, and great hail.

Ch. 12, v. 1: And there appeared a great sign in heaven, a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars.

2. And she was with child, and cried, and was in childbearing, and had great anguish in childbirth.

3. And there appeared another sign in heaven; and, behold, a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his heads seven crowns.

4. And his tail drew the third part of the stars, and cast them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman that was to bear, that, when she had born, he might devour her child.

5. And she bare a son, a babe, which should feed all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6. And the woman fled into the wilderness, having a place prepared of God, that she should be nourished there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

(Epistle on Michaelmas.)

7. And there was a controversy in heaven: Michael and his angels fought with the dragon. And the dragon strove, and his angels

8. And they prevailed not: neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9. And there was cast out a great dragon, a serpent clovenfooted, which is called the devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: and he was cast out into the earth; and his angels also were cast out thither.

10. And I heard a great voice saying in heaven, Now is salvation, and strength, and the kingdom, and the power of our God, his Christ, come to pass; because the accuser of our brethren is cast out, which accuseth them before God day and night.

11. And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony: and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12. Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell therein:] Woe unto them that dwell on the earth, and on the sea: for the devil cometh down unto you, having great wrath, and knowing that he hath but a short time.

13. And when the dragon saw that he was cast down to the earth, he persecuted the woman which bare the babe.

14. And there were given unto the woman two wings, as of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness unto her place, to feed her for a time, and for two times, and for half a time, before the face of the serpent.

15. And the serpent shot out of the woman's mouth waters like a river, and drowned her.

16. But the earth helped the woman, and opened her mouth, and swallowed up the river which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17. And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to fight with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

(Revelation)

Chapter 13

Of the seven-headed beast of blasphemy and two-headed beast of seduction.

18. And I stood upon the sand of the sea.

Ch. 13, v. 1: And he saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.

2. And the beast that I saw was like a leopard, and his feet were the feet of a bear, and his mouth the mouth of a lion. And the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.

3. And I saw one of his heads as it were deadly sore: and his deadly wound was healed. And all the earth marvelled at the beast.

4. And they worshipped the dragon that gave power unto the beast, and worshipped the beast, saying: Who is like unto the beast? and who can war with him?

5. And there was given unto him a mouth to speak great things and blasphemies: and it was given unto him to continue with him forty and two months.

6. And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7. And it was given unto him to contend with the saints, and to overcome them. And power was given unto him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.
8. And all that dwell on the earth worship him, whose names are not written in the living book of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.
9. if anyone has ears, let him hear!
10. If a man lead into prison, he shall go into prison: if a man kill with the sword, he shall be put to death with the sword. Here is the patience and faith of the saints.
11. And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth, having two horns like unto the lamb, and speaking as the dragon.
12. And he doeth all the power of the first beast before him: and he maketh the earth, and them that dwell therein, to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.
13. And shew great signs, that he also maketh fire come down from heaven in the sight of men: 14. And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth to do signs in the sight of the beast, because of the signs which are given him: and saith unto them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound of the sword, and came to life.
15. And it was given unto him to give the spirit to the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should speak; and to make them that worshipped not the image of the beast to be destroyed.
16. And made all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads,
17. That no man might buy or sell, except he had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.
18. Here is wisdom Let him that hath understanding consider the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man, and his number is six hundred threescore and six.

(Revelation)

Chapter 14

Of the Church Reformation by the Gospel and the Fall of Spiritual Babel.

1. And I saw a Lamb standing on mount Zion, and with him an hundred and forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2. And I heard a voice from heaven as of a great water, and as the voice of a great thunder: and the voice that I heard was as of harpers playing upon their harps.

3. And they sang as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and before the elders: and no man could learn the song, save the hundred and forty and four thousand that were bought of the earth.

4. These are they which are not defiled with women: for they are virgins, and follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These are bought of men for the firstfruits of God and of the Lamb.

5. And in their mouth is no falsehood found: for they are blameless before the throne of God.

(Epistle on the commemoration day of the Reformation.)

6. And I saw an angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that sit and dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people;

7. And said with a loud voice: Fear God and give Him glory, for the time of His judgment has come; and worship Him who made heaven and earth and the sea and the fountains of waters].

8. And another angel followed, saying, She is fallen, she is fallen, Babylon the great city: for she hath made all nations drink of the wine of her fornication.

9. And the third angel followed him, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast, and his image, and receive the mark in his forehead, or in his hand, 10. He shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out and made pure in the cup of his wrath: and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone before the holy angels, and before the Lamb.

11. And the smoke of their torment shall ascend for ever and ever: and they shall have no rest day nor night, who have worshipped the beast and his image, and have received the mark of his name.

12. Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13. And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the LORD from henceforth. Yea, the Spirit saith, that they may rest from their labour: for their works follow them.

14. And I saw, and, behold, a white cloud, and sitting upon the cloud a man like unto the Son of man, having a crown of gold upon his head, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15. And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice unto him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come to reap: for the harvest of the earth is become dry.

16. And he that sat on the cloud smote the earth with his sickle, and the earth was reaped.

17. And another angel went out of the temple which is in heaven, having a sharp sickle.

18. And another angel came out of the altar, having power over fire, and cried with a loud cry unto him that had the sharp hoof, saying, Smite with thy sharp hoof, and cut the grapes of the earth: for their berries are ripe.

19. And the angel smote the earth with his hoof, and cut down the branches of the earth, and cast them into the great winepress of the wrath of God.

20. And the winepress was pressed without the city: and the blood went out of the winepress unto the bridles of the horses a thousand six hundred furlongs.

(Revelation)

Chapter 15

The fifth vision: of the seven last plagues and the believers' song of praise.

1. And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues: for with them the wrath of God is finished.

2. And he saw a sea of glass mingled with fire; and they that had the victory in the beast, and in his image, and in his mark, and in the number of his name, stood by the sea of glass, having the harps of God.

3. And they sang the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying: Great and marvelous are thy works, O LORD God Almighty: just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.

4. Who shall not fear thee, O LORD, and praise thy name? For thou alone art holy. For all nations shall come and worship before thee: for thy judgments are revealed.
 5. After these things I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened.
 6. And out of the temple went the seven angels which had the seven plagues, clothed in clean linen, and girded in their breasts with golden girdles.
 7. And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, which liveth for ever and ever.
 8. And the temple was filled with smoke for the glory of God, and for his power: and no man could enter into the temple, until the seven plagues of the seven angels were finished.
- (Revelation)

Chapter 16

The bowls of divine wrath are poured out by the seven angels.

1. And I heard a great voice out of the temple, saying unto the seven angels: Go ye, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.
2. And the first went and poured out his vial upon the earth. And there was a wicked and evil gland in them that had the mark of the beast, and that worshipped his image.
3. And the other angel poured out his vial into the sea. And there was blood, as of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.
4. And the third angel poured out his vial into the rivers of water, and into the fountains of waters. And there was blood.
5. And I heard the angel say, Lord, thou art righteous, which art, and which was, and holy, that thou hast judged these things.
6. For they have shed the blood of the saints and of the prophets, and blood hast thou given them to drink: for they are worthy.
7. And I heard another angel out of the altar say, Yea, Lord God Almighty, thy judgments are true and righteous.
8. And the fourth angel poured out his vial into the sun, and it was given unto him to make man hot with fire.

9. And men were hot with great heat, and blasphemed the name of GOD, which hath power over these plagues; and repented not to give him glory.
10. And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the throne of the beast. And his kingdom was darkened; and they gnawed their tongues for pain.
11. And blasphemed God in heaven for their pains, and for their glands; and repented not of their works.
12. And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the waters dried up, that the way might be prepared for the kings from the rising of the sun.
13. And I saw out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet, three unclean spirits like unto frogs.
14. And there are spirits of devils, which do signs, and go forth unto the kings of the earth, and to all the world, to gather them together to battle for that great day of God Almighty.
15. Behold, I come as a thief! Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and his shame be seen.
16. And he gathered them together unto a place which is called in the Hebrew Armageddon.
17. And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air. And there went out a voice from heaven out of the throne, saying, It is done.
18. And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so great an earthquake.
19. And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the heathen fell. And Babylon the great was remembered before God, to give her the cup of wine of his fierce anger.
20. And all the isles fled away, and no mountains were found.
21. And a great hail of a talent fell from heaven upon men. And men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for his plague is very great.
- (Revelation)

The sixth face: description of the antichristian kingdom under the image of a great harlot.

1. And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, and said unto me, Come, and I will shew thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters,
2. With whom the kings of the earth, and they that dwell on the earth, have been drunken with the wine of their fornication.
3. And he brought me in the spirit into the wilderness. And I saw the woman sitting upon a beast of a scarlet colour, full of the name of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.
4. And the woman was clothed in scarlet and scarlet, and overlaid with gold, and precious stones, and pearls, and had a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication;
5. And in her forehead was written the name, the mystery, Great Babylon, the mother of fornication, and of all the abominations of the earth.
6. And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the witnesses of JEsu. And I marvelled greatly when I saw her.
7. And the angel said unto me, Wherefore art thou astonished? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath seven heads and ten horns.
8. The beast which thou sawest was, and is not; and shall come again out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast, that he was, and is not, though he be.
9. And here is the sense where wisdom belongeth. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth, and are seven kings.
10. Five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must tarry a little while.
11. And the beast that was, and is not, is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.
12. And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have not yet received the kingdom; but as kings they shall receive power with the beast for a time.

13. these have an opinion and will give their strength and power to the beast.

14. These shall contend with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is the Lord of lords, and the King of kings; and with him the called, and the chosen, and the faithful.

15. And he said unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are nations, and multitudes, and heathen, and tongues.

16. And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and bare, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.

17. For God hath put it into their hearts to do his mind, and to do one mind, and to give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God should be finished.

18. And the woman which thou sawest is the great city, which hath dominion over the kings of the earth.

(Revelation)

Chapter 18

Of the fall and punishment of the antichrist empire.

1. And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his brightness.

2. And cried with a loud voice out of power, saying, She is fallen, she is fallen, Babylon the great, and is become a habitation of devils, and a hold of all unclean spirits, and a hold of all unclean and hostile birds.

3. For of the wine of the wrath of her fornication have all the heathen drunk; and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and her merchants have waxed rich by her great lust.

4. And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, that ye receive not of her plagues;

5. for their sins reach to heaven, and GOD remembers their iniquity.

6. Pay her even as she hath paid you, and make it double unto her according to her works: and with what cup she hath poured for you, pour it double unto her.

7. As much as she hath made herself glorious, and hath had her wantonness, so much giveth her anguish and sorrow. For she saith in her heart, I sit and am a queen, and shall not be a widow, neither shall I see sorrow.

8. Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and sorrow, and famine: she shall be burned with fire. For strong is God the LORD, which shall judge them.

9. And the kings of the earth shall weep over her, and mourn over her, which have trespassed against her, and wrought wickedness with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning.

10. And shall stand afar off for fear of her torment, and shall say: Woe, woe, the great city Babylon, the strong city! In one hour is thy judgment come.

11. And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn for themselves, because no man buyeth their merchandise,

12. The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and pearls, and silk, and purple, and scarlet, and all manner of pinewood, and all manner of vessels of ivory, and all manner of vessels of precious wood, and of brass, and of iron, and of marble 13. And cinnamon, and thyme, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and bread rolls, and wheat, and cattle, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and dead bodies, and souls of men.

14. And the fruit which thy soul lusted after is departed from thee; and all that was perfect and glorious is departed from thee; and thou shalt find it no more.

15. The merchants of such merchandise as are made rich by it shall stand afar off for fear of their torment, weeping and wailing.

16. Saying, Woe, woe, that great city, which was clothed in silk, and purple, and scarlet, and overlaid with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17. For in one hour all these riches are wasted. And all the masters of the ships, and the company that work in the ships, and the mariners that work in the sea, shall stand afar off.

18. And when they saw the smoke of their burning, they cried out, saying: Who is like unto the great city?

19. And they cast dust upon their heads, and cried, and wept, and lamented, saying: Woe, woe!

the great city, wherein were made rich all they that had ships in the sea, of their merchandise!

For in one hour it is laid waste.

20. Rejoice over her, O heavens, and you holy apostles and prophets! For GOD has executed your judgment upon her.

21. And a strong angel took up a great stone for a millstone, and cast it into the sea, and said, Thus with a tempest shall that great city Babylon be cast down, and shall be found no more.

22. And the voice of singers, and of stringers, and of pipers, and of trumpeters, shall be heard no more in thee; neither shall any craftsman of any craft be found in thee any more; neither shall the voice of the mill be heard in thee any more;

23. And the light of the lamp shall shine no more in thee; neither shall the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride be heard any more in thee: for thy merchants were princes in the earth: for by thy sorceries are all the heathen perverted.

24. And the blood of the prophets and of the saints was found in it, and of all them that were slain upon the earth.

(Revelation)

Chapter 19

Triumphal song of the elect concerning the execution of God's judgment, concerning the great harlot.

1. After these things I heard a voice of great multitudes in heaven, saying: Hallelujah! Salvation and glory, honor and power be to God our Lord!

2. For true and righteous are his judgments, because he hath condemned the great whore, which corrupted the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3. And they said again, Alleluia. And the smoke goeth up for ever.

4. And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down, and worshipped GOD that sat upon the throne, saying: Amen Hallelujah!

5. And there came a voice from the throne, saying, Praise our God, all his servants, and them that fear him, both small and great.

6. And I heard a voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of great waters, and as the voice of mighty thunders, saying: Hallelujah! For the Almighty God has taken the kingdom.

7. Let us rejoice and be glad, and give him glory: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8. And it was given unto her to be clothed in pure and beautiful silk.
(And the silk is the righteousness of the saints.)

9. And he said unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the supper of the Lamb.

And he said unto me, These are true words of GOD.

10. And I fell down before him at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, Behold, do it not: I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren, and of them that have the testimony of JEsu. Worship GOD! (But the testimony of JEsu is the spirit of prophecy).

11. And I saw heaven opened, and, behold, a white horse, and he that sat on him was called Faithful and True, judging and contending with righteousness.

12. And his eyes were as a flame of fire, and upon his head many crowns: and he had a name written, which no man knew but he himself.

13. And was clothed with a garment sprinkled with blood: and his name is called the word of God.

14. And after him followed the host of heaven upon white horses, clothed in white and pure silk.

15. And out of his mouth went a sharp sword, to smite the heathen therewith: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron. And he treadeth the winepress of the fierce wrath of the Almighty God.

16. And he hath a name written upon his garment, and upon his thigh, saying, A King of kings, and a Lord of lords.

17. And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying unto all the fowls that fly under heaven, Come and be gathered together unto the supper of the great God, 18. That ye should eat the flesh of kings, and of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of every free man, and of every bondman, both small and great.

19. And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together to make war with him that sat on the horse, and with his army.

20. And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought the signs before him, whereby he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped the image of the beast: and they were both cast alive into the lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21. And the rest were slain with the sword of him that sat on the horse, which proceeded out of his mouth. And all the birds were filled with their flesh.

(Revelation)

Chapter 20

Of the bound and dissolved dragon, of Gog and Magog, of the Last Judgement.

1. And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit, and a great chain in his hand.

2. And took hold of the dragon, that old serpent, which is the devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years.

3. And he cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and sealed the top thereof, that he should not deceive the heathen, until a thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little while.

4. And I saw chairs, and they sat thereon, and judgment was given unto them: and the souls of them that were beheaded for the testimony of JESUS, and for the word of GOD, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; these lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5. And the rest of the dead lived not again, till the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6. Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the other death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7. And when a thousand years are fulfilled, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison.

8. And he shall go out to deceive the heathen of the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle, as the sand of the sea.

9. And they stood upon the breadth of the earth, and compassed the host of the saints, and the beloved city. And the fire of GOD fell from heaven and consumed them.

10. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet were: and they shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11. And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away; and there was no place found for them.

12. And I saw the dead, both great and small, standing before God. And the books were opened; and another book was opened, which is of life. And the dead were judged according to the writing in the books, according to their works.

13. And the sea gave up the dead which were therein; and death and hell gave up the dead which were therein. And they were judged every man according to their works.

14. And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the other death.

15. And if any man be not found written in the book of life, he is cast into the lake of fire.

(Revelation)

Chapter 21

The seventh face: of the new Jerusalem.

(Epistle on the day of the church consecration.)

1. And I saw a new heaven and a new earth. For the first heaven and the first earth passed away, and the sea is no more.

2. And I, John, saw the holy city, the new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

3. And heard a great voice from the throne, saying, Behold, a tabernacle of GOD with men! And he shall dwell with them; and they shall be his people, and he himself, GOD with them, shall be their GOD.

4. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, nor pain: for the former things are passed away.

5. And he that sat on the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he saith unto me, Write; for these words are true and certain].

6. And he said unto me, It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the ending.

I will give to him that thirsteth of the fountain of living waters freely.

7. He that overcometh shall inherit all things: and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8. But to them that are perverse, and unbelieving, and abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, their part shall be in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone; which is the second death.

9. And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and spake unto me, saying, Come, and I will shew thee the bride of the Lamb.

10. And he brought me up in the Spirit into a great and high mountain, and shewed me the great city, even the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God.

11. And had the glory of God: and the light thereof was like unto the most precious stone, a bright jasper.

12. And had great and high walls, and had twelve gates, and upon the gates twelve angels, and names written, which are the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: 13. From the morning three gates, from midnight three gates, from noon three gates, from evening three gates.

14. And the wall of the city had twelve bases, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15. And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the walls thereof.

16. And the city is foursquare, and the length thereof is as great as the breadth thereof. And he measured the city with a reed twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of the city are equal.

17. And he measured their walls an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man that the angel hath.

18. And the building of their walls was of jasper, and the city of pure gold, like unto pure glass.

19. And the bases of the walls and of the city were adorned with all manner of precious stones.

The first ground was a jasper; the second, a sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald,

20. the fifth a sardonich, the sixth a sardis, the seventh a chrysolite, the eighth a beryl, the ninth a topazian, the tenth a chrysoprase, the eleventh a hyacinth, the twelfth an amethyst.

21. And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; and every gate was of one pearl. And the streets of the city were all gold, as it were transparent glass.

22. And I saw no temple therein: for the LORD God Almighty is their temple, and the Lamb.

23. And the city hath no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine unto it: for the glory of God lighteth it, and the Lamb is the lamp thereof.

24. And the Gentiles which shall be saved shall walk in the same light. And the kings of the earth shall bring their glory into the same.

25. And their gates shall not be shut by day: for there shall be no night.

26. And the glory and honour of the Gentiles shall be brought into them.

27. And there shall not enter in any of them that are vile, and that do abominations, and that speak lies; but they which are written in the living book of the Lamb.

(Revelation)

Chapter 22

Of the certain joy of eternal life.

1. And he shewed me a clear stream of living water, clear as crystal, proceeding from the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2. In the midst of their street, and on both sides of the river, stood the wood of life, which bare twelve kinds of fruit, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the wood were for the health of the heathen.

3. And there shall be no more banishment: and the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him.

4. And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads.

5. And there shall be no night, neither need of a lamp, nor of the light of the sun: for God the LORD shall give them light, and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6. And he said unto me, These words are sure and true. And God, the LORD of the holy prophets, hath sent his angel to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass.

7. Behold, I come quickly! Blessed is he who keeps the words of the prophecy in this book.

8. And I am John, which have seen and heard these things. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship at the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.
9. And he saith unto me, Behold, do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them that keep the words of this book; worship GOD.
10. And he saith unto me, Seal not up the words of the prophecy which are in this book: for the time is at hand.
11. Whosoever is evil, let him be evil; and whosoever is unclean, let him be unclean. But let him that is righteous be righteous; and let him that is holy be holy.
12. And, behold, I come quickly, and my reward with me, to give every man according as his works shall be.
13. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.
14. Blessed are they that keep his commandments, that their power may be upon the tree of life, and that they may enter into the gates of the city.
15. For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and all that love and do deceit.
16. I, Jesus, have sent my angel to testify unto you in the churches. I am the root of the family of David, a bright morning star.
17. And the Spirit and the bride say: Come; and whosoever heareth, let him say, Come; and whosoever thirsteth, let him come; and whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.
18. And I testify unto all them that hear the words of this prophecy which are written in this book, If any man add unto them, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book.
19. And if any man depart from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part from the book of life, and from the holy city, and from those things which are written in this book.
20. He that testifieth these things saith, Yea, I come quickly. Amen. Yes, come, Lord Jesus!
21. the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

End of the New Testament